FAVOR CONSOLIDATION OF NEW ENGLAND RAILROADS

Rehabilitation of B. & M. and New Haven Roads Recommended as Preliminary Step by Joint New England Railroad Committee—Consolidation With Outside Lines Not Favored—Voluntary Reorganization Without Recourse to Receivership Suggested for New Haven Road—State Cooperation Should be Extended by Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts—Similar Plan Proposed for B. & M. Road.

Poland Spring, Me., July 1.—Rehabilitation of the Boston and Maine and New York, New Haven and Hartford railroads, possibly as a preliminary step to consolidation of New England systems, was recommended by the joint New England railroad committee headed by James J. Storrow of Boston to the governors of New England states assembled here today.

Consolidation with outside lines was not favored. "New England would like to wear its own breeches," said the report. "We submit that it should be allowed to do so unless a clear case can be made out why one leg should be handed over to the Pennsylvania railroad or to the Baltimore and Ohio or to the New York Central."

"If financial considerations permit, the welfare of New England can be better served by the consolidation of the New England systems, leaving out the Boston and Albany, Central Vermont and the Grand Trunk line to Portland and the Canadian Pacific mileage in Maine and northern Vermont."

The committee added that such consolidation is neither advisable nor equitably possible until each of the two major New England systems, the Boston and Maine and the New Haven—shall have first been rehabilitated and shall have shown the financial and operating results it is capable of producing under normal conditions and with restored credit. For the two roads the committee therefore recommended a voluntary and compensative financial readjustment to which bond and stockholders would contribute, state aid by the suspension of taxes to make up deficits, control by state appointment trustees for a period of ten years, and guaranty by the states of the new bonds for improvements.

The Maine and New Hampshire committees signed the report with reservations as to the consolidation part of the program. The New Hampshire committee did not believe there should be any consolidation of New England railroads at the present time. The Maine committee believed the interests of that state would be adversely affected by the adoption of any form of consolidation considered by the committee.

The joint committee, comprising thirty men appointed by the several governors, began ten months ago their work of surveying the New England roads from all angles in order to determine what should be the attitude of New England in relation to the section of the transportation act of 1920 directing the interstate commerce commission to prepare and plan for consolidation of the railroads of the United States into a limited number of systems.

As a concluding finding, the committees report suggests that committees be appointed by the several states to act jointly in formulating a detailed program and if such joint committee receives from the stockholders and bondholders of the New Haven and the Boston and Maine reasonable assurance of co-operation a special session of each of the legislatures of the six New England states should be called to meet in October for the purpose of dealing with the rehabilitation of those two railroad systems.

For the New Haven, the committee recommended a voluntary reorganization without recourse to receivership. It is proposed that New Haven bondholders submit to a scaling down of their bonds by $76,000,000, taking in return a new 5 per cent. preferred stock cumulative from Jan. 1, 1927. The present stockholders are asked to undertake to raise $15,000,000 in cash by buying or arranging for the purchase by others from the company enough common stock to bring that amount. It is specified that for the old par value of $100 he should be permitting new stock to be sold for its market value.

The committee is of the opinion that state co-operation should be extended by the states of Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts, each undertaking to return to the road such portion of the taxes paid by the New Haven to the states, cities and towns within the state as may be required to meet any deficit of net earnings to cover fixed charges for that year.

If state help is to be given it is recommended that the control and management of the company be vested in trustees to be appointed to serve ten years, two to be appointed by Connecticut, two by Rhode Island and two by Massachusetts.

The committee urged that the federal government be requested to [illegible] the New Haven's indebtedness to it on a reasonable extended time and interest basis. The report declared that recovery of the New Haven would not only involve heavy expense but would be accompanied by a depressing effect on New England.

"We feel sure that the New Haven railroad can attain a standard of which it shall be proud," says the committee. "Let us make up our minds to it; shippers, travelers, officers, employees, public authorities, everybody. Putting the stream of alibis why we are not what we want to be here in New England that stuff."

For the rehabilitation of the Boston and Maine the committee recommended in detail a plan similar in some respects to that proposed for the New Haven. Under this plan bondholders would be asked to extend for twenty years some $54,000,000 of bonds maturing prior to Dec. 31, 1933.

Concerning consolidation the committee reported that if trunk line consolidation should be compulsory, the Boston and Maine, and as a natural consequence the Maine Central and the Bangor and Aroostook should be consolidated with the New York Central and the New Haven with the Pennsylvania.

"In the opinion of the committee," the report stated, "New England could be allowed to run its own railroads and not turn over one of the best assets with its management and service, which requisite for the others in the New Central with the control [illegible] York.

"Trunk line ownership would substantially eliminate competition between trunk lines for New England business, and with it the [illegible] incentives to good service. The [illegible] rates through the northern gateways would be imperilled.

"The Boston and Albany should remain, however, as part of the New York Central system and the Central Vermont and the Atlantic and St. Lawrence as parts of the Grand Trunk system."

NORWALK MAN HEADS FOREIGN WARS VETERANS

Norwalk, Conn., July 1.—The third annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Connecticut department, was concluded here today with the election of officers and the adoption of several resolutions. In one resolution the organization voiced its disapproval of the action of the state legislature against a soldiers' bonus and in another the veterans announced opposition to the action of the federal government in releasing war-time prisoners from federal penitentiaries.

Walter R. Collins, of this city was elected department commander, succeeding John H. Williams, of Bridgeport, who declined renomination. Other officers were elected as follows:

Senior vice commander, William J. Shanahan, Waterbury; junior vice commander, John R. Kelley, Bridgeport; quartermaster, Joseph Kolinsky, Middletown; judge advocate, Benedict M. Holden, Hartford; surgeon, Dr. O'Hara, Waterbury; chaplain, Joseph Hackett, Hartford; council of administration, Owen T. Walsh, New Haven, (five years), and John H. Williams, Bridgeport, (three years); adjutant, Alfred Ritter, Hartford; chief of staff, Esmonde Paglon, Meriden; inspector, Stewart Helberg, New Britain; officer of the day, Roy West, Stamford.

SAYS KU KLUX KLAN LIABLE FOR PROSECUTION

New York, July 1.—The Ku Klux Klan has not relieved itself from the possibility of prosecution for violation of the Walker law by its recent application for incorporation as a benevolent order, Secretary of State James A. Hamilton said today. Benevolent orders were exempted from the Walker law which required secret fraternal orders to file with the secretary of state their roster of members, by-laws and other details.

The Klan, Secretary Hamilton said, was liable for prosecution for its failure to comply with the Walker law which became effective ten days before the application for incorporation was filed.

ADRIATIC'S LIQUOR STORES SEIZED AT BOSTON

Boston, July 1.—A seizure of liquor said to be the largest at this port since the new prohibition rulings as to ship beverages went into effect was carried out today on board the White Star liner Adriatic when she arrived here from Liverpool and Queenstown. A total of 3,238 bottles of ales and beer were taken by a squad of thirty deputy surveyors and customs officials.

The liquor, part of the vessel's regular stores, was not under seal, but was under lock and key. Ships officers handed over the keys and the liquor was immediately taken off.

COMPILING FINAL TEXT OF NEAR EAST TREATY

Lausanne, July 1 (By the A. P.)—The American and Turkish delegates have appointed a drafting committee which is compiling the final text of the clauses of the new treaty already agreed upon. The exchange of views continues on the clauses not yet settled.

Angora advices have evoked the greatest satisfaction in Turkish circles as they show that the Kemal candidates are in a large majority in the new national assembly, which is regarded as strengthening the independent hand of Ismet Pasha in the present delicate negotiations with the European powers.

As the treaty with the United States will renew diplomatic relations there is already much interest regarding the new ambassador at Washington. Dr. Rechad Nisud Bey, director of the press section of the Turkish delegation, is prominently mentioned for the post; he was formerly secretary of the Turkish embassy at Washington.

FRENCH AMBASSADOR TO ANSWER QUESTIONAIRE

Paris, July 1.—(By the A. P.)—Count De Saint Aulaire, French ambassador, has received complete instructions from the French foreign office to enable him to reply to the British government's recent questionaire on the Ruhr situation and "any other questions on the Ruhr situation and France's policy on reparations which the British government may see fit to ask."

The feeling at the Quai d' Orsay is that the "bitterly antagonistic articles appearing in some of the English newspapers do not represent the attitude of the British government."

HUGO STINNES TO EXTEND BANKING INTERESTS

Berlin, July 1.—Hugo Stinnes is about to extend his banking interests by taking over two hundred million gold marks of the 250,000,000 by which the Barmer Bankverein, Hinsberg Fischer and Company intend to increase their capitalization at a general meeting July 26, according to an official announcement of the Barmer firm.

Stinnes' last previous important banking investment was the purchase some time ago of a large amount of the capital stock of the Berlinerhandels Gesellschaft.

Saturday afternoon about fifty relatives and intimate friends attended the wedding of Miss Elsie G. Sumner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Sumner of No. 325 Prospect street, and Kenneth D. Goodwin, son of Mrs. Alice Goodwin of Hartford, who were married at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride. Rev. Frederick A. Sumner, an uncle of the bride, officiated, assisted by Rev. Harry E. McCready, the pastor of the First Congregational church, the double ring service being used. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Allington Locke of this city was best man. Stanley Sumner and Homer Sumner, cousins of the bride, were ushers. The bride's attendant was Miss Genevieve Royce, her aunt. The wedding party entered the parlor to wedding music played by Miss Alice Sumner on the violin, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Frederick A. Sumner. The bride attired in white georgette, wore a veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. Her traveling suit was of gray Rushinara crepe. The bridesmaid wore pink crepe de chine and carried an arm bouquet. The house was decorated in pink and white with flowers.

Mrs. Goodwin has been employed by the local exchange of the Southern New England Telephone company in the traffic department. Mr. Goodwin is employed at the American Thread company plant and was formerly with the Atwood Machine company and the New Departure plant in Bristol. He is a member of Company C, 169th Infantry, Connecticut National Guard. The bride received many handsome presents among which were a mahogany clock and candlesticks from the employes of the traffic department of the telephone company. After a wedding journey by automobile, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin will be at home at No. 325 Prospect street. Guests were present at the ceremony from Hartford, Bristol, New London and Talladega, Ala.

Mary Kapino, of the Stone Row, was found down and out on Main street Friday night and was not fully recovered from her debauch when put to plea before the police court Saturday morning. Upon being asked by Deputy Judge Curtis Dean if she admitted the charge against her, she giggled and replied "Sure I was" and then rambled off into a story about one of her neighbors coming to her house and informing her of some fine moonshine that she was retailing at $2.50 a pint. Mary sampled the concoction and that w-- all that she remembered. Saturday morning's appearance in court was Mrs. Kapino's fourteenth on the same charge in six years. The court sentenced the woman to thirty days in the county jail.

John Waldron and James Locke, mule spinners, pleaded guilty to the charge of intoxication. They were arrested Friday night shortly before midnight by police officers on complaint of the proprietor of the corporation boarding house across the street from the police station. Waldron and Locke were in the basement of the boarding house, singing and raising a disturbance. When the officers arrived they found on the table a vial containing moonshine and a quart bottle of a mixture of Jamaica ginger which was confiscated. The court imposed a fine of ten dollars and costs on each, amounting to $17.25. Not having any money the men with Mrs. Kapino were taken to the county jail at Brooklyn, after in the day.

The case of Daniel Levin, charged with obstructing an entrance to a building and resistance to a police officer, continued from last week was again continued, this time until July 7.

George L. Shepaum, for the past fifteen years employed by the Rockville-Willimantic Lighting company, the first year in the works department and subsequently as ledger clerk in the local office of the company, resigned Saturday noon. Mr. Shepaum is to be identified in the future with John W. Gilman on Main street.

Saturday forenoon at 11 o'clock Mr. Shepaum was surrounded at his desk by the office force of the company and Michael E. Kelley on behalf of the employes of the company presented Mr. Shepaum a handsome open face gold Waltham watch inscribed "Presented to George L. Shepaum by Employes of the Rockville-Willimantic Lighting Company June 30, 1923."

Rev. M. V. Allen of Willington delivered an address at the Hampton Congregational church Friday evening. Rev. Mr. Allen also sang several selections.

The case of the Willimantic Lumber & Coal Company versus Mrs. Benjamin Bycel was again continued until July 28 by Justice of the Peace Curtis Dean Saturday morning.

The marriage of Miss Ola Tanner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tanner of Campbell's Mills and Herbert Clayton Collins of this city took place at the Voluntown Baptist church Saturday afternoon.

Sam Johnson of this city is making a hit with "The Boys of Long Ago," a vaudeville sketch. The act will leave for the Pacific coast shortly. Mr. Johnson made his bow as an actor in Hartford, where he has many friends.

A house owned by E. Lyman Gould of Windham Center was struck by lightning during last Tuesday's storm and damaged to the extent of $100 which was covered by insurance through a local agency.

Justice of the Peace Curtis Dean gave judgment for default Saturday morning to the plaintiff in the case of Charles B. Pomeroy versus Peter Girard. The defendant did not put in an appearance.

The case of Stephen Chontos versus William Kelley was continued by Justice of the Peace Curtis Dean, on Saturday morning, until July 28. The plaintiff claims damages of twenty dollars. The suit is the outgrowth of an alleged unpaid board bill.

The Friday afternoon auction club of which Mrs. John L. Leonard is leader enjoyed a delightful outing on the shore of Columbia Lake, at the Leonard cottage, Friday. Besides the two tables of the club an extra table was invited. The party sat down to lunch at 12 o'clock and at 5.30 supper was served. Five women from Coventry and seven from this city made up the party. The guests for the afternoon were Mrs. L. A. Kingsbury, Miss Anna Beardow of Niantic and Miss Gertrude H. Turner.

Members of Willimantic lodge, No. 1311, B. P. O. Elks, with their famous band are expected to turn out strong this (Monday) evening for a trip to Putnam for the Elks' fair. Governor Charles A. Templeton is expected to be present and march with the local delegation. The local "Bills" are to make the trip by automobiles.

JEWETT CITY

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arba Browning, Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, Miss Sibyle Browning was married to Harold M. Dunbar of Norwich, in the presence of only the members of the two families. The rooms were attractively decorated with ferns and roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. P. Richardson, pastor of the First Congregational church, the single ring service being used. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Richardson.

The attendants were Mrs. Frank D. Browning of Griswold, and Henry C. Anderson of Chicago, Ill.,

The bride is a graduate of the Jewett City public schools and Norwich Free Academy, class of 1917. Since graduating she has taught at the Riverside grammar school in Jewett City.

Mr. Dunbar is the son of Mrs. O. L. Dunbar of Stratford, Conn. After graduating from Stratford High school in 1916, he served with the Stratford Trust company, was assistant national bank examiner, and treasurer of the Jewett City Trust company. At present he is associated with the New England Equity corporation, Norwich. After an automobile trip to Lake George, Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar will made their home with the bride's parents.

At least three beautiful mid-summer butterflies are to be met with any day in local gardens and fields. The big tiger swallowtail in one of the larger species, with his great wellow wings bordered with black. If one watches his erratic flight, it will appear that the handsome fellow has no fixed purpose or place to go. Those noted were all dressed up surely, and one moment were at the height of the tree tops and the next on the ground taking a sip of water where it had collected in the print made by the hoof of some passing cow. Mrs. Tiger Swallowtail will deposit her eggs on the plant upon which the caterpillars, when they are hatched from the eggs, will feed. The butterfly which lays the eggs does not feed upon this plant, and generally has had nothing to do with it since the time when it was itself a caterpillar. Yet when the time comes it goes unerringly to the right kind of plant.

Two other and very handsome species are the banded purple and the spangled fratillary. To see the former alighted for a second on the pink flower spike of the great fire weed, is to catch a color scheme which only nature can present.

The Midway wrecker was called to Jewett City Saturday afternoon to put a big coal gondola back on the iron. The car was derailed while being kicked on to Chapman and Tripp's siding.

There has been more or less talk and interest among business men that a chamber of commerce organization for Jewett City would prove of general benefit. A few months ago a leading business man from Norwich was here and gave advice, although no definite plans were formed relative to its organization.

At that time those in charge of the movement were in favor of having it membership not composed entirely of business men. The business of a board of trade or chamber of commerce, is to have ever in mind the best interests of the community, and to devise and carry into effect ways and means to obtain that end. General interest, then, will be evident in the first meeting this (Monday) evening at 8 o'clock, in the town hall. The business men of the town will all be there, and others interested may attend.

Michael Hallisey, one of Jewett City's oldest and most respected citizens died in Norwich, Saturday. Mr. Hallisey had lived in the borough for 20 years, his home being on Mechanic street. Shortly after coming to America, and 49 years ago, he married Miss Mary Sullivan, also a native of Ireland. Mr. Hallisey was a farmer of the old school, and was acquainted with many agricultural methods which made his many ventures in that line an assured success. He and his wife moved here from Bishop's crossing. During their early married life, three sons were born to them, all of whom died in infancy.

Mrs. Hallisey has been a cripple for nearly twenty years, during which time the devoted care of her husband in every possible way at his command, has been remarked by all who knew him. He is survived by his wife and several nieces and nephews, among whom are the Doyle girls, of Jewett City.

Albertina, wife of Peter J. Gustafson, 66, died at her home in South Griswold Saturday, after a week's illness with pneumonia. Mrs. Gustafson was born in Sweden January 27, 1857. The family has lived in South Griswold for thirteen years. She is survived by her husband and four children, Mrs. Ranson Young, Mrs. Stanley Winworth and Mrs. Benjamin Young all of South Griswold and Mrs Segried North of Washington, D. C. Another daughter, Ellen died eight years ago. She leaves two sister, Mrs. Ida Turnquist in New Haven and Mrs. Paul Anderson in Sweden. Mrs. Gustafson was a member of the Bethel church and Pachaug grange.

A class of 23 was received into the Congregational church at a vesper communion service Sunday evening, Rev. C. H. Ricketts of Greeneville, assisted at the service. By request, Mrs. L. G. Buckingham sang There is a Green Hill Far Away, during the services. Before the service, Kenneth Wilson Carpenter, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carpenter was christened. Those who were received on confession of faith were Caroline Alice Waters, Elsie Palmer Albertine, Agnes Wilson Carpenter, Selma Kummer Zeger, Violet Bertha Peterson, Anna Christina Peterson, Ruth Emma Peterson, Irene Lillian Stewart, Ethell Lillian Parkhurst, Charles Jonathan Parkhurst, Della Doris Bliss, Clara Louise Adams, Flora Belle Littlefield and Helen Elizabeth Magel. By letter were Bertha Green Peterson, Charles Olaf Peterson, Rose Mehrit Dealtry, Lloyd Green Buckingham, Lewis Mark Carpenter, Margaretta Josephine Munn, Howard S Stephenson, Mary Willis Stephenson and Harriette Bates Kanahan, Miss Irene Warner is to be admitted next fall, as she is out of town for the summer.

Mrs. Samuel Littlefield and Miss Flora Littlefield go to Rochester, N. Y., today (Monday) to spend several week with Mrs. Littlefields two daughters.

Mr and Mrs. Thomas Potts of Manchester, N. H., are visiting Mrs. H. E. Paul.

Ashland Cotton Co. an dA. B. Burleson Co., Inc., closed Saturday for a week. Textile Novelty Co. shuts down Tuesday night for two weeks, as a new turbine is to be installed.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McNicol of Jewett City and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connell of New York left Saturday for a two weeks' automobile trip over the Mohawk Trail and in Canada.

WESTFORD

For Independence day, Wednesday, July 4, a community celebration at Buck's Grove, Westford, is planned.

An all day good time is to begin at 11 a. m., standard time. Each is to bring a basek lunch.

COLCHESTER

Friends and acquaintances in town are pleased that Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Strong have again taken up their residence in Colchester, having returned Friday after an absence of more than a year, during which time they resided in Norwich Town. They will receive a cordial welcome, especially in the parish of the First Congregational church, where Mrs. Strong has been on the membership list the greater part of her life-time.

Besides returning home Mrs. Strong observed her birthday Friday. Before leaving Norwich Town, several of the neighbors in the locality where the Strong's resided on Town street, entertained in an informal manner Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. David Dean, giving a farewell party. Mrs. Strong was presented a handsome sugar bowl and creamer of cut glass in honor of her birthday. There were twelve present. The evening was devoted to music and sociability. Cake and punch were served. Mr. and Mrs. Strong will reside at the Kinney place on Hayward avenue which they have purchased.

The funeral of Mike Fedus was held at St. Andrew's church Friday morning at ten oclock. Rev. Philip J. Mooney, the pastor, celebrated requiem mass. The Polish society, of which the deceased was a member to the number of 50 marched from the house to the church and cemetery. Burial was in St. Andrew's cemetery.

The last meeting of Wooster Star chapter, O. E. S., before the summer recess was held in Masonic hall Wednesday evening, June 27th, with a large attendance. After the meeting the members and friends boarded automobiles and drove down to Salem to The Willow Store where refreshments were served., by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Frazier and a musical program was enjoyed.

MYSTIC

A school meeting for the voters of the town of Groton, of the fifth district, was held Friday evening, at the were only a small portion of the voters there. The committeeman, Walter Lathrop, Dr. Louis Allyn and A. W. George, were reelected. The clerk is G. W. George, also treasurer, for the ensuing year. A 6-mill tax was voted. John Edgcomb was elected collector. The committee was given power to get a temporary loan if necessary.

At the home of Manuel Gracey, 8 Noank road, Thursday, his youngest daughter, Miss Lillian E. Gracey, was united in marriage with C. Wesley Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bradley of Ashbey street. The home was attractively decorated, blue and white being used. The ceremony was performed under an arch of laurel and peonies. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of white satin, with pearl trimming and wore a veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride roses. She was attended by Miss Elsie Bentley, of Willimantic, who was gowned in blue silk and carried pink roses. The best man was Merle Bradley, brother of the groom.

The Mendelssohn wedding march was played by Mrs. Daniel Devine, who also played during the ceremony which was performed by Rev. George L. Farnham, pastor of the Congregational church. The double ring service was used. Later lunch was served to about 60 relatives and friends. Guests were present from Willimantic, West Willington, Guilford, New London, Groton, Noank, and Mystic. Mr. and Mrs. Bradley left on a wedding trip to Hartford and Springfield, and upon their return will reside at the home of the bride. The bride received many handsome gifts

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

By DAVID CORY

Uncle Lucky Gets Some Fireworks

"Goodness gracious meebus!" exclaimed Uncle Lucky, the old gentleman rabbit, "Here, it's about the 4th of July. I must get some fire crackers."

So the old gentleman rabbit hitched up his Luckymobile and went down to the three-in-one-cent store and after he had bought a lot of fire crackers,

Roman candles and sky-rockets, he started off for the Old Bramble Patch and before very long, he was there for the Luckymobile travelled as fast as it could go and maybe a little faster for the old gentleman rabbit knew how to drive, let me tell you. He certainly did.

"Now, let's have some fun," he laughed, taking out the packages.

The Old Red Rooster who was working for pretty little Lady Love asked:

"Cock-a-doodle-do.
These crackers good to chew.
Or, are they only meant for noise,
To tickle little girls and boys?

"That's all they're good for," answered Uncle Lucky, lighting a cracker and throwing it in the grass. The next minute, off it went, bang! bang! so frightening the red rooster that the spur on his right leg almost fell off.

"We'll wait till night to set off the rockets and Roman candles," said the old gentleman rabbit after finishing with the firecrackers, and he and Little Jack Rabbit hopped in to see if Lady Love was baking carrot cakes.

"I'm glad you've fired off all the crackers," she said, her cheeks pink as a rose from bending over to take the cakes out of the oven, "I'm almost deaf with all the noise."

"Never mind," answered Uncle Lucky:

"The glorious Fourth but once a year,
Gives us a chance for noise.
So let's be pa-tri-ot-ic and Play with the girls and boys,"

and picking up a lovely hot steaming carrot cake, he began to nibble on the frosting for the old gentleman rabbit was right fond of Lady Love's cake, let me tell you and so would you and so would I after just one little taste.

Well, pretty soon, after supper when it grew dark, Uncle Lucky set off a sky rocket. Whizz, bang! away it went up into the sky until it burst into a million green and yellow stars. I guess the Little People of the Shady Forest thought the moon had dropped a glass jar of pickled lollypops and hid in their cellars, until Parson Owl tooted through his horn that it was only a fourth of July rocket.

Pretty soon Uncle Lucky set off the Roman candles and one of the bright colored balls hit Hungry Hawk who was just then sailing through the sky but in the next story I'm afraid you won't hear how many tail feathers he lost for I shan't have time to count them before tomorrow night.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Breed Theatre.

The scenes depicted, the characters portrayed and the emotions reflected in Suzanna, Mack Sennett's latest Mabel Normand super-production, which is the feature at the Breed theatre today and Tuesday, are true to life of the early days of California.

The scenes represent not average studio settings with nothing more tangible than the imagination to go by, but are types of the original missions and habitations of the early Spanish-Californians, some of which still stand today in a more or less decent state of preservation. Mack Sennett insisted, however, that the settings for "Suzanna" should appear as they did in 1835, and accordingly every set necessary to the picture was reproduced.

The characters in Suzanna are drawn with great reality. Only men and women who look their parts, in addition to being capable actors and actresses, were employed. And that is why such well known screen characters as Walter McGrail, Leon Barry, George Nichols, Karl Stockdale, George Cooper, Lon Poff, Winifred Bryson, Evelyn Sherman and others were chosen to support "Miss" Normand.

The story of Suzanna is one of love and romance with a vividly colorful background. It is historical in theme, and was adapted to the screen by Mack Sennett from a historical novel of the same name from the pen of Linton Wells.

Under the supervision of the producer, F. Richard Jones, the director, evolved a masterpiece of screen production in Suzanna. The amazing artistry of Mabel Normand and the directorial genius of Mr. Jones have combined to produce a photoplay of exquisite charm and beauty.

The Pathe News and an Educational comedy make up the remainder of the bill.

Strand Theatre

Defying death when he dagged an express train traveling at a speed of forty miles an hour, T. Roy Barnes, who plays the featured role of Bill Peck in the Paramount-Cosmopolitan production of "The Go-Getter," which comes to the Strand theatre today, gave a genuine thrill to Director Griffith and the engine driver of the train, who were seated in the cab.

"Get off!" shouted Director Griffith, waving his arms frantically at Barnes, who still maintained his position. "You're a dead man in another second!"

But Barnes was too cool a hand to allow himself to be ground to pieces. Giving the express a leeway of fifteen feet, Barnes jumped to safety just as the ponderous engine swept by, covering him with dust.

A new Christie comedy will be in support of this great eight act feature.

Broadway Theatre

"Masters of Men," by Morgan Robertson, the world's most noted writer of sea stories is to be shown at the Broadway theatre starting today. Critics have unanimously acclaimed this picture as the greatest sea story ever screened. The "picturization" by C. Graham Baker has retained loyally the atmosphere of the novel by America's master teller of sea stories and Vitagraph, who owns it, has provided a lavish production, with an all star cast.

"Masters of Men," tells the story of an American boy, who accepted the shame of another's crime that he might protect the girl he loved from humiliation. Branded in his home town as a thief the lad runs away and joins the United States navy. While on leave he is shanghaied and suffers the brutality accorded to men before the mast on board a four master sailing the Spanish Main. How he effects his escape and aids in the destruction of the Spanish fleet at Santiago provides a thrilling drama which holds interest throughout every foot the screening.

It is a picture of types and of vivid realism. The selection of types is said to have been perfect, particularly of these actors who play the brutal hard fighting men who comprise the crew of the "Mary Earl." Dick Sutherland and Jack Curtis, who play the mate and captain of the four masters, are known to fans as the most brutal looking actors in motion pictures. They give realism to Morgan Robertson's description of the brutes who made life a hell for men before the mast.

A new Mermaid comedy and news weekly will be the short subjects shown.

Her Birthday.

It was the first day of school in the first grade. Names, ages, and birthdays were being secured from the children. "And when is your birthday?" was asked of a tiny girl. "Every August," was the prompt reply.

DAN SULLIVAN FIRST WHITE MAN TO CROSS LAKE ERIE IN OPEN CANOE

Cleveland, July 1—A new record in paddling a canoe was established here late today when "Texas Jack" Sullivan arrived at the Cleveland Yacht Club, after paddling across Lake Erie. He made the sixty mile trip in four minutes less than 24 hours.

As far as known Sullivan, a world traveller and adventurer, is the only white man who ever paddled across the lake in a canoe alone. Records have been found here where Indians have made the trip but so far as is known none of them ever travelled unaccompanied.

Clothed only in the trunks of a track suit and a pair of shoes, Sullivan departed in an 18-foot open canoe, from Rondeau, Canada, opposite here at 5:14 p. m. yesterday, arriving in Rocky River this evening at 5:10. A heavy sea was encountered during the last twenty miles, but up to this time the lake had been smooth.

Sullivan felt no ill-effects from his experience. He had trained for the trip for more than a month. His equipment consisted of two quarts of oatmeal broth, some water, a battery which operated an automobile light and a heavy sweater which he donned during the chilly hours of the late night.

The canoe was convoyed by a yacht, "The Shark," commanded by Vice Commodore Ralph W. Walton, of the Cleveland Yacht club, under whose auspices the trip was made. At no time, it is said, did the yacht come closer than 50 feet to the canoe.

The object of the trip, yacht officials explained, is to awaken interest in canoeing as a live water sport, by demonstrating the possibilities of the small craft.

MATINEE RACES ON FOURTH OF JULY

For the afternoon of the Fourth lovers of harness racing will be given a taste of some real action on the half-mile oval at the Fairgrounds when three matinee races will be run off. There will be three classes, A, B and C. Class A which is the fast class will have for starters, Patsy Chatham, with a mark of 2.12 1-4 made last fall at Brockton; Cameron, owned by George Bates with a record of 2.13 1-4 made in a special time trial last fall; and perhaps Sure Mike and Morvic W.

Class B will have several starters including Little Boy, Sir Dare, Devcarina Boy, Little Girl and Peter Daw. Class C should furnish considerable excitement with the starters Peter Agen 2nd, who has already won two races this season, Steel Preferred, Peter Torment and Main bar. There is considerable rivalry between the owners of these horses and a race for blood can be expected. There is a certain following that is backing Steel Preferred to win but the owner of Peter Agen 2nd, is going to have something to say before the race is finished.

Following the races there will be a ball game.

SEVENTH INNING RALLY WINS FOR CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, July 1—The Reds evened up the four game series with the Pirates before nineteen thousand fans today by pulling off a rally in the seventh inning, after trailing up to that time. Donohue, who has been out of the game for ten days with a split hand, pitched well except in two innings. He was taken out in the seventh for a pinch hitter and Luque retired the six batters who faced him in the last two rounds in order. Cavaney, who has been absent for ten days with a strained shoulder, returned to the Red lineup and his fielding was the leading feature of the game. The score:

THREE HITS ENOUGH FOR DODGERS TO BEAT GIANTS

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 1—Brooklyn made only three hits off McQuillan today, but two of them were a double by Wheat and a home run by Fournier punched in the first inning and New York was beaten 2 to 1. It was Fournier's seventh home run in ten games and his ninth of the season. Ruether kept the eight hits of the Giants well scattered, a muffled fly by Griffith giving them their solitary run. French returned to the game after a long absence and fielded brilliantly. Score:

YANKS PROVE TOO STRONG FOR ATHLETICS IN FINAL

New York, July 1—The New York Americans made a clean sweep of their four game series with Philadelphia, winning todays game by a score of 4 to 0. In an effort to take at least one game of the series, Connie Mack, Philadelphia manager, called on Pitcher Rommel for the third time in the series. New York bunched six hits on him in the first and fifth innings. Jones was in trouble in only one inning, the sixth when he struck out Galloway with the bases full. Ruth pulled up lame in the seventh and was succeeded by Smith. The score:

BRIDGEPORT SPLITS EVEN WITH PITTSFIELD HILLIES

Bridgeport, July 1—Bridgeport and Pittsfield divided a doubleheader here today and remained in a tie for first place in the league standing. The Hillies took the first game 4 to 3 when the locals' rally in the ninth fell short.

In the second Deepjen, a rookie, failed to last one inning and Bridgeport got to Tierney in the seventh for six runs, winning 10-4. The hitting of Loftus featured. The scores:

TAFTVILLE A. A. TAKES THRILLING FIFTEEN INNING PITCHERS BATTLE

Jack Murphy's double scoring Lemieux in the fifteenth inning ended a pitchers' battle between Mike Morin and Mathewson, in which Morin had the better of the argument, and Taftville beat Willimantic, 2 to 1, in as pretty a game as has been played on the Taftville diamond in the past ten years. The game was full of thrills, there being several long smashes that were nailed in spectacular fashion by the outfielders of both teams.

Taftville looked like an easy winner in the first inning when they bunched hits off Mathewson and scored one run. This lone tally was the last for fourteen inning and in the fifteenth after Lemieux had hit safely Manager Troland signaled for Jack Murphy to bat for Cardie. Murphy had been laid up with a strained back and was out of the game, but he rose mightily to the occasion, for he took a real healthy swing at the ball, crashing it to the outfield while Lemieux romped home with the winning run.

Willimantic tied up the score in the seventh inning when hits by Donohue and Mathewson netted their only run. After this good pitching by Morin and snappy fielding by the Taftville team held the Thread City team hitless. Morin kept the hits well scattered and fanned ten.

Manager Troland asks that Manager O'Leary take particular note of the kind of baseball that Taftville is playing and then—Beware. The score:

TAFTVILLE SLAUGHTERS THREAD CITY PITCHERS

(Special to The Bulletin)

Willimantic, July 1—The season of the Thread City Athletic Association baseball games opened yesterday afternoon at Recreation Park in a manner that was anything but auspicious. The locals took a 12 to 6 beating from the Taftville nine in a game that was very interesting. The fielding and batting of the leading actors was excellent, the pitchers however, Perry who started for the locals was ineffective in the first inning and was relieved by Lord for the remainder of the game. Lord passed four men in succession in the first inning and two runs Manchester was succeeded him was hit hard but this is easily explained by the fact that he had pitched in the game of the day before at Taftville when the locals took a 2 to 1 beating. Moore who followed Mathewson was also hit hard during his brief stay on the mound since he was yanked in the ninth with two men on bases and none out. Normandin came in from short stop to take up the pitching burden and retired the side without further damage, striking two Taftville batters out. Poock in the box for the victors is a Sub Base builder and he took things rather easily until the ninth when a base on balls, two hits and an error by Cardie allowed three runs to come over, bringing the Thread Makers total up to six. Next was doubled out at second after Jarvis caught Noel's fly and the game.

Liberty "Jim" Murphy, Rigas and Murphy did the heavy hitting for Taftville while Normandin with three safe blows and Phillips with two did the best stick work for the locals. Belaire tried to steal a triple into home but in the fourth but was nabbed by the plate. Jarvis in center field for the Taftville outfit was the leading star.

Congratulations should be showered upon the game. On Court of Day afternoon the local team will take up against the All-Insurance nine of Hartford. The score:

VELVETMEN LOSE TO FAST MYSTIC TEAM

Inability to hit with men on bases was responsible for the defeat of the J. B. Martin team Sunday by the fast Mystic Independents, the score being 9 to 3. The Mystic team was one of the fastest aggregations that has yet played on the Jolly diamonds. Walsh pitched a good game for the Mystic team and only once or twice was in danger and that was after fielding errors had given the Velvetmen pitcher trouble. But the other two games that The Velvetmen played took him out of the box in short order. The score:

THE PLEASING SURPLUS.

The fiscal year of the government has closed, and with it comes the pleasing information that the business of government has been so efficiently conducted that there is a surplus of approximately $310,000,000. This fact takes on greater significance when it is realized that at the beginning of the year it was pointed out that a deficit of $323,000,000 was indicated.

From time to time during the year it has been possible to show that the affairs of the nation were being handled in such a manner that the indicated deficit would be greatly reduced and later it became apparent that it would be wiped out. Quite recently it has been stated by the president that a surplus could be expected and it might run to $200,000,000. The fact that it has gone $110,000,000 beyond the point emphasizes anew the masterly manner in which the finances have been handled, the excellent results of cutting expenditures and the gratifying returns from the budget system and the tariff.

There has been a combination of forces at work to accomplish this excellent showing, but all of them were set in motion by the present administration. If there had been no curtailment of expenditures, if there had been no insistence upon better administration of government business and if the returns from the revised tariff had not made such an excellent showing there might have been a larger deficit than was forecasted. As it is the financial showing is highly commendable. It shows that we are keeping within our income to a marked degree. It displays good business and it is to be hoped that the fact that there is a surplus for the fiscal year just closed will not mean the encouragement of that too frequently manifested disposition to indulge in wild expenditures instead of turning the favorable showing to the further cutting of that big war debt and the big item of federal taxation. A surplus must not be taken as an excuse for waste.

SAN JUAN HILL.

There are some war dates that are more carefully kept in mind than others. The same importance is not attached by all to the different battles that stand out in history. This year we are reaching and passing the 25th anniversary of some of the memorable struggles of the Spanish-American war, and the first of July marked that conspicuous engagement of San Juan hill in Cuba.

Among the engagements of that short and decisive war this was one of the many that displayed the temper of the American troops, their bravery in spite of their infrequent opportunities to show what they could do in time of war and their patriotic sacrifice.

That was a war in which there was brought to conspicuous attention the lack of preparedness in many directions. In the conduct of battle it was made clear that wars were not being conducted each year. Had this been a country with an adequate army on a fighting basis there might have been no war, but most certainly some of the shortcomings and losses that occurred would have been prevented.

Even though conditions prevailed, which there has been much reason to deplore, it does not detract from the fighting spirit shown by the American troops or the victories that were one. Rather because of the handicaps that were experienced by our forces does the successful outcome stand more to their credit.

There are those who refer to the Spanish-American war as an unpleasantness. That cannot be permitted to detract one iota from the valor of our soldiers and sailors, the charge up San Juan hill under a withering fire from protected forces or the fight on the same day for the capture of El Caney. It was a day that showed what kind of adversaries the American soldiers were and had its effects in determining the ultimate outcome. The charge at San Juan hill, the charge in which the Roosevelt Rough Riders were brought into ineffacable prominence can neither be forgotten nor overlooked. It was a battle and a victory that must ever stand out prominently in the war history of this country.

HANDLING THE IMMIGRANTS.

The rush to get into this country by thousands of immigrants is on. Some are going to be successful. Others will fail. Some will fail because they are unable to meet the tests imposed under the law. Some will be found unfit and some will be numbered among those who cannot be admitted because the month's quota was admitted before they were reached.

It means the handling of a great number of cases at Ellis Island. In spite of the diversion of two ships to Boston and in spite of the fact that the facilities are not equal to that speedy action on the many cases that might be desired.

Much has been said from time to time about the desirability of having those who wish to enter this country passed upon at the port of embarkation, and every time there is such a rush to land here it emphasizes the wisdom of such an arrangement.

How much better it would be for the thousands clamoring for entrance, whether restrictions exist or not, if their merits as desirables could be passed upon before they set out for this country. It would not only overcome much confusion at the immigration stations in this country but it would prevent many hardships on the part of those directly concerned, to say nothing of saving them the needless expense of paying for their passage only to be sent back for one reason or another.

Immigration is a problem that has always bothered and bids fair to continue. Restrictions have served to keep out certain classes and many undesirables. Did it not exist the situation as to common labor might be different but there seems to be no prospect that the bars will be taken down in the immediate future.

We have stopped the flooding of the country with immigrants but the immigrant stations continue to get their monthly inundation.

SEALED LIQUOR.

That this country might seize ships coming to this country bringing liquor, quite the same as it has the liquor which they contained, is not only claimed as justified under the law but it is admitted by other countries that it would be legal. However, it is not probable that it will go that far. Orders are to the effect that it will not.

Foreign ships have been desirous of testing this country in the matter of dry law enforcement. They have found that they can expect that the dry law will be enforced, in spite of the protests from other countries and the opposition at home. There has been a liberal allowance made for medicinal and dietary liquor, but inasmuch as that which is brought here in bond has been seized it is not to be expected that such a practice will be continued.

That it will not is indicated by the story which comes by wireless to the effect that beer is being given away on one incoming ship to avoid throwing it away, but even then it will be necessary, because of lack of capacity of the passengers, to cast overboard several barrels. Another line, running to South America, is to make stops in the West Indies to put off its liquor stores coming north and take them on again as they go south.

Whether or not congress will undertake to make any changes in the dry law relative to ships is a profound secret. The attempt to get an extension of the three-mile limit to twelve for search in behalf of liquor in return for the right to bring liquor stores in under seal has failed, but there is reason to believe that no attempt will be made to seize liners will be attempted until after congress has had a chance to act, if at all.

BUILDING WAR PLANES.

There is a growing importance being attached to the airplane as a war machine and the steps that are being taken by nations relative to such equipment, as they watch each other, are not so different from what they took in years gone by in the spending of money to get navies to keep up with or outdo the others.

It was at the Washington conference that there was general recognition given to the folly of such wasteful expenditures. The race for supremacy in warships was costing more each year, and relatively the nations were holding the same positions as to strength. Restrictions that would accomplish the same purpose without the expense were agreed upon. Battleships are limited in number and size and naval expenditures have been materially cut. Waste is eliminated and the prospects for continued peace are at least as good if not much better.

Whether the time will ever come when similar action is taken relative to flying machines for war purposes is not known. Good ground for it seems to be established by the determination of the British to increase its air squadrons until they match in every respect those of France. The latter country has something like 1460 battle planes and Great Britain not much better than a third of that number, but it proposes to catch up without delay.

The cost of a battleplane does not approach the cost of a battleship but when suspicion is aroused by the array of war equipment of another and the race is started to keep up with or get ahead it presents a situation that develops suspicion on both sides and elsewhere. It is a rivalry in war machines that turns thoughts to other fields than peace and discloses another chance for an agreement on restrictions.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Have you firmly resolved to make it a safe and sane Fourth?

The coming of July means, of course, the opening of the watermelon season.

It is the off-again-on-again trait of old Sol that is causing so much complaint this summer.

The man on the corner says: It is none too soon to tip off July to the fact that the sample is O. K.

June, of course, has its supporters, but there are those who are more partial to July than any of the rest.

Senator Borah has been converted to President Harding's world court plan. But then all things are possible.

Those steamship lines that decide to stop bringing liquor within the three mile limit are acting sanely to prevent trouble.

There's no telling what the weatherman will do. First thing we know someone will report having heard the katydids.

There'll be no more June brides this year. But that needn't interfere with July and the list for the rest of the months.

With the third woman convicted of murder in New York this year notice is served upon any contemplating such acts that it is getting more difficult to escape the penalty.

WOMAN IN LIFE AND IN THE KITCHEN

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

To roast red meat, allow about fifteen minutes for each pound and fifteen minutes over.

Candle-ends, if melted and mixed with turpentine, make a good polish for stained floors.

A box of quicklime placed in a damp cupboard for a few days will absorb all moisture.

Good stock for gravies can be made from the skins of carrots and onions; they contain valuable salts.

Put almonds in a cup or basin and cover them with boiling water; leave for a few minutes and the skin can be taken off with the fingers. Cover the cup with a plate to keep in the steam.

Butter can be measured without softening it as follows: If half a cup is needed fill a cup half full of water, then add pieces of butter until the cup is full. If a cupful is wanted repeat the process.

Apply common alum melted in an old iron spoon to the broken china. Leave to dry thoroughly. The mended china can be washed in quite hot water and will not come "unstuck" if treated in this way.

Fish trimmings ought always to be turned into stock for making gravies, soups, etc. All skin and bone can be used—in fact, that trimmings usually have more flavor than the fish itself.

To get the salt out of salt fish in the quickest time possible, soak it in sweet milk instead of water.

When paring apples it is a good plan to pour scalding water over them, letting them stand for one minute, they can then be peeled quite easily, and much more thinly than in the ordinary way.

Use a fibre bowl for washing dishes; there is less chance of chipping the china than with an ordinary dishpan.

Towels and dish clothes should soak in soapy water in the dishpan while the dishes are being put away. Then wash, rinse and dry them.

GOOD TO BAKE IN.

Did you know that a common iron spider is a fine baking pan for many things? If you wish a round cake that will rise without running out and bake perfectly, try the iron spider. Bake Washington pies this way. It is also easier to handle. They never stick or burn. If you want a good "Brown Betty" there is nothing better than the spider. Covered with a skillet of the same size it makes a fine roaster and is much better than granite for making puddings or for scalloping.

BROOMS AND BRUSHES.

Brooms that have stood the wrong way get crushed. Put a half-filled kettle on the fire and when the steam comes strongly from the spout apply the crushed part to it. In a minute or so the bristles will rise into their original position. While steaming, the hand should be passed briskly over the surface of the broom to hasten its recovery. This method is effective for all brooms and brushes, whether bristles or fibre.

HANG UP CLOTHES.

Put your clothes on hangers as soon as you take them off. Before putting them away look them over and see if they need any stitches or cleaning. Keep them in repair and you will get twice the wear from them.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

If you have the time to spare, sitting for ten minutes with the elbows in a saucer of warm olive oil is a marvelous means of improving them. If they have been scrubbed first, they take up much of the nourishing oil.

Thin wrist may be developed by massaging them with a rotary motion or by taking up any form of exercise that brings all the muscles into use. It is best to let the nose alone and cultivate other features.

If the pores around your nostrils are invisible, you can congratulate yourself upon having a perfect skin. Very, very few persons escape large nose pores, even small children with normally fine complexions have them. It is the first place where the skin goes faulty.

Astringents are slightly drying preparations which draw up the pores of the skin and the muscles that age or illness has let sag and droop. Something astringent should be used every day by everyone, even when the skin is young and perfect, since it is always easier to prevent trouble than to cure it. Cold water is the best, either plain or slightly salty, and it should, like every astringent, be used after the complexion has been thoroughly cleansed.

THE POWDER PUFF.

Some girls seem to think that the powder puff is the all-in-all of beauty necessities. Given a large puff—and never mind its age, for new ones are awfully expensive these days—nor its condition, and given sufficient powder (the cheaper it is the more you can use), all facial blemishes may be successfully hidden.

But alas, this isn't so. A great deal of danger lurks in the powder puff.

First of all, there is the danger from dirt. We all know that rubbing over the face with powder and a puff takes off a great deal of surface dirt and a lot of oil. Now where do you suppose all this goes? Into the puff, of course. Next time more powder is rubbed in and more dirt rubbed off, and so on, for I dare say hundreds of times—unless the puff wears out!

FOR THE SILVER.

If you prefer to stick to the old way of washing silver in a dishpan adopt the clever device of a mere man who hated to see his wife fishing for red-hot silved in scalding rinse water.

He taught her to wash her silver in a colander set in the dish pan, rinse it under the tap, lift the whole strainerful to the drain board and let the hot water run away before wiping.

If rubber gloves are used for dishwashing don't forget and handle the silver with them. It's the sulphur, of course, in the rubber and in egg and in certain bleached tissue papers which make the dark stains.

For ten housekeepers who sprinkle salt on an egg spoon to remove the tarnish, however, there's one who knows that the cleaning process is not finished with salt.

YARN TRIM ON HATS.

Hats of all kinds have yarn trim. The latest sport hats are "all bound round with a woolen string," as it were. The sides of the crown of sailor hats as well as larger and more elaborate sport hats are covered with yarn wrapped round and round. Sometimes the yarn matches the color of the straw, often it is in contrasting color. In bands of five or seven the yarn is caught to the hat every two or three inches with a silk thread or a stitch of yarn.

Rough straw hats embroidered in yarn or trimmed with yarn laid on about the brim in a pattern and held in place with a single stitch at regular intervals are good.

STRAIGHT-LINE GOWN

The chemise dress, elaborately beaded, is playing an important role for both afternoon and evening wear. White as well as gay colors in tones that blend with the fabric, particularly reds and greens, are noted for the evening, while for afternoon wear there are cashmere effects in beautiful mellow tones.

FOR THE TINY GIRL

Children's dresses of flowered voile are as pretty as they are simple. For the very tiny girl there are wee frocks of rose and lavender crepe de chine beautifully smocked and with filet edging around the collar.

DICTATES OF FASHION.

Plaits are an important factor in the fashioning of silk and chiffon dresses.

Big Spanish combs of tortoise shell are worn for evening, and so are huge jet combs.

Sport hose of finest lisle thread come in two-tone effects for spring wear, with clocks of contrasting colors.

One of the ways of giving a one-sided look to the frock is to pose a big ornamental pocket on one side of the skirt.

Large embroidered flowers of yellow, red or blue are scattered over the shoulders and skirt of a ruffled white organdie frock.

A frock of almond green Canton crepe is trimmed with shadow lace dyed the same shade and embroidered with gold medallions.

A printed sleeveless bodice is worn with a plaited crepe skirt. Plaited sleeves are set in the bodice of the skirt and the narrow belt is also plaited.

A plaited collar of organdie, drawn in at the front to the square-necked bodice, gives a fluffy, full effect at the back of the neck.

Stockings in beige, sand or nude colorings are worn with the new colored shoes. None but the sheerest of stockings are now considered smart.

Silhouettes tend to get straighter and narrower, with the flat, straight back one of the essentials of the summer fashions.

A frock of jade dotted voile features the new tiered skirt and has a wide sash of crisp taffeta tying in a deep loop on one side.

Buff and silver are two favored colors in wool golf sweaters for the sports-woman. Many of them have plain sleeves and combination fronts in contrasting colors.

MAKES A GOOD POLISH

The following is said to be an excellent furniture polish, which may be made at home: One ounce of beeswax, one ounce of castile soap, one-half ounce of white wax, one gill of turpentine, one gill of boiling water, makes an excellent furniture polish. Shred the wax finely and dissolve it in the boiling water; mix them both at once, together, and beat until quite cold, when it will be of a creamy consistency.

FOR THE PORCH

For use on the porch or in the summer home there is furniture copied after the brightly painted tables and chairs of an earlier time. Apple green tables with nosegays in pink or pale blue, chairs with a knot of buttercups on the back, will brighten any porch or country boudoir.

LAUNDRY HINTS

Do not put your table linen through the wringer when laundering it as this makes creases that are hard to iron out.

Wash out sponges with ammonia, then with water in which is cream of tartar. Rinse in clear water and dry in the sun.

Put a little borax in the starch you use for your fine white things. It gives a more permanent stiffness and makes the article easier to iron.

Slices of lemon put into the boiler when boiling clothes will make them beautifully white and take all the stains out of pocket handkerchiefs and children's aprons. Cut the lemon, with the rind and let it remain in the boiler till the clothes are ready to come out.

When colored garments have been made at home and the family laundry is given out, include in your washing a large-sized scrap of the new material from which the garments were made. If the scraps hold their colors well, the garments may then be sent to the laundry; if the samples come back faded, the garments should be washed at home with special care.

CARE OF PERCOLATOR

When washing your electric percolator never immerse it in water or you will ruin the heating element. Stand it on the drain board and carefully wipe inside and out, leaving the spigot turned on so all the parts are drained out. Scald finally with boiling water.

SILK JOURNEY BAG

For traveling nothing could be nicer than a silk bag lined with rubber. It contains all the necessary things for the toilet.

LIGHT BULBS

Keep your electric light bulbs clean and clear and they will give you better light. A little ammonia added to the soap suds in which you clean them will remove any cloudiness.

MORE ICE

If you wish to economize on ice do not let the ice compartment of your refrigerator get empty. There is more economy in larger pieces than in small for they do not melt so rapidly.

CONCERNING WOMEN

Some of the most attractive apothecary shops in Holland are operated by women.

Greek peasant women do their washing in stone sarcophagi that are at least 2,200 years old.

Girls are now being employed in the Japanese War Department to take up drafting work.

Miss Esther C. Anderson has been appointed chief deputy United States marshal for Vermont.

The wages of servant girls in Osaka, Japan, have increased 1800 per cent. in the last 30 years.

Among the Wachins, a tribe in Burma, girls wear their hair bobbed as a sign that they are unmarried.

Mrs. W. C. Martin of Marshall, Tex., was chosen chairman of a national egg marketing conference held in Chicago.

When Queen Mary of England travels by train, she will not allow a speed of more than 50 miles an hour to be made.

CARE OF RECORDS

Be sure to brush your graphophone records with a camel's hair brush before playing them. You will find that they will last much longer.

USES FOR BACON FAT

Bacon fat has so much merit that not a drop of it should be wasted. The French use it in salad dressing and like it better than oil for that purpose. It may be the shortening used for gingerbread or it may even be used to enrich biscuit. There will be no bacon taste to the biscuit unless you have let the fat become browned.

RECIPES

Beef Pie—Cut cold, cooked beef into inch-square pieces, until there are two cupsful. Put these pieces into a baking dish and season with one-half teaspoon of salt, a pinch of pepper, one tablespoon of tomato catsup (or one-third cup of cooked tomatoes), and add one cup of either gravy or hot water. Cover with the following crust for a medium large pie:

Sift together one-half cup of bread flour, one teaspoon of baking powder; work into this with the finger-tips one heaping tablespoon of butter, then wet to a stiff paste by adding about one-fourth cup of sweet milk. Roll this out into a circle that will just cover the pie, and bake 25 to 30 minutes in a hot oven.

Stuffed Peppers—Cut a slice from the stem end of six large green peppers; remove seeds and partitions, and place these scooped-out pepper cups in boiling water for ten minutes (off the range), then drain well. Mix together four tablespoons of chopped cooked ham, four tablespoons of dry bread-crumbs, one tablespoon of chopped parsley, one-half of a large onion finely minced, and one-half cup of tomatoes; season with one teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper, and stuff the peppers with this mixture. Cover the opening with a slice of bacon, and bake in a pan for 50 minutes in a moderate oven.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Study in Sociology.

Mr. Editor: It is in print by some authority, that during the past 25 years, about 10,000,000 babies should have been, but have not been, born to our successful families, and in the same period about twice as many have been born that ought not to have been by the other classes of society.

He must surely be a bold economist who ventures to state such a proposition as to which infants should be or should not be born in this republic where "all men are created equal." We do have laws restricting immigration, based upon numbers but not on classification, but no legislation as yet attempts birth control.

Perhaps Abraham Lincoln was the first American to discover that this being created equal was only a "proposition" by the founders of our nation. At all events it was patent to the world that the "fathers" did not consider all men were created equal. They simply implied their remembrance to anything like hereditary superiority or emolument because of birth or social station—that was all.

Assuming however, that an attempt were made to establish laws of birth control by classification our Constitution forbids anything like sumptuary laws. But supposing that a satisfactory enactment could be passed designating the number of infants to be born in each state and of the proposed classes, the next dilemma to occur would be the assignment of sex, namely—how many males and a proportionate number of females should be brought into the world in a given time. This would baffle the naturalists as well as the legislators and is something that knocks a big hole in the evolutionist's theory. This so-called science, now so troubling the young student and the sage professor—crumpling up creeds and mystifying the clergy and knocking in the head dogmas of theology. The Creator yet seems to superintend the sex question and preserves the proportion fairly—at least has so far.

But what is there in this evolutionary theory to produce a scare, such as we see now? Evolution is limited by involution. You cannot evolve from anything beyond that which has been first involved. Even the Latins had this down pat, in their simple idiom "lax nihilo nihil fit." Hence, evolution creates nothing, produces nothing, never did, never can.

It is the function of evolution to find the radix of a series, and if there can be no life except from prior life, evolution has attained its limit when it has reached that prior life—the antecedent which the theological names Deity—the great first cause.

Mathematically, the evolutionist's forte is to evolve the root although it hath been raised to the millionth power, and when he has done this, the ultimate remains yet untouched; although all the succeeding processes are satisfactorily laid bare. Speaking of society it is customary for us to consider talent and ability as synonymous terms, but when our Saviour uttered his parable of the talents, he was particular to state that the talents were given to the parties "according to their several ability." Neither were the talents given to test their ability as the award showed, but to test their faithfulness, and that is the test of today. The award is yet, not according to success but according to faithfulness in the transaction, be it large or small. Here is where the man with the one talent mistook his test and failed. The design of all opportunity is to develop character, and notwithstanding this lesson of our Lord, and many examples, the mistake of the one-talented men of today is their lack of faithfulness in the few things through which, and only through which, the greater things come.

This is not only the law of the gospel, it is the law of all nature, and he who disregards it, like the man in the parable, loses his chance and the increase that was possible to him. It is vain to quarrel with this divine statute, and then envy those who by obedience are attaining.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Twenty years old today is Crown Prince Olav, who in the natural course of events will some day become king of Norway. Although heir apparent to the Norwegian throne the crown prince is without a drop of Norwegian blood in his veins. His father was a Danish prince, son of King Frederick of Denmark, while his mother, the present Queen Maud of Norway, was an English princess, daughter of the late King Edward VII. Olave, who was Christened Prince Charles, was two years old, when in 1906, his father was elected king of Norway, following the peaceful separation of that country from Sweden. Upon his coronation the king took the title of Haakon VII. And when Olav comes to the throne, he will probably wear the title of Harald IV, as the Haralds and the Haakons, it has been decided, will hereafter alternate on Norway's court roster.

Stories That Recall Others

Logic.

Harold and his sister scarcely two years his senior were playing when Mrs. A called to them.

"One of you children run upstairs and get me a spool of black thread."

"You go Harold," said Florence, "I'm tired."

"I'm tired, too, you go yourself."

"Well, Harold, I'm older than you and I've had more time to get tired. You go." This line of reasoning was almost too much for Harold, but he finally rallied with "I don't care if you are older and have had more time to get tired. You've had more time to get rested, too. You go."

When Is It Fish?

It happened at a Sunday evening lunch at the home of a six-year-old boy. The center of attraction at this particular lunch was a plate of sardines and the father of the youth offered to serve him, saying: "John, will you have a sardine?"

John looked at the offering "What's a sardine?" he asked.

"Why a sardine is just a fish, and you like fish."

John had spent his last summer at a lake resort and he felt competent to pass on questions concerning fish and fishing. So he drew back in lofty disdain and emphatically declared:

Change of Life Often Causes High Blood Pressure

Women between the ages of 40 to 50 undergo a physiological change that creates a disturbance of all the vital organs. Under this condition waste matter that ordinarily passes out of the body is absorbed into the blood poisoning the system generally. Many women during this trying period become victims of High Blood Pressure. Dizziness, nervousness, hot flashes, palpitation of the heart, oppressive fullness in the chest and labored breathing on slight exertion are among the first indications of high blood pressure. If unheeded, the whole system loses tone, one's life is shortened and there is danger that death may come suddenly through apoplexy.

High blood pressure is in itself an indication that the body is clogged and choked with poisonous wastes. Before relief can be had these wastes must be eliminated.

A well-known physician working for formula that assists Nature in driving out these poisons. With the poison gone the blood pressure is reduced quickly and a general feeling of well being is experienced almost immediately.

This physician's treatment has been so universally successful that it has now been put up in convenient tablet form under the name Bi-a-lin, and is sold by all good druggists with a guarantee to return your full purchase price if the very first bottle does not give wonderful relief. Rid yourself of those distressing symptoms now. Don't wait. Delay may be fatal. Get the Bi-a-lin prescription today from any good druggist. The Lee & Osgood Company.

VARIOUS MATTERS

It is daybreak now at 3.07, standard time.

The best moonlight nights during July will be from the 26th to the 30th.

The outing tide set in early Sunday, thousands of excursionists seeking the shore.

Many of the local store windows are already gay in decorations for Independence Day, Wednesday.

Numberless webs covering the grass Sunday morning seemed to promise a long period of hot, dry weather.

Former Norwich residents Mr. Mrs. Irving Downsett of School street, Groton, have opened their cottage at Lord's Point.

With the coming of the first business day of the month, half-year and quarter, postmen will have extra heavy mail bags today.

The janitor at Broadway school has some attractive beds of thrifty scarlet geraniums which add to the good looks of the school premises.

Sunday, at the Central Baptist church, the flowers on the pulpit were the gift of Charles W. Burton in memory of his father, William Burton.

About the suburban farms, mowing began in earnest Saturday, grass having attained to unusual height in some sections, following the recent rains.

The substantial new fence surrounding the Little Plain is a decided improvement and is painted, with the exception of a stretch on the Union street side.

Cottage owners and lessees will in most instances take possession of their summer homes for the month or the season, with the coming of July.

At Hamburg Contractor Clarence Lee recently purchased the Anchorage which was destroyed by fire last spring from Charles M. Tiffany and will erect a residence on the property.

Visitors at the D. A. R. museum at Norwich Town Saturday, included one from France. The hostesses during the hours from 3 to 5 were Mrs. Allen Cleworth and Mrs. Gurdon L. Bidwell.

St. Patrick's church began the summer schedule of low masses Sunday. During July and August, vespers and Sunday school will be suspended. The senior and junior choirs will not sing.

Growers of strawberries have had a most satisfactory season, even the small home garden patch yielding most abundantly, the berries surpassing those of former years in size and flavor.

Visitors to Norwich for the vacation period will find the city living up to its traditional name, as The Rose of New England. Especial are the ramblers all about town a delight to the eye just now.

While the chapel at Clark's Falls is being newly painted, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rathbone opened their house for Rev. and Mrs. Frank Robbins to hold services there, also the session of Sunday school.

Miss Mildred Laugheed of Flanders, has been attending the summer school for Christian Sunday school workers in Middletown, Miss Laugheed was sent, by the Sunday school of the East Lyme Baptist church.

The summer cottage at Neptune Park for so many years owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George C. Preston, of Norwich, has been enlarged and remodeled into two sightly apartments, the new portion being the home of Mr. and Mrs. Preston's elder daughter and family.

As chairman of the advertising committee, Registrar of Voters Tyler D. Guy extended numerous courtesies to the officials and lecturers of Chautauqua, during their stay in Norwich over the week end. Several of the strangers were from the South and greatly appreciated the hospitality shown them.

Rev. Dr. James L. Barton, who will speak on The Near East and Conditions There, at the union summer services of the United and Park churches, is chairman of the Near East relief committee, has made several trips to the Near East in connection with relief work both during the war, and since, has attended several international conferences.

GROTTO OUTING FOR COUNTY HOME CHILDREN

Seventy five children with members of the executive board of the New London County Home enjoyed a treat Saturday when the children were given their second annual outing by Nemrod Grotto, M. O. V. P. E. R.

The children were taken to the sea shore in automobiles driven by the following prophets: R. C. Brittin, George Frizer, Alex Finlayson, J. H. McKinley, Frank Green, C. C. Treat, Captain Carpenter, George Gaskell, J. Parker, Joseph Curran, Louis Geer, F. L. Crandall, William Dunston, J. Bell, William McClimon, A. H. Perry and Andrew Jacobson. The children were treated to ice cream cones by Sellas Spa, balloons, pin-wheels and bouncing balls were furnished by the Tannery Corporation, flags by Symons and horns by C. V. Pendleton. Probation Officer R. W. Mansfield of New London provided lolly pops.

The party was accompanied by Mrs. Frank A. Mitchell and it was a unanimous vote that the 1923 outing was the "best ever".

FORGERY CHARGE MADE AGAINST MONTVILLE MAN

Leo Barr of Montville was arrested in this city Saturday afternoon on the charge of forgery of the endorsement of a check for $56.21 which he used to pay for a watch bought at John A. Ferguson's jewelry store, receiving cash for the difference between the face of the check and the price of the watch.

The check was signed by the J. A. Sexauer Mfg. Co. on the Twenty-third Ward bank of New York city, dated June 5, and payable to R. F. Bahr.

PAID COURT $212.02 FOR DRIVING WHILE INTOXICATED

In the police court Saturday morning Peter Starzec of Preston, who was arrested Friday night, was fined $200 and costs for driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He paid $212.02. He was given also a jail sentence of 30 days which was suspended.

Removing Ink Stains.

To remove ink stains, wet the soiled parts with cold water, then immediately cover these spots with ground mustard. After allowing this to become entirely dry, wash the material with warm water and a small amount of soap. I have found this to be very efficient and economical in that it saves much good material from being cast aside.—Exchange.

Acreage cut of timber in this country a year is about 10,000,000.

John T. Broadhurst and daughter, Irene, of Fairmount street, leave this (Monday) morning for Portland and Long Island, Me., where they will spend two weeks with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Manning of Fourth street left Saturday for Providence, where they are spending several days as the guests of Mrs. Manning's sister, Mrs. Mary Ellen Lawson.

Miss Fennessy Canty, who has been spending the past month with her aunt, Miss Julia Doyle on Church street, leaves today for Claremont Junction, N. H., where she will visit her aunt, Miss Josie Canty.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Caron had as their guest over the week end at their cottage at Groton Long Point the Misses Mae Mitchell, Eva Plante, Yvonne Sabourin, Attorney Harry St. Gaucher of Willimantic, Eugene and Wilfred Sabourin of this city.

Leslie P. Beebe, a graduate of Wesleyan university, who has been appointed assistant professor in the department of industrial economics at Carnegie Institute of Technology, and will begin his new work at the Pittsburgh institution in the fall, was born in Hamburg, Conn., in 1898.

NEW LONDON CHILD HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, July 1.—Albert Robinson, 7, residing with his parents at No. 163 North Bank street, is a patient at the private hospital probably fatally injured as the result of being struck by an automobile owned and operated by Nathan Weisler, of Uncasville, later this afternoon. At the hospital this evening it was stated that the child had sustained probable internal injuries.

The youngster, with other children, was playing in the vicinity of Douglas and Main streets. Just as the automobile operated by Weisler came along and headed for Uncasville, the child ran into the road and before Weisler could reduce the speed of the car, the child was struck. Besides probable internal injuries the boy is suffering from lacerations and bruises.

WELCOME SERVICE FOR SALVATION ARMY LIEUTENANT

A welcome service to Lieut. Olive Coe was held Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Salvation Army Hall by Captain Charles Carpenter, there being a large attendance. Lieutenant Coe was recently commissioned by Commissioner Thomas Estill in command of the Eastern Territory, from the Salvation Army Training college in New York City, and has been assigned to Norwich to assist Captain and Mrs. Carpenter in the work here.

Lieut. Coe's parents have been members of the army for many years. She is a native of New Haven and received her education in that city.

Heavy Sunday Automobile Traffic.

Automobile traffic through Norwich was heavy Sunday due to the hundredy of auto parties en route for the beaches where they spent the day. In spite of the heavy travel few automobile accidents were reported in this section, speeding being held to a minimum through the vigilance of the state police who patrolled the lanes of traffic during the day.

Crescent Beach Priest in Ohio.

Rev. Edwin A. Flynn, pastor of St. Francis' chapel at Crescent Beach, is at Cleveland, O., for two weeks, attending the Catholic educational convention. Father Flynn will be assisted during the summer months by Rev. Charles Kavanaugh of New Haven, until recently prefect of discipline at St. Thomas' seminary, Hartford, and Rev. Joseph Rewinkle of Meriden, who was recently ordained.

No Greeneville Celebration Fourth.

There is to be no morning celebration of the Fourth of July with a parade and other features such as has been held for the past few years. The Greeneville community committee decided not to attempt to carry out anything this year.

Woodstock Hill Pastor Resigns.

Rev. Fosdick B. Harrison has resigned the pastorate of the Congregational church, Woodstock Hill, and accepted a call to the Congregational church, Bridgewater.

Park Concerts Start.

There was a good sized attendance at Mohegan park Sunday afternoon for the first band concert of the season. The excellent program by Swahn's full band was frequently applauded.

Divided Play.

Virginia came running over with her dolls to play with Nan, and it seemed that an agreeable time was in store for the youngsters. But a short time later mother came into the room and Virginia was in one corner with her own things, looking rather pouty, and Nan in the opposite corner. Seeing the questioning expression on her mother's face, Nan explained: "Virginia was cross, so I said we'd play with each self."

Good Advice.

"Don't fret and worry over what may never happen," says Ruth Cameron. "One can waste just as much energy in false emotions as in false motions."

Great Only by Comparison.

The superiority of some people is merely local. They are great because their associates are little.—Johnson.

Thought for the Day.

It is seldom that the fellow on the side lines doesn't think he knows more about the game than the players know.

NORWICH FORESTERS BRING CLASS OF 25 IN STATE MEMBERSHIP CONTEST

Saturday brought to a close a friendly membership contest for a membership banner between the Foresters of America of New Jersey and Connecticut. It was at the first meeting of the newly elected executive council that a count was taken which showed Connecticut was behind New Jersey in this contest. An appeal was sent to the entire membership of Connecticut asking that an effort be made to increase the state membership enough to enable Connecticut to become the victor.

Willimantic and Jewett City both put through classes of 15 candidates on Thursday night, and Baltic and Taftville had a combined class of 45 candidates on Friday night. The degree team of Court City of Norwich, No. 63, did the work in a very creditable manner.

The crack degree team from Court Welch of Waterville, which did such good work at the last two conventions, was selected by the membership committee to exemplify the ritualistic work for the Norwich class, which numbered 25 candidates.

The work started with a parade, of which Sub-Chief Ranger Maurice Looby was marshal. Swahn's band was followed by grand court officers, visiting brothers from Torrington, candidates, degree team in full regalia, members of Court City of Norwich, Court Wequonnoc of Taftville, Court Sprague of Baltic, Court Gridwold of Jewett City and Court St. Marie of Willimantic.

After a short parade which finished at Pulaski hall, the real work of the evening started.

Word had gone forward of the wonderful reputation of Court Welch degree team and as a result the hall was taxed to capacity and all who witnessed the degree are willing to speak another good word for this wonderful company of loyal brothers.

During the evening Chief Ranger Henry A. Congdon of Court City of Norwich introduced Grand Chief Ranger Cavanaugh of Torrington, who spoke briefly on the wonderful success that has crowned the efforts of the members during this short campaign.

Supreme Chief Sullivan of Derby was introduced and spoke of the pleasure it gave him to come to Norwich to take part in the evening's work. He mentioned that the order has paid out over 63 millions of dollars in benefits since it was founded and asked the members of the local court to continue their good work.

Grand Secretary O'Loughlin spoke on the order in general and complimented the members of this section and told of the benefit the funeral fund is doing in the order.

After the business and degree work were over, members enjoyed a social time, and at midnight all started for home after expressing their thanks to the entertainment committee for the royal good time. Fulfillment of wishes for another initiation in the near future was assured as several applications were sent to the hall during the evening.

HAD CRAZY IDEA OF DOING TRAFFIC DUTY

Complaints that a man was on Norwich-Westerly road, south of Fox hill, holding up automobiles by getting into the road in front of them and holding up his hand resulted in the arrest there about 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon of Arthur Trabanesse, 32, who lives not far from where he was on self-imposed traffic duty.

Trabanesse was first heard of when a motorcyclist arrived at police headquarters and told of being held up. Capt. D. J. Twomey directed sergeant Thomas Murphy and officer William Ryan to look up the complaint and as they were about to start in Sergeant Murphy's car, an automobilist arrived to report that he had been held up.

Trabanesse was found in the road by the officers, with a pencil and piece of paper in his hand. He said the machine were going too fast and a man had told him to take the numbers. He readily got into Sergeant Murphy's car for a ride, but when he reached the police station he raged and shouted so much that Dr. W. T. Driscoll was called to give him an opiate. Trabanesse was kept in a cell overnight.

MADE 118 ARRESTS IN MONTH OF JUNE

There were 118 arrests made in June by the Norwich police force, nearly all of them for intoxication. Breach of peace and violation of the motor vehicle law were the next two leading causes.

The following were the arrests made: Intoxication 53, breach of peace 27, violation of liquor law 12, violation motor vehicle law 20, resisting officer, committing nuisance, refusing to obey officer, forgery, defrauding restaurant, one each.

VESPER SERVICE GIVEN IN CHAUTAUQUA TENT

The Chautauqua vesper service was conducted Sunday night at 8.15 in the tent on the Academy campus, with Rev. Dr. David A. Pitt, Rev. A. N. Foster and Rev. G. F. Bailey participating.

A dramatization of the book of Job, which was given by the company headed by Grace Halsey Mills, closed the service.

Saturday night the Grace Halsey Mills company presented The Taming of the Shrew, delighting the large audience with its clever handling of the Shakespeare comedy.

CHARGED WITH DRIVING AUTO WHILE INTOXICATED

James Clifford, 48, was arrested in Greeneville about midnight Saturday by Sergeant Thomas Murphy on the charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He had run into the car of Allen Mopsick of Moosup while it was standing on North Main street. Mopsick jumped on the running board of the Clifford car and turned off the switch when he saw the condition of the driver.

Will Redouble Care of Disabled

In view of the recent announced intention of certain ex-service men's organizations to attack the United States Veterans Bureau because of it's economical reorganization of the administrative functions of certain sub-district offices of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, has issued an order to all employes in this district to redouble their efforts at serving the sick, wounded and disabled who are under the Bureau's care.

A large crowd attended and $75 was realized.

For Lake Mashapaug Fishing

A party of local men left Saturday for Lake Mashapaug on the state line between Massachusetts and Connecticut where they will enjoy an outing and fishing trip until after the Fourth. While at the lake the local party will be guests at the summer camp of George A. Dolbeare of West Thames street.

Preston City Strawberry Supper

The ladies of the Preston City Congregational Church served a strawberry supper in the vestry, from six to nine o'clock, Wednesday evening. Those in charge of the affair were chairman, Mrs. W. L. Muttart, Mrs. Sterry Pierce, Miss Abbie Stanton and Mrs. Ernest Kennedy.

The vestry and the tables were prettily decorated with peonies and roses.

Another Call to Central Wharf

The firemen went to Central Wharf Sunday afternoon shortly before 6 o'clock when fire again broke out in the bales owned by the Max Gordon & Sons Corp. The bales were soaked down again, but it is likely that the fires in the bales will continue to break out from time to time as it has done at intervals since the fire several weeks ago.

Uncasville Mill Shuts Down

Uncasville, Conn., July 1—The cotton mill of the Uncasville Manufacturing company will be closed all this week, it was announced yesterday. No cause for the shut-down was given.

Made Mohawk Trail Trip

Officer Edmund S. Maloney, made the trip over the Mohawk trail Sunday in his new automobile which he bought this spring. The car was driven by his son.

TEXTILE OPERATIVES ADOPT MANY IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS

After a four days' session during which considerable business was transacted the American Federation of Textile Operatives closed its convention Saturday morning at Odd Fellows' hall.

By a vote of the delegates the federation voted to hold its next convention in Philadelphia. The vote showed many cities under consideration but as the majority vote was for Philadelphia, President James Tanney ruled in favor of the Pennsylvania city.

The session of Saturday was given over entirely to the closing business of the convention. The various committees brought in resolutions which in a majority of cases were unanimously adopted.

Among the various resolutions were those embracing the following subjects: That the convention favor the old age pension, that the affiliated locals and membership cooperate with other active bodies seeking such legislative action; an expression of appreciation and thanks to Mayor Milo R. Waters, the local and visiting press, also for the many courtesies received during the stay in Norwich; to change the present emergency measure of Massachusetts, supplying food and common necessaries of life; the providing of shelter; an amendment to the constitution to prohibit child labor; sustaining the actions of the national officers relative to consolidation of the Textile Unions of America; to make an amendment to the constitution making 48 hours the maximum week for women and children; to relieve the housing conditions now existing in the country, and pass laws prohibiting profiteering in building; that at all future meetings of the American Federation of Textile Operatives, representatives of the press be admitted to report the proceedings; that the American Federation of Textile Operatives have a defense fund of 10,000 to be held in reserve for strikes not be be used for any other purpose what-so-ever; that the executive council of the federation be instructed to appoint an organizer within six months; endorsing the stand of the Bakers and Confectioners' union against a boking company which has declared an open shop, condemning the Manhasset company of Putnam for its stand against the operatives of the plant.

The committee on legislature recommended that the national officers go to Main if possible, to campaign for the 48 hour law in that state; also favors a national 48 hour law; also the passing of laws in states not now having them to prohibit advertising through the press without stating that a strike is in progress; that a third party to be known as the labor party be organized.

The committee on organizers recommend the appointing of a permanent organized to be appointed by the convention with the proviso that the emergency board be given power to appoint special organizers when in their opinion it is advisable.

WEDDINGS.

Frink—Beckley.

Charles William Frink, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frink of Franklin, and Miss Rose M. Beckley, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Beckley of 35 Lincoln avenue, were united in marriage at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Patrick's rectory by Rev. M. H. May. The attendants were Miss Elizabeth Beckley, sister of the bride, and John E. Frink, brother of the groom. Members of the two families were present at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Frink left on an automobile trip to Maine and Canada and upon their return will reside at 20 Lincoln avenue. The bride for several years has been a popular teacher in Norwich public schools. Mr. Frink is engaged in the dairy business in this city and during the World war served with credit. He was a member of the famous Lost Battalion.

Bushey—Hill.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Oneco, June 30—One of the prettiest home weddings of the year was that of Miss Edith May Hill, granddaughter of Judge Frank W. Hazard, and Francis Bushey, both of Oneco, at Judge Hazard's home today. Rev. John Von Deck being the officiating clergyman.

The bride was prettily attired in white silk crepe de chene, white embroidered veil and an orange blossom wreath. Joseph Sayles was the best man and Miss Ethel Marriott the bridesmaid, wore pink voile and carried a bouquet of bridal roses.

The parlor was neatly decorated and well filled by invited guests and others. Both Mr. Bushey and his bride are highly respected young people and members of the town's best families. They will reside in Oneco.

Place—Moore.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Providence, June 30.—At the parents' residence, No. 51 Ashto avenue today Miss Ina May Moore was united in marriage with Cyril H. Place, son of Captain John H. Place of Coventry.

Rev. Mr. Hollington performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Both Mr. and Mrs. Place are members of old Rhode Island families of colonial descent.

Marc Aurele—Reilly.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's church, New Haven, on Wednesday, June 27th, when Miss Helen Reilly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Reilly of Northampton, Mass., was united in marriage with Oscar Marc Aurele of West Haven, Conn., formerly of Norwich.

The bride was attended by Miss Irene Marc Aurele, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, and Mr. Marc Aurele was attended by John King of New Haven, as best man.

Winchester—Morgan.

A quiet wedding took place Saturday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Rev. J. Harlow Graham, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, when Adelbert S. Winchester, son of Charles and Lucy A. Pierce Winchester of Salem, and Miss Edna May Morgan, daughter of the late John C. Morgan, were united in marriage.

The couple was attended by relatives, and immediately following the ceremony left on a wedding tour. On their return they will reside at Gardner Lake, where the groom has built and furnished a home. The bride has made her home at 37 Washington street and the groom is engaged in farming.

OBITUARY.

Clement W. Flagg.

The many friends of Clement W. Flagg of Pleasure Beach were grieved to learn of his death Saturday morning at his home there following an illness of about two months. Mr. Flagg was suddenly taken ill about eight weeks ago while in this city but shortly afterwards recovered sufficiently to go to his home at the beach where he again suffered a relapse. His death, however, was not expected until the last although he had suffered a severe attack on Wednesday of last week, lasping into unconsciousness from which he failed to rally.

Mr. Flagg is survived by his wife, Mary E. Potter, to whom he was married in October, 1895, also by his daughter, Mrs. Henry R. Lasch of New Britain and two grandchildren, Henry and Robert Lasch. Other surviving relatives are a brother, David Flagg, town clerk and judge of probate court of Putnam, three sisters, Mrs. Lucy Caron of Danielson, Mrs. Charles Duval of Worcester and Miss Margaret Flagg of Putnam; also two nephews, George Rene and Joseph Flagg and three nfeces, the Misses Marguerite Lucille and Alice Caron of Danielson.

For four years past Mr. Flagg has been at the head of the sales department of the City of Norwich Gas and Electrical department. Previous to coming to Norwich he had been with the Webster and Southbridge Gas and Electrical company for six years and for nine years had been manager of the Danielson exchange of the Southern New England Telephone company. For thirty years he had been connected with the Putnam Patriot where he held the position of compositor. He was well known as a collector and admirer of antiques and at one time his collection was a fine one. He also was adept at restoring old pieces.

While working in the various cities and towns of the eastern part of the state Mr. Flagg had made many friends. Fair in all his dealings, an efficient and competent manager he has filled all offices entrusted to him with credit and his many friends extend their sympathies to his family in their time of sorrow. For the past 16 years he had owned a summer residence at Pleasure Beach and was prominent among those who worked for the improvement of the resort.

Mrs. John S. Storms.

The death of Mrs. C. Josephine Storms of 88 Palmer street brings a deep sense of loss to many outside the circle of the immediate family. Her's was a long life of Christian service, far-reaching in its influence. Always active, she was much younger than her years.

Mrs. Storms was born in New York city Sept. 30, 1841, the daughter of Joseph B. and Caroline Tarbox Prentice. When about fourteen she spent a year in the home of Chauncey K. Bushnell of Norwich, attending his school and the Central Baptist church. Later, going west with her parents, she married John S. Storms of Onarga, Ill. At the close of the Civil war they moved to Memphis, Tenn., where Mr. Storms died in 1866. She is survived by her children, Mrs. J. M. Young, Miss Anna B. Storms and Charles S. Storms all of this city, also a niece, Mrs. Alice Prentice Grandy, whom she reared from babyhood as a daughter. There are eleven grandchildren and two greatgrandchildren.

Mrs. Mellissa Stinson Snyder.

Word was received in this city Sunday evening of the death of Mrs. Mellissa Stinson Snyder, which occurred in Detroit, Mich., Tuesday, June 26th. She was 32 years of age. Surviving are two brothers, Malcolm and William of this city, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Stinson of Wauregan, R. I., and son Vernon.

INTENTIONAL SECOND EXPOSURE

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

A lamentable accident that will cost John Horton an eye occurred Saturday night at the Horton camp at Old Killingly pond when a stick of wood which he was chopping flew up and struck him in the face, a splinter puncturing the eyeball. He was stunned by the blow, but eventually reached here and was rushed to Providence in an automobile to consult a specialist. The specialist held out no hope for saving the injured eye, so the injured young man was entered as a patient at a Providence hospital.

Mr. Horton arrived at the camp with his mother, Mrs. S. D. Horton, from Otter River, Mass., just a short time before the accident occured. They found the camp too chilly for comfort and he was engaged in getting some wood ready to build a fire when he was injured. He is an overseas veteran of the World war and saw much active service as a member of an artillery organization of the Yankee division, coming through hard fighting without injury. He is 26 years of age.

The police are engaged in an investigation which they hope will lead to the apprehension of the party or parties responsible for a vandalistic attack on the home of Joseph Thibeault on the Riverside race track site, on upper Maple street, some time about 9 o'clock Friday night. The attack was made while all members of the household were away, stones—large and small—being hurled through the windows, not only smashing out the glass but also tearing the curtains and doing damage to furniture. One of the stones weighed several pounds. When members of the family returned about 9:30, first knowledge of the affair was obtained and it was immediately reported to the police.

The house is located in an isolated section, so it was not difficult for those responsible for the affair to cause the damage and get away with only small likelihood of being seen.

Mr. Thibeault is employed at the Manchaug mill in Putnam, where a strike has been on the past eight weeks, traveling back and forth daily.

Saturday morning the funeral of Moses Willette was held at his home near Moosup pond, with funeral services at All Hallows' church, Moosup, at 9 o'clock, the congregation numbering many relatives. Burial was in All Hallows' cemetery. The bearers were Eugene Brisson, John Choquette, Peter Beaset, Edward Bellavance, Eli DeForge and Joseph Larrow. Louis E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

With no opposition in evidence, the special town meeting called to take action relative to a row of shade trees in Reynolds street voted to instruct the selectmen to request the state highway commissioner to remove the trees. The meeting, attended by only about 20 persons, also voted to instruct the selectmen to reset the curbing along the place where the trees in question are located after they are removed—and made an appropriation of $400 for obtaining and setting such additional curbing as may be required.

There was renewed inclination on the part of some young enthusiasts to overstep the restrictions and set off firecrackers and torpedoes during Sunday, though the police gave a warning last week that this will not be tolerated in advance of the Fourth and those who are caught at it will be haled into court. This will be of special interest to parents, for youthful celebrators usually are amazingly short of funds after having their fling at the fireworks stand and such fines as may be imposed will in reality be assessed against paternal pocketbooks. The ban on the use of the noise-producers is not lifted until sunrise on the morning of the Fourth.

At daybreak, and maybe before, tomor-row morning, Tuesday, July 3, the rush to get out on the waters of Alexander's lake for the first free fishing day in several years will be on. The bass fishermen are enthusiastic over the prospects. The bass season opened Sunday and such lakes or streams as afford good bass fishing were being angled in by numbers of those who love the sport. Once more the warning is being given that bass under 14 inches in length shall not be retained if taken. This is a change in the law and has been repeatedly printed in the past month, yet Deputy Game Warden F. E. Kieg continues to find fishermen who have not heard of the fact, though it is all important if one would escape liability of arrest.

It has just come to light that there was an interesting class reunion here at commencement time — members of the class of 1883 gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Preston on Broad street to observe the 40th anniversary of their graduation. Of the six girls who were members of this class two have passed beyond and one is out of touch with her classmates here, her address not being known to them at the present time.

Many friends here will learn with re-gret of the death at his home in Pleasure Beach of Clement W. Flagg, formerly manager of the Danielson division of the S. N. E. Telephone company. Mrs. G. R. Caron of Hawkins street is a sister of Mr. Flagg.

Three men arrested Saturday by state police officers at Moosup, for creating a disturbance, were brought here and locked up at the police station. One was released on bail during Sunday and the two others removed later in the day to bells at the courthouse in Central Village.

At all masses at St. James' church Sunday a collection was taken for the nurses' home fund of the Day Kimball hospital at Putnam. The donations were liberal and will help boost Danielson's showing in the interest of this work.

During July, Miss Katherine T. Thayer of Putnam is substituting as telephone operator at the Connecticut Mills for Miss Marguerite Caron who is in Maine on a vacation trip.

Louis Weisard has returned to Washington, D. C., where he recently was graduated from Georgetown university, after spending a vacation at his home here.

Sunday, motor traffic was up to its usual heavy volume. Cars from nearly a score of states passed through Danielson during the day. Included in the week end tourists in town was a party from Long Beach, Cal., descendants of General Israel Putnam, and interested in visiting his monument at Brooklyn, the Wolf Den, and his former residence on the road between Brooklyn and Pomfret, and in seeking out relatives in the territory.

Numbers of the several hundred operatives of the Connecticut mills who are idle this week will take advantage of the cessation of work to go on vacation trips.

Rev. J. E. Shelley, M. S., assistant at St. James' church, is to give a lecture in Brooklyn this (Monday) evening. The lecure is public and as Father Shelley is an excellent and entertaining speaker it is certain to be well worth attending.

John A. Richmond of Pawtucket was a visitor with friends in Danielson over Sunday.

In addition to the hourly service that the Connecticut company will supply between Danielson and East Killingly on the Fourth there will be such extra service on the main line as the traffic warrants.

Many were at Wildwood park Sunday afternoon for the first open air band concert of the summer season.

PUTNAM

Putnam's motorized parcel post delivery is appreciated both by the public and by the leter carriers at the Putnam post office. Postmaster Archie Macdonald who has received much commendation for the things he has done for his adopted city while in public service, saw immediately on taking the office of postmaster that the system of parcel post delivery was antequated for such an up-to-date town as this. He saw the carriers leaving the office with loads of parcels and packages and he knew that such delivery could not benefit the service, as it wore out the men, nor the public, for it was impossible to give prompt delivery with man power. Immediately he took the matter up with the department at Washington and the result is that the push cart days of Carrier George Clark who has the business section, and the pack horse days of the other carriers is now but a nightmare. An automobile truck is now used in delivering parcel post mail and it takes but three hours a day to make the deliveries. The parcel post business at the Putnam office has been steadily increasing. The weight of the packages range from 50 to 70 points, according to zones. An actual count showed 1,176 packages weighing over four pounds each delivered over a period of two weeks. This count did not include packages weighing less than four pounds. These greatly exceeded the heavier packages.

Beginning around midnight, every night, some seven to ten trains of sleepers from ten to twelve cars each pass trough this city bound for Maine and every berth and compartment is occupied. The season is at its height and just before the Fourth travel is heaviest. Not only are there several sections of the New York trains, Bar Harbor and State of Maine, but three nights a week runs what is known as the Pennsrivania—Bar Harbor train. This trains makes up at Washington and runs through to the Maine resort. That no delays may be caused there is on hand at Putnam each night a spare engine and crew, ready to give assistance whenever needed. This engine is often used in helping the regular engines start their trains out of Putnam and are ready to make a run to Worcester, should a regular engine become disabled. Shortly after the Fourth, travel east becomes lighter and along about the middle of August turns and becomes heaviest from Maine to New York as the vacationists begin to return after the summer season. These trains are the best paying passenger trains on the road.

Miss Mamie Jarvis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jarvis, Church street, is spending a month with relatives in Brockton, Mass.

Mrs. Helen Willey, house manager of the House in the Pines, Norton, Mass., arrived Saturday evening to spend two months' vacation with her mother, Mrs. A. W. Macdonald, on Oak Hill.

Felix Nowak and John Wowrzyeak of Webster drove up in a new Ford touring car to a gasoline tank on School street. After the tank had been filled and the proprietor was hanging up the hose there was a burst of flame from the tank. In fighting the fire both young men were somewhat burned. Someone pulled in a fire alarm but the flames had been extinguished when the firemen arrived. The automobile was quite badly damaged.

Members of A. G. Warner Woman's Relief corps, honored deceased members at memorial exercises held in Grove Street cemetery, Saturday afternoon. Officers of the corps conducted the exercises after which the graves were decorated.

Sixty autographed photographs of movie stars have so far come to hand to be auctioned off for the benefit of the Nurses' Home of the Day Kimball hospital. Among the latest to arrive are those of Charlie Chaplin and Douglas Fairbanks, which were accompanied by personal letters wishing the committee success. The photographs will all be framed and will be placed on exhibition before the sale which will take place during a street fair. Other stars who have sent photographs since the list was announced a year ago are: Jack Hoxie, Jacqueline Logan, Louis Wilson, Antonio Moreno, Gloria Swanson, Leatric Joy and a second and new picture from Bebe Daniels.

Harry Gaucher, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gaucher, Church street, is dead at the home of his parents. He was a twin brother of Gerald Gaucher and leaves several other brothers and sisters.

Ms. R. Dumont has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Rose Dumont, to Ernest J. Durand of 20 Bradley street. Miss Dumont and her mother have lived in Putnam but six months. Mr. Durand has lived here all his life, except for the time he was in the army. During the Mexican trouble he enlisted and served with the 18th infantry and when the World war broke out he went overseas with the First Division, June 14, 1917. He was wounded July 21 in the Aisne-Marne offensive.

The new entrance to the Day Kim-ball hospital is complete. There are now two means of entering the hospital grounds, where before there was but a single entrance. The narrow single entrance caused a dangerous situation as vehicles and pedestrians, passed through in both directions. The widening of the state highway in front of the entrance has also been a benefit.

Five hundred feet of new hose has been received at headquarters of the Putnam fire department, to replace worn out equipments.

Dr. H. L. Pease left Sunday to at-tend the American Osteopath Association meeting to be held at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, New York, July 1st to 5th. Among the pleasure trips arranged is one to West Point Military Academy.

The combined annual picnic of the Putnam and North Grosvenordale Methodist Sunday schools is to be held at Quadic pond, Thompson, July 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Flagg of Baltimore are guests of Mr. Flagg's parents, Town Clerk and Mrs. David Flagg on Center street.

From present indications the open-ing of Alexander's lake to fishermen next Tuesday will resemble the opening of land allotments by the government. If all who say they are going to be at the lake when the clock strikes twelve Monday night keep their word, there will be a miniature encampment on all sides of the lake. Not a boat or canoe is to be had as all have been spoken for for weeks. Most of the fishermen will have to fish from shore. The bass are in for a feast if they can only spot the hooks of the amateur fishermen, otherwise there will be a tangled network of lines surrounding the pond, when the first fishing day dawns.

James E. Barnes, for over 20 years a member of the Putnam fire department has handed his resignation as assistant foreman of Motor Truck No. 1, to Foreman Harry W. Sharpe. Mr. Barnes has bought a store and as most of the time he is alone in his place of business he feels unable to leave to answer alarms. During his long service in the department he has been regular in answering calls and in attending meetings and has been one of the most active members of the department as well as one of the most popular men in the service.

Putnam has a whole building devot-ed to the sale of explosives for the Fourth of July. The one story affair was erected in one day, was opened Saturday for business and will remain open until after Independence Day.

RUNAWAY NEW LONDON GIRL COMMITTED TO LONG LANE SCHOOL

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, July 1.—Charles Kart 46, died Friday night at his home, No. 44 High street, Groton, after an illness of a few weeks. Mr. Kart is survived by his widow. For several years he was employed as a mechanic by the New London Ship & Engine company.

Funeral services for J. Harry Glea-senger, son of Oscar Glossenger, and a former resident of New London and Waterford, whose death occurred at the home of his sister, Mrs. Irene Cook at Detroit, Mich., several days ago, were held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at local undertaking parlors, Rev. Myron E. Genter, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated. Burial was in Jordan cemetery.

Alice Curran, 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Curran of No. 59 Potter street, who ran away with a sailor, Charles Flinchum, a member of the crew of the S. S. Camden, now in port, three weeks ago, only to be arrested in Boston after being deserted, returned to New London Friday night and is now at Long Lane Home, the state school for wayward girls at Middletown. Flinchum is being held aboard the Camden as a result of a warrant issued by Prosecuting Attorney Daniel M. Cronin, charging him with fornification, and as soon as advices are received by the commander of the Camden, Flinchum will be turned over to the civil authorities for a hearing in the New London police court. The girl was taken to the Middletown institution Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Alice Hunt, New London's policewoman. The Curran girl was in the Boston city court Friday and was sentenced to the Massachusetts School for Girls, but execution of the sentence was suspended and the girl was delivered to Probation Officer Richard W. Mansfield, who brought her back to New London. Saturday Judge E. Victor Prince reaffirmed the sentence imposed upon the girl last August, committing her to the Middletown school, and put the sentence into operation. The girl admits running away with Flinchum and stated that the second day after leaving New London Flinchum deserted her on the streets of Boston.

Mrs. McKeever, widow of Rev. Franklin G. McKeever, a former pastor of the First Baptist church, now a resident of Providence, is spending a few days with New London friends.

Mrs. Fortunato Feller, residing at the rear of No. 31 Shaw street, complained to Patrolman Frank Philippenelle Saturday night that her husband had locked her out of the house and that her four children were in the house and in need of her care and attention. The officer could not gain admission to the house and Mrs. Feller did not desire that the door be forced. The woman was cared for by neighbors for the night and Sunday morning when she went to her home the door was open and the children there, but the husband was absent.

A public service machine, operated by Louis Ramistella of No. 197 Bank street, and a machine owned by Neal Walker, were in collision Saturday night at the corner of Montauk and Pequot avenues. Both cars were slightly damaged. The accident occurred when a car, owned and driven by Alexander Grabansky of Versailles, which was ahead of the public service machine, caused Ramistella to apply his brakes when the former's auto came to a sudden stop. The application of the brakes of the public service machine was so sudden that Walker's automobile, which was following the public service machine crashed into the rear end of Ramistella's automobile.

Mrs. Corey of No. 20 Nameaug avenue, reported to the police last night that two suspicious looking negroes were loitering about her home. When the police arrived there the negroes had disappeared.

Ida E. Hewitt and Amanda Allen have sold a building lot on Huntington street to O. C. Wolfe, C. E. Small and H. L. Prentis.

Miss Ethel Bishop of Westerly, Rea-coe Ballestrini of Westerly, William Dolan of Hartford, Frank Stevens of the submarine base and Joseph Ahearn of the S. S. Guardsman, patients at Lawrence hospital, were discharged on Saturday.

Arthur T. Keefe, of Bentley avenue, Ocean Beach, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at Lawrence hospital several weeks ago, is now able to attend to practice. Mr. Keefe is a member of the firm of Geary, Davis & Keefe.

Frank Rollins of Quaker Hill reported to the police Saturday that while his automobile was parked on Bulkeley place Friday night, some thief stole a three-bulb flash light.

Walter Beebe of Waterford complained to the police Friday night that while his motorcycle was parked on Bank street, between Lane A and Howard street, an unidentified automobile struck and damaged it.

An automobile, owned and operated by Louis Long of Elbgron, N. J., and a car, owned and driven by Alfred Keller of No. 46 West Coit street, were in collision Saturday on Church street. Both cars were slightly damaged.

Police Sergeant James D. Gaffney has resumed his duties after enjoying his vacation of two weeks. Sergeant Frank Howard started on his two weeks' trip Sunday. During Sergeant Howard's absence from the desk at the police station his duties will be assumed by Patrolman Timothy T. Sullivan.

In the juvenile court Saturday morning, Judge Prince noted the charge of discharging firearms against a Riverview avenue youth upon assurance from the boy's father that the latter would pay the damage committed at the home of William H. Goldie, No. 46 Crescent street, Thursday, when a bullet from the boy's 22-calibre rifle shattered a window and narrowly escaped hitting Mrs. Goldie, who was seated at a window. The rifle has also been taken from the possession of the youth. The boy declared that he did not intend to fire at the window and that it was a stray shot that did the damage. The case of four youths, charged with stealing a shaft, reverse gear and stuffing box from a motor boat owned by Thomas Ryan, a sailor at the United States Coast Guard Academy, will be disposed of next week. The boys were arrested when they brought the plunder from Powder Island, off Fort Trumbull, and attempted to dispose of it to a junk dealer.

A man who gave his name as H. C. Tyelady of New London, was slashed in a crap game on Greenwich Friday night by another player, Michael Gulao of Greenwich. Tyelady and two other players, also slashed, are now under treatment at Stamford hospital. Tyelady is not known in New London, neither does his name appear in the city directory.

Walter Moran, a garage mechanic residing on Montauk avenue, is a prisoner at the police station, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, without having a license and without the headlights being illuminated. Moran was dismissed Saturday from Walter Phinney, a motorman in the employ of the Connecticut company, to operate the latter's coupe. During the evening Moran visited places where he could procure liquor and in a little while became intoxicated. His condition did not prevent him from believing that he could successfully operate the machine and getting into it on Bank street he started through Montauk avenue. Near the barn of the Connecticut company the machine of Oscar Oscarson of No. 170 Montauk avenue, was parked, but with Oscarson and three companions in the machine. Moran apparently did not observe the motionless car for his automobile crashed against it, badly damaging the car he was operating and inflicting several slight cuts on Moran. Moran alighted from his machine and attempted to get away, but Oscarson and his companions seized him and placing him in an automobile, rushed him to the police station where the charges were entered against him. Moran has previously been arrested for operating an automobile while intoxicated.

Fleeing through State and Bank streets and with Sol Atkins of Hartford following him, yelling "Stop that man," Saturday night shoppers joined in a chase that finally resulted in the arrest of Gus Corey of Springfield, who will be presented in the police court tomorrow morning charged with the theft of Atkins' Cadillac limousine.

Corey, who has been in New London but a few days and who had a room at the Fournier house, No. 147 Bank street, went to Pearl street about 10 o'clock where Atkins, a summer resident at Ocean Beach, had parked his automobile. Getting into the machine, Corey managed to start it, although Atkins had the key. Driving about the city, Corey finally went to State street, where he attempted to park the machine on the south side between Main and Bank streets. Atkins ran after him yelling "Stop that man" and with Corey fleeing through State and Bank streets and Atkins after him the chase was taken up by a hundred or more men and boys. Corey entered Golden street and passed through an alleyway, but was followed closely by one of his pursuers. About the same time, Sergeant Samuel Hick, who was on Bank street, appeared and going to the alleyway he found Corey. Corey was taken to the police station, where he denied that he stole the machine, but that he only carried out the wishes of one of the men he met on Pearl street to drive the car to State street, supposing that the stranger owned the car.

The first excursion of the season from Fall River, Mass., arrived in New London this afternoon when steamer Plymouth brought a small crowd of diversion-seekers here. Less than 400 men and women comprised the steamer's passengers, which ordinarily number between 1500 and 1800.

George Dugas of Versailles was or-dered to appear in the police court tomorrow morning when Patrolman John Foley observed Dugas operating his machine without proper markers.

State Policeman Edward J. Sullivan this afternoon ordered Euclid Vienvenue of High street, Baltic, to appear in the police court tomorrow morning. Sullivan discovered Vienvenue operating his automobile at an alleged excessive rate of speed on Williams street.

City Clerk Julian D. Moran and wife and Mr. and Mrs. James Fowler and wife, of Ocean avenue, left today for Glen Falls, N. Y., where they will remain until the latter part of the week.

Edward Sturges, 23, residing in Bridgeport, made his escape from the Norwich State Hospital for the Insane Sunday morning. The New London police have been requested to be on the lookout for Sturges.

Daniel H. Troland, of Norwich, but who has made his home in New London a number of years, has moved to Boston. Mr. Troland spent Sunday in the city, the guest of acquaintances.

The annual picnic of the Sunday school children of the B. P. Learned mission will be held this year at the Gatter farm in Waterford, July 4.

Ocean Beach is now a Little Coney Island. There is Sunday night dancing, and of course other night dancing every day in the week; motion pictures are shown on Sunday evening as in the city and on other days the pictures will also be on exhibition.

For more than 40 years the store of Keeney & Co. sold fireworks for the 4th of July. This year that branch of the business has been cast out. The cost is too great to give any assurance of profit worth while.

Abe Nahes, a Syrian, who came to New London from Willimantic not long ago, seems to possess the idea that because his wife is some years younger than he she would discard him for his brother. The police court, after considering the testimony as to what Abe did and did not do turned the case over to Probation Officer Mansfield.

Charles Wardlaw, a negro, has a week in which to account for the giving of a worthless check to a creditor. He is under a bond to appear in the police court at that time.

A Pole whose name uses about all the consonants in the alphabet, was accused in the police court Saturday of having stolen his wife's bank book and to have drawn $100 from a savings bank for his own uses. He claims it represents a loan made by his father and with which his wife bought liberty bonds. That's another case that Mr. Mansfield has been delegated to settle.

Lucius E. Whiton is to occupy the handsome house he bought from the estate of James D. Lynch in the Pequot section. He is now putting baths in the dollar and will make improvements before he takes up his residence there during the summer season. Mr. Whiton has disposed of 500 feet of the beach in front of the property to residents nearby, who will erect bathing houses there for their exclusive use.

POETRY FOR THE WIDEAWAKES

Hark, how the red-bird whistles and sings!
Where up on a twig he lightly swings,
Calling his playmate, shrilly and clear,
"Theodore, Theodore, here, here, here, here."
And whistles his merry tunes.

I love to hear this pretty bird sing—
His voice has such a musical ring,
Joyously calling his playmate dear,
"Theodore, Theodore, here, here here".
And whistling his merry tunes.

The air is vocal with song of birds,
But none of them knows such pretty words
As the red-bird's call, "What cheer! What cheer!
Pretty, pretty, pretty, here, here here!"
Nor whistle such merry tunes.

Dear little bird, I would not confine
You within a cage to languish and pine,
For freedom to sport on your scarlet wings,
Skimming the air that with music rings,
And whistling your merry tunes.

Then sing, pretty bird, your melody sweet,
While the glad echoes the notes repeat,
Calling your playmate shrilly and clear,
And whistle your merry tunes.

Why do you hide 'neath the branches green,
Fearing, it seems that you may be seen?
Nothing shall harm you while I am near,
Fly down then where I can see you, dear,
And whistle and sing for me
What cheer, what cheer what cheer."
So full of rapturous glee
—Ernestine L. R. Collins in Dumb Animals.

Little Rain Drops

Oh, where do you come from
You little drops of rain,
Pitter patter, pitter patter
Down the window pane?

They won't let me walk,
And they won't let me play,
And they won't let me go
Out of doors at all today.

They put away my playthings,
Because I broke them all,
And then they locked up all my bricks
And took away my ball.
Tell me, little rain-drops,

Is that the way you play,
Pitter patter, pitter patter
All the rainy day?

They say I'm very naughty.
But I've nothing else to do
But sit here at the window;
I should like to play with you.

The little rain-drops cannot speak
But "Pitter patter, pat"
Means, "We can play on this side.
Why can't you play on that?"
From Childhood Valley

UNCLE JED'S TALK TO WIDE-AWAKES

One of the members of the Wide-awake Circle tells this week what he is going to do during the long vacation. It is quite evident that he intends to pass a busy and profitable summer, mixing in generous amounts such as opportunities as he has to help his father with those opportunities that present themselves for fun, pleasure and recreation. It is interesting to note that he has already made his plans and that he looks forward to them with keen anticipation. He is going to make the most of his time.

The long vacation means different things for different boys and girls. There are those who will spend their time at home, some will be in the cities, some in the country, some will go on vacation trips, others may spend the most of the summer at the shore, some will find it necessary and desirable to put in part of their time doing many helpful things.

It is well to make the most of the time that is allowed for vacation, whether it is devoted to whole play or whether the time is well occupied with certain duties on the farm, running errands or helping father and mother. There are bound to be the many good times, the picnics, the auto rides, the fishing excursions and the days at the beach to kindle anticipations and to provide something to remember. And when the good times have been enjoyed don't forget to write about them to Uncle Jed and let the others know about them.

Vacation days are the happy days and it is important that the best use should be made of them. All the boys and girls should have the best possible time but they should not forget to exercise great care for their own protection if they go swimming, while crossing the street and when doing stunts. It doesn't pay to be reckless and that should be born in mind before something serious happens.

Abraham Cohen of Norwich—I thank you for the book which you gave me. It is very interesting.

LETTERS WRITTEN BY WIDE-AWAKES

An Ear of Corn.

Dear Uncle Jed: There was once an ear of corn living in a large field, who said to himself, "My, how nice this soft, green blanket is. I'm just going to grow and grow and grow." So he did.

One day Farmer Jones and his boy, Tommy, came into the field. The good farmer said to the boy, "Come and pick, Tommy. I want to take some corn over to the Fresh Air Camp." "All right," said Tommy. Now, when all the corn they needed was picked, this one ear was with it. Farmer Jones and Tommy took it over to the Fresh Air Camp and gave it to the matron. She was very much pleased and thanked him for it. The next day the children had corn for dinner. A poor, sickly little girl got the nice big ear of corn that I was telling you about and that made her grow so much bigger and fatter that her mother hardly knew her when she went home. But the corn had a sad death.

FLORENCE ELLIOTT, Age 13.
Putnam.

A Faithful Dog.

Dear Uncle Jed: There was once a dog by the name of Jim. He was a very faithful dog and loved his little master, Bobby.

One day these two pals wandered off for a long tramp through the woods. They saw many beautiful scenes in the woods. Bobby was delighted to see a little brook flowing down the mountain side. Jim had his fun in chasing the squirrels, which would scamper up the trees out of his reach.

After a while they came to a meadow, where some cows were feeding. Then Jim did a very naughty thing. He chased those cows so hard that the farmer who owned them came out with a stick. When Jim saw the stick he thought it best to go back to where Bobby was calling him.

As they were walking along Bobby suddenly tripped and twisted his ankle. It was hurt so badly that he could not walk any further. Jim, seeing that something was wrong, tried to sumon help.

Jim came to the farm and pulled at the coattails of Bobby's father so hard that he at last followed Jim. Bobby was brought home safely. In a few days he was well again. As a reward for being so faithful Jim was given a handsome collar.

DANIEL ROGERS, Age 13.
Norwich.

Only a Woodpecker.

Dear Uncle Jed: One day in early spring myself and a few girl friends started out for a nice long walk through the forest.

Suddenly the sky began to darken and peals of thunder were heard and then rain came down in torrents. As we were too far from home, we started to look for shelter.

The only thing we spied was an old house, which was said to be haunted. We all made for it and went into what was once the dining room. Just then from above came a loud noise as if somebody was rapping. We were all frightened, and cold chills ran up and down our backs, but one girl, when the noise had stopped, said to us to come upstairs and see what it was, and that it could not hurt us, anyway.

On reaching the top step the noise began again, seeming to come from the room at the end of the hall. We all made a rush to the door and on opening the door, we were astonished to find a woodpecker pecking at the door.

In the meantime the sun had come out and we went home feeling that we had an adventure.

MARGARET BOSKEY, Age 13
New London.

May's Punishment.

Dear Uncle Jed: Mary's seventh birthday was coming soon, and she asked her mother to get her a canary. Her mother said that she would get her one if she would promise to be less disobedient. May was very happy and promised her mother that she would be very good.

One day her mother came home, and in her hands she held a small white box. Just then the phone ran and May's mother put the box on the table, saying, "Now, May, don't touch that box."

As soon as her mother left the room May picked up the box and looked at it curiously. It was very light and had many little holes in it. May tried to look in through the holes, but could see nothing. Then she thought that she would open the box just a little bit and peek in, but, instead of opening it just a little, she took off the cover, and inside was a beautiful yellow canary. May had hardly time to look at the pretty creature, because as soon as the cover came off the bird flew around the room and out of the window. That was the last time May saw the bird.

When May's mother came in she scolded her, saying that she would never have another bird, and that would be her punishment for being so disobedient.

GERTRUDE MURPHY, Age 13.
Willimantic.

Four Auto Accidents.

Dear Uncle Jed: Last week Sunday we took a trip to Providence. It was a very warm day. It was so warm that the heat melted the roads which were made of tar. And a little later in the day it started to rain, making the road so slippery that it was very dangerous driving. It caused many accidents. We saw four accidents ourselves. One of the cars was a beautiful Hudson all smashed up and more were smashed. We were thankful to reach our home without any mishap.

LEO S. LAHN, Age 9.
Norwich.

Only a Dream.

Dear Uncle Jed: Once there was a little girl named Katherine who lived with her mother. Now, one day a little friend of Katherine's came to play with her and brought her dolls with her.

"Now, See," said Alice to Katherine, "this doll's name is Fritzy. She is meant to be a fairy."

"Oh, Baby," said Katherine, "you believe in fairies. I won't play with anyone who believes in fairies," and Katherine left the room and went and sat in the big armchair in front of the fire. Soon she got tired and her eyes dropped. She heard a little laugh and then a little voice said:

"Hello, Alice, you believe in us, don't you?"

Katherine looked down and saw a sweet little fairy. "Y-e-s, I believe in you," stammered Katherine.

"I know," said the fairy, "you would like to see Fairyland, wouldn't you? But first," she continued, "I will give you this ring, so that if you get tired of staying in Fairyland you just turn the stone in the ring and wish. Come now, quickly," she added.

Up through the fireplace they flew, for the fairy had given Katherine a pair of wings, and soon Katherine found herself in a large garden, crowded with fairies. When they saw Katherine they all withdrew, but when the fairy told who Katherine was they were delighted, and Katherine and the fairies danced and played until at last she got tired. So she turned the stone and wished, and she found herself in the large chair in front of the fire. She rushed in and found Alice still playing with her dolls.

"Oh, Alice," said Katherine, "I am sorry I insulted you!" And she told her dream. Now Katherine's dolls are dressed like fairies, also.

My School.

Dear Uncle Jed: I thought I would write and tell you about my school. There were ten graduates in our school. I won the prize, a book, "The Story of Julia Page," for excellence in spelling. I was very much pleased with it. Doris Bliven, one of the graduates, won a five dollar gold piece prize for being the best scholar in the Eighth grade. I am promoted to the Seventh grade. I hope some of the scholars was as pleased as I was.

Planning His Vacation.

Dear Uncle Jed: I am going to tell you how I am going to spend the summer. During the week days I am going to help my father along in his business. On Sunday we go riding. We go to farms and some times we go to the beach. I enjoy the beach much better than the farm because I can play in the water.

Our Flag

Dear Uncle Jed: I have not written to you for quite awhile and since Flag day was not very long ago I thought that I would write about our first flag.

Our first flag was planned by George Washington. It was to have seven red stripes, six white stripes and a field of blue with a circle of thirteen white stars on it.

Washington knew that Betsy Ross of Philadephia was a very neat sewer so he took the plan of the flag to her for her to make a real flag.

When Mrs. Ross saw that he had planned to have the stars six pointed she said that it would be better to have five pointed stars because the British used stars with six points. Washington thought that it would be too hard to make them with five points, but Betsy proved that it was easier by making one with one cut of the scissors.

This flag was adopted as the national flag June 14, 1777.

A Day in the Woods.

Dear Uncle Jed: One day in spring I went to the woods to pick flowers. It was a nice day and the birds were singing.

I picked a bunch of violets and bluets. Then I got tired of picking flowers so I sat down to rest. Then I looked up and to my surprise I saw a big black bird. It flew to the tree and said, caw, caw, caw. Then I knew it was a crow.

Getting Our Kitten.

Dear Uncle Jed: One day I found a nest of little stray kittens. In a few days I went down to get one to keep, but they were gone. As I was hunting for the nest Mrs. Barber said I could have one of hers. Mother said that we could keep it. Its birthday is the 25th of May. We named him Clover but we call him Kitty.

Fourth of July.

Dear Uncle Jed: I thought I would write you a letter telling you about the Fourth of July.

Fourth of July is a holiday on which we think of the Revolutionary war. It was in this war that Washington defeated the British.

The king of England treated them very badly. So they met in Independence hall and those that thought it right to set up an independent government right voted "aye;" those that thought it wrong voted "nay." Jefferson said, "We are free and independent and always shall be."

A Walk in the Woods

Dear Uncle Jed: I am sending you one of my stories to see if I will succeed:

Jack and Rover are great friends. Jack says Rover is almost as good as a brother. They have fine times together.

One day they took a walk in the woods. The nuts were just beginning to fall from the trees. Jack gathered two bags full of them for mother. Dear old Rover helped too, for he carried home one of the bags in his mouth. Jack carried the other.

Mother will use some to put on Jack's birthday cake.

WESTERLY

This somewhat stereotyped item appearing in the maritime pages the past week has significance greater than the bare announcement of a steamer sailing. It chronicles the fulfilment of a life ambition and the call of the sea answered again by the fourth generation.

"Thompson." By the single word a new line is written to the long list of sea captains (deep water seamen). Sea captains, reared along the banks of the Pawcatuck river, who have had deep sea papers dating back from the present day are the following steamship captains: Allan L. Thompson, Louis A. Babcock, Isaac P. Gavitt, Robert H. McBride, Harry J. Thompson; masters of sailing craft, Alexander C. Thompson, Albert D. Nash, Isaac P. Gavitt, Sr., Benjamin F. Burdick, James Burdick, William Greenman, Silas Greenman, George Bliven, Nathan Wilcox, Palmer Hall, Charles W. Austin, Joseph Pendleton, Gilbert Pendleton, Jr., Oliver P. Saunders, William Saunders, Peleg Saunders, Ellery W. Nash, Gilbert Pendleton, Sr., William G. Pendleton, Oliver Babcock, Hezekiah Dickens, Jerod S. Crandall, Lyman Hall, Joshua Thompson, Sr. (the paternal great-grandfather of the new captain) and Captain Russell Stillman (maternal great-grandfather) who made his home near Boom Bridge and was lost at sea on a return voyage from the West Indies.

Captain Allan L. Thompson, son of Alexander C. and Celia Rhodes Pendleton Thompson, was born in Westerly and like former Westerly sea captains began his nautical career on the Pawcatuck river. There have been master mariner's papers in the Thompson family since 1810. Captain Allan's father paid $10 for a master mariner's license, which he held for twenty-five years. While Captain Allan was still in school his summer vacations were spent on the water at Watch Hill, sailing with Fred Burdick of Avondale and for two seasons having charge of the 20-foot yacht, owned by the Williams boys coming from the west to the Hill. Graduating from Colgate university, Hamilton, N. Y., in 1906, Thompson entered the Westerly branch of the Industrial Trust company. Following friendships formed while employed in the bank he secured a farm to engage in farming life but the lure of the sea was irresistible so that when the call came for seamen to enlist for service in the World war and a recruiting station was opened in the Westerly town hall, Capt. Thompson was the second to enroll. Assignment was given him at the Connecticut state pier in New London with the rating of chief boatswain's mate, later in April, 1917, he became boatswain. With the rank of second lieutenant Thompson entered the transport service, returning with war veterans and nurses aboard the well-known transports City of St. Joseph and Santa Eliza. Leaving the transport service he was assigned to the shipping board steamers, Cold Water, Coeur Alene, Balsaam, Duquense, carrying 14,000 tons of grain to Odessa at the time of the Russian famine. Following this came several voyages to Mediterranean ports, also Stockholm, Sweden. Several trips on the Eastern Glade to South African ports requiring about four months were made when Thompson became first officer. In May, while thirty days out from New York, the Eastern Glade, American flag steamer in Mallory transport service caught fire off the Cape Verd Islands and the trip consumed six months. This is the steamship in which Captain Thompson sailed from New York in command.

Captain Thompson married Verna E. Stillman, daughter of George L. Stillman. They have three children, Ruth, Edwin and Betty and the family resides at 29 Cross street, Westerly.

Miss Julia A. Crowley, Westerly, daughter of William J. and Jennie E. Crowley, 46 Main street, White Rock, of a family of thirteen children, and Misses Anna A. Gorton, Alice E. Baker, Cora M. Disco all of Norwich and Miss Dorothy M. Tracy of Wauregan, members of Backus Hospital Nurses' Training school of class of 1923, Norwich, appeared in an artgravue group picture of the class in a Hartford Sunday paper.

Friday morning an extra coach attached to the New England Express brought a party of 50 gypsies to Westerly, men, women and children. Later a baggage car was sidetracked which contained the tents, baggage and equipment, which members of the party engaged an auto truck to transport to the Riverside Park grounds, which they had leased from the Ninigret Mills for July and August. It is expected that among other activities to be carried on at the old baseball diamond is that of copper and brass working. The head of the party John Martinoff, arrived Saturday noon by automobile but on the journey experienced a mishap at Bridgeport. The car with ten occupants of the gypsy band was in collision with an automobile occupied by John Moriarty of Jewett City and Archibald Smoth of Delair, N. J., resulting in Moriarty being taken to St. Vincent's hospital suffering from a possible fractured skull, while Smith was held, pending investigation. The gypsy band received medical attention and continued to Westerly. A young man of the party had a broken nose, bad cut on nose, mouth and lips are cut and teeth broken. He has a bad cut over the left eye and his right thumb was cut the whole length through to the bone. A woman in the party has a broken right arm a cut through to the bone on the right side of her face, is badly cut and scratched and suffers from severe injuries about the chest and abdomen. The other occupants of the automobile escaped with minor bruises.

Albert Labounty of 25 Noyes avenue, employed as a lineman by the Westerly Light and Power Co., received bad injuries to his legs and a bad cut on his big toe when a pole fell on which he was working, at Wequetequock, Friday afternoon.

The family of Ridley Watts of Morristown, N. J., is now occupying their summer home, Sowannin cottage, Watch Hill for the season.

Sunday, July 1, there began a series of union evening services by the Methodist, Calvary Baptist, Broad Street, Christian and Congregational churches which service was held Sunday evening at the First Baptist church. Rev. Marvin S. Stocking, pastor of Grace Methodist church was in charge. Rev. A. L. Schoning, pastor of the Broad Street Christian church had for the topic of his evening sermon, "The Vision of God."

At Calvary Baptist church, Rev. Lewis A. Walker, pastor, the subject of the morning sermon was "The Ever-Present Christ." This was followed by the observance of the Lord's supper and the reception of new members.

Rev. A. L. Schoning, pastor of the Broad Street Christian church had for his Sunday morning subject, "The Power of Faith."

"The Sower and His Seed" was the sermon subject of Rev. B. U. Hatfield, pastor of the First Baptist church, at the morning service Sunday. The observance of the Lord's supper, Bible school and men's class followed. In the evening Rev. Mr. Hatfield preached at the Odd Fellows' Memorial service in Hope Valley.

For the Sunday morning service Rev. E. E. Morrill, pastor of Pawcatuck Congregational church took for his sermon theme, "Give Us Also This Power." Rev. E. E. Morrill is making his week end residence at Elm Tree inn, previous to his removal in the fall.

Saturday evening at the home of Rev. B. U. Hatfield, West Mystic, there was a double wedding. Miss Marguerite Barnes, of Morgan street, Pawcatuck, became the bride of Arthur E. Peckham, of 25 Washington street and Miss Katherine M. Hoxie became the bride of James V. McConnell, both of Westerly.

Miss Kathleen Cowles, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Culley, and William Henry Opie, Jr., son of William H. Opie were married Thursday afternoon in Grace Methodist church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. M. S. Stocking. The bride was attended by Mrs. Charles W. Opie, a sister-in-law of the groom. The best man was Charles W. Opie, brother of the groom. Following the ceremony at 3 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Opie left on a wedding trip and on their return will make their return at Chase Hill.

Users of the highway to Providence by way of Noose Neck Hill learn that the contruct for the construction of 5.51 miles of reinforced concrete pavement between Hope Valley and Hopkinton City was awarded by the state board of public roads to Amos D. Brodges Sons company, the lowest of ten bidders, the price being $352,-635.30. This concern is at present building a stretch of highway on the Post Road in Charlestown.

Following an automobile collision between the truck of L. W. Dennison Co., of Mystic, operated by Otto Wiersch and the auto truck owned by the Un-Art Tile company of Westerly, driven by Max Schwatlow of Westerly. Wiersch was arrested by state policemen and was presented in Stonington town court Saturday morning before Judge William A. Wilcox. After the charge of reckless driving was nolled a writ by the prosecuting attorney charged the defendant with operating a motor truck without carrying a license. A fine of $3 with costs was imposed, making a total of $15.18, which was paid. A civil case may arise from this collision.

Miss Ruth V. Davis, daughter of Representative and Mrs. Samuel H. Davis, 4 Spring street, returned to Washington, D. C., Saturday evening to resume her duties at the Walter Reed General hospital, after passing a month's vacation with her parents in Westerly and at Matunuck, R. I.

The Westerly members of the Rhode Island state legislature, as well as the members from adjoining towns look forward to a visit to Block Island over this week end. Following the invitation of Senator Eugene Littlefield, which the legislators voted to accept before adjournment, June 9th, the Surf hotel will entertain the party and special attractions and entertainments will be provided.

Miss Ethel M. Frisell, teacher in the mathematics department of Westerly High school, has returned to her home, 6 Greenwood avenue, Woburn, Mass., for the summer vacation.

Bennett Chappell and family of Middletown, O., are at their summer cottage at Pleasant View for the summer.

This (Monday) morning, at Westerly town hall will take place the July meting of the Westerly town council.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Leverett Pierce left town Saturday to pass the remainder ht the summer in Pomfret Conn.

Robert M. McWade, United States conciliator, department of labor, in charge of textile disputes, from Washington, D. C., left Westerly Saturday noon for Providence, following the agreement reached between the Westerly brach of the Lorraine Mill textile operatives and management.

M. D. Lester of Mount Vernon, N. Y., is at the Weekapaug cottage of Arthur L. Perry for the summer.

James B. Mullin and family, of Norwich, are occupying their cottage at Pleasant View.

THE LITTLE JACK RABBIT PICTURE FOR COLORING

"I must run up to see my old friend the Big Brown Bear," thought Little Jack Rabbit, looking up at Mr. Merry Sun as he shone down from the Blue Sky Country and away went the little rabbit, bunny boy, clipperty clip, lipperty lip over the Sunny Meadow and into the Shady Forest, when, for a moment he paused to inquire how Mrs. Nutcracker was getting along.

"Very nicely, thank you," replied old Squirrel Nutcracker, dropping a handful of nuts in the little rabbit's pocket—"She'll soon be around again."

"I'm glad of that," answered the kind hearted little bunny boy, "mother sends love," and then off he hopped up the Shady Forest Trail.

As he passed the pool in which Busy Beaver has his home, he stopped to say "Hello."

"Help yourself!" shouted back the little beaver. "How are all the folks?"

"Pretty well, except dear Uncle Lucky Lefthindfoot," answered the little bunny rabbit boy. "He's got the rheumatism in his left hind toe and Dr. Quack says it will be some time before he can do a toe dance."

"Shouldn't wonder," laughed the happy little beaver, giving the water a sudden flap with his big broad tail, making the spray fly all over the little rabbit boy bunny's fur coat, "but why should Uncle Lucky want to do a toe dance anyway?"

"I don't know," replied the little rabbit, wiping the water drops off his coat sleeve. "You've splashed me all over Busy Beaver—yes you have," and away went the little rabbit before the little beaver water boy could splash again.

After a while, but not nearly a smile and a whistle and a smile, Little Jack Rabbit came to Cosy Cave where the Big Brown Bear kept a candy shop.

Ice cream cones and lollypops,
Licorice sticks and Sweet Corn Pops,
Peppermints and 'Lasses Drops.

Dear me! Doesn't that sound delicious? If I only had the time, I'd leave this story and my typewriter and run over to see the Big Brown Bear. Would you come with me little reader? I guess you would and so would your little brother Jimmy.

Well, now where was I before I began to dream? I was on my way to Cosy Cave for a gum drop? Oh yes, Little Jack Rabbit had arrived before I had even started, so I'll tell you without digressing further, which means to go off sideways—what the little bunny did.

"Hello!" shouted the nice old bear after taking the stem of the old corn cob pipe from between his beautiful white pearly teeth, "how's mother?"

"She's well, thank you," panted the little bunny boy for he had hopped faster and faster as he neared Cosy Cave and smelt the perfume of the lollypops as the winked their purple-pinky eyes from the branches of the lollypops as they winked their purple-

"Did you do your three chores for mother this morning?" went on the Big Brown Bear, although the little bunny boy wished to goodness gracious he would stop asking questions and give him a lollypop.

"Oh yes, oh yes," answered the wistful eyed little rabbit.

"You polished the front door knob, fed the canary and brought in the kindling wood?" continued the questioning old bear.

"Oh yes, oh yes," repeated the little bunny boy rabbit, only this time he shouted it.

"That's a good lad," laughed the Big Brown Bear handing over a pink lollypop to his little long-eared caller. "Have a lollypop!"

And then, would you believe it, that big bear put away his pipe and began to suck on a green lollypop. Just fancy that, if you can. Pretty soon he said with a smile to his little friend the rabbit, "Come, let's sing the lollypop song, you and I, et, what ?" and in the next story I'll tell you what happened after that.

POETRY

GREEN MANSIONS.

O Paradise is a garden land with fair flowers blooming
Where Gabriel's white lilies spring fadeless from the sod,
And roses red as martyr's blood, with gold hearts gleaming,
And roses white as a young child's soul as it comes fresh from God.

And often there as early on the Resurrection morning
The Master of the garden walks softly 'neath the trees,
He stoops to clasp the tendrils of the vine's green yearning
And to lift a dew-filled chalice for the thirsty roving bees.

And there, I think, there walk with Him in friendship fast abiding—
Communion such as gardening folk alone can ever know—
All those who through the winter night have waited spring's appearing
Have treasured bulb and rootlet and gone forth in faith to sow.

O, Paradise is a garden land, its beauties past believing
For all who've sown and watered and bent to trowel and spade,
Since He whose risen glory was in likeness of a gardener
Is theirs in full companionship within its blossoming shade.
—Dorothy Giles, in The Churchman.

LIGHT LOVE.

The love that is not quite love—
Ah! let us be kind to it!
For it bears a touch of the dream above,
The passion exquisite.

The love that is not quite love,
But only a casting thing,
Like the wraith of rain in an Autumn lane,
Or the thought of an unborn Spring.

The love that is not quite love,
The careless, happy glance;
But deep in its heart it holds a part
Of glamour and high romance.

A flash from the fire divine,
A glimpse of the page unwrit;
The youthful love that is not quite love—
Ah! let us be kind to it!
—Charles Hanson Towne.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

SATURDAY'S MARKET.

New York, July 1.—Nothing occurred yesterday to stop the wholesale liquidation of securities, and business on the stock exchange was more active than is usual for Saturday's short session. Professional bear traders continued to hammer the market at will and toward the close a distinctly feverish tone developed. Declines in prices ranged from one to more than three points and many new low records were established.

Marketwise, everything appeared to favor the bear trader, but what changes there were in the outside news were of a constructive nature. For instance, close on the heels of the fake telegrams predicting a price cut by the leading automobile manufacturers came an announcement by one of the leading companies of an advance in prices of three models.

SPECULATIVE SENTIMENT WAS UNSETTLED PAST WEEK

New York, July 1 (By the A. P.)—Weakness in the chief speculative markets in the face of continued evidences of a high rate of industrial activity was the feature of the past week in finance and business. Speculative sentiment was decidedly unsettled, although no particular reasons were apparent to most observers. Selling, which attracted most attention in stocks, also was sympathetically in evidence in cotton and wheat. On extreme reactions good buying appeared, but taken as a whole the markets closed distinctly lower.

A certain amount of emphasis was given to a switch from a bullish to a bearish position by a well known statistical agency. It was considered typical of the psychology of the moment, however, that a market which had shown itself sensitive to the extravagant rumors of the past few weeks should be sensitive to an influence of this kind.

The extent to which current industrial news was disregarded was considered to be illustrated by the behaviour of railroad stocks. Following excellent earning statements for March and April, the first returns for May were exceedingly satisfactory. Thus the first 64 Class 1 roads reported net of $74,400,000 in May as compared with $71,700,000 in April and $54,800,000 in May of last year. These figures suggest that the return on valuation will amount to something like 6 1-2 per cent. Yet railroad stocks were sold heavily and sustained substantial losses.

Automobile stocks also were subjected to severe pressure, record output in May being interpreted by the bears as evidence of overproduction with talk of price reductions taken as confirmation. On the other hand, it was reported that prominent manufacturers started the third quarter with more business on their books, than at the start of the second quarter, and that production schedules will be adhered to through August at least.

Meanwhile, steel production showed but a slight falling off, and this was attributed chiefly to the hot weather. Deliveries were reported to be good and the industry as a whole was optimistic over the immediate future. Prices of steel products remained firm.

In running over the million car mark, railroad loadings for the week ended June 16 maintained the gain of from 20 to 25 per cent. over previous records for the season of the year.

A distinctly harder tone in the money market was a feature. Call money renewed at 6 per cent. for the first time this year, and the rate on time loans increased slightly. This tendency was attributed to the heavy demands which center around the end of the half year, and which include large dividend disbursements and payments for new securities.

Will Wed Egyptian Prince

Pearl Shepard, known in private life as Pearl Ginsberg, of New York, movie actress, has sailed from New York with her mother for Egypt. Also, a passenger on the same boat is His Royal Highness, Prince Mohammed Ali Ibrahim, of Egypt, who says he'll marry Pearl whether King Fuad, of Egypt, consents or not. Mohammed Ali Ibrahim is the Prince who visited the United States last year and spent six weeks and $60,000 seeing America from Astoria to Hollywood and back again; and who said then that he'd rather be shot than married. Then he met Pearl—and now for the wedding bells.

PLAINFIELD

The Community Chautauqua held on the school grounds in Moosup closed its interesting program Thursday evening with a crowded tent in spite of the heavy shower.

At eight o'clock this (Monday) morning, the members of the Lincoln club begin to line up in their machines for the outing at Rocky Point, with Leon Frink as marshal of the day. Twenty or more members of the Plainfield band are booked to commpany the club.

At the Congregational church Sunday morning, the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered, the four deacons assisting the pastor. Two new members were received into the church, one on confession of faith and one by letter.

Recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Jerome, their daughter Helen Louise Jerome, gave a party to a small circle of friends. The evening was spent pleasantly in games and dancing, refreshments being served by the hostess.

Albert Exley of Groton was a guest recently at the home of Samuel Wibberly. Mr. Exley, an engineer on the railroad, thought that he would enjoy a quiet day in the country, but the interest of farm life found him at night wearied from one of the busiest days of the year.

Mrs. Joseph Stubbs has returned to the shore accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Henry W. Generous and her two daughters. They will spend the summer there.

Miss Helen Hickey has again taken up her duties at the kindergarten, after being absent through illness.

Wednesday afternoon, George Eastham fell from a truck, breaking his wrist.

Mrs. Gerard B. Tofnsend and son, Gerard Townsend, of Montclair, N. J., arrived in Plainfield Friday evening, by automobile and have opened up their summer home. They are receiving a most cordial welcome from the people of Plainfield. Mr. Townsend, being too busy at present in his office in New York to get away.

RAN AUTO MILE WITHOUT GAS TANK

Putnam, July 1—

There is a prominent man in Putnam who owns an automobile. There is nothing strange about that. But this man ran his car for a mile over a country road without a gasolene tank. No, he is not an inventor nor has he discovered a substitute for the Rockefeller production. He is not even telling his friends that his car runs on its reputation. In fact it was another and not he who discovered that he had been burning up the highway and that without burning up any gasolene from his gas tank for about 5,280 feet. The Putnam man made a call at a factory in a village over the Rhode Island border. When he came out a native accosted him: "Say, mister, is that your car?"

"Yes, what of it?"

"Well, I dont see how you can run it without a gasolene tank."

"I don't?" said the Putnam man.

"You have," said the native, "I saw your tank up the road a piece."

When the Putnam man looked at the rear of his car he saw that the liquid contain... was missing. The sympathetic native took the Putnam man to where the gas tank had dropped in the road and after a few hours' stop at a garage the damage was remedied.

Or was it? Friday night the Putnam man went to the Country club dance. Returning home he invited some Grove street residents to ride home with him. At 2 a. m., just west of the Grove street cemetery, his car came to a stop and would not budge. With his former experience in mind the man went behind the car. There was the gasolene tank in its proper position but tapping it he found that it was empty. He is not sure whether there is any connection between the two occurrences, but surmises that possibly a lack of connection may have been responsible for the stop in the moonlight near the sacred ground of nightly ghost walks. However, the man is not spreading the story of his gasless experiences, but his friends are whispering confidentially and before long several persons will have heard of it. It may even get into the newspapers.

Setting the Lawyer Right.

A flowery lawyer rose to address the jury. First he had an attendant bring him a glass of water. He took a few sips, smoothed down his vest, and launched into a burning description of the fall of Babylon. After about thirty minutes of this the judge called him to a halt and said: "I think we have heard enough about the fall of Babylon, counselor. This is a suit for damages due to a fall on a banana peel."

Horse-Wranglers.

A horse-wrangler is a herder in charge of a string of ponies on western stock farms. The origin of the phrase has been assumed to be an extension of the verb "wrangle" in the sense of wrestling or struggling with refractory horses in the bunch. In England, he is a horse dealer.—Literary Digest.

Thieves' Island.

An odd geographical name is often disguised by being in a foreign tongue. Take the Ladrones, for instance, a well-known group of Pacific islands. Magellan gave them this name because the natives were such inveterate purloiners, and "Thieves' Island" they have remained ever since.

Origin of Yard.

It is said that the yard was originally defined by royal decree as the length of the arm of King Henry I. The British yard is now the distance at 62 degrees F., between two lines on a bronze bar kept at the Standards office, Westminster, London.

Wise Rule for Life's Guidance.

Write it on your heart that every day is the best day in the year. No man has learned anything rightly until he knows that every day is Doomsday. —Emerson.

Power of London Council.

The London county council spends annually $25,000,000 of the taxpayers' money and controls the welfare, health and amusement of more than 4,000,000 people.

Ancient Industries.

The art of tinning iron appears to have originated in the Sixteenth century, and tinplate was first manufactured in Great Britain in 1670.

Egyptian's Wedding Ring.

At a recent address to a ...'s club in New York, the lecturer touched upon the modern tendency to reduce the width of the wedding ring almost to vanishing point. The marriage circlet, he explained, does not—as so many women appear to think—signify subjection. It implies the endowment upon the bride of all the husband's possessions, and when introduced by the Egyptians, it gave the married woman the right to command in the house with the same authority as her spouse.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE

General Statutes of the State of Connecticut, Section 6546, Regulating Celebration of Fourth of July.

"Every person who, between sunset of the third of July and four o'clock in the forenoon of the following day, or between eleven o'clock in the evening of July fourth and sunrise of the following day, shall discharge any cannon, pistol, gun, firecracker, torpedo, or any explosive causing a loud report, or who shall by ringing a bell, blowing a horn, beating a drum, or in any other manner make any disturbing noise, or make a bonfire, shall be fined not more than five dollars."

The firing of blank cartridges within the City limits is expressly prohibited.

The police are instructed to enforce the law.

Dated, at Norwich, Conn., June 25th, 1923.

MILO R. WATERS,
Mayor of the City of Norwich.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 24th day of November, A. D. 1920.

Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.

Estate of Celina White, late of Griswold, in said District, deceased.

Charles Gravelin of Providence, R. I. appeared in Court by counsel and filed a petition praying, for the reasons therein set forth, that an instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased be admitted to probate.

Whereupon, It is Ordered, That said petition be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in the City of Norwich, in said District, on the 3d day of July, 1923, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon and that notice of the pendency of said petition, and of said hearing thereon, be given by the publication of this order one time in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, at least one day prior to the date of said hearing, and that return be made to this Court.

NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.

The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.

Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER, Clerk.
1924

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at North Stonington, within and for the District of North Stonington, on the 30th day of June, A. D. 1923.

Present—CHARLES C. GRAY, Judge.

Estate of Angeline E. Vincent, late of North Stonington, in said District, deceased.

The Executrix exhibites her administration account with said estate to the Court for allowance; It is therefore Ordered, That the 6th day of July, A. D. 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Probate Court Room in North Stonington, in said District, be, and the same is, appointed for hearing the same, and the said Executrix is directed to give notice thereof by publishing this order once in The Norwich Bulletin, a newspaper having a circulation in said District, and by publishing a copy hereof on the public signpost in said Town of North Stonington nearest where said deceased last dwelt, at least five days prior to the date of said hearing, and make return to the Court.

CHARLES C. GRAY,
1y27 Judge.

DISTRICT OF COLCHESTER, ss. Probate Court, June 29th, 1923.

Estate of Max Shashefsky, late of Colchester, in said District, deceased.

Upon the application of the Administratrix of said estate, praying that she may be authorized and empowered to sell and convey all the real estate belonging to said estate, as per application on file more fully appears, it is Ordered, That said application be heard and determined at the Probate Office in Colchester, in said District, on the 6th day of July, A. D. 1923, at 9 o'clock, in the forenoon, and that public notice be given of the pendency of said application and the time and place of hearing thereon, by publishing a copy of this order three times in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, and by posting a copy thereof on the public signpost in the Town of Colchester, in said District, at least five days before said day of hearing.

JOHN CONDREN,
1y24 Judge.

Variations of Atmosphere.

An object moving in any horizontal direction strongly tends to turn to the right north of the equator and to the left south of it. In the northern hemisphere air pushed north blows east, air pushed east blows south, air pushed south blows west, and air pushed west blows north, while in the southern hemisphere it blows exactly contrariwise.

Unusual Combination.

TAFTVILLE

Friday evening was a big night in Taftville, with Court Wequonnoc, No. 84, Foresters of America, Court City of Norwich and Court Sprague of Baltic marching in a big street parade and demonstration, after which 44 candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the order in Parish hall and a smoker was enjoyed in the court rooms at the casino on Hop street. The parade formed at Parish hall at 8 o'clock and there were several hundred in line, and many automobiles. David Lambert was the standard bearer, Chief Ranger William Smith and Past Chief Ranger Allan Boyce were marshals, and Minnow Beauregard, mounted on his gallant charger, headed the parade. Brunelle's band under the capable direction of Leader Brunelle played martial airs, and they were followed by the degree team of Court City of Norwich, dressed as redskins and accompanied by The Royal Bumper. The candidates were herded together inside a rope ring which they were forced to carry through the streets. They wore no fez, hats and while some appeared youthful most of them shot anxious glances at the degree team and the rest wondered what would become of them when they entered the dark shades at the close. The parade came down Hamilton avenue, south on Hunters lane, east on South B street, north on South Second avenue and North Second avenue, west on North B street, south on North Third avenue, north on Providence street, Merchants avenue, returning to the hall. All the villagers turned out to watch the victims who were so soon to be sacrificed. At the hall shades were drawn and doors locked, but the awful cries that rent the air and could be heard outside the building it was evident that the executioners were getting in their work. After the last candidate was put over the jumps, which was about 11 o'clock, the members retired to their court rooms, where a smoker was held. On Saturday evening many of the members of Court Wequonnoc went to Norwich to participate in the parade and initiation of members into Court City of Norwich.

The Chewaxin Camp Fire Girls enjoyed a hike with supper in the open Saturday afternoon.

Miss Virginia Grover of North Third avenue has left town for Camp Arcadia, Casco, Me., where she will spend the summer.

Miss Morin, pitcher for the Taftville A. A. has received a flattering offer from the Montreal baseball team of the Canadian league, and will soon leave town to confer with officials of that league.

Miss Flossie M Meyer and Miss Elsie Heap have returned from a few days' stay at Pine Grove, Niantic.

Thomas Lambert of North B street had had as his guest his cousin, Maxim Cormier, of St. Dion, Canada, whom he had not seen for 60 years.

Arthur Newton of North A street has purchased a Ford automobile.

Dr. George Thompson of North Second avenue has purchased a new sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Raymond of Norwich avenue are spending two months in Canada.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor met Sunday evening at the Taftville Congregational church.

St. Jean Baptiste society met Sunday afternoon in Parish hall. Routine business was transacted.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Tetreault have taken a house on South B street.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller of Worcester, Mass., spent the week end with Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs Eugene Peschelte, of South A street.

Theodore Roy, U. S. N., of Portsmouth, N. H., has been a recent guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Moses J. Durocher, of South Second avenue.

Miss Mathilde Stapfer of the Ponemah house is spending the summer at Hyannis, Cape Cod, Mass.

Mrs. George H. Young of North Third avenue is the guest of friends at Chatham, Cape Cod.

Holy communion was observed at the Taftville Congregational church Sunday morning, and Frederick Handy was admitted into the membership of the church by letter from the Broomfield Congregational church. It was also announced at the service that the Ponemah mills had made a gift of $1,000 to the church to be used in the purchase of the new pipe organ which has been ordered from the J. M. Moller Organ company of Hagerstown, Md., and which the company agrees to install by the first of December.

Harold M. Pingree of Goodyear, Conn., spent the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pingree, of North Third avenue.

Thomas Whitehead of Westerly, R. I., was a caller in the village Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Benoit of Occum have taken a house on South C street.

Philip Casavant of South B street has resigned his position with the weaving department of the Ponemah mills.

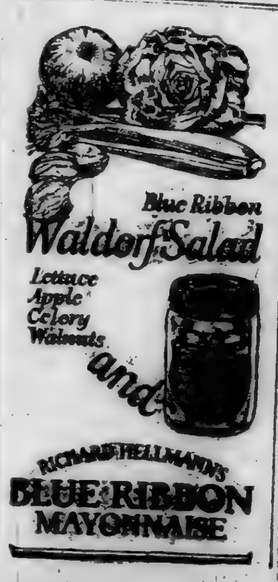
Mr. and Mrs. Alexis Davignon and family of Prattz avenue expect to move soon to the house on South Second avenue recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. James Britton.

Alfred Salemon of North Third avenue has resigned his position with the Ponemah company.

Mrs. Regina Plante and her daughter, Miss Anna Plante, who have been at the Ponemah house for the past week, have left town.

Alfred Linderson of North Third avenue spent the week end at his summer home at North Stonington with his family.

One of the men whose duty it is to carry drinking water to the employes of the mills was the victim of a Fourth of July joke Friday when he was on the way to the pump with his empty pail. While he was talking to a friend at the corner of North Second avenue and Providence street a youngster dropped a cannon cracker into the pail. The man reached the middle of the road before the cracker exploded, and for some short time he gave a gymnastic exhibition for the benefit of the bystanders. When he made an examination he found the bottom blown out of his pail.



GIVES WORKERS FINAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR NORWICH PLAY GROUND LEADERS

At the closing session of the recreation institute Saturday morning at the Y. M. C. A., Harold Anson Bruce, superintendent of recreation, addressed the prospective workers on the summer playgrounds and gave the class for an hour an excellent demonstration of correct form in various types of running, including the passing of the baton in relays, and of the proper take-off in various jumping events. Such technical instruction from Mr. Bruce is of great value, as he was not only a track athlete of note but has in his long experience as the head of the department of physical education at Lafayette College developed some remarkable athletes. In the playgrounds, he is much opposed to the idea of developing star athletes. On the contrary, it is his plan to give every older boy and girl all round training in track and field sports.

Miss Sherburne's closing lecture, which preceded the demonstration given by Mr. Bruce was on Special Activities on a Playground. She prefaced it by saying that she did not suppose that it would be possible to develop on the Norwich playgrounds this year all of the activities that she was going to tell about; she wanted, however, to give the play leaders an idea of the tremendous scope of the work, and the unlimited possibilities for the future development of the program.

"In considering education through play," said Miss Sherburne, "the whole child, that is, all the fundamental interests of the child must be taken into consideration. A playground that offers a program made up only of physical play, i. e., active games and sports, is not fair to children, because it is offering a one-sided development. The child has other interests and impulses that need opportunity for expression quite as imperatively. For that reason, a well-planned program gives the child a chance to express his imaginative and dramatic impulses through story telling, through dramatic games, through imaginative play that the group develope in an impromptu manner, and through dramatization of stories, the presentation of plays that the children may have written themselves, and possibly through simple pageants.

"The rythmic instinct that is strong in almost all children, and that properly developed has quite as much influence upon the mental grace and poise and balance as upon the physical, expresses itself through the fayely old singing games and folk dances, or possibly in playground choruses, bands or orchestras.

"The creative instinct appears in the interest children take in forms of handicraft. A period each day should be given over to this type of activity: sewing, garment making, knitting, crocheting, embroidery, or basketry for the girls, cutting, pasting, painting, drawing or construction of simple models by the little folks, kite making, toy making, chair caning, or even printing and cobbling for the boys.

"The competitive instinct is apparent in the love of the contests, meets, leagues, tournaments, and exhibitions of handicraft. Care should be taken, however, to avoid competition between individuals and to encourage in all contests competition between groups or teams. For this reason, shy relay races where teams compete for first place are infinitely to be preferred to races where there is merely competition between individuals.

Another important impulse that needs a chance for expression and development is the child's natural curiosity and desire to find out. Excursions to points of interest, to factories, trips out into the woods to study the birds or the flowers and trees, and among the older children definitely organized nature study clubs, radio clubs, etc., add interesting and highly important factors to the program. Allied with this type of interest is the desire that all children have at sometime or other to make collections of things they are interested in, and exhibits at the playgrounds of the treasured possessions are most educational.

Gardening and the care of pets develope another fundamental instinct we call the nurture instinct. Unfortunate indeed is the child who has not had the chance to make his own little garden, to watch the seed he has planted grow into the sturdy plant that produces the flower or the fruit, or that has not had the responsibility of caring for and protecting some cherished pet. This type of play belongs to the home, more especially, but the wise play leader can do much to influence and develop and direct it."

In concluding, Miss Sherburne spoke of her deep appreciation of the spirit and interest that the group had shown in the week's work and her pleasure in having formed the many associations the institute had made possible. She said she hoped the class realized that she had been able to do no more in this course than to give them some idea of the limitless scope of the study of play. Her aim during the week had been to open their eyes to the wonderful vistas this study presented, and it was her earnest hope that she had managed to create enough interest so that some at least would desire to pursue further the paths she had pointed out to them.

Those registered at the institute during the week were the following: the Misses Katherine Farrell, Mary Kelly, Mrs. G. E. Hodge, the Misses Augusta Shereshevsky, Patricia Cassidy, Esther Shereshevsky, Eleanor Byrnes, Alice Kennedy, Dorothy Rasmussen, Elizabeth Higgins, Lillian Brewster, Eileen Hinchey, Geraldine Enos, Stasie Matassa, Catherine Dodd, Justine Morrison, Alice Gadbois, Mary Buckley, Gertrude Platt, Mary Shields, Bessie Grant, Gertrude Browning, Sadd Whittlesey, Augusta Learned, Elizabeth Lynch, Dora Jenkins, Lillian Stetson, Mildred Fillmore, Mathilde Stapfer, Mrs. Hildegrd Norman, Mrs. Kate Averill, Elizabeth Huntington, Miss Young, Helen B. Royce.

ELECT O. L. JOHNSON THAMES BANK PRESIDENT

Directors of the Thames National bank at a meeting held Saturday noon at the bank building on Shetucket St., elected Oliver L. Johnson, president of the institution to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Arthur H. Brewer.

The change of officials is as follows: President, Oliver L. Johnson; vice president William R. Young, member of finance committee. Arthur M. Brown; director, Frank B. Rich.

Mr. Johnson had previously been

OLIVER L. JOHNSON,
Thames Bank President.

vice president of the bank and his office was taken by Mr. Young, formerly a director. Mr. Brown becomes a member of the finance committee a position held by Mr. Brewer.

Mr. Johnson, the new president, is prominently known in banking and business circles of the state and has for years been a leading figure in banking and business in Norwich. He is treasurer and manager of the Aspinook company of Jewett City.

Odd Experiences.

I was having a tooth filled when I suddenly glanced at the dentist and saw fire creeping up his coat. The next minute his whiskers burst into flame. He rushed to the faucet and I beat out the fire with my hands. He had spilled some alcohol on the table where he was working, and the next minute had overturned a lighted taper. The alcohol had caught and the blaze had rushed up his cotton blouse. He was in bed for several days, and I felt that I had had rather a narrow escape myself.—Chicago Journal.

Explanation of Genius.

All the genius I have lies just in this: When I have a subject in hand, I study it profoundly. Day and night it is before me. I explore it in all its bearings, my mind becomes pervaded with it. Then the effort which I make, the people are pleased to call the fruit of genius. It is the fruit of labor and thought.—Alexander Hamilton.

Health the First Requisite.

The first wealth is health. Sickness is poor-spirited, and cannot serve anyone; it must husband its resources to live. But health fullness answers its own ends, and has to spare, runs over and inundates the neighborhoods and creeks of other men's necessities.—Emerson.

Only Visible Greatness.

APPOINT SEVEN FOR INSTRUCTORS AT PLAYGROUNDS

Following a series of meetings held during the past week by the recreation committee in conference with Howard Anson Bruce, recently appointed playgrounds director, announcement was made at the final meeting held Saturday morning that assignments would be as follows for the summer: Instructors, Misses Mary Kelly, Augusta Shereshevsky, Eleanor Byrnes, Catherine Dodd, Justine Morrison, Patricia Cassidy, and Katherine Farrell.

Three centers are to be established in various sections of the city as follows: Central avenue in Greeneville, Lake street, Laurel Hill, the Elizabeth street school, Hobart avenue school (Little Canada), and at the Thamesville school. Miss Dodd and Miss Farrell will be in charge of the Thamesville playgrounds on Tuesday, July 3rd.

There are to be no morning sessions but in addition to the afternoon sessions there will be evening sessions, probably from 6.30 to 8.30 to care for those unable to attend in the afternoon. It is expected that young men's classes will be needed for work among the boys of the city. With a proper start this summer the playgrounds will provide organized athletics for the children, supervised games, and everything worth of patronage will be provided.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT STAND

Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well and Strong

Glens Falls, N. Y.—"For over two months I was so sick I was not able to stand on my feet, and my husband did my housework. The doctor said an operation might be necessary. I read testimonial letters about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began to take it. Before I had finished taking the first bottle I saw what good it was doing me. I am now well and strong, doing all my work for a family of four, all my washing and my sewing, which I think is remarkable, as I had not dared to run my sewing machine, but had done all my sewing by hand. I truly feel that were it not for your medicine I would not be here today as my case seemed very serious."—Mrs. GEORGE W. BURCHELL, Glens Falls, N Y.

DEVELOP NATION'S NATURAL RESOURCES, SAYS HARDING

President Says This is the Only Conservation Policy to Which America Dare Commit Itself—Is Against Locking Up the Public Domain "as a Treasure House of Potential Wealth" on Grounds That Such Action Would Prevent It From Being Ready When Needed—Urges Policy of Reforestation and Use of Water for Irrigation and Power.

Spokane, Wash., July 2.—(By the A. P.)—Gradual development of the nation's natural resources rather than preservation of them in their original state was advocated by President Harding here tonight as the only conservation policy to which America dare commit itself.

The president, speaking on "development, reclamation and water utilization," declared against locking up the public domain "as a treasure house of potential wealth" on the grounds that such action would prevent it from being ready for use when needed. He made it plain that he stood for gradual development, such as the use of water both for irrigation and power and for a policy of reforestation that preserves the national interest while permitting use of the timber as needed.

Mr. Harding's address, delivered in the armory here, was the first he made on the Pacific slope since he became president. He expressed the belief that "we may confidently look forward to a generation in which these young men and vigorous commonwealths of the west will boast as great a population as the entire nation numbers today."

The chief executive outlined no explicit reclamation program, but declared "we must look for plans that are safe; plans so conceived that they will not unduly burden the settler in the days when he is reducing the land to production; plans that will be reasonably broad and that will not commit the government to unwise or unreasonable expenditures."

Mr. Harding's address concluded a nine hour visit to Spokane, during which he made an automobile tour of the business district, inspected the Gam site for the proposed Columbia basin irrigation project and was shown a series of motion pictures of the Columbia basin. After the address the presidential party left here for Meacham, Oregon, to participate in the old Oregon celebration there tomorrow.

SENATOR FLETCHER SAYS LEVIATHAN CONTRACT "CRIME"

Washington, July 2.—Some features of the policy adopted by the shipping board in putting the liner Leviathan into service in the trans-Atlantic trade were assailed today by Senator Fletcher of Florida, ranking democratic member of the senate commerce committee.

The contract awarded to Gibbs Brothers in connection with the ship's operation, the senator said, was nothing less than a "crime." He declared that so far as he was able to learn the firm had no experience in the operation of ships but had confined its activities exclusively to marine architecture.

This contract, he added, together with the decision to berth the Leviathan at the government pier at Hoboken, would prevent profitable government operation of the liner. He asserted that the course followed by the board clearly indicated that it has no desire to make government operation a success.

The appointment of Gibbs Brothers as "supervisory agents" over the Leviathan, it was said today by shipping board officials, extends only for the first two trips of the liner. Unless some unforeseen contingency arises making it necessary to continue some sort of special supervision, it was said the appointment probably would not be extended.

As explained by board officials, the United States lines continue as operators of the liner except for this brief period.

Under the agreement, Gibbs Brothers will take charge of the situation in behalf of the board if a breakdown in machinery or equipment comes, or if expert decision is required at brief notice on any question affecting the course of the first two voyages.

NO REVISION OF TAX LAWS, SAYS SMOOT

Washington, July 2.—A prediction that there will be no revision of tax laws at the next session of congress was made here today by Senator Smoot of Utah, who is to become chairman of the senate finance committee.

"There will be no revision of revenue laws at the next session," said the senator. "I was more than delighted with the results obtained in the way of revenue during the last fiscal year. Instead of a deficit as many predicted, we closed the year with a surplus, which on final revision will show about $257,000,000 on the right side of the ledger. Such a surplus would not justify a revision of our tax laws. Nearly all of it came from import duties, which exceeded our fondest hopes."

Railroad legislation, Mr. Smoot added, is certain to be one of the first considerations of the new congress.

Our farmers in the west," he said, "will not be satisfied until freight rates are lowered."

Senator Smoot will sail from New York on Wednesday to make a study of economical conditions in Great Britain, France, Belgium and possibly Germany. He said he would meet Secretary Mellon of the treasury department in London, but that his trip was in no wise connected with the work of the debt commission, of which he and the secretary are members.

THREE GERMAN PLANTS SEIZED BY FRENCH

Duesseldorf, July 2.—(By the A. P.)—The first seizures under General Degoutte's decree giving the occupation forces power to take over private property for reparation purposes were announced today. Three plants were taken over by the French, the first being a branch of the Krupp locomotive works at Segeroth, a little station near Essen.

Four brand new locomotives were seized at these works, which are now occupied with the manufacture of locomotives instead of big guns, as during the war. Reports from Berlin state that the capital was greatly excited today by messages that the Krupp works in Essen had been taken over, but the dispatches apparently were founded on this seizure of a comparatively small branch.

The other plants seized were the Jutehoff Nungshutter works near Oberhausen. Steel works with branches throughout the Ruhr employing 100,000 men, and the Hermannsfield factory, part of the great Phoenix works, near Dortmund.

TWO STEAMERS LOST OFF NEWFOUNDLAND

Halifax, N. S., July 2.—Two freight steamships, both coal laden, were lost on the shores of St. Margaret bay, N. S., on Sunday, according to word received in Halifax today. They were the Norwegian steamship O. A. Knudsen, 3,525 tons, and the French craft Santa, 762 tons.

The crews of both vessels which are reported to be total wrecks, landed safely.

The O. A. Knudsen, and the Banka stranded five and seven miles, respectively, north of where the Canadian Pacific liner Marvale came to grief recently.

SIXTEEN PERSONS HURT WHEN PORCH COLLAPSED

Chicopee, Mass., July 2.—While watching police officers across the road pick up the engineers of a steam roller that had dashed down the hill out of control and come to a sudden stop against an embankment, a dozen women and children on the second story porch of a three decker tenement at 56 South street, were suddenly thrown down on five children below by the collapse of the porch pillars.

Sixteen were injured, three seriously. Mayor Grise, present while the police were examining the wreck of the steam roller, acted in an emergency car for all the injured.

Four constables workers hurried to the aid of those hemmed down by the porch debris. In a short time the five children were rescued and Caroline Tourt, 8 years old, was taken to Mercy hospital with a fractured skull. Hospital authorities believe she will recover. Another girl suffered a fractured leg, while a woman holding a baby suffered a broken leg. The baby was uninjured.

10 YEAR OLD MAN RESCUES DROWNING BOY

Milford, Conn., July 2.—Francis O'Neill of New York city got beyond his depth while bathing with several other small boys on Bay View beach this afternoon and was saved from drowning by Fred Lutz, a 10 year old New Haven business man, who dove into the water fully clothed when attracted by the screams of the child's companions for aid.

Barely a spark of life remained in the body when it was brought ashore by the rescuer. The boy's condition is regarded as serious and pneumonia is feared. The child was visiting his grandmother, Mrs. A. Garner, and neither he or his companions could swim.

Lutz had just arrived at his cottage from New Haven and had seated himself on his porch when the cries for help were given. After several unsuccessful dives he finally located the boy.

FIVE BANDITS MAKE GETAWAY WITH $16,000

St. Louis, Mo., July 2.—Five armed and masked men held up the office of the United Railways company here late today and escaped with approximately $16,000. About a dozen employes were in the office at the time and two employes fired shots at the bandits as they escaped in an automobile. One of the employes said he believed he hit one bandit as he saw him fall into the tonneau of the car. The office is in the central part of the city.

[illegible]ame "L" Train Wheels For Wreck

Assistant District Attorney Gallagher Declares They Were So Badly Worn That Part of Truck Hit Switch Frog Causing Derailment.

New York, July 2.—The wheels of the elevated railroad train which toppled to the street in Brooklyn last week, causing the death of eight persons and injury to many others were so badly worn that a part of the truck came into contact with the switch frog and caused the derailment, Assistant District Attorney Gallagher declared today. The wheels were worn down an inch and a half, he said.

William S. Menden, president of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit company was questioned privately for nearly three hours today by District Attorney Dodd, in charge of the investigation into the cause of the disaster. Chairman George McAneny, of the transit commission will be examined tomorrow.

COLONEL METZ SAYS TESTIMONY MISREPRESENTED

New York, July 2.—Colonel Herman A. Metz who has been a witness in the suit of the government against the Chemical Foundation Inc., at Wilmington, Del., declared today that his testimony had been grossly misrepresented.

In a statement to The Associated Press he said:

"The Morning News of Wilmington, Del., on June 26, 1923, published an article purporting to give my testimony as a witness for the government in the suit of the United States against the Chemical Foundation, Inc.

"This article stated in effect that I had paid money to German spies, one of whom was under indictment as a fugitive from justice, for information extracted from war department files and used by United States Senator Lenroot in a senatorial dye investigation.

"On June 27, 1923, the Wilmington News published a complete retraction of this article, stating among other things that their previous publication to the effect as above stated was false in every particular, and further that they were neither reproductions of the testimony nor fair paraphrases thereof.

"They also stated that their representative was not at the trial; that the testimony as printed in the News was not given at the trial; that I did not admit that I had paid any person shown by the testimony to be a German spy any sum of money whatever; that I had never employed any person charged with being a German spy to get any information from the war department, and that there was no testimony given that the persons named in the articles were German spies.

"Although counsel for the defendants charged in court that I was the invisible plaintiff in the suit and had instigated the government's action, I swore that I was in Europe when President Hardnig demanded the return of the patents and that I had never discussed with any official of the government the matter of the present suit. Assistant United States Attorney General Henry W. Anderson during the trial at Wilmington offered in evidence a large number of communications addressed to me by Secretary Bryan, Secretary Lansing, Ambassador Gerard, Ambassador Page, and other government officials, for the purpose of showing that all my actions in connection with the dyestuff situation were undertaken and carried out with the full knowledge of the government and by their advice and sanction.

"On June 26 Colonel Henry W. Anderson, assistant attorney general, made the following statement to the court concerning myself, which I have not seen printed in any newspaper:

"The character, standing, loyalty, integrity and every other quality that this witness possesses, was attacked on cross-examination, and the witness was, with counsel acting well within his legal rights, and therefore I am not complaining, restrained to a very limited reply as to those questions. * * * It is not only the right of the government, but that which is due in fairness to the witness himself, to let the facts as fully as I know them to be brought out, so that the testimony of the witness may be complete for the consideration of the court. * * * This man is engaged in a large business. I say again, counsel acting within his rights attacked this witness and his credibility and his character and loyalty with a severity that I do not recall having before witnessed, and the evidence already in this case justifies in my judgment the statement that this is but a part of a long continued controversy. Those things unless the full facts are brought out as far as one can on sudden notice of this kind, are liable to do irreparable injury to an individual when there is no redress; because these things done in a court of justice afford no redress. Therefore, while I deem all of that matter as immaterial, and have so stated, those questions having been gone into, in my judgment, it is my duty to the full extent that I on short notice have a chance to do so to bring out every fact in order that the whole picture may be observed, because on cross-examination a witness is not allowed to talk, he is not allowed to explain, he is not allowed to tell his motives, he is just planned down to practically bare statements and half proof."

MORSE TRIAL ENTERS ITS ELEVENTH WEEK

Washington, July 2.—The Morse trial entered its eleventh week today with government counsel indicating the prosecution might rest before the end of the week.

At today's session the government sought to bring out that pipe, charged by the Virginia Shipbuilding corporation, a Morse concern, against construction of ships, built at the company's Alexandria, Va., plant for the Emergency Fleet corporation, was installed in buildings at the yards.

Lawrence L. Minor, Jr., representative of the Spang and Chalfant company, Inc., of Pittsburgh, which furnished the company with pipe said he inspected the Alexandria plant three weeks ago and found a small quantity of pipe, bearing the trade mark of his firm, had been used in plant construction. He was unable to say whether the piping had been purchased directly from his company or through jobbers.

Minor testified he also inspected a house, formerly occupied by Erwin A. Morse, one of the defendants, but had found no pipe there that he could identify.

ST. LOUIS PIGGLY-WIGGLY STORES SOLD

Memphis, Tenn., July 2.—Sale of the St. Louis unit of Piggly-Wiggly stores, announced yesterday, completes Piggly-Wiggly's "liquidation program" for the present with the company "now in a strong financial condition," according to a statement issued today by Clarence Saunders, the president of Piggly-Wiggly Stores, Inc.

"The sale of the St. Louis stores brings the total sales of stores for liquidation purposes to $2,500,000 from which we have realized $1,400,000 out of fixed assets and $1,100,000 has been a sale of merchandise," Mr. Saunders said in his statement.

He added the corporation has approximately 500 stores left located in approximately fifty cities.

Pope Condemns Passive Resistance

Instructs Papal Nuncio to Urge German Government to End Acts of Sabotage and Other Crimes in Occupied Territories.

Rome, July 2.—(By the A. P.)—The Stefani agency, semi-official organ, declares that according to information obtained at the Vatican, Pope Pius has instructed the papal nuncio in Berlin to make representations to the German government with a view to securing cessation of the passive resistance in the Ruhr.

The popes message to the nuncio makes reference to the Louisburg outrage and says:

"While the Holy Father by his letter is endeavoring to induce the powers to arrive at a friendly understanding, he begs them to suspend any action which may prevent it and deeply regrets to hear of acts of sabotage, in the occupied territories and other crimes, under the pretext of passive resistance. The pope charges you to make vigorous representations to the German government that it may once for all condemn such criminal resistance, which is condemned by the Holy Father himself."

OFFERS $3,000,000 FOR WILLYS-OVERLAND STOCK

New York, July 2.—Thomas H. Tracey, representing a Toledo, Ohio, syndicate, has made a bid of $3,000,000 for the 739,000 shares of Willys-Overland stock held by Francis G. Caffey, receiver in bankruptcy for the Willys Corporation. This was disclosed today before Federal Judge Knox in proceedings at which creditors seek to have the stock sold by Mr. Caffey for $3,000,000 to a previous bidder whose identity has been kept secret.

The identity of the creditors' bidders, was said by David H. Miller, counsel for the receiver, to by H. L. Thompson, a director of the Willys Corporation and Dillon Read & Co., each offering $1,500,000. He asked to be corrected if he was wrong about this but no one in court arose. He objected to the cloak of mystery about the creditors' bidders.

The Tracey bid is the third to be made to Judge Knox and the second of $3000,000. The other offer was made by George W. Brown, of Detroit, for 300,000 shares at $5 per share. A certified check for $150,000 accompanied the new offer.

Judge Knox adjourned the hearing until tomorrow to give Mr. Tracey, who was in court, time to determine whether his syndicate would allow a disposition of the $150,000 deposit to be made by the court in the event that the proceedings should fail through.

When asked to do this by Judge Knox, Mr. Tracey said that if it were his own money, he would, but that he had not the authority to dispose of the syndicate's funds in that way.

PERMIT NEWSPAPERMEN TO ATTEND K. K. K. MEETING

Indianapolis, Ind., July 2.—Under a special dispensation granted by the general offices in Atlanta, Ga., accredited newspapermen will be permitted to attend the tri-state meeting of the Ku Klux Klan at Kokomo, Ind., July 4, according to an announcement today by Milton Elrod, editor of the Fiery Cross, a klan publication.

Newspapermen, Mr. Elrod said, would be requested not to divulge the names of any of the spinkers or participants in the meeting other than the general officers, all of whom are expected to attend.

ONE KILLED, 14 INJURED AT AUTOMOBILE GRAND PRIX

Tours, France, July 2 (By the A. P.).—One person was killed and fourteen were injured, two seriously, during the running of the Automobile Grand Prix here today, which was won by Seagraves, driving a Sunbeam car.

The accident occurred at the Hairpin turn. The Devisceux entry failed to make the curve on the first round, ran into a fence and then collided with a tree, plowing through part of the crowd.

Famed Surgeon Sails For Europe

COPYRIGHT KEYSTONE VIEW CO., NEW YORK

Dr. William J. Mayo, famous surgeon and head of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., who recently sailed for Europe. While there he will attend a number of medical conferences in England and on the Continent and many university honors will be given him in recognition of his wonderful work. NEW ENGLAND GOVERNORS ACT ON RAIL REPORT

Have Asked Interstate Commerce Commission to Postpone Proposed Hearing on Railroad Consolidation—Joint Committee's Report Commended in Statement Issued Last Night—New England Executives Believe Time Has Come When Railroad Problems Must be Faced—Boston Conference Planned for Further Discussion of Situation Early Next Month.

Augusta, Me., July 2.—The governors of the New England states excepting New Hampshire tonight dispatched a telegram to the interstate commerce commission requesting that the proposed hearing on railroad consolidation be postponed. The postponement was urged in order to give sufficient opportunity to the citizens of New England, to the public and commercial organizations, and to all others interested, to study the report that has been presented to the New England governors."

The report referred to was made yesterday to the assembled governors at Poland Springs by James J. Storrow, chairman of the joint New England railroad committee named by the governors ten months ago to study the New England transportation problem in order to determine what the attitude of New England should be towards the transportation act of 1920 directing the Interstate commerce commission to prepare a plan for the consolidation of the railroads of the United States into a limited number of systems. The telegram also asked that the several state chairmen of the joint committee represent New England at the hearing. Rehabilitation of the Boston and Maine and the New York, New Haven and Hartford as a preliminary step toward the consolidation of the two roads into a New England system was recommended. Consolidation of New England roads with trunk lines was disapproved.

A statement signed by all the governors of New England states, except Governor Frederick H. Brown, of New Hampshire, was issued tonight in which the report of the committee was commended.

"The New England states are independent and their problems in many ways are similar. The people are vitally concerned conferned in the present serious situation that confronts our railroads. The plan of the committee is the first complete constructive suggestion that has been made for the rehabilitation of the New Haven and Boston and Main roads.

"We believe the time has come when these railroad problems must be faced and solved and we expect that this will be done with the same spirit that has been the inspiration of New Englanders in the years gone by.

"We have not had time to consider or discuss the committee's plan, but we shall do everything in our power to promote the interests not alone of our particular states, but of all New England. We shall give the committee's report our early attention and have already made plans to meet in Boston early in August for further discussion of the situation."

Vice-President Calvin Coolidge, Mrs. Coolidge and their two sons, and Governor Cox of Massachusetts and Templeton of Connecticut, with friends, arrived here at noon today from Poland Springs as the guests of Governor Baxter of this state.

OVER 3,000 ALIENS ENTER UNITED STATES

New York, July 2.—The number of immigrants who have been examined, passed, and allowed to enter the United States since the new alien quota opened Sunday, passed the 3,000 mark today. These people, many of whom travelled as much as 5,000 miles and spent the entire trip worrying about whether they would arrive in time to enter the country, hurried off the small ferry which runs between Ellis Island and Manhattan, dividing their attention between the friends who rushed to meet them and the towering buildings of lower broadway.

Some 9,000 others are still being held at the immigration station, or are waiting aboard ships for their examinations. Thousands will be sent back over the long miles without even setting foot in the United States.

Liners continued to arrive today, and were held in the bay by fog, passengers leaning over the rails trying to get a glimpse of the land of promise.

The quotas for Asia and Africa already have been filled, according to Deputy Commissioner Uhl, and many more will be exhausted when the ships now in port have been examined. Among these will be the Greek, the Turkish, probably the Swedish and the Italian, and six or eight small European countries.

Aliens are arriving faster than they can be examined and several ships scheduled to leave deposited their passengers on the piers, where they were guarded by immigration officials. Cots have been provided by the steamship companies, and the big barn-like pier sheds are filled with hundreds of men and women, children, beds, bundles of clothing, trunks, cook stoves and personal belongings of every description.

The last arrival to get up the bay today was the Albania, from Southampton, with 375 English and Scotch immigrants. Most of these are mechanics, clerks and engineers, who intend to go to the middle west and the Pacific coast.

The ships from which immigrants were landed today were the President Adams, the Stockholm, the France, the King Alexander and the Washington, whose passengers totalled approximately 2,100.

FREEDOM OF NEW YORK FOR GENERAL GOURAND

New York, July 2.—General Henri Joseph Eugene Gouraud, of France, wartime commander of the Rainbow Division, "The Iron Man of the Argonne," saw New York today.

Accompanied by army officers who once campaigned with him, he invaded the city hall, penetrated the strongholds of the financial district, scaled the Woolworth tower, and concluded by paying his respects at the Tomb of Grant on Riverside Drive.

The one-armed general came to attend the Rainbow Division convention at Indianapolis, July 15. The freedom of the city having been bestowed upon him in behalf of the mayor, he was led into a noisy reception in the stock exchange. Brokers who had fought with him quit their trading posts to shake his left hand and cheer.

He was the luncheon guest at the exchange later visiting the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Company, crossing the Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges, and stopping for a time at the Public Library before his motorcycle escort led the way to Grant's Tomb.

The general replied to speeches of welcome in his native language. He was profoundly touched and honored, he said, at the mention of his name with those of his countrymen, Lafayette and La Rochambeau.

PASSENGERS AND CREW TAKEN FROM STEAMER

Halifax, N. S., July 2.—All passengers and crew of the steamship Advance which went ashore on Shut-In Island today in a dense fog, were taken off safely by tugboats this afternoon. The vessel later broke in half.

The steamship carried 75 passengers from Boston for Halifax and St. John's, N. F. The crew numbered 55.

A dog which had acted strangely and had bitten two horses and ten cows was shot at Hartland, this state.

PRESIDENT HARDING DRIVES HUGE ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVE

On Board President's Special Train near St. Maries, Idaho, July 2 (By the A. P.).—President Harding, for half an hour or so today, came into realization of his boyhood ambition to become a locomotive engineer. It was not one of the steam locomotive, spouting smoke and cinders, that he drove, but an electric engine on the system of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway.

When the presidential train stopped early today at Falcon, Idaho, Mr. Harding walked to the head of the train to take a look at the engine, one of the largest electric locomotives ever built. Engineer Arthur Blundell, after shaking hands with the president, invited him up into the cab, and soon the train moved off down the west slope of the Bitter Root mountains with the hand of the chief executive on the controller.

Around sharp curves, through tunnels and along canyon sides, the president guided the heavy 12-car train until it reached Avery, a total distance of about 15 miles.

The president, in company with Chief Greeley, visited a forest ranger's station at Avery while the train was stopped there and saw a mule train packed for a trip over the mountains with supplies. He also found in the little mountain town a former inhabitant of Marion, O. Robert Clark, with whom he talked for several minutes.

BELGIAN GOVERNMENT TO PROTEST PAPAL LETTER

Brussels, July 2.—The Belgian government, it is stated in authoritative quarters, intends to protest to the Vatican in connection with the recent papal letter bearing on the reparation question and Rhur occupation. The form of the protest has not been decided upon but will probably be contained in a letter, it is said.

President Of Amherst College Resigns

UNDERWOOD & UNDERWOOD, N. Y.

Dr. Alexander Mikeljohn has resigned as head of Amherst College after serving eleven years as president. He did so at the request of the board of trustees rather than face the unpleasantness of a fight in the courts which might injure his career. Dr. Mikeljohn's resignation was accepted, to become effective after a year's leave of absence, with pay.

JEWETT CITY

Not in several years have rose bugs been as troublesome. Poultry raisers have had to watch their chicks, which are killed, before they have become two weeks old, if they eat too many rose bugs. For a long time local chick rearers believed that the rose bug was swallowed alive by the baby chick; then it was thought that the bug scratched holes in the chick's crop. It is now been proven that it is a certain poison in a rose bug that is fatal to small poultry.

All through this section there are beautiful beds of peonies. The white variety have been badly damaged by the rosebugs, while the red flowers escape.

Any locality where there are elm trees has suffered from the ravages of these bugs.

Several local fishermen tried for black bass Monday. Not every locality has a pond which contains both the large and small mouth species, as is the case here.

Quinabaug pond has the large mouth species only. The record bass for this section was caught last year also in Quinebaug pond. Two partakers weighed 5 3-4 pounds. John Wels caught one of the MacNicol island in Ashland that weighed 5 1-2 pounds. The former was caught with worms for bait and the latter with a small perch.

Bass-fishermen here have in latter years found it useless to try for those fighting kings of the local waters with a number of different sorts of bait, including live minnows, worms, small frogs and lizards, commonly called dobson. On hot still days, with the surface of the pond like glass, a live bait is absolutely necessary.

Thirty years ago this summer, in September, the late A. C. Ladd, fishing in Packing pond, hooked a bass that fouled in a snag and broke his tackle, escaping with 20 feet or more of silk line attached to the hook in his mouth. Not any Thomas McTooms went to Packing to fish. He heard a great splashing a little ways above him. The pond was at low water stage. Tom ran to investigate and discovered a great bass caught by a line in a partly submerged tree top. In the town next day Mr. Ladd positively identified his line and peculiar hook. Just to learn what would be said, the matter was referred to a New York sporting paper to get an opinion as to the ownership of the bass, which weighed four pounds. Neither man would have got the fish without the services of the other. The paper decided that Mr. Ladd's claim ceased when his line parted.

Attorney John T. Barry, dating from July 1st becomes the judge of the Griswold town court, appointed by the legislature to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Attorney A. M. He's a Mapl-Flaker

Mapl-Flake for breakfast,
Mapl-Flake for lunch,
Mapl-Flake for supper
Gives us kids the "punch."

There are lots of folks looking for "the punch"—and the surest way to get it is to eat the right things for breakfast.

The "Mapl-Flakers" meet every morning at the breakfast table. Each one eats a big bowlful of Mapl-Flake and starts out the day feeling fit.

Mapl-Flake is 25% Bran
It is more than nourishment. —it is a whole wheat flake with all the bran left in. There is enough bran to make a natural, harmless laxative, yet you have the satisfaction of eating tasty, appetizing, nourishing breakfast food.

Nourishment and bran combined—good eating while you "take your bran" without knowing it. No wonder there are so many "Mapl-Flakers." Join them—a package from your grocer entitles you to membership. The dues are small.

The Connecticut Motor Transportation company has purchased five new 33 passenger White buses which will be used on their lines between New London, Hartford, Norwich and Colchster. These new buses will make it possible for the company to give their patrons the best of service during the season.

Announcement was made Saturday of a change in schedule for the summer months, effective Monday, July 2d. The announcement is published on another page of this issue.

STRAND THEATRE.

There is much that is unique and thrilling about the latest Paramount-Cosmopolitan production, The Go-Getter, which was shown with great success at the Strand theatre last evening. T. Roy Barnes, in the leading role of Bill Peck, a war "vet" working for the Ricks Lumber company, has a hard time getting established after his discharge from the army, but "the only girl in the world" arrives in time to see that her father takes care of him. Naturally Bill falls in love with Mary (Seena Owen) at first sight, and what paces he doesn't have to go through to satisfy her father that he is worthy of her aren't worth mentioning.

The original story, by Peter B. Kyne is especially suited for the screen, and in writing the scenario John Lynch has brought out to perfection all of its fine points. Along with Mr. Barnes and Miss Owen, William Norris, Tom Lewis and Louis Wolheim are featured players.

A News Christie Comedy completed this fine program.

BROADWAY THEATRE.

Masters of Men, Morgan Robertson's great sea novel, adapted for the screen by C. Graham Baker, which is showing at the Broadway theatre today and Wednesday, is a real American story, written by Americans for Americans.

The hero, Dick Halpin, is the sort of a boy every American admires, sensitive to hurts, rebellious against snobbery, quick to fight and big enough to carry a secret wrong to save the girl he loves from humiliation. Dick is falsely accused of theft and runs away from home. He joins the United States navy and there he learns how to be a man. While on shore leave he and his superior are shanghaied on board a four master and sent before the mast. They endure the brutality of captain and mate and the filth in which they are compelled to live until they manage their escape just as the United States declares war on Spain. The boys rejoin their ships and take an active part in the battle of Santiago when Cervera's fleet was destroyed as it came out to sea.

The naval battle is thrillingly presented and through courtesy of the United States navy department at Washington is authentically reproduced, the navy permitting Vitagraph, the producers, to take real shots on board men of war when stripped for action and indulging in gunfire.

The cast is an exceptionally strong one of fan favorites. Earle Williams plays Lieutenant Breen and Cullen Landis Dick Halpin, the two young Americans. Alice Calhoun and Wanda Hawley play the old-fashioned sweethearts of the two boys. The love interest is strong and there is abundant comedy running through the story.

The Lloyd Hamilton comedy F. O. B. proved a riot. A News Weekly finished the bill.

BIJOU THEATRE.

The amazing artistry of Mabel Normand and the genius of Mack Sennett and F. Richard Jones have combined in the production of a photoplay of exquisite beauty. Suzanna is the title and it is the feature at the Bijou theatre today.

It is a story filled with old world charm, this tale of Suzanna. In it is visualized the love and idyls of the adventures and customs, in fact the history of the early Spanish-California, which has been immortalized by him that it may live forever not only in the minds of men but within their walls.

Historic Monterey will be seen in all its pristine glory. Across the silver sheet will be flashed the faces of men and women similar to those that peopled this first capital of California.

One of the most interesting parts of the picture, however will be the hacienda of the Spanish rancho which Mr. Sennett had specially built. Helen Hunt Jackson, in her beautiful story of Ramona, immortalized this California landmark in the halls of literature. Mack Sennett immortalizes it on celluloid.

Sennett chose the particular location for reproduction not because the action of the story takes place there, but because it epitomizes the true Spanish-California rancho of a hundred years ago, few of which remain standing today in any state of preservation.

The atmosphere of the story and the age in which it is laid, enhanced by beautiful photography, have brought forth prognostications that Susanna is one of the most beautiful, interesting and enjoyable pictures of the season.

Other pictures on the bill include the Pathe News and a Lyons Comedy.

DEMPSEY-GIBBONS FIGHT PROBABLY WILL BE CALLED OFF BY MGR. KEARNS

Great Falls Mont., July 2—(By the A. P.)—The once dreamed-of $1,000,000 heavyweight championship fight between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons at Shelby July 4, tonight hung in the balance with Jack Kearns, the manager of the world's champion, holding the key to the situation and every indication pointing to a complete collapse of the battle.

The crisis broke this afternoon when Major J. E. Lane, trustee of the promoters, admitted that the $100,000 due Dempsey on his $300,000 guarantee not later than midnight tonight had not been raised, and that he saw no prospects of raising it, unless a bundle of money dropped from the sky.

Calling the newspaper correspondents into a hotel room, Major Lane told them that any statement calling off the bout must come from Jack Kearns, or Loy J. Molumby of Great Falls, who signed the articles of agreement when the match was made in Chicago early in the spring.

Molumby declined to remain in the room while the announcement was being made to the newspaper men, although he was twice requested by Major Lane to stay. Molumby edged out of the room, saying that he probably would have a statement to issue later.

Kearns, who has held out for the complete fulfillment of Dempsey's contract, said he would not have any statement to make until midnight, at which time the limit for the payment of Dempsey's final $100,000 installment expires. The heavyweight champion's manager gave threatening indications, however, that he would leave town with the champion unless the money was paid.

Major Lane declined to reveal how much money had been raised and also declined to issue a formal statement after he and his associates announced their retirement from all connections with financing the fight. His remarks were made informally.

The committee which Friday accepted the job of attempting to raise the final installment of $100,000 due Dempsey tonight, midnight has been unable to procure the needed money," he said. "Our mission is ended and we are retiring from any participation in the financing of the fight.

"It is our opinion the fight cannot be held unless the $100,000 is raised before midnight. I do not know if it can be done. I doubt it.

"There was not sufficient time left use for the raising of the money. The people to whom we looked for money evidently do not feel like coming to the rescue at this late date. I should be understood that I am not officially cancelling the bout. That could be done only by Loy J. Molumby, the original promoter and Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager. But this committee is at the end of our rope and we might as well admit it. We have exhausted every resource in our attempt to raise the needed money."

George H. Stanton, the Great Falls banker, who personally advanced $50,000 two weeks ago to make up the second $100,000 due Dempsey, declared he had no statement to make.

"All I care to say is that some of the men we had depended upon to contribute to this fund evidently got cold feet after they had given us their pledge to help," Mr. Stanton said.

Then the bank president hurried across the hotel lobby into the headquarters of the Great Falls Commercial club to stop the sale of tickets.

While the sporting world was in suspense over the $100,000 payment there was one spot in Great Falls where normalcy ruled quietly and supreme. That spot was Dempsey's training camp. There was not a whisper or a ripple in camp to indicate that the champion was in the least perturbed over the frantic efforts to raise the money which his manager demanded.

Jack was willing to talk, but the fight or the $100,000 seemed to be the least of his worries. His conversation slid easily into idle banter and conjecture on questions utterly foreign to the ring. He seemed to be just what Kearns had declared him—"a finished fighter, at the top of his form, and ready for Gibbons."

The title-holder declared he was through training and was in perfect shape.

"I took a light bit of road work this morning," he said. "Tomorrow morning I plan to take an easy walk. We won't go to Shelby until Wednesday morning."

Down in his heart it is known that Dempsey is ready to battle Gibbons for the sum he already has received—$210,000—but he relies implicitly on the instructions of Kearns on all questions of finance and Kearns is the last word. If Kearns tells Dempsey to break camp tomorrow and leave town Dempsey will do that very thing.

Yale Polo'sts Win

Toledo, Ohio, July 2.—Yale university, inter-collegiate polo champions, completely outclassed the Carranor polo club in a fast game here today, winning by the score of 11 to 5. Hopkins and Baldwin, of Yale, were the outstanding players. The Eli team had a handicap of two goals.

NUGGETS HAVE EASY TIME WITH SWANEES

The Nuggets hammered three pitchers hard and trimmed the Swanees at the Fairgrounds Monday evening 13 to 3 in a one-sided and uninteresting game. Tennant the first pitcher was hit hard during the first few innings and was relieved by Boyd whose control was bad and he in turn gave way to Hoffman who pitched well. Mike Kelly started in the box for the Nuggets and had the Swanees at his mercy and he gave way to big Ed Harris who pitched well and showed a world of speed.

George Madden as usual was the shining light of the Nugget team with his hard swinging and his daring base running. George is fast getting into condition and is showing marked improvement over the first part of the season.

The centerfielder wishes that the person who took his glove by mistake would leave it at Madden's cigar store and collect the smokes that are coming to him for his kindness.

Baltic Wins

The Baltic A. A. handed the Quinnebaug team a 9 to 6 trimming Sunday afternoon at Sayles field in Baltic. Owing to small attendance at the games this year Manager Collins has decided to take his team on the road and next Sunday will play at New London. He will give the Hebron team a game for Saturday afternoon if they desire it. For arrangements call 1949-2.

Tonight's Twilight Game

The Twilight game tonight will be between the East Ends and the Atlantics, the two tail end teams in the league. These teams are evenly matched and should provide plenty of action for the fans.

BASEBALL AND HORSE RACING ARE LOCAL FOURTH OF JULY ATTRACTIONS

For those who remain in town over the Fourth there will be plenty of outdoor entertainment at the Fairgrounds during the afternoon. Beginning at 1 o'clock there will be the matinee horse races in which some strong competition is expected in every one of the three classes. Since the Norwich track dropped out of the Bay State circuit it has been planned to put on harness racing here during the season and this is the second meeting for the matinee horses.

There is much interest in these races as the horses are practically all Norwich owned and are very fast some of the horses having been returned winners at the various race meetings in southern New England.

Immediately following the racing at 3.30 o'clock will be the ball game between the Norwich club and the Taftville A. A. This is a real contest for blood as both managers have been calling each other names and boosting strong for the merits of their team. The Taftville team has been picked as the favorites in the contest owing to the showing they made in their two week end games with Willimantic, winning the first in fifteen innings at Taftville on Saturday and the second at Willimantic on Sunday. Taftville is banking on Mike Morin to hold the local team while Norwich is planning to pitch Chippie Gaw against the Taftville boys.

The Norwich team will have the same team that has been playing here during the season with two exceptions. These two exceptions will be at first and third, Fay, formerly of South Manchester, taking Eddie Hart's place at the initial sack and Danny Silva, former Pittsfield player taking Liberty's berth at third.

Manager O'Leary's lineup for the game will be as follows: Gaw p, Bond c, Fay 1b, Massey 2b, Faulkner ss, Silva 3b, Drohan lf, Duff cf, Clabby rf. With this aggregation Manager O'Leary feels confident that he can trim anything that Taftville can produce in the way of a ball club and if they do not strengthen their team for the Fourth they are due for a trimming.

Manager Troland is confident that his club is equal to taking the measure of the local team and that Mike Morin will outpitch Gaw. If Morin does his reputation is made but if he don't it is no discredit for Chippie is still a good old horse.

HARTFORD TAKES FREE HITTING GAME FROM BRASSCOS

Waterbury, July 2—Hartford defeated Waterbury here today scoring three runs in the seventh off the delivery of Etten and Carrigan and winning by the score of 8 to 6. Waterbury threatened to catch up in the ninth when Donahue hit a home run with King on base. The fielding of Wacha and the hitting of Hauk featured. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Hartford	3	0	0 1 0 0 0 2 1—8	14	0
Waterbury.	0	1	0 0 1 0 2 2 0—6	15	1

Two base hits, Bronkie Hesse Kane, King.

Three base hits Belanger, Schmehl. Home run, Donahue.

PROFS HIT MAYBERRY HARD AND WIN EASILY

New Haven, July 2—New Haven hit Mayberry hard here today and won an easy game from Springfield, 12 to 5. In the second inning the champions scored eight runs. Bowman opened the second inning with a double and hit a home run over the fence in right center, the longest clout ever seen in the park. Score:

New Haven	0	8	0 2 0 1 1 0 x—12	18	0

Two base hits, Herrara, Martin, Bowman.

SNOVER BLANKS BRIDGEPORT WITH 5 SCATTERED HITS

Bridgeport, July 2—Colonel Snover kept Bridgeport's five hits well scattered today while his teammates found G. Wilson's offerings tempting and easy and Pittsfield won by a score of 5 to 0. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsfield	2	0	1 0 1 0 0 1 0—5	11	0
Bridgeport.	0	0	0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0	5	0

Two base hits, Taylor, Stapleton, Loftus.

Three base hit, Barrett.

ALBANY TAKES CLOSE GAME FROM WORCESTER

Albany, July 2—Long's double off Bornhoeft's first and only pitch scored Leary with the winning run in the 9th inning today, Albany making it two straight from Worcester. The score was 4 to 3. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Worcester	0	0	2 0 0 0 0 1 0—3	9	2

Braxton, Roberts, Bornhoeft and Cousineau; Kirley and Kenna.

Two base hits, Emmer, Kenna, Long.

Three base hit Esmond.

CLOSE FINISHES FEATURE GRAND CIRCUIT OPENING

North Randall, Cleveland, Ohio, July 2—(By the A. P.)—Close finishes and fast time marked the opening of the Grand Circuit harness horse racing at North Randall today.

Large fields were on the card and it was necessary to split the Edwards stake for 2:08 pacers in two but each division carried the original value of $3,000.

The trophy given to the winner, however, went to Marvin Childs, who drove Hal Bee to victory in the second division in the fastest three miles for the event. Thomas Murphy, the Syracuse, N. Y., Reinsman, furnished the winner of the first division with Lambert Todd.

In doing the second division in 2:03 3-5, 2:03 1-5 and 2:04 4-5, Hal Bee paced the fastest miles negotiated on a harness horse race track this season.

In starting the first three heats of the day only four scores were necessary. Periscope getting away his two miles in one score each and Hal Bee getting off on the second attempt but starter Phillips had trouble getting the fields away the rest of the day. The summaries:

ARENA AT BOYLE'S MUST BE REPAIRED

New York, July 2—Immediate steps will be taken to make whatever repairs are necessary to the big fight arena at Boyle's thirty acres, Promoter Tex Rickard said tonight after Jersey City building inspectors had pronounced it unsafe and declared they would withhold a permit for the Jess Willard-Luis Firpo heavyweight match there on July 12, unless conditions were remedied.

Heavy strain on the supporting beams of the huge pine saucer had been caused by settling of the ground, inspectors reported floor boards were found to have deteriorated and aisles to be in unsatisfactory condition. Further investigation will be made, building officials said, before final judgment is passed.

Rickard expressed surprise when informed about the arena's condition but asserted he would authorize all necessary repairs and have the bowl in proper condition for the Willard-Firpo bout.

"We will comply with every requirement of the building laws and take every precaution to safeguard those who will attend the heavyweight show," the promoter said. "I am confident that everything necessary can be done without delay so that the fights can be held as scheduled."

Boyle's Thirty Acres was built by Rickard in 1921 at a cost of about $400,000 for the Jack Dempsey-Georges Carpentier heavyweight championship match. It was last used in July, 1922, when Benny Leonard defended his lightweight title against Lew Tendler in a 12-round match. Its seating capacity is about 90,000, the largest of any outdoor arena in the country.

Attention Mr. James

Manager Pedace of the East Side Single Men writes as follows regarding Mr. James' Married Men:

Sporting Editor:

In regards to that line of buncombe that Mr. James had in the Bulletin Monday morning I would like to know how he gets that way. Is he just naturally that way or is it one of those hot weather spells that has struck him? He knows as well as I and everyone else on the East Side that last year he led his bunch of henpecks onto the Battlegrounds and after the dust had settled not only was his team miserably beaten but for two weeks after they all acted like a crowd of cripples. I thought that perhaps he would get that foolish idea about his being in his second childhood out of his head but I see he hasn't. Now let's lay aside the wind and if he really wants to talk business and arrange for this series that he has been crying for to start this week or otherwise save his breath.

Jimmy Murphy, the champion auto speed racer, was at one time a mechanician for Eddie Rickenbacker.

Hod Eller, "shine ball" pitching star of the Cincinnati Reds in 1919, is successfully managing the Mt. Sterling Club in the Blue Grass League this season.

Arne Borg, Sweden's champion swimmer, will tour Great Britain this summer.

Johnny Rawlings likes his position at Pittsburg and is really playing first class ball.

University of Michigan finished the Western Conference Baseball race undefeated. The Ann Arbor stars captured 10 games in a row.

Balk line billiard champion, William F. Hoppe, will meet the winner of a preliminary tourney to be held next fall.

Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, picks Tom Gibbons to defeat Jack Dempsey on July 4. Jack thinks Gibbons is too clever for the titleholder.

Eddie Montague, 16 years old, has been signed by the San Francisco Club of the Pacific Coast League. "In reserve," to prevent this being appropriated by some major league club when he finishes school.

Hal Abbe is tipped off as the pacing stake crack of the Tommy Murphy stable of Grand Circuit performers. The Canadian wiggler is charged with some 19 first monies last year.

"The most valuable player to his team" in the Southern League will next fall be presented with a Gardner automobile. The decision will be made by vote of the eight official scorers of the league.

The failure of Leon Ames, former big leaguer, to pitch effectively for his team has resulted in his dismissal as pilot of the Dayton team in the Florida State league. The club owners felt that they could not afford to retain Ames merely as a bench manager.

Tex Rickard plans a big sports arena in New York where summer and winter pastimes can be held. Similar structures are reported planned for St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Cincinnati, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

INTOXICATED DRIVERS.

When it is disclosed by the motor vehicles department that there have been 136 cases in which licenses have been recalled because automobile drivers were found operating their cars while intoxicated within the first five months of the year, it indicates the increasing danger that is being imposed upon the users of the highways.

These cases have doubled since the early days of prohibition and that very fact accentuates the need of providing greater protection against such individuals. This must needs come through stiffer regulations and more severe punishment, or possibly a punishment of a different character.

The person who drives an automobile while intoxicated stands in a far different position in respect to the public than the fellow who walks the streets in an intoxicated state. The latter may cause some interruptions and sidesteppings but his zigzag course doesn't endanger the lives and limbs of others. When he gets into an auto and attempts to handle the wheel there is no telling what may happen. Not only does he endanger those with him but all others on the highway and possibly those on the sidewalk. Plainly an intoxicated person is in no condition to operate a motor vehicle and it is time that due recognition was given to the fact by those who stand in the position of affording proper protection to the public.

Depriving such drivers of their licenses has its value, but there are judges who have come to a recognition of the need of doing something more than imposing a fine in such cases, and regard the jailing of such individuals as the proper method of bringing them to a recognition of what their conduct means to others. If it were the fact that jail sentences could be expected in addition to the loss of their driver's license there are good reasons for believing that there would be less chances taken. That at least seems to be the view of many who have studied the situation and the action of those courts where it is being tried will serve to prove the effectiveness of it.

THE SAFE AND SANE FOURTH.

What plans are you making for the observance of the Fourth of July? It is not to be expected that the celebration of the great anniversary will be overlooked, and for equally good reasons it is not to be expected that there will be a return to the dangerous methods that were in vogue some years ago.

Independence day deserves all possible recognition. It will never be forgotten, but the benefits of the safe and sane Fourth have been so admirably demonstrated that there can be no return to those days when long lists of injured and dead were certain to follow the celebration of the day. It is well for humanity that there came a time when a change from the old order was regarded as necessary. It made an appeal that could not be disregarded, though the advisability of it has been more and more recognized as the number of killed and injured has been so greatly reduced.

The effort to bring the celebration under better control has been highly successful, and it means much to many, many homes throughout the country. Prohibition of the use of certain explosives and the general participation in the sensible celebration of the day has brought much needed relief without interfering with patriotic demonstrations.

Prevention of needless danger and needless loss of eyes, fingers, hands or life has been the purpose in the commendable movement. Along with it there may well go and there does go automatically to a certain degree, the recognition of the need of fire prevention on that day. There is no excuse for the heavy property loss that has occurred on the Fourth of July. If proper care is exercised and due regard is given to prevention there will be no more calls for the fire department than there is for the ambulance and doctors. Some good advice has been given by the fire chief that may well be carefully respected tomorrow. Make it an actual safe and sane Fourth and there will be no regrets the next day or the many days thereafter.

GETTING LIGHT ON COAL.

Massachusetts has been bothered the same as other New England states about obtaining coal, and it has found that aside from the inability to supply the demands during the past winter it was being served with a quality of coal that was mostly dirt and rocks. This unburnable coal resulted in legislation against such coal being shipped into the state that the consumer might be protected.

In order to get a better idea of the actual situation in regard to the hard coal a joint legislative committee was appointed with authority to visit the anthracite fields and ascertain just what the conditions at the point of production were, what the facts are relative to the whole coal problem. It is no small job, but the commission has tackled it and as the result of its visit to the coal fields the committee has learned that though Massachusetts households have had difficulty in getting coal for years there are reserves in Pennsylvania sufficient to supply the normal requirements of that and other New England states for more than 700 years, that Pennsylvania not only puts a tax on the coal mined but a real estate tax on the mines and another on the estimated value of the coal in the ground, that the miners are receiving war time wages and yet they are threatening to strike for higher wages and a limitation of production, and that in addition to the burdens which the coal consumer has to stand because of these reasons, with transportation added thereto, there are the exorbitant charges of the operators who stand ready to take advantage of any shortage.

The committee was aware of some of those things before it visited Pennsylvania. It has gained some first hand information because of its trip and will be able to throw some new light on the situation. But there is a difference between being able to point out the reasons for existing and past conditions and bringing about such changes and relief as the committee and coal consumers believe to be long overdue.

THE NEW ENGLAND LINES.

Something for serious thought is furnished by the report of the joint New England railroad committee which has made an exhaustive study of the railroad situation in New England. It hasn't undertaken to cover up the facts, but has presented them that the situation may be judged on its merits.

They have dealt with the question of present financial conditions of the roads and likewise with the idea of consolidations. Before anything is done it is the belief of the committee that heroic efforts for the rehabilitation of the roads should be made, and it points out how the bondholders, the stockholders and the states in which the roads do business can help to bring that about.

In connection with the question of consolidation of lines several plans have been advanced from time to time. The importance of getting the roads back on their feet exceeds in importance any plan for consolidation in the opinion of the committee, but when it gets down to a study of the various consolidation plans it expresses a preference for the one that would result in a New England system, but leans to the idea of having the New Haven linked up with the Pennsylvania in case it should be necessary to join it with a trunk line system.

The transportation situation in New England is not of recent development. It has existed for a number of years and is of direct concern to each and every one of the New England states. The views that have been expressed by the committee deserve and must get study. It is a presentation of facts and views that is entitled to sincere consideration with a view to betterment to the systems and to the transportation situation in general. It is a matter in which New England is vitally interested.

FRANCE AND GREAT BRITAIN.

The world will watch with interest the possibility of France and Great Britain being brought back to their former basis of understanding. It was while the entente existed unbroken that there were the best results obtained in the treatment of European affairs. Since there have arisen differences which were plainly disclosed it has been apparent that both have had difficulty in putting forth their respective plans.

If the report is correct to the effect that Premier Poincare of France has made the suggestion to the British cabinet that there be a conference for the discussion of the German reparations and at the same time all other outstanding issues between the two governments, it opens the way for the ending of that split which has served to keep Europe unsettled.

During the war they were brought to realize the importance of unity. It was when they were fighting together as a unit that they accomplished their best results, and no better illustration of the value of getting together concerning other matters ought to be needed. They have differed and have been unwilling to meet each other's views and demands especially concerning Germany. The split has not aroused enmity but it has stood in the way of accomplishment. Now France apparently sees the need of getting back to that basis of cooperation that formerly existed. It is not a surprising or illogical move and if it can be accomplished it ought to serve to smooth out some of the existing handicaps to European adjustments.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Are you all set for a safe and sane observance of the Fourth?

Lucky fellow who was able to put in his summer's supply of ice during the cold months of last winter.

Massachusetts has legislated against fire proof coal, and just because of it it fears that it cannot get anything.

War has been declared on roosters at Tarrytown, N. Y. Whether it means the axe or not it is sure to be a short war.

The man on the corner says: If it wasn't for an occasional cool day we might forget that we are going to need coal next winter.

New Jersey grade crossings continue to show what is liable to happen at such points when proper respect for danger is not displayed.

When the hard coal miners present last year's demand for a 20 per cent increase they expect it to amount to something more than a last year's bird nest.

The plan to seize ships carrying liquor within the three mile limit may make some steamship owners realize that this government is firm in its enforcement views.

Experiments are being made with a harmless drug to prove that by its use criminals can be made to tell the truth. That may yet become a requirement along with the finger print

FROM LUCILLE'S DIARY

I cannot see why Ursula Moore—who wrote the play for the Diz Amies to give—should have had the casting of the parts. Surely some one else would have been much more unprejudiced. When I found that she had given me a small, unimportant role of an old lady I told her that I did not feel that I could play it.

"What would you like to do?" she asked.

"I don't believe I had better be in it at all, Ursula," I replied, while Polly Gray, who was to be the heroine; was glaring at me. She must have known that I was much more fitted for the part than she, but of course she selfishly wished to be the whole thing in our little drama, even if she were not pretty enough to portray the marvelously beautiful leading lady.

"I'm sorry, but I don't see how we can change the cast, Lucile," said Ursula. "Will you take charge of the properties? We have to have a lot of props."

"Very well," I said as graciously as I could, feeling as I did that I had just about been frozen out of the play.

"That's splendid of you. Now if you'll get together a picture of 'Washington Crossing the Delaware,' and that Pharaoh's horses picture, a coal scuttle, a whatnot, a red table cloth and a large photograph album, that will be fine. We must have them for the dress rehearsal. We need a marble top table, too."

"Heavens, where can I get all that junk?" I asked.

"In your attic, Lucile," said Louise Fuller. She has been positively snippy to me ever since she was married. Poor dear, she has no idea that I might have had her beloved Canby if I had wished.

Oddly enough when I read the list to mother, she said: "We have nearly all those things in the garret. All except the whatnot and the picture of Washington crossing the Delaware."

"I wonder where I can borrow them, mother."

"Til try to think," she replied, so I dismissed the matter from my mind. I was busy having a new dancing frock made for the ball that was to follow the play. I made up my mind that if I did not shine in the drama I certainly would at the ball.

"Good gracious, Lucile, where are you and where are the props?" asked Ursula in a frantic voice over the telephone night before last.

"Why, is this the dress rehearsal evening?" I asked.

"It most certainly is! It's next to the last night before the performance. How could you forget it?"

"Well, you see I have been so much occupied about other important matters. But, don't worry, Ursula, if I can get hold of George Requier I'll bring them right over to the hall in his car. I wish you had reminded me earlier."

"I wish I had," she agreed emphatically. "If you can't get George get somebody else right away."

"Righto," I answered merrily, but I had a most tiresome time telephoning until I could find somebody who could take me and the props down to the hall. At last I got Burling Preston, but by the time we got everything down from the attic and delivered at the dress rehearsal it was so late that everybody was cross. I think that when Ursula saw how they all hated to go through their parts again with the props she must have felt that she was most remiss in not having been thoughtful enough to remind me of the date.

"Where are the pictures of Washington and the whatnot?" she asked.

"Oh, Ursula, mother was to see about those. I fear she forgot. But I'll have them here tomorrow night acidly.

When I reproached mother she said indignantly that she had arranged with a neighbor for me to call at her house for the whatnot and picture.

"You were so engrossed with Miss Barker over your new gown that you paid no attention when I told you."

"I'll have to hire an expressman to take them. You could have saved me this expense by speaking to me again, mother."

"Perhaps I could have. I've been speaking to you all your life," she sighed in that hopeless way which gets on my nerves just dreadfully. I'm so tired of the whole thing that I don't care whether the play is a success or not, but I am sure I shall have a lovely time at the ball.—Chicago News.

Wives of Famous Men

Sarah Bedell, Wife of Peter Cooper.

Much of the success that has made the name of Peter Cooper stand for so much in the history of New York, and consequently in the history of America, is due to the wisdom and courage of Sarah Bedell Cooper, his wife.

A hard working, sensible man, Peter Cooper's life could easily have been ruined by the unwise choice of a life companion, but he chose unerringly when he selected Miss Bedell. He was a poor man when they were united. In fact, the marriage was undertaken on the strength of $500 which he had obtained from the sale of a patent. But Sarah, instead of complaining about their poverty, worked hard and ceaselessly, doing everything in her power to help her husband add to his small nest egg, planning her household expenses so that they would be as small as possible, wasting no time and thought over the luxuries which she could not have.

"Peter Cooper," writes a biographer, "was a common-sense man, which is really better than to be a genius. But a common-sense man needs a common-sense woman to help him lead a common-sense life. Mrs. Cooper was a common-sense woman."

And she certainly was, by every characteristic of tradition and breeding. Of pure Huguenot ancestry, the persecution of her forbears had instilled in her that same integrity of mental and moral fiber that is found in the early Puritans.

She had an unusually clear vision, deep insight and great understanding of her husband's problems. These qualities, combined with her prudence and thrift, make it easy to understand the following comment:

"For 57 years Peter and Sarah fought the battle of life together, and together they grew rich, rich in money, rich in experience, rich in love."

Stories That Recall Others

There Was a Reason.

In the examination of talesmen in the criminal court by the attorney for a defendant there occurred a dialogue that created much merriment throughout the court room.

"Have you ever had any previous jury duty?" the attorney asked.

"Yes; in this court, about 50 years ago," was the reply.

"Do you have any recollection as to the kind of case that was?" the attorney asked.

"Yes, it was a petty criminal case," he replied. "The jury hung all night to get an extra day."

"You deliberated all night because you had some sincere opinion in the case?" the lawyer asked.

"No; I stayed because I couldn't get out," he responded.

He paid the $3.

Duns may come and duns may go, but a certain company has an effective "please remit" letter. In at least one instance, the letter had the effect of causing the debtor to have a terribly guilty feeling until he placed in the mail the $2 which he owed them. The letter follows:

"Dear Friend—You remember how Abraham Lincoln walked many weary miles from the grocery store where he earned a mere pittance, in order to bring to a poor woman the few cents change she had forgotten and left on the counter.

"And how Mark Twain, because his name happened to be associated with that of an unsuccessful company, took all its heavy debts upon himself and, though an old man, paid every one.

"It is this 'I-will-owe-no-man-a-penny' spirit that builds up and strengthens self respect and personal integrity.

"It is because we find just such good old fashioned honesty as this in 99 per cent. of the folks with whom we do business that we feel sure of the payment of your account, even though it has been neglected recently.

"You will feel that you have done the right thing when you drop your remittance in the mails today."

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

One of the last surviving generals who participated in the battle of Gettysburg is Maj. Gen. John R. Brooks, U. S. A., retired, to whom a special invitation has been sent to attend the sixtieth anniversary celebration on the historic battlefield today. General Brooks was born in Pennsylvania, and is now in his 85th year. His military service began in 1861, when he went to the front as a captain in the Fourth Pennsylvania infantry. At the close of the war he was a brevet major general. He was wounded in battle, and his record as a whole in the volunteer service was such that he was gladly received into the permanent establishment in 1866. During the war with Spain he commanded the United States forces in Porto Rico and became military governor of the island. His next post of duty was that of military governor of Cuba. When he reached the age for retirement from active service, in 1902, he was in command of the department of the east.

SUSPENDED LICENSES FOR 136 INTOXICATED DRIVERS

For operating motor vehicles on the public highways while intoxicated, 136 drivers have been called upon by the state motor vehicle department in the first five months of this year to surrender their licenses, it was shown by a statement issued by the Connecticut department. In no corresponding period of the department's history, even before the national prohibition amendment went into effect, has the department found it necessary to suspend as many licenses for drunkenness.

The situation in this respect appears to be growing steadily worse. "There has been no unusual amount of reckless driving, but a very unusual amount of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors and more of the wilful type of offense heretofore," said Commissioner Stoeckel. He called attention to the fact that everything possible is being done to combat the evil. Regulation is being made more strict and punishment more severe for violations of this kind.

In the last five months the date when the Volsted act became operative, there were only slightly more than half as many suspensions of licenses for drunkenness. There was a sudden drop immediately after prohibition became the law and the department suspended only twenty-five licenses in the period from January 1 to May 31, 1920. The number of such suspensions gained during the remainder of 1920. However and the total for the year became 247, as against 275, the previous year. The number climbed to 294 for the year 1921 and to 366 for 1922. At the present rate, this year's total will far exceed its two predecessors.

As the state law requires the motor vehicle department to suspend for a year the license of every operator convicted of driving while under the influence of liquor, the number of suspensions is fairly representative of convictions for the offense throughout the state.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer

This is the season when she who would have a lily-white complexion should turn her thoughts to mercolized wax, the firm friend of the summer girl. Nothing so effectually overcomes the soiling effects of sun, wind, dust and dirt. The wax literally absorbs the scorched, discolored, withered or coarsened scarf skin, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and girlishly beautiful. It also uncings the pores, removing blackheads, and increasing the skin's breathing capacity.

An ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings, will gradually improve even the worst complexion. There's nothing better for tan, freckles, blotches.

Frosting Glass.

Dissolve as much epsom salts as water will take up and apply to the glass; or dab the glass over with flour paste, using a brush. More permanent methods are to dab on thin white paint, using a brush. Better than this is the use of putty tied tightly into a bit of muslin. Put this over the glass and the putty will exude sufficiently through the muslin to make the stain opaque. Let dry hard, then varnish.—Housewife.

Shakespeare's Vocabulary Rivaled.

Probably no living poet has a more extensive vocabulary than Gabriele d'Annunzio, who is to visit Paris in the spring of this year. "Most people," he once said, "use only 800 words. I employ 15,000, which I cull from different volumes, some taken from an old book on agriculture, some from an old translation of Ovid, others from Machiavelli's works. Old Italian authors are my daily bread."

GRANTS TROLLEY ROAD PERMISSION FOR WEST MAIN STREET TURNOUT

By a unanimous vote of the court of common council Monday night the Connecticut company was granted permission to construct a turnout on the West Main street trolley line from a point about opposite the foot of Mt. Pleasant street over 300 feet to a point just west of the driveway at the property of Elmer R. Pierson.

A hearing on the petition of the Connecticut company was held immediately after the opening of the session when Weston C. Pullen, clerk of the common council, read the petition.

Samuel Anderson, superintendent of the trolley company, stated that the reason the company asked for the turnout was to improve the service on the West Side line when travel was heavy, also to provide a fifteen minute service on the line during fair days, circus days, or when baseball or other attractions were being staged at the fairgrounds or points along the line. The switch would be of the diamond type, commencing just west of the driveway in front of the property of Elmer R. Pierson and running a distance of 320 feet to a point about opposite Mt. Pleasant street. The diamond turnout would leave ten feet between the outside rail and the curb line.

Mr. Pierson spoke in favor of the turnout on the line but stated that he preferred the building of the switch at a point between Mt. Pleasant street and Connell street about 300 feet further west than the proposed plan.

Others to speak in favor of the turnout were Edwin A. Tracy, Charles F. Wells, Mr. Johnson of the Connecticut company and Secretary John J. O'Rourke of the Norwich Chamber of Commerce.

At the close of the hearing the council adjourned for an executive session and upon resuming the session a resolution was adopted granting the petition for the turnout. It was not stated when work would be started on the turnout but it is probable that it will be done as soon as possible.

Resuming regular business the following petitions were acted upon: from Nicola Grillo to connect his property with the city sewer on Mt. Pleasant street, referred to the public works committee; petition to remove two trees in front of the property at 60 Roath street, referred to the public works committee and tree warden; Veterans of Foreign Wars to hold a carnival in July or August referred to the amusement committee with power; to remove a tree on the north side of the fire station at Greeneville, referred to the public works committee and tree warden with power.

Record in Building Permits.

The following reports were heard and acted upon as follows: monthly report of the street commissioner, monthly report of the city treasurer, quarterly report of the chief of police and quarterly report of the fire marshal, accepted without reading, except for the report of the fire marshal which by request of Alderman Crooks was read, showing 103 permits for the quarter for expenditures aggregating $275,752, the largest amount of building in the quarter in the history of the city, 25 per cent larger than in the quarter last year. It was voted to accept this report and print it in the council journal. The report of the police committee that permits had been issued for the installation of lights on Maple Grove and Howard street was accepted.

Claims Settled.

The following resolutions were adopted: that the sum of $140 be appropriated to Lee Roy Robbins in full settlement of the claim of Mary E. Bundy for injuries sustained in a fall on North Main street on March 7, 1923; $140 to Earl Mathewson in settlement of the claim of Hattie Wheeler for injuries received in a fall on Union street January 14, 1923; $150 to Earl Mathewson in settlement of the claim of Mollie E. Garvey for injuries received in a fall on the steps between School street and Washington streets on October 1, 1922, and $160 to Lee Roy Robbins in payment of the claim of Noza Willet for injuries received in a fall on Main street Dec. 1, 1922.

The board of water commissioners reported the election of officers as follows: John J. Corkery, president and supervisor; William H. Callahan, clerk and treasurer; Mary H. Callahan, assistant cashier and bookkeeper; Thaddeus Leahy, inspector. The commission also reported that the salary of president and supervisor had been fixed at $2200 per year. Before accepting the report Alderman Crooks stated that it seemed inconsistent that the same members of the board who voted against a raise in salary last year should be voting for a raise this year, but in spite of this he would not at this time raise any objection to the salary of the president and supervisor although he felt that one man could not do the work of two. The report of the commission was then accepted without further discussion.

White & Alexander were appointed auditors of the city departments with the exception of the water department at a compensation not to exceed $250 yearly. The report of the public works committee granting Nicola Grillo permission to connect with the sewer at Mt. Pleasant street was accepted and the recommendations adopted.

Grange Letter on Bootleggers.

The following communication was received from the Norwich Grange and referred to the police committee. That the grange believed in the enforcement of law and regretted the lack of enforcement, viewing with regret the inaction and impotency of the constituted authorities of the city to see to it that the law was enforced. The petition requested that the officials enforce the law and rid the city of bootleggers.

Claim For Sergt. Kane's Death.

A claim of Sarah H. Kane for compensation arising out of the electrocution of her husband, Police Sergeant John H. Kane, on April 6, 1923, was referred to the finance committee and corporation counsel. A notice of claim was also given by William Mulholland for damage to his automobile resulting from catching in a hole in the pavement near the trolley tracks in front of Preston Bros. The claim was for $75, for a broken rear end, bearings, housing, damaged fenders and dented body.

On motion of Councilman Shea, I. H. Cruthers and H. G. Metcalf were appointed special city constables on ballot of the clerk. The appointment of Mrs. D. Louisa Atterbury to the recreation committee to fill the vacancy caused by the moving out of town of Miss Helen B. Royce was announced by Mayor Waters. The appointment is for the unexpired term of Miss Royce for six years. The appointment was confirmed.

It was reported that the gas and electric department is engaged in placing poles in Mohegan park to provide light for the entrances to the skating pond.

The following bills were read and accepted following which adjournment took place: public works, $19,074.65; permanent street improvement, $5,443.68; water, $4,551.33; cemetery, $1,510.11; gas and electrical department, $85,893.10; police, $4,727.10; finance, $9,866.32; fire department, $6,968.00.

TAFTVILLE'S NIGHT BEFORE WILL BE BIG EVENT

At a meeting of the committees representing the various organizations in Taftville who are to take part in the allied clubs' Night Before the Fourth celebration, John B. Benoit, president of Ponemah Wheel club, was appointed marshal to head the parade. This celebration under the patronage of several of the village clubs will be bigger and better than any other year and will begin with a concert by Tubbs' military band on the grounds of the Ponemah Wheel club tonight at ten o'clock.

At midnight the parade will form as follows: Marshal, John B. Benoit; Tubbs' military band, members of the village organizations, automobiles carrying supply of red fire Taftville brass band, floats, decorated automobiles, Taftville drum corps, horribles, Slade Thurlow's ragamuffins band, Lisbon fire department.

Residents of the town and surrounding villages are invited to participate in the horrible section of the parade. Prizes will be awarded for the best horribles. The parade will pass through the various streets of the town and at the point of disbanding a lunch will be served by a committee of which Andrew Frohmander is chairman.

GODDARD PRINCIPAL IS GUEST IN THIS CITY

Russell L. Davison, principal of Goddard seminary, Barre, Vt., with Mrs. Davison and son, Louis motored to Norwich Sunday and for the next few days will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Crowell and family of Williams street. There were several Norwich boys in the graduating class at Goddard this year and the prospect is that there will be several more from here attend the seminary next year. Notwithstanding the report that Mr. Davison was to take a professorship at Trinity college, Hartford, he will remain as head of Goddard seminary next year.

WESTERLY FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED TO MARGIN STREET

(Special to The Bulletin)

Westerly, July 2.—About two o'clock this afternoon an alarm of fire was sounded from Box 34, corner of Main and Beach street, which called the Westerly department to the house of Thomas Perry, 2 Margin street, where a fire is said to have originated from the search for a leaking gas pipe with a lighted match. A blaze between two floors was extinguished with the use of chemicals. Little damage resulted.

KICKED IN DOOR IN RAID ON FRANKLIN ST.

In a raid on a search warrant for liquor Monday night about 10.30 at the place at 47 Franklin street, the police kicked in the back door and seized two glass pitchers, two empty bottles with whiskey labels and four small whiskey glasses. In both pitchers was a small quantity of what is believed to be whiskey left after the pitchers were dumped.

James Cirves who was in charge of the place was arrested on the charge of violating the liquor laws.

Sergeant Thomas Murphy headed the police squad which included Officers M. Caroll, P. Murphy, W. Sharyan and P. Driscoll.

WILLIAM H. ALLEN RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF STATE BOARD

The Connecticut state board of examiners of embalmers held its annual meeting at Hartford on Monday at which time officers were re-elected as follows: President, William H. Allen, Norwich; secretary, E. P. Jones, Winstead; treasurer, George J. Smith, Milford. Other business of a routine nature occupied the attention of the board.

This commences President Allen's twelfth year as a member of the board where his efficient service is indicated by his re-election to the presidency. For the past 21 years, or since the board was organized, Secretary Jones has held that position.

For Gardner Lake Picnic.

The Baptist Young People's Union of the Central Baptist church is to hold a picnic Wednesday at Gardner Lake. The young people are to meet at the church at 8.45 o'clock in the morning and will be conveyed to the lake by automobile truck or by touring cars. A number of the members of the intermediate or senior departments are to make the trip to the lake by walking. An attractive programme has been arranged for the day and it is expected that about 75 members will enjoy the outing.

In Something of a Hurry.

The street car was very crowded and the old colored man just managed to get one foot on the lower step and his hands of the hand rail. When the conductor called out briskly: "Fares please," he retorted in amazement: "Mah Lawd, man, yo' ain't collectin' ef's fo sidewalk, is yo'?"

STEAL MONEY AND SILVER AT WHITTLESEY'S HOUSE

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, July 2.—Another daylight robbery occurred this afternoon when the residence of George Whittlesey, assistant treasurer of the Savings bank of New London, at No. 53 Nathan Hale street, was burglarized, the thief obtaining a small sum of money, silverware and a bracelet. Entrance to the place was gained either by Mrs. Whittlesey leaving one of the entrances unlocked or else by the thief using a duplicate key, for none of the windows or doors were forced. Mrs. Whittlesey was away from the house between 4 and 5.15 o'clock and discovered the burglary a short time after she returned home. The articles stolen were 16, which was taken from a dresser drawer in one of the sleeping chambers, four spoons, one meat fork, six dessert spoons, eighteen tea spoons, all solid silver and with the monogram, "S. F. W." inscribed on them; and a gold bracelet with the monogram "M. E. M." engraved on it. The place was thoroughly ransacked by the thief in his search for valuable plunder. A neighbor furnished the only possible clue to the police, stating that a strange man was seen in the neighborhood. The suspect was of dark complexion and did not wear a hat, but was attired in a conspicuous blue suit.

FUNERALS.

Miss Rose Broderick

With a large attendance of relatives and friends the funeral services for Miss Rose Broderick were held Monday morning from the parlors of Hourigan Brothers following which a requiem mass was celebrated in St. Patrick's church, Rev. Myles P. Galvin officiating. During the service Mrs. Frank L. Farrell rendered Abide With Me. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery where the committal service was read by Rev. M. H. May. The bearers were Michael E. Sullivan, Joseph D. Fitzgerald, Charles A. Morgan, James Shea, Edward Connelly and Joseph Sullivan of New Haven.

Michael Sedus

Funeral services for Michael Sedus were held last Friday morning at 9.30 o'clock from his home in Colchester with requiem mass in St. Andrew's church at 10 o'clock, Rev. Father Mooney officiating. There was a large attendance at the service and many floral tributes were received. Members of St. Michael's society of which he was a member attended the service in a body and formed an escort to the grave in St. Andrew's cemetery where Rev. Father Mooney conducted a committal service.

Arrangements were by Shea & Burke.

Clement W. Flagg.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends present Monday afternoon when funeral services for Clement W. Flagg, formerly head of the sales department of the Norwich Gas and electric department, were held at his late home at Pleasure Beach. Rev. Mr. Lindsley of Worcester officiated and burial took place in Willimantic. Relatives and friends accompanied the body to the grave, where a committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Lindsley.

WEDDINGS.

Mosher—Jones

Announcement has been made by Charles Everett Jones of New York city of the marriage of his sister, Miss Cora Ethel Jones of Lowell, Mass., to Harold Carl Mosher of Norwich on Saturday, June 30th, at East Derby, N. H. Mr. and Mrs. Mosher are to make their home at 2 Julian Terrace this city. Mr Mosher being connected with the Hygienic-Fibre company here.

Davis-Casey

Ira Augustus Davis and Mrs. Mildred Casey, a widow, both of Preston, were married here Monday evening at 8.30 by Rev. David A. Pitt at his home on Broadway. The groom is employed as a weaver and is the son of John H. and Nellie Caswell Davis. The bride is the daughter of the late Ransom and Amanda Sweet Sholes.

McMahon-Curry

A wedding of local interest took place at St. Joseph's church, South Norwalk, Wednesday, June 27 when John Francis McMahon, Jr., was united in marriage with Miss Mary Elizabeth Curry of Yantic. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Francis Murray, uncle of the groom, and the attendants were Miss Katherine Curry of Yantic, sister of the bride and Frank McMahon of South Norwalk, brother of the groom.

The bride was attired in white georgette with hat to match and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore orchid georgette with hat to match and carried pink roses.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom to the members of the immediate family. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. McMahon left for an extended tour through the White Mountains and Eastern Canada. They will return to South Norwalk, July 10, where they will be at their home at 34 Webster in a newly furnished apartment.

The bride is a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy of the class of 1916 and the Willimantic Normal school, class 1918, and for the past three years has been a successful teacher in the Franklin junior high school, South Norwalk.

The groom is a graduate of the Norwalk high school and Yale college and is a member of the Norwalk Yacht club and is a successful contractor.

Telephone Rate Changes.

Changes in rates for rentals of telephone instruments were announced Monday by the Southern New England Telephone company. Individual lines to residence are increased from $3 to $3.25 and party lines to residence made $2.50, a decrease of 25 cents. A new plan is a two-party house line for $2.75. There is no change in business rates. The company explains that too great a demand for individual lines is the reason for the change.

The changed rates apply in this city.

Shut Down For a Week.

The Shetucket mill and the print works department of the United States Finishing Co., have shut down for this week.

Testing Worth of Hens.

When a hen lays an egg in the nest three Californians have invented a door which opens and permits her to enter one yard, while if no egg be laid she must go to another yard, thus separating layers and nonlayers.

Startling New Facts About High Blood Pressure

The most frequent causes of high blood pressure is chronic toxemia, which is a general poisoning of the body by the absorption of poisons from the intestines. Poor digestion and constipation create toxic poisons that are absorbed into the blood, causing the muscles controlling the arteries to contract, which in turn forces the heart to pump more vigorously to overcome the obstruction.

The pressure within the arteries rises and high blood pressure is present. It should be accepted as a warning which, unless heeded, will eventually result in turning a curable condition into an incurable disease.

Nature, as in most ills, gives us ample warning. Dizziness, palpitation of the heart, nervousness, shortness of breath, ringing in the ears, feeling of fullness in the chest, are all symptoms of high blood pressure and should never be neglected.

A well known physician has devoted much of his time to discovering a means of reaching the cause of high blood pressure and only recently, after many thousands of successful clinical tests, his preparation has been put up in convenient tablet form and is dispensed by druggists under the name Bi-a-lin. Bi-a-lin has the same medicinal properties as the human bile which is Nature's great antiseptic. Just a few days' treatment with Bi-a-lin so regulates the bile that it resumes its work of overcoming and eliminating the poisonous wastes that accumulate in the intestines. With these poisons gone, your blood pressure returns to normal.

Bi-a-lin is a mild, pleasant, harmless preparation that has been so remarkable in its results that the American distributors have authorized local druggists to dispense it with a guarantee to return the full purchase price if in any rare case the very first bottle does not give wonderful relief.

CANTERBURY PLAINS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Salisbury and daughters, Gertrude and Margaret, of East Hartford were guests of Grace L. Dawley Sunday of last week. Margaret remained with her aunt for the summer.

There was a large crowd at the strawberry supper at Grange hall last Friday night given for the benefit of the grange by the Social committee, Mrs. Grace Wright, Mrs. Grace Sowle and Mrs. Fred Kinne.

Charles Grabb expects to leave soon for Detroit, Mich., where his brother, John, is employed.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. and Mrs. McCloud in the death of their son, Dwight, who was drowned in the Quinebaug river last week.

Nearly all the schools are closed for the summer vacation. North Society and South Canterbury have to keep a while longer to make up for lost time.

Tribute to Forefathers.

Never forget that you are the descendants of men who ate up the fire that was to burn them, and digested it and turned it into noble strength; that drank up the sea that was to have drowned them, and came through ever thickening danger gathering strength with exercise, and being made out common men, heroic and illustrious characters.—Joseph Parker.

"Blue Hen" State.

Blue Hen state is a nickname for Delaware. During the Civil war a certain popular officer of Delaware, named Captain Caldwell, asserted that a game cock to be unconquerable must be "a blue hen's chicken." This name was at once applied to his regiment and later to the state and its people.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

If anyone comes around and wishes you "Good Luck" and charges you $6.50, you are entitled to be slightly suspicious as to whether she really means it. In any event a young woman who works in a local restaurant had that experience Monday, but was thoughtful enough to call the police in time to have an officer get her money back and resume her normal function of letting her luck run its own course without any outside and expensive assistance.

Which permits of saying that a band of gypsies arrived here Monday, traveling in an automobile that bore a District of Columbia registration plate and while Papa Gypsy was negotiating for a new tire Mother Gypsy was out distributing Good Luck wishes at so much per—per meaning whatever she could connect with in the form of cash while the Good-Lucked one was smilingly glimpsing the promised future.

The young woman who was gyped in this particular instance was prompt to discover her loss and as prompt in getting Chief John McFarland on the trail and he was also equally prompt in getting back the young woman's money.

All of which again points the moral that gypsies are not traveling about for their health and are at times unethical in their dealings with trusting citizens who want to know something about the future before the future gets here. This particular little band of gypsies was promptly chased out of town by Chief McFarland, who asked that the incident in which the woman figured here be broadcasted, in order that some casual reader might be saved such an experience as befell the Danielson young woman. If you happen to know anyone who ever made a profit hereabouts negotiating with gypsies over occult matters, you will know someone no one else knows. And if you dont, you will know what your personal chances are of getting rich or getting "good luck" out of dealing with them.

Goodyear citizens would like to have residents of all communities hereabouts know that Goodyear will stage a big display of fireworks this Tuesday evening—the eve of the Fourth—and that all are welcome to come and view the spectacle, which is to be held on the athletic field.

The fund for the display was raised in a community effort and proved to be sufficiently liberal to purchase a splendid assortment of feature pieces as well as the usual array of rockets, bombs, mines, etc., all the products of the best known manufacturer of exhibition fireworks in the country.

In addition to the fireworks display, there will be a concert by Goodyear musicians, so Goodyear in extending a general invitation to the people of all the territory hereabouts is doing a real favor that will be appreciated. And besides it will put those who attend in just the right mood for celebrating the holiday.

No more secure way of protecting your funds while traveling is available than by having them represented in travelers' checks when you are on a vacation or other journey. We will supply them for you. Also remember that all deposits in our savings department if made on or before July 5, will draw interest at the rate of 4 1-2 per cent.—adv.

This being the eve of the Fourth, Chief McFarland will have extra officers on duty to see that those who like to give the big holiday a noisy welcome and set its coming as a time for staging various and sundry pranks have more or less of a curb put on their activities. A special appeal is made by the police to exercise care against causing fires. Reckless use of fireworks and other explosives may easily cause serious damage to property or severe injury to persons.

The police have no desire to regulate the public into abject and solemn silence, but they do wish and expect the public to be reasonable and careful.

Use of revolvers in celebrating the Fourth is positively forbidden as a violation of the law, whether loaded or blank cartridges are used, and those found with revolvers will be promptly placed under arrest. It will be recalled, incidentally, that a permit is required to carry such a weapon.

For those who may forget, mention is made again this morning of the fact that business houses in Danielson as a general rule will suspend business tomorrow—the Fourth—and that early shopping today against the needs of the holiday period will prevent various regrets on the morrow. As with the stores, the mills and manufacturing plants will be closed and the postoffice will adhere to its usual curtailed plan of service on holidays.

Monday, negotiations were nearing completion for the sale of the two Johnson buildings on Main street opposite the Attawaugan hotel to one party and sale of other buildings of the Johnson property—known originally as the Knight property—to other local interests. These buildings, all in the business section, were taken over some weeks ago by Messrs. Levi and Burroughs of Boston from Miss Florence M. Johnson. The Boston men held mortgages on the Johnson property involved and bought to protect their interests. Since that time they have disposed of the Evans block, which was included in their purchases, and are continuing to unload their holdings here. With Monday's prospective sales closed more important property in the business section of the borough will have changed hands within a few months than in any year in the past quarter of a century.

Your money is safer in the savings department of The Windham County National Bank. It enjoys the full protection given to the depositors by the bank's capital of $50,000. Surplus of $50,000. Undivided profits of $50,000, and stockholders' liability of $50,000, a total of $200,000.—adv.

Catholic Shrines of North America was the topic of an interesting address given in Unitarian hall at Brooklyn, Monday evening, by Rev. J. E. Shelley, M. S., of St. James' parish.

The plants of the River Weaving company here in Danielson and of the Killingly Worsted company at Elmville are closed this week to allow the employes a vacation during the holiday period.

Norman Ross, who early in the season caught a trout weighing 3 pounds 2 1-2 ounces will receive the $25 fishing rod offered by the Danielson Rod and Gun club for the largest trout caught by a club member during the season just closed. Master Ross is one of the youngest members of the club, having barely reached his 17th birthday.

An all-day trap shoot is planned by the Danielson Rod and Gun club at its shooting lodge on Allen Hill for the Fourth. This event will bring a large number of good shots together to compete for the prizes the club has offered.

It will be a thoughtful precaution to take in the perch chairs and swings tonight and not to leave the wagons out where the celebrators can get at them with ease, for a time honored custom of razzing such properties on the night before the Fourth continues to be practiced here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Witter and Miss Helen E. Aylward motored to Providence Monday.

John C. Jameson of Bangor was in Danielson Monday on a business trip.

Huckleberries give promise of being abundant in this territory this season and in many pastures will be ready for picking soon.

"Farthest from home" cars noticed in Danielson Monday bore registration plates of Iowa, California and Porto Rico.

Members of the Ladies' Reading circle were at Mrs. Henry Heath's in the Valley district Monday afternoon, for their outing.

Rev. Charles H. Ricketts of Norwich is to be one of the speakers at the exercises to be held in the Union Baptist church in observance of the Fourth.

Keep the Home Brew Fires Burning seems to be one of the popular songs of those who are preparing to observe the Fourth in a dizzy manner.

James Foley, a petty officer in the United States navy, has been spending a few days in Danielson. During his last absence Mr. Foley has been on the Pacific coast.

John B. Bennett of Fall River is in town to spend the holiday period with friends.

PUTNAM

The second annual fair of Putnam lodge of Elks opened with a flare, Monday evening, when attendance was drawn from every town and village for miles around and when Willimantic lodge came here to observe Willimantic night. There was the usual parade and the usual crowds and the jam of motor traffic that came to be associated with Elks' fair nights last summer. And that was not all. Down on Park street, in a fine location, Putnam lodge had set up their fair ground. Under the brilliant light it was a picture of attractiveness and activity on the opening night. Action everywhere. Inside the hollow square formed by the booths wherein all the marvels of All Baba are offered to an eager public there was a constant skirr of activity—a holiday air and a constantly changing picture reminding one of a kaleidoscope.

The grounds are set off by pretty groupings of stately little pines, set about where they are most effective. Myriad lights added to the picture. There was dancing and free vaudeville and a score of other attractions to keep one keyed up to happy pitch. "Hello, Bill," was the favorite salutation and among those who said it to each other were representatives of various lodges of Elks in this and other sections of the country. The fair certainly got away to a fine start with the Willimantic brothers on hand to give it a boost and their presence was duly appreciated by the members of Putnam lodge.

Tonight will be Webster night and the Elks from that town will come down in force. The Fourth is to be reserved for a general jollification period, with a matinee session of the fair as well as an evening session. A remarkably fine display of fireworks has been arranged for the evening of the Fourth.

Included in the free vaudeville is Lipinski's circus, which includes 50 dogs and other animals. The Newmans do a boxing exhibition while riding a unicycle. The dog circus is to be held over the Fourth, so as to furnish a special attraction for the children.

Malcolm M. Willey has been appointed to the faculty of Dartmouth college, Hanover, N. H. He is to be an instructor in the department of sociology, in which upwards of 800 students of the college are enrolled.

This is Mr. Willey's first appointment as a member of a college faculty. The past month he completed a post-graduate course at Columbia university, where for a time during the latter part of the winter and spring he was engaged as an instructor.

He is a son of Mrs. Helen M. Willey of this city, a graduate of Putnam High school and of Clark college, Worcester, where he was graduated with highest honors. He has planned to continue his studies and research work during the summer and will take up his duties at Dartmouth in the early fall.

On this night before the Fourth celebrators will be allowed reasonably leniency in having a good time, Captain William J. Jarvis of the police said Monday, but any boisterousness or unseemly conduct will be promptly squelched. It is not the intention of the police to set up any blue law standard of observance for the eve of the holiday, but on the other hand those who wish to have a bit of fun will be expected to restrain themselves from committing nuisances or disturbances of the peace. Captain Jarvis will have an array of special officers on duty to augment the regular force. The officers will be stationed at strategic points about the city and will be charged with the duty of seeing on this special occasion that proper order is maintained.

The "chow" plant of a carnival company that played at North Grosvenordale the past week was being held in bondage Monday, when the carnival had moved on to a town down the line for another week of business. The chow plant was seized at the week end because of a claim by Charles Russell, represented as owner of the carnival, against Angelo and Nick, who were holders of a concession to feed at the carnival grounds. It was anticipated Monday that there would be a prompt adjustment and and that the equipment held as security for the claim would be released.

Today, as the eighth week of the strike of workers from the Manhasset Manufacturing company plant is being rounded out, there is no evidence of a sign of a concession from either side. Oliver Christian, who has been directing the strike, has returned here from attending the general convention of the American Federation of Textile Operatives at Norwich and again is in close touch with the local situation. Meetings of the strikers were held in their hall Monday, as is customary each day. The mill is continuing to operate. There is not the slightest outward evidence of break in the deadlocked situation that has endured for nearly two months. The mill company does not recognize its former workers as strikers and the strikers are set in their belief and determination that they will yet force that recognition. Their slogan seems to be along the line of what a famous soldier said about fighting it out if it takes all summer. Each week, however, finds some of the strikers benched in new positions. Many of them have found work in mills in other New England cities and have moved away from Putnam.

Miss Ruth Child, the past year on the faculty of Mounty Holyoke college, is spending the summer vacation with her mother, Mrs. Annie Child, of South Main street. Miss Child is to enter the University of Michigan in the fall for graduate work.

One man quick to see a business opportunity was busy Monday getting up a supply of dobson D'ell to the bass fishermen who will flock to Alexander's lake today for the opening of the season. Bass like dobson—sometimes—and this active-minded citizen hopes to realize liberally on getting a supply of a kind of bait that is not readily available for the average man.

Donald Johnson, son of Attorney and Mrs. Eric H. Johnson of this city, and a college friend left here Monday for a summer trip that has Madrid as its destination. Both young men will travel considerably in Spain. Both speak Spanish. They will visit at Gibraltar and other points of interest abroad before returning here late in the summer.

Miss Edna Mann, who has been visiting here the past two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Mann, of Grove street, has returned to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Muir of Worcester were visitors Sunday with Mrs. A. W. Macdonald of Oak Hill.

C. W. Flagg, who died at Pleasure Beach Saturday, was a brother of Town Clerk David Flagg, also of Miss Margaret Flagg of this city. For many years he was a resident of Putnam and was employed as a compositor on a local paper.

Fireworks stands in this city found their business approaching its peak for the season during Monday, when buying began to be very heavy.

This week Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seder and family are to remove to Boston, where they are to make their home.

Several manufacturing concerns in eastern Windham county are closed this week, giving employes a vacation over the holiday period.

There were no arrests over the week end and no session of the city court Monday morning.

Governor Templeton will be a guest in this city next Friday afternoon and evening and will make an address in the evening at the fair.

Attention was being called Monday to the fact that the use of revolvers is forbidden by celebrators of Independence day, even though they are using blank cartridges. Those found with such weapons will be liable to arrest.

The handicap imposed upon the telephone service by the strike of operators continued to be felt in Putnam Monday by those who tried to get long distance calls through to certain points in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. The calls are obtainable, but not with the usual promptitude.

Already the fine white front of the new National bank building is being marred by those who thoughtlessly and recklessly scratch matches on the surfaces of the structure.

Sunday afternoon, at Wildwood park, a concert by the Grosvenordale band was enjoyed by a large number of people.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rundell have returned from their wedding trip and are living on Bradford Hill.

One of the recent improvements in the village is the new covered service stand installed by Louis Frink.

There was a good attendance at the open meeting of St. Jean Baptiste society, Friday evening at the Community house. An interesting programme was given, whist was played, and refreshments were served.

Miss May Evans, Miss Irene Evans Miss Cecile Mercier and Miss Irene Mecier have returned home from the Baltic convent school, for the summer vacation.

One of the recent social events of the village asc the whist party given by St. Anne's society of St. John's church. There was a large number present to enjoy the evening, strawberry shortcake and punch being served.

Charles Hopkins and family have been spending several days at their cottage at Lord's Point.

Robert Flowers is at home for a week from Providence where he works and studies in Brown and Sharpe's.

The July meeting of Westerly town council was held in the council chambers Monday morning. There were present Councilmen Clifford W. Campbell, president; Louis Rossi, Charles S. Fowler, Farquhar Smith, also Town Clerk Everett E. Whipple and Town Solicitor, John Ferguson, Jr.

For the police committee, Farquhar Smith reported that C. R. Johnson had complied with recommendations as to installation of telephone, life preservers, etc., so that necessary licenses could be granted him.

Harry R. Milner, who resides on East avenue, appeared before the council fathers and voiced in no uncertain terms his feelings relative to highway conditions in Westerly—"Damnable and deplorable" was what he told the councilmen. Mr. Milner made an appearance at the Westerly financial town meeting last May, when highway matters were discussed, asked the Westerly highway commission what they intended to do to make East avenue at least safe for passage. He was told that the thoroughfare would receive the commission's attention in due time. Monday, Mr. Milner said conditions there were most unsatisfactory and demanded that immediate steps be taken to rectify conditions, and wif it was not in the power of the Westerly town council, the source to which the Westerly highway commission eventually turns as responsible for the raising of money, and the senior body of the town, as the council is, to whom should he appeal? Stating that he was inspired by no personal feelings of animosity toward the ghihway commission, Mr. Milner said: "Isn't there some way that they can be brought to a realization of their responsibility. If it is a fact that the commission is inefficient, have them removed from office. If the board of water commissioners and highway commissioners can't work together, then let's get rid of them and have a tow nmanager!" Mr. Milner wanted to know why it would not be a more businesslike procedure to obtain the necessary legislation for a bond issue of $500,000 and have authorities consulted capable of handling the situation for the solution of road problems.

Mr. Milner called the attention of the councilmen to East avenue, Main street and Thompson's corners, where he said conditions were such that the town would be the defendant in a lawsuit unless conditions were remedied. He thought that the monies now being spenic ould better be used to care for the larger outlay, as much as would be needed for interest and the balance for other work. Conditions relative to highways were such that there was not another town of its size where they were so deplorable and it was reflecting upon the reputation of Westerly. In conclusion the speaker stated that it was a fine town but had most damnable roads.

Councilman Rossi—"You are right!"

Councilman Smith—"Call an open meeting of the town council to consider the conditions."

Councilman Fowler — "Avondale people got good roads, because the commissioners wished to do it."

Town Solicitor Ferguson—"The town council has the power to examine into the nature of the work done by the highway commission."

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bush of Baltic, Conn., were visitors with friends in Mystic, Westerly and Watch Hill on Sunday.

Miss Doris Hartridge, stenographer for the Erie Lay Boy company, High street, is enjoying two weeks' vacation, a week of which time she will pass in Hartford.

Dr. Charles A. Farrell of Waterbury, physician to the Eagles of that city, is a guest at the Eldridge house, Quonochontaug, R. I, Dr. Farrell expects to be joined later by his wife for a two weeks' visti.

Everett Benson of Philadelphia, a brother of Miss Helen Benson, R. N., a visting nurse in Westerly, is in town for the week.

Joseph Terranova of Wauregan, Conn., was the week-end guest of Westerly relatives and friends.

Thomas Shed of Chestnut street left Westerly the first of the week for Uxbridge, Mass., where he will be engaged in electrical work for some time.

Clarence Price of Southbridge, Mass., formerly a resident of Westerly, visited friends here the past week.

Michael Walsh and family of Boston visited relatives and friends in Westerly over the week-end.

William Lynch of East avenue, employed in Newport, R. I., is in Westerly for over the Fourth of July.

P. J. Foley of New York is the guest of his father, James Foley, of Granite street for two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Frank L. Moore, her son, Richard, and daughter Betty, of Tulsa, Okla., are passing the summer at Watch Hill, where they will later be joined by Frank L. Moore and Clint Moore. The family has made the practice of passing the summer at Watch Hill hotels, but this year will occupy a cottage.

STONINGTON

Howard Elliott, chief special deputy of the state commission on domestic animals, has ordered owners of dogs to keep them on chains, and in their own yards. Mr. Elliott is working here at present. The fact that one of the dogs in Stonington, thought to have become infected with the germ from another dog, did not develop symptoms of the disease until three weeks after the first animal was killed, was the cause for fear, he said, in Stonington, and other places, where there have been cases of rabies this month, that there are still dogs which may now have the disease without exhibiting symptoms. The borough of Stonington is still under quarantine. J. M. Whittlesey, commissioner of domestic animals, has sent to every dog warden in the state, a letter of warning, and the state department has already notified health officers.

Another one of Stonington's landmarks, was run into by a Massachusetts car, for while the driver of the machine was gazing about at the beauties of the town, and watching the sidewalk at the same town, he backed his machine into one of the oldest stone posts on Water street Friday. The machine received a broken wheel cap, and the fender on the left side was dented badly.

Otto Wiersch of Mystic was arrested by the state police, and brought before Judge William A. Wilcox, charged with operating a motor truck without carrying a license. A fine of $3 was imposed which with the added costs made the total amount $13.18. He paid. The officers who patrol the state highway between Mystic and Westerly, are beginning to be noticeable, and the recklessness that has been a source of trouble on the cement to drivers of other machines, is being stopped and drivers of machines go more slowly and abide by the laws of the state better.

The fire hydrant on Church street, which has served the fire department and the neighborhood for at least twenty-five years, has not moved to the sidewalk close to Calvary Episcopal church, where it will do twenty-five years or more of service, probably.

Many handsome roses were exhibited Monday afternoon at the session of the Garden club, and many choice varieties were shown by members. A rose garden that always attracts attention is the one on the property of Mrs. Nellie Trumbull and her sister, Mss Marla Trumbull, on Main street, where over a hundred rose bushes are in bloom each year.

Local dealers Friday purchased the first two swordfish brought in here by Captain Joe Maderia, he and his crew having harpooned the big fish. This will enable those who usually have swordfish for their Fourth of July dinner to have some Wednesday.

The Misses Durgin, of Orchard street are entertaining Miss Bernice Dutton of Hartford.

Dr. Clarence P. Capron and party of Norwich motored to the beach Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stewart, Mrs. Elsie Killars and John Bindloss left Saturday on a motor trip to California.

Miss Dorothy Pierson of Wellesley, Mass., is the guest of friends.

Mrs. Frank Grandy, of Main street was called to Norwich by the death of a relative.

William W. Ledward, Leon Sprague, Gus Tiebeau and Manuel Andrews were among callers in New London Monday.

Billings Burch, of New York, is at his home here on Main street, to spend the Fourth with relatives.

Mrs. Alfred Kirschieper has returned to her home in Bay View avenue, having been in South Manchester on a visit.

Miss Delinda Santos and Miss Caroline Santos are spending the holiday in New Bedford and Providence.

About thirty-five employes of the Atwood Machine company were given a two weeks' vacation Saturday, due to a slack time in the industry.

Basket willow is raised on 44,000 acres in Poland.

MYSTIC

Charles Q. Eldredge holds the record here again this season, as he is credited with having dug potatoes from his garden on June 26th, a stunt but few have been able to do in this locality. Some of the potatoes were three and a half inches in diameter.

The art exhibition in Broadway school building will this year be open to the public until August fourth. Noted artists who came to the village for the summer are among the exhibitors, and closely following this Charles H. Davis, N. A., will show some of his pictures, his large number of paintings will be sent from all over the country to this exhibit.

Fourth of July the water sports carnival will be held on the river on Wednesday afternoon. In the fancy diving contest the person diving has the option of selecting his own dive. In the canoe, row boat and tub races, each entrant must furnish his own boat or tub. The promramme of swimming events will start at 2:30 p. m. and will be as follows: 20-yard swim, 85 pound class boys and girls; 40-yard swim, 100 pound class boys and girls; 60-yard swim 115 pound class boys and girls; 80-yard swim, unlimited weight, boys and girls, men and boys. Fancy diving optional dives (unlimited weight), boys and girls, men and women. Fancy diving optional dives, 115 pounds or under, boys and girls. Canoe race open to all. Tub race, for boys under 100 pounds. Tub race for girls under 100 pounds. Tug of war open to all.

The activities committee met at the Community house and have made final arrangements for a Rainbow bazaar at the Community house.

Miss Anna Denison, who underwent an operation for appendicitis recently, at a hospital in Brooklyn, is recovering.

Mrs. George L. Farnham is a patient at the Lawrence hospital, New London.

Mrs. Wilfred Rollinson has returned from a visit in Maine and New Hampshire.

Judge and Mrs. Frederick H. Brewer, of West Mystic, motored to Norwich Monday and called on relatives.

Thomas M. Doyle, of Willimantic was a caller here Friday.

James Cooper has returned from a visit in Brodgeport.

Mr. and Mrs. J. MacDonald and family are spending the summer in East Killingly.

The boys in town will celebrate good and lively the Fourth this year, judging by the large supply of fireworks dealers have ready to be disposed of.

NOANK

One of Noank's young men, while at work at the Sea Sled company's works at West Mystic, caught his finger in the planer, on which he was working, badly lacerating it. Whether he will have to have the injured member amputated is not known yet.

Friday evening the American Mechanics' baseball team defeated the Black Tigers, 18 to 10. A series of games will be played here, which will be continued until September.

Mrs. Mary Lamb entertained the True Blue society at her home on Elm street, Friday, nine members being present. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Ida Thompson has returned home, after a visit on Long Island.

Mrs. Fannie O'Brien is entertaining Ira Chesebro of New York.

Freeman Rogers will visit Spring Hill over the Fourth, with his father, Captain Erastus Rogers.

Miss Emma Wilbur, who has been a patient at a hospital in New London, has returned home.

BUILDING OPERATIONS IN NORWICH

During the quarter that closed on June 30th the number of building permits issued by Fire Marshal Howard L. Stanton set a new high record for the quarter, 103 permits being issued during the period. The valuation of the new work and the alterations as given by the owners is approximately $275,752. The permits issued were as follows: new frame houses 14; new frame garages 38; new frame sheds and shops 7; new frame barn 1; new concrete factories 2; new brick buildings 2; additions and alterations to frame buildings 33; additions and alterations to brick buildings 8; total 102.

During the past week there were seven building permits granted by the fire marshal, the largest of which was for the addition to the Manual Training building at the Norwich Free Academy and was granted to Cudworth and Thompson, architects. The approximate cost of the new building which will be of brick construction and fireproof will be $40,000.

Work along building lines has advanced with commendable rapidity and some of the projects now in hand have made rapid strides toward completion. The New Palace theatre is being rushed along and the work of laying the concrete floor has been started and the steel lath for the ceiling is being set in place. The walls of the building are practically completed with the exception of the front trim.

The new house for W. F. Lester on the Laurel Hill road is well along, having been boarded in and the rubble stone work on the exterior nearly complete. Other building projects have also made rapid progress.

The building permits issued during the past week are as follows:

To Ambrose R. Taaffe to erect a frame garage at 54 Eleventh street for Mrs. B. Kelly. The garage will be 12x18 feet with cypress sheathing and asbestos shingles.

To John Halpin, to add a frame veranda to the present house on North Main street. The veranda will be 5x20 feet and roofed with slate-coated roofing.

To Valentine Reich to erect a frame garage, 20x20 feet, on Pratt street for Joseph Golkowski.

To William C. Noyes to build an addition to his frame garage on Laurel Hill avenue. The addition will be 24x48 feet, one story high, with concrete foundation and floor. The superstructure will be frame and the roof will be covered with flint surfaced roofing.

To George Boucher to add a veranda to the present house of Samuel Jillouit at 77 Williams street. The veranda will be 8x20 feet with shingle roof and sidings.

To Cudworth and Thompson to erect a large brick addition to the Manual Training building at the Norwich Free Academy and to also make minor alterations in the Academy building. The addition will be 52x61 feet and the construction will be the same as the present buildings with concrete foundation, brick walls and built up asphalt roof. The stairs will be of fireproof construction as will the whole building. Work has already been started. The building will be two stories high with a basement.

To George H. Selcer to erect a frame garage for Charlotte Mallin on Fourth street. The garage will be 12x18 feet with cement foundation.

REAL ESTATE SALES AND MORTGAGE LOANS

In Norwich during the past week there were 17 sales of real estate as compared to 7 sales for the corresponding week a year ago. The mortgage loans for the respective weeks were $35,537 and $47,500.

There were 13 sales of real estate in New London during the past week, six more than for the corresponding week in 1922. The mortgage loans for the respective weeks were $115,165 and $32,000.

The State Situation.

Building permits issued during the week in the larger centers of the state registered a total of 316 for building costing $866,805, comparing with 248 permits in the like week of 1922, when the cost of buildings amounted to $576,055, and 225 in 1921, with the cost of new structures amounting to $576,773.

NEW LONDON.

The H. Wales Lines Co., Meriden, have been awarded the contract for a brick addition to the New London City National Bank and work is to be started at once. The new construction is to conform with the architecture of the present structure, and will include new marble and granite. There will be tile vestibules and baths. The superstructure will require new structural steel.

Architects have been commissioned to draw plans for a business building to be erected by the Alling Rubber Co. at 238 State street, next to the National Bank of Commerce. The property is to be transferred to the prospective builders on Aug. 1, when the present building, known as the Utley building, will be demolished. The proposed new building will be 48x100 feet, two stories high, with three stores on the ground floor and six offices on the second floor. It will be of fireproof construction, with tapestry brick front and artificial stone trim and copper store fronts. The plans provide for an additional story to be erected later. There will be steam heat and all modern improvements.

DANIELSO....

At a special town meeting held this past week the sum of $5,600 was appropriated for the erection of a two-room addition to the Goodyear school. F. E. Cunneen is the chairman of the school committee.

PUTNAM.

Estimates are being received for the proposed business block for Stoumbelis Bros. on Main street. Changes on the original plans call for a building 64x78 feet, two stores and basement. The walls will be of tapestry brick, with artificial stone trim. There will be four stores on the ground floor, a store in the basement and 13 office rooms on the second floor.

WILLIMANTIC.

The Capitol Theatre Corporation of this city is planning to construct a theatre on Main street. The building will have a frontage of 95 feet and will run back 142 feet. It will be of brick, two stories high, and the front portion of the building will be arranged for stores and offices. The officers of the corporation are: President, Alex Davison, Norwich; secretary, Valentine L. Murphy; and treasurer, Charles A. Gates, both of this city.

TAFTVILLE

One of the prettiest weddings of the early summer season took place Monday morning at 8 o'clock at the Sacred Heart church, when Miss Florida Marie Marsan, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Marsan, of Hunters avenue became the bride of William Joseph Quinn of Versailles, the solemn nuptial high mass being celebrated by Rev. [illegible] Quinn of Grosvenordale, a brother of the groom. [illegible] cousin of the bride was deacon and Rev. C. O. Bellerose, pastor of the Sacred Heart church, sub-deacon. Other priests seated in the sanctuary were Rev. Ludovic Paradis of Voluntown, Rev. John Anderson, D. D., of Hartford, Rev. George Grady of Windsor Locks, Rev. Joseph H. Seiferman of Naugatuck, Rev. Frederick H. DesSureault of Occum and Rev. Henri F. Chagnon of Taftville.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Adela M. Marsan as maid of honor, and the best man was James Quinn of Worcester, Mass. The ushers were Asa Dion of Tufts, Boston, Mass., and Ulric Dion of Taftville, cousins of the bride. As the bridal party entered the church, the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was played by Professor Adolph Dugas, organist at the church. Mendelsohn's wedding march was used for the recessional. There was special music by a trio consisting of Mrs. Ralph C. Dion, Omer Tellier, Sr., and Mrs. Delvica Benoit.

The bride was charming in a gown of white canton crepe, her bridal veil of tulle being caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Her maid wore a gown of peach colored canton crepe with leghorn hat to match, and carried tea roses. The double ring service was used, and preceding the ceremony the insignia of membership of the bride in the Children of Mary society was removed by Miss Violet Dion and Miss Marie Rose Caron.

Immediately after the ceremony in the church, a wedding breakfast and reception for sixty guests was held at the Parish hall. Receiving with the bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Marsan, parents of the bride and John Quinn, father of the groom. The color scheme at the hall was pink and white, roses being used in the table decorations.

The groom's gift to his bride was five hundred dollars in gold, and to his best man he gave a gold pen and gold pencil. The ushers were presented gold pieces. The bride gave the groom diamond cuff links, and to her maid she presented a gold piece.

The display of gifts at the bride's home included numerous valuable and useful articles, including china, silver, glassware, household furniture, linen, and over a thousand dollars in gold. During the afternoon the young couple left for a wedding trip in their automobile which will take them to Washington, D. C., and upon their return will reside in Taftville while a new home on Elmwod avenue, Norwich, is being completed for them. The bride's traveling suit was of blue poiret twill, with small gray hat.

The groom was born in Occum, the son of John Quinn and the late Julia Peloquin Quinn. He is the proprietor of Quinn's Insurance Agency of Norwich and is a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus. His bride was born in Taftville, the daughter of Joseph C. and Cordelia Rousseau Marsan, and has always made her home here, where she is very popular. The wishes of their numerous friends go with the happy couple for a prosperous married life.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. DuMoulin of New Bedford, Mass., Mrs. Remi Marsan and Arthur Marsan of Walpole, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Brodeur of Meriden, Mrs. M. A. Lambert of New Bedford, Mass., James Quinn of Worcester, Mass., Mrs. Margaret Dufault and Miss Evelyn Dufault of Hartford, J. J. COLUMBIA

At the meeting of the grange Wednesday evening there was a very small attendance, owing to the extreme heat. The lecturer's program was deferred to a subsequent meeting. It was determined to hold a Fourth of July celebration and a committee consisting of Cora Hutchins, Henry La Fleur and William M. Wolff was appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

Mrs. Stella Downer Lyman of Ozone Park, N. Y., was a visitor at the home of Miss Eliza Hutchins on the Green over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hunt went to Providence Monday last. Mr. Hunt attended the reunion of his class at Brown university, and Mrs. Hunt visited her mother, Mrs. Simon Goff, who returned with them Wednesday.

Misses Margaret Hutchins and Beatrice Collins, also John, Demosko, all residents of Chestnut Hill and members of the senior class in Windham High school, were graduated with honors. The Misses Hutchins and Collins each gave a portion of the class prophecy, and John Demesko delivered the ivy oration with fine effect.

The Salvation Army has appointed Charles K. Hitchcock their agent in Columbia during the present campaign for the amount needed for their home service and building appeal $7,000.

Miss Eleanor Collins of Chestnut Hill is at home from Smith College, Northampton, Mass., for the summer vacation.

On Friday afternoon an automobile driven by a young lady, came down from the lake to the center, and on turning into the road to Willimantic cramped the wheel too much, shooting across the road to the left, going down into the ditch, ascending a terrace about two feet high and striking head-on into a monument erected in honor of the men who went from Columbia to the war. The car was scratched, but no other damage was done, not even to the plants placed around the base of the monument. There were four occupants in the car who were badly frightened.

Friday evening Clayton Hunt operated the radio at Mrs. Yeomans' home. Several members were distinctly heard among them being a portion of a drama; and an orchestral concert in Philadelphia, also President Harding's address on Transportation, in Kansas City.

Rev. T. Newton Owen preached his final sermon as pastor of the Columbia Congregational church Sunday morning on the text, Thy Will Be Done. He has accepted an appointment to the faculty of Boria college among the mountain whites of Kentucky.

With Jones pitching in top form, Columbia beat Lebanon 6 to 5 in 11 innings, on Columbia Green recently. The game was in doubt all the way through, until Porter's double followed by Rathburn's terrific smash put the game on ice for the old Lebanon Crank boys, in the last of the eleventh inning. The all-around play of the Lebanon team was of a first class order, especially the outfielding, but their pitchers were very ineffective at times and were hit much harder than the score shows.

The support given Jones was poor at times, but the big pitcher had almost perfect control in the pinches.

The features of the game were the playing of N. Pultz and McCall for Lebanon, also the batting and fielding of R. Cobb of Columbia. Brown of Willimantic umpired the game and his work was very satisfactory to both teams.

A. E. Lyman, who has instructed many bands in this locality, has been the leader for some time of the Hampton Ladies' band. He is making arrangements to give a series of concerts with this band at Columbia lake during July and August.

Rheumatism Is Ended, Declares Mrs. Dumont

"I just want to tell what Tanlac has done to my troubles," declared Mrs. Marie Dumont, 225 Mason St., Fall River, Mass.

"In the first place, it gave me a perfectly wonderful appetite, got me so I could enjoy my meals for the first time in years, and then it strengthened my stomach so that everything I ate agreed with me perfectly, instead of souring and torturing me like it did before. As soon as Tanlac got me to where I could eat and digest my food it commenced building me up. My strength came back to me, I must have gained over ten pounds in weight and the rheumatic pains that had bothered me in my back gradually disappeared. Then I got to where I could sleep, for my nerves became quiet, and today I feel stronger and better than I have in years. After all it has done for me, I can't help being enthusiastic about Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

If you feel "out of sorts," sluggish and weary

If you feel "out of sorts," sluggish, weary and irritable, if you lack the spirit and sparkle and the ability to do your work with the same briskness and cheerfulness that you see in others, it is probably because your organs are not generating enough vital energy.

If your blood lacks the normal amount of the elements that are necessary in the production of vitality or energy, it is not possible for you to feel strong, industrious and spirited; you are bound to tire quickly, feel downcast and find it difficult to take proper interest in your work or your favorite recreations.

If you are not feeling as "fit" as you would like to, if you are in need of reinvigoration, you should take Wincarnis for a week or so. You will probably be surprised and delighted at the promptness with which this general tonic and restorative will enrich your blood, strengthen your nervous system and relieve your feeling of mental debility and exhaustion. Physicians are prescribing Wincarnis because of its great virtues as a tonic and reconstructive.

DROWNED NEW LONDON BOY'S BODY RECOVERED IN HARBOR MONDAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, July 2.—The body of Edward Osgood Fisher, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher, of No. 48 Nathan Hale street, who was drowned in the Thames river two weeks ago, when he fell from the launch Belvedere owned by the Hotel Griswold, where the young man was employed as bell clerk, was found floating in the harbor this forenoon by Capt. Frank E. Thompson of Crystal avenue, captain of the fishing boat, Eleanor Louise. The face of the lad was badly decomposed, probably due to the body being rolled on the rocky river bottom and from being eaten by fish. The body was towed to municipal wharf where it was examined by Medical Examiner Harold R. Heyer and then was removed to a local undertaking establishment. Captain Thompson will receive the reward of $20 offered for the recovery of the body by New London lodge of Elks. Young Fisher met his death while the Belvedere was crossing from the hotel to New London. When but a short distance from the hotel pier, Fisher, who was sitting on the rail of the craft, suddenly fell over the side and disappeared, in spite of the fact that the Belvedere remained in the vicinity a long time, but the body was not seen to come to the surface. Monday morning, when Capt. Thompson was piloting his craft toward the mouth of the harbor, he spied a body floating off Eastern Point and close to the mouth of the harbor. Steering the craft alongside the body, it was made fast to the boat and then brought to the city landing. It is believed that Fisher was stricken by illness which caused him to fall into the Thames.

Miss Elizabeth Hayes, of Groton, Mrs. Alex Taylor of Quaker Hill, Miss Marie Miller of Stonington, Mrs. Elizabeth Manley of Main street, Master Alfred Saunders of Jay street, Miss Marion McClure of Vauxhall street, Amrase Burrows and Leslie Cooper of Hartford, patients at Lawrence hospital, were able to go to their respective homes Monday.

Mrs. Tempsey E. Johnson, 64, colored, died Monday morning at the home of her son-in-law, Morton Jeffers, of No. 53 Belden street. Mrs. Johnson had not been in sound health for some time.

The funeral of Charles Kart was held Monday afternoon at two o'clock at his home, No. 44 High street, Groton. The services were conducted by Rev. George R. Atha, pastor of the Groton Heights Baptist church. Burial was in Groton cemetery.

A man who gave the name of Gus Corey and who claims to be an electrician boarding at the Chandler house on Bank street, was in the police court Monday forenoon charged with the theft of a Cadillac sedan valued at $2,000, the property of Simon Atkins of 177 Farmington avenue, Hartford, who is staying temporarily at Ocean Beach. Corey is manifestly a self-possessed individual, for when he came to be questioned he asked for a postponement of the case. He was told that the case was going to trial unless there was the best of reason for a postponement. Then he said he wanted a lawyer. He was told to get one, the names of some half a dozen being given to him to make a selection. He picked Clayton B. Smith and that attorney soon appeared and after a conference with his client decided that he would demur to the complaint and conceal his defense until the case got to the superior court. Judge Prince fixed the bond of Corey at $2,000. He could not furnish a surety and went to jail.

Corey told a unique story of meeting a man on the street who asked him to take the Atkins car to State street. Of course Corey did as he was requested to do without knowing any more about the car or the man with whom he talked. This was the story Corey told when he was arrested. It is then developed that when Mr Atkins left his car locked the engine and the lights, but that Corey had found a way to unlock them. A less gritty man than Atkins would have allowed Corey to escape. Mr. Atkins says Corey drove the car up to the walk on State street and immediately tackled Corey for an explanation of how he came to have the car. Corey told the foolish story of meeting a stranger. Atkins sought a policeman but not finding one at hand called the crowd on the street to stop Corey, who had dashed to get away. Corey ran to an alleyway on Golden street where he crouched on a stairway leading to a dark building in the rear and there he was captured by Sergeant Hick, who had joined in the chase.

Walter Moran was fined $100 in the police court Monday morning for operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He skirmished around for a while and then obtained the money. Moran has before been charged with a similar offense. Last Saturday night he had the car of Walter Phinney, a trolleyman, and started out for a ride. He then filled up with liquor and ran his car into that of Oscar Oscarson on Montauk avenue. Oscarson and three companions were in the car and they did not allow Moran to escape. They took him to the police station. Moran had no license to operate the car so the motor vehicle commissioner will probably deal with him further for his offense.

George Chase of No. 7 McKinley avenue, reported to the police Sunday night that a lady's coat was stolen from his automobile while the machine was parked on State street, near the Hotel Mohican.

Farley Shapiro of No. 225 Broadway, Providence, was ordered Monday by Traffic Officer Clyde Murphy to appear in the police court Tuesday forenoon and answer a charge of violation of the city ordinance regulating parking of vehicles on State street. Shapiro's auto was parked over a half hour, which is the time limit in which machines may park on that thoroughfare.

John Zaziow, proprietor of a store on Blackhall street will appear in the police court tomorrow morning charged with violation of the city ordinance regulating the sale of fireworks. Zaziow did not apply to the city council for permission to sell fireworks, for which privilege the license fee is $35. Zaziow believed he could sell the fireworks and escape the payment of the fee. He was complained against and Motorcycle John J. Cavanaugh ordered Zaziow into court.

Arthur Jackson complained to the police this morning that river pirates had boarded his power boat in Winthrop Cove some time Saturday night or Sunday, and had stolen several brass deck plates and brass covers.

Lawrence Allen, an inmate at the Norwich State Hospital for the Insane escaped this morning. Allen is 25 and may come to New London in an effort to reach his home, which is in New Haven.

The police Monday afternoon ascertained that the automobile which struck John Fitzpatrick, the little son of Prohibition Enforcement Agent Joseph Fitzpatrick and wife of Willetts avenue several days ago, is owned by Edwin G. Bagley of Boston. The automobile sped away without the driver stopping to ascertain how seriously the youngster was injured. A witness of the accident obtained the registration number of the car and inquiry of the Boston authorities revealed the owner of the machine.

Mrs. Eva Shavitz of Providence is in New London for the purpose of securing the assistance of the police in locating her son, Samuel, who ran away from home Sunday.

Mrs. Thomas Colbert, residing in the Harris building apartments, and wife of Train Caller Colbert at the union station, is mourning the loss of two diamond earstuds. Mrs. Colbert went to the depot and while there she placed a handbag containing the gems on the counter of the news stand. She absented herself from the stand a few minutes and when she returned to take possession of the bag she discovered that someone had taken it.

Mary Freeman has sold a house and lot on West Colt street to Ellen Lee Reagan.

The Thames Improvement company has sold a building lot on Nameaug avenue to Maude E. Prentis.

Bronislaw Maikinski of Essex and, Herbert Lyons of Old Lyme were recently ordered to appear in the police court for violation of the automobile parking laws, but failed to do so. The police obtained the identification of the machines and it is probable that a warrant for the men's arrest will be issued.

Albert Robinson, the 7 year old boy residing at No. 163 North Bank street, who was struck by an automobile owned and operated by Nathan Weisler of Uncasville on Main street Sunday afternoon, has sustained internal injuries as was feared, and the chances of the boy's recovery are considered doubtful. Weisler has not been arrested.

Carlos Barry, cashier of the Union Bank and Trust company, who has been enjoying a week's vacation at Fisher's Island, has resumed his duties.

Thomas F. Robertson, who recently sold his shop on State street because of ill health, is at Ocean Beach for the balance of the summer. Mr. Robertson's condition does not improve and he is now compelled to use crutches.

The Norwich police Monday evening requested the New London authorities to be on the lookout for Charles King, 17, who it was believed had come to New London in an endeavor to get to New York. A short time afterward the New London police received information to the effect that the runaway youth had been apprehended in Norwich.

Harry Orlando of New London and Miss Louise Alviani of No. 40 Poquonoc road, Groton, were married at 9 o'clock this morning, the nuptial mass being celebrated at Sacred Heart church, Groton, by Rev. William J. Fox, rector. Joseph Orlando, brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Lena Boano attended the bride. The flower girls were Misses Louise Sandora, Caroline Carlo and Annie Alviani, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando left at noon upon their wedding trip, which will include a visit in Washington, and upon their return will make their home in Groton.

Prof. Charles J. Starr of the University of Illinois and Mrs. Starr, now residing in Urbana, Ill., are spending a few days with relatives in New London. Mrs. Starr is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Caulkins of Franklin street.

Col. George Pillbury, formerly located in New London, at which time he was in charge of the Engineer corps, U. S. A., now residing in Washington, and Mrs. Pillbury are guests of Mrs. A. C. Tyler.

Miss Alice Bishop, supervisor of the New London public schools, is in New Hampshire attending the summer session of the Berkshire Art school.

Charles Momm, recently graduated from Annapolis Naval academy, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Momm. Ensign Momm will remain in New London until the 9th inst., when he will go to Washington, where he will be stationed.

Lieut. and Mrs. John Barrett of Brooklyn, N. Y., formerly of New London, were guests at the Hotel Mohican over the week end. Lieut. Barrett was stationed in New London during the war, having been stationed at the United States Coast Guard academy at Fort Trumbull.

If you feel "out of sorts," sluggish and weary

If you feel "out of sorts," sluggish, weary and irritable; if you lack the spirit and sparkle and the ability to do your work with the same briskness and cheerfulness that you see in others, it is probably because your organs are not generating enough vital energy.

If your blood lacks the normal amount of the elements that are necessary in the production of vital energy, it is not possible for you to feel strong, industrious and sprightly; you are bound to tire quickly, feel downcast and find it difficult to take proper interest in your work or your favorite recreations.

If you are not feeling as "fit" as you would like to; if you are in need of reinvigoration, you should take Wincarnis for a week or so. You will probably be surprised and delighted at the promptness with which this general tonic and restorative will enrich your blood, strengthen your nervous system and relieve your feeling of general debility and exhaustion. Physicians are prescribing Wincarnis because of its great virtue as a tonic and reconstructive.

HOW TO FORGET TROUBLES

TROUBLES knock up your system like Jack Dempsey knocks down his opponent.

Troubles deal blows both in the head and stomach—and they hurt the stomach more than they do the head!

Troubles give the stomach indigestion, slow up the liver—and then follow constipation and biliousness.

The way to get rid of troubles is to invigorate digestion, stimulate liver and bowels and tone up the entire system. The best way to do this—has been for the past 80 years—is to take Beecham's Pills.

Then you will feel so good that "troubles" become merely problems, to be solved readily by the clear, keen brain of health.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

STOCK MARKET ACTIVE

New York, July 2—Stock prices displayed a decidedly better tone in today's active session. Liquidation of stocks for impaired marginal accounts and active short selling of a few individual issues impaired a reactionary trend to the opening dealings, but good buying support made its appearance around noon and induced extensive short covering in some of the standard issues, which closed 1 to 3 points higher.

Reported seizure of the Krupp plant in Essen by the French had no effect on stock prices, the movement of which apparently was governed by international market conditions, but it resulted in a break of nearly 15 points in French francs with sympathetic heaviness in the other European currencies, and a reaction in French bond prices.

Saturday's bad break just before the close resulted in numerous calls for more margin by the large commission houses. The inability or unwillingness to supply this brought about the forced liquidation at the opening. Despite the fact that earnings of the Pan-American Petroleum company were officially reported at more than $13 a share for the first half of the year, the stocks broke 4 points or more on what was reported to be a bear raid, both classes touching new low levels for the year but making partial recovery before the close.

New Haven broke below 13 on the publication of the report of the joint New England Railroad committee advocating a financial readjustmenty of the road as the only way to avoid a receivership. The stock rallied later to 13 7-8 where it was off nearly a point on the day. Most of the other railroad shares showed marked improvement, gains of 1 to 2 1-2 points being registered by Reading, Atchison, Northern Pacific, New York Central, Southern Pacific and Southern Railway.

Baldwin rallied 3 points to 110 and net gains of 1 to nearly 3 points were registered by United States, Republic and Bethlehem Steels, American Can, American Woolen, Studebaker, Chandler, Producers & Refiners, Marine preferred and many others.

Completion of the mid-year settlements resulted in an easier rate for call money, which opened at 6, dropped to 5 1-2 and thence to 5 where it closed. Time money continued firm with 5 bid and 5 1-4 asked for all maturities, loans being arranged in limited volume for the longer maturities.

Demand sterling sold just under $4.57. French francs dropped 13 1-2 points to 5-90 cents and Italian lira dropped 5 1-2 to 4.32 cents, a new low. Francs dropped 13 points to 5 cents, also a new low. German marks were quoted around .0005 1-2 cents.

WHEAT MARKET UNSETTLED.

Chicago, July 2—With fine weather prevailing and a stoppage of black rust reports, wheat today averaged lower in price. Buying lacked volume. The market closed unsettled at 1-4 to 5-8 cent net lower, September 103 to 103 1-8 and December 106 to 106 1-8. Corn finished 3-8 to 1 7-8 cents down, oats 1-8 to 7-8 cent off and provisions ranging from 15 cents setback to 10 cents advance.

BOND MARKET IRREGULAR.

New York, July 2.—Considerable irregularity developed in today's bond market with special weakness in French municipal and New Haven Railroad issues but the general list showed a strengthening tendency.

Reported seizure of the Krupp plant in Essen by the French military was the reason for the weakness in French bonds, losses of 1 to 2 1-2 points being recorded by Bordeaux 6s, Marseilles 6s, Lyons 6s and Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean 6s. Jurgen 6s broke 3 points and Prague 7 1-2, Denmark Municipal 8s, Series A, and Belgian 8s each dropped 1.

New Haven issues were sold on publication of the joint New England Railroad committee's report opposing consolidation with outside trunk systems and stating that "rehabilitation by co-operation" was the only method to avoid receivership. The 4s of 19 showed a net loss of 3 1-4, the convertible 6s 1 3-4 and New York, Westchester & Boston 4 1-2s, 1 7-8. Erie convertible 4s, Series B and D, also were heavy, gains of a point each were scored by Norfolk & Western convertible 6s and Union Pacific refunding 4s.

MONDAY'S CURB MARKET.

New York, July 2.—Prices in today's curb market made irregular recovery from recent heaviness. Many new loans were established in the early trading but when selling pressure was lifted prices were not long in coming back except in the high priced oils some of which registered heavy losses.

Standard oil of Indiana showed consistent strength, closing nearly a point higher on total sales of 20,000 shares. Gains of a point or more also were recorded by Cities Service, Atlantic Lobo Continental and a few others. Prairie Oil & Gas dropped 8 points and Standard Oil of Ohio 10, the turnover in each case being small.

A 3 point gain in Gillette Safety Razor was the feature of the industrial list. The motors improved fractionally, activity of Roamer being based on reports that May net totaled $45,944, or at the rate of $3 a share. Glen Alden Coal dropped 1.

Narrow and irregular fluctuations characterized the trading in mining shares.

POETRY

THE SOLITARY SONG.

There is no gift like that of song,
A minstrel said to me,
Though one sings alone, he sings not unknown
If he singeth cheerily.
For the song in his soul goes far and free,
Like the song of a bird as it sits and swings
Aloft in a forest tree.
For the songsters hid in alders and brakes
Reply with joy as each awakes
To the lone bird's rhapsody.
The plowman afield where the mellow earth
Upturns to his shining share
Lifts higher his head as he hears the notes
Drift down on the fragrant air.
And the farmer's wife o'er gleaming pans,
By the window where Place blow,
Listens with head atilt to the song
That recalls the long ago.
And the scholar plodding slow to school,
In the dust of the hot highway,
Quickens his pace as he trudges along
To the wearisome tasks of the day.
So there's never a soul that sings alone
If he sings with a heart of praise,
For a hidden Minstrel takes his lute
And accompanies the lays.
Till they blend in choruses divine
On the shore of that murmuring sea,
Where the songs of birds and the songs of men
Swell the heavenly melody.
—Richmond Herbert Gesner, in Boston Transcript.

GLADNESS.

The world has brought not anything
To make me glad today;
The swallow has a broken wing,
And after all my journeying
There was no water in the spring—
My friend has said me nay.
But yet somehow I needs must sing
As on a luckier day.

Dusk falls as gray as any tear,
There is no hope in sight;
But something in me seems so fair,
That like a star I needs must wear
A safety made of shining air
Between me and the night.
Such inner weavings do I wear
All fashioned of delight!

I need not for these robes of mine
The loveliness of earth.
But happenings remote and fine
Like threads of dreams will blow and shine
In gossamer and crystalline,
And I was glad from birth.
So even while my eyes repine,
My heart in clothed in mirth.
—Anna Hampstead Branca.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

The Society for the Suppression of Vice Presidents seems to be functioning as perfectly as ever.—Life.

"'Ave a bit 'o ketchup with yer sossidge, Sam?"

"Not for me, thanks. Gildin' the lily I calls it."—Humorist, London.

"But why do you ask if I am an incubator chicken?"

"Because incubators always make such peaceful mothers-in-law."—Farm Life.

"Maud says she's just thirty."

"Thirty? Huh! I'll bet she's had more birthday anniversaries than Heinz has varieties of pickles."—Boston Transcript.

Jones—Stevenson said "a man should earn a little and spend a little less."

Smith—Yes, and these days it seems to be the idea to earn a lot and spend a lot more.—New York Sun.

"That man," said the famous physician, has stigoraltic detrullisis sponzulium, and I'm charging two thousand dollars to diagnose his case."

"Beg pardon" interrupted the dazed medical student, "what did you say he has?"

he has?"

"He has two thousand dollars."—American Legion Weekly.

VOLUNTOWN

Voluntown A. C. and Slaters A. A. teams met Sunday on the Voluntown grounds, the home team winning a close, well played game 3 to 1. A. Dupont, pitching for Voluntown, held the visitors to two hits, one of which was the scratch variety, and struck out 17 men and giving one free pass. Errors at critical times were responsible for the visitors' runs. The home team got to Kruda for 12 hits, Gaudette and Clark starting the 8th inning with two babbers and their teammates brought them home and won the game. The game was a very snappy one and was witnessed by a good crowd of enthusiastic rooters.

Score by innings:

Slaters A. A. 1 0 0 0 3 0 0 1 0 0—4
Voluntown A. C. 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 x—3

Batteries for Voluntown: A. Dupont and Clark; for Slaters, Kruda and Powruczki. Umpire Gahan.

Voluntown is to play Plainfield on the Voluntown grounds Wednesday afternoon.

GAS PIPE CHANGE HALTS WEST MAIN ST. WORK

Work on the construction of the new tar-bound macadam road on West Main street from Thames square to the city line was to have started Monday but owing to information received from the gas and electric department the work was held up for the time being.

Pipes laid over the hills on the West Side are so near the surface that the work cannot be done until new pipes have been laid or the present system lowered nearly two feet. As soon as this work is started the street department can go ahead with the construction of the new street.

West Side people have suffered patiently for some few weeks without saying much but the hills are in terrible condition and something, they believe, should be done to give relief until the new work can be started. The road bed has been torn up by recent rains and great holes spread across on all sections of the hill. These with the hundreds of stones along the street make travel dangerous there at the present time.

DIES IN AMBULANCE AFTER TAKING POISON

Despondent because of illness, Esther Shapiro, wife of Reuben Shapiro swallowed four ounces of carbolic acid Monday morning about 10 o'clock at her home at 233 Franklin street and died in the ambulance on the way to the Backus hospital.

Her husband, who runs a wood yard on his home, discovered her soon after she had taken the poison and at telephoned for a doctor and the Backus hospital ambulance also was summoned. Dr. Louis F. Cassidy responded to the call and she was put into the ambulance, but her death occurred before she reached the hospital.

A letter written by Mrs. Shapiro before she took the poison was found. It stated that her husband and children had very good to her but she was suffering from a terrible headache and she could not stand the pain any longer. She asked forgiveness for her act.

Mrs. Shapiro, who was about 36 years old, is survived by her husband, two sons, Alfred and Nathan, three daughters, Mary, Dora and Annie, one sister, Mrs. R. Sussman of Willimantic, and four brothers, S. Safenowitz of West Main street, Norwich, Jacob of New Haven, Israel of Wallingford and Samuel of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Energy of a Watch.

P. P. (Darlington) asks for some facts concerning the energy and construction of a watch. About 175 different pieces of material enter into its construction, and upwards of 2,000 separate operations are comprised in its manufacture. The roller jewel of a watch makes every day, and day after day, 432,000 impacts against the fork, or 157,680,000 blows in a year, without stop or rest, or 3,153,600,000 in the space of 20 years.

Commands Respect.

A telegram she has to write always commands a woman's respect. Anything that can limit her to ten words is not to be sneezed at.

WOMEN SHOULD ACT QUICKLY

When a woman finds herself afflicted with backache, headaches, nervousness, dragging-down pains, pain in her side, irregularities and irritability, dark circles appear under the eyes and her complexion gets sallow, she may be sure the underlying cause is some ailment peculiar to her sex. Such women should act quickly and take the great American remedy for such conditions, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they may be saved years of suffering. For generations this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring ailing women to health, and it may be relied upon with perfect confidence.

$7,000 IN PUBLIC BEQUESTS BY CHAUNCEY B. WOODWORTH

The will of the late Chauncey B. Woodworth of Norwich that has recently been probated provides several sums for various institutions. Mrs. Woodworth and the Thames National bank are executors of the will which was dated August 19, 1920, written by Judge Ayling and witnessed by the Judge, Town Clerk Holbrook and Miss Helen M. Drescher.

The sum of $1,000 is left to the Otis library, like amounts going to the Eliza Huntington Memorial Home, United Workers, for the benefit of the Sheltering Arms and the Norwich Free Academy. All are in trust and the income is to be used for the expenses of the institutions.

The sum of $1,000 is left to the Connecticut Universalist convention, absolutely, and the convention receives $2,000 in trust, the income to be used for the sustenance of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Norwich. Members of the church choir and relatives and friends have also been remembered with liberal amounts. The residue goes to his widower.

GIVES APPROVAL TO COMPENSATION AGREEMENTS

Nineteen workmen's compensation agreements as follows have been approved by Commissioner J. J. Donohue:

EAST SIDE WILL HAVE PARADE ON THE FOURTH

The East Side has made arrangements for its annual Fourth of July parade. The parade will start at 10.30 from Billings corner to Burnham square, countermarch to Main, down Henobscot street, up Fowler avenue and back on Main street to Billings corner. The request has been made to the manager of the parade to have the line of march on Hamilton avenue to Fox hill, so this will be considered. Those who wish to take part in this event will meet at 9.30 in the rear of Disco store on the East side. Those who wish for further information call 1911 at 6 p. m. d. s. t. There will be a reward for the worst looking float in parade; also for the most comical costume.

JUDGE LIBBY RE-APPOINTS CITY COURT OFFICIALS

There will be no changes in the personnel of city court officials during the coming year as Judge Arthur F. Libby on Monday reappointed Lee Roy Robbins, city attorney, Albert J. Bailey, clerk, and Telley E. Babcock, assistant prosecutor and assistant clerk.

The term of office for these positions ends each July at the expiration by the appointment of the judge. Judge Libby recently was re-appointed judge for another two years following which he had the power to appoint all court officials excepting deputy judge. Luize Henry H. Petris was re-appointed to this office by the general assembly.

Golf Club Fourth Program

The fourth will be an enjoyable day at the Norwich Golf club. An unusually attractive program of sports has been arranged for the day. There will be one 18 hole medal play in the morning with prizes for the best net and blind holes. A driving contest is another feature, three prizes being put up here for distance, another for best average for three drives resting in standing radius. The program for golf is in charge of Prof. Thomas Falconer. There will also be tennis play as the club's tournament has been opened with a large entry list.

Was North Woodstock Native

Warren S. Buxton, the first state inspector of factories and public buildings for western Massachusetts and a Civil War veteran, died Friday afternoon in his home in Springfield at the age of 85 years. He had been a building contractor, retiring in 1894.

Mr. Buxton was born in North Woodstock, Conn., Jan. 4, 1838 and was educated at Wilbraham academy. He served in the Civil war.

In 1861, he was married to Miss Jean Logan of West Boylston, Mass. Mrs. Buxton died in January, 1919, and an only son, Alfred L., died in his fifteenth year.

Had Eventful Canoe Trip

A party of four young men went to the draw bridge Sunday afternoon in a canoe and one of the experiences that is apt to accompany a canoe trip befell them. While in Poquetanuck Cove in some manner the young men swung the canoe off balance and it tipped over. The boys reached shore in safety but considerable of their clothing which had been shed in the trip down the river remained in the cove. The trip home was uneventful.

Visiting in New Haven

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cantwell of Plainfield are spending a few days in New Haven, visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cohoon, having made the trip by auto. Accompanying them were Miss Marion H. Lee and Miss Mary J. Burke, who plan to stay for six weeks to attend the state summer school at Yale.

FARMER-LABOR PARTY IN NATIONAL CONVENTION

Purpose of Gathering to Coordinate Political Units Into Political Machine That Will Achieve "Rights" Now Denied Producing Classes Under Reign of Two Present Political Parties—Control of Government by Working Classes, Abolishment of U. S. Courts and Government Ownership of Railroads Urged—Delegates From All Units Seated Over Protests of Many Farmer Labor Representatives.

Chicago, July 3 (By the A. P.).—Delegates representing labor, agricultural, economical and industrial groups will meet in conference tomorrow with delegates to the national convention of the farmer-labor party in an endeavor to perfect a unified political front in next year's election.

Over the protests of many farmer-labor representatives, the convention today voted to seat delegates from all units which had received the call for the convention and adjourned to meet in conference tomorrow to draft a program of harmony. Whatever action is decided upon will be brought before the convention Thursday.

All of the afternoon session was occupied in determining action on the report of the credentials committee, which recommended that all delegates be seated as participating members. Disagreement arose as to seating non-farmer-labor delegates in a party convention, which grew into such a disturbance that disorder once threatened the meeting, presided over by Toscan Bennett of the Connecticut and New York farmer-labor party.

The purpose of the convention-conference, as outlined in the call, is not to combine all the groups into a single political unit but to co-ordinate their efforts into a political machine that will achieve for the producing classes rights which speakers today declared were denied under the reign of the two present political parties. A standard under which these groups could unite probably will be striken, said Jay G. Brown, national secretary of farmer-labor party, but the adoption of a platform and the election of candidates would remain to the convention to be held next year.

What such a political unity expects to do was believed to have been expressed in addresses of former Senator R. F. Pettigrew of South Dakota, John Fitzpatrick of Chicago, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, and F. A. Pike of St. Paul, chairman of the Minnesota farmer-labor party.

Control of the government by the working classes, abolishment of United States courts, limiting the powers of the supreme court, government ownership of the railroads, elaborate measures looking toward the stabilization of agriculture, labor and the currency and revision of taxes in many forms were directly or indirectly urged in speeches made by the speakers or from the floor.

Reading of the report of the credentials committee disclosed that William Z. Foster, recently tried in Michigan for alleged communistic activities, was a delegate to the convention from a carmen's local, while a Louisiana unit had accredited as a delegate Kate Richards O'Hare. Despite intimations that the socialist party would be invited to come within the platform of the conference, Mr. Brown said today he did not expect any such action to be taken. Inquiry among delegates as to their consideration of Henry Ford as a possible standard bearer developed that opinion was about equally divided.

Parley H. Christensen of Utah, farmer-labor candidate for president in the last general election, spoke at a convention dinner tonight.

Upwards of 800 delegates had signed with the committee late today, representing local, central and state union industrial organizations, the Non-Partisan league, Progressive Farmers of the Pacific northwest, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, National Women's party, co-operative agricultural and mining societies and railroad and labor locals from more than forty states.

FRANCE REPLIES TO BRITISH MEMORANDUM

London, July 3 (By the A. P.).—France's long awaited reply to the British memorandum on reparations, was presented to Foreign Secretary Marquis Curzon late this afternoon, but it offers no solution of the seemingly indeterminable indemnities problem.

Count de Saint-Aulaire, the French ambassador, in an earnest talk with Lord Curzon lasting nearly an hour and a half, set forth France's views on various phases of the Ruhr question but failed to define in specific terms his country's exact position on some of the points raised in Lord Curzon's recent questionnaire.

The general verdict of those in a position to know what took place at the conference is that it was "unsatisfactory and inconclusive," but these authorities were quick to add that the way was left open for further discussion. This is taken to mean that the exchange of views will continue for another week, and perhaps longer.

Count De Saint-Aulaire's conversation with Lord Curzon occurred soon after the foreign secretary had given Baron Moncheur, the Belgian ambassador, nearly an hour. It is understood Baron Moncheur's talk showed Belgium to be in general unanimity with France on the principal issues of the reparation controversy.

"An effective solution of the problem can be found only in the united action of all the Allies," said one British official tonight. "If we acted separately, what assurance could we give Germany that she would be safe from interference by France"

The whole reparation problem will be discussed at tomorrow's cabinet meeting in the light of today's conferences with the French and Belgian envoys.

The general feeling in London tonight is that a settlement of the problem which is paralyzing the whole economic and industrial life of Europe is no further advanced than it was a month ago, and that no basis for a real agreement can be reached until the premiers and foreign ministers of all the allied powers have a full and frank heart-to-heart talk at a general conference.

GAVE FALSE TESTIMONY AT BOOTLEG HEARING

New York, July 3.—Police Commissioner Enright late today suspended, pending a further investigation, Detective Sergeant William Morrison and David Lambert, who admitted on the stand at General Sessions Judge Crain's inquiry into charges of bootlegging and graft in the police department, that they had given false testimony.

The two detectives told conflicting stories about a liquor seizure, their final story being that they did not seize the liquor found in a garage, because they were informed it was consigned to Inspectors Thor and O'Brien and Captain O'Connor.

BURNED TO DEATH SHOOTING OFF FIRECRACKERS

New York, July 3.—The death of a two year old boy and the injury of a would-be rescuer were pre-Fourth of July casualties reported tonight, while police made every effort to enforce a city ordinance forbidding the sale and use of fireworks within the city limits.

Charles Carty saw older playmates shooting off firecrackers. He got a box of matches and started experimenting. His clothes caught fire and Albert Jelalian tried to beat out the flames. The boy died, while Jelalian was severely burned.

SEN. UNDERWOOD DECLINES TO TALK POLITICS

Washington, July 3.—Senator Underwood of Alabama who announced before his departure for Europe last March that on his return he would "give very careful and thorough consideration" to suggestions that he become a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, returned to Washington today, but declined to talk politics.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Greetings From France

Paris, July 3.—(By The A. P.)—President Millerand of France sent a Fourth of July cablegrame today to President Harding sayin that "with ever renewed enthusiasm the French nation associates itself with all its heart with American Independence Day."

LEVIATHAN SAILS TODAY ON MAIDEN VOYAGE

New York, July 3.—A super-ship of the seas, the United States shipping board's reconditioned Leviathan will sail tomorrow on her maiden voyage as a passenger craft under the Stars and Stripes, carrying more than 1,700 passengers to Cherbourg and Southampton.

As the giant liner moves from her North river pier after a reception aboard, and heads for the open sea, an air escort of half a dozen planes, and a flotilla of harbor craft and tugs will hover about her. At her side, in striking contrast, will float a reproduction of Robert Fulton's Clermont, America's first steamboat.

The Leviathan today is in her third incarnation. She first sailed the Atlantic as the Vaterland, pride of the once great German merchant marine. Seized by the United States upon the severance of diplomatic relations with Germany in February 1917, she was overhauled and became the greatest troop transport in history. Thousands of American soldiers were taken to France and returned home aboard her.

After lying at a Hoboken pier for three years, the prey of rust and filth, she was taken to Newport News and converted into the oil-burning floating palace that sails tomorrow, with every cabin occupied.

In the first cabin more than 800 persons will be quartered for the maiden voyage. The second and third class passenger lists each number 450. The Leviathan has room for nearly 4,000 passengers in her three cabins, but the first voyages desiring superlative extra accommodations, purchased extra space.

Among the notable persons on the first cabin list are Vincent Astor, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Senator and Mrs. Reed Smoots, General Coleman Du-Pont, Howard Chandler Christy, Congressman Martin B. Madden, of Illinois, J. M. Thompson, New Orleans publisher, and Mrs. Thompson; Charles H. Morse and family, and a number of operatic stars and stage folk.

The Leviathan, thoroughly inspected today by her officers, was said to be in perfect shape as to machinery as well as accommodations for the passengers.

It is expected, with favorable weather, that her commander, Captain Herbert Hartley, U. S. M. R., will try to lower her time record for the trip from New York to Cherbourg. Recently, on her trial spin in southern waters, the Leviathan set several new world speed records for trans-ocean liners.

She traveled, in a 25-hour test, 687 nautical miles at an average speed of 27.48 knots. The distance in the time was said to be eleven miles further than that made by an other merchant marine ship. The great ship also set a new record of 28.04 knots an hour, reaching his height during her 25 hour test.

The time record from New York to Cherbourg, which the Leviathan may attempt to lower on her maiden voyage, is five days six hours and 14 minutes, made by the White Star liner Majestic. The American craft's operators believe that she can lower the Majestic's record with ease.

NATIONAL BALLOON RACE STARTS TODAY

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3. — Whatever advantage is gained by being the last to leave the ground—and air men claim there is considerable—belongs to Lieut. James B. Jordan of Scott Field, Belleville, Ills., who will pilot the United States Army S-7 in the national balloon race, which will start here late tomorrow afternoon. Lieutenant Jordan won the right to take the fourteenth, the last of the field, in the drawing for positions, held today.

The United States navy No. A-6698, under command of Lieut. F. E. Culbert of Hampton Roads, Va., will start thirteenth. Lieutenant Robert Olmstead of Washington, piloting United States Army S-6, will be the first to be released from the ground in the uncharted journey. Ralph Upson of Detroit, a civilian balloonist and a favorite in the contest, will leave the ground seventh.

The gigantic bags were placed in position early this afternoon at the Indianapolis motor speedway, from where the start will be made, and the gas turned into them. A hard thunderstorm, followed by cooling weather and a steady downpour of rain hindered the work only slightly. The work of filling the bags, which, according to the rules, must hold not more than 80,000 cubic feet of gas, will continue all night and in many instances up to starting time tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, it was said.

It was said at the weather bureau tonight that indications were the balloons would be carried from Indianapolis in an east or north of east direction. The winds probably will be gentle, it was stated by Leroy T. Samuels of Washington, a meteorologist sent here by the government to assist the pilots.

DESCENDANTS OF SIGNERS HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Philadelphia, July 3. — Assembling of the wills of the signers of the Declaration of Independence is nearing completion, it was announced today at the sixteenth annual congress of the Society of Descendants of the Signers.

Two wills were recovered during the year. John Calvert, secretary of the society, reported they were those of Thomas Nelson, Jr., of Virginia, and Lyman Hall, of Georgia, while the original will of George Wythe was not recovered, a copy of it was traced through a lawsuit between him and his nephew, in which it appeared as evidence.

Ten signers, Mr. Calvert stated, died without leaving wills. Search for those of William Lynch, South Carolina; William Hooper, North Carolina, and George Walton, Georgia, is still under way.

The society held its annual banquet tonight.

FLORIDA CONVICT WHIPPING BOSS DENIES CHARGES

Lake City, Fla., July 3.—Thomas W. Higginbotham, convict whipping boss who is on trial here on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Martin Tabert of North Dakota, today denied the charges against him by the state. Tabert died a convict in a lumber camp at which Higginbotham was the "whipping boss." The state has presented testimony to show that Tabert died soon after being beaten with a heavy strap by Higginbotham. The defendant today testified that he had given Tabert less than the number of licks permitted by law, and that he had used a light strap.

THIRTEEN HURT WHEN AUTO BUS OVERTURNED

New York, July 3.—Thirteen persons were injured today when a municipal bus overturned in Old South Road near Ninety-fourth street, Woodhaven. The driver, Mathias Miller was arrested on a charge of driving without an operator's license, and with defective brakes.

Miller lost control when the steering apparatus failed to work, and the bus overturned.

Germans Protest Seizure of Coal

Krupps Executives Claim That Life of Big Steel Works at Essen Depends on Stocks of Coal and Coke Taken Over by French.

Berlin, July 3.—The executives of Krupps Works at Essen have issued a protest "in the name of 54,000 workmen and officials whose existence is threatened through the French seizure of stocks of coal and coke on which the very life of Krupps Steel Works depends."

The protest declares that the French blockade threatens a food famine in Essen.

MANY NEWLY ARRIVED IMMIGRANTS ARE MARRIED

New York, July 3.—From ships that lie off Ellis Island, through the immigration station red tape, came today forty swains from abroad, on their arms forty rose-cheeked lassies wooed and won, and the eighty became as forty with the soft-voiced city clerk, reading from the time-worn prayer book.

The city clerk's office, among other things, is the place where the always-in-a-hurry young lover folk of New York are quickly united in the bonds of matrimony, but the altar there, which hapnens to be a hassock on which the bookkeepers are wont to stand, never witnessed such picturesque scenes as were unfolded today.

Shortly after the clerk had opened the office and married a New York couple who had to hurry to get back to their offices at noon, the first of the couples, newly arrived in the "promised land," came timidly. He was a Scotch lad with a twinkle in his eye, she a bonnie miss in a spick and span new gingham dress, and finally they married. He planted a kiss full on her lips; she blushed, hid her eyes and they hurried away.

Came after these two Irish couples, Italian couples, English couples, Greek, Dutch, Swedish and German.

The flow of the immigrants through the station continues and tomorrow the city clerk hopes to establish a new record, when the couples from the Slavic countries are passed.

"I like to marry these folks," said the clerk, "they mean it."

HELD WITHOUT BAIL ON BURGLARY CHARGE

Thompsonville, Conn., July 3.—Tony Salwa, a weaver, was arrested today and held without bail for a hearing in Enfield town court tomorrow on a charge of burglary with violence. Salwa is alleged to be the burglar who took $1,250 from the room of Lawrence Cisek here early last Saturday morning and then slashed Cisek with a razor. Cisek is in a critical condition in a hospital in Springfield, Mass. The police of Springfield are said to have found similarity in Salwa's finger prints and those found on the blood-stained razor used in slashing Cisek. The police found $1,100 tied in a handkerchief behind a trunk in Salwa's room.

QUOTAS OF NINE COUNTRIES ARE FILLED

New York, July 3.—Officials at Ellis Island said tonight that the peak of the greatest immigration rush since the quota law became effective had been reached when the quotas of nine countries became exhausted and 3,223 steerage passengers arrived in the harbor.

The quotas filled were: Africa, except Egypt; Albania, Greece, other Asia, (including Persia) other Europe, Palestine, Syria and Turkey.

Before the inspectors began work today there awaited inspection, 4,077 passengers. The inspectors accounted for only 2,090 of these before nightfall.

PATRIARCH FORCED TO LEAVE BY KEMALISTS

New York, July 3.—Archbishop Alexander, primate of the Greek orthodox church in America, today said he had received a cablegram from the Most Rev. Meletios Metaxakis, patriarch of the church in Constantinople, announcing that he was on his way to Mt Athos Greece. The archbishop denied that the patriarch had abdicated and charged that the Kemalist government had forced him to leave.

The cablegram was in reply to a message from Archbishop Alexander informing the patriarch that the organization of the Greek Orthodox church in America had been completed by the consecration of the Rt. Rev. Joachim Alexa poulous.

SMALL CHILD HIT BY AUTO AT MILFORD

Milford, Conn., July 3.—Running across Oak avenue, near East Broadway, Leroy Herman, 6, of Milford, was run down by an automobile driven by Herman Menerochowics, this place, this afternoon. Taken to Milford hospital the boy was found to be suffering from lacerations of the scalp, and from a badly lacerated left hand. His condition is not regarded as critical.

The accident is the fourth within a week to occur at Oak avenue and East Broadway.

CONTINUATION OF BAN ON N. E. LIVESTOCK

Washington, July 3. — Continuation of the ban on the importation of livestock from England because of the persistence of the hoof and mouth disease there was announced today by the department of agriculture. A new outbreak of the disease on June 21, it was stated, has caused abandonment of plans for lifting the embargo.

Cape Breton Mine Workers Quit Jobs

Walkout Began Late Yesterday in Support of Striking Sydney Steel Workers—To Force Withdrawal of Federal Troops.

Sydney, N. S., July 3.—Mine workers in the southern Cape Breton district started to walk out late today in support of the striking Sydney steel workers and to force the withdrawal of federal troops and provincial police from the district summoned here to preserve order.

The ultimatum of the United Mine Workers, District No. 26, threatening a general strike of Cape Breton miners if the troops remained, expires at midnight. About 10,000 mine workers are involved.

TAXI DRIVERS UNION FAVORS WALKOUT

Boston, July 3.—The sentiment of the 375 members of Taxi Drivers' union local 126, who voted today on the question of going on strike as a protest against being compelled to drive non-striking operators of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company to and from exchanges, was strongly in favor of a walk-out, Business Agent James Fitzgibbons announced tonight. The official action of the union will not be known until the votes have been counted, probably Thursday, Business Agent Fitzgibbons said.

He said he would then notify the management of the taxicab companies concerned of the result of the vote and would endeavor to obtain an amicable adjustment.

Carl H Morgan, president of local 25, telephone cable splicers, International Brotherhood of Telephone Workers, denied tonight the claims of strike leaders made last night at a mass meeting that a number of members of his organization had become members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. The electrical workers are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, as are the telephone operators on strike, but their numbers in greater Boston are declared to be very small in comparison with the telephone workers' union.

COUNTESS MORONI GETS DIVORCE AT PROVIDENCE

Providence, R. I., July 3.—The divorce petition of Countess Eleanor Curran Moroni, former New Orleans manicurist, was granted by Judge Greene in the superior court here today on grounds of neglect to provide. The petition was heard on depositions of the countess and two other witnesses. Joseph W. Grimes, counsel for the petitioner stated that citations had been served on the respondent at Milan, Italy, May 22.

The depositions of the countess set forth the following facts: She was married to Count Girolamo Moroni at Irvington, N. J., March 2, 1912. A second marriage, characterized as an "idle ceremony" was performed at Guilford, Miss., Nov. 12, 1912, to satisfy the count, an Italian army officer, who by law, was required to obtain the consent of his king before wedding.

The couple have not been living together for the past eight years, most of which the countess has passed at the Colt farm in Bristol, R. I. For seven years the count has not contributed to his wife's support, and she has given him no reason to fail to do so. In March, 1915, the county left his wife and in June of that year sailed for the Far East. She saw him at Milan last November, but there was no attempt at reconciliation. All alimony is waived.

PROSECUTION OF 28 WAR FRAUD CASES

New York, July 3.—Prosecution of 28 war fraud cases, based on evidence submitted by the war advisory council, will begin before a federal grand jury next Monday.

The two principal cases, it was disclosed by federal attorneys, involved contracts for several million yards of denim and duck which, it is charged, cost the government $677,000 too much.

OVER 1,300 BUSINESS FAILURES DURING JUNE

New York, July 3.—A total of 1,378 business failures in June, the smallest number for any months in the last two years, is proof that slackness in certain lines of trade has had no effect upon general conditions, according to Bradstreet's.

In the first six months of this year there were more than 9,000 failures, a decrease of ten under the total for the six months preceding.

NATIONAL SONG

(JULY FOURTH)

Our hearts are the hearts of the yoemen
Who stood with such resolute mien,
And bullet for bullet gave foemen
That day upon Lexington Green;
Our praises are still for the freeman
Who signed and wrought tyranny's knell;
And still is our glee or the gleemen
Who rang the old Liberty Bell!

We never have fought with the craven
For wrong, though it stood on a throne;
We never have flocked with the raven;
Our bird is the eagle alone!
Our banner, may none wave above it
Atop of the tapering spars,
Is the red, white and blue—how we love it—
Its stripes and its spangle of stars!

—CLINTON SCOLLARD.

WALTER HINES PAGE HONORED AT LONDON

London, July 3.—(By the A. P.)—Walter Hines Page, who held the post of American ambassador to Great Britain during the war, was given a place today among the illustrious dead of the ages in Westminster Abbey. A marble table commemorating his friendship and sympathy in Great Britain's hour of need was unveiled by Viscount Grey of Fallodon.

No since the Duke of York's wedding has the pantheon held a more distinguished company of men high in the councils of state or a larger or more representative gathering from the cities of both countries. The British government was represented by the prime minister, Stanley Baldwin, and six members of his cabinet and the American government by Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, James N. Beck, solicitor General, Post Wheeler, counselor of the embassy, and the entire embassy staff and Robert P. Skinner, consul-general.

MANY VOLSTEAD VIOLATORS FOR FEDERAL COURTS

PASSED VOUCHERS WITHOUT CAREFUL AUDITING

Washington, July 3.—Government counsel at the Morse trial today introduced as evidence a statement signed by Philip Reinhardt, former ... auditor of the Emergency Fl... Corporation at the Virginia ... Building corporation's plant, in ... he admitted he had acce... money and gifts from certain ... deals of the company, a Morse ... ern, and had approved ... for payment by the ... without careful investigation.

Reinhardt is one of the eight defendants charged with conspiracy to defraud the government on wartime shipping contracts. His statement was admitted as evidence by Justice Stafford over the objections of attorneys for the defense. The court ruled, however, that the jury could consider it as evidence against Reinhardt only, and not against other defendants named in it.

In an effort to keep the statement out of evidence, the defense put Reinhardt on the witness stand. He testified that when he signed the statement, on March 8 last, he understood the government would drop the indictment against him, and that he was to be used at the trial as a government witness.

Another witness, J. E. Vaughan, a government accountant who has assisted the prosecution, testified that Reinhardt had delivered the signed statement in his presence to Edward M. Allison, an assistant attorney general, in the latter's office at the court house here.

In the statement Reinhardt said that on one occasion he had borrowed a small amount of money from the manager of the Morse plant at Alexandria, Va., and at another time had taken a trip to Canada "at the expense of the Virginia company costing them about $250." He also declared he had received a $40 brief case from the company and ... at different times money aggregating $750.

"Knowing at the time," the statement said, "that I was doing wrong to accept money from them and continuing to do so after knowing it to be wrong, I just naturally played right into the hands of the Virginia company, as my duties were to audit and approve vouchers for payment to be made by the government to the Virginia company for the construction of ships.

"I did pass vouchers as being approved by me without giving them a careful audit and check before sending them to the home office for payment."

AMERICA REARING RACE OF STARCH DRUNKARDS

New York, July 3.—America is rearing a race of starch drunkards and the prohibition of alcohol is creating a new and vicious national psychology, in the opinion of two speakers at the American Ostcopathic convention today.

The name "starch drunkards" was coined by Dr. Grant Mitchell of Chicago in debate with Dr. C. W. MacGregor of that city on diet.

"The white race is dominant because, ages ago, it took up abode by the sea whence it obtained foods rich in iodine," said Dr. Mitchell. "That position is now threatened because we have become a nation of starch drunkards." He enumerated 18 ways in which cooks prepared food, but asserted "every attempt to improve on nature ruins it."

Dr. Herbert Bernard of Detroit told of his discovery of the "vicious psychology"—a disease or an insanity—for which he held prohibition responsible.

Professing not to go on record against prohibition, he saw the deliberate violation of the Volstead law creating an "hectic, unhealthy way of mind" that permeated not only large cities but "has crept right into the American home and into the minds of the younger generation."

DIAMOND MAZIE GETS 60 DAY SENTENCE

New York, July 3.—"There goes Diamond Mazie," they used to whisper along Broadway a decade ago when Mae Baxter, the best-gowned beauty of a dozen cabarets, flashed by with her gems a 'twinkle.

Today, when she was brought into police court charged with being drunk and disorderly she was wrinkled, tattered and penniless. She was sentenced to 60 days—her 17th "bit," court officers said.

A patrolman arrested her last night in Lincoln Square park. Attracted by the jazz of a harmonica, he found her singing a song about the dearth of bananas and dancing to the music of two negro boys.

HEAVY RUSH OF IMMIGRANTS TO BOSTON

Boston, July 3.—For the first time since before the war the rush of immigrants to Boston has been so great that the Cunard and Anchor Steamship companies have been forced to hire special trains to carry passengers through to New York and points west. Special trains for Buffalo and New York were started from the docks when the Anchor liner Columbia stopped here. On Friday a passenger record which has stood since 1912 will be broken when the Cunard liner Samaria will arrive with 2019 passengers, mostly English, Irish and Scotch mechanics.

Riding with Miller was John Adams, an elderly man of Scotland, and they were proceeding toward Windham Center. Carter was on his way to this city with market produce. Mr. Adams sustained a painful injury to his left arm when the arm was thrust through the windshield. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where he was treated. Miller was cut about the face and received bruises on the body. Carter was slightly injured on the left side of his body.

The accident was reported to the police department in this city and Officer Frank McLean was despatched to investigate the matter. The machines were found lying with locked horns on one side of the roadway. The wheel marks showed that Miller was swerving on the right side of the road and that Carter had driven his Overland toward the center, when rounding the curve, striking the left side of the Miller machine. Two wheels of both cars were smashed and the fenders and radiators were damaged.

The drivers claimed that they were not going over 15 miles an hour. Carter said that he believed he had plenty of room, but that his car had skidded, causing the collision. Miller and Carter arranged to settle the matter between themselves.

Antonio Gerosa of Plainfield has instituted civil proceedings against Wadley Kucleichuk of Griswold to recover damages of $3,500. The case will be heard in the Windham county superior court the first Tuesday in September. Papers in the case were served Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff A. J. Greenslit of this city, on land owned by the defendant, from Plainfield to Canterbury. Gerosa claims that the plaintiff sold certain land in Plainfield by misrepresentation.

COLCHESTER

The Colchester baseball team was defeated on the park grounds Saturday afternoon by the Lebanon team, 13 to 5. This is the worst defeat the team has had. Slavkin, the crack pitcher of the Colchesters, was hit freely to all parts of the field. He was relieved by Harry Friedman, who did finely while he was in the box. Barnett Kahn umpired the game.

Five of the large auto buses of the Norwich-Hartford bus line passed through the village Saturday filled with campers going to Camp Mooween at Cedar Swamp lake.

Frederick B. Ames of Salem was a caller here Saturday.

A. L. Maddock, one of the directors of the Disabled War Veterans' camp, and Lieut. Taylor of Hartford were callers at F. E. Baker's on Hayward avenue Saturday afternoon. The camp will open in August. The first delegation will go Saturday, Aug. 4th. Last year when most of the delegations went to camp they stopped in the village and were given ice cream, cake and punch, which they greatly appreciated. It is proposed that the citizens this year contribute again for the same cause. A committee will be appointed to solicit for the same and it is confidently expected that all generous residents will join in welcoming these veterans again this year.

STONINGTON

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Bliss, of 36 South 15th avenue, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and Edward James, of Stonington and Mt. Vernon took place Saturday afternoon at Mt. Vernon. Rev. Mr. Brown, pastor of the Mt. Vernon Baptist church, performed the ceremony. The attendants were the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Cummings of Kansas City, Mo., and Raymond Bliss of Mt. Vernon. Owing to the recent death of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. L. Bliss, it was a quiet wedding. The bride is the daughter of Willard L. Bliss, of Mt. Vernon N. Y., who resided in Norwich, having received his education there, the bride's mother was Grace Smith, of Norwich Town. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank James, of Temple street, Stonington, and is employed as manager of an automobile factory in Mt. Vernon. Mr. and Mrs. James are on a motor trip which will include Stonington, Providence and Norwich. Upon their return they will reside in Mt. Vernon. The bride has spent many summers here with relatives.

The rain Tuesday had a tendency to dampen energy of the young people in Stonington, where old time pranks included running about the town hearse, long discarded, but kept housed in a suitable shelter to the stately a vehicle. This was drawn out and wheeled all over the borough, the night before Fourth of July.

Special policemen go on duty here today to keep order, and the state police will have a good number of men out on the highway, to see that the motor laws are enforced.

The Newport air line which sends out its flying boat daily, carrying the mail to Newport(R. I., as well as a machine flying over daily to take passengers who wish to go to points along the line, is seen by people in Stonington and this section coming from New York to Newport and return. This has been made possible by Newport millionaires. The equipment of the lines consists exclusively of the Loening air yachts, with a 400-horsepower Liberty motor. The three yachts in the service are named the Fleetwing, Seabord, and Grey Lark. Each machine carries four passengers, with sufficient storage or an ordinary small valise and golf bag per passenger.

NOANK

It has been voted to hold an open meeting of the town council sometime in July for the consideration of highway matters. It was also agreed that the council members get together Wednesday evening at 7.30 next week to prepare a constructive programme.

Town Treasurer James M. Pendleton appeared before the council to ask when the present new school building operations would be completed. The best estimate that could be given was that it would be in six or seven months. This information was desired to fix the maturity date of the bond issue and it was voted:

"That the action of the town treasurer in selling notes of the town of Westerly, June 30, 1923 and due December 31, 1923, aggregating $17,961.30 to the sinking fund of the town of Westerly, 4 1-2 per cent. discount and notes dated June 30, 1923 and due December 31, 1923, aggregating $5,238.70 to the Industrial Trust company of Westerly with four and one-half per cent. discount be and the same is hereby approved and confirmed."

Another vote gave authority to the town of Westerly to hire as needed $350,000 in notes to be dated July 2, 1923 and payable February 1, 1924, for the building project.

The town treasurer was authorized to accept a duplicate order issued by Robert Valentine for $125. The original order was reported lost.

John Walsh appeared for the Westerly Light and Power company and explained the company's billings to the town as it was effective on rebate in connection with the new contract.

Joseph Geauprino, 31 Railroad avenue, stated to the council that he had given land to the town as requested by Road Commissioner Butler with the understanding that his curb line would be raised. This was not done. Now conditions were different and he was desirous of having the curbing removed that the town contribute at least one-half of the cost of a cement sidewalk. Consideration was promised.

George W. Woodward was voted $274.25 for work in Central and Washington park.

Eight victualising licenses were granted, one for a bowling alley and one for a shooting gallery.

REACTIONARY PRICE MOVEMENT

New York, July 3—Reactionary price movements predominated in today's stock market, the usual pre-holiday dullness being apparent in many issues.

Opening prices were firm but the market turned heavy in response to extensive liquidation of several low priced shares, including New Haven, Atlantic Gulf common and preferred, the Mexican seaboard issues, American International Corporation and Central Leather, all of which established new low records for the year together with about two score other stocks.

New Haven broke 3 points to 10 7-8 reports that the proposed reorganization plan would involve a heavy assessment on the common stock, but it rallied later to 11 5-8, where it was off 2 1-4 on the day. Selling of Atlantic Gulf also revived rumors of reorganization but these lacked confirmation.

Several of the dividend-paying railroad shares were pressed for sale just before the close, Delaware & Hudson breaking 5 points to a new low and Canadian Pacific, Louisville & Nashville, and Reading closing 2 to 3 points lower. New lows for the year also were established by St. Paul preferred, Missouri Pacific preferred and Chicago & Eastern Illinois preferred.

BOND MARKET

New York, July 3—Prices moved with an uncertain trend in today's bond market, but major activity appeared to be on the upward side. Undigested offerings are reported to be quite large which may account for some of the recent heaviness.

Foreign bonds were heavy in the early trading but improved later. Czecho-Slovakian 8s, Seine 7s and Belgian 8s showing net gains of a point or more. U. S. government issues made nominal gains.

Heaviness of the New Haven mortgages was again the outstanding feature of the railroad list, the franc 7s breaking nearly 3 points and the convertible 6s and the 4s of 1957 showing net losses of about a point each. Several issues made moderate progress, however, including Atchison general 4s, Rock Island General 4s, Erie convertible 4s, series D, Southern Pacific 4s and the seaboard air line liens.

Interboro Rapid Transit bonds developed market strength, as did eastern Cuba sugar 7 1-2s and Armour & Co. 4 1-2s. Good year 8s of 1941 and Goodrich 6 1-2s were heavy.

Total sales (par value) were $3,621,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, July 3—Black rust fears, together with a bullish estimate of corn acreage, led to an upturn in grain values today, despite the fact that opening prices were lower. Wheat closed unsettled at 1-8 to 3-4 cent, net advance with September 103 3-8 to 103 1-2 and December 106 1-4 to 106 3-8. Corn finished 1-2 to 1c up, oats at a shade to 1-4 a 3-8c gain, and provisions at a rise varying from 7 to 15.

With reports indicating favorable weather both for the harvesting and the growth of the domestic crop, Wheat opened easy in response to lower quotations at Liverpool. Later

GIBBONS AND DEMPSEY IN CONDITION FOR THEIR TITLE BATTLE AT SHELBY

Shelby, Mont., July 3—(By the A. P.)—Agog with excitement and packed with surging crowds of fight fans, Shelby tonight was anxiously awaiting the great pugilistic event which tomorrow will focus the eyes of the entire sport world on this little Montana cow town.

Assured of the title bout between champion Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons, after a most hectic and despairing financial battle, the residents of this crowded, conglomerate city of shacks, tents and concession stands, fight officials and trainers were drawing to a close the elaborate preparations for tomorrow's fight.

Apparently the least disturbed of any man in Shelby, Tom Gibbons, the St. Paul contender, romped with his three children in his little cottage, went for a short walk over the nearby hills in the afternoon and saw cow punchers and rough riders perform at a rodeo.

"If I am defeated tomorrow I will know I am not fit to hold the heavyweight title," Gibbons said this afternoon. "This is the opportunity of my lifetime. It is the goal toward which I have been working for three hard, busy years. It finds me near the absolute perfection of conditions. I could have done no more to bring myself to a finer point physically.

"I am more than confident I will win. I have a plan of campaign mapped out in my mind. A single punch will not disturb my plans. I will enter the ring sure of myself, entirely confident of what I can do and certain of the outcome.

"I am determined to win as much as for what it will mean for my family as the title itself. When I fought Harry Greb I slipped back a year in my progress toward the title. I will not slip now that I have my chance at it.

"The financial details of the bout have not bothered me. I am here to fight and it will be no disappointment to me if I do not get a postage stamp out of the bout."

The challenger will tip the scales at 178 pounds when he enters the ring tomorrow, Eddie Kane, his manager said tonight.

His eye and judgment of distance, on the face of his showing in his recent sparring matches will be better than they ever have been before in his ring career.

While Gibbons has not revealed the plan of attack with which he expects to defeat the champion, ring experts here are freely predicting that he will depend upon his speed to stay away from Dempsey, and his ability to beat the title holder on the counter, using his left busily, boring into the midriff with the twisting left with which he has stowed away other fighters and looking for the opening through which he can reach a vital spot.

The gong will send contender and champion on their way at 3 o'clock, mountain time. Preceding the title bout in the semi-windup, Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul, contender for the light heavyweight title, will clash with Jack Burke, one of Dempsey's sparring partners, in a ten round bout; Bud Gorman, Racine heavyweight, will box Harry Drake, who has been at work in Dempsey's camp, eight rounds, and Ernie Sayles of Minneapolis and Jack McDonald of Seattle, light heavyweight will tangle in a six round opener. Delaney and Gorman have been sparring partners of Gibbons. Two other preliminary bouts are being arranged by Michael Collins, match maker, but definite announcement of the participants is being held in abeyance until the plans are completed.

The financial affairs of the bout were placed in the hands of the government today by Jack Kearns, who is checking receipts at headquarters here in the collection of the final instalment of his protege's guarantee.

Charles A. Rasmusson, collector of internal revenue, assumed formal charge of tickets, accounts and receipts today after an attempt had been made to tie them up through service of a writ of attachment on Phil Campbell, ticket manager. The writ was sworn out by Arthur Kelly, local oil man, who claimed $1,005 for expenses he said he incurred in ticket selling. Sheriff Harry Benjamin intervened when legal ownership of the tickets was found to be in doubt, and the legality of the writ questioned, and he took charge of the office for a few hours. Loy Molumby, Montana commander of the American Legion, was named in the writ.

"This action is to protect the government in the collection of the federal tax on all ticket sales," Rasmusson said. "It will continue until the fight is over and the tax has been collected there will be no more liens filed against the promoters or writs served because the tickets are in our hands."

Kelly said later that he had arrived at an understanding with the promoters that his claim would be paid and that his attachment under which the effort was made to tie up the tickets, will be dismissed.

Ticket sales were brisk during today and a busy morning tomorrow is predicted by Campbell. He declared several thousand dollars had been received for tickets before noon today.

DEMPSEY TO TAKE NO CHANCES WITH GIBBONS

Great Falls, Mont., July 3—(By the A. P.)—Jack Dempsey rolled into bed at his training camp early tonight for his last sleep before he crawls into the ring to defend his world's heavyweight championship against Tommy Gibbons. Dempsey, while refusing to make a flat statement that he will knock out the St. Paul challenger, declared that he expected Gibbons to prove to be one of the toughest opponents he has ever met.

"I am not one who regards him lightly," Dempsey said. "I regard every challenger as dangerous. They are all dangerous until they are on the floor. I am not going to take any chances with Gibbons. I will make every effort to beat him in the first round if possible. Anything is liable to happen to a champion any time he goes into the ring. So I am going to do my best, and if my best fails I shall be the first to welcome Gibbons as the new champion.

"It is my confident feeling that I never was in better shape. I feel better than I have in many years on the day before I fought. My training period has been handled to such perfection that I have greatly benefited by it."

The huge 21 room house just over the hills on the edge of the city that has been Dempsey's training camp for eight weeks today was a deserted hall. Dempsey spent most of his time away from camp, walking out in the air or riding with a party of Chicago admirers, who called on him today. Soon after breakfast, Dempsey pulled into his frayed sweater and went for a walk over the rough country adjoining the camp. He returned in time to take a short rest before luncheon and then went for a short automobile ride, returning at five o'clock for dinner.

Dempsey looks to be everything that his manager, Jack Kearns, has declared of him, perfectly trained and ready for Gibbons. The champion is tanned to a deep brown as a result of long exposure to the sun, his face and body glow with health and he does not appear to have an extra pound of weight on his trim frame.

Tomorrow will be get-away day for the champion. He has been tendered the use of a private car to make the trip to Shelby and which will be used as his quarters while in the boom town. He plans to return immediately after the fight, coming back to Great Falls to have his personal belongings packed and then starting off for a short visit to Salt Lake City.

HOME RUNS BY MEUSEL WINS FOR GIANTS

Philadelphia, July 3—Two home runs by "Irish" Meusel were enough to give New York a victory over Philadelphia today 4 to 2.

Meusel hit his first homer in the sixth with two on base and duplicated the blow in the eighth, with no one on base. But five other hits were made by the Giants.

Tierney failed to hit safely, the first time he has been blanked in 26 consecutive games. Score:

TITLE GAME FOR EAST SIDERS ON THURSDAY

Manager Peduce of the East Side Single Men and Manager James of the East Side Married Men were in conference Tuesday evening with regard to a series for the championship of the East Side, and it was decided to play the first game on Thursday night. The series is to be for the best three out of five games, the losers to pay all expenses for a chowder for the two teams. There is quite a little money placed on the result, with the odds favoring the single men. Both managers have nothing to say about their lineups at the present time but will announce them on the day of the first game.

WILD THROW GIVES WHITE SOX A VICTORY

St. Louis, July 3.—Schleibner's wild throw to first in the ninth inning, allowing Mostil and Sheely, who had walked, to cross the plate gave Chicago a 4 to 3 victory over St. Louis today. Eddie Collins was not in the lineup because of a slight knee injury. Score:

BOTH TENDLER AND FREEDMAN CONFIDENT

Michigan City, Ind., July 3.—Sailor Freedman and Lew Tendler, battling here tomorrow for the right to challenge Benny Leonard for the lightweight championship, each expressed confidence in their ability to win in statements tonight and their managers were even more optimistic. Freedman and Tendler took life easy today, neither indulging in any heavy exercise.

Kaplan and Herman Draw.

New Haven, July 3.—Louis (Kid) Kaplan of Meriden and Babe Herman of California, featherweights, fought 12 rounds to a draw at Weiss park tonight.

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED AT RACES AND BALL GAME AT FAIRGROUNDS

If the weather man is considerate of the lovers of horse racing and baseball in Norwich, the local people will have an opportunity this afternoon to see some bang-up good racing and a ball game that will have all the old-time rivalry. The horse racing will be a feature of the double holiday bill at the Fairgrounds that will be well worth seeing, as many fast horses from eastern Connecticut have been entered for the three events.

The racing will start promptly at 2 o'clock and the three events will be run off as rapidly as possible under the three in five plan. There is expected to be much close rivalry between the locally owned horses that are entered in the various events.

The baseball game between the Norwich club and the Taftville A. A. will start immediately after the completion of the horse racing, probably around 3:30 o'clock. This game has caused no little talk in Norwich and Taftville, as there is strong feeling between the supporters of the teams. The betting on this game is practically even and the Taftville fans claim they are coming down strong with plenty of collateral to back up their team. The Taftville backers are depending on Mike Morin to hold the local team in check, but rumor has it that Manager Troland has a dark horse up his sleeve to slip in at the last minute should Morin prove to be out of condition.

Morin has long wanted a chance at the Norwich team and will be sadly disappointed if he does not pitch today's game. Troland is not announcing his lineup until just before the game, when it is possible that he will spring a surprise on the local team. Troland has repeatedly said that he considered his team fast enough to compete with the local aggregation, but his failure to announce his lineup looks as though he had something up his sleeve to spring at the last minute. However, it will be a good battle for everybody.

TIGERS RALLY IN EIGHTH AND TENTH TO WIN

Cleveland, O., July 3.—Detroit came from behind and defeated Cleveland 12 to 8 in ten innings here today. The Tigers knocked Coveleskie out of the box in the eighth inning and then scored four runs off Bedgood in the tenth. Detroit used five pitchers. Brower hit the first ball pitched to him by Pillette in the second inning over the right field wall, scoring Stephenson ahead of him. Score

YANKS TAKE THRILLING BATTLE FROM SENATORS

New York, July 3—The New York Americans beat the Washington club today in one of the most thrilling games seen here in a long time. The score was 2 to 1. Joe Bush hit a homer in the eighth inning which broke a scoreless tie. Washington came back in the ninth and tied the score at one all when Evans tripled with Gharrity on first. The team battled on even terms until the fifteenth inning when Babe Ruth, first up, knocked out his sixteenth homer of the year. Mogridge and Bush pitched airtight ball. The score:

WOMEN'S CLAY COURT PLAY REACHES SEMI-FINALS

Buffalo, N. Y., July 3.—Play in the women's national clay court tennis championship reached the semi-finals today. Miss Edith Sigourney of Boston, Miss Lillian Scharman of Brooklyn, Miss Barbara Killey of Cleveland and Miss Maymel Macdonald of Seattle are the semi-finalists and they will meet tomorrow afternoon in the matches that will decide the places in the final bracket.

In the most brilliant match of today's play Miss Scharman won from Miss Brenda Hedstrom, Buffalo city champion, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4. Miss Sigourney defeated Miss Mary Clarke of East Aurora, former western New York champion, 6-1, 6-3. Miss Killey eliminated Mrs. Ruth Riese of Saginaw, Mich., a dangerous contender, and Miss Macdonald entered the semi-finals by virtue of a win over Miss Yate of Buffalo on Monday.

MORE TROUBLE FOR SHELBY FIGHT PROMOTERS

Shelby, Mont., July 3.—Officials of the Dempsey-Gibbons bout were served with a writ of attachment under a claim of $1,005 held by Arthur Kelly, local oil man, shortly after noon today.

The sheriff's deputy who served the writ attempted to take the tickets for the fight which were in headquarters, but an argument ensued in which Major J. F. Lane, newly appointed trustee for the fight, Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, and Phil Campbell, ticket manager, participated.

Rain Prevents Taylor-Sheppard Bout.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—The boxing match between Bud Taylor of Terre Haute and Johnny Sheppard of Boston, scheduled to be held tonight at the American association baseball park here, was called off on account of rain. It was announced the bout would be held Thursday night.

DEMPSEY-GIBBONS FIGHT BY MEGAPHONE

The Dempsey-Gibbons fight will be megaphoned from the Bulletin office round by round. The preliminary bouts will not be given by megaphone. The big fight will start shortly after six o'clock daylight time.

RAIN CURTAILS GRAND CIRCUIT RACING EVENTS

North Randall, Cleveland, O., July 3 (By the A. P.)—Rain brought to a sudden ending today's Grand Circuit harness horse racing here after five heats had been raced off and a track record broken.

The horses had just finished the final heat of the first event, won by Hal Abbe, when the rain came. Two heats of the Ohio stake, $5,000, had been finished and had to go over until tomorrow unfinished.

It was in this event that the record was broken. In winning the first heat in 2.03 2-5, Favonian, driven by Fred Edman of Memphis lowered the time of 2.04 1-4 made by Mabel Trask in 1916. Clyde the Great, which trotted a half in 1.01 1-5 in setting the pace in this mile, broke coming down the stretch but won the second heat in 2.04 2-5. Both last quarters were trotted in 30 4-5 seconds.

George Loomis of Minneapolis was suspended by the judges for the balance of the season for alleged improper driving of the mare Zombie Girl in the final heat of the 2.10 pace.

BIG WATER CARNIVAL AT JEWETT CITY TODAY

There is every reason to believe that the water carnival slated for 3 o'clock this afternoon at Ashland park, Jewett City, will be some splash.

Some good entries have been received for the diving events and those who have seen these meets in the past know that there are some real stars in this vicinity. Plainfield is sending down some mermen and maids too, and in years past they have always taken their share of the prizes. The Norwich Y. M. C. A. will also be represented this year and there are some real performers in that organization. The Submarine Base will also be represented, as will Willimantic and probably New London.

Interest centers around the single scull race between two Jewett City boys for a purse of $50 and the four-oared race is also getting its share of publicity owing to the side bets of followers of the respective crews.

The diving contests are always enjoyed by the fans and this year bid fair to be better than ever.

There will be no long swimming races this year as they have not commanded the interest that the short sprints have in years past, and there will be five short races, taking in all ages and sizes both male and female.

The Mathieu Twins will be on hand, rain or shine, which assures the sport lovers of the best act obtainable in this line. They are considered the best aquatic attraction in New England. They will not be permitted to compete for the prizes in the various events but will give a special exhibition all their own. Frank Dewelcor, the twin's instructor, will be on hand and will give a special exhibition. He is new to this section but is well known in the south, having been located for several years at Ormand Beach, Fla.

Neil Crowley of Norwich, and Ray Green, former Brown university swimming star, will act as referee and judge.

All events are open except the boat races and the entries will be held open until 12 o'clock noon.

The program starts at 3 o'clock (daylight time).

FOURTH OF JULY.

From one end of the country to the other today, from boundary to boundary and from coast to coast, there will be a general observance of the birthday of the nation. It was 147 years ago that the Declaration of Independence was adopted, an act which marked the decisive beginning of the separation of the American colonies from Great Britain. We had gotten to the point where it was no longer possible to tolerate the policies of the mother country. Resentment was added to resentment until action of a positive character was agreed upon and taken. Our forefathers set forth with courage and determination. It meant not only a hard struggle to back up the famous declaration and insist that it must stand, but it has since called for continued adherence to high ideals, the display of high statesmanship and the settlement of many momentous questions.

How successfully the United States as a nation has responded to the motives of those leaders of July 4, 1776, and how well it has builded upon the solidly laid foundation is shown by the position which the nation holds today among those of the rest of the world.

Most certainly it is therefore an anniversary that calls for due recognition by the whole nation, and with the nation made up as it is by many from other nations it is an occasion when the most should be made of the opportunity to send home to these newcomers the meaning of Independence day.

It is not difficult to arouse interest in that portion of the celebration that involves noise, parades and fireworks. There is no doubt but what it is well understood that the celebration of the Fourth is closely associated with the idea of a boisterous celebration, reeking with explosions and filled with a din caused by a long list of noises.

As long as the celebration is safe and sane it is what is expected on the Fourth, but it would doubtless cause surprise could it be revealed how many who participate therein fail to understand what the celebration is all about.

EDWARD BOK'S OFFER.

Edward Bok has displayed from time to time a wholesome interest in worthy accomplishments. His latest offer is in keeping with others that have been made in behalf of Philadelphia, but of course on a much bigger scale. This is not a time when he is simply backing some good movement but when he is endeavoring to bring national thought to the subject of cooperation of the nations of the world for the establishment and preservation of peace.

Such a peace is greatly desired. It is not a new ambition, but it has gotten much greater support than ever before since the great struggle of a few years ago in Europe with its great waste of human life and the creation of conditions that are not going to be overcome for many long years.

Mr. Bok's hope is that his offer of $100,000 to the American who devises a plan for the cooperation of nations for peace will result in more serious thought being directed to the subject. Without a doubt he is serious in his offer and yet one if of big proportions is involved when he requires that the plan be approved by the United States senate.

In order to get beyond the point of having a plan presented there must of necessity be approval by the senate of this country if it is to be put into effect, and it is also to be recognized that it will be necessary to get other countries to act upon it favorably before the full object could be obtained. As if anticipating the obstacle which the senate presents, Mr. Bok provides that the one presenting a plan that meets with the approval of the judges will receive $50,000 and that when it gets the approval of the United States senate the second $50,000 will be turned over.

Possibly Mr. Bok is perfectly safe in making the offer. There may be submitted no practical plan for the object which he is interested in. It should, however, direct thought into a desirable channel even if no award is made and it certainly is to be commended if nothing else results.

OBSERVER BOYDEN'S RETIREMENT.

Roland Boyden in resigning his office as unofficial observer for this country in Europe made the statement that he "had been there long enough." That of course is open to different interpretations. It can be accepted as meaning that he has rendered all the service that he can in such a position and it can be taken to mean that in his opinion there is no longer any use of maintaining such a representative, or it is open to the view that he is no longer willing to be restrained by the restrictions which the government throws about the office.

If Mr. Boyden thinks that there is no further use for such a representative, it is quite evident that he is out of tune with the administration for a successor has already been named. It is not improbable that Mr. Boyden feels that under the views he personally holds regarding the matters which he is observing he has been there long enough.

Mr. Boyden was first sent abroad by President Wilson. The need of someone to keep in touch with the situation after it had been found that the senate would not accept the treaty of Versailles was recognized, and his services were continued by the present administration.

It will be remembered that early this year Mr. Boyden came in for considerable publicity because of a statement which he made to the reparations commission concerning France's plan to seize the Ruhr. It was taken at first as an expression of this government, but this was quickly repudiated and attention directed to the fact that it simply voiced the personal views of the observer, who was cautioned at the time against a repetition of such an outburst. Mr. Boyden has been more discreet since that time. He may feel now that he can no longer hold to those lines, and it may be that he feels that this government should take a more active part. If that is the case and he is unwilling to be guided by the requirements of this government he has been there long enough and another can better serve this country's requirements.

THE GOVERNOR'S PLEA.

There is nothing unreasonable in the plea that has been made by the governors of New England to the interstate commerce commission that there be a postponement of the hearing on the proposed consolidation of railroad lines. New England is interested in anything that concerns its transportation systems. It wants to see the situation improved and it is desirous that it be done in the way that works to the best advantage of this part of the country and to the roads themselves.

When the governors ask for a postponement they do so that there may be opportunity for study of the report which has been made to them by the special committee. It is a report which deals with the railroad problems and consolidation. It is proper that the people of New England should have the opportunity to study and digest the facts presented and the recommendations made by the joint committee representing the several states. Certainly this part of the country should stand as a unit if it is possible to do so. Through such a delay as the governors ask it would be possible to give that consideration to the situation that the report calls for and thereby make it possible to better present New England's needs and desires before the interstate commerce commission at some later date. There is no exaggeration of the fact when the governors state that the people of New England states are vitally concerned with the serious situation that confronts the railroads, and in the light of the facts some definite New England policy can be reasonably expected to develop. The chance to produce it ought not at least to be denied.

GENERAL GOURAUD.

This country has had the opportunity to welcome some of the big leaders from other countries in the World war. It has given them a fitting reception and showered honors upon them. We have had a chance to see and hear at close range men who hold responsibilities and upon whom to a large degree rested the great duty of winning the war.

General Gouraud is the latest of the several outstanding French leaders who have come to this country. He comes as the guest of the Rainbow division which served under him, which came to hold him in the highest esteem and which was desirous that he be in attendance at their reunion in Indianapolis.

General Gouraud was a fighting leader and therefore one whose inspirations must have created a lasting memory among those who had the privilege of serving under him. It is no wonder that the Rainbow division wanted him as their guest. It can be certain that they will give him a fitting welcome and take delight in showing him the interesting points of this country to which he has always wanted to come.

As a French leader General Gouraud was fully cognizant of the value which the American soldiers had been to him and his country and it was he who took occasion to express admiration for their courage and bravery when they participated in his successful plan for breaking up a German offensive.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Independence day. Let the flags fly long and conspicuously.

No one needs to be admonished to make the celebration of the Fourth snappy.

If Uncle Sam puts his thumbs in his armholes and throws out his chest it is no more than ought to be expected after the sizeable surplus that replaces a predicted deficit.

THE IMMORTAL DECLARATION AND ITS SIGNERS

The signers of the Declaration of Independence were fifty-six in number.

Five of the signers of the Declaration of Independence lived to be over 90, eight over 80, and ten over 70.

Three of the signers of the Declaration of Independence were born in Ireland, two in England, two in Scotland, and one in Wales.

Two of the signers of the Declaration of Independence—John Adams and Thomas Jefferson—afterwards became President of the United States.

The first signer of the Declaration of Independence was John Hancock of Massachusetts and the last was Thomas Heyward, Jr., of South Carolina.

The oldest signer of the Declaration of Independence at the time of signing was the renowned Benjamin Franklin, who was in his seventy-first year.

The youngest signer of the Declaration of Independence at the time of signing was Edward Rutledge of South Carolina, who was only twenty-seven years old.

The last survivor of the signers of the Declaration of Independence was Charles Carroll of Maryland, who died in 1832, when past his ninety-fifth year.

John Morton of Pennsylvania was the first of the signers of the Declaration of Independence to die (1777) and Charles Carroll of Maryland was the last (1832).

The youngest signer of the Declaration of Independence at the time of death was Thomas Lynch, Jr., of South Carolina, who was lost at sea when he was but thirty years old.

Three of the signers of the Declaration of Independence were born in Ireland. They were Matthew Thornton of New Hampshire and James Smith and George Taylor, delegates from Pennsylvania.

The original draft of the Declaration of Independence was written by Thomas Jefferson in his lodging house, kept by Mrs. Clymer, at the corner of Seventh and High streets, Philadelphia.

The ink on the original parchment copy of the Declaration of Independence has almost faded away, but the original draft of the Declaration made by Jefferson, with insertions in the handwriting of Franklin and John Adams, is still clearly decipherable.

William Ellery, one of the Rhode Island signers of the Declaration of Independence, lived to be 92 years old, the greatest age attained by any of the signers, with the single exception of Charles Carroll of Maryland, who was ninety-five at the time of his death.

HOW TO BREAK A LEG

"What do you think!" said the worried man. "My brother-in-law slipped on the stairs and broke his leg! Tough luck!"

"Tough luck is right," agreed the garrulous man, delighted at having a fresh subject for conversation. "Any man living in a great city who breaks a leg loses out on 95 per cent. of the natural fun encircling such a situation. Either the ambulance picks him up and rushes him into an efficient atmosphere of white-gowned surgeons, starched nurses, soup and thermometers, or else he is put into the spare bedroom and all the tidies, embroidered bureau covers and lace curtains are removed, the floor wiped up with disinfectants once a day and the window left open, freezing him to death. They call that giving hospital treatment at home. He can't have callers because it gives him a fever and it's bad for his eyes to read lying down, so there is nothing much for the poor duck to do but count his fingers and ask to have his pillow turned over again.

"If he had had presence of mind enough to rush to the country or a small town when he felt the leg-breaking episode coming on he would have found the result very different.

"I slipped on the ice two years ago, when I was in Hum-mockville at my Aunt Jerusha's and right away the fun began. After consultation among the populace somebody got a horse blanket and rolled me onto it to carry me into the house because I was to heavy to handle in any other way. All the little boys danced wildly about by cortege, shrieking to other little boys inside houses and around corners to c'mon over, Callie's uncle was being carried in a horse blanket, and excitement surged.

"Ladies peered from behind discreetly drawn lace curtains and stern business men going home to dinner with a pound of round steak under their arms turned and joined the procession. Aunt Jerusha came to the side door carrying the long fork she uses in frying doughnuts, with a hot doughnut impaled on the end, and when she comprehended the situation she thrust the fork hot end first into the hands of the minister, who had just laid down one corner of the horse blanket to rest and tore away to put on the tea kettle. At my aunt's the first thing to do, whether the visitation is a hard cold or a stroke of paralysis, is to put on the tea kettle. Three neighbor women went to help her, four more dashed to turn down the bed coverings in my room and eight men labored and perspired in hoisting me upstairs and into bed.

"By this time two rival doctors collided on the front steps. The situation was saved when the assemblage dragged them both in, eyeing one another suspiciously and gently snorting when it was possible to do so politely.

All the while they were setting my leg I could hear Bill Severn and Ed Loomis over by the window rehearsing all the previous broken legs they had known, and most of them had been sad affairs.

Ed insisted on sitting up with me till midnight and then Bill took his turn and in the morning when Aunt Jerusha came on duty nice and rested she assured me in response to my protests that Mrs. Lawyer White from next door had come over to get breakfast and do the dishes and Mrs. Hardware Store Griffith had sent over two pies and a baked ham for dinner so she didn't have to bother with that and that the jelly had begun to come in well.

"Man alive! Did you ever have spiced cherries and golden preserved peaches, rich dark gooseberry jam, currant jelly and red raspberries in glittering glass jars ranged up in a line waiting for you to choose? There's nothing wrong with your stomach, you know, when your leg is broken, and this is just as well. Because if you had to eat gruel, milk toast and orange juice when a whole town was bringing offerings of heavenly delicacies such as chocolate cake, fried chicken, homemade ice cream and charlotte russe you'd just actually die of a broken heart.

"Pretty girls come and read to me and the men all came around our way when they started home from the store. I never had such a good time in my life—so when I think of your poor brother-in-law with his broken leg all sanitary and scientific and white-enameled and lonesome—"

"I plainly see that he has made a fearful mistake in this affair," agreed the worried man feelingly. "Say, I guess I'll go up and see him anyhow right away, even if my wife did say it was too soon for visitors!"—Exchange.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Captain Robert A. Bartlett, who is planning another expedition to the Far North, is a veteran of five polar expeditions and one of the best-known figures in the small circles of Arctic explorers. He was with Peary in his famous thrust for the North Pole, though not going to the goal with his superior officer. In 1913 he was employed by the Canadian government in its Arctic exploration expedition. His ship was crushed. He found his way to Siberia, and finally to Wrangle Island and back to Nome, Alaska. He is the holder of the Hubbard Gold Medal conferred by the National Geographical Society, and of several other medals given by European societies, all in recognition of his ability as a navigator, his intrepedity as a discoverer, and his zeal in his labors wherever and whenever he entered upon them. The special purpose of Capt. Bartlett's coming expedition to the Arctic Sea will be to measure its flow and currents and dredge its bottom.

Stories That Recall Others

Up In the Air.

After a recent storm had laid low a number of fences and trees and upset things generally, Bobbie, age four, was viewing the wreckage, turning to his mother, he said,

"It's a good thing I wasn't out last night or that wind would have blown me up in heaven's lap."

All Situations Covered.

A story always worth telling at a gathering of lawyers illustrated the technique and vagaries of legal procedure. It especially shows that in his pleadings a lawyer must cover all situations that might arise.

In the case in point, a woman had borrowed a crock from her neighbor. It was charged in the complaint that when she returned the crock, it was cracked, and the action was for damages.

Counsel for the defendant pleaded no cause for action for three reasons. They were:

That the defendant never borrowed the crock.

That the defendant returned the crock in good condition.

That the crock was cracked when the defendant borrowed it.

Don't Spoil a Good Meal With a Bad Stomach

It is really a pitiful sight to see so many thousands of people worrying about what they can eat and what they can't eat.

Dyspeptics, they call themselves, but they stretch the imagination when they do it.

All these people need to make them healthy, cheerful and of sound appetite is a box of Mi-O-Na Tablets.

The stomach of a dyspeptic is overworked and run down. It needs help to digest the food, but more than that it needs a prescription that will cleanse, renovate, strengthen and put elasticity into the stomach walls.

Mi-O-Na is the prescription that will do this and do it so promptly that you'll wonder why you didn't try it before.

It stops belching of gas and distress after eating in five minutes. It is undoubtedly the greatest stomach tonic ever given to the public by a specialist in stomach diseases.

Leading druggists everywhere and The Lee & Osgood Co. sell Mi-O-Na on the money back plan.

WESTMINSTER

Westminster community has very seldom been moved as it was by the tragic death of Douglas MacLeod, who lost his life in the Quinebaug river Wednesday, June 27th. His funeral was very largely attended in Westminster church Saturday afternoon, June 23d. Six schoolmates, Francis Deane, Johnnie Soderburg, Archie Green, Theron Brassil, Raymond Brown and Edgar Koch, were the bearers. Friends in Euston, Hampton, Putnam and Plainfield and very many in this town sent flowers, including Westminster Hill community, floral pillow; the larger community, broken column; church school, white roses. The service was very impressive: the organ processional, scripture reading and the reading of a poem by Mrs. Davies, remarks and prayer by the pastor were followed by solos by the organist, Elwood Hubbard.

Douglas MacLeod was a handsome boy with winning ways and a bright mind, and one to be depended upon. While full of fun, and quick to see a joke, he was unusually considerate of the feelings of others. In school he was eager to do his best, and stood well in his classes. In the recent annual local speaking contest from the list presented for choice he selected one intended for seventh grade pupils, while he was in the fifth. Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech, which he mastered. He will be greatly missed in church school, from which he was rarely absent.

ANTI-SWEAT SHOPS STATUTES ARE VIOATED

Newak, N. J., July 3.—The prosecution of a Newark manufacturer for violation of child labor laws was undertaken by the state department of labor today, coincident with publishing charges that the anti-sweat shop statutes were being disregarded wholesale and that a clean-up was under way.

Department of labor officials kept secret the identity of the manufacturer. In papers forwarded to Attorney General McCran, but not yet on file, he was cited for farming out work, and disregarding factory and child labor laws, in the face of repeated warnings by the authorities

A survey of the state just completed has revealed a "deplorable spread" of the sweat shop into thousands of homes, says the labor officials' report. Clothing for men, women and children, toilet articles, powder puffs and many other things, it says, are being "farmed out," without permits, to tenement and basement families to be manufactured amid squalor and virulent disease.

Sick women and children do most of the work, the survey disclosed. Of 6,000 persons thus engaged in the state, 800 were found to be children from 4 to 14 years old, their earnings ranging from $1.65 a week to $10.

WESTPORT CHILD KILLED UNDER TRUCK WHEELS

Westport, Conn., July 3.—In view of his two sisters and brother, David Allen Brennan, 7 year old son of Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Brennan of Compo street, was run down and ground beneath the wheels of a delivery truck driven by Joseph Mugavero of 80 Woodward avenue, South Norwalk, this afternoon about 1.45 o'clock, dying about five minutes later. Mugavero is being held in bonds of $500 on a charge of reckless driving.

ANNOUNCE WAGE INCREASES FOR RAIL WORKERS

The attention of postmasters is being called to the fact that live animals, such as dogs, cats and the like, and live fowls, other than day-old chicks, are not mailable and under no circumstances should be accepted for transmission in the mails.

Telephone Rate Changes.

Changes in rates for rentals of telephone instruments were announced Monday by the Southern New England Telephone company. Individual lines to residence are increased from $3 to $3.25 and party lines to residence made $2.50, a decrease of 25 cents. A new plan is a two-party house line for $2.50. There is no change in business rates. The company explains that too great a demand for individual lines is the reason for the change.

The changed rates apply in this city.

The child is father to the man; the former builds a house of blocks and the latter builds a block of houses.

BALTIC WOMAN INJURED WHEN SEDAN AND TROLLEY COLLIDE

Miss Noulia Patenaude of Baltic is a patient at the Backus hospital suffering painful cuts about the face and head, four girl companions are cut or bruised and the Buick sedan owned by Frank Hampson of Baltic, a boss weaver, is badly damaged, resulting from a collision with a trolley car near the trolley crossing south of Taft's station about 9.55 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Mr. Hampson who was on the way back from Watch Hill had as his passengers, Miss Patenaude, Miss Antoinette Legare, Miss Alice Legare, Miss Yvonne Sivigne and Mrs. Anna Patenaude, all of Baltic, and was driving toward Taftville just before 10 o'clock Tuesday night. In making the turn across the trolley tracks the wheels of the automobile became caught in the tracks and owing to the slippery condition of the rails Mr. Hampson could not get the car off the tracks in time to avoid sliding into the south bound trolley operated by Motorman Prodell and in charge of Conductor Foley.

The automobile met nearly head on and there was a shattering of glass as the windshield of the car was broken, Miss Patenaude being thrown through the windshield sustaining severe lacerations about the head and face.

She was immediately taken to the Backus hospial where the wounds were dressed, showing numerous cuts about the face and head which although painful were reported as not of a serious nature. Several of the other passengers of the sedan were cut by flying glass or bruised when thrown up against the car but they were not injured to any extent.

A passing automobilist took Miss Patenaude to the hospital and the ambulance was sent out from there in response to a call after the accident but there were no patients to be brought in the ambulance.

The sedan had its right front wheel crushed, axle bent up, forward springs bent and radiator punctured, and the front end of the trolley showed marks of the collision. The accident delayed the trolleys for some time on the run the through cars being over a quarter of an hour late. Glass was scattered all over the road for a considerable distance.

It was stated that the tracks of the trolley at the right side of the highway stand up above the level of the road making it difficult for vehicles to turn out, especially so under conditions prevailing Tuesday night when a light rain was falling.

Word of the smash-up was telephone here to police headquarters. State Policemen Geddes and Sullivan reached the wreck before it had been cleared up and made an investigation.

Run Over in Centennial Square

Mrs. Daniel Devine of 3 High street was badly bruised about the legs, back and shoulders about 7 o'clock Tuesday night when she was knocked down by an Oakland touring car owned and operated by Raffello Gemino of 61 Fountain street. The accident was immediately reported to police headquarters.

According to the story of Mrs. Devine and her sister who was with her the couple had started to cross Centennial square from Boswell avenue to Baltic street when a car suddenly approached, traveling at a fast rate of speed. Mrs. Devine was unable to avoid the machine and was struck and knocked down, the wheel of the car passing over her.

She was brought to police station and Dr. Louis T. Cassidy was called to attend to her injuries. Later she was able to return home with assistance, but her injuries will prevent her being out for several days.

Gemino and his companion Demito Lenore claimed that they were coming out of Boswell avenue to turn into Broad street and seeing these women in the road Gemino tried to avoid her but she evidently became the accident being unavoidable. When confused and dodged back and forth, the car stopped Mrs. Devine was between the front wheels. They said she was not run over.

It is understood that attorneys for the Devines endeavored to adjust the affair Tuesday evening. Witnesses of the accident, it is alleged, were undecided as to who was at fault, several stating it was unavoidable.

Machine Hit on Willimantic Road

George Lague of Norwich Town reported to Captain Twomey Tuesday evening that his car had been struck about 7 o'clock in the evening by another automobile driven by a woman who gave her name as Nellie Metcalf, and owned by C. S. Reid of Hartford. The accident took place on the Norwich-Willimantic road at the end of the concrete work. Both cars suffered damaged fenders.

Automobile Ran Into Fence

A car driven by a local party met with an accident about 7 o'clock Tuesday night when a wishbone of the car suddenly gave way causing the car to strike the state road fence near the Witch Hazen mill on the Norwich-New London highway. The damage to the car was slight and the fence was not damaged to any extent. The occupants of the automobile aside from a jarring escaped without injury.

TAFTVILLE'S BIG EVENT ON NIGHT BEFORE FOURTH

The Allied Clubs' night before the Fourth celebration at Taftville proved to be a great success in spite of the unfavorable weather and hundreds of people, many from out of the village lined the streets to watch the parade, and the many automobiles taxed the parking facilities of the streets of the village to the utmost.

The festivities began with a band concert at eight o'clock on the grounds of the Ponemah Wheel club. At ten o'clock the paraders fell into line, and led by Marshal John E. Benoit marched through the various streets of the town.

Machines carrying fresh supplies of red fire traveled in the parade, to furnish the marchers with sufficient material and at several points along the route, there were large displays of fireworks. Both Tubbs military band and the Taftville brass band were in line, as well as the Taftville drum corps and Slats Thurlow's ragamuffin band. The Lisbon Fire department which brought up the rear of the parade, called for much laughter and applause from the spectators. The horribles were many in number, and first in class, included everything from Indians to clowns.

One exhibit that attracted considerable attention was that of the Ponemah Wheel club, which entered a float upon which was mounted a model 1895 bicycle and a model 1923 motorcycle. The float was cleverly decorated and attracted much attention along the line of march. The other floats in the parade were also decorated and the originality of the entries caused considerable comment.

This is the first year when several clubs have combined to make the celebration worth while, and the event was so far ahead of the celebrations in former years that there can be no doubt but what it will be planned in this manner next year. Those on the committee worked hard to make the event a successful one. At the end of the line of march, coffee and sandwiches were served by the refreshment committee of which Andrew Frohmader was chairman.

Following was the program which was rendered previous to the parade by Tubbs' band, under the direction of A. W. Jarvis:

ORDAINED AS PASTOR AT "LITTLE WHITE CHURCH"

Rev. Frank Crook was ordained Friday as pastor of "The Little White Church" at South Egermont, Mass.

Mr. Crook was born in Bristol, England, but has been a resident of this country for 17 years. For three years he attended the Mt. Hermon school at Northfield, then during the war was in Y. M. C. A. work at New London, and for six months in the machine corps at Camp Devens. At the close of the war he came to South Egermont where he has preached in the "Little White Church" and has become very popular.

SECOND DEATH FROM THIS AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

(Special to The Bulletin)

Westerly, July 4—Ralph R. Webster, 127 Prospect street, Pawtucket, owner of the automobile in which Miss Veronica McAlevy of 399 Broadway, Pawtucket, was killed early in the morning of June 23 while returning from the Yale-Harvard boat race at New London, died at the Memorial hospital Tuesday morning. He was operated upon Saturday evening for internal injuries and since Monday morning he has failed rapidly.

PRESENTED CLEVER COMEDY IN CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM

One of the high points in Norwich Chautauqua week was given Tuesday night in the brown canvas tent on the Academy campus in the presentation of the comedy-drama, Crossed Wires. The three acts were full of wholesome humor that was finely interpreted by the clever cast and applause was frequent all the way through.

In the afternoon programme a recital was given by Helen Waggoner and a reading by Leon Pearson, who played the leads in the comedy.

After the evening performance a meeting of the guarantors was held at which organization was effected for next year by the election of William H. Collins president, Judge John H. Barnes, vice president, Charles S. Holbrook, secretary and Gilbert S. Raymond treasurer. Forty guarantors have been secured and more names will be added to the list before Chautauqua closes tonight (Wednesday).

President Collins made a short speech, thanking the guarantors for his election and spoke of the pleasure it gave him to do what he could to bring to Norwich anything of such great community value as a Chautauqua week, which appeals so strongly to adults and has such a fine educative value for the children.

A vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Collins was passed on motion of Robert McNeeley.

Mr. Collins also made a brief statement of the financial side of the Norwich Chautauqua in which he said that the probability was that each of the guarantors this year would be called on for $9 or $10 to make up the deficit.

BOY SCOUT ATHLETICS AT CHELSEA PARADE

With fair weather today Norwich people will be given an opportunity to witness for themselves the work now being accomplished by the Norwich troops of the Boy Scouts of America.

Starting at 9.30 o'clock and continuing until 1 o'clock all the scout troops of the city and the Scout troop of Jewett City are to engage in a series of Scout field meets at Chelsea parade which has been secured from the city by the Scouts for the event which is planned to be an annual event on Independence Day.

About twenty Scout athletic events and events calling for exhibition of Scoutcraft have been arranged by Executive F. A. Benton and the scoutmasters of the several local troops and handsome bronze medals have been put up for the winners of each event. An added feature for the best average of points scored by troops is a trophy to go to the troop whose Scouts score the most points in all events.

HOLDING PROFESSORSHIP OPEN FOR REV. E. S. WORCESTER

Rev. Edward S. Worcester, pastor of the First Congregational church, Bellows Falls, Vt., recently was elected by the General Assembly of Reformed Churches to the chair of systematic theology in New Brunswick Seminary, New Brunswick, N. J. He had declined to consider the call to this professorship early in the spring, out of consideration for the Bellows Falls church, which had called him to its pastorate in January and installed him in May. The directors of the assembly now offer to hold the professorship open to Dr. Worcester until such time in 1924 as he may feel free to accept it. Dr. Worcester's decision as to the new proposal has not been announced.

Dr. Worcester was a former pastor of Broadway Congregational church this city, going from there to a pastorate at Madison, Wisconsin, and then to Bellows Falls.

Torpedoes on Bridge Tracks

Some one staged a small but noisy ante-Fourth demonstration about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening by loading the Laurel Hill bridge railroad track of the New Haven road with torpedoes. A freight train that came along just then set the torpedoes off with a series of loud explosions.

Their names and colleges are:

J. Arthur Winthrop, Harvard, team captain; Maurice Isen, Harvard; Nat. S. Younger, Tufts; Harold A. Palmer, Tufts; M. Elwell Goldman, Bentley.

The work of these young men this summer will be to secure 550 names and addresses for mailing list to a well known magazine for which they will in return secure a scholarship which will pay their tuition and expenses at their respective colleges.

Wins Quoit Tournament

An interesting quoit tournament which has been running at the Y. M. C. A. for the past two weeks, came to a close Saturday, with Guido Attaviano winning first place. Leon Lewis and Frank Hill were second and third. The game of quoits has proved quite an attraction among the boys at the "Y" and was played constantly during the two weeks of the tournament. The winner of the tournament will be presented a medal.

Suit Over $375 Note.

Judge C. B. Waller in the common pleas court in New London on Monday heard the trial of the suit of Fred P. Viall of Groton against William W. Ledyard of Stonington, taking the papers and reserving decision. The suit is over a note for $375, given for the purchase of a two-ton automobile truck on June 2, 1920. The plaintiff claims that the defendant paid $50 in November 1920, and that the balance is due.

Making Trip to Bridgeport.

LION OF ARGONNE RECALLS WAR DAYS

New York, July 3.—The days when advancing German troops fell back under the fire of the soldiers of the 165th Division and their French comrades in Champagne were recalled today by General Henri J. E. Gouraud, "The Lion of the Argonne" in an address to members of the 165th Infantry, the regiment, a unit of the division served with the French under command of General Gouraud. "In finding myself in your midst I recall the last time I had the honor and pleasure of being with you," he said. "It was in a small patch of woods in Champagne. You had just helped the French army smash the big German offensive. For six months we had been quietly getting ready our positions in Champagne so the Germans would butt their heads into a stone wall should they attack. That is just what happened.

"Today, in the name of the French army, your former commander of July 15th comes to thank you—the brave soldiers of the 165th, of the 42nd Division."

General Gouraud was the guest of honor tonight at a dinner given by Emil Utard, president of the Franco-American Board of Commerce and Industry. Afterward he attended a reception given by French veterans.

The general, who arrived in this country last Sunday to be the guest for six weeks of the Rainbow Division Veterans, will leave early tmorrow for Philadelphia.

SEWING MACHINE CO. MANAGED "EXTRAVAGANTLY"

Boston, July 3.—The creditors of the New Home Sewing Machine Company of Orange, for more than a year and a half manaed the enterprise "extravagantly, wastefully and inefficiently with resultant large losses." Federal Judge George W. Anderson stated today in handing down opinions on petitions brought by creditors since he appointed Charles N. Stoddard of Greenfield, as receiver.

Receivership was asked on April 20 by Charles S. Scarbrough of New York city, a creditor and at that time assets were estimated at $4,000,000 as against liabilities totalling $1,200,000.

"They were charging the corporation for the money they supplied at the rate of 7 1-2 to 8 2-5 per cent.," the opinion stated. "They took, when the assignments were made, potentially, and in April, 1923, actually, all of the working capital of the corporation of which they were directors and applied it for their own benefit."

FIVE JEWELERS FLEECED OUT OF $100,000

New York, July 3—Five Maiden Lane jewelers, noted for their keenness in sizing up humans, have been fleeced out of $100,000 in gems in the last few weeks by a plausible stranger from Russia, it was disclosed today.

Mirebeau C. Towns, one of the five who admitted a costly failure in judgment, said the man had come to him as a salesman, with apparently unassailable references, and, beginning in a small way to take out gems to sell on commission, had built up a good credit. Meantime, he was building up credit at the other firms in the same way, pawning some of the jewels in order to pay the owners of others for gems he represented as having sold.

When he had pyramided his credit to $100,000 he dropped out of sight and the jewelers and the police are still looking for him. The richest single gem stolen was a 5 1-2 carat emerald, belonging to Mr. Towns, which was valued at $14,000.

CAPT. MACMILLAN SAILS FOR FAR NORTH

Sydney, N. S., July 3.—Captain Donald B. MacMillan, Arctic explorer, and his picked crew of six sailed for the Far North tonight on the Bowdoin on another long cruise, the primary object of which is to determine, if possible, whether another "ice age" is in the process of formation. The advance of glaciers in the last seventy years has indicated this, and MacMillan hopes to bring back the scientific proof.

He also intends to make further study of terrestrial magnetism and atmospheric electricity. His craft is equipped with powerful radio sending outfit, and he will sent out messages to determine whether radio can be sent through the Northern Lights.

GOV. SMITH CONTENDER FOR PRESIDENCY

New York, July 3.—Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo, democratic national committeeman, announced tonight after a conference with Governor Alfred E. Smith, that the governor would enter the next democratic national convention as a contender for the nomination for president.

He said he believed the democratic national platform would carry a plank calling for modification or liberalizing of the Volstead act. "I think it will be to the advantage of the democrats to incorporate such a pledge," he said.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Introductory to the holiday period, cars driven by James Ward of Moosup and Anthony Milone of the Green Hollow road, in this town, engaged in a bucking match at the junction of Water and Cottage streets, shortly after five o'clock Tuesday afternoon and when the rodeo was over the light truck of Milone was taking the count of ten with its wheels spinning in the air. "Saved by a bumper!" might be the slogan to be adopted by the Ward car, which came through the collision with no more apparent damage than dented mudguards. The Milone truck had spokes in a wheel splintered and some damage to the top. Chief John McFarland investigated the accident. He learned that the Ward car was coming from Main into Water street and was about to cross Cottage when the Milone truck came shooting along out of Cottage street in the direction of Water street, the approach being on Ward's left hand. No one was injured in the accident.

Daggett's (Moosup) real ice cream. The tenderloin of the ice cream world. About 23 per cent. butter fat. Try it. —adv.

One of several horses belonging to John Flood, horse dealer and stable owner here, was so badly injured Tuesday morning on Dolly Cole hill, about ten miles east of here on the Little Rest route to Providence and in the town of Foster, that it had to be shot. The horse was one of several being taken overland to Providence when a truck came down the hill and crashed into the horse, which, maddened by injuries that ripped the animal's side open, broke away, went off the road and into a field where it was later shot.

Consider the ethics of citizens with a bump of curiosity so out of control that they haul their cars up beside those they happen to find stopped beside a state highway at night and peer into them with their minds intent on finding out the personnel of the party in the other machine! This community has at least one such specimen and, mayhap, more. In addition to being unethical—and other things—this practice is really a dangerous one for the rubbernecks. In other places it has at times resulted in serious consequences for the inquisitive party. Piker—a word now becoming obsolete—fits these Peeking Toms of the road to a nicety. This comment is inspired by a recent incedtn that occurred in this vicinity. It was so raw on the part of the peeker that the consequences came near to being disastrous. With its lights showing properly and the machine so placed as not to interfere with traffic, there is no regulation against a car stopping along a state highway at night, and occupants of such a machine have a perfect right to go a very long way in protecting themselves from any undue intrusions. And many drivers are prepared to do that very thing.

Danielson's quota of fishermen was on hand and rarin' to go early Tuesday morning when the first fishing day of open fishing at Alexander's lake was allowed. While all those who went out with rod and reel did not have wonderful luck, some very fine strings of bass were brought in, and included in the lot was a creel of nine taken by Frederick Gamache, Earl Wilbur and Charles E. Franklin, these fish later attracting much attention while on display in a window at Woodward's store. Some of the fish in this string weighed over two pounds. Heavy rain during the forenoon interfered to some extent with the fishing, driving many to cover, but other enthusiasts who were out in boats stuck it out. Bass weighing in excess of four pounds each were caught out of the lake during the first day of fishing.

Thursday and Saturday are the other open days for fishing this lake during the present week, and the same free days will be allowed each week during the open season on bass.

Following are the new officers of Orien lodge, K. of P., elected at Monday evening's meeting: Chancellor Commander, Arthur W. Logee; vice chancellor, Howard Franklin; prelate, Alton Eldridge; master of work, Hiram Burton; keeper of records and seal, Eric Gilbert; master at arms, Frank Prudden; inner guard, Donald Armington; outer guard, Kenneth Preston; representatives to the grand lodge for two years, Frank G. Young; alternate, W. A. Barnard. The officers will be installed at a future meeting.

Real honest-to-goodness Indians from Putnam and Webster (they call them Red Men); weird denizens of the forest depths about Old Kentuck, prancing steeds and gaily decorated automobiles, drum corps, bands, horribles of the most horrificness, pretty floats depicting historic events and a score of other features will be included in East Killingly's big Fourth parade, getting under way at 9:30, standard time, this morning. It will be the big event of the holiday morning in this section of eastern Connecticut. East Killingly has issued a general invitation to the people of these immediate sections of the United States to be present and enjoy the parade and all the other attendant features of the Independence day celebration. East Killingly has gone the limit in preparing for the event—and you are guaranteed that there'll be no Shelby, Mont., flubdub about the affair. East Killingly has its money in advance and while it isn't offering any $30,000 purses, it will assert with all confidence that it will provide close to a $1,000,000 with of good clean amusement and entertainment for all who come into its hospitable atmosphere. There is to be speaking at the church, duts, sports and, in the evening a fireworks display.

Many from surrounding communities went to Goodyear Tuesday evening to see the display of fireworks and hear the music that was a feature of the Night Before the Fourth celebration in that community.

Prize waltzing this afternoon will be one of the features of the holiday at Wildwood park, where many also gathered on Tuesday evening and enjoyed the dancing. A feature Tuesday evening was the exhibition dancing of Baby Marie O'Brien.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Call are to leave this week end for their summer place at Cedar Tree Point, R. I., where they will remain until late in September, as is their annual custom.

Major and Mrs. Albert Warren, after visiting with Major Warren's mother, Mrs Emma Warren, left Tuesday evening for Oakland beach. Major and Mrs. Warren are to remain there during July as guests of Warden and Mrs. W.A. Murrows, Major Warren's grandparents.

Trap shooting will begin early this (Wednesday) morning at the shooting lodge of the Danielson Rod and Gun club and will continue throughout the day. Many of the club members have taken up the sport with enthusiasm and some excellent shots are being developed.

Included in the repair and improvement work to be done by the town school committee during the vacation period is the project of painting the exterior of the school property at East Killingly.

A meeting of the Catholic Woman's council, to have been held this week, has been postponed until next week. At the meeting the members will discuss ways and means of raising $50 for the Nurses's home fund of the Day Kimball hospital.

Special officers aided the regular police force in keeping celebrators in check in the borough the night before the Fourth. Chief McFarland remained on duty the greater part of the night. Special officers were stationed in the Dyer-Franklin street section and also in the territory near Davis park. Chief McFarland again issued a warning Tuesday afternoon that use of revolvers by celebrators will be promptly and drastically checked. Showing of a revolver by a celebrator will mean arrest, as their use is absolutely forbidden by law.

Another crash between automobiles at the junction of Broad and Reynolds street again impresses as to the care motorists must take at this junction point if crashes between machines are to be avoided. The Providence-Danielson trunk line with its heavy traffic crosses Broad street at this point and only the watchful may escape being involved in an accident.

Thursday night will be Danielson night at the Elks' fair in Putnam and a big delegation of Danielson members and their friends will be in attendance. Elks from Moosup and Southbridge also will be present Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Alton Frost of Boston are visiting relatives in Danielson for a few days.

Business men handling such lines reported Tuesday a considerable demand for materials to be used in decorating automobiles.

Several parties interested in horse racing will go from Danielson to Windsor to see the races to be held in that place today.

G. H. Johnson of Bristol, R. I., is spending the holiday with friends in Danielson.

Herbert J. Barnett is ill at his home here.

Early celebrators of the period of the Fourth were busy with explosives in outlying sections of the borough before sunset Tuesday.

Edward Adams, who was brought back here from New York state early Tuesday morning in charge of Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Ayer and County Investigator W. E. Jackson, was held at the police station to answer to a non-support charge. He was released under bonds of $300 during the day and a hearing of the case will be held Thursday.

HOW TO FORGET TROUBLES

TROUBLES knock up your system like Jack Dempsey knocks down his opponent.

Troubles deal blows both in the head and stomach—and they hurt the stomach more than they do the head!

Troubles give the stomach indigestion, slow up the liver—and then follow constipation and biliousness.

The way to get rid of troubles is to invigorate digestion, stimulate liver and bowels and tone up the entire system. The best way to do this—has been for the past 80 years—is to take Beecham's Pills.

Then you will feel so good that "troubles" become merely problems, to be solved readily by the clear, keen brain of health.

PUTNAM

A brigade of fishermen advanced upon Alexander's lake with the rising of the sun Tuesday morning, intent upon making record bass catches on the first open day of fishing on that body of water in several years. They came, for the most part, in automobiles, but the trolleys brought others, some drove to the lake and still others walked. The main idea was to get there—as a preliminary to the fishing.

Be it related here that some were fortunate in their angling operations, while others were not. Many fine bass were taken—and some heavy ones—but all who fished did not figure in the bass catching, some having to content themselves with hauls of perch or the lowly "pumpkin-seed." The fishermen pressed every boat at the lake into service, used canoes, fished off the dock at Wildwood park or from other vantage points on shere.

Shortly after 9 o'clock a smart fall of rain drove all but the most enthusiastic to cover and the dancing pavilion and cars parked about held a goodly collection of men who exchanged tales of their experiences during the earlier hours of the morning. Continuation of the rain discouraged some of those who had poor luck and they quit for the day.

The fishermen were representative of about all the communities hereabouts—and of more distanct points—and they ranged in age from a dozen years up to 70 plus. No fishing will be allowed at the lake today, but Thursday and Saturday the fishermen will have other flings at a favorite sport.

Announcement was made Tuesday that the partnership of Hall and Flaherty of New Haven will establish a new industry at Woodstock Valley—the manufacture of certain parts that enter into pipe organ construction. Henry Hall of the partnership is the president of the Hall Organ company of New Haven, the concern that built the splendid organ installed in the Second Congregational church in this city, about two or three years ago.

Mr. Hall has been a summer visitor in Woodstock for years and owns a farm in that town. Through his spending vacation and rest periods there he became acquainted with the territory and finally has reached a decision to establish such a business there as is here outlined.

What formerly was a barn has been taken over and is being remodeled to suit the purposes to which it is to be put. It is not anticipated that the plant will be in operation for two or three months. Possibly as many as a score of operatives will be employed, when the organ parts' factory is running to capacity.

Encouraged by the fact that the fair on its first night was even more of a success than on the opening night in 1922, Putnam lodge of Elks welcomed the members of Putnam lodge with splendid enthusiasm Tuesday night—Webster night—and there was another delightful evening at the fairgrounds, which the heavy rain of the morning had threatened to make a deserted playground during the evening hours. Fine vaudeville featured the fair Tuesday evening, a great act being Lapinski's dog circus, with 50 dogs and other animals, and the Newmans in a boxing act while mounted on one of those contrary contraptions known as a unicycle, a device that resembles a flivver—or what is left of it—after it figures in a railroad wreck.

Hundreds of out of town people are being attracted to Putnam by the fair, which is proving a great advertisement for the city. Today it will hold afternoon and evening sessions, providing much entertainment for the public on the holiday.

State Highway Commissioner John Macdonald—a Putnam young man, son of Postmaster and Mrs. Archibald Macdonald—who has assumed the duties of his new office this week, will receive a warm and enthusiastic reception Friday evening when he comes to this city as the guest of the Putnam Rotary club, which will do him special honor during the presence here of Governor Templeton, who will also be a guest at the banquet the Rotarians have arranged. And, as significant of Putnam's place in the sun, as to being represented in high official station in the state government, another guest of honor will be John S. Byrne, also a scion of Putnam and the head of the state banking commission. The Rotarians' banquet will be a testimonial dinner to Putnam's sons who have made high places for themselves in the government of Connecticut and are discharging their duties in a manner that reflects credit on their home city. It may be too much to quote the happy quip that there is a chance of the state capitol being removed to Putnam, but this city is entitled to be proud of its citizens who have gone into public life and achieved such prominence—and at an age when their years sit so lightly upon them and leave them so long a prospect of life to render further distinguished service to the state.

John T. Hanton has resigned as agent of the Manhasset Manufacturing company in this city, where he has been associated with the big textile concern for a decade. Mr. Hanton's plans for the future are unannounced.

The postoffice will close for the day today—the 4th—at 11:30 a. m. There will be the usual holiday restrictions on service—no city or rural deliveries of mail, no transaction of money order business.

State Treasurer G. Harold Gilpatric of this city and the members of his family are at their summer home at Juniper Point, Me., to spend the holiday season. Mr. Gilpatric will return here at the end of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Adelmar A. Brodeur left Tuesday for Lowell, Mass., near which city, at a lakeside resort, they will spend the holiday season as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Blanchette.

Mr. and Mrs. Michel Daigle of Hartford are in town to spend a vacation of three weeks with Mr. Daigle's mother, Mrs. Joseph Daigle.

Recent real estate transactions in this city include the sale of the Edward Farley property at Battey and Van den Noort streets to James J. Charron. The property was last owned by Wilfred Gaulin. Another real estate sale involves the transfer of property owned at Porter Plains in the town of Thompson to Oscar Johnson from Harris Pikulin.

Of interest is the fact that rain insurance is being carried by Putnam lodge of Elks against the possibility of bad weather during the present week of the fraternity's fair. Last year such insurance protected the Elks against loss on the Fourth.

Extra police aided the regular force in keeping the celebrators within reasonable limits on the night before the Fourth—which was last night in this section of the United States, regardless of Shelby, Montana.

JEWETT CITY

Doubtless the water stunts at the Ashland club grounds today will attract a record crowd to that popular resort. Mr. Chase, the manager, has something gilt edge to present in every line of aquatic sports, which will take place, rain or shine. Besides the Mathieu twins it is probable that the great canoe-tipping contest will be arranged with the following local redoubtable quartette as the principals: Louie Carpenter and Doc Gingras vs Sol Paquette and Zeb Hiscox.

The first meeting of those interested in the establishment in Jewett City of a chamber of commerce was held in the town hall Monday evening. L. M. Carpenter and Edmond Jodoin were elected temporary chairman and secretary respectively. General interest as manifested and favorable opinions expressed, it being generally agreed that the new organization shall be a civic as well as commercial institution, always looking toward, and being alive to, every procedure that can benefit the borough. The following committee was appointed to arrange for a general meeting and supper, at which time definite plans for organization will be perfected: Daniel F. Finn, Jr., Ben Schleifer, Lewis M. Carpenter, Wallace H. Payne and Edmond Jodoin.

Largely attended funeral services for Michael Hallisey were held at St. Mary's church Tuesday morning. Solemn requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. John J. McCabe, pastor, with Rev. Richard P. Morrisey of Plainfield deacon and Rev. James J. Tyler subdeacon. Beautiful Land on High was sung by Mrs. Noel Garron as the waiting hymn. Father McCabe read at the committal services. The bearers were M. E. Shea, E. J. Carroll, J. T. Dolan, John Dwyer, Edward Walsh, and Timothy Welch. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery in Lisbon. Hourigan Bros. were the funeral directors.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Priest and Miss Esther Priest, Miss Susan Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Geasie and sons Kenneth and Stanley, Sylvester and Joseph Dilton from Harvard, Mass., were guests Sunday at Daniel F. Morgan's. Miss Ethel Morgan returned with them for a week's visit in Harvard.

Miss Agnes Lovange is at home after an enjoyable visit in Stonington with her uncle, Joseph Lorange.

Bass fishing, on the third day of the open season, needs a big "S" to tell the stories of some of the strikes that were reported. The Ashland Fish and Game Protective association offers a prize for the largest fish taken in local waters during the season. J. H. Tracy, the official weigher for the club, was kept busy a good part of the day. Joseph Jubroswski was high line. He caught four bass trolling with artificial bait; the largest weighed five and one-quarter pounds. They were admired by many local anglers. Tuesday at a store in the Polish block. Reports were proven Tuesday that the 5 1-2 pound record was badly broken last year by George Geer, of Hopeville. Mr. Tracy also placed the seal of official weight on his fish. It was a large-mouth bass, caught within gunshot of his home, and eight hours after it was taken, it started the bait at plumb seven pounds. He caught a dozen in three days, all over four pounds. Fishermen here from New York, to try for the famed local bass, begged George, and even offered him handsome coin, to tell the sort of bait he used. All he would say was, that he used kittens for bait. Anyhow no one knows yet! One New Yorker, an expert angler, whose wife is a native of Jewett City, remarked that he was going into the kitten raising business. Until future fishermen find out the right kind of bait, they'll have to let George do it. He declares that there are bigger ones than that, but they have broken all his lines. Mr. Tracy is soaking a head laid, carpenter's chalk line in ink and parrafin, getting George ready for an eight-pounder.

Last season, Fred Raill won the club prize with a four-pound, 9-ounce large mouth bass, caught September 1. Even at that, Mr. Raill didn't get the largest fish. Mr. Rondeau beat him out with an eel that was like a couple of lengths of stove pipe, and weighed over six pounds. But by the ruling of the specifications, eels are barred from the contest.

The report of the district nurse, Miss Margery Leyden, as given for May and June, follows: Report for May, 1923: Metropolitan visits, adult 43, baby 16; total 59. Bill sent in to Metropolitan Insurance company for adult visits, $25.80; baby visits, $4; total $29.80. Other visits 28, money collected $2. Total number of visits 87. Report for June 1923: Metropolitan visits, adult 87, baby 20; total 107. Bill sent to Metropolitan company for adult visits $52.20, baby visits $5. Total $57.20. Other visits 52. Money collected $2.90. Total number of visits, 159. Total amount of money collected $60.10.

Total number of visits for May 87, total number of visits for June 159. Total for two months 246.

Amount of money collected for May, $31.80; amount of money collected for June, $60.10. Total amount for two months, $91.90.

Miss Nellie Coughlin of Moosup was married on June 26 to Ellis Kennedy of Moosup. The ceremony was performed at All Hallows' rectory by Rev. Oscar Normand. Mrs. Kennedy has been one of the teachers at Riverside Grammar school.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Burleson and son Charles of Schenectady, N. Y., are guests at E. F. Burleson's home in Sylvandale.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Montgomery arrived at Peter Olson's Tuesday, coming from Huntington, Oregon.

Mrs. Alex McCluggage, Mrs. Fred Whalley and infant Harriet, Houston and Everett McCluggage are visiting Mr. and Mrs. William McCluggage in North Adams.

WILLINGTON

Miss Carrie Mason spoke Tuesday afternoon at the church at 3 o'clock on the work being done among the Kentucky mountaineers, where she has charge of the handcraft work at the Hindman settlement.

Henry Meigs, who has been superintendent of Mrs. Julius Meyer's poultry plant for over two years, has resigned and returned to his home in Meriden. Ernest Wraight, who is superintendent of Mrs. Meyer's two farms, will have charge of the poultry plant.

William O. Eldredge has been reappointed deputy sheriff for Willington.

The following pupils from the Center school, Mrs. Gahan teacher, will attend the Willimantic High school next year: Misses Ethel Wraight, Julia Dvorsky, Carrie Pelikan and Frank Parizek, Jr.

Frank Parizek and family are entertaining his niece, Miss Emily Dittrich, from New York.

Mrs. John Culver of Willimantic and Mrs. Eunice Mondor were guests of Mrs. G. B. Robbins last week Monday. They called on the Rounds family, Mrs. Culver being a relative.

Miss Mason of Kentucky came Friday to spend a few days with Miss Genevieve Gardner.

CAMPBELL'S MILLS

Mr. and Mrs. Williams are entertaining their brother, whose home is in Florida, and who made the trip here in his automobile.

Several from this place attended the graduation exercises at Voluntown Center. Bertha Hall of the Wylie school was one of the graduates.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Burdick of Fitchville were guests of H. M. Wilcox Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. John Peckham, Misses Lamb and Grey, accompanied by Mrs. Magley of Voluntown, Miss Ott Tanner, Alexander Tanner and Herbert Collins of Willimantic, were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Abbie Tanner.

John Whitman and daughter have moved from Plainfield to the Albert Brown farm in this vicinity.

France is sending a military mission of five officers to the United States for the purpose of advancing good will between the two countries.

"A man doesn't have to be much of an authority on driving a car to know that it's a heap-sight better to be careful than to wish afterwards that you had been. Carelessness, not recklessness, causes most of the accidents."
(The Traffic Officer)
Says the Veteran Motorist:
"I WANT to say right here that the attitude most motorists have toward the traffic officer is absolutely wrong. The majority of drivers imagine that he is always out to get them. Nothing of the sort.
"His job is to keep the highways safe for everybody. He's out to keep you from endangering the lives and limbs of others. And he's out just as hard and just as long to keep the other fellow from banging you up. He may call you down one minute and then save you a nasty smash-up at the hands of some novice or dare-devil just behind you.
"One of the best scouts I ever met is a traffic officer and a few incidents that he and others have told me make me feel like taking my hat off to the whole bunch of them. If you want my honest opinion of it, I think it's a wonder that they manage to keep so courteous, considerate and fair—considering what they have to put up with day in and day out."

LEGAL NOTICES

MARY ALVES VS. JOSEPH ALVES.
Supplemental Order of Notice.
State of Connecticut, County of New London, ss., July 3d, 1923.
Upon the complaint of the said Mary Alves, claiming, for the reasons therein set forth, a divorce, now pending before this Court, having been returned thereto on the first Tuesday of May, 1923.
It appearing to and being found by this Court that Joseph Alves, the said defendant, is absent from this State and gone to parts unknown, and that notice of the pendency of the complaint was given as required by order of notice heretofore issued, and now the plaintiff asks for a further order of notice in the premises.
Therefore, Ordered, That notice of the pendency of said complaint be given by publishing this order in The Norwich Bulletin, a newspaper printed in Norwich, Conn., once a week for two weeks, successively, commencing on or before the 16th day of July, 1923.
By order of Court.
JOHN H. WALKER,
Assistant Clerk of the Superior Court for New London County. jy4W

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 3d day of July, A. D. 1923.
Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
Estate of Ella Ford, late of Norwich, in said District, deceased.
Henry P. Potter of Windham, Conn., appeared in Court and filed a petition praying for the reasons therein set forth, that administration be granted upon the estate of said deceased, alleged to be intestate.
Whereupon, It is Ordered, That said petition be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in the City of Norwich, in said District, on the 17th day of July, A. D. 1923, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice of the pendency of said petition, and of said hearing thereon, be given by the publication of this order one time in some newspaper having a circulation in said District, at least six days prior to the date of said hearing, and that return be made to this Court.
NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Lebanon, within and for the District of Lebanon, on the 21st day of June, A. D. 1923.
Present—GEORGE B. BRIGGS, Judge.
Estate of Ruth C. Burgess, late of the Town of Lebanon, in said District, deceased.
Ordered, That the Administratrix cite the creditors of said deceased to bring in their claims against said estate within six months from this date, by posting a notice to that effect, together with a copy of this order, on the signpost nearest to the place where said deceased last dwelt and in the same Town, and by publishing the same once in The Norwich Bulletin, a newspaper having a circulation in said District, and make return to this Court.
GEORGE B. BRIGGS, Judge.

NOTICE.—All creditors of said deceased are hereby notified to present their claims against said estate to the undersigned at Lebanon, Conn., within the time limited in the above and foregoing order.

The Peacemakers, was the theme of the Sunday morning sermon by Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey, at the First Congregational church. The text referred to was Matthew 5:9. Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God.

The observance of the Lord's Sup- per followed the morning worship, with Rev. Mr. Bailey officiating. The church night service Thursday evenings during July will be in charge of the deacons, in the absence of the pastor, who with his family recently opened their cottage at Quonochontaug Beach, R. I., and is passing a vacation of several weeks there.

The Young People's Christian Endeavor service Sunday evening, held a half hour earlier than usual, was conducted by Miss Ruth Beebe. Moving pictures, from the Manger to the Throne, occupied the first half of the service.

Sunday morning at the First Methodist church, there was a short service with Scripture reading by the pastor, Rev. James B. Aldrich, which was followed by observance of the Lord's Supper, with Rev. Mr. Aldrich officiating. The Young People's Christian Endeavor service at six o'clock was in charge of three young men, Lewis Aldrich, Joseph Olsen and Le Roy Miner. This also was roll call night and 24 responded. A History Psalm was the topic assigned to this meeting, which was held one-half hour earlier, to give members an opportunity to attend the Chautauqua sacred concert.

New cement walks having been laid in a location near the southerly end of Chelsea parade; the flag stones which were taken up and procured by the Norwich Rural Association, have been in progress of being moved the last few days under the supervision of Frederic H. Wyant, representing the permanent walk committee.

These flag stones, there being a large number of them, for the present were placed on Upper Washington street, eventually to be laid under direction of this association along the stretch in front of Lowthorpe Meadows, on this street, thereby furnishing a substantial sidewalk for a number of feet.

Miss Florence Brown, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanton W. Brown of Wightman avenue, left Monday morning for New Haven to take the six weeks' course at the Yale summer school. Miss Brown was a member of the 1923 graduating class at Norwich Free Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Scott and daughter, Miss Mabelle Scott, who for several years have resided on Beach drive, moved Monday to the lower apartment in Dr. Charles H. Lamb's house, 15 Town street.

Henry Mackie of New Bedford motored to Norwich Saturday and spent the week end with relatives, being the guests over that night of William Shea of Town street. During his stay he visited his mother, Mrs. Shea who is spending several weeks at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Zeigalmayer of Broad street.

Miss Katherine Brown of Oneco street, will be the guest over the Fourth of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Vergason, of Ashwillett.

VAUDEVILLE EXCHANGE GETS VERDICT AGAINST NEW LONDON MOOSE

Judge George E. Hinman of the superior court handed down judgments here Tuesday in two suits and a demurrer to plea in abatements that were recently heard before him.

Judgment for B. F. Keith Vaudeville Exchange of Maine to recover from the New London Lodge of Moose, No. 344, the sum of $739.05, with interest of $77.35, from Oct. 5, 1921; a total of $816.40, with costs, was given by Judge Hinman.

The judgment is for the full amount sued for on account of supplying an entertainment for the moose on Feb. 7, 1921.

Judge Hinman has also overruled the demurrer to a plea in abatement in the case of Lorraine Mfg. Co. of Stonington against Local Union, No. 1405, United Textile Workers of America.

Divorce on the ground of intolerable cruelty was granted to Mary Starr De Sylvia of Stonington, from Joseph De Sylvia of 43 Lincoln street, Cambridge, Mass., to whom she was married Feb. 3, 1919 at Stoughton, Mass. She is given the custody of a two year old son.

The petitioner, who is a minor brought the suit through her father, Manuel Starr, alleging that because of her husband's cruelty since the date of their marriage she had been obliged to leave him in Cambridge and return to this state to reside.

ARRESTED FOR ALLEGED THEFTS IN SPRINGFIELD

Wallace E. Stearns, 17, who had recently taken up his residence at Saunders Point, Niantic, coming there from Springfield, Mass., was arrested in that city Sunday morning on the charge of breaking and entering in the night time and larceny at several places. He was arrested at his sister's home.

Not only did Stearns carry away more or less of the clothes of various women, but he is also charged with destroying valuable silk underwear. The police also declare that he took money at some of the homes he visited.

The strange nature of the breaks, the thief always taking or destroying women's clothing, leads the police to believe that a woman assisted in the robbery.

Questioned at the police station, Stearns is said to have confessed to all of the robberies.

He could give no reason for any of the breaks except in one case. He declared that one woman had ordered him off her lawn, and in order to get even she destroyed her clothes. The rest of the goods were not recovered, although Stearns said that he did not sell them. He asserted that he placed them in a barrel in his cellar on Dresden street and later the barrel was stolen. The police are inclined to believe the material was sold.

In the midst of the series of breaks, the police allege, Stearns moved to Niantic.

CHARGE NORWICH YOUTH WITH HIGHWAY ROBBERY

Because he wanted to get enough money to take him to the Sunday night dance at Lake Compounce, near Bristol, Carl H. Decker, 19 years old, of Norwich, held up and robbed two automobile parties near the lake on Sunday night it is alleged.

Decker, it is charged, armed himself with a loaded revolver and put on a mask, then hid beside the main road just below Southington and waited for automobiles to pass by. The first victim was Edward Bruco of Bristol, who was stopped at the point of a revolver and robbed of his watch and two chains, and then ordered to drive off. Shortly afterwards, Carl Conlon and three companions of Southington came along in an automobile and they, too, were held up, but the alleged bandit this time only got small change as booty.

Knowing that Constable Timothy Foley of Southington patrolled the lake, the quartet complained of the holdup to him. The officer, accompanied by Conlon and his friends, went to the lower end of the lake to head off the robber. Decker was seen hiding in the bushes. The constable drew his revolver and ordered Decker to stop, but the youth fled. Conlon and his companions went after him and caught Decker just below the lake bathhouse. Angered by the holdup, one of the alleged victims struck Decker on the jaw, but before more punishment could be inflicted the constable rushed to the scene and arrested Decker.

Decker was given a hearing in the Southington town court Monday morning and was bound over to the next term of the superior court under $1,000 bonds. He was employed by the H. Wales Lines Co. at work in Southington.

U. S. COMMISSION REPORTS PRICES OF STOVE COAL

The United States coal commission of Washington sent to the Norwich Chamber of Commerce, a report of cost of stove anthracite coal on the dealer's siding in the cities and towns covering New England. The amounts shown are for the last shipments received by the dealers prior to May 15, 1923; all rate gross tons.

The reports state, "In using this cost-to-dealer information, allowance must be made on the one hand for the dealer's losses by degradation and his cost items and a fair margin of profit; and on the other, for the 240 pounds difference in the ton used the long ton)."

The following excerpts taken from this report, dealing with the surrounding cities and towns, will no doubt be interesting to the people of this community, as indicated in the cost of anthracite coal, prior to May 15th of the current year, furnished on board in the dealer's yards in the communities mentioned.

ROBERTSON PAPER CO. SUES FORMER ASSISTANT TREASURER

Judge C. B. Waller took the papers and reserved decision in the common pleas court at New London Monday after hearing the trial of the suit of Robertson Paper Co., Inc., of Montville vs Charles R. Carlyle of New London.

The suit is to recover $156, which the plaintiff alleges the defendant appropriated to himself.

The defendant alleges that when he resigned as assistant treasurer of the company on Nov. 18, 1921, the company gave him his week's salary and promised him another two weeks' salary and that as assistant treasurer he paid himself the money the day he resigned. The plaintiff contends that he was not to recieve the $100 until the end of the two weeks.

NEW LONDON NEIGHBORS IN COURT OVER TRESPASS OF CHICKENS

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, July 3.—Miss Blanche Bazinet of Taftville, who was injured two weeks ago when an automobile in which she was riding and which was operated by John J. Macia of Bank street, New London, crashed against a tree at Quaker Hill, was able to leave Lawrence hospital today. Miss Bazinet sustained numerous lacerations and contusions.

Mrs. Frank Dawley of Westerly and Mrs. James Stebbins of Williams street were patients discharged at Lawrence hospital today.

The New London Ship & Engine Co., of Groton, is the latest concern to encounter labor troubles for late yesterday afternoon a number of machinists employed on drills quit work when their demand for an increase in wages was denied. It is stated that the strikers do not number more than ten or twelve and that men to fill their places will be obtained within a few days. It is rumored that the employes of some of the other departments may join the strikers if the aggrieved workmen are not granted the increased compensation. Officials of the company give the rumor but little credence.

The police were called to the home of Abraham Gordon of No. 42 Federal street early this morning when two sailors were observed by Gordon peering through a window. Patrolman Clarence Wells and Augustus Ray were sent to the house, but the sailors could not be found when the officers made a search of the vicinity of the Gordon home.

An automobile truck owned by W. D. Nagle of No. 44 Washington street was run into by an unidentified New York touring car, while the truck was parked in front of the Pequot casino Monday night. The truck was damaged. Nagle obtained the registration number of the colliding car and Tuesday Prosecuting Attorney Daniel M. Cronin issued orders to the police to arrest the driver if he is still in the city.

Kasimir Sereda today paid the biggest price he ever paid for a spree. He was drunk Monday, but denied the fact, though he was picked up in the street unable to get his legs under him. He said his companion was drunk from the effects of two glasses of cider, thin white stuff that was no good, but that he stood up after he had taken three shots of the stuff. Kasimir attempted to show the court how the thing happened, but that was unnecessary. He insisted Monday that he was not drunk when he was arrested. The court adjourned the hearing to get an interpreter to translate what he had to say. For that bit of nonsense Kasimir paid today.

Rev. Dominic Brown, 70, a native of New London, died last night at his home, No. 55 Waller street. Death ending a lingering illness for Father Brown had been in ill health many months. He was the son of the late Moses Brown. Father Brown is survived by three sisters, Mrs. William T. May and Misses Elizabeth and Charlotte Brown, all of New London. Father Brown had been a priest of the Roman Catholic church for 33 years, having been ordained by the late Cardinal Gibbons, primate of the American church, archbishop of Baltimore and chancellor of the Catholic University of America. Father Brown was a graduate of and later an instructor at Mount St. Mary's Emmitsburg, Maryland, and also received the A. M. degree from the Catholic University of America.

Following his ordination he was a priest of the diocese of Hartford, serving in Waterbury and New Haven. He was then assigned to instruct in Latin and philosophy at Mount St. Mary's, where he occupied a faculty position until about three years ago, when ill health forced him to resign and he retired and returned to his home in this city. Father Brown was a graduate of the old Bartlett High school and as a young man was a student of music. He was organist at St. Paul's church, Worcester at one time and later was organist at St. Peter's Hartford.

Adolphus Burke, 77 Garfield avenue, secured the prosecution of Benjamin Dean, his next door neighbor, this forenoon for allowing chickens to roam about his premises and soil the sidewalk and the steps. Burke is a pretty fastidious man and his health is not such as to stand annoyance. Dean is a Hebrew and disowned the chickens as his property, but said they belonged to his wife, and declared that his chickens had been stolen by people residing in No. 77. Mrs. Dean confirmed the statements that chickens, baby chicks, had been stolen from her. She pointed out a witness for Burke, a woman neighbor, and said she was the person who reached through the wire screen and took a chicken, while the accused person declared that she took a chicken that had created a nuisance on the property she leases. Dean has been warned repeatedly of the annoyance his chickens had caused others but he paid no heed even to letters written to him by a lawyer.

When Jacob Lazarow, a general storekeeper on Blackhall street, hears the explosion of firecrackers this Fourth of July he will be reminded that he made a mistake in selling firecrackers without having a license. A license to sell fireworks could have been had by Lazarow, but he did not obtain it so he was arrested and was fined $10 in the police court. With the costs of his trial this bill was more than $20. Lazarow declared that he was the agent for another dealer, but that did not help his case. The licenses issued are to a person to sell at a designated place and that licenses cannot be transferred to another. Lazarow's prosecution is the second under the ordinance in a few days.

The funeral of Edward O. Fisher, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher of No. 148 Nathan Hale street, who was drowned in the Thames river three weeks ago and whose body was recovered Monday, was held Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of his parents. The services were private. Rev. J. Romeyn Danforth, pastor of the First Church of Christ, officiated. The bearers were John E. Clark, John Wagers and William Taylor, employes of the father of the young man and Samuel M. Prentis. Burial was in Cedar Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Augusta Baker, 78, widow of Henry Baker, of Cottage street, Groton, died last night at a local hospital, in which institution she had been under treatment but a few days. Mrs. Baker is survived by one son, Henry Bagger, of Groton.

At the weekly meeting of the city council, Councilor Fox upbraided the board of education for hiring a physical instructor, declaring that the board had exceeded its authority, inasmuch as the appropriation for a playground director did not call for the appointment of a physical director for the schools. He declared that the appropriation was for $2,500 while the board has authorized an expenditure of approximately $4,000 for the salary of the director and expenses to be incurred by the new appointee. Councilor Fox declared that an out of town man had been hired and that a local man who was anxious for the position and could have been employed at a lesser salary than the appointee, was not even consulted as to obtaining the place. Councilor Fox stated that in his opinion the new appointee was hired illegally and that the board should have recommended the the appointment to the council. City Manager Barlow stated that the appointment was only temporary and that to provide for a permanent physical director an additional appropriation would have to be made and it was intended to do so at the next annual meeting.

Tommy Donohue, superintendent of the poor farm and a member of the state boxing commission, was delegated when the city bought coal from the Howard Street Coal company in competition with other dealers of the city, to weigh the fuel. There was some feeling then that the coal might not be what it was represented to be in quality. Donohue was sent to the coal company's place of business to see that New London got what it was paying for in weight as well as in quality. From the first there has been more or less wrangling but Monday the wrangling turned to blows and they came from Donohue. Harold Eldridge had his truck loaded and was waiting for Donohue to weigh it. Donohue asked Eldridge how long he had been waiting and Eldridge replied "twenty minutes." Tommy didn't like that and called Eldridge "a liar," following his words with a kick and a punch, it is said by those who were where they could see what happened. Then interference came. It was said that Donohue has absented himself from the duty of weighing at times between the weighing process and that the drivers have been compelled to delay while Donohue was absent. After the fisticuffs Purchasing Agent John W. Sheedy assumed the duties which Donohue was heretofore discharged and then Capt. David Connor was put on the job.

George Dugar of Versailles was fined $5 today in police court for operating an automobile with markers that are not recognized by the state as legal. Dugar said that someone told him he could operate his car with his improvised markers and he followed that advice.

John Timinosky of Old Lyme was in town and not being familiar with the parking ordinances of the city drove his car up to the curb on Bank street and left it while he was busy elsewhere. Judge Prince passed up the case and told John not to offend again.

Tony Alventi was in the Groton town court Monday charged with violating the health laws of the borough. Health Officer F. W. Hewis alleged that Alventi caused a sewer to be constructed that did not meet the regulations as provided by law, but instead of penalizing Alventi Judge Costello ordered a continuance of the case a week that Alventi might make proper connection.

Dr. Ross E. Black, a well known New London physician and of the staff of physicians at Home Memorial hospital was arrested this afternoon, charged with blocking traffic on Green street. He will be presented in the police court tomorrow morning. Dr. Black was arrested on complaint of Walter Lewis, when the physician drove his machine to a point in the highway a considerable distance away from the curb, tying up traffic because the physician absented himself from the auto.

Special Agent Martin Kane, in the employ of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, had a tussle with a vagrant at the union station this evening and before Kane landed his prisoner at the police station Patrolman Jeremiah Sullivan had to go to the special agents assistance. The vagrant was drunk and making a nuisance of himself.

Dwight Beckwith of Niantic, a bus driver, operating one of the buses between New London and Niantic, was arrested this afternoon by Motorcycle Officer William Babcock, charged with violation of the automobile law in not being possessed of an operator's license. In spite of the fact that Beckwith did not have a license, he made several trips during the day between Niantic and New London.

A drunk entered the O K. restaurant on North Bank street, opposite the police station this evening and after partaking of a bounteous meal refused to pay for it although the fellow had money. When the waiter was unable to secure the price of the meal instead of calling a patrolman, he escorted the drunk to the police station himself and lodged a complaint against the fellow, stating that he would appear against him in the police court tomorrow morning.

Moses Savan of Chesterfield was arrested this afternoon by Patrolman Frank Linehan, charged with violation of the automobile law in not providing himself with an operator's license. He will be presented in the police court tomorrow morning.

Abraham Cohen of Springfield, Mass., was arrested this afternoon by Motorcycle Officer William Babcock, charged with violation of the automobile law. Babcock detected Cohan operating his automobile like a novice and questioning him, the officer determined that Cohen had not obtained a license to drive the automobile. He was released from custody upon furnishing cash bond of $25 for his appearance in the police court tomorrow morning.

Richard N. Belden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E Belden of 1058 Ocean avenue, will leave tomorrow for Washington, en route to Annapolis, where he will enter the United States naval academy.

Lieut. Com. James Maher and Mrs. Maher have returned home, having spent several days with relatives at Poughkeepsie. Lieut. Com. Maher and wife witnessed the college boat race at Poughkeepsie last Saturday.

Dr. H. W. Welch son of Montauk avenue has left upon a two weeks recreative trip.

The city of New London will probably float another bond issue within a few weeks for $100,000. The issue will be used in paying for land the city recently acquired at Lake Konomoc as additional water shed, paving Howard street from where the present pavement now ends, to Wilbach street, paving State street from Meridian to Broad street, constructing new sidewalks and laying curb and purchasing such small parcels of land that will permit danger of cutting at several intersecting streets. Of the $100,000 bond issue it is contemplated to expend $45,000 for street improvements, $30,000 for the purchase of farms at Lake Konomoc and the remainder for acquiring of sections of corner properties. It is planned that $20,000 of the issue shall be thirty year serial bonds and $70,000 of fifteen year serial.

Mrs. Alva Allen of Westerly, Mrs. Louis Margolis and baby of No. 670 Bank street, Miss Emma Wilbur of Noank and Salvatore Ludeas of Groton, patients at Lawrence hospital, were discharge today.

Fred Reed, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Reed of No. 20 School street, Groton, is nursing severe burns he sustained yesterday afternoon as the result of a premature explosion of a cannon that the youngster intended to use in celebrating July Fourth. In loading the cannon with powder the boy rammed it with an iron bolt and it is believed the friction of the bolt on the barrel of the cannon caused a spark which produced the ignition. The victom's burns are confined to his face, hands and leg.

POETRY

OUR COUNTRY'S FOURTH OF JULY.

Her glorious mountains kiss the skies;
Songs swell from out her deeps;
For her Day weaves his Orient dyes,
And Night her jewels keeps.

For her pure fountains pour their rills
Adown the fragrant plain;
Majestic rivers cleave the hills,
Resistless to the main.

Rich harvest field and prairie land,
Great lakes and glens of green,
With wooded heights and heavens grand
Make up the matchless scene.

Here's home and school and sacred spire,
And ways of stone and steel;
The whirl of wheel and flame of fire;
Ten thousand anvils peal.

Here Learning rears her stately crest,
Science her altar fire,
The ages bring their offerings blest,
To lift our country higher.

O'er our broad land no monarch reigns
To dazzle or to awe;
Justice "the rights of man" maintains,
With the majesty of law.

A hallowed love about her clings,
Her fragrance ne'er can die;
The memory of her heroes brings
The tear to every eye.

For her ten million sons would bare
The breast to every foe;
Would seal the lips with praise and prayer,
And bid the lifeblood flow.

Her flag illumes the mighty deep,
Blazons the beckoning sky;
Her twinkling stars their vigils keep;
Ne'er can her glory die.

To every land and isle and sea,
From fairest land o'er given,
Greetings today of Liberty,
And benison of heaven.

THE BUTTERFLY.

I hold you at last in my hand,
Exquisite child of the air,
Can I ever understand
How you grew to be so fair?

You came to my linden tree
To taste its delicious sweet,
I sitting here in the shadow and shive
Playing around its feet.

Now I hold you fast in my hand,
You marvelous butterfly,
Till you help me to understand
The eternal mystery.

From that creeping thing in the dust
To this shining bliss in the blue!
God give me courage to trust
I can break my chrysalis, too!

DEMPSEY OUTPOINTS GIBBONS IN FIFTEEN ROUND BOUT

Challenger Leaves Ring With Moral Victory Although Referee Awarded Champion Decision at End of Scheduled Fifteen Round Heavyweight Battle at Shelby Arena—Dempsey Expected to Win by Knockout Early in Fight—Gibbons Given Shade in Fifth, Eleventh and Thirteenth Rounds—Deafening Ovation for Challenger When Gong Ends Hard Fought Battle.

Shelby, Mont., July 4 (By the A. P.)—The whole sporting world was wrong—with the exception of that courteous, fighting individual, Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul.

The challenger, to the astonishment of the 25,000 spectators in the sun-baked arena on the edge of this oil town, was on his feet, still fighting at the end of his scheduled 15-round heavyweight championship battle today with Jack Dempsey when almost everybody expected him, to be knocked out, in six or seven rounds.

Dempsey, the champion, was an overwhelming favorite to win by a knockout early in the battle.

Referee Jimmy Dougherty of Philadelphia awarded Dempsey the decision when the gong closed ending the 15th round, but Gibbons, who did not get a cent for scaring the champion, left the ring with a moral victory. It was the first time Dempsey or Jeffries had managed to take Dempsey and still be on his feet at the finish since he became champion.

Gibbons has a reputation made in eighteen fights of never having been knocked off his feet. That reputation is still good. Dempsey had him dizzy and wobbly nearly half a dozen times today but failed to knock him out.

The fight made an entirely different ending than any of the spectators expected, even the enthusiastic Gibbons proteagonists, shouting encouragement to their fighter, had not the slightest idea he would last more than seven or eight rounds. In fact, it was the consensus that four or five rounds would find Tommy on the floor knocked out.

Tommy, a master boxer, and constantly on the lookout for the knockout blow, danced and hop-stepped around the ring, occasionally slipping in a right or left to Dempsey's face and then eluding danger by clinching or stepping backward.

Toward the last Gibbons seemed to be fading fast and repeatedly went into clinches with the champion. In the last round it appeared that his defenses were failing and many expected Dempsey to administer the expected knockout. The champion, seeing the condition of the challenger furiously slashed at his head and body, but Tommy hung on and clinched and side-stepped, until the saving grace of the final bell.

Dempsey was never in danger in a round of the fight. Although Gibbons cut and slightly blackened the champion's right eye in the opening round and Dempsey brought blood once or twice from the challenger, neither was marked to any appreciable extent.

A majority of the newspaper experts at the ringside gave Gibbons a shade in the fifth, eleventh and thirteenth rounds, the remaining 12 being accorded Dempsey without argument. Neither the champion or the challenger were ever off their feet, although once Gibbons nearly fell through the ropes and was helped back by Dempsey.

Although Gibbons was the undoubted favorite of the crowd, not a word of dissension was heard over Referee Dougherty's decision. It had been rumored about that if, by any chance the fight went the limit, there would be a riot if the decision went to Dempsey. State and local police and many deputy sheriffs were on hand but there was no disturbance at any time.

Referee Dougherty did not hesitate an instant after the bell of the fifteenth round sounded in raising Dempsey's hand. Gibbons, his face blood-smeared and lips and nose bruised, smilingly extended his hand to Dempsey. Then he trotted to his corner where he received a deafening ovation and the crowds of Gibbons' admirers rushed toward the ring. The police and deputies did not attempt to interfere as it was seen that everyone was good natured and all merely wanted to get a close-up glimpse of Tommy.

Elbowing his way through the cheering spectators Chief Curly Bear, of the Blackfeet Indians, climbed into the ring. The Indians recently adopted Tommy as a brother of the tribe. The tall chief, resplendent in feathers and rainbow hues, lifted his eagle-tipped bonnet from his head and placed it on that of Gibbons, while the crowd yelled itself hoarse.

The wife of Mayor Jim Johnson of Shelby hurried to the ring and threw her arms around the challenger. Hundreds tried to shake hands with him. He smiled broadly at the demonstration while his seconds removed his gloves.

While the championship battle was a surprise to the fight fans, it was more than amazing to Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager. Kearns was stunned after the first five or six rounds had demonstrated that the champion was unable to hit Gibbons effectively. The manager, as well as every member of the champion's camp, were sure Dempsey would whip over a knockout in four or five rounds.

Gibbons played a hit and run game, fighting a remarkable defensive fight throughout.

He never gave Dempsey much of an opportunity to land the sleeping punch. In some rounds he switched his tactics and surprised the champion by carrying the fighting to him and even outboxing him in spots.

While there were barely eight thousand persons in the arena at the beginning of the championship battle, it was but a few minutes until approximately 25,000 were crowded as near as they could get to the ringside. The reason was that the spectators would not pay the prices asked and just before the fight Kearns decided to cut the price of the best seats more than fifty per cent.

The crowds on the outside of the fence cheered the announcement and immediately began handing in $10 bills through the wires for the higher priced tickets. Later even the cheaper tickets were sold at much less than half price and when the fight was well started the crowd, apparently moneyless, "crashed the gate" and rushed into the vacant seats of the arena.

Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, obtained "almost all" of the $100,000 which he took out of the first receipts of the gate for the bout today, he said late this evening. "About $30,000 was obtained just before the fight when we sold the remaining tickets for $10 each," he said. "The balance was taken in at the gate today and at fight headquarters yesterday."

Jimmy Dougherty of Philadelphia, referee of the championship battle, declared tonight that he saw no foul blows struck by either Dempsey or the challenger.

Dougherty said:

"It was a tough assignment for the third man in the ring. Work out there in the sun trying to separate the men through fifteen rounds was action enough for any one single day. But it was a great bout. I dont' think anybody will question that. Nor do I think anybody will question the decision. There was no other decision possible. Dempsey was the aggressor all the way and accomplished the most damaging work, earning the majority of rounds. There were cries that the rules were not observed, but those who yelled at supposed violations did not know the rules, which say that the men should protect themselves at all times. As to the cries of low blows, I saw not one struck, and I don't think anybody else did."

The Fight in Detail

ROUND ONE

They shook hands in the center of the ring and clinched after Dempsey hooked a left to the body. Dempsey landed three lefts to the body and a right to the head. Dempsey shot a straight left to Gibbons' face as he backed away. Dempsey swung a left to the jaw, forcing Gibbons to retreat. Gibbons hooked a light left to the head and repeated. Dempsey hammered Gibbons about the body with short rights and lefts in the clinches. Gibbons' mouth was bleeding. Gibbons hooked left to the jaw and shot over a right. In a clinch Dempsey jogged him with a right uppercut. The referee broke them and Dempsey missed a right to the head.

ROUND TWO

Gibbons was short with a left and they clinched. On the breakaway Jack fired a left to the head and Gibbons clinched. Dempsey pounded Gibbons on the back of the head in the clinch and nailed him with a right and left on the breakaway. Gibbons held Dempsey's arms in the clinch to protect his body. Gibbons hooked a left to the chin, cutting Dempsey's right eye. Dempsey brought his right into Tom's mid-section in the clinch. Gibbons missed a right. Gibbons hooked a solid left to the head and Dempsey retaliated with the same punch. Gibbons backed away from two lefts and clinched. They were locked in a clinch, pounding each other at the bell.

ROUND THREE

Dempsey drove a right and left to the body and Tom clinched. Dempsey repeated with the same punches and then nailed Gibbons on the jaw with a left hook, forcing him to clinch. Gibbons feinted and backed away. Dempsey was short with a left but connected with a right.

ROUND FIVE

Dempsey hooked a left to the stomach and Tom clinched. The champion punched him around the head with rights and lefts in close quarters. Gibbons backed into a corner to avoid two lefts. When he came out they clinched and Dempsey hurt him with body punches. Dempsey kept pounding Gibbons on the back of the head in the clinch. Dempsey took a left hook back of the ear. The champion sunk his right into the body. Gibbons took a hook on the forehead and clinched. Dempsey landed a left hook and a solid left in return. Gibbons hooked a left to the jaw and a right to the head. Dempsey was punishing severely with short body punches at the bell. Dempsey was bleeding from the old wound over the left eye.

ROUND FIVE

Dempsey missed a left to the body as they fell into a clinch. Gibbons poked two light lefts to the head. Dempsey missed a left and Tom clinched. Gibbons hooked two lefts to the head and the crowd cheered. Gibbons landed a third left without a return. Dempsey rocked the challenger with a right and left to the head and nailed him with a solid right to the jaw forcing him to clinch. Gibbons danced away forcing Dempsey to follow him. Tom poked a left in Dempsey's face. Dempsey landed a right to the body and Gibbons a left to the ribs. Dempsey shot a left to the head and Gibbons did the same thing.

ROUND SIX

Dempsey's left was short in a clinch and Referee Dougherty was forced to go between them. Gibbons danced away from Dempsey's leads. In the clinch Dempsey hit Tom on the chin with short rights. Gibbons ducked a left and his head went through the top rope of the ring. Dempsey pulled him back and the crowd booed. They traded lefts to the head before clinching. Gibbons missed a left and in the clinch pounded his foe on the back of the head with rabbit punches. Dempsey hooked right and left to the body. Jack shot a left to the jaw on his shift and shot a left to the body. Gibbons nailed the champion with a left hook to the chin when the round ended.

ROUND SEVEN

ROUND EIGHT

Gibbons missed two lefts and Dempsey hooked a left to the chin. In the clinch they exchanged punches to the head. Gibbons whipped over two lefts

Gothenburg, Sweden, July 4.—The American Independence day was observed in Gothenburg with appropriate exercises, including the unveiling and presentation to the city on behalf of the American residents of Sweden of a statue of King Gustav II, the first European monarch to recognize the independence of the American colonies.

FARMER-LABOR PLATFORM BEING DRAWN UP

Chicago, July 4 By the A. P.).—Policies designed to cement into one political voice those of all groups dissatisfied with the two major parties tonight are in process of construction by an organization committee composed of delegates representing these groups who are here participating in the national convention of the farmer-labor party.

If a platform harmonious to the political ambitions of these groups, which represent labor, economic, cooperative, farmers, industrial and various other workers' organizations, is adopted, it will be brought before the conference tomorrow for ratification or rejection. If ratified, it will be placed before the reconvened farmer-labor convention for inclusion in its constitution.

Upon the organization committee also is one socialist, J. G. Scott, representing the Minnesota party, although the national socialist party is not a party to the convention. William Z. Foster, delegate from a Chicago carmen's union, was made a member of the committee.

The forenoon meeting at times approached disorder and on one occasion was in near revolt.

Alexander Howat, deposed president of the Kansas mine workers, urged the conference to agree on political actoin that would offer labor, in particular, an opportunity to affiliate, and called upon all workers to disregard their national or international officers if the latter hindered the platform.

"These national and international officers of our large unions are responsible for many of your troubles today," Mr. Howat said.

LEVIATHAN SAILS ON TRANS-ATLANTIC VOYAGE

New York, July 4.—The reconditioned Leviathan, queen of the American merchant marine, sailed on Uncle Sam's birthday on her first trans-Atlantic pleasure voyage under the Stars and Stripes.

Thousands massed on the waterfront to bid bon voyage to the super-ship. With their cheers mingled the sirens of harbor craft and the whirr from propellors of airplanes wheeling her pier.

Although her bar was dry, the Leviathan was literally a "wet" ship. For as her great whistles boomed their warning to river traffic and the liner moved into the Hudson, the clouds cracked and a torrent rained on her decks.

The crowds ashore ran to shelter, and passengers sought protection, but the waving of hats and handkerchiefs continued while cheer after cheer bridged the widening water.

The din increased as the great shipping board vessel swung her nose toward sea. Fore and aft she was dressed with international code flags. Upon her decks bands played. Around her sides circled gaily-dressed river craft. Shoving her into the channel were tiny tugs with the power of titans. But her starboard bow steamed a toy vessel—a reproduction of Robert Fulton's Clermont, America's first steamboat.

SHOULD USE SELECTIVE IMMIGRATION PLAN

New York, July 4.—Secretary of Labor Davis, before sailing today on the leviathan to study the immigration problem at its source, indicated he favored introduction of a selective system abroad to prevent suffering on these shores, where the unfit are turned back.

"I've got a lot of ideas, but I don't know whether they are practical," said the secretary, himself an immigrant. "I've been watching the immigration problem from a desk for two years and now I want to see it at first hand.

"There are too many appeal cases. In one month we had as many as 3,100. That's too many. It means that people are coming over that should never have been allowed to leave Europe. It means that we should work with a selective plan from the European side, but I wouldn't alter inspection in America."

Mr. Davis announced he would use five men familiar with the languages of the countries he would visit to conduct investigations under his personal direction. He said he would watch particularly the Balkans and expressed a wish to enter Russia, although he doubted whether he would be welcomed there.

HARTFORD MEDICAL EXAMINER EXONERATES AUTO DRIVER

Hartford, Conn., July 4.—Dr. Donald W. Stewart, medical examiner of East Windsor, in a report forwarded today to Coroner J. Gilbert Calhoun, exonerated George Webb, driver of the car in which Wesley R. Johnson of Meriden and Albert L. Coleman of Wolcott Hill were killed Sunday night and R. G. Bent, of Hartford, seriously injured. Dr. Stewart says in his report that the men met their deaths accidentally and attaches no blame to anyone. Webb, driver of the car, was charged with manslaughter and was released after furnishing a bond of $2500.

PLAN MEMORIAL FOR SIGNERS OF INDEPENDENCE

Philadelphia, July 4.—Resolutions urging the co-operation of the citizens of the United States in the purchase of the square opposite Independence hall on the north as a memorial of the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1926 were adopted today by the Society of the Signers of the Declaration in annual convention. The governor of each state was requested to appoint a delegate to attend a meeting to be called by the society to discuss ways of raising the necessary funds and to determine how the land should be improved and made "a suitable memorial of this monumental event."

THIRTEEN BALLOONS IN N'T'L ELIMINATION RACE

Indianapolis, Ind., July 4.—Somewhere over northeastern Indiana, and perhaps Ohio or Michigan, thirteen balloons are drifting along on a 15 to 20 miles an hour breeze. They are participants in the national elimination race which started here at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The pilots will not bring their baskets to the ground until they have exhausted their gas supply, unless some unexpected incidents makes landing imperative. The gas supply in each balloon when it was released ranged from 50,000 to 80,000 cubic feet.

Girl Hurled to Death From Auto

Providence School Teacher Instantly Killed When Sedan Skidded on Steep Hill Near South Killingly—Parents and Sister Injured.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Danielson, July 4.—Helen R. Walsh, 22, a pretty school teacher, resident with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Walsh at 115 Jewel street, Providence, was instantly killed and her sister, Miss Mary F. Walsh, who was driving the car, and her parents were all injured when the big and nearly new Cadillac sedan in which they were riding, skidded coming down the steep and long hill out of South Killingly, on the state road to Danielson, on the afternoon of the Fourth and eventually plunged through a fence bordering the state highway, after turning around once or twice on the surface of the highway, made slippery by a sharp rainstorm.

Miss Walsh died almost instantly as blood poured out of her throat in a torrent after her jugular vein had been severed as she was hurled out of the car and impaled upon a post of the fence that was torn down in the crash.

Miss Mary Walsh, 27, who was driving the car, sustained a long cut on the side of the neck, Mr. Walsh was gashed on the hand and about the thumb and Mrs. Walsh had her right shoulder dislocated, as the heavy car plunged through the fence, after whirling about and heading back in the direction whence it came.

After this first fatal accident on the new highway between Danielson and Providence a traffic jam started to form and while an officer was slowing down traffic, a Southbridge, Mass., car came along down the hill. As the driver stepped on his brakes to slow down, his car went crash into the shoulder of the road, breaking an axle, and Miss Margaret Fitzpatrick of Southbridge, a passenger in the car, received a gash in the leg that required several stitches to close.

The accident happened nearly opposite the home of A. E. Hall. Hurry calls for priests and physicians were sent out and Dr. George M. Burroughs, medical examiner, Dr. W. H. Judson, Rev. John Roux, M. S., Rev. J. E. Shelley, M. S., of St. James' church and Rev. Ignatius Kost of St. Joseph's church, Dayville, responded.

While the physicians ministered to the injured the priests gave their attention to the body of the victim of the accident. Father Kost, acting on the teaching of the Roman Catholic church that there may be latent life so soon after injury in cases of this kind, anointed Miss Helen Walsh and he and Father Shelley stood with bared heads, offering prayers for the dying, until an undertaker came to remove the body.

A call was sent to the Day Kimball hospital at Putnam for the ambulance of the institution, but upon its arrival the injured members of the party felt they were able to proceed to their homes in Providence, where the body also was taken.

Mary F. Walsh, driver of the machine, was operating a public service car that had been loaned to the family for the day by an intimate friend. She was an experienced operator, having driven for three years, a licensed driver and familiar with the road, having driven over the route between Providence and Danielson a number of times. She is a teacher of several years' experience and her sister, who was killed, only last Friday received an appointment to teach in the city schools of Providence during the coming school year.

The accident cast gloom over what otherwise was a quiet and peaceful holiday in Danielson.

GENERAL GOURARD ON WAY TO WASHINGTON

Philadelphia, July 4.—General Gouraud, commander of the Fourth French army during the World war, participated at the principal patriotic exercises today at Independence hall. Within sight of the famous Liberty Bell, the general delivered a brief message of good will from France to the United States.

He was the guest of the Fourth Pennsylvania national guard, formerly the 149th Machine Gun battalion of the Forty-second, or Rainbow, division, which was under his command in France.

"The Lion of the Argonne" called upon Mayor Moore at City hall and was escorted to the historic hall by a detachment of the First City troop. After visiting places in Philadelphia and vicinity made memorable by the Revolutionary war, including Valley Forge, he departed tonight for Washington.

"My gratitude goes out not only to American soldiers," he said through an interpreter, "but also to the American women who came over to help the wounded and sick."

With a tenderness apparent to all his hearers, the "Lion of the Argonne" told of his visit yesterday to the widow of Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay. "I asked her to allow me to use the features of her son, Quentin Roosevelt, to represent on a statue to be placed at Champagne, the American soldier who fell for independence and civilization.

Holiday Crowds Greet Harding at Portland

Thousands Line Pavements as Presidential Party Passes to Hotel—Amplifier Carries President's Voice to Audience of 25,000.

Portland, Ore., July 4 (By the A. P.).—Portland's reception was one of the most enthusiastic given the president and Mrs. Harding since they left Washington on the trip to Alaska. Holiday crowds packed the pavements from curb to building line along the miles of city streets over which the presidential party passed from the railway station to the hotel where a reception was held.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover joined the party here, increasing the number of cabinet officers accompanying the chief executive to three.

An outstanding feature of the parade in Portland was the participation of two companies of sailors and marines from the British cruiser Curlew in the harbor. They marched in the column with the blue and khaki of the United States navy and army.

The grandstand at Multnomah field was filled long before the president arrived, and thousands stood in the playing field. Still others stood six deep on the streets, while houstcops were black with hundreds of persons.

John Dougall, presiding officer, introducing Governor Pierce, estimated the crowd at 25,000. Amplifying apparatus, however, carried the president's voice for a distance equal to three city blocks.

Former Attorney General Idleman of Oregon read the Declaration of Independence. Seated in the presidential stand were six staff officers of the British cruiser Curlew.

Governor Pierce, in introducing the president, brought forth cheers by pledging the support of Oregon to the chief executive "in enforcing all laws, including the prohibition amendment."

The cheers turned to laughter when the governor introduced the executive as "our president, William G. Harding."

The president prefaced his address by declaring that "a bit of history was recorded today in Portland, for never until today had a contingent of British naval forces marched in an Independence day parade."

In beginning his address, Mr. Harding referred to the two schools of politics in conflict from the beginning of the republic, one the nationalist group and the other the state sovereignty proponents. He pointed out that the conflict finally had to be settled by bloodshed which left the deep wounds always incident to war.

"A half dozen presidents came and went before the healing was completed," he continued.

"It remained for the gentle and tactful and sympathetic McKinley fully to understand the soul hand to hand the south to understand him. A new consecration of the whole people to a national defense helped him mightily. Sons of the south joined the sons of the north and west in a war of conscience against oppression at our very door; the immortal striking instance of unselfish warfare in all human history. Out of it came new freedom and a new republic, new concord at home and new faith in our America."

The president, after concluding his prepared address, repeated his declaration for Americanization and added "There is one thing more we can do: We want an end to war, and to that end I have asked the senate to give its assent to American participation in the permanent court of international justice.

"It is the one long step to which the civilization of the world can commit itself," he added, "and I want America to give of its influence to bring about universal peace."

NEW YORK CENTRAL ENGINE JUMPS TRACKS

New York, July 4.—Twenty-five persons, mostly women, narrowly escaped death today when the locomotive and first car of a two-car train on the Harlem division of the New York Central jumped the tracks between Golden's bridge and Lake Mahopac.

The engine and car plunged down the embankment, ripping up track and ties for thirty feet. The engine landed on its side in the ditch, the car finally retained its balance after almost falling into fifteen feet of water.

The engineer was the only one seriously hurt.

GOVERNOR TEMPLETON HAS SICK SPELL

Hartford, Conn., July 4.—While motoring with his family from the New England governors' conference in Maine to the city, where he was to act as judge in the Hartford Courant marathon race today, Governor Templeton had a sick spell and was obliged to cut his trip short at Franklin, N. H., soon after midnight Tuesday. His secretary, Anson T. McCook, left the party at Franklin and made the remainder of the trip by rail. He reported that the governor expected to be able to proceed homeward this afternoon.

KRUPPS WORKS SIGNS AGREEMENT WITH FRENCH

Essen, July 4 (By the A. P.).—Announcement that the management of the Krupp Works had signed an agreement with engineers of the commission of occupation for the use of a branch railroad line connecting two branches of the Krupp plants was made today by the French authorities. This is said to be the first agreement of any kind signed by representatives of the German industrialists with representatives of the forces of occupation and is looked upon by the French as an indication of the weakening of passive resistance by the Germans.

SCORES HURT WHEN GRANDSTAND COLLAPSED

Salt Lake City, June 4.—A grandstand from which hundreds of persons were witnessing a celebration at Liberty Park collapsed late today precipitating scores of persons to the ground several feet below and heaping masses of wreckage upon them. VOLSTEAD ACT HISSED AT TAMMANY HALL CELEBRATION

Governor Smith Cheered as Next President of the United States—West Virginia Senator Attacks Twelve Hour Day in Steel Industry—Bay State Representative Declares Gunmen of Volsteadism Have Brought Into Existence Reign of Terror Threatening Congress and Executive Officers—Suggests President Harding Seek Advice From Albany and Not From Ohio Where Anti-Saloon League Recently Met.

New York, July 4.—The Volstead act was hissed and Governor Smith, who signed the measure repealing the state prohibition enforcement act, was cheered lustily as "the next president of the United States" at Tammany Hall's Fourth of July celebration.

Governor Smith, who recently captured national attention by his signing of the repealer and who last night was declared by Norman E. Mack of Buffalo, member of the national democratic committee, to be an avowed candidate for the presidency, was one of the principal speakers. The governor, who boasts of having begun his career as a newsboy, compared the relative chances of a rich man and a poor man becoming president and asserted that no man of great wealth ever had been sent to the White House.

Among others to share the rostrum with the governor were Senator Matthew M. Neely of West Virginia, who attacked the 12-hour day in the steel industry; Representative Harry B. Hawes of Missouri, who paid his respects to the Volstead act and the Ku Klux Klan; and Representative James A. Gallivan of Massachusetts, who declared that "the gunmen of Volsteadism have brought into existence a reign of terror, threatening congress and the executive officers."

Mr. Gallivan, who asserted that the United States, unable to enforce its dry law, now threatened to make itself the laughing stock of the world, suggested that President Harding seek advice from Albany, and not from Westerville, O., where the Anti-Saloon league recently met, or from the Ku Klux Klan.

It was Mr. Gallivan who declared that Governor Smith had cleared the atmosphere and no prohibitionist cowed him, who led the cheers for Mr. Smith and hailed him as the next president, while the band played "The Sidewalks of New York," the governor's campaign song. It was several minutes before quiet was restored and when the governor left the Wigwam to break ground for Veterans' hospital in Kings park, the din of automobile horns on Fourteenth street was so loud that it drowned the voice of the next speaker.

STATUE TYPIFIES GRATITUDE OF FRANCE

Paris, July 4.—(By the A. P.)—A bronze statue typifying the gratitude of the French people for the aid rendered by America in the World war was unveiled here today with ceremonies that crystallized the spirit of 1914 and recalled the tragic days when the German invaders threatened the very walls of Paris.

The monument embodies the gratitude of all the French people, for more than 50,000 of France's citizens had an tangible part in making possible its erection. Most of the contributions came in donations of a few centimes each from school children, members of military units and ordinary citizens with whom sous count as would dollars with the average American.

It is characteristics of the French sense of appropriateness that the statue, which is particularly dedicated to the American volunteers who joined the foreign legion in the first days of the war, should be set up in the place Des Etats Unis and unveiled on America's Independence day.

Premier Poincare speaking for the government as the montmajor of these thousands of little contributors, addressed the great throngs of French and Americans who jammed the square.

American Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, delivered an address thanking the French nation for the monument. He recalled how the volunteers, including Allan Seeger, the soldier-poet, in whose likeness the statue is wrought, came to him for advice before joining the foreign legion.

As for the volunteers as a body, Mr. Herrick said their acts were an inspired answer to the babble of pacifism, neutrality and propaganda that fatigued the air of America."

SPRINGFIELD POLICE QUELL TELEPHONE RIOT

Boston, July 4.—Edward F. McGrady, legislature agent of the American Federation of Labor at Washington, D. C., arrived here today to assist in conducting the strike of operators of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company for increased wages and a seven hour day. He said every resource of the federation had been placed at the disposal of the strikers by President Samuel Gompers.

A force of 100 police reserves was called out to quell a riot in the vicinity of the Springfield telephone exchange early today. Several persons were injured in the clash with the officers. Elsewhere conditions were quiet and there was no marked change in service. Miss Julia S. O'Connor, leader of the strikers, asserted that her reports from affected centers indicated that operators who remained at their posts were breaking under the strain of long hours. Officials of the telephone company omitted for the holiday the usual morning statement concerning service conditions.

BROOKLYN MAN HELD BY STAMFORD POLICE

Stamford, Conn., July 4.—No bond has been set up to a late hour tonight for John J. Hucks, Jr., of Brooklyn, N. Y., who about 2.30 Wednesday morning drove his automobile into the side of a car owned by Prohibition Group Head Edward B. Doolan, of Bridgeport, which was parked at the side of the road. Prohibition Agent James Holt, of Bridgeport, who was sitting on the running board of Doolan's car, was seriously injured.

A Miss Mauer, of 36 Grand street, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was riding with Hucks, was allowed to return to her home by authorities following the investigation of the accident. She was summoned to appear in court on Thursday morning. A physician who examined Hucks after the accident pronounced him under the influence of liquor.

AMERICANS IN LONDON OBSERVE THE FOURTH

London, July 4.—(By the A. P.).—Post Wheeler, charge d'affaires of the American embassy in the absence of Ambassador Harvey, and Mrs. Wheeler, received members of the diplomatic corps and prominent Americans in London in observance of Independence day today at Landowne, the London home of Gordon Selfridge, while the American merchant fleet for the occasion.

Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, was among the callers.

SHOULD GUARANTEE FRANCE FROM GERMAN INVASION

Paris, July 4.—The suggestion that America should guarantee the security of France from future German invasion by the promulgation of a part of second Monroe Doctrine was made tonight by Blyth W. Branch, president of the American chamber of commerce in Paris, speaking as chairman of that organization's annual Independence day banquet.

Mr. Branch drew an analogy between what he described as the antipodal conceptions of civilization between France and Germany and those between the United States and Europe one hundred years ago, when President Monroe made his famous declaration, which, although never formally recognized by the signature of any national or political body, has been respected by Europe and has been one of America's cardinal principles in her foreign relationship.

As long as Germany holds to the doctrine of "might makes right," and the rest of the world professes the faith of "right makes might," declared Mr. Branch, there will always be potential danger from the east side of the Rhine. The two viewpoints of psychology are diametrically opposed, he declared, and there appears an immediate prospect of Germany's coming over to the other view. Therefore, he said, he should like to hear America make a declaration to Germany somewhat as follows:

"Work! Pay your debts! The entire world will help you bear your cross, for you shall have a cross to bear before retaking your place in the sun, of which nobody has ever wished to deprive you. Forget your ideas of Hegemony; forget above all, your Deutschland Uber Alles! Humanity has no use for your ridiculous pretensions which imperil the unalienable rights of man, his right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"Above all, stay on your side of the Rhine, because, as much as you may be able to demonstrate proofs of your good faith and patience, you are and you uwill continue to be subjects of caution, and we shall maintain our line against you, not from choice, but from necessity."

HARDING'S PORTRAIT IN LEVIATHAN'S LIBRARY

New York, July 4.—President Harding today stepped into the frame once occupied by Kaiser Wilhelm.

Before the Leviathan sailed on her maiden voyage as an American liner, Chairman Fahley of the shipping board announced that late this afternoon a portrait of the president by Howard Chandler Christy would be unveiled in the ship's library in the same frame that held the canvas of the fallen emperor.

Speeches by Justice Sutherland of the supreme court of the United States, Secretary of Labor Davis and Senator Reed Smoot of Utah were to feature the ceremony, at which Mr. Christy was to be present.

ARRESTED WHILE CARRYING WHISKEY TO HARTFORD

Westport, Conn., July 4.—While on their way from New York to Hartford, with 144 pint bottles of rye and Scotch whiskey in their high powered car, two men giving their names as Herbert J. Freezer, of 24 West Mount Morris park, New York, and Benjamin Sern, of 549 West 113th street, New York, were arrested at Nash's Corner here about 8 o'clock tonight.

State Policeman Anthony Manion, of Bridgeport, arrested the pair and ordered them locked up in the town lockup when they were unable to furnish bonds of $500 each.

WATERBURY MAN TAKES LIFE BY HANGING

Waterbury, Conn., July 4.—Charles Blakely, 1153 West Main street, this city, committed suicide here this afternoon by hanging himself in a barn of the Waterbury Button company, where he was employed as a day watchman. Dr. A. A. Crane, medical examiner, gave permission for removal of the body.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING AT ROCKAWAY BEACH

New York, July 4.—While thousands of bathers at Arverne, Rockaway Beach, were running for shelter from a fast approaching thunder storm today, a blinding flash of lightning crashed over the boardwalk, striking George Elles, of the Bronx. He was killed instantly.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
25 Church Street Telephone 1045

Michael Kurdza, Jr., the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mikhtal Zurdse of 45 Brick Row, sustained a broken shoulder blade, and Stanley Duda, aged 12, of 48 Winter street, received severe lacerations on his left shoulder when a cannon exploded about 3.30, Fourth of July afternoon, and the children were struck by flying pieces of steel.

The cannon was a makeshift affair mounted from a piece of steel gas pipe. It was set up at the rear of the home of Louis Dansereau in Arnold's lane. Mr. Dansereau and three friends, James Menditto of Main street and Michael Fuchs and James Guilford of Winter street had been engaged in firing the cannon during the day. The party decided to try an extra heavy charge, with the result that the pipe blew up into a thousand pieces. Splinters of the steel flew through the air and struck the two children who were some fifty yards away, playing with a group of youngsters in front of the Brick Row.

A number of young men who were standing nearby escaped injury and no damage was done to property in the vicinity.

A physician was called and under his advice the Kurze child was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital where it was found that his left shoulder blade was badly fractured. Stanley Duda was also taken to the hospital to receive treatment for his wounds. The police were notified of the accident and Acting Chief Allan MacArthur is conducting an investigation.

The accident is the first serious one to occur in this city from the use of fireworks in a number of years.

30—Henry Mahieu and Alice Duchesneau, by Rev. E. A. Mathieu.

Funeral services were held at St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning for Joseph F. Nowak, who died Sunday at his home, No. 26 Chapman street. Rev. John E. Clark, the pastor, sang the requiem high mass which was attended by a large number of friends and relatives, including a delegation from Willimantic lodge, No. 1440, Loyal Order of Moose. The funeral procession was led by the White Eagle Polish-American band, which was organized by Mr. Nowak some few years ago. The bearers were: Walter Nowak, Stanley O'Bara, Nicholas Bashura, Daniel Mason and Frank Sadin. Committal services were conducted at the grave in the family burial plot at St. Joseph's cemetery by Rev. Father Clark. Arrangements for the funeral were in charge of Killourey Brothers.

Funeral services for George Victor Konarski were held Wednesday morning at 8.30 o'clock from his home in South Coventry. Requiem high mass at St. Mary's church of that place at 9 o'clock was sung by Rev. William H. Kennedy. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, South Coventry, where a committal service was conducted by Rev. Father Kennedy. The services were largely attended and there were beautiful floral pieces.

In Willimantic and surrounding towns a real "safe and sane" Fourth was observed. Occasional showers dampened the enthusiasm of the day and many who had planned picnics and outings were bitterly disappointed, unfavorable weather putting the lid on all sports of this kind.

The fact that there was no police court Wednesday morning also impresses upon the mind of local people that the "night before the Fourth" has lost much of its significance. Up to late the day, only one man had been placed under arrest for intoxication and no cases of accidents by explosives had been reported.

The younger folks gathered at Lakeside Park, South Coventry, where they spent the afternoon and evening enjoying dancing and bathing. A number from this city went to Windham Center, where they attended an entertainment in the auditorium of the new grammar school for the benefit of the library. The affair was in the form of a patriotic minstrels well presented.

The town of Scotland was without any Fourth of July celebration for the first time in a number of years.

At Mansfield Center, a delightful entertainment was given on the lawn of the Congregational church under the auspices of Mansfield Center Library Association. Music was furnished by the Mansfield Center orchestra. A well rendered musical program was carried out, with duets and quartettes by Mansfield's leading singers. James Martin of the East Hartford Congregational church was heard in several tenor solos and F. C. Littleworth rendered a number of baritone solos. Prof. H. A. Seckerson of Connecticut Agricultural College delivered an inspiring patriotic address which was followed by a cafeteria lunch under the direction of W. R. Dayoll. Games and sports provided entertainment on the church lawn, during the afternoon.

At Mansfield State Hospital and Training School at Mansfield Depot there was also a celebration when the employes and patients joined in field day sports for which the winners were rewarded with prizes.

At 9 o'clock in the forenoon, the girls and boys of Dining Room No. 2, contested in an exciting baseball game, the honors going to the young men, each member of the winning team being awarded a box of candy. Another baseball game was played at 10.30 o'clock between picked teams from the boys' custodian building and the boys' dormitory, the winners receiving a box of cigars.

Following the events on the diamond there were various games, including a wheelbarrow race between the biggest boys and girls and a second match between the younger people. In each of these events the winner received a pound box of candy and the second a half pound box. There were two tug of war contests: boys' custodian building vs boys' dormitory, prize, a box of cigars; girls' custodian building and the girls' dormitory, prize a five pound box of candy. Prizes were also given the winners of a sack race, potato race, egg race, 100-yard dash, three-legged race, shoe race and broad jump. A feature event of the day was the climbing of a greased pole, the winning boy being given the privilege to remain possession of a one dollar bill which was pinned to the top of the pole.

Members of a sewing club and Saturday Evening club and their families comprised a large party which motored to Atlantic beach, near Pleasant View, Fourth of July, to enjoy a shore outing. The party which numbered 40, included the Daniels, Kirkland, Spellman, Williams, Dondero and Elliott families and friends.

Judge Otto B. Robinson and Mrs. Robinson, of Lewiston avenue, entertained a party of twenty-five guests on the holiday. In the group were: Mr. and Mrs. George F. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lathrop, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Lathrop and family, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fuller, of Mansfield, Miss Edith Tickner and Mrs. Ricketts Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Taylor and family, George F. Robinson and a friend, Kenneth Steckberger of Hartford.

Merrill H. Jones of this city is "up in the air" and presumably justly so. Mr. Jones owns a three-acre plot of young corn on the Plains road, near here, and a herd of deer that have discovered the lot are trespassing on the property; the corn is fast being chewed up and trampled under. That fact is annoying enough in itself but what makes Mr. Jones sore is that he cannot seem to find out who is the game warden of the town of Windham. It was generally supposed that Constable Wilbur G. Stevens of North Windham, held the office but this has been denied by him. An appeal to Town Clerk Frank E. Fenton and First Selectman Russell A. Andrews disclosed the fact that they also were in ignorance as to the identity of the town's game warden. Mr. Jones wishes to abide by the law, but he is also anxious to exterminate the destructive animals. At least one-third of the stalks have been eaten up when the owner tried to frighten the deer away recently he was amazed to find them quite fearless and walking away from him at their leisure.

Patrons of the South Coventry-Willimantic branch of the Connecticut company are now receiving practically all-day service, with the advent of the summer schedule. Trips are made every hour from the Main street terminus in this city to Lakeside, South Coventry, with the exception of two trips in the forenoon which are omitted at 10.15 and 11.15 o'clock. Wednesday and Saturday evenings the last car will leave South Coventry at 11.45 o'clock. Motorman John Young has concluded his two weeks' vacation and has resumed his duties on the trolley operated on this branch.

Wilfred Lawrance Lowe, formerly of this city, and the boxing pride of the U. S. S. Mississippi, recently defeated "Johnny" Ingram of the U. S. S. Texas, at San Francisco. The majority of the naval officers at the ringside are authority for the statement that Lowe had the better of every round except the sixth and seventh. Lowe is a junior light heavyweight and is well known locally.

A Ford automobile owned and driven by John Vachon, of 238 Summit street and a truck owned by the Troy Laundry company figured in a slight collision about 2.30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon opposite the Johnson House on Main street. The driver of the truck turned to cross the main thoroughfare and enter a driveway on the opposite side of the street when he was run into by Vachon, who failed to see the signal given by the truck driver. Vachon agreed to pay for a bent fender on the truck.

A transient who gave his name as James O'Brien and his occupation as a farmer was found in a down and out condition, about 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the corner of Main and Windham streets. Acting Chief MacArthur and Traffic Officer Frank McLean brought the man to the police station and after removing a bottle of Jamaica ginger from his coat pocket he was locked up to await his appearance before the judge this (Thursday) morning on the charge of intoxication.

Guests at Stephen Babcock over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Exley and family of Groton.

Mrs. Nathan Exley and son William were in Willimantic Monday to call on Mrs. Abbie Buss who is spending several weeks with Mrs. Fred Hyde.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kerr of Hyde street, Tuesday morning June 26th, their daughter, Elinor was married to Freeman Strunk of Lock Haven, Pa. As Miss Elsie Hawes played the wedding march, the bridal couple unattended, took their places before a bower of ferns and roses. The bride was dressed in a travelling costume. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John L. Pratt of Brooklyn.

A breakfast was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Strunk left for an automobile trip including Hartford and Middletown, returning in time for a reception Thursday evening. Saturday they left for their new home in Lock Haven where Mr. Strunk is employed in a music store.

The bride received many gifts. Shortly before her marriage two showers had been given by neighbors and friends, one at the club house, which had been prettily decorated. A ten dollar gold piece was given by Canterbury grange of which Mrs. Strunk was a member.

JEWETT CITY

Fourth of July in the borough was a day of weather moods. Every sort was handed out, including a brisk thunder shower. At three o'clock all roads led to Ashland park, where a large gallery saw a fine presentation of aquatic sports, including swimming, diving and rowing.

The Mathieu twins from Willimantic, with their trainer, Frank Perveion were the special attraction. After a saxophone and violin duet and a song by the two voices, they gave a club swinging number, then the attractive young ladies, proved whatever claims they have made relative to proficiency in high diving. Their exhibitors of front, swan, jack knife, sailor, standing-sit and shackled diving were the finest ever seen here. They scored from 12 to 18 points ever time, standing high at the point of "splash" where so many of the later divers failed.

During the program the Plainfield band of 26 pieces, Christopher Krauss, conductor, played a number of fine selections.

The attendance, although good was almost entirely local, indicating the carnival's handicap by threatening weather.

The new float with the many canoes and rowboat in the big water area, was as pleasing a sight as is to be furnished by many salt water beaches.

Mr. Deveigor, an aquatic trainer of note, paid a handsome tribute to local contestants, when he said that few fresh water divers equaled the points scored by the home men and boys.

Second to no other part of the attraction of the day was the canoe tipping contest, Carpenter and Parent against Himoe and Paquette, with the award going to the former crew. The first two tips were scored before the lancemen were within thrusting distance.

Mr. Carpenter, lanceman for the winning crew says the prize, 100 Blackstones are to be evenhiy divided among the four contestants.

Much merited commendation goes to Manager Hal Chase who had the affair in charge. Not only, for his careful and equable arrangement of the details of the several contests, but for the signal success he scored in the line of home attractions for holidays.

The awards were made upon the decisions of Referee Cornelius Crowley of Norwich, and Judge Frank Demeicor.

The fireworks display was postponed until next Wednesday evening on account of the rain.

The results of the meet:

ROCKVILLE

Charles H. Boss, 68, who has suffered much during the past four years from the effects of a fall, and who died at his home near this village Sunday, June 24, was the son of the late William and William and Judith Boss and was born in Canonchet Oct. 24, 1855. In early life he was baptized by Rev. James R. Irish and united with the Seventh Day Baptist church of this place. Later he became a member of a Baptist church in Providence. He went in 1881 to Providence, where he lived until 1906, when he returned to Hope Valley, afterwards moving to Westerly, where he lived until the spring of 1920, when he moved to the farm where he died. He married Miss Jennie Boss, who survives him. Four children were born to them, only two of whom are living, Mrs. Bessie Boss and Howard Boss. He leaves six grandchildren. There are two brothers Ernest Boss of this place and Frank Boss of Ashaway, and a sister Mrs. Myrtle Maxwell of Hope Valley. Funeral services were held at his home Wednesday, conducted by Rev. Paul S. Burdick, pastor of the S. D. B. church here, and Rev. James Struthers, pastor of the First Baptist church at Hope Valley. Mrs. Carlton Irish sang Thy Will Be Done. The bearers were two brothers, Ernest and Frank Boss, his son, Howard Boss, and his son-in-law, Fred P. Boss. There were beautiful flowers. Burial was in Pine Grove cemetery, Hope Valley.

Several from here attended the Odd Fellows' memorial service at the First Baptist church, Hope Valley, Sunday morning.

CHANDLER
Leads Traffic!

Genuine pleasure driving through traffic! That's what the Chandler owner enjoys—thanks to the phenomenal high gear capacity of the

Pikes Peak Motor

He can roll along so slowly in high that pedestrians pass him. Yet the pull of his motor is flawlessly smooth.

The instant the road clears he can "give her the gas." And his car leaps ahead in a swift, unlabored, silent rush.

He can drive for blocks without touching the gear lever—without slipping the clutch—without riding the brake—without nursing his motor in any way.

That's unadulterated driving delight! And it is possible only because the performance capacity of the new Chandler power plant was developed on the highest automobile climb in the world. No other motor quite equals it. Drive it yourself—and see!

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Broadway Theatre.

A romance of the South Seas that is both thrilling and convincing is the new Goldwyn picture, Lost and Found, by Carey Wilson, which is the offering this week at the Broadway theatre. It will show great enthusiasm on the part of the first audience today to see it unreeled.

The film is filled with pictorial beauty, with strange and compelling drama, with unusual persons in thrilling situations. It may be classified, for those who like such definitions, as romance melodrama, with action rapid enough to suit the most jaded taste. The photography is unusually clear, and much of it depicts scenes that are beautiful beyond belief.

Goldwyn announced that it had sent the director, R. A. Walsh, and the entire cast to Tahiti to film the story on the spot where the action is supposed to take place. That this was really done is borne out by the picture itself; nowhere else than on and among the islands of the South Seas could such land and sea scapes have been found. The entire film, on the pictorial side, is a panorama of beautiful scenes.

The story concerns one Captain Blackbird, a planter on a Pacific island, whose wife deserted him for the island governor, fleeing with their eldest daughter, injuring the younger in her mad haste to leave. The man, swearing vengeance upon all of her sex, took to the seas as master of a slave ship. Upon the deck of his vessel the drama is played out when his elder daughter appears. Not knowing her identity, Captain Blackbird is on the point of forcing her to marry Dingo, his filthy mate. The revelation of who she is comes, and there follows one of the wildest, most realistic ship fights ever staged for a picture.

The cast is exceptionally gifted. House Peters as Captain Blackbird again proving his right to stand at the head of his profession. Other players who give sterling and vivid performances are Pauline Starke, Antonio Moreno, Rosemary Theby, George Siegmann, Mary Jane Irving, William V. Mong and Carl Harbaugh.

The comedy, Exit the Stranger, and a news weekly will be the short subjects.

Notice—There is no strike or labor trouble at this theatre.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Grand Theatre.

It has been many a day since we have seen a photoplay so thoroughly delightful and amusing as Her Fatal Millions, Viola Dana's new Metro starring vehicle, which opened yesterday at the Breed theatre.

Little Miss Dana captured the audience yesterday with her charm and vivacity. Never once did interest flag in this fascinating and rapidly moving story. When the audience wasn't laughing it was being surprised or thrilled by some unexpected turn.

It is about a girl who "borrowed" jewels, furs, a limousine and even a husband in order to pose as a millionaire. She was desperate because an old sweetheart was coming and she didn't want him to lose it over her with his wealth. And there are all sorts of complications.

The supporting cast is splendid. Huntly Gordon is Fred Garrison, Mary's old sweetheart; Allan Forrest is Lew Garmody, the villain, and Edward Connelly impersonates the "borrowed" husband. Among others in the cast are Peggy Brown, Kate Price and Joy Winthrop.

Her Fatal Millions, written by William Dudley Pelley and adapted by Arthur Statter, was directed by William Beaudine and photographed by John Arnold.

Her Fatal Millions will be shown again today at the Breed and other pictures on the bill include The Yellow Face, a Sherlock Holmes story, and movie chats.

At the Strand.

Richard Barthelmess has given to the screen another classic of the silent drama.

Greater even than his former masterwork, Tol'able David, is his new contribution, The Bright Shawl, which is the First National picture presented by Inspiration Pictures, Inc., at the Strand theatre this week.

Adapted by Edmund Goulding from Joseph Hergesheimer's colorful story of the days when Cuba was still under the yoke of Spanish tyranny, it is one of the most charming, vivid and moving romances yet presented on the screen.

The hand of a craftsman is seen in the direction by John S. Robertson, while the picture itself is the last word in fine photography.

Barthelmess has the role of a young American, Charles Abbott, who, on a visit to Havana, becomes so tremendously interested in the cause of the downtrodden Cubans that he decides to espouse it.

He feigns infatuation with a beautiful Andalusian dancer, La Clavel, in order to gain information that is invaluable to the rebels; for La Clavel is the favorite of Santaella, a Spanish captain, who is the most despised officer in Cuba. Narcisa Escobar, the daughter of a leading Cuban family, for whom Abbott has formed a true affection, cannot understand his actions until he explains that they are all for the cause.

One of the most poignant scenes of the drama is that which is enacted when the beautiful La Clavel, fatally stabbed by Santacilla, gives to Abbott the highly-prized, bright shawl as a token of her undying love.

In a struggle with Abbott Santacilla is overcome by a heart stroke. Abbott hastens to the rebels, bringing word in time to save them from the disaster which Santacilla's ruse would have brought about. He returns to Havana in time to witness the stabbing to death of his friend, Andres Escobar, by La Pilar, an Eurasian girl and a spy, at the annual danzes. La Pilar points to him in the gallery and accuses him. Abbott is seized and challenged to a duel by De Vaca, a Spanish captain. Novice though he is with the sword, Abbott fights until he drops from utter exhaustion. De Vaca cannot help but admire courage, and Abbott awakens to find himself bound for home aboard a ship at sea, with his "belongings"—which include Narcisa and the bright shawl.

Dorothy Gish contributes perhaps the finest screen performance of her career as La Clavel. Anders Randolf is superb as the villainous Santacilla, while Mary Astor makes an altogether charming Narcisa. Others who add to the histrionic qualities of this unusual picture are Jetta Goudal as La Pilar, William Powell as De Vaca, Andre de Beranger, E. G. Robinson, Margaret Seddon, Louis Alberni and George Humbert.

A comedy will also be shown in addition to this sight-and-sound masterpiece.

Notice—There is no strike or labor trouble at this theatre.

TENDLER REFUSES TO FIGHT WHEN HE SEES MONEY IS NOT FORTHCOMING

Michigan City, Ind., July 4.—Financial trouble were to some extent the cause for calling off the fight between Law Tendler, of Philadelphia, and Sailor Freedman, of Chicago, here today. Rain put the final touch to the matter according to Dick Curley, manager of Freedman.

Despite the fact that the arena was more than half filled and that it was announced previous to the first preliminary that 15,000 persons passed through the gates, it was said that not enough money was on hand to fulfill the $15,000 guarantee made to Tendler. Curley stated tonight the lack of money was the original cause of Tendler's refusal to enter the ring but that this had been adjusted and the guarantee had been met. Tendler's final objection was the fact that it was raining and that the ring was wet and slippery, he said.

Insofar as the crowd knew or knows officially, the bout is still on for no announcement of its calling off was made. The crowd was left to draw its own conclusion. After a strong hint had come from the official announcer that he was going home, the crowd believed a fight would not take place and started for the gates.

Previous to this Freedman had appeared in the ring and announced he was willing to fight. Several Chicago men, after investigating the trouble, started to collect a purse to make up whatever difference there was between the amount offered and the amount acceptable. A conference between Phil Glassman, acting for Tendler, Tendler himself and Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons were held but no announcement was forthcoming.

It was not known positively that all efforts to hold the fight had proven unavailing until it was ascertained that Tendler had gone back to Chicago. The crowd did not see the main bout but it did get a thorough wetting. The rain started at the beginning of the third preliminary and steadily increased until it became a downpour as this bout ended.

Then came a long wait with little or no information available.

The announcer grew impatient and after asking the crowd to be patient, started for the conference between the boxers and Promoter Fitzsimmons. When he returned he announced that he was going home.

It was understood from those close to Promoter Fitzsimmons that $12,000 was offered Tendler originally. He insisted on the additional $3,000 and, according to Manager Curley, this was forthcoming, then rain began to fall.

JOHNSTON AND HUNTER TO BATTLE FOR TENNIS TITLE

Wimbledon, July 4.—(By the A. P.)—The next champion tennis player of the world on grass courts will be an American. The crown may rest on William M. Johnston, of California, or Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, New York. Each of these stars won his way through the semi finals gets this afternoon in sweeping style.

Johnston took the measure of B. I. C. Norton, of South Africa, with scores of 6-4, 6-2, 6-4. Hunter eliminated Gordon Lowe, the veteran English internationalist, whose game has not kept pace with these speedy times. The score in this match was 3-6, 7-5, 6-4.

When Johnston and Hunter will face one another across the net, has not been announced, but most likely their contest will take place Saturday.

All aspirations of taking the doubles championship trophy to America along with the silver cup that goes to the last survivor in the singles, died just before eight o'clock tonight when the French team, Lacoste and Borotra, defeated Vincent Richards and Francis T. Hunter in a five set fight that was tense at times and at other times was a sorry exhibition.

For those who like to look upon lady when it is perfect, the shining star of the day was Suzanne Lenglen, who advanced to the finals in the women's singles by simply crushing Mrs. Beamish conqueror of Miss Mallory, without the loss of a game, without, in fact, once having the ball driven past her.

DEMPSEY PRAISES GIBBONS BUT IS DISAPPOINTED

Shelby, Mont., July 4—(By the A. P.)—Jack Dempsey boarded his private car an hour after today's fight and started the trip back to his Great Falls training camp a disappointed champ—disappointed because he failed to knock out Gibbons. But in the next breath, he expressed his admiration for the fighting ability of the St. Paul challenger.

"In a way, I am disappointed with the result," Dempsey said. "I think I won clearly enough to dispel any doubt on the decision, but I felt sure when I entered the ring I could knock Gibbons out. In this I failed and, while I am disappointed, I want to express my admiration for Gibbons and the bout he put up.

"I hit him often enough and hard enough to drop any ordinary heavyweight but I guess everybody is convinced now that Gibbons is not an ordinary heavyweight.

"He certainly gave me a great fight—one of the hardest men to hit cleanly or solidly that I ever boxed.

SOX AND GEERS DRIVE WINNERS AT NORTH RANDALL

North Randall, Cleveland, July 4.—(By the A. P.)—After finishing fourth in the first heat, the Great Volo, driven by Walter Cox of Goshen, N. Y., won the trotting sweepstakes from four of the fastest trotters in training on the Grand Circuit here today. In stepping the second heat in 2.02 1-5, the Great Volo trotted the fastest heat here since Peter Volo, now a sire of Nervolo Bell and Peter the Great, beat Lee Axworthy in a heat in 1914. Peter Volo setting the track record of 2.02 in that mile.

Great Britton, which won the first heat, and Peter the Brewer set the pace in the second mile, the Great Volo making a great stretch drive to win. The last quarter of that mile was made in 30 seconds, which was 1 1-5 seconds slower than the last quarter in the third mile.

Ed ("Pop") Geers made his inaugural appearance on the grand circuit of the season, driving Miss Rosebud to victory in the 2.14 class trot. It was the mare's third consecutive victory of the season, having won twice on half-mile tracks in the past three weeks.

PIRATES HIT CARDINAL PITCHERS HARD AND WIN

Pittsburgh, July 4.—The Pittsburgh Pirates used their bats in deadly fashion against St. Louis today and won the morning and afternoon games, 7 to 5 and 6 to 1. In the second game, Morrison had the Cardinals at his mercy. In the first inning of the afternoon game Hornsby was forced to retire when he received an injury to his leg. Freigau relieved him. In the afternoon game Grimm got four hits, one a double, in four times at bat. Today's double victory made eight straight for the Pirates over St. Louis. Score:

DODGERS HUMBLE BRAVES IN TWO GAMES

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 4.—Brooklyn beat Boston twice today 4 to 1 and 9 to 5. Vance pitched great ball in the first game, being prevented from a shutout when the Braves bunched three hits in the eighth inning. The Dodgers bunched hits off Oeschger in the second and fifth. In the second game the Dodgers bumped three pitchers for six runs in the seventh inning after trailing all the way. Fournier made his tenth home run, in the second game, the ball hitting a small flagpole atop the right field wall and bounding back into the field. Umpire Hart allowed the homer although Fournier stopped at second. The postponed game of Tuesday will be played tomorrow. Score:

WHITE SOX TAKE BOTH GAMES OF DOUBLE BILL

St. Louis, July 4.—Chicago made it three straight over St. Louis by taking both games of the holiday bill today. The score of the forenoon contest was 9 to 7, and the afternoon game 3 to 1.

In the second game T. Blankenship held the Browns to three hits. Williams got his twelfth homer of the season in the third inning. Score:

BROKEN BLADE FORCES HOOVER OUT OF RUNNING FOR DIAMOND SCULLS

Henley on Thames, July 4.—(By the A. P.)—Walter M. Hoover, of Duluth, holder of the diamond sculls, lost his chance to bring back to America the famous trophy through an unfortunate accident in the first preliminary heat of the competition on the Thames today.

A few second after Hoover started down the famous regatta course he caught his left oar in a log boom marking the waterway. A hundred yards further along Hoover caught his blade on the boom again with such force as to split a piece a foot long and an inch and a half wide from his oar, and when the precious bit of wood disappeared in a smother of spray Hoover saw his chances of winning go with it.

His opponent, D. H. L. Gollan, of the Leanders, who is deaf and dumb, had already been headed by Hoover in the hundred years already covered, but the little piece of polished skull danced past him on the wash from the American's shell spelled opportunity to capture the Henley trophy which he has been silently struggling for years and he took it with a vengeance.

Gollan needed all the strength he was able to put into his powerful strokes, for, despite his handicap, Hoover pulled himself well into open water, then settled down to give the Henley crowds the best possible example of what the English call his unorthodox sculling style, and he did it with such effectiveness that when Gollan's shell flashed past the finish Hoover had recovered nearly a dozen lengths which he had lost through his accident.

The American was only half a length behind and was biting into the distance which separated him from the Englishman with each dip and feathering his unevenly matched oars with surpassing skill. His magnificent burst of speed at the end got rousing cheers from the crowds, which were repeated when he rowed to the winner's boat and congratulated him with a handclasp.

Gollan was pushed to make the best time of any of the heats in the diamond sculls rowed today. He covered the mile and a quarter straightaway in eight minutes, twenty-four seconds.

Tomorrow the young Bostonian, Russell Codman, Jr., will take up Hoover's lost fight for America's sculling honors, when he meets Gollan, and if he can pull away from the Englishman he will have disposed of one of the strongest contenders for the diamond sculls.

The umpire's report shows that Hoover led Gollan from the start, but soon after hit a boom. The American pulled 18—36 in the first half minute and minute to Gollan's 20—38. At the mile point, when Hoover was striving desperately to overtake his sturdy opponent, He stroked 30 to Gollan's 28.

Hoover will return home on the Olympic; he hopes to compete in the Henley regatta and Paris Olympics in 1924.

RED SOX AND ATHLETICS SHARE THE HONORS

Boston, July 4.—Boston divided a double header with Philadelphia today, losing the first 3 to 1 and winning the second 8 to 1. Remmell's effective pitching and his two base hit were big factors in the first game.

Piercy was credited with his first win of the season after 11 losses in the second game. He was relieved by Quinn in the eighth. Boston fell on Hemlach in the last of the eighth for four doubles, a triple and two singles, making six runs. Between games it rained for an hour. The score:

CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES GETS GOING TONIGHT

The much talked about championship series between the married men and single men of the East Side starts at the Battlegrounds tonight at 6.30. The East Side has been the scene of many a heated argument during the past few weeks and tonight will find everyone on their toes awaiting the big game. Manager James will start "Dutch" Leonard in the box for the Married men, with "Miacko" Riley behind the bat. "Rollo" Harris of the old state league will cover first. "Tommy" James well known Ex-Cuban Giant will be on short, while Louis Cook will cover second. As an added attraction of the series Manager James has secured the services of "Matt" Delaney to cover the dizzy corner and its dollars to doughnuts that any balls hit in that direction are goners. "Charlie" Dickerman, Carl Spaulding and "Al" Lasch will roam the outfield. Tom Sway, Bruno Peduce, John Harris, Jack Doyle, Bill McKenzie, Bert Lamphere, Frank Greene and Sam Falcone will be on the reserve list. "Bullet" Peduce will start on the mound for the Single Men with "Chatter Box" Boyens as his battery mate. "Bill" Peduce will be on first, "Bob" Woodmansee at short, Baker on third and "Doc" Spaulding, "Sparky" Walz and "Spike" Harris will cover the garden. D. Peduce, "Donie" Bush, "Pewee" Bowens will be in reserve. Jack Counihan will hold the indicator and Ike Cramer will call em on the bases. John Fowler will be official score keeper.

RIVERVIEW TAKES CLOSE GAME FROM SOUTHBRIDGE

With the exception of one inning Tony West pitched exceptional ball against Southbridge at the State Hospital on Wednesday and won by a score of 5 to 4. West fanned seventeen batters and his two hits accounted for three runs and the game. Southbridge scored their four runs in the third inning on four hits and two passed balls. West struck out four men in this inning but his catcher dropped the last strike on two men allowing them to get to first.

These four runs were the only tallies by the Southbridge team. Coming from behind in the sixth inning Riverview scored three runs tying up the score. The first hit by West scored the tying runs and it was his crash in the eighth inning that won the game. The score.

GIBBONS ANXIOUS FOR A RETURN MATCH

Shelby, Mont., July 4—(By the A. P.)—Defeat by a referee's decision after 15 rounds, was almost as sweet victory to Tom Gibbons, his manager Eddie Kane and hundreds of friends who swarmed after the challenger after the fight. "We want a return bout with Dempsey," Gibbons said when he finished a rubdown at home. "This fight gave me an insight into his style of fighting and I know what I can do against him.

"Perhaps I did do a little holding. I had to. Towards the end I became weary. My body became tired. He is a bigger, stronger man than I am and he punches hard. Of course I stopped a few hard ones, but I was not dazed. My mind remained clear and I knew what I wanted to do.

HANDLING GOVERNMENT REVENUE.

Now that the administration at Washington has succeeded in turning a predicted deficit into a handsome surplus plans are already being made by some for the spending during another year of the hundreds of millions that went to make up that deficit and bring about the surplus. Inasmuch as the revenue has been obtained one year new expenditures are coming to mind instead of that insistence upon debt reduction that will do so much toward the cutting of expenses in the future. Just as long as the debt exists there must be huge sums paid out for interest each year and when there is a departure from the policy of keeping down expenditures it means that debts will increase instead of decrease and there will never be any getting away from the much disliked federal taxes.

The administration is deserving of the highest credit for the showing that has been made in the last fiscal year. It is the result of a policy that was well laid and carefully followed and it is time to give serious consideration to any departure from such a policy that will work against the steady reduction of the indebtedness and really operate to increase taxation and halt the debt reduction.

It is easy to devise ways in which to spend federal funds. There are countless ways in which huge sums can be spent for political if no other benefit. But if those methods had been followed during the past year it can be readily seen that no such pleasing surplus would have been shown.

Before there is a resort to large and unwise expenditures there must be serious consideration given to that much desired cutting of federal taxes.

WORKING FOR GREATER CARE.

Because of the manner in which explosives and firebrands figure in the Fourth of July celebration it is only through the exercise of a considerable degree of care that larger losses through fire on that day are not recorded. Constant reminders of the importance of prevention have their value and even then there are many that fail to grasp the real significance of the effort and apply it to themselves.

Care is the secret. It is through the exercise of it that valuable preventive work is done and from the lack of it that great losses are experienced. It is estimated, for instance, that half of the forest fires in New York state last year were due to acts of carelessness such as throwing of lighted cigarettes, matches or other firebrands into beds of leaves without a thought of the almost inevitable consequence.

It is not simply property but often it is human life that is at stake because of such failure to take little but none the less important precautions.

Watch the records of fires and it will be found that many of them are due to thoughtless conduct. It might not be just to call it willful, for dropping cigarettes in leaves, in rubbish piles in buildings or into paper baskets is invariably the result of following a bad example or the response to the habit of discarding them wherever the spirit or the situation prompts. The danger in it is quickly realized when attention is called to it, but the great trouble is that the seriousness of the act isn't sensed when it is being committed.

If the huge losses sustained by the owners of property destroyed by fire which had been kindled as the result of carelessness were sufficient to put a stop to the heedless acts the check would long ago have been applied. Plainly evident is it from time to time that the campaign of education for the exercise of greater care in all directions must needs be a perpetual effort. Every bit of progress toward the goal of greater care carries its own compensation.

ANOTHER GERMAN BLUNDER.

If, as reported, there is a feeling in Germany that a grave mistake was made and a serious injury inflicted on Germany when the train was dynamited at Duisberg and about a score of Belgians were killed, it must be regarded as another one of those German blunders that have done so much to handicap that country.

Whoever was responsible for it, it was a display of wretched judgment. Germany has been complaining against what it must pay in the way of reparations and yet it proceeds to insist upon forcing Belgium to demand more than it already has and to retaliate in kind and possibly resort to double measure in satisfying the debt.

The lives of a score of Belgians did Germany no good whatsoever. It simply increased the distrust already existing and burden under which Germany has long claimed to be staggering.

Whatever may have been the attitude of Belgium before, it has now been intensified. It has been given new reasons for showing no leniency in connection with the enforcement of regulations in the occupied Ruhr. Rather has it been driven to the point of holding the people of the Ruhr to strict account and to demand generous reparations for those killed.

Germany complains because of the seizure of the Ruhr and yet from time to time there are acts resorted to which make the situation more unpleasant. It may not like the situation in which it is placed. No one likes to be forced to do what he doesn't want to and yet due reflection must bring the realization that Germany has no one to blame but itself.

One lesson should have been sufficient. The folly of making the path more difficult should have been apparent without requiring this additional demonstration. Whatever action is taken because of the stupid blunder must be accepted without flinching as the price of such deplorable conduct. It seems to have been a manifestation of the sabotage spirit carried to the limit without any thought having been given to the probability that it would invite more complications and trouble.

A WISE POLICY.

If the report is correct that the foreign liners are likely to cease to bring liquor across the three-mile limit it reflects a wise sizing up of the situation. It has been evident that the vessels of other countries were desirous of really finding out what this country intended to do relative to the dry law as it affects foreign shipping. There can be no question but what that has been clearly disclosed. It has been determined what the dry law means within the three mile limit and this government is for the enforcement of the law. Steps already taken clearly show where we stand, while it has been set forth that those interested might understand that there will be an opportunity to bring the situation to the attention of the next congress, which can if it will, make such modifications as it deems advisable.

There is no assurance that there will be any change in the law. Congress may stand just as firmly for the provisions as they exist relative to liquor under seal as if specific attention had been given to that point when the law was being passed. Foreign steamship lines do not like it, but it is plainly to their interest to display a disposition to comply with the law in the hopes that congress will act in the way they desire, instead of continuing to try to defy the law and by such irritation block all possible chance of a modification. It is a logical policy to pursue and it will not cause surprise if it is followed inasmuch as high officials of other countries recognize the fact that we are acting well within our rights in seizing sealed liquor.

ELECTRICAL DEVELOPMENT.

Because there is a demand for cheaper power, because there is a clamor to overcome waste, because there is need of utilizing our natural resources and because the growth in population and the consequent development call for increased production and added facilities, it is to be expected that there will be an increase in the amount of electricity for light and power.

Figures which show 61 new electric power plants are under construction to supply 3,500,000 kilowatts indicate the demand that prevails for such energy, but with the great amount of water that is running to waste every day it is surprising that the hydro-electric plants are not outnumbering the new steam plants. Yet such doesn't appear to be the case for while there are 40 steam plants under construction, which will generate over 2,400,000 kilowatts there are but 21 hydro-electric plants with a capacity of $1,145,000 kilowatts, and the largest hydro-electric plant with 210,000 kilowatt capacity only exceeds the largest steam plant by 10,000 kilowatts.

It is of course a fact that not all the water privileges are to be found in close proximity to the centers where the bulk of the electrical energy may be required, but in these days when electricity can be transmitted over long distances with but small loss the handicap that distances formerly offered is being gradually eliminated.

The demands for electricity are constantly increasing. There is no letup in sight. It is doubtful, however, whether the most is being made of the opportunity of employing the so-called white coal that is going to waste every day for the development of electrical energy. Unfortunately there are restrictions on such development in some states unless the current is to be utilized within those states. A selfish stand is thus taken which only serves to continue the waste over a longer period and makes it evident that it will be a long time before full use of valuable power will be obtained under such a shortsighted policy.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

You may not like the honk of a ten-ton truck, but it is a good thing to keep from under.

The man on the corner says: The day after catries less regrets than it did a few years ago.

One report has it that the demand for sugar has fallen off. It looks as if the householders were responsible for it.

When they get through checking useless noises in New York city they might start a tour of the country and find big business.

The flood of immigrants has struck our shores but owing to the restrictive legislation it is prevented from being a tidal wave.

Those steamships that throw their liquor overboard at the three mile limit save a lot of bother of seizing and destroying it later on.

The only trouble with a suggestion for a learn-to-swim week is that such a good idea ought not to be restricted to any such brief period.

Now that a drug has been found which will disclose liars, it can be expected that the Ananias club will urge legislation prohibiting its use.

Dry liners going east have not experienced any loss of patronage because of it. Possibly it is the passengers instead of the ships that go loaded now.

THE BEAUTY PARLOR

"Jonathan," said the old-fashioned woman as she passed her husband a yeast cake to eat on rye bread, "I'm going to a beauty parlor."

"You might as well," acquiesced the husband as he devoured the yeast cake and rye bread with avidity. "Everybody's doing it, you're foolish not to fall in line.

"It's funny how times have changed. In the old days one would visit a beauty parlor stealthily, looking over first one shoulder and then the other to make sure that one was not observed. One would as soon have admitted that one's music was artificial, that one played not because one was a natural born musician but because one had taken lessons, as that one's hair, eyes, complexion, eyebrows, lips, ears and whatnot were every last one of them artificial.

"Natural beauty was prized then. You would have had a fight on your hands the very minute you dared insinuate that one's hair, eyes, cheeks, lips, eyebrows and nose were artificial and had been put on with brushes, scissors, knives, picks and branding irons, everything about one's face had to be natural. But now the artificial calcimining that is worn about the face, neck and ears is a luxury like fine hats and furs. To insinuate that one got it for nothing, a great insult to a person who paid $6 for it."

"Even Mrs. Hyrup has been going to the beauty parlor," said the old fashioned woman." She went because her hair was falling out and because of the stenographers and things in her husband's office. Her husband is the manager of the office, you know, and somehow or other she felt ashamed to go to the office, you know. All the stenographers and typists and adding machiners get their marceling and massaging regularly and Mrs. Hyrup felt that in comparison she looked a frump.

"Yes, so Mrs. Hyrup got tired of going to the office at noon time when the stenographers were out, and sneaking around. So, as her hair was falling out anyway, she went to the beauty doctor——"

"And blew herself to the whole works, I'll bet. I'll bet she got a shampoor and a massage, and then got an eyebrow eradication and a nose adjustment, an ear calcimine and a lipstic fresco, and then a tout ensemble and a resume and a recapitulation and a finale."

"Well, she came out of that parlor b'ecoming like the rose."

"How long was she in there?"

"Oh, they put in a lot of time on her. I think she said she was in the chair four or five hours."

"Did they give her chloroform?"

"I don't know whether chloroform was one of the things or not. The beauty specialists won't tell you what they put on you: that's their secret, but among the things Mrs. Hyrup recognized were hot towels, beeswax, putty, sheep dip, spearmint, creosote, salad dressing, evaporators, vibrators, face powder, chamois, white of egg, more hot cloths, burnt senna, vermillion, fluting irons and curlers."

"And permanent wavers, propellers, nor'westers and other wave makers," interrupted her husband. "They did aplenty, of course, and she, no doubt, got her money's worth. I suggest that you go to the same place and blow yourself to the whole works from shine to seafoam massage. But then did Mrs. Hyrup go down to the office and knock the steneg's eyes out? And did Hyrup, as soon as he saw her, give a gasp of wonder and unconcealed admiration? Did his eyes blaze and did he take her to the park with half a day off and did they hold hands all the way home the way they do in stories?"

"I think her husband was out with a foreign importer or something when she went to the office, but I suppose there was a gasp of admiration from the stenographers. Anyway, she did look beautiful. There was a permanent blush upon her cheeks and her eyelashes were long and silky. But her husband never saw her beautified because she forgot and washed her face. You're not supposed to wash your face. You let the putty and plasters cleanse your face, because if you wash it you wash out all the tinting."

"Rats!" exclaimed the husband. "The beauty doctors have a heap to learn. The permanent paint will in time supplant the ordinary coatings, just as the permanent wave has supplanted the wave pro tem."

And the good old soul pulled on his spectacles and proceeded to read his newspaper."—Chicago News.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Viscount Birkenhead, who is to be the chief foreign speaker at the Institute of Politics to be held at Williams College this month, was until recently Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain. As a lawyer and parliamentarian he has had a meteoric career. Born in humble circumstances, his father having been a private soldier, he succeeded in obtaining a legal education and at the early age of 43 he passed from comparative obscurity as a Liverpool lawyer to one of the highest positions a legal luminary can hold, namely the solicitor-generalship. Four years later he became Lord Chancellor, being the youngest lawyer ever to gain the coveted woolsack. Before becoming a peer he was known popularly as "Freddie" Smith. He chose Birkenhead as a title by way of tribute to the famous Liverpool dock district which he represented in parliament.

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

By DAVID CORY

Now before I tell you what Uncle Lucky did with the lollypops, I must tell you who was at the picnic. You remember in the last story Bobbie Redvest was showing dear Uncle Lucky the way through the Shady wood.

First to arrive was Grandmother Magpie with Mrs. Squirrel Nutcracker and the grasshopper postmistress who once upon a time had given Little Jack Rabbit a letter from his circus elephant friend.

After these older people, came Timmy Meadowmouse, Chippy Chipmunk, Teddy Turtle and the Squirrel Brothers. Pretty soon, Peter Possum with Mrs. Possum and the little possums, Old Barney Owl, wearing a pair of smoked glasses to dig the sunlight and Granddaddy Bullfrog in his yellow waist coat joined the party.

"I feel like dancing," laughed dear Uncle Lucky.

On the ground nice white napkins were spread here and there on which were laid slices of cake and hard boiled eggs, lettuce sandwiches and nut tootsies, salted peanuts and bird seed, carrot candy and ice cream cones—and Oh dear me, I wish I was there. It makes my mouth water to write all these nice things and my typewriter is so excited I'm afraid it will ask for a vacation before I can finish this story.

Just then, when they were all seated on the ground, up drove dear Uncle Lucky in the Luckymobile and while he was pulling out from under the back seat the three pails and a half of lollypops, Bobbie Redvest began to sing:

"Three cheers for Uncle Lucky,
He's got some things for you
That look like candy balls on sticks
But you'll know what to do."

and before long every little four-footed person and every tiny feathered friend had a lollypop and when the picnic was over, Uncle Lucky took Lady Love home to the Old Bramble Patch and then he and little bunny boy went for a drive.

After a while, not so very long they met a grasshopper who was playing a tune on his left hind leg and if you don't know how he did it, I'll tell you. He rubbed his wing up and down just like a bow on a fiddle string. That's how he did it.

"I feel like dancing," laughed dear Uncle Lucky, hopping out of the Luckymobile and while he was dancing, all of a sudden, up ran the Yellow Dog Tramp all out of breath.

"Quick!" he shouted, "There's a mad bull coming this way!" and in less time than I can take to tell it to you, they all jumped into the Luckymobile, even the fiddler grasshopper and in the next story you shall hear what happened after that.

How Nuxated Iron Helped Put Me In Such Superb Condition As To Enable Me To Whip Tom Gibbons
JACK DEMPSEY
"TIGER OF THE RING"
And Retain the World's Championship
Tells A Secret Of His Training—Advises People Who Are in a Weakened, Rundown Condition To Use Nuxated Iron To Increase Their Strength, Vigor and Vitality

Today, recognised as the physical superior of any living man, the superman of the age, Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, explains below the part Nuxated Iron played in helping to prepare him for the three supreme tests of his career. First he used Nuxated Iron as a part of his training to increase his strength and endurance in his decisive victory over the mighty Willard who had never before been knocked from his feet. In this battle Dempsey displayed a dynamic overwhelming strength and power never before known in the history of the ring; and then again in his phenomenal victory over Carpentier he displayed that same indomitable force and nerve never before seen in any human being. Now once more in his smashing victory over Gibbons, he demonstrates the great advantage possessed by an athlete whose blood is rich in iron. The fact that Dempsey took Nuxated Iron as part of his training for Willard, Carpentier and Gibbons is convincing evidence of the importance he attaches to keeping his blood rich in strength-giving iron, and the high regard in which he holds Nuxated Iron as a master strength and blood builder.

In a statement made at his headquarters after the fight Jack Dempsey said: Four years ago in preparing for my big fight with Jess Willard I took Nuxated Iron, and after I had taken it for a short while I was positive I could stand harder strains with less fatigue than before; and I firmly believe that Nuxated Iron put added power behind my punch and helped me to whip Jess Willard and thereby win the world's championship at Toledo. After that time whenever I felt rundown I used Nuxated Iron to help build up my physical condition; and when I started to train for the International championship bout against Carpentier I resumed the regular use of Nuxated Iron, feeling positive that it would help give me that rugged strength, endurance and power that is of greatest importance in contests of this kind, because, other things being equal, victory always goes to the strongest man. In this I was not mistaken as Nuxated Iron again came to the front at the time I most needed it, and I am sure that it played an important part in getting me into such fine physical condition as to enable me to win so quickly and easily in my battle with Carpentier. Before the fight I had heard so much of Carpentier's great skill and the ease with which he had defeated all the noted heavyweights of Europe that I felt I might have a battle royal on my hands; but I found him even easier for me than Willard and I felt practically as fresh after the fight as when I started. This year in training for the fight with Gibbons, I felt that the basis for all my other work was to be sure that I would possess that stamina and power that is impossible unless one's blood is rich in iron. Just as in preparation for all my previous championship fights, I took Nuxated Iron faithfully all through my training. The result proves that I possessed all my old time strength and punch."

It should occur to every thinking person that if a man as physically fit as Dempsey should consider it advisable to take Nuxated Iron, in training for his battles, how much more important it is for the average man or woman to see that there is no lack of iron in the blood or nerve force in the nerves. Thousands of men and women are weak, rundown and old before their time, their nerve force shattered and their health wrecked simply because they have allowed worry, overwork, grief, constant nervous strain and excesses of various kinds to sap the vital nerve fluid from their nerve cells and the iron from their blood in such cases one may not only suffer from terrible physical torture such as great nervous irritability, heart palpitations, indigestion, splitting headaches, pains across the back, dizziness, sleeplessness, extreme weakness, etc., but the mind is naturally more or less affected, the memory becomes poor, and the judgment bad.

Many a capable man or woman falls just short of winning success and happiness in life because they do not back up their mental ability with the physical strength, energy and endurance which comes from having plenty of good rich red blood and nerve force. In such cases it is often worse than foolish to take mere stimulating medicine or narcotic drugs. What you need is something to put more nerve force in your nerves and more iron in your blood. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron. This valuable product contains the principle chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most resembles that in the nerve and brain cells of man. It also contains organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. This form of iron will not blacken or injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It is an entirely different thing from metallic iron which people usually take. Nuxated Iron may therefore be termed both a blood and nerve food as it feeds strength-giving iron to your blood and the principal chemical ingredient of active living nerve force to your brain and nerve cells.

Important Statement of Jack Kearns, Manager for Dempsey
"Knowing the benefits that Dempsey had derived from the use of Nuxated Iron in training for his contests with Willard and Carpentier, I strongly insisted that he must again use this product as part of his regular training for his battle with Gibbons, and from the results which Dempsey has obtained from the use of this product in his three phenomenal victories over Willard, Carpentier and Gibbons, I strongly advise people who are in a weakened rundown condition to try this wonderful strength and blood builder."

MANUFACTURERS' NOTE: From the above article the reader must not infer that Nuxated Iron will make a giant in strength or a world's champion out of the average man; but Nuxated Iron will increase the red blood corpuscles and by so doing greatly increase your strength, power and endurance, and supply increased nerve force to the starving nerve cells. You can try Nuxated Iron on our absolute guarantee that if it does not increase your strength, power and endurance in two weeks' time and give you perfectly satisfactory results your money will be refunded. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package. Nuxated Iron for the blood and nerves is sold by all druggists.

MUSICIANS' ANSWER TO THE OPEN LETTER

RE THE MANAGEMENT OF BROADWAY AND STRAND THEATRES

The Open Letter to the Public and Organized Labor, published in our evening paper of July 3, and signed by the Management of the Broadway and Strand Theatres, affords a fine example of how to misstate the situation, cloud the issue, and indulge in the pastime commonly and vulgarly known as "throwing the bull". It is like the vaporizing of a disordered mind. It gives the impression that the Management is a sort of Little Brother to all unions, and is always ready to take up arms in their cause; that is, all except the Musicians union.

Let us examine the document in question, taking it by paragraphs, and try to dig a meaning out of its foggy English and obscure phraseology.

In paragraph one it seems to say that the Management is just yearning to use union help, but the wicked musicians won't let him do it. Which is sad perversion of the truth.

This Management opened it's theatrical venture by being allowed to employ an out of town orchestra, whose members had no transfer or membership cards in any union. True, they afterward became members of the union, but must have been when the Norwich Union was too tender-hearted to object to the proceeding.

If the Management is so deeply concerned over union help, why did it employ out of town painters to redecorate it's theatres recently instead of giving preference to local union men? Especially so since its patronage is largely drawn from local union laborers and their families.

Paragraph two is such a mass of verbiage and imbecility that it is a waste of time trying to dig any meaning out of it. Better take a tonic and try again.

Paragraph three is a false statement. The records of the Musicians union show that twenty-six musicians employed in these two houses during the past three years, deposited transfer cards. Of the two orchestras recently discharged, seven were here on transfer from out of town unions.

Paragraph four is an asinine and ridiculous untruth as shown in paragraph three.

Paragraph five. The Broadway Theatre Orchestra was never asked to go with the Strand Theatre; which labels the statement properly. If the Broadway Theatre orchestra was satisfactory, as implied in this statement, why were they discharged, and allowed to walk the street while non-union men were brought from New York to replace them?

Since when has the Management of these two theatres been regarded as an authority on Unionism? Or Brotherhood?

Paragraph seven—We leave this question to properly constituted authorities whose equipment of gray matter is sufficient for the task, rather than to the Neurotic ramblings of uninformed outsider.

Paragraph eight—We deny absolutely the statements in this paragraph. The records of the past and present are sufficient grounds for pronouncing them false in every particular. The fact that in the twenty-five years of the existence of the Norwich Musician's Union they have had no trouble which was not easily and amicably adjusted by the present theatre management time, should be a sufficient commentary upon the present situation. Let us fix the blame where it belongs.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Frank Thurston Brown

Norwich relatives of Isabel Lawson Geer, widow of Frank Thurston Brown, received word Tuesday morning of the death of Mrs. Brown at the family summer home at Harwichport, Mass., after a short illness.

Mrs. Brown was born in Norwich, the daughter of George W. and Elizabeth Mitchell Geer, and the greater part of her life was spent in Norwich in Thamesville where the Geer family residence was for many years. She received her early education in local schools and was a graduate of the Free Academy in the class of 1878.

Later she was united in marriage with Frank T. Brown, one of the most prominent Norwich attorneys and for many years resided on Perkins avenue, remaining in Norwich for several years after the death of her husband. She removed to Massachusetts about six years ago.

She is survived by two daughters Mrs. Harry Grinnell of Scarsdale, N. Y., and Miss Katherine Brown of Harwichport, Mass. Her two brothers George W. and Charles Geer, both passed away, the former about six months ago after a short illness. She is also survived by a cousin Mrs. Maxton P. Holme of Greene avenue and an aunt Mrs. Frank Davis of this city, also several nephews and nieces.

While in Norwich Mrs. Brown was a member of Christ Episcopal church and she leaves many friends in Norwich to mourn her loss. She was a woman of fine Christian character interested in the work of the church and her advice was sought after and valued by her friends. The family has the sympathy of many friends in their sad bereavement.

NEXT YEAR AUTO PLATES WITHOUT SIX FIGURES

No more eighteen-inch, six figure numbers will encumber Connecticut's automobiles in the future, according to a recent announcement from the department of motor vehicles. When the state begins to distribute the new 1924 number plates, a unique system will be put into effect. According to this system, it will be possible upon a glance at a number plate, to tell in just what part of the state the car was registered.

All the number plates that are issued from the branch offices of the department, according to this alphabetical serial system, will have some letter prefixed to the number. The plates that are issued from the New Haven office will be A-1 to A-9999 and E-1 to E-9999, from Bridgeport F-1 to F-9999 and H-1 to H-9999, from Waterbury K-1 to K-9999, and from New London N-1 to N-9999. The series from S-1 to S-9999 will be kept on reserve and sent to the first office to run out of number plates. The plates issued from the main office in the state capitol will have no letter prefixed, but will run from 1 to 99,999.

By this system the huge six figure numbers that have, at times, been inconveniencing to automobile owners, will be done away with. The announcement that all the plates issued from the branch offices will be in series and will be four figures or less will be a welcome one to the host of people who yearly clamor for the coveted "four figure" plates. The chances of drawing a low number are now multiplied seven-fold.

Samples of the new plates have been received from the Cheshire reformatory and are extremely attractive and durable in workmanship. Passenger plates will have a gray background with black numbers, while commercial plates will have a blackground and gray numbers. Among the special markers will be a set printed with the name of the state highway department, another set with the words National Guard above the figures, a set numbered U-1 to U-200 for hearses, and a set numbered from B-1 to B-200 for camp trailers.

With the new law on dealers' markers now in effect, two dierent styles of plates are being manufactured; one style will be for restricted or business use only and will be numbered from 1 to 1000 with the letter X preceding each number. The unrestricted plates will have an S before the X.

It is expected that this new system will greatly facilitate the identification of automobiles throughout the state and will meet with the approval of automobile owners in general.

ELECTED JOHN HOLLAND STATE VICE PRESIDENT

At the convention of the Connecticut Association of Steam Engineers which was held in Waterbury last Friday and Saturday John A. Holland of this city was elected vice president. Mr. Holland will visit all the local associations throughout the state this coming fall and winter and will deliver a series of lectures. His subjects will be Power Boilers, Their Care and Maintenance, and Steam Valves, Their Use and Abuse. Mr. Holland is connected with the engineering and inspection division of the Travelers Indemnity company and is well qualified to handle the educational subjects laid out for him by the state association.

Collision On East Side Street.

Automobiles driven by Albert Roy of 21 South Front street, Taftville, and Jeremiah R. Duggan of 15 Tanner avenue were in collision Wednesday night on Main street, East Side, at the corner of Stanton avenue, into which the Duggan car was turning. The damage was comparatively slight.

NORWICH FIRELESS FOURTH AND DAY WITHOUT FIREWORKS ACCIDENT

Independence Day for 1923 has come and gone and again the records of the city for accidents and fires has been kept at a minimum, no serious accidents being reported in the city and no fires. It was the second year in succession in which the city has had a fireless Fourth.

The unsettled weather during the day and night was responsible to a great degree to the clean fire record for the day the rain wetting down the roofs of houses and making the ground damp, less chance for a fire than under pleasant conditions.

The usual amount of noise accompanied the arrival of 4 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth and in all parts of the city the youngsters who on any other day in the year, bar Thanksgiving Day, could not be dragged from their beds at any such an hour, were out on the streets firing off crackers and blanks. This early morning racket disturbing the slumbers of the neighborhood was all accepted in good fun and many of the older "kids" of the city started their celebration of the day in like manner.

The rain in the evening prevented the usual heavy display of aerial fireworks but the noise makers were plentiful and other attractions for night display were seen in front of the houses on practically every street in the city.

For those not desirous of remaining home or firing fireworks there was the sport of the various trips to the shore resorts or the Newport excursion trip, and not a few availed themselves of these opportunities to escape from the city for the day.

Other attractions included the various entertainments at the local theatres and houseparties in local homes. Baseball games, and out door dancing were postponed and called off on account of the weather.

East Side Parade

The East Side boys staged the only parade of the day and were so well pleased with their turnout that they propose to make it an annual event.

The parade formed at 10.30 in front of Disco's store, with four floats and fifty boys in line in a great variety of costumes, led by Grand Marshal George Fowler in a white suit, with camera strapped to his back and carrying a sword. The parade marched to Franklin square, countermarched through Main street to Penobscot, and Fowler avenue to Main street and as far as Stanton avenue, where the line countermarched to pass the judg's stand at John R. Fowlers' home on Main street.

Crowds lined the sidewalk and many autos were parked along the curb on the line of march.

Prizes were awarded by the judges, Frank N. Monroe, Joseph Pysyk, and John A. Walz, as follows:

Athur Disco, $5, float decorated with roses and flags with Mrs. Carl Spaulding and John Dunn in costume.

Robert Woodmansee, second float, decorated with American flags.

Two girls, Misses Pedace and Williamson, "Just Married," $2 prize.

Jennie Pedace, in farmer costume, $1 prize.

BULLETIN'S FIGHT RETURNS DREW RECORD CROWD

One of the largest crowds that ever gathered in front of the Bulletin building to hear returns from fights or ball games was present Wednesday evening when returns began to come in from the Dempsey-Gibbons match in Montana. Despite the hundreds of sport fans on Franklin street, among whom was a fair sized group of women, the fans conducted themselves in a manner that deserves praise and the guardians of the law had no trouble in keeping traffic moving through the center of the line.

The flashes from the ringside were megaphoned to the fans who expressed their approval of the fighters as their favorite landed a punch that seemed to count. The crowd was evenly divided but it seemed that Gibbons was favored to win.

The usual hundreds of telephone calls came in during the fight and for about an hour before while Dempsey was busy massaging his visage with vaseline and the wire was carrying the interesting accounts of the color of Kearns neektie or the size of Gibbons collar. The fans took the long wait before the fight really started in good spirit and realized that nothing at the ringside was responsible, evidenly the rush for tickets at cut prices.

The fight returns seemed to be the banner attraction for the city and surrounding towns for the Fourth and for nearly two hours everything was forgotten except the looked for K. O., which did not arrive to terminate the battle of the two good men.

First returns from the championship bout had been expected at six o'clock, according to the advance announcements, but it was 51 minutes after that before the fighters were prepared to battle. The final flash that the decision had been given to Dempsey reached here a few minutes before 8 o'clock.

OVER 35 REGISTER FOR BOY SCOUTS' CAMP

Registrations for Camp Tippecan on Beach pond, Voluntown have been coming in fast to Scout Executive F. A. Benton and Wednesday night it was announced the reservations for the second and third week of camp had all been taken and there were but limited reservations for the first and fourth week of camp.

Over 35 Scouts have already signed to go camping and arrangements have been completed to open camp at Beach pond on July 9th. Scout Executive Benton and other scoutmasters of the city in charge of the camp are to leave for the pond on the 7th to lay out the camp preparatory to the arrival of the campers on Monday.

The camp is to be in charge of Scout Executive Benton and five assistants. During the four weeks of camp an attractive programme has been arranged for the entertainment of the scouts.

AUTOMOBILES LOSE WHEELS IN NEW LONDON CRASH

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, July 4.—An automobile owned and operated by John J. Shea who gave his address at 61 Foulkin street, Norwich, and a car owned and driven by Tony Colanelo of No. 9 Atlantic street were in collision on Williams streea at the city line tonight. Both cars were damaged, each having a wheel and fender taken off. Colanelo was leaving New London and Shea was on his way to New London when the accident happened. None of the occupants was injured.

LOST HIS LEFT THUMB THROUGH CUTTING WOOD

Walter Shimerimiski of Norwich Town was brought to the Backus hospital about 8.10 o'clock Wednesday suffering a painful wound in his left thumb which had been badly cut while he was cutting wood at his farm. It was necessary to amputate the wounded member. The other fingers on the hand were not cut sufficiently to require more than dressing.

SHELBY MAYOR LOST $150,000 ON FIGHT

Shelby, Mont., July 4—Mayor Jim Johnson, the sixty year old executive of this boom town, who is reported to have personally lost $150,000 in convincing the world that Shelby would keep its word in staging the Dempsey-Gibbons fight, smiled a weak smile when seen standing in the doorway on the busy main street tonight.

"Well," he said, "we saw a fight, didn't we? Slip me the price of a shave."

Maybe Mayor Johnson, who holds a fat interest in the moving picture rights, may recover some of his losses from this source. The pictures probably will prove to be valuable as Gibbons is the only fighter who has ever stayed the limit with Dempsey since the Utah mauler became champion.

Neither Kearns nor Dempsey have a dime's interest in the moving picture rights. They relinquished their share to the promoters when the difficulty arose of digging up the final $100,000 installment due Dempsey.

Gibbons has a 25 per cent. interest.

One of the most beautiful flowers is that of the snow-plant growing in the Sierras which is so delicately colored that botanists call it "blooded flesh."

DIES FROM INJURIES IN UPSET AUTOMOBILE

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, July 4.—Rosell Cohen, 51, of Deep River, was killed and George Starkey, also of Deep River, was perhaps fatally injured this afternoon when Starkey's automobile en route from Deep River to New London, overturned on Durfee hill, Waterford. Both Starkey and Cohen were pinned beneath the wrecked machine. Mr. Starkey and Mrs. Cohen, the other passengers were thrown out, but escaped injuries other than bruises and contusions for both women landed a considerable distance from the overturned machine. A passing motorist notified the Lawrence hospital of the accident and the ambulance was rushed to the place and all four injured were taken to the hospital.

Cohen was unconscious when the ambulance reached Durfee Hill and emergency treatment was administered him while the drive to New London was being made, but just before the ambulance reached the hospital Cohen died having sustained internal injuries. Starkey is also probably injured internally, but that will not be determined until tomorrow morning when X-ray pictures will be taken. Mrs. Cohen and Mrs. Starkey received treatment for their wounds at the hospital, after which they returned to Deep River. It is believed that the car, which was descending the steep grade, skidded on the wet surface and in trying to get the car under control that Starkey operated the wheel in such a manner as to drive the machine off the side of the highway causing it to overturn. Cohen was riding in the seat with Starkey and both were held prisoners in the car, landing beneath it but their wives were hurled from the rear seat to safety. Both Starkey and Cohen were well known in Deep River having resided there a number of of years. The wrecked machine was brought to New London.

As a result of the row that Ray Clust of Main street, employed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad in New London, as yard conductor several years, and James Sullivan of School street, Norwich, also employed here by the railroad, engaged in a few weeks ago at the Fort Neck yard, the two employes have been dismissed from the service of the company. Clust held a rating of 17 years and had resided in New London about ten years. The two men engaged in a fight over switching work and during the battle Clust pulled a knife and stabbed Sullivan, sending the blade into Sullivan's leg and producing wound that necessitated hospital treatment.

MAKING IDEAL CONDITIONS AT NEW PALACE THEATRE

President A. A. Spitz of Providence, who is head of the Norwich Palace Theatre corporation, spoke with enthusiasm of the plans and progress made on the new theatre when he made a recent visit to this city.

President Spitz said:

"It will be my ambition to see that Norwich gets the best, and none but the best. I have been familiar with theatrical conditions in Norwich many years, dating from the time when as an actor I appeared on the Breed hall stage in this city. Breed hall was then under the management, I believe, of Andrew & Harris. I have for a number of years been seeking a suitable location for a theatre in your city. We believe that we have found it. As a location for a theatre it cannot be excelled in New England and the sort of a theatre that is in process of completion on this site will be in keeping with the location. The Norwich Palace theatre will have features new to Norwich. In fact, there will be nothing from the marquise to the rear stage wall or from the concrete floor to the highest peak of the steel and asbestos roof that science, art or experience have demonstrated as efficient, desirable and pleasing that this new theatre will not have. Of course, this includes the system of electric lighting and electric effects, the decorations, draperies, stage appliances and fixtures, and all of the many details working together in unison that help to make an attractive hall of entertainment. The public will be given what they want, and the Palace theatre will be managed as an independent enterprise but so associated and affiliated with others as to secure for Norwich the class, quality and variety of entertainment of the highest standards. It started on this proposition that the best was none too good for Norwich, and this will be the policy of the Palace theatre management."

He is not ready yet to name the operating manager and assistants but said the Norwich public can be assured that it will be throughout an organization that will seek to serve and please and whose sole consideration will be the highest enjoyment of the theatre offerings by the patrons. The same thought that has been given to the construction and design of the theatre for its safety and comfort will be devoted to finding out what the Norwich people want and then to giving them that in the way of the best the country affords in theatrical attractions.

Gate Receipts Amount to $201,485

Shelby, Mont., July 4—The approximate total of gate receipts at the Dempsey-Gibbons heavyweight title bout this afternoon was $201,485 according to figures made public tonight by Charles Rasmusson, Montana collector of internal revenue.

WEDDING.

Collins—Tanner.

In the presence of several hundred relatives and friends, a pretty June wedding took place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Voluntown Baptist church, when Miss Ola Amy Tanner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Tanner, was united in marriage with Herbert C. Collins, son of Mrs. Warren Collins of Columbia. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Owen of Columbia, the double ring service being used.

The church was made beautiful for the occasion with banks of rhododendron, peonies, roses, elderblooms and potted ferns in a color scheme of pink and white, with streamers of pink and white ribbon effectively draped from the chandelier to the altar rail and around the four posts of the auditorium.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Kaufman sang O Promise Me, and I Love You Truly. She was accompanied by Miss Lillian Adams, the church organist. As the notes of the last song died away the wedding party entered the auditorium. The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was played as the clergyman, bridegroom and best man entered the vestry door. The two ushers, Alexander S. Tanner of Voluntown and Lewis R. Button of Glasgo, brother and cousin of the bride, preceded the bridesmaids down the aisle. They were Miss Eliza Button of Glasgo, a cousin of the bride, who wore silver lace over gray canton crepe, and Miss Ruth Bjorkland of Bridgeport, in blue canton crepe with peach ribbon panels. Both bridesmaids wore pearl bandeaus. Miss Button carried a gold basket with yellow orchids, tied with yellow tulle and Miss Bjorkland carried a gold basket of pink "Helen Keller" roses, tied with peach tulle. The maid of honor, Miss Amy Perkins of Brattleboro, Vt., was attired in pink taffeta and carried an arm bouquet of Columbia roses, tied with wide pink ribbon. She was followed by Walter Ceries, the little 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ceries of Hartford, who wore a black and white satin, model dress suit. He carried the rings in a small silver basket done in white bows and rosebuds, and the little flower girl, Margaret Ronan, of Hartford, who was prettily dressed in white silk net and carried a basket of old fashioned red roses, which was presented to the bride by Mrs. Willard Gardiner of Moosup, tied with white tulle. Then came the bride, escorted by her father. She was gowned in white crepe and wore her mother's bridal veil with a coronet of orange blossoms and pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The best man was Ernest Collins, the groom's brother, of Hartford.

Following the ceremony at the church, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, there being about 165 relatives and friends in attendance, including guests from Providence, Watch Hill, Ashaway and Cranston, R. I., Hartford, New London, Bridgeport, Columbia, Willimantic, Middletown, Bristol, North Stonington, Norwich, Jewett City, Pachaug, Glasgo, Moosup, Ekonk and Voluntown, Conn., Brooklyn, N. Y., Richmond, Va., Worcester, Mass., Ridgefield Park, N. J., and Brattleboro, Vt. A buffet lunch was served, of which Miss Bertha E. Lewis had charge, assisted by the Misses Margaret Tanner, Esther Frink, Martha Gray, Ellen Campbell and Gladys Young. Miss Gene Carroll of Bridgeport had charge of the bridal table, assisted by Miss Lucy Gray. The Terminal furnished the lunch and J. T. Wilbur the ices.

The house decorations were done in pink and white. A magnificent bridal fruit cake of three layers, weighing 30 pounds, decorated with a floral arch, marriage bell, bride and groom, which was made and presented by Mrs. Willis C. Terry of Griswold, occupied the center of the bride's table. Streamers of pink and white extended from a double bow, in the center of the ceiling to the four corners of the table and the napkins and favors were pink and white.

The bride received numerous gifts of gold, silver, cut glass, money, art, linen and house furnishings.

The bride is a teacher in the Burnside school, East Hartford, and a graduate of the Willimantic State Normal school, class of 1916. The groom is a World war veteran and served as sergeant 16 months at St. Nazire, France. He and his bride remembered their attendants with gifts. The maid of honor, bridesmaids, ring bearer and flower girl, received bracelets and rings. The best man and ushers, cuff links.

The church decorations were done by Miss Lewis, Mrs. Kaufman and the Misses Young and Grey. Geduldig Greenhouses arranged the bridal flowers.

Hanrahan-Cayouette

On Saturday morning, June 30th, at 8 o'clock Laurence Edgar Hanrahan and Miss Dora Louise Cayouette were married in St. Philomen's Church, Cleveland, Ohio, by Monsigneur Smith, vicar general of the diocese.

The bride wore biege color crepe Romaine trimmed with orchid with a biege and orchid hat and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Katharine McCone of Norwich, cousin of the groom, wore blue georgette with black hat and carried garden flowers. The best man was Herbert Hotes, a friend of the groom.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Richard C. Bandelow. The bride received beautiful gifts of linen, silver, and cut glass, also money.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Cayonette of 1771 Rosedale avenue, Cleveland, formerly of Norwich, stenographer at the General Lamp Works. The groom is the son of Mrs. Thomas Hanrahan of Boswell Avenue. He is employed at the Tinker Vault Construction Co., Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanrahan left in the afternoon for Raycroft Inn, East Aurora, N. Y. Mrs. Hanrahan wore a taveling suit of blue with hat to match.

Sent to Norwich State Asylum.

John Lehr of Meridian street, Groton, a Spanish war veteran, spent six hours in jail at New London Monday afternoon as a result of numerous petty thefts and misdeeds. He was later examined by physicians and was sent to the Norwich state insane asylum as demented. He is alleged to have run up accounts in various mercantile establishments and to have stolen chickens and a wheelbarrow, among other articles. Lehr came to Groton from Baltimore a year ago.

Man and Wife Arrested.

John J. Shea and his wife, who gave their address as the state hospital, were arrested in this city late Wednesday afternoon by Constable Lucius Fenton, Officers Smith and O'Neil. The man is charged with resisting an officer and driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor and the woman with intoxication.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

At St. James' church at 7 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth Miss Alice Rita Duhamel of Cottage street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Duhamel, became the bride of Alphege Cournoyer, also of this town. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Shelley, M. S., who also was celebrant of the nuptial high mass. Miss Flora A. Duhamel, sister of the bride, and Amos Morin, Jr., Danielson, were the attendants.

Miss Duhamel was one of the most beautiful brides of the season. Her gown was of white Veronese silk with side panels in accordion plaiting and with a looped garniture of pearls at the waist. She wore a veil in crown effect caught with a spray of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride roses. A necklace of pearls was another adornment.

The maid of honor wore a gown of lavender canton crepe and a maline hat to match.

A choir of the church sang a festival mass the music of which was supplemented with solos by Miss Nellie Delaney, who sang O, Salutaris, and Miss Lena Roberge, who sang Ave Maria, with violin obligato by John Maher, who also played O Promise Me with unusual beauty and expression.

Relatives and guests of the bridal couple from many communities hereabouts and from various distant points in New England attended the marriage mass.

A reception was held and a breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Cournoyer left for Providence. Following a dinner party in that city, they went by boat to New York. Their bridal journey also will take them to Washington. Saturday evening a large reception in their honor will be given at Easthampton, Mass., where the groom formerly lived and where he has many relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Cournoyer will return here the latter part of next week and will occupy their newly furnished home at Goodyear, where Mr. Cournoyer is in charge of the weaving department of the Goodyear Mills, Inc.

The bride, who is very well known in Danielson, received many beautiful gifts, including remembrances from girls' clubs and other organizations with which she is identified.

Another Fourth—a somewhat rainy one—that upset the plans and programs of hundreds of people has passed into history, and in this particular territory gets the rating of being about as dead a national holiday as can be recalled.

It appears that something has happened to Danielson's patriotic and public spirit. There wasn't a peep from any quarter in the interest of having an organized observance of the day in the borough, which let out such enthusiasm as it seemed to possess over the fact that an independence anniversary was again at hand through the medium of boys and youths with an inclination to keep up sporadic sputtering of firecrackers, torpedoes and other such devices.

With the big doings in East Killingly, the fine display of fireworks at Goodyear and the activities at Wildwood park and in other parts of the town, Danielson, the theoretical capital of Killingly, as one would rate it in a league standing, was the cellar champion—by a wide and generous margin. The holiday here had about as much pep as a blue Sunday, and there were citizens who pondered over this as they thought of the Fourths of old in this community and wondered if it is going to take another World war or two to revive the patriotic sentiment of Danielson to a point where it will again show signs of life. If East Killingly and Goodyear, with their limited resources, can stage such attractive observances of the Fourth, it is strange indeed that Danielson remains somnolent and so utterly uninterested in a community way in the historic past. One may be pardoned for thinking that, if those things were done any more, a smart little army from Ballouville might march on Danielson and capture the whole works without anyone protesting very much about it.

A crowd estimated at 3,000 gathered at East Killingly for the observance of the Fourth in that place, and while the rain cut in on the program of sports scheduled for the afternoon, the day, on the whole, was up to the expectations of the patriotic committee that arranged the celebration in behalf of the entire community. There were times when as many as 500 automobiles were parked along the streets and highways of the hilltop section of the town and the people that arrived in them came in many cases from distant points.

The parade, the early morning feature of the day, and one of the special attractions, was a panorama of decorated cars, floats, horribles and feature displays. It was a fine showing and held interest all along the route.

A chowder dinner was served at the church at the noon hour to all who desired, and this was not over when rain began to fall and upset the arrangements for the afternoon, when a series of sports were scheduled.

Looking down from a hilltop on to Goodyear, on the eve of the Fourth, the athletic field and all the area thereabouts and all highways for a mile gleamed like a brilliantly lighted city as the headlights of several hundred automobiles threw their rays in the general direction of where a splendid exhibition of fireworks was being staged. The fireworks display, paid for by money raised in a community fund, was really very fine and special pieces and particular mines that were set off, when they caught the artistic fancy of the crowd, were greeted with a mighty chorus of applause from the horns on hundreds of cars. No occasion in years has attracted so many people to Goodyear as Tuesday evening's event, the pleasure of which was added to by a band concert. All the non-residents who were present will compliment Goodyear on its observance of the coming of the holiday and on the spirit and liberality that made it possible.

No more secure way of protecting your funds while traveling is available than in having them represented in travelers' checks when you are on a vacation or other journey. We will supply them for you. Also remember that all deposits in our savings department, if made on or before July 5, will draw interest at the rate of 4 1-2 per cent. The Danielson Trust company.—adv.

About half a hundred trapshooters were at the Danielson Rod and Gun club's lodge on Allen Hill shortly after noon on the Fourth when rain came to mar the enjoyment of the occasion. Numbered among the contestants was a considerable aggregation from points outside the county. Some good scores were made during the forenoon.

Rain interfered little with those who went to Wildwood park on the afternoon of the Fourth for dancing and to see the prize waltzes and enjoy the other special events of the day at that resort.

Up to mid-afternoon of the Fourth not an accident had been reported to the state police at the Danielson barracks. Traffic was lighter than one might expect on a holiday on all the state roads hereabouts.

Chief John McFarland said Wednesday that the night before the Fourth brought no special work for his force of officers to do. At the stroke of midnight the borough was as quiet as a farm in Foster—and with very few people about.

Mr. and Mrs. Rene Buteau and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Bessette and members of their families and a party of friends motored to Beach pond to spend the holiday.

Numbers of Putnam tribe of Red Men went to East Killingly on the morning of the Fourth to participate in the parade held in that place.

The Methodist Sunday school will go to Wildwood park this (Thursday) morning for the annual picnic of the school.

The formal opening of the new Community house at South Killingly is set for Wednesday of next week. A program of special interest has been arranged.

NORTH STONINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard D. York and three children of Hartford are visiting Mr. York's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. York.

Miss Grace Lyon is at her home on the west street.

The women of the Baptist church held a sewing meeting Thursday afternoon of last week at the home of Mrs. C. C. Gray. Tea was served and a fine treat of strawberries, brought by Mrs. H. C. Eccleston, was enjoyed.

The degree team of the grange gave Miss Ruby R. Park a shower Wednesday evening of last week in honor of her approaching marriage with Eugene A. Anderson of Stonington.

The state supervisor of schools for this town, S. Hussey Reed of Norwich, has gone to Maine to teach in a summer normal school. Mrs. Reed meanwhile is visiting her people in Rochester, N. Y.

Miss Gertrude I. Main of Poquetanuck has been visiting relatives in this village for a few days.

PUTNAM

This city had one of the quietest Fourths in his history. Were it not for the fact that the Elks' fair was furnishing plenty of wholesome amusement and that many of the city's people found much that interested them at holiday events in nearby territory, the day would have passed as quietly as any mid-summer Sunday.

Up to late in the afternoon there had been no disturbances of any kind and no arrests had been made, though one youth wented by the New Bedford police, had been picked up and was being held at the police station awaiting the arrival of an officers from the Massachusetts city.

Youths and boys who persisted in using revolvers to shoot blank cartridges claimed most of the attention of the police, inso far as keeping the holiday observance within the regulations was concerned. Before six o'clock on the Fourth—the night thereof—police officers had seized half a dozen revolvers, and he it said here the users of them will not get them back again. They have been confiscated as the law requires shall be done in such cases.

Old-timers declared the night before was as quiet as any in their memory in Putnam. The city was shed early and the sleepers were not very much disturbed by celebrators. Captain W. J. Jarvis had all his regular and special officers on duty and they were prepared to check any unseemly demonstrations, but there was very little for them to do out of their ordinary rounds of duty.

Some happenings that occurred beyond the city limits were duly reported to the police, but these did not call for any activity on the part of local officers, as what was complained of happened outside the city jurisdiction.

Lucius Goddard, 20, a Webster youth, was lying at the Day Kimball hospital in this city on the fourth, suffering from injuries he received during the early morning hours of the holiday when the car he was driving figured in an accident in South Woodstock, near the Belmont place. He was taken for first aid treatment to the office of Dr. Ernest R.A. Pike at East Woodstock, from where, in an unconscious condition, he was removed to the hospital in this city about three o'clock in the morning. Goddard was run over by another car after being hurled out of his own machine. At the hospital Wednesday afternoon it was stated that the extent of his injuries had not been determined. He appears to be internally injured, but the extent of his hurts cannot be stated at this time.

Up at the Windham County Temporary Home for Children in the Sawyer district of this town, 118 boys and girls who are inmates had a wonderful Fourth, notwithstanding that few of the county's residents gave them a thought or of what provision might have been made for their entertainment on the holiday. Let it be said that the big day did not go by unnoticed, however, and that the little people, among other enjoyable features of the day, sat down to a real old-fashioned Rhode Island clambake, and with appetites that would shame a man with money and an inclination, but nothing stomach-wise to back it up. Five bushels of clams disappeared into hungry stomachs the repast in addition to other quantities of clams that entered into chowder and fritters and, again in addition, to vegetables and all the good things that have come to be associated with a clam dinner. There was nothing lonesome about the day for the children, due to the foresight of the matron, Mrs. D. C. Park, who never lets her charges pass over a holiday period without doing something for them that makes them as happy as children in an institution can hope to be—and at the Windham county home for children the inmates are always happy as good care and forethought can make them.

Walter E. Keith, a Woodstock youth, arrived in this city from a nearby pleasure resort shortly after the Fourth had passed through its first half hour and told a group of policemen of something that had happened to him when strange young men had invited him out to have a drink. He bore evidence of the experience through which he had passed and looked as if he had come out second best in a bout with a threshing machine. According to his story his genial hosts took him away from a dancing place and out into an orchard. The strangers were going to buy drinks, but instead they set upon Keith and beat him up right proper, incidentally relieving him of a roll of about $40, his watch, keys and papers, including his automobile registration. He was unable to furnish more than a meagre description of his assailants to the local police, who, in any event, had no jurisdiction, as the assault and robbery occurred in an adjoining town.

Keith's car was locked after the assault in which he was relieved of his keys, and wires had to be cut and connected up in a new way before he could start the machine and run into this city to enter a complaint.

Louis Flora, 16, here from New Bedford, spent the holiday at the police station. Flora left home without telling his parents anything about his intentions of venturing forth into Connecticut, but the parents had an idea he might be with a merry-go-round outfit that has an engagement in Putnam this week end, acting on that theory, asked the New Bedford police to try for the boy with the pretty name in this town. They guessed right, and within ten minutes after the telegram asking that he be picked up was received here, he was in custody.

Louis will get a free ride back to New Bedford this morning, at the close of the holiday season.

Among other matters that concerned the police on the holiday was that pertaining to the disappearance of an 18-year old girl, resident here, who has been away since the week end. Incidentally, a Webster young man is missing and a friend of his who loaned him $50 is wondering what has become of his pal. The Webster young man came here with a car to take the Putnam young woman up to Webster lake on a bathing party. Since then neither has been seen and their relatives and friends are wondering what it's all about.

Rain—as on the Fourth in 1922—interfered with the big doing planned by the Elks at their fair grounds on Park street on the holiday. A smart shower during the early afternoon cut the attendance almost to a corporal's guard, but this did not worry the Elks, because they are protected by rain insurance. However, a big crowd came out in the evening and, as has been said somewhere, sometime in the past "a good time was had by all."

The first weekly luncheon and meeting of the newly-elected board of directors of the Putnam chamber of commerce was held at the Putnam Inn Monday, with a fair attendance of officers. Standing committees for the coming year were appointed by the president and approved by the directors, as follows:

Entertainment committee, Ralph C. Jenkins, chairman; Thomas H. De Coudres; Omer J. Miiot.

Merchants' committee, Warren Aines, chairman; George H. Brousseau; Ralph X. Bugbee, Samuel Diamond, William A. St. Onge, Edward W. Sullian, Alvin Leclair, Miss Katherine Byrne, F. O. Marion.

The meeting authorized the appointment of a committee to meet with arrangements for an outing to be held similar committees from Norwich, Willimantic and Rockville, to perfect arAugust 16th. This trip will carry automobile parties, consisting of members of the chambers named, to the Agricultural college at Storrs, where plans have already been laid to give them a royal reception and to show the visitors what is being done by the state to develop modern, self-supporting agriculture.

On the afternoon of the fourth, the ambulance of the Day Kimball hospital was called out to bring in persons injured in a fatal accident on the state road between Danielson and Killingly, but upon the arrival of the ambulance at the point where the accident occurred physicians had given necessary attention to the injured and all were able to proceed to their homes in Providence and Southbridge, as told elsewhere in the paper this morning.

This Way to Curl Hair Is Fine for Outdoor Girl

The slimerine method of curling the hair is the proper thing (for either bobbed or long hair) before going motoring, boating or golfing, or indulging in any outdoor sport or exercise. It not only gives the hair the most beautiful wavy and curly appearance imaginable, but wind or heat will not take the curl out. The curliness is quickly acquired and lasts much longer than where waving tongs are used. Besides, the hair is bright and lustrous, instead of dull and dead looking. When combed out it is as nice and fluffy as if it had just been shampooed. Just get a bottle of liquid slimerine at any drug store, follow the easy directions, and you will be simply delighted.

CUTICURA HEALS LARGE PIMPLES

Hard and Red, Burned and Could Not Sleep.

"My trouble first started from chapped skin. Later my face broke out with hard pimples that were very large and quite red. The pimples burned causing me to scratch, and I could not sleep at night. The trouble lasted about two months.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. It helped me so I purchased more, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap, together with the Cuticura Ointment, I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Lillian Pimental, 37 Varley St., Fall River, Mass., Jan. 25, 1923.

Make Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum your daily toilet preparations and see how much they improve your skin.

Samples Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. T, Malden 48, Mass." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Cuticura Soap shaves without mug.

NEW LONDON POLICE STOP NORWICH MAN FROM CELEBRATING WITH REVOLVER

(Special to The Bulletin)

New London, July 4—Following the annual custom, the Niagara Engine Company celebrated Independence day last night with a bonfire and display of fireworks in front of the company's quarters on Bank street at midnight. A huge quantity of barrels and boxes caused a roaring blaze for nearly an hour while cannon crackers and roman candles and sky rockets furnished the remainder of the pyrotechnic display. Except for the display by the firemen it was an unusually quiet night before the Fourth.

The first excursion from New London to Newport was that of Wednesday when steamer New Hampshire of the New London line carried about 1,900 diversion seekers. The greater part of the excursionists was made up of New Londoners but there were many from Norwich, Groton and other surrounding towns. The steamer arrived back in port about 7.30 o'clock.

The police have failed to obtain any clues that might lead to the apprehension of the daylight thief who burglarized the home of George Whittlesey, assistant treasurer of the Savings Bank of New London, No. 52 Nathan Hale street last Monday, nor has any trace of the plunder, comprising principally sterling silver tableware, been found. Postal cards containing a description of the silverware have been forwarded to the police departments of the principal cities of New England.

Edward Sell, who has been confined to his home on Tilley street a fortnight as a result of blood poisoning, is able to be out.

Earl Kimball of No. 1 North street, Norwich, has been ordered to appear in the police court here tomorrow morning for violation of the city ordinance prohibiting the carrying of revolvers without a permit. Kimball came to New London and brought with him a revolver to celebrate the Fourth. Patrolman Carlos Belesnitsky took the revolver from the young man.

Two other cases of carrying and discharging firearms within the city limits today will be presented in court tomorrow. Rudolph Carbouis of No. 94 Boswell avenue was arrested by Sergeant Nelson Smith, charged with carrying a revolver and Alfred Berg of No. 12 Williams street, New London, was charged with discharging a revolver. Both young men were ignorant of the recently enacted city ordinances prohibiting the carrying or discharge of firearms. They were released upon furnishing a surety on their bond of $50 for appearance in court.

Mrs. Catherine Murphy, an aged woman, residing at No. 11 Chappell street, attempted self-destruction Monday night while in a despondent mood at her home, swallowing a quantity of bichloride of mercury tablets. She was found a short time later by one of her daughters. With the arrival of a physician the woman was given an antidote and because of the small amount of the poison taken, emitted much of it. Her condition is now such that there are no doubts as to her recovery.

As a result of Frank Geer, of the Hartford-New London bus line, known as the Connecticut Transportation Company, lodging complaint with the local and state authorities last night that the owner of a Mack truck at East Hartford was planning to carry passengers to Ocean Beach today, charging $3 for the round trip, and in violation of the state law, Sergeant Nelson Smith this afternoon ordered William Carroll of 243 Preston street, Hartford, to the police station. Carroll operated the bus to the beach, bringing in it a number of passengers. Carroll informed the police that his employer, Sherman, of the Roger Sherman Transfer Company, Hartford, had interviewed Capt. Nichols of the state police at Hartford on the matter and the officer had instructed Carroll to inform the New London authorities to take up the matter with Capt. Nichols if any trouble arose. This action will be taken as the Connecticut Transportation Company has the charter privilege of the bus line between Hartford and New London.

Of the nine cases in the police court this morning, four were for intoxication, three for violation of the automobile laws, one for infringement of the parking ordinance and one for damaging property in the possession of the New Haven railroad, and in course of transit from Rhode Island to New York. Patrick Kennedy, Frank Andrews, James J. Carr and William T. Brennan were all overpatriotic on the eve of the 4th. All but Kennedy were released on suspension of judgment. He was fined $10 and then suspension of the judgment was ordered that Kennedy might go to his work. He is an old man and in the employ of the city. Fred J. Fox, a steamboat employe, found a barrel of clams on the station platform and this he deliberately pried open to get some of the contents. Officer Green of the railroad company saw what was done, shook Fox up and then arrested him. Fox was fined $5.

A. Rakosky was fined $5 for parking his car on Bank street. Dwight Beckwith of Niantic was fined $3 for operating a car without having registration for the machine and Moses Savin of Chesterfield was penalized $10 for failing to take out a license before he drove his car. Beckwith was very anxious to get back home that he might take out a license tomorrow, but he was told that if he operated the machine he would do so at his own risk. He took a chance. Abraham Cohen of Springfield was in New London, operating a machine without registration and he too was fined. The penalty was only $3, but he did not have the money to pay without borrowing.

George H. Beck, who has been confined to his home by illness the past week, will be able to be about in a day or two.

The police declare that the night before the 4th was a very noisy one and that the number of men in a state of semi-intoxication was unusually large. As the statute says a man to be arrested for drunkenness must "become and be found intoxicated" there were not many arrests made. Carelessness in the explosion of all sorts of fireworks was conspicuous, a favorite bit of devilitry being to throw a big firecracker under a moving automobile where it exploded and gave the occupants of the cars a shock.

The fireworks dealers report only a moderate business and reduced profits, because the fireworks cost more than ever and the volume of sales was smaller than usual.

A thunder shower at 1.30 this afternoon cleaned Ocean Beach of many of its patrons and brought gloom to the owners of concessions there. Autoists came away from the beach in droves, seeking shelter wherever they might obtain it. Thereafter the day was cloudy and damp and business did not recover at the seashore resorts.

The fire alarm system became rampant this evening when crossed wires caused the alarm to be sounded at intervals, but nothing that resembled a regular alarm so that none of the companies left their quarters. Chief John Stanners soon located the cause of the trouble and perfected repairs.

Frank Geer, connected with the Connecticut Motor Transportation Company, operators of the bus line between New London and Hartford, reported to the police this evening that he had observed a Mack truck a few miles east of Hartford which had a sign on it that indicated that the truck was intended to be used for carrying passengers between Hartford and Ocean Beach, New London. As the transportation company has the charter rights for operating buses over this route, the owner of the Mack truck is liable to prosecution if the truck is used for the purpose for which it is believed it is intended. The truck bore a sign stating that passengers would be carried to Ocean Beach for $3 a round trip, which amount is just one-half that which the transportation company charges. Geer also reported the matter to the motor vehicle department at Hartford.

Miss Mary Dobson, a summer resident in New London, occupying a cottage at No. 1144 Ocean avenue, reported to the police this evening that last night a sailor attempted to gain entrance to her home and that she believed a previous attempt to enter the place had been made Sunday night. Miss Dobson stated that the sailor was observed to endeavor to ascend the veranda roof of the house about midnight and that in doing so he tried to support himself on an awning frame but that the fellow's weight was too great and the awning collapsed. The sailor is described as being short in stature and light complexion. The police will maintain a watch of the place of a night or two so that if another attempt is made to enter the place the chances are good of the sailor being apprehended.

Ludwig Mann of New London, proprietor of a Bank street cigar store, has acquired a one-third undivided interest in the real estate located at No. 123-127 State street, having purchased the property late yesterday afternoon. The property is known as the Hobron property. The stores are now occupied by Reagan Bros., dry goods; S. F. Peterson, confectionery and ice cream; Glidden's millinery store and The Bee Hive, dry goods. The interest acquired by Mr. Mann is that heretofore owned by Charles L. Hobron, now a resident of Arcadia, California.

Harold Eldridge, the youthful employe of the Howard Street Coal company who was given a severe beating yesterday by Thomas E. Donohue, superintendent of Hillside farm, and who was delegated to do the weighing of the coal that the Howard street firm is supplying the city with, has lodged complaint against Donohue with Prosecuting Attorney Daniel M. Cronin, alleging assault. In turn Donohue has lodged a counter complaint against Eldridge. This afternoon Prosecuting Attorney Cronin when interrogated upon the matter stated that he was investigating the two complaints.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Greenes, formerly residents of New London, now residing in Providence, spent the holiday in this city, making the trip by automobile.

Herbert Lyons was arrested this afternoon by State Policeman Shea of the Centerbrook barracks at the request of the New London police, who held a warrant charging Lyons with using obscene language and operating his automobile without headlights burning on the night of June 29th. At the police station Lyons stated that his car had not been in New London in three weeks and that if an automobile was operated upon the night in question without headlights showing the machine was owned by another than him. The warrant was issued by Prosecutor Daniel M. Cronin following Patrolman Jeremiah J. Murphy reporting at the police station that an automobile bearing Lyons' registration passed through Ocean avenue without headlights illumined, and when Murphy called to the driver of the car to display the headlights the latter used vile language.

Probation Officer Richard W. Mansfield made an arrest tonight of a restaurant employe much the worse for over-indulgence in liquor, the first arrest made today for intoxication.

Another youth, a resident of Waterford and a minor, was arrested this evening for having a revolver in his possession. Because of the boy's age he was turned over to Probation Officer Mansfield.

An automobile owned by C. E. Wilson of No. 128 Main street, Norwich, was damaged this afternoon when struck by an unidentified automobile on State street, ripping off the front fender. Wilson arrived in New London about noon and parked his machine for a brief time on State street, between Main and Green streets. The unidentified car came along and crashed against it. In the crash the colliding car lost a wheel hub, which showed that the offending driver operated an Essex car. If the police can locate the owner of the machine he will be taken into custody and prosecuted for evading responsibility.

The Sunday school class of the E. P. Learned mission enjoyed its annual outing today, the children spending the day at the farm of Mrs. Mary Gatter in Waterford. The participants of the outing numbered about 75 and made the trip by automobiles.

An automobile owned and operated by Sol Lawine of New York struck and painfully injured William Mills of Main street while passing through Waterford this afternoon en route from New York to Newport, R. I. Mills was taken to Lawrence hospital; his injuries comprise lacerations and severe contusions. After he received dressings Mills went to his home. Lewine was arrested, charged with violation of the automobile law in failing to have his operators' license signed. He furnished a bond of $10 for his appearance in the police court tomorrow morning and continued to Newport. Mills is employed by the New London ice company and was engaged making a delivery of ice at Station 6 1-2 when struck by Lewine's auto.

You've eaten such puddings at famous hotels

Now you can surprise your family with them—made in only fifteen minutes

HOW many times—at famous hotels—have you eaten puddings that seemed "just perfect"? In taste, in thickness, in color—nothing could have been more appetizing.

NERVOUS WOMAN COMPLETE WRECK

Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Indianapolis, Ind.—"Now I want to tell you just what induced me to take your medicine. It seemed that I had some kind of weakness so that I could not carry a child its full time. The last time I was troubled this way I had a nervous breakdown and was a complete wreck. The doctor thought I would not live, and if I did that I would never be well and strong again. But I told them I was going to get well, that I was not going to die just then. My husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took six bottles of it. I soon got strong again and had three more children. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound ever since, and if you could see me now you would think I had always been well."—Mrs. MARY F. HERRICK, 224 Detroit St., Indianapolis, Ind.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire reproductive system, so that it may work in every respect as Nature intends.

PLAINFIELD

The Fourth of July program at the Community House was carried out without a hitch, a large company gathering for the exercises of the flag raising held on the lawn, where a tall flag pole had been erected. Louis La Mothe, president of the Community Association, had charge of the program. Two Girl Scouts, Lillian Bergeron and Edith Collins, bore the large flag to the pole and raised it while the orchestra played and the people sang The Star Spangled Banner, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and others saluted the Stars and Stripes which broke out to the breeze.

President Louis LaMothe introduced as the speaker of the morning, Rev. Richard P. Morrissey, who gave an able and inspiring address to which the people listened with close attention.

Father Morrissey said: "The flag of a nation represents the political, economical and moral standard of the nation. No flag can be greater than its component parts. It is, therefore, the duty of every citizen of the United States of America to live so that he becomes an acquisition to the glory of the flag of his country, by his respect for law and order, his reverence for the Constitution and for the sound principles of morality that must necessarily go to form the foundation of good citizenship."

Next came the quoits and croquet tournaments on the lawn south of the Community House. The tournament of quoits was won by Clarence Bateson and William Vincent, the prizes being a gold knife, the gift of the Plaut-Cadden company, and a fountain pen, a gift of Lee Clegg, of Norwich. The croquet contest was won by the two brothers, A. Piche and E. Piche, they winning two out of three games, and were awarded a silver cup, a gift of the Plaut-Cadden company, Norwich.

The winners in the swimming meet were: Bobbie Connelly, 75 feet under water, prize, a fountain pen, a gift of Lee Clegg; a plunge for distance by boys, won by Lucien Jolicoeur, 29 1-2 feet, and Mildred Heap won plunge for distance for girls, 24 feet, the prizes a pound box of chocolates for each, a gift from Daniel Connell; first relay race won by Jolicoeur and Jadais; second relay race won by Mettie and Connelly; 100 foot race won by Jolicoeur; 30 foot race, won by A. Tayon; 60-foot race won by T. Sane; diving contest by girls, won by E. Dayon; diving by boys, won by Connelly—a swan dive.

A good crowd assembled in the evening for the old fashioned and modern dance, music being furnished by the Krauss orchestra, as in the morning. The entire program of the day was arranged by the house committee and the dance committee. Edward F. King is in charge of the Community House. Miss Nelsie Hartwell is director of the activities. The day's celebration did credit to the Community association and was much appreciated by the community, especially by those who remained in Plainfield for the Fourth.

Mrs. Gerard B. Townsend and son, Gerard B. Townsend, Jr., left Monday for Northfield, where they were joined by her daughter, Miss Helen Townsend, who has been attending one of the conferences at Northfield. All returned to Plainfield Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. William E. Wilson moved to Cambridge Monday, accompanied by Prof. Samuel Warner and Miss Esther Parmer Wilson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wilson. Miss Wilson is entering the summer school at Harvard university.

HEARNE WINS MOTOR CLASSIC AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, July 4.—(By the A. P.)—Eddie Hearne, Los Angeles, averaging 106.76 miles an hour, raced to victory in a 200 mile national championship automobile race here today and went into second place in the national rating of race drivers. Hearne's time was 2.21.21.15.

Earl Cooper, with a time of 2.27.32.85 was second, eight laps behind Hearne. Harlan Fengler was third with a time of 2.44.54.55. Dave Lewis finished the race in fourth position in 3.01.36.

Only five of the twelve cars which started finished the race seven being forced out by motor trouble. Only one accident marked the race, but there were no injuries. Near the end of the 105th lap, a rear tire on the car driven by Harry Hartz blew out and swerved his car through the inside railing at the far turn. The car turned around several times but Hartz was uncrashed.

Jimmy Murphy, last year's national champion, was forced out at the end of the 144th lap. Murphy had led the race up to the 137th lap.

Ralph DePalma led at the 25 mile mark with an average speed of 105.5 miles but the pace began increasing and Jimmy Murphy was in the lead at fifty miles, with an average speed of 113.8 miles an hour. At one time Murphy was driving 119 miles an hour.

The exceedingly fast pace soon began to tell on both cars and drivers, and they began dropping out of the race one by one, and after the 144th lap, only five remained. The gruelling speed at which the cars were pushed was too great a strain on the little motors, according to drivers.

Hearne took $9,000 as the first prize. Earl Cooper won $4,500 for second place, Harlan Fengler $2,500, and Dave Lewis $1,750.

WESTERLY

Fourth of July, 1923, was the quietest experienced in Westerly for a number of years. The number of celebrators to usher in the holiday with the setting off of fireworks and exploding giant crackers was small. Perhaps the largest number gathered on West Broad Street, and the loudest racket to be manufactured by them was the firing of a double barrel shot gun loaded with ten gauge shells. The extra constables doing duty as patrolmen were little called upon. Fire alarms, too, were not sounded on either side of the river although by some they are looked forward to as an expected part of the announced programme for the day.

The encouraging weather of the early morning sent numerous picnic parties to the neighboring beaches by electric cars and automobiles. Fair weather, however, did not continue, for at two o'clock a thunder tempest came up suddenly with a downpour of rain accompanied by flashes of lightning. No damage was reported. The baseball games scheduled for the afternoon had to be cancelled as wet grounds would not permit them to be played. Later in the afternoon the sun made its appearance and automobile parties were again on the move.

Abraham P. Datson returned to Westerly Tuesday evening from Marlboro, Mass., where he has been engaged in erecting a bronze memorial designed by John G. Hardy, sculptor of East Greenwich, R. I., which was dedicated to its World War Heroes with elaborate services on Fourth of July. Mounted on a base of Westerly granite, a bronze figure of an American Doughboy with rifle slung across his shoulder, battle helmet, and bearing a cross, stands nine feet high. On its base is a tablet which bears the names of Marlboro's Honor Roll of Hero Dead.

The following is the programme for the second in the summer series of band concerts to be presented in Wilcox Park this (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock by the Westerly Band, C. O. Gavitt, leader:

March—American Legion, Vanderloot; Overture—Orpheus, Offenbach; Waltz—Roses for You, Blake;

Popular Airs—(a) You Know You Belong to Somebody Else, Berlin; (b) You Tell Her, I Stutter, Marks; Gems from Traviata, Meyerelles; March of the Siamese, Marks; Fantasia of College Songs — Campus Echoes, Robinson.

Popular Airs—(a) Yes, We Have no Bananas, S. Bernstein; (b) Barney Google, Remick; Waltzes, Old Timers, Lake; Excerpts from the Red Mill, Herbert; March—Marine Corps Institute, Branson; Finale—Star Spangled Banner.

The First Baptist Sunday School is to hold its annual picnic Tuesday, July 10th at Atlantic Beach. On the committee of arrangements are Albert G. Martin, Mrs. Arthur Thompson, Howard Martin and Leo Nye.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans Stewart, with their son and daughter, of Providence, visited relative and friends in Westerly over the Fourth of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Lahn is a retail merchant, arrived in Westerly Wednesday noon for a visit with his father, Max Lahn, 6 Hillside Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Johnson, Mrs. D. F. Stillman and Mis Mary L. Burdick were Fourth of July visitors in Hartford.

Mrs. Frank J. Dawley of 155 West Broad Street is at her West Side home having been discharged as a patient from the Lawrence Hospital, New London, Tuesday.

Miss Rosalie Murphy, who has been attending Knox School, Cooperstown, N. Y., is expected to arrive this week at the Catlin Cottage, Watch Hill, occupied by D. Hayes Murphy, of Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. Alva Allen is at her home in Westerly having been discharged Tuesday from Lawrence Hospital in New London.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Darlington of Pittsburg, Pa., are expected t carrive at Watch Hill July 12th. The cottage, "Meadowcrest" on Wapan Road has been leased by them for the summer season.

Vinal C. Hastings of Bristol, R. I., is the guest over the Fourth of Mrs. Hastings' father, John O. Mills, 43 Summer Street.

The Kiltie Band of Westerly left town Wednesday morning for Matunuck, R. I., where a musical programme was given by them Fourth of July.

Swimmingmaster Huggins is expected to arrive at Watch Hill in a few days for the summer season.

STONINGTON

The government boat Si-Wash, docked at the Pendleton wharf, this week, and officials looked over the boats that were moored here.

At the New Haven railroad crossing, corner of Elm and Cutler streets, this week, an official of the railroad company, Officer Kane, of New London, has been stationed to see what the trouble was regarding the grade at this crossing, as many autoists have reported broken springs, due to taking the crossing too fast. This is a bad place, as the curve at this point makes it necessary to have the tracks raised.

A swordfish was brought in here Monday by Captain Clay in the fishing boat Lena, and two by Captain Clarke, in the Bessie, while Captain Maderia captured one. Mackerel and flounders are also selling for the holiday.

Miss Louise Trumbull has returned from a visit in Portchester, N. Y.

Mrs. O'Leary, a sister of Mrs. Thomas Coughlin, who resides on Water street, and who fell down stairs recently, fracturing her collarbone and wrist, has been at the hospital at New London, returned to her sister's home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stewart, John Bindloss and Miss Elsie Kuehn, who are on their way to California by automobile, spent Sunday in Newark, N. J.

Miss Florence Quintard has returned to her home in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Miss Mary Garity is home from New York to spend the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Bradley of Elm street are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. John B. Findlay and family of Mamoroneck, N. Y.

NOANK

Mr. and George Frink and Mrs. Wallace Frink of Woodstock were callers on relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stanton and family of Hartford and Mrs. Lawrence Jerome and son of Quaker Hill were recent visitors at the Stanton homestead.

Many relatives and friends in this vicinity attended the Collins-Tanner wedding in Voluntown Baptist church Saturday afternoon.

POETRY

THE FLOWER OF LIBERTY.

What flower is this that greets the morn,
Its hues from Heaven so freshly born?
With burning star and flaming band
It kindles all the sunset land;
Oh tell us what its name may be—
Is this the Flower of Liberty?
It is the banner of the free,
The starry Flower of Liberty!

In savage nature's far abode
Its tender seed our fathers sowed
The storm-winds rocked its swelling bud,
Its opening leaves were streaked with blood,
Till lo! earth's tyrants shook to see
The full-blown Flower of Liberty!
Then hail the banner of the free,
The starry Flower of Liberty!

Behold its streaming rays unite,
One mingling flood of braided light—
The red that fires the Southern rose,
With spotless white from Northern snows,
And, spangled o'er its azure, see
The sister Stars of Liberty!
Then hail the banner of the free,
The starry Flower of Liberty!

The blades of heroes fence it round,
Where'er it springs is holy ground;
From tower and dome its glories spread;
It waves where lonely sentries tread;
It makes the land as ocean free,
And plants an empire on the sea!
Then hail the banner of the free,
The starry Flower of Liberty!

The sacred leaves, fair Freedom's flower,
Shall ever float on dome and tower,
To all their heavenly colors true,
In blackening frost or crimson dew—
And God love us as we love thee,
Thrice holy Flower of Liberty!
Then hail the banner of the free,
The starry Flower of Liberty!

—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

A PRELUDE.

Spirit that moves the sap in spring,
When lusty male birds fight and sing,
Inform my words, and make my lines
As sweet as flowers, as strong as vines.

Let mine be the refreshing power
Of rain on grass, of dew on flower;
The fertilizing song be mine,
Nut-flavored, racy, keen as wine.

Let some procreant truth exhale
From me, before my forces fail;
Or, ere the ecstatic impulse go,
Let all my buds to blossoms blow.

If quick, sound seed be wanting where
The virgin soil feels sun and air,
And longs to fill a higher state,
There let my meanings germinate.

Let not my strength be spilled for naught,
But, in some fresher vessel caught,
Be blended into sweeter forms,
And fraught with purer aims and thews.

Let bloom-dust of my life be blown
To quicken hearth that flower alone;
Around my knees let eolons rise
With heavenly pointing destinies.

And when I fall, like some old tree
And subtle change makes mold of me,
There let earth show a fertile line
Whence perfect wild-flowers leap and shine!

—Maurice Thompson.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"When a man git so mean he won't spen' a nickel widout figurin' it's 5 per cent. on a dollah," said Charcoal Eph, ruminatively, "he ain't provin' nothin' 't nobody 'ceptin' he gwine live an' die rich."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

"Call on Mrs. Canberra Villa? My dear! Why, her husband goes to town by the 7.55!"

"That's where you're mistaken. He goes by the 4.30 now, and next year he'll be going by the 3.15, my husband says—and then we'll simply have to call on her."—Sydney Bulletin.

Felicia Twobble sighs for a career. "Why don't you suggest a few raw materials, a cook book and gas stove as a suitable combination for an ambitious young woman?"

"The idea!"

"Well, at any rate, that profession is not overcrowded."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

"What's the trouble, son?" said the kindly stranger.

"My paw and ma won't take me to the movies," sobbed the oppressed child.

"Do they ever take you when you make a noise like that?" inquired the stranger.

Sometimes they do and sometimes they don't," sobbed the poor boy, "but it ain't any trouble to yell."—Wallace's Farmer.

WESTMINSTER

The church was beautifully decorated for children's day; a baby carriage covered with ferns, syringa, and wild flowers stood on one corner of the pulpit platform, the work of Douglas MacLeod, the little boy who was drowned so shortly after and of Harry Heldstrom, aged 9.

Many vases of iris, roses and syringas were artistically arranged and placed by Annie Hagopian. Mrs. William Rollinson was organist.

The exercises consisted of recitation of Palms, learned by the children, two stories for the children, given by Annie Hagopian and Earl MacLeod, song, recitations by members of the school, Annie Hagopian, Harry Heldstrom and Douglas MacLeod, and a drill with blue and white streamers, given by some of the primary pupils, offering, prayer and benediction by the pastor.

Guests recently at Mill Dale, formerly the Duberke, now the Miller homstead, included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ulmer and family, Mr. and Mrs.

Robert Ulmer and family, Paul Miller and Fred Schashenger, all of Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bengston and daughter, Evelyn have recently paid several short visits to Long View.

Ralph and Anna Alsen were recent week end guests of their sister's family in East Hartford.

The close of Westminster Hill school was marked by several festivities. A picnic gotten up by Mrs. Fred Green, Mrs. Brasall and Mrs. Soderberg for all the children and their parents and the teacher held on the grounds and in the schoolhouse which was well attended; a party given by Mrs. Moody with Mrs. Albert Pellett, Mrs. Frank Pellett, Mrs. Agnes Wood, Mrs. Chas Robbins and three daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Linnell, Mrs. Moses, guest of Mrs. Linnell, and Miss Lucy Lester, a birthday party for Louise Soderberg at her home attended by friends and a birthday and farewell gathering for Miss Annie Hagopian, held as a June bug party, to which some also having June birthdays and a few others, were invited.

Among the mourners from out of town at the funeral of Douglas MacLeod, were these relatives, Frank L. MacLeod, Mrs. Andrew Crowell, brother and sister respectively of Mr. and Mrs. MacLeod. Rodman and Kenneth Crowell all of Boston; Mrs. Delia Burckel and Miss Eva Burckel, mother and sister of Mrs. MacLeod and Baxter Kinne of Norwich, a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. MacLeod.

A singular coincidence was that Frank MacLeod and the Crowells were obliged to hurry home before the funeral because of the critical illness of a member of the family in each home.

At the June meeting of the Six Church fellowship of the South Windham conference with this church in Brooklyn, Wednesday, June 20. The attendance was small, as the arrangements were hastily made, changing from the Tuesday following to settled there in 1673. While away they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Holton on their farm at Mount Hermon, Mass. This farm was a royal grant from the king of England to the Holton family and has been owned and occupied by them ever since.

FRANKLIN BOY LIVING
5,300 FEET UP IN PINES

Mrs. L. A. Robinson of Franklin has received a card from Hart Lambe of Los Angeles, Cal., a former Franklin boy. He is on his vacation there and is living 5,300 feet up in the pines.

An Ideal Sentence.

If Russia had autos like us she could sentence men to take a walk instead of shooting them.—Harrisburg Patriot.

Hartford to remain while one attends business college in Hartford. The younger sister, Edith, is visiting another sister, Mrs. Walter Sprecher in Bridgeport.

Miss Annie Hagopian, also of the graduating class, who has spent several months with the pastor and Mrs. Davies, has rejoined her family in Massachusetts.

Deuteronomy, 31:12 was the thought for the home prayer hour Wednesday, July 4.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fisher and little daughter Marie of Irvington, N. Y., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sidewell. The little girl when quite young spent two summers with her grandmother at Rose cottage.

The Linnell house is being repainted.

GIRLS FROM FRANKLIN VISIT ANCESTRAL NORTHFIELD FARM

Misses Catharine and Winifred Holton have returned home to Franklin after attending the 250th anniversary of the settlement of the town of Northfield, Mass., they being descendants of William Holton, who settled there in 1673. While away they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Holton on their farm at Mount Hermon, Mass. This farm was a royal grant from the king of England to the Holton family and has been owned and occupied by them ever since.

WESTMINSTER

The church was beautifully decorated for children's day; a baby carriage covered with ferns, syringa and wild flowers stood on one corner of the pulpit platform, the work of Douglas MacLeod, the little boy who was drowned so shortly after and of Harry Heldstrom, aged 9.

Many vases of iris, roses and syringas were artistically arranged and placed by Annie Hagopian. Mrs. William Rollinson was organist.

The exercises consisted of recitation of Palms, learned by the children, two stories for the children, given by Annie Hagopian and Earl MacLeod, song, recitations by members of the school, Annie Hagopian, Harry Heldstrom and Douglas MacLeod, and a drill with blue and white streamers, given by some of the primary pupils, offering, prayer and benediction by the pastor.

Guests recently at Mill Dale, formerly the Duberke, now the Miller homstead, included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ulmer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ulmer and family, Paul Miller and Fred Schachenger, all of Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bengston and daughter, Evelyn have recently paid several short visits to Longview.

Ralph and Anna Alsen were recent week end guests of their sister's family in East Hartford.

The close of Westminster Hill school was marked by several festivities. A picnic gotten up by Mrs. Fred Groeu, Mrs. Brassil and Mrs. Soderberg for all the children and their parents and the teacher held on the grounds and in the schoolhouse which was well attended; a party given by Mrs. Moody with Mrs. Albert Pellett, Mrs. Frank Pellett, Mrs. Agnes Wood, Mrs. Chas Robbins and three daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Linnell, Mrs. Mosa, guest of Mrs. Linnell, and Miss Lucy Lester, a birthday party for Louise Soderberg at her home attended by friends and a birthday and farewell gathering for Miss Annie Hagopian, held as a June bug party, to which some also having June birthdays and a few others, were invited.

Among the mourners from out of town at the funeral of Douglas MacLeod, were these relatives, Frank L. MacLeod, Mrs. Andrew Crowell, brother and sister respectively of Mr. and Mrs. MacLeod; Rodman and Kenneth Crowell all of Boston; Mrs. Della Burckel and Miss Eva Burckel, mother and sister of Mrs. MacLeod and Bagster Kinne of Norwich, a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. MacLeod.

A singular coincidence was that Frank MacLeod and the Crowells were obliged to hurry home before the funeral because of the critical illness of a member of the family in each home.

At the June meeting of the Six Church fellowship of the South Windham conference with this church in Brooklyn, Wednesday, June 20. The attendance was small as the arrangements were hastily made, changing from the Tuesday following because Rev. and Mrs. Robert Humphrey were to move from the Green to Stafford Springs on that date. The resignation of Mr. Humphrey and Rev. Mr. Pratt, pastor at Brooklyn, both effective July 1st, gave a note of sadness to the day, which had a valuable programme.

The W. C. T. U. held its June medical temperance and flower day with Mrs. Sarah B. Hadley and Miss Hadley, Wednesday afternoon the 20th. About sixteen were present. Ice cream and other refreshments were served and a good program was provided. The union plans to hold monthly meetings through the summer, one especially for the general public.

Miss Anna Olsen of Longview, a this year's graduate of our schools, has gone to her sister's home in East Hartford to remain while she attends a business college in Hartford. Her younger sister, Ruth, is visiting another sister, Mrs. Walter Manoutis in Bridgeport.

Miss Annie Hagopian, also of the graduating class, who has spent several months with the pastor and Mrs. Davies, has rejoined her family in Massachusetts.

Deuteronomy, 3:11 was the thought for the home prayer hour Wednesday, July 4.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fisher and little daughter Marie of Irvington, N. Y., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sidewell. The little girl when quite young spent two summers with her grandmother at Rose cottage.

The Linnell house is being repainted.

GIRLS FROM FRANKLIN VISIT ANCESTRAL NORTHFIELD FARM

Misses Catherine and Winifred Holton have returned home to Franklin after attending the 250th anniversary of the settlement of the town of Northfield, Mass., they being descendants of William Holton, who settled there in 1673. While away they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Holton on their farm at Mount Hermon, Mass. This farm was a royal grant from the king of England to the Holton family and has been owned and occupied by them ever since.

FRANKLIN BOY LIVING 5,300 FEET UP IN PINES

Mrs. L. A. Robinson of Franklin has received a card from Hart Lambe of Los Angeles, Cal., a former Franklin boy. He is on his vacation there and is living 5,300 feet up in the pines.

The Bulletin

Norwich, Thursday, July 5, 1923.

WEATHER

Winds

North of Sandy Hook—Gentle to moderate southwest and west winds cloudy showery weather Thursday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras—Gentle variable weather overcast Thursday.

Conditions

Relatively high barometric pressure prevailed during Wednesday east of the Mississippi river. Normal temperatures prevailed generally over the eastern states. There have been thundershowers within the last 24 hours in the North Atlantic states and at widely scattered points in the region of the Great Lakes.

The outlook is for partly cloudy weather without material change in temperature during Thursday and Friday in the Atlantic states.

Forecast

Southern New England—Partly cloudy Thursday; Friday fair moderate temperature.

Observations in Norwich

The Bulletin's observations show the following temperature changes and changes in barometer Wednesday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	58	30.30
12 m.	76	30.20
6 p. m.	66	30.20

Highest 76; lowest 58.

Comparisons

Predictions for Wednesday—Considerable cloudiness.

Wednesday's weather—Cloudy with thunder showers in afternoon, variable winds.

FIELD DAY EVENTS BY NORWICH BOY SCOUTS

The first annual Scout Field Day was held on the Fourth at Chelsea parade with over fifty Scouts representing various troops of the city participating in the events on the programme. The events embraced nearly every type of sport in scoutcraft in which individual merit could be shown and many people were attracted to the parade to witness the programme which began shortly after 9.30 o'clock in the morning and continued until about 1 in the afternoon.

It had been planned by the scout executive, F. A. Benton, and assisting scoutmasters of the city to award a special trophy to the troop whose scouts scored the largest amount of points in competition but the records of Troops 20 and 12 were so far above the other troops that it was impossible to figure which of the troops had the most points, and the figures will have to be gone over by the judges again before the winning troop can be selected.

The various events which called for individual competition had awards for first place, bronze medals, and these are to be awarded to the scouts taking first place at a court of honor to be held in this city in the near future.

The judges of the various events were Joseph N. Weymouth, Dr. John C. Hinrichs, and Arthur L. Peale. Members of the scout council and scoutmasters were present. Chelsea parade was attractively decorated with scout flags, troop flags, patrol flags and American flags.

The various events on the programme were as follows: Scoutcraft, first, Troop 12; second, Troop 20; third, Troop 5. First aid race of 50 yards and return, contestants to dress wounds of patients, appearance to count. First, Troop 20; second, Troop 12; friction fire making, Indian method, won by Scout Baldwin of Troop 12, time 35 seconds. Morse signalling, sending two messages and receiving, won by Troop 12. Knot tying contests, first, Scout Lupton, Troop 5, 1 minute and 50 seconds; second, Scout Baldwin, Troop 12, 2 minutes 55 seconds; stretcher making, first, Troop 20, Scouts Adams, Hinrichs and Miller; second, Troop 12; equipment race won by Troop 12; fire building contests, contestant to build fire and boil water, won by Scout Adams, Troop 20, time 14 minutes; second, Scout Miller, Troop 12, 16 minutes.

Class B Events: Tug-of-war won by Troop 20; scout pacing twenty yards in twenty paces, first, Scout Whaley, Troop 20, exact measurement; second and third places also to Troop 20; staff throw, first, Hinrichs, Troop 20, 66 feet, 1 inch; second, Scout Lupton, Troop 5, 64 feet; patrol standing broad jump, first, Troop 20; second, Troop 12; centipede race won by Troop 20.

MANY ATTEND MEMORIAL MASS REQUESTED BY K. C. COUNCIL

A large congregation attended the annual memorial service requested by White Cross council, No. 13, Knights of Columbus for the 79 members who have died since the council was instituted; forty years ago, the requiem high mass being sung in St. Mary's church Fourth of July morning at 7.30 o'clock by the pastor, William A. Keefe. In addition to many members of the Knights there were present relatives and friends of the men memorialized. During the mass there were solos by Edward T. Connolly and by the organist, Henry J. LaFontaine.

GETTING TOO FAT?
TRY THIS—REDUCE

People who don't grow too fat are the fortunate exception. But if you find the fat accumulating or already cumbersome, you will be wise to follow this suggestion, which is endorsed by thousands of people who know. Ask your druggist for Marmola Prescription Tablets and follow directions. One dollar is the price the world over. Get them from your own druggist or send price direct to Marmola Co., 4613 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. By doing this you will be safe from harmful drugs and be able to reduce steadily and easily, without starvation diet, tiresome exercise or absurd greases and salves.

Knocked Down on Preston Bridge

About 9.45 Wednesday evening an automobile driven by Lucius F. Yerrington of this city struck and knocked down a girl named Spalding as the machine was crossing Preston bridge. The girl arose at once and said she was not hurt.

WALKER THERMOS STOCK FINDS A PURCHASER

Stock in the Thermos Securities company, which had been held by the estate of the late William B. Walker, president of the American Thermos Bottle Co., has been purchased by E. L. Garey, a Chicago lawyer, who is reported to represent interests which previously held very large holdings in the Thermos Bottle Co.

Following the sale of stock, the directors of the American Thermos Bottle Co., elected officers as follows at a recent meeting;

President—O. A. Glazebrook, Jr., New York.

Vice President—C. R. H. Visscher, Norwich.

Vice President—Felix Hughes, New York.

Secretary and General Council—E. L. Garey, Chicago.

Treasurer — R. MacCorquodale Norwich.

Asst. Sec. and Asst. Treas.—W. S. Hood

Mr Glazebrook, the new president, is a director of several big corporations engaged in manufacturing and he has achieved great success in the management of manufacturing plants. With Vice president Visscher he is now on a tour of inspection of the Thermos company's property. It is expected that the new management will greatly enlarge the Thermos business and that its well known trade mark will become even better and more widely known.

Vice president Visscher has been associated with the Thermos company ever since the business organized in 1907. He came here with the company when the business moved its factory from New York to this city. He was closely associated with the late Mr. Walker in the development of the business and its success is a tribute to the business ability of these two men. Last fall Mr. Visscher's health obliged him to retire from active business for a time but after Mr. Walker's death, the directors invited him to resume active connections with the Thermos company and made him general manager. His many Norwich friends will be glad to know that he will continue in a business connection with the company that will maintain his association here.

POLICE COURT SESSION ON MORNING OF FOURTH

In the police court on the morning of the Fourth three men were fined $5 and costs for intoxication and two for breach of the peace. All paid but one, who went to jail.

The two fined for breach of the peace were George Derosha and Albert Derosha, cousins, from Providence, who engaged in a fight Tuesday night on the Lake street playgrounds. The former had to have the services of a doctor after he had been brought to police headquarters.

The case against H. Lloyd Rathbun, accused of breach of the peace in beating a 15 year old boy, was continued until Friday, as the complainant has not recovered enough yet to be in court.

Raffelo Gemino of 61 Fountain street, who was before the court on the charge of reckless driving of an automobile because his machine knocked down and ran over Mrs. Daniel Devine of 3 High street Tuesday evening in Centennial square, had his case continued for a week, as Mrs. Devine was not able to come to court on account of her injuries.

In the court Tuesday morning James Clifford was fined $200 and costs for driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. A jail sentence of 30 days was imposed but suspended.

James Cirves, who was arrested Monday night at the place, 47 Franklin street, which the police raided for liquor, was fined $50 and costs for keeping a house reputed to be disorderly.

Four men were fined for intoxication.

Skidded on Durfee Hill

An automobile driven by William Dixon of 365 Main street skidded and hit another car on Durfee Hill, Waterford, early Wednesday night. The damage was slight.

TRAVELOGUE ON HAWAII ENDS CHAUTAUQUA WEEK

The Norwich week of Chautauqua closed Wednesday night with an entertainment that left a most pleasing memory of the 1923 season. This was a musical scenic travelogue of "Happy Hawaii," given by Mildred Loo Clemens, a cousin of Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), who through word, music and picture brought to her audience a vivid sense of the wonders of these sunblessed island of the Pacific. With her was a group of five Hawaiian musicians who gave a delightful programme of the distinctive music and dances of the islands. Beautiful pictures, among which the motion pictures of the crater of a volcano were a feature, added to the attractiveness of the programme, which was enthusiastically applauded.

In the afternoon, the Junior Chautauqua under direction of Miss Louise Boehm, gavel st pageant. Her family on Display, which as the story of the old women who lived in a shoe and was finely carried out. For the entertainment of the juniors, Miss Lindsey and her educated pony, Sirlian, was on the programme. The intelligent animal gave a remarkable exhibition that made it a favorite with the juniors.

An Open Letter

To the Public and All Organized Labor

The management of the Strand and Broadway Theatres does not hide behind the time old cry of false and malicious statements having been made. It welcomes an investigation of all facts presented to the public, for every statement can and will be proved.

Will Local Musicians Union, No. 235 give a reason for misinforming the American Federation of Musicians, of N. J., stating that the Strand and Broadway Theatres owed $363 to members of Local 235 and asking that the said theatres be published in the Musicians' Journal, which, if done, would prevent either of the theatres from ever obtaining union musicians. Local 235 knows that every musician has been paid in full at all times and not one cent is due them.

The management defies the local to disprove the above statements and will readily submit the case to any three disinterested parties because every statement made in this paper is absolutely true and that Local 235 is absolutely wrong.

The Strand and Broadway Theatres never wished to employ any but union people, but when the local union of musicians absolutely refuse to accept an outside union musician it is time to take action.

There is no other business enterprise in the world where the employer is forced to keep employes whom he does not care to employ. If you employ any help and that person is not satisfactory, you can readily discharge him and get someone who is capable of satisfying you, but if an employer of any person is not allowed to do this it is detrimental to his business. The Norwich Musicians Local say that we must employ only the local union musicians whether we want to or not. This can be called tyranny not unionism.

If a union person from another city should come to Norwich his transfer card is readily accepted and he becomes a union brother, by all unions except the local musicians union.

This is true of every union in the world excepting the Norwich Musicians Union. They have positively refused to honor an outside union brothers' transfer card. The Broadway Theatre orchestra was not allowed to go to the Strand Theatre to play vaudeville and no vaudeville orchestra was allowed to be obtained to play there.

Is this unionism? Unionism means brotherhood!

In justice to all unions we have to be shown where the local musicians have a right to call themselves a union.

The above theatres have always employed union people and want to, but have been forced to take the other alternative.

We defy anyone to disprove this statement!

FARMER-LABOR DELEGATES BALK AT "RED" PLATFORM

Split Develops at Chicago Conference and Recess Taken to Stave Off Threatened Bolt of Delegates—Proposed Platform Described as "Too Radical for Even the Radical State of Wisconsin" to Accept—Chicago Federation of Labor Head Says Platform Would Kill Farmer Labor Party and Would Mean Death to Ambitions of Working Class for Twenty Years.

Chicago, July 5—(By the A. P.)—The platform of the proposed federated farmer-labor party, described as "to red, communistic and Bolshevik," and "too radical for even the radical state of Wisconsin" to accept, split the conference today and it recessed for a night session in order to stave off a threatened bolt of some farmer-labor delegates, ostensibly in their own convention.

The recess was taken to permit a farmer-labor caucus to determine their further action.

At that time the workers' party of America, which C. E. Ruthenburg, one of its group leaders, said was a branch of the communist party, was in control. Jay G. Brown, national secretary of the farmer-labor party, refused the platform for his organization.

The organization committee, composed of delegates representing industrial workers, farmers and minority political parties, reported out a platform through Joseph Manley, New York, another workers' party delegate, which Ruthenburg said was signed by 25 of the 32 members. It was immediately attacked by the Illinois farmer-labor unit, but it was John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, who delivered the severe arraignment.

The farmer-labor party called this conference convention in good faith, with a desire for political unity," Fitzpatrick said. "But other groups invited here have taken advantage and injected a platform that if adopted will kill the farmer labor party and mean death to the ambitions of the working class for 20 years. * * * If William Z. Foster, Ruthenburg, Manley and the others believe they can attract union men and women to this platform they are mistaken." * * *.

Chester C. Platt of the non-partisan Wisconsin delegation said that Wisconsin was "the most radical state in the United States" but the platform suggested, "drafted by a party which I am told is a branch of the third international," if put to Wisconsin's organizations "would not be touched."

"And if you cannot suit the radical state of Wisconsin, you cannot suit another state in the union," he added.

Foster was given the biggest ovation of the day when he spoke for the platform.

Brown accepted that part of the program which declared the principles of evil facing the producers, but based his objection on the fact that the platform set up a new party with a new constitution competitive to that of the already organized farmer-labor party and that if put to a vote of the farmer-labor party it would be rejected.

Ruthenburg replied by charging the farmer-labor party with bad faith.

The platform declares the party to be formed to "wrest control of the government from the hands of the financial and industrial masters who have amassed fortunes under the two major political parties at the expense and well being of the industrial workers and farmers." It consists of ten planks which are proposed as follows:

Nationalization of all public utilities.

Operation of industries on a basis of workers and farmers increasing control of management and operation through their own economic organizations.

Maximum security against destitution, unemployment, sickness and high prices.

Governmental enactment of a maximum 8-hour work day in industry, making violation a criminal offense.

Governmental enactment of a law making the federal reserve board serve the farmers and workers.

Child labor laws, limiting employment to children over 14 years of age.

A soldier bonus to be raised through the levying of inheritance taxes, excess profits, surtaxes and taxes on unearned incomes.

Enactment of a social insurance law, funds for which to be raised through taxation similar to that of the soldier bonus.

Enactment of a maternity insurance law, which would provide full trade union wage compensation to all prospective mothers one month before and after birth of the child.

Establishment of a maximum living wage for all workers.

FARMER-LABOR PARTY REFUSES TO PARTICIPATE

Chicago, July 5.—(By the A. P.)—The federated farmer-labor party with a platform under the leadership of the workers' party of America, was born here tonight, but in which the farmer-labor party refused to participate. A substitute to the organization committee's platform was submitted by the caucus of the farmer-labor delegates but was tabled by thunderous vote. Over the substitute's section provided that no organization affiliated with the third internationale at Moscow could be a group to the party.

ANDERSON PROTESTS INNOCENCE OF CHARGES

New York, July 5.—William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, today protested his innocence of charges of grand larceny, extortion and forgery on which District Attorney Banton announced last Monday he would ask the grand jury next week to return indictments.

Mr. Anderson, who is visiting his parents at Carlinville, Ill., in a statement issued through the league, intimated that the newly discovered evidence had been manufactured by corrupt political and financial interests."

"All I need say at this time in further defiance to the interests that are apparently forcing the district attorney's hand," the statement said, "is that this threat, no matter how far it may be carried, will not muzzle or silence me respecting wet political conspiracies any more than previous efforts in this direction have done, and the further this is carried the stronger will be the reaction in our favor."

Mr. Anderson said he remained in New York for two months after the discharge last spring of the grand jury that failed to indict him. He said the case was not revived until it was published in New York newspapers that he was seriously ill.

ADVOCATES GOLF AND CORSETS FOR MEN

New York, July 5.—The American woman, the best dressed, the handsomest and the most sensible woman in the world, ruins her charm and her attraction by a tensity which is always apparent in her face, Dr. Roberta Wimmer-Ford, of Seattle, said today at the annual convention of the American Osteopathic Association.

"Our highly trained society women," she said, "have the repose of manner which is essential to true beauty, but the great majority of American women spoil their natural good looks by their strained expressions."

She stated that the only remedy is good health, steady nerves and a correct diet, which will cure any strain or slouch.

American men, though they are naturally of good physique, are just as badly off as the women in the opinion of Dr. F. P. Millard, of Toronto, who advocated golf and corsets as the great correctives for "Pot-Bellies and creaky joints."

NEW ALTITUDE RECORD BY WOMAN FLIER

St. Louis, Mo., July 5.—Mrs. Bertha Horcheim, professional aviatrix of Ransom, Kans., established a new altitude record for women by ascending 16,300 feet at St. Louis aviation field today. The previous record was 15,700 feet and was made by Andree Peyere, French woman flier, in California last May.

Officials at the field announced that the flight was official, being held under regulations of the National Aeronautical association.

Mrs. Horcheim was in the air two hours and eight minutes. When she descended she had to be lifted from the cockpit of her plane, her hands and feet being frostbitten despite her winter clothes. She was placed under the care of a physician.

Major William B. Robertson, commander of the Missouri national air service, accompanied Mrs. Horcheim on the flight.

SAYS LEVIATHAN WILL NEVER MAKE MONEY

New York, July 5.—The steamship Leviathan, reconditioned by the government at a cost of more than $8,000,000, and now on she high seas on her first trip under the American flag in the trans-Atlantic passenger service, "never made any money, and never will," Rear Admiral Charles P. Plunkett, commandant at the Brooklyn navy yard, declared in an address today before the Brooklyn Rotary club. The great liner, like the British Majestic and Berengaria, is too large and expensive for practical operation, he said.

Rear Admiral Plunkett also denounced international conferences as a means of securing world peace, asserting that they were "purely a waste of time."

"They have simply resulted in engendering bad feeling among many of the nations of the world," he added. "What we want is peace on earth, but the outlook is not good."

Peace can be maintained only by force, he continued, adding that treaties generally are ignored after 25 years. The American navy, he said, was in good condition to keep the peace, and the "problem of the hour" was the development of a merchant marine. It was in this connection that he pronounced the Leviathan a white elephant.

The steamers Agamemnon and Mount Vernon, he said, should be reconditioned at once, and he was seeking to obtain this work for the Brooklyn yard.

HELD IN $10,000 FOR BROAD BROOK ROBBERY

Boston, July 5.—John A. De Yeong, claiming Montreal as his home, and Charles Belben of this city, arrested here last night, were held in $10,000 each in the Municipal Court today for a hearing on July 11 on charges of larceny and receiving stolen property. In their possession were found two $1,000 New York Central Railroad Bonds said to be part of the loot resulting from the burglary of the Post Office and general store at Broad Brook, Conn., about a month ago.

The police said De Yeong had confessed that he and two other men broke into the store after stealing an automobile in Hartford, filled the car with goods, took three $1,000 bonds and drove off pursued by a sheriff and posse. Shots were fired at the car, De Yeong said, and it caught fire. He and his companions escaped in the woods, where he lost one of the bonds in a ditch. He said that Belben was not one of the men with him. Belben told the police that De Yeong had offered him $100 if he would sell one of the bonds.

The police said that a warrant would be sought in the federal court for De Yeang.

NEW YORK CUSTOMS' RECEIPTS SHOW INCREASE

New York, July 5.—Customs receipts and duties at the port of New York for the fiscal year ended June 30 were $322,354,427, an increase of $92,047,616 over the previous year.

The collections surpassed all previous records in the history of the customs district in New York. The great increase was attributed by Philip Elting, Collector of the port to the Tariff Law which went into effect September 21, 1922.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Twenty-seven Terrorists Held

Vienna, July 5. (Jewish Telegraph Agency)—Charged with conspiring to murder a number of leading Jews and liberal members of other faiths, twenty-seven young men belonging to a terrorist band have been arrested. The police assert that they found a "proscriptive list" of those marked for extermination and a storehouse filled with ammunition and guns of all descriptions belonging to the band.

PRESIDENTIAL PARTY SAILS FOR ALASKA

Tacoma, Washn., July 5 (By the A. P.)—In the midst of the blaring of bands and the farewell cheers of thousands of Tacoma citizens President Harding sailed today for Alaska, the first chief executive of the nation to visit that territory since it came under the American flag fifty-six years ago.

A few minutes after 2 p. m. the scheduled hour of departure, the United States naval transport Henderson, which for the next twenty days will be in reality the White House, got under way, circled the harbor and steamed past the Tacoma stadium, where a few minutes before the president and Mrs. Harding had received the God-speed of Governor Hart, of Washington, and where the president had declared for an American merchant marine second to nine.

As the big transport swung by the stadium, those assembled there to hear the president speak, stood and cheered Mr. and Mrs. Harding acknowledged the cheers and waved the farewell from the bridge until distance made them only indistinct figures to those on shore.

The president, as he boarded the vessel, was in an unusually happy frame of mind, pleased by the reception given him in Tacoma, glad to obtain a few days of rest after the fifteen day trans-continental trip, and overjoyed by the prospect of realization of the ambition he has held almost ever since he entered the White House—an ambition to visit the great northern territory and obtain first-hand information with respect to its problems.

Two days of steady sailing lay ahead of the party when it left here up through the inside passage of British Columbia and Alaska. It will not be a monotonous voyage by any means for the boat will pass up through narrow winding channels with mountains rising directly from the water's edge.

The first stop will be made at Ketchikan, either Friday or Saturday and after a stay there the Henderson will go on to Wrangell, arriving there to spend Sunday, according to the tentative schedule.

WREATHS FOR GRAVES OF I. W. W. VICTIMS

Centralia, Wash., July 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Directing that his train be stopped, President Harding early today drove through a drizzling rain to two cemeteries here and personally laid wreaths on the graves of the four American Legion men killed by I. W. W. in the Centralia armistice disorder of 1919.

The chief executive, was accompanied only by his military and naval aides and representative Albert Johnson and he presented his simple mark of respect and returned to his train before members of his party, still asleep or at breakfast, knew of his action.

PROHIBITION CHIEF CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Malone, N. Y., July 5.—Robert D. Angell, chief in charge of the northern New York prohibition enforcement division, Merchant Phelps, assistant to Angell, and Rupert Nisbeth, a customs agent, today were charged in warrants with assault, second degree, in connection with the shooting Tuesday night of Miss Belle Baker, 18, of Fulton, N. Y.

Warrants were issued after sworn statements concerning the shooting had been made to the district attorney by the young woman and her father, L. A. Baker. The federal agents appeared in county court and provided bail in $5,000 each for examination July 7.

Miss Baker's automobile was mistaken for that of a bootlegger and was the target for a fusilade. A bullet pierced the car and struck the girl in the hip. Her injury is not serious. It is claimed five men fired at the car, which was being driven to the Bakers' summer camp at Duane in the Adirondacks.

FIVE TRAMPS KILLED IN FREIGHT WRECK

Chicago, July 5.—Five men riding a freight train of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad were killed and eight others were injured when the train was wrecked near Kirkland, Illinois, tonight, according to word received by railroad officials here.

All those killed and hurt were tramps, who were riding one of the cars that was wrecked.

SNOW AND SLEET IN MASSACHUSETTS

Worthington, Mass., July 5.—The weather man celebrated the Fourth of July in this place by covering the hills about the town yesterday with four inches of snow and sleet. The storm came about 5 o'clock in the afternoon and continued intermittently until six o'clock. Two hours later a strong sun had dissolved most of the storm's traces.

SOFT DRINK PRIVILEGE WORTH $30,000 A YEAR

New York, July 5.—The privilege of selling soft drinks and confections on the seven municipal ferryboats plying between Manhattan and Staten Island is worth $30,000 a year in the opinion of Fericles Gianopolous. Grover Whalen, commissioner of plant and structures, awarded him a two-year concession on the boats today at that figure. Gianopolous was the highest of several bidders.

Police Seek Negro For Brutal Murder

Body of Girl Found With Throat Cut and Back Slashed Seven Times—Gruesome Discovery Made by Friend of Victim.

New York, July 5.—The police tonight were seeking a vagrant negro, with his coat turned inside out, who is suspected of having murdered Dorothy Kauffman, a governess in the home of Magruder Craighead in the fashionable suburb of Scarsdale last Tuesday.

The Craigheads had gone out of town, leaving the governess alone in the house. The body was not found until yesterday and the discovery did not become known until today.

The body was found by Madeline Harmer, a friend of the dead girl. Medical authorities found that an attempt had been made to assault the girl, after which her back had been slashed seven times and her throat cut. The knife with which the governess was slashed lay in a corner of the low-ceiled room in the rear of the first floor in which the body was found. Because of the brutality which marked the crime, the police expressed belief that the murderer was found. Because of the brutality deranged.

Suspicion pointed to the vagrant negro now being sought when the police learned that he had asked Frank Costello, employed at the Sunnyside Golf Club nearby, for the whereabouts of a "Tony." Costello said he knew no Tony and the negro departed.

Later he was reported to have been seen at the Craighead home.

Still later he was seen by Charles Baldwin, another negro employed in an estate nearby, vaulting a fence. His coat was turned inside out and the police advanced the theory that this might have been done to hide bloodstains.

Baldwin told detectives he had seen the other negro drop a box of crackers from his pocket when he leaped the fence. This box now is in the possession of the police, who are comparing fingermarks found on it with those of the knife handle.

MOTHER OF HAROLD M'CORMICK IS DEAD

Chicago, July 5.—Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick, mother of Cyrus H. Jr., and Harold McCormick, died today at her home in Lake Forest, near Chicago. Mrs. McCormick had been ill for a week with acute bronchitis. She was 88 years old.

Mrs. McCormick was the widow of Cyrus H. McCormick, Sr., founder of the International Harvester company, who died in 1884.

She was known around the world for her philanthropy. She had given millions to the Presbyterian church and the cause of missions and medicine in this and other far away lands.

The great purpose that animated her life for many years has been the spread of Christianity and western medicine. She had given much more than $1,000,000 to the McCormick Theological Seminary alone, but the extent of her vast contributions to church and medical work never became generally known for she seldom would talk of her benefactions.

CROSS EXAMINATION OF GARVIN COMPLETED

Wilmington, Del., July 5.—Statements in considerable detail as to why they regarded $250,000 as a fair price for the seized enemy dye and chemical patents sold to the chemical foundation by the alien property custodian's office in 1919, were given today by Francis P. Garvan and Joseph H. Choate, Jr., at the trial of the government's action in federal district court here to set aside the sale.

Cross examination of Mr. Garvan was completed during the day and that of Mr. Choate will be taken up tomorrow.

American Specialist To Treat King's Deaf Mute Son

Dr. Curtis H. Muncie, of Brooklyn, New York, widely known as a specialist in diseases of the ear, who recently sailed from New York for Europe where he admits he is going to treat "a well known case of very severe deafness, given up by specialists in Europe," and it is known that the patient is none other than Don Jaime, second son of King Alfonso, who has been deaf since birth. Dr. Muncie has also accepted invitations to demonstrate his new method of "manipulative surgery" or "reconstruction of the Eustachian tube" before leading medical associations in London, Paris and Glasgow. He uses no instruments in his treatment of the deaf, merely moulding and shaping the tube which leads from the inner ear to the nose. He recently cured the late William Rockefeller, then aged 80, of deafness.

Prohibition Officials To Call for Help

Will Ask New York Governor to Compel State Peace Officers to Aid in Enforcing Volstead Act—Liquor Situation Alarming.

New York, July 5.—Federal prohibition officials, alarmed over the alleged increase in liquor smuggling in this state since the repeal of the Mullan-Gage enforcement act, today decided to ask Governor Smith to compel state peace officers to aid in enforcing the Volstead act. Director Palmer Canfield refused to reveal how the request would be made. He declared the situation was "too delicate politically" for him to make a statement.

The dry officials said that in parts of the state adjoining the Canadian border and in the vicinity of Montauk Point, Long Island, municipal officers were apathetic in enforcing the Volstead act.

The dropping of 18 agents from the force here and the possibility of another upheval shortly, agents said, had caused uneasiness, affecting their work.

The New York office was in no way responsible for the lessening of the force, according to Morris G. Markland, assistant divisional chief. He said that the orders came from Washington.

Inquiry into the conduct of local prohibition agents, it was said, has been going on several weeks under the direction of Hugh Mcquillan, chief of the intelligence unit of the internal revenue bureau.

FILE MOTIONS TO DROP MORSE INDICTMENTS

Washington, July 5.—Counsel for Charles W. Morse, his three sons and four others on trial on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government on wartime shipping contracts, filed motions today to dismiss the indictments and to direct acquittal of the accused. Justice Stafford took the motions, made after the government had announced it had rested its case, under advisement.

The defense enumerated 33 reasons why the indictments should be dismissed and 14 reasons why the court should instruct the jury to acquit the defendants. None of the argument on the motions was before the jury, Justice Stafford having dismissed the jurors for the day when the prosecution concluded its case. The trial has been in progress for 11 weeks.

The defense contended that the government had failed to establish beyond reasonable doubt that there was any combination or agreement on the part of two or more of the accused to accomplish a criminal act. It also was asserted that the prosecution had developed only that a series of controversies existed between the Morse corporations and the Emergency Fleet corporation, such controversies having been civil, and not criminal, in nature.

Attacking the validity of the indictments, defense counsel charged they failed to allege a crime against the United States. During the argument on the motions, Justice Stafford asked government attorneys to explain various charges in the indictments and to give their interpretation of just what constituted the alleged conspiracy.

HOLD WOMAN FOR MURDER OF WATCHMAN

New York, July 5.—Mrs. Louise Arnold, mother of five children, was arrested late today on a charge of murdering Vincent Calevacca, a watchman, whose body was found, slashed with a bread knife, in the detention room of the Children's Court building this morning. Police declared she had confessed the slaying.

Mrs. Arnold admitted the police declared, that she had been infatuated with Calevacca for several years. A widow, she wanted him to divorce his wife, who lived in Lodi, N. J., and marry her, they quoted her as saying.

She visited him at the Children's Court building Tuesday night, according to the alleged confession, taking the bread knife with her in a paper bag. When he again refused her request to marry her, the police quoted her as saying, she unwrapped the weapon and stabbed him in the leg, the blade severing an artery.

Mrs. Calevacca, the murdered man's widow, was brought to the district attorney's office from her home at Lodi, N. J., tonight. She told Assistant District Attorney Hennis she had never heard of Mrs. Arnold. Her husband, she said, owned his own home in Lodi. In addition to being employed as a night watchman at the children's court, he worked as a carpenter in the daytime.

WELLS TOWN TREASURER MAKES SHORTAGE GOOD

Wells, Me., July 5.—Arthur A. Whiting, town treasurer, who disappeared four months ago, appeared unexpectedly at a special town meeting called tonight to consider his indebtedness to the town and turned over a certified check for $22,079.98, the amount involved. By an almost unanimous vote the citizens voted not to prosecute.

"I made a big mistake," Mr. Whiting told the assembled voters. "I had promises that if I came back I would not be prosecuted, and I have come with a certified check for $22,079.98." He was wildly applauded.

Ray Hanscombe, attorney for Mr. Whiting, announced that Mr. Whiting had been in Mexico during his absence.

MOTORIZED BALLOON MAKES RECORD FLIGHT

Elmira, N. Y., July 5.—Manned by two aviators in federal service, a motorized balloon of a new type dropped upon the field of the Aircraft corporation at Hammondsport this afternoon, completing a journey from McCook field, Dayton, O. The balloon is said to have made a record flight for this type of airship. It is to be used by the United States department of agriculture in an effort to fight the ravages of the gypsy moth.

The scale committee of the miners, which will conduct the negotiations will include the officers of the three anthracite districts. The district's boards and three miners from each district.

GERMANY OPPOSES SABOTAGE IN OCCUPIED TERRITORY

Chancellor Cuno Understood to be Desirous That Resistance to Franco-Belgian Opposition be Strictly Passive—Reichstag Circles Expect German Government to Issue Statement Deprecating Sabotage and All Forms of Active Resistance in the Occupied Areas—Federal and Prussian Cabinets Hold Joint Session For Consideration of Ruhr Situation.

Berlin, July 5.—(By the A. P.)—The German government is expected to issue forthwith a statement deprecating sabotage and all forms of active resistance in the Franco Belgian occupied areas.

Chancellor Cuno has been having discussions with Monsignor Pacelli, the papal nuncio, whom Pope Pius sent here from Munich to make intercessions on the subject of the Ruhr campaign. The chancellor is understood to be most desirous that German resistance in the occupied territories shall be strictly passive, and in reichstag circles it is fully expected that the government will make an announcement within the next 24 hours voicing its opposition to active resistance in any form against the French and Belgians in the occupied territory, emphasizing that deeds of this nature are likely to jeopardize Germany's interests abroad.

The federal and Prussian cabinets held a joint session this afternoon for consideration of the Ruhr situation and the passive resistance campaign.

STEEL MAGNATES TO ABOLISH 12-HOUR DAY

Tacoma, Wash., July 5.—(By the Associated Press)—President Harding made public here today the correspondence between himself and the directors of the American Iron and Steel Institute and, in a statement incorporated as a part of his address here, said: "The large majority of the steel manufacturers of America have undertaken to abolish the 12-hour day in the American Steel industry at the earliest moment that the additional labor required shall be available."

The letter to President Harding was signed by Elbert H. Gary, John A. Topping, W. A. Rogers, W. H. Donner, W. J. Filbert, E. A. S. Clark, James A. Farrell, E. G. Grace, Willis L. King, James A. Burden, Jr., E. Black, Severn P. Ker, J. A. Campbell, A. C. Dinkey and Chas. M. Schwab, directors of the American Iron & Steel Institute.

The letter follows:

"Careful consideration has been given to your letter of June 18th, instant, by the undersigned directors of the American Iron and Steel Institute comprising all of those whose attendance could be secured at this time.

"Undoubtedly there is a strong sentiment throughout the country in favor of eliminating the 12-hour day and this we do not under-estimate. On account of this sentiment and especially because it is in accordance with your own expressed views we are determined to work every effort at our command to secure in the Iron and Steel industry of this country a total abolition of the 12-hour day at the earliest time practicable."

This means the employment of large numbers of workmen on an eight-hour basis and all others on a basis of ten hours or less. Without an unbroken interruption to operations this change cannot be effected overnight. It will involve many adjustments, some of them complicated and difficult but we think it can be brought about without undue delay, as you state it. There is a surplus of labor available.

"The iron and steel manufacturers, generally of the United States outside of the directors referred to, are expected to concur in the conclusion reached by the directors as above stated."

President Harding's letter, addressed to Judge Gary, follows:

"I have now had an opportunity of reading the full report of the committee of the Iron and Steel Institute on the question of the abolition of the twelve-hour day in the steel industry. As I have stated before, I am of course, disappointed that no conclusive arrangement was proposed for determination of what must be manifestly accepted as a practice that should be obsolete in American industry. I still entertain the hope that these questions of social importance should be solved by action inside the industries themselves for if is only youch solutions that are consonant with American life and institutions."

Recently reports were circulated that Miss Barrymore planned to marry Mackay Morris, leading man in her last vehicle, "The School For Scandal," but Mr. Morris dismissed the report with a denial in which he said he "wished it were so." It was the lot of Miss Barrymore's leading men to be mentioned as suitors, headed.

Miss Barrymore comes of a family long noted on the stage. She is the daughter of Maurice and Georgiana Drew Barrymore, and a sister of John and Lionel Barrymore.

Mr. Colt is a son of the late Samuel P. Colt, former head of the United States Rubber Company.

EFFORT TO BREAK LONDON DOCK STRIKE

London, July 5 (By the A. P.)—Trade union leaders took strong action today to break the unofficial dock strike which was further extended and now involves 40,000 workers in London, Manchester, Liverpool and Avonmouth.

If the strike continues to spread, it is probable that other ports will be affected and fear exists among the heads of the unions that unless counsel prevails the strike before long may spread to other transport workers, particularly the railroad men, who for some time past have been in an aggressive mood in fear that the companies may decrease further their wages.

At a meeting of the dock workers' section of the Transport and General Workers' union held in London today a resolution was adopted ordering the strikers to resume work by Monday. It is doubtful, however, that the order will be obeyed.

ETHEL BARRYMORE GETS DIVORCE FROM HUSBAND

New York, July 5.—The divorce from Russell G. Colt granted Ethel Barrymore, famous actress, at Providence today, ended a marriage that had been liberally sprinkled with separations.

Miss Barrymore and Colt, married in Boston in 1909, first separated about two years later, shortly after the birth of Samuel Pomeroy Colt, the first of their three children.

Reconciled a few months later, they soon separated again, and numerous breaks were followed by reconciliations. In March, 1921, Miss Barrymore's lawyer announced, however, that a formal separation agreement had been entered into, and the pair abandoned their efforts at matrimonial happiness.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN

All clothing, finally was saved, homeless and all their personal belongings were destroyed into Wednesday night, when the three room bungalow owned by Elmer Charron on the South Coventry Road in the town of Mansfield, about half way between the Round and Perkins Corner was burned to the ground. It could not be determined how what was the cause of the fire but it is thought that the cottage was either struck by lightning or that an oil stove exploded. Mr. Charron, who is employed as a night watchman by the Max Pollock Manufacturing Company in Conantville, was at work at the time and Mrs. Charron and her four small children were in bed. Mrs. Charron awoke with a choking when she discovered was caused by dense smoke and she dashed for the door leading outside, but was driven back by the smoke. She then smashed through a window and seizing her four children she threw them out to the ground and then followed herself. Mrs. Charron stated that during that time she saw no signs of flames but that the smoke was pouring out of the kitchen. Passing motorists were attracted by the cries of the children and stopped and rendered what assistance they could.

It was impossible to save any of the furniture and but very little clothing was salvaged. Due to the location of the building there was no way of fighting the fire and within a few minutes the flames burst through the roof and soon consumed the entire structure, which was only one story high.

The sight of the mother and her four little children standing in their night clothes and watching the destruction of their home was a most pathetic one. Mr. and Mrs. Charron purchased the land about two years ago and since building the bungalow they have added sections and about a week ago had repainted the small home.

William Richards, 16, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Richards of 41 Bank street sustained a badly torn left palm Fourth of July morning, while celebrating with a blank cartridge pistol on West Main street. The child accidently pulled the trigger while the muzzle of the pistol was in his left hand. Fred A. Beckwith a resident of West Main street rendered assistance to the injured boy and later was taken to his home where he received medical attention.

Edward Saba, the 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fadio Saba of Milk street Thursday afternoon was playing with firecrackers which were supposed to have already been exploded. The boy touched a match to one which contained some powder and it flared up into his face burning him painfully, causing some injury to his eyes.

Three Coventry young men were before the Coventry town court Thursday morning on charges of breach of the peace and use of abusive language. The men, George Lynch, Ralph Lynch and Ralph Vandeck, all of that town pleaded not guilty. The three had caused a disturbance in the vicinity of the ice house owned by Captain William A. Wolfe, at Lake Wangaumbog shortly before midnight, Tuesday. Captain Wolfe, complainant in the case, testified that an automobile party of Bright Manchester visitors had applied to him, stating that they had been disturbed while attempting to bathe in the waters in their cars.

It was said that there were about twelve young men in all, the trio being included. Captain Wolfe asked them to behave and not molest the visitors and he received a volley of vile language by the defendants.

Wednesday the complainant swore out warrants and the three were placed under arrest by Grand Juror Robert G. Hooks and when presented before Justice of the Peace William B. Dewhirst all denied any wrong-doing. George Lynch, who was alleged to be the leader of the gang, was fined $3 and costs amounting to $16.36. Ralph Vandeck and Ralph Lynch were each fined $5 the fines being remitted and the young men were placed on probation for three months, under charge of Probation Officer A. E. Harmon.

Frances S. Long Woman's Relief Corps held their regular meeting Wednesday in the G. A. R. room. The president Mrs. Margaret MacArthur was in charge. Following the reading of the reports and a short business session the graves of twenty-four members were decorated in local and out of town cemeteries.

A report, of much interest was read on the visit of the local W. R. C. to the Carps Home in Cromwell, where the local corps, No. 28 erected an arch which they donated to the Home. A large box of edibles and useful articles was also presented the Home.

A communication was read from Eastern Star Lodge, No. 44 of this city expressing appreciation of the favors granted them when dinner was served some time ago to the Veteran Masons.

Adjournment was taken after a collection and the flag salute and a patriotic entertainment followed. Mrs. Ruth James, chairman of the committee as in charge of the refreshments.

Henry Merthen of Pleasant Valley was badly burned Wednesday afternoon when he got in too close proximity to a small cannon at the moment that it was being fired. The young man had set a fuse for the firing of the cannon and from all appearances it had gone out. He stooped over in order to reset a new fuse and was met by an explosion. Powder from the charge lodged in his body and a quantity of it entered his face and hands.

A. W. Buchanan, of Mansfield, agent for the state board of education was at the town building Thursday forenoon on his weekly visit to meet children between 14 and 16 who desire to obtain employment certificates. The required tests were taken by five applicants.

Motor vehicle drivers' licenses were being issued at the town building on Thursday by State Policeman Fred T. Caron of the Stafford Springs barracks. Over twenty-five took the tests a few of whom were rejected for various reasons.

Alfred Vertefeuille, of 38 Maple Avenue is in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from injuries sustained when struck by the limb of a tree in a wood lot at Phoenixville, in the town of Eastford, Wednesday. Vertefeuille is employed by the Child's Lumber Company and was engaged in felling trees. He had just chopped one and when it fell and struck the ground a large limb pounded up and the man was struck on the head and cut about the left eye. He was rushed to the hospital where he will be a patient for several days.

James O'Brien, the lone occupant of the cell room at the police station over the holiday, was handed a fine of $10 and costs, Thursday, when brought before Deputy Judge Curtis Dean on the charge of intoxication. O'Brien said that he was employed by "Jake" Bernstein of Westchester and had come to town to celebrate the Fourth. He had no money but said that he had his job and he was placed on probation for one month, to give him time to pay the assessment.

Nine colored people, riding in a large closed automobile figured in a collision with the west end of the South Chaplin bridge, Wednesday morning. The car was coming from the Chaplin Center and following the collision the driver backed the heavy car around and sped back whence he had come. The car was but slightly damaged and apparently none of the occupants were injured.

Much success is apparent in the work of the Salvation Army Corps of this city among the children. The total Sunday school attendance for the year ending July 1 was 3,886 and of that number 1,134 have attended since January 1st, 1923, or for the last two quarters. Until the completion of the new hall on Walnut street the sessions will be held at the temporary quarters on Walnut street.

Is Backache Spoiling Your Summer?

THEN WHY ENDURE IT WHEN SO MANY NORWICH FOLKS POINT THE WAY TO RELIEF?

IS that bad back wearing you out? Are you miserable all day long with that dull, nerve-racking ache, and those sharp, stabbing pains? Do you feel old, worn-out and dispirited; nervous and depressed?

You shouldn't! Summer is too fine a time to feel so miserable. You want to be well, and the quickest way to get well is to find the cause of the trouble and correct it.

How about your kidneys? Have you given them any thought? Chances are you haven't. Yet more than likely weak kidneys are to blame.

The kidneys, you know, are the blood filters. Once they weaken and slow up the effect is quickly apparent. Blood and nerves are poisoned and the whole system upset.

Your back aches; you suffer rheumatic twinges, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities. You feel tired, stiff and achy—worn-out and depressed.

Don't risk some serious kidney trouble. Get back your health while you can. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's are especially for weak kidneys. They have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's," Say These Norwich Folks!

LOUIS DUELLET, Pres. Shoe Repair Shop, 145 West Main Street, says: "At my work I have a great deal of bending and I always sit in a bent position. This I believe has been the cause of my back and kidneys bothering me and I had to quit work for a day or so at a time. When I bent I could hardly straighten again, and one morning while moving a machine a sharp pain took me in my kidneys and I felt as though I had been stabbed with something sharp. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they rid me of the trouble."

MRS. BERNARD NEESON, 54 Union Street, says: "I had uric acid in my blood and my kidneys were weak and didn't act properly. The uric acid went through my system causing rheumatic pains through my back and hips. When I bent over I could hardly straighten, and it seemed as though my back were ready to go to pieces. At times my kidneys were too free in action. I doctored but he didn't seem to be able to touch my case. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me almost from the start and finally cured me. I haven't been troubled since."

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

By DAVID CORY

JACK RABBIT PROTECTS THE AUTO PARTY WITH PEPPER.

But, oh, dear me, the two little rabbits, the Yellow Dog Tramp and the Fiddler Grasshopper had gone but a little way in the Luckymobile when the roaring mad bull I mentioned in the last story saw them. My goodness me, how he did run after them. He put his head close to the ground, so that his horns stuck right out in front of him like a cowcatcher and his eyes got as red as fire and the breath came out of his nostrils like steam from a locomotive when its angry because the engineer won't ring the bell and start up the train.

"Oh, dearest me!" cried the old gentleman rabbit, looking back over the top of his goggles. "If that angry roaring bull ever catches us, he'll just ruin my old wedding stovepipe hat!"

Pretty soon that dreadful bull came closer and closer until one of his horns touched the back of the Luckymobile.

"Oh, dear, and oh, dear!" cried little Jack Rabbit, "something must be done in a hurry," and opening his knapsack, he took out a little tin box of pepper and leaning out over the back seat, he peppered that roaring, rearing, dreadful bull right on the nose and the next minute he began to sneeze and every time he sneezed, he blew the Luckymobile ahead more than a mile and after maybe thirteen sneezes, the Luckymobile was out of sight, with the two little rabbits, the Yellow Dog Tramp and the Grasshopper who played tunes on his left hind leg with his wing.

Now children dear, if ever
A bull goes chasing you,
Just take along a pepper box
And shake it on his queue.

Of course, if he isn't a Chinese bull, you can't shake it on his queue, but if he's just an ordinary, every-day pasture-grazing bull, dump a little pepper on his nose, but don't try to do this unless you're in an automobile!

"That was a lucky escape," rasped the Yellow Dog Tramp. "Goodness me! There's so much pepper in the air I'll have to put on my gas mask," and he reached under the rear seat with his paw.

"That isn't a gas mask," exclaimed the grasshopper, "it's a muzzle!" and the Yellow Dog Tramp felt very foolish for having made such a dreadful mistake.

Well, after that, they all rode along quietly for many a mile until they came to a little green house by the roadside where a porcupine lived.

"What do you want?" asked Mr. Porcupine, sticking out his quills till he looked like a cushion full of needles.

"Some gasoline for my Luckymobile," answered the old gentleman rabbit and after that the two little rabbits drove away into the next story.

A Letter from a Self Made Mapl-Flaker to His Son

Dear George!
Now that you're out "kneeling" the world to take a life...
ing away from it, dear lad, and I are squirming on our flapjacks... sorts, wondering if you know a hammerlock from a half nelson... and whether you think the rules of training were made to be...
or to break.
It was me fool, George, that wrote nearly to tell me...
daring to ripen -- you'll find it a pretty good rule to follow.
And if you'll present that landlady of yours with a box of...
Mapl-Flake on you'll never fail to get a big dish in the... morning, you'll find yourself stepping off the front porch... with a look-me-in-the-eye-good-as-two-men-to-day feeling... that will put silver lining in your pocket before you... know it.
I've learned a lot in 54 years, son. I hold an open... in the Mapl-Flake business -- but I do know that wheat is the...
"staff of life," and that the bran that's in the whole wheat... is good for what ails me -- and you too. That's how Mapl-Flake... me and I came to be "Mapl-Flakers."
So we got to have our bran every day -- old Mother Nature... does give the pill and dope makers hards and spades and look... them at their own game. And we've found that in Mapl-Flake...
we've got enough bran, and here good, delicious, nourishing...
eating.
It doesn't make much difference, George, whether you... sit at a desk or swing a shovel, whether you crumble ties...
or men, you've got to put real fuel in the boiler that... shovel out the ashes regularly if you're going to get... a big head of steam and toot your whistle as people... hear it.
So point, son. Put breast-to-goalpost and enter into... both, get in nights and out daytimes, and you can't lose.
Love from Ma and me.
An old dyed-in-the-wool Mapl-Flaker.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

"Bright Shawl" Flashes on Screen With Barthelmess As Epic of Silent Drama.

Viewing such a motion picture as Richard Barthelmess' new starring vehicle, "The Bright Shawl," which began an engagement at the Strand theatre last night, one instinctively recalls his previous productions for purposes of comparison.

"Tol'able David" was, of course, a masterpiece; "Sonny" almost its equal; "Fury" a classic among its pictures.

But, "The Bright Shawl," is a screen epic, the finest thing this talented young actor has yet given the public.

It's another Joseph Hergesheimer story, directed by no less a master than John M. Robertson. The colorful locale is Cuba in those hectic days of Spanish domination that preceded liberation. The star is seen as a wealthy young New Yorker, Charles Abbott, in Havana in quest of adventure. Angered by Spanish atrocities, he embraces the cause of the Cuban rebels. Also, he falls in love with Narcissa Escobar, lovely daughter of a rebel leader. La Clavel, ravishing dancer, whose beauty has made her the idol of Havana, becomes infatuated with the good-looking American. He pretends to return the dancer's affection, because through her he is enabled to get valuable information. Santacilla, hated Spanish officer, suspects the pair. He ensnares them, cold-bloodedly stabbing La Clavel. In the struggle that follows with Abbott the dissipated Santacilla succumbs to a heart-stroke. Dying, the beautiful La Clavel gives the American her bright shawl, as a love token. Abbott reaches the rebels in time to prevent them from carrying out the attack that Santacilla had schemed t others make. Thus he saves them from annihilation. Returning to Havana, he goes to the annual negro orgy, the danzon. From the gallery he witnesses the murder of his friend, Andres, by La Pilar, a female spy, who is wearing the bright shawl, which she has stolen. Shot, Abbott in the gallery and accuses him. There is a rush and he is seized. De Vaca, the Spanish captain in command, admiring the courage of the young American, challenges him to a duel. Abbott, a poor swordsman, battles valiantly, but he is a toy for De Vaca to play with.

Broadway Theatre.

A most picturesque and colorful picture is Goldwyn's romance of the South Seas, "Lost and Found," which was screened for the first time in the Broadway theatre last night. The beauty of the tropical settings on the island of Tahiti, the clearness of the photograph make it a pictorially beautiful production; in addition to this beauty it has a most dramatic and emotional story perfectly acted and directed. It is one of the best of the romantic adventure pictures yet produced.

As has become the custom with Goldwyn productions, the cast is admirably directed. House Peters as Captain Blackbird, master of the slave ship "Rose" of the story, has never done better. Rosemary Theby, as the wife who deserted him with their eldest child for the island governor, causing him to swear vengeance on all her sex and take to the seas, has the sort of role in which she excels. Pauline Starke, as their eldest daughter, Lorna, could not be bettered in the part. Antonio Moreno is the whilesome, rugged American heri to the life. George Siegmann as the governor sustains his reputation for strongly individualized characterizations. Mary Jane Irving is the younger daughter, William V. Mong, a beachcomber, Carl Harbaugh a native medicine man and David Wing a Chinaman.

The story is one that should be seen and not read about; its freshness, swiftness and high-powered emotions will sweep you off your feet.

A comedy and News Week [illegible] subjects.

Broad Theatre.

"While Justice Waits," is the attractive title of a picture produced by William Fox and starring Dustin Farnum, which is the feature at the Broad theatre today and Saturday. The story, written by Charles A. and Don Sheer, is described as a "western guinea a ranch." The scenes are laid in a small mining town and the surrounding hills. The central figures are an outlaw who has joined the band to seek his wife and a girl whose faith in him is justified, after various sensational incidents. Around this pair is developed a story of crime, courage, cowardice and stupidity, which should afford the opportunity to an actor of Dustin Farnum's ability, and to a supporting company of the excellence which Fox has undoubtedly supplied.

The stage setting shows in "While Justice Waits" is fresh each an actual [illegible] and a complete one.

Other pictures on the bill include Pearl White in Plunder, the Pathe News and a Sennett comedy.

PENDLETON HILL

Ernest Goss and son have moved to North Stonington village. They will be greatly missed by the community where they have lived many years.

Mrs. Sumel Chapman has returned from a visit in Detroit City.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frink of Detroit City were recent visitors at the Chapman homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank [illegible] were recent guests of Putnam friends at Pendleton Hill.

MLLE. LENGLEN LOSES HER MATCH IN MIXED DOUBLES AT WIMBLEDON

Wimbledon, July 5.—(By The A. P.)—Suzanne Lenglen has at last lost one of her many championships in tennis. She was forced this afternoon to give up her claim on the title to the mixed doubles championship of the world, and, what is worse, she lost the honor in two straight sets. She and her partner, Jenn' Washer, the Belgian champion, were defeated, 7-5, 9-3, in the semi-finals by the old tennis team, Randolph Lycett and Miss Elizabeth Ryan, veterans of many a four-racket contest.

It has been so long since Suzanne stepped off the court a loser that her defeat with Washer came as a shock and a sensation to thousands in the stadium, many of whom doubtless had been awaiting that moment when "the unbeatable queen" of the court would be beaten.

Somewhere tonight no doubt statisticians are trying to remember when, if ever, Mlle. Lenglen had previously dropped two sets. It never has happened in the singles, at least since the French girl became a person of renown. She was gracious in defeat this afternoon, first shaking hands with her partner and then with her opponents, with whom she walked off the court, chatting gaily.

Washer is a left-handed player and this was the first year Mlle. Lenglen had him for a partner, she having won last year with Patrick O'Hara Wood, of Australia. They did not seem to work together easily. Certainly not with an understanding of what the other would do in the way Lycett and Miss Ryan did. Suzanne had to handle some hit drives; a few of these she smashed into the net; others she drove beyond the boundary, but what was most surprising was that her shots which usually fall just inside the lines in deep back court kept falling outside this afternoon.

Tomorrow afternoon in the Center Court Mlle. Lenglen will meet Miss Kathleen McKane, first ranking English woman player in the finals for the woman singles championship.

There were many other doubles matches today in the Centre court, all of them interesting. Most of them were productive of hard, fast playing.

Vincent Richards and Mrs. Molla Mallory reached the semi-finals in the mixed doubles by squeezing out ahead of W. C. Crawley and Miss Kathleen McKane of England in a three-set match, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, while the dazzling young Frenchman, Lacoste and Borotra, who yesterday eliminated the Americans, Richards and Hunter, were themselves put out in the semi-finals by the Spanish Davis cup players Cout De Gorma and Eduardo Flaquer, in a five-set contest.

REVENUE MEN STRUGGLING WITH FIGHT FINANCES

Shelby, Mont., July 5.—(By The A. P.)—Work of checking the accounts of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight promotors was proceeding slowly here today.

Charles A. Rasmusson, Montana collector of internal revenue announced that considerable work would be entailed in straightening the tangled affairs of the promoters and declared it was problematical when the task would be completed. Jack Kearns already has paid the federal tax on $75,000 worth of tickets. The O'Toole county post of the American Legion is being held accountable for the tax on $50,000 more, and a demand for the tax on the balance of the $224,455 in receipts is also made on Mayor James Johnson, treasurer of the bout; Loy J. Molumby, Montana commander of the American Legion, one of the original promotors and other officials connected with the financial details of the fight.

Films of the fight have considerable commercial value in the opinion of officials here and it was predicted the owners of picture rights will be able to dispose of them for at least $200,000. Jack Dempsey owns 33 1-2 per cent. of the picture rights, Gibbons 25 per cent.; Michael Collins, matchmaker 17 1-2 per cent. and Johnson and Molumby own the balance.

Dempsey's interest in the picture rights were returned to him when Kearns agreed to take his chances with the promoters on the gate receipts in the collection of the third $100 000 of the champion's guarantee.

Early in the negotiations Saturday preceding the bout it was announced that the money had been raised under an agreement in which Kearns surrendered the film rights.

On Monday, when the payment was due, according to the contract, the money was not forthcoming in accordance with Saturday's agreement, all negotiations were called off by Geo. Stanton, Great Falls banker and Major J. E. Lane, trustee of the promoters, and Kearns still retained the picture rights.

When Kearns went ahead later and made the arrangement for payment of the final sum of the guarantee, it was understood the previous agreement relative to picture rights was void, with the champion still in possession of his original rights in the films under the contract for the bout.

BARAZEN IN OPENING FIELD AT INWOOD

New York, July 5.—(By The A. P.)—Thirty-four amateurs are scattered among the 360 golf stars who will compete for the 1923 American open championship, beginning next Monday at the Inwood Country club, on Long Island.

This was revealed tonight by the United States Gold Association's list of pairings for the qualifying play on the first four days of the tournament. Ninety contestants will tee off on each of the qualifying days. The best eighteen and ties for last place each day gaining the right to compete in the 72-hole championship test Friday and Saturday.

Gene Sarazen, of Briar Cliffe, the defending titleholder, is in the first day's field, paired with Leo Diegel, of Washington. Other prominent pairing in the hospital list are Jock Hutchinson, of Chicago, and Chick Fraser, of Los Angeles; William Melhorn, of Shreveport, La., and Pat O'Hara, of New York; Chick Evans, Chicago amateur star and former open champion, and Jack Burke, of St. Paul. Bob McDonald, of Chicago, and Abe Espinosa, of Oakland, Cal., also will start the first day.

Looking For Games.

The Sterling baseball team would like to arrange games with the Danielson, American Thread Co., New London Independents, Nightingale-Morse or any other fast amateur teams in Eastern Connecticut. William J. Kelly, Manager, Sterling, Conn. Phone 10-3 Moosup division.

Miss MacDonald Wins Title

Buffalo, N. Y., July 5—Miss Mayme MacDonald of Seattle, Washington, won the women's national clay court tennis championship here this afternoon, defeating Miss Lillian Scharman, of Brooklyn, 7-5, 1-6, 6-4, in the final round.

BROWNS TAKE CLOSE GAME FROM WHITE SOX

St. Louis, July 5.—Overcoming a three run lead, St. Louis today won the final contest of the five-game series from Chicago, four to three. Williams' double in the fifth inning, scoring Schliebner, who had singled, and Ezzell, gave the Browns the victory. Ezzell had forced Tobin, who had walked.

QUINN'S SINGLE IN EIGHTH BEATS ATHLETICS

Boston, July 5.—Pitcher John Quinn's single in the eighth inning scored two runs and gave Boston the winning margin in the victory of the Red Sox over Philadelphia by a score of 7 to 5 today. Quinn also singled in the fourth, scoring the first of four runs made in that inning off Hasty with two out. The Athletics made 18 hits but failed to bunch them effectively. WILLARD AND FIRPO IN TIP-TOP CONDITION

New York, July 5.—Jess Willard and Luis Angel Firpo, who will battle in a 12-round match at Boyle's Thirty Acres next Thursday night are close to their best fighting edge. Both plan but a few days more of strenuous work before tapering off. Willard in his gymnasium quarters at Yonkers and the South American in his camp at Long Branch, N. J.

Willard has lost six pounds in the past two weeks of training, tipping the scales today at 240 after eleven rounds of fast sparring work, two at shadow boxing and three rounds each with his trio of sparring partners. His present weight is eight pounds below the figure he said when he knocked out Floyd Johnson two months ago.

The former champion declared he felt at the top of his form right now. His footwork, judgment of distance and defensive skill appeared excellent today as he worked out with Buddy Jackson, negro heavyweight, and Joe White, both of New York and Chief Metoqua, a rangy Indian boxer from Hutchinson, Kansas, not far from Willard's home town.

Firp, though in hard training at the start of his training at Long Branch, as a result of a trip to Cuba and Mexico, has not slackened his program of conditioning. He faces the stiffest test of his rapid ring climb in Willard and his veteran trainer, Jimmy Deforest, has devoted hours daily to improving the big South American's scientific skill and generalship. Today after a road run and private workout under Deforest's direction Firpo went four rounds each with Jack McAuliffe and Bill Tate, his sparring mates.

JEFFRIES NOT TO REFEREE FIRPO-WILLARD BOUT

Trenton, N. J., July 5.—Jim Jeffries, former world heavyweight ring champion will not be permitted by the laws of this state to referee the Firpo-Willard contest at Boyle's Thirty Acres on July 12, State Comptroller Newton Bugbee, New Jersey Boxing Commissioner, announced today. Jeffries is barred from being the third man in the ring by an amendment to the boxing act of 1923 which, said Bugbee, provides that a referee must have lived in the state three years before he is appointed to preside at a fight.

The amendment to the boxing act is the same which stipulates that admission to prize ring contests shall not exceed $15 a head.

MATT DELANEY FEATURE OF GAME AT BATTLEGROUNDS LAST EVENING

(Special to the Bulletin)

Battlegrounds, July 5—The all-around playing of Officer Matt Delaney, old time diamond luminary, featured the East Side Married Men's victory Thursday evening at the Battlegrounds over the Single Men in the first game of the series between these two teams, the Married Men taking the long end of a 12 to 7 score. It was as interesting and spectacular game as any contest ever played on a big league diamond and in spots it was even more brilliant.

Officer Matt's playing deserves the most prominent publicity and anything that can be said in praise of this stalwart officer of the law will be received with joy by his many friends on the Franklin square beat. Matt appeared on the grounds just before Umpire Billy Wright called "play ball". Matt was elegantly clad in a green Palm Beach suit, white collar, blue polka-dot tie and tan shoes. He was enthusiastically received by the multitude that had gathered in anticipation of seeing him perform as a Babe Ruth and Frankie Frisch combined and was assigned to third base by Manager Jumbo James. Off came the straw Kelly exposing Matt's shock of auburn hair to the afternoon rays of a setting sun, making his silken locks glisten like spun gold. Next came the collar and polka-dot tie and finally the Palm Beach coat and then Matt was ready for action. Action is just what Matt supplied and plenty of it. He was everywhere and then nowhere in particular.

In the first inning, however, Matt was responsible for one of the five runs scored by the Henpecks. Matt came to the plate swinging his bat like a shillalah, planted one foot near the plate and the other over somewhere in the next yard. Matt was apparently determined to await out the pitcher. With the count two and three Matt was set to take a healthy clout at the ball, set so solidly that he was unable to get out of the way and the ball hit him right where his automatic usually hangs in its holster. Matt went to first as tickled as a kid with a new toy and finally scored.

His second trip to the plate resulted in an honest-to-goodness hit. Matt on the first ball tried to steal second and on the wild throw dashed as fast as he could for third. He almost made the base but the throw beat him to it latt, seeing himself caught slid and had the base been anchored in ten foot pool it would have been a beautiful dive, one that would have made Annette Kellerman as green with envy as Matt's Palm Beach suit.

In the field Matt played a very consistent game, making several attempts to spear hard drives with his bare hands, a stunt that called forth uncontrolled admiration for his daring and courage. Matt caught two runners sliding into the base but on one attempt Matt made an effort to embrace a hard throw to catch a man and stopped the throw with the pit of his stomach. It was several seconds before Matt could resume his natural breathing with normal regularity. One of the first to congratulate Officer Delaney after the game was Billy Moore, another old time favorite of the diamond. Billy, however, showed his jealousy by meanly suggesting that Matt hereafter play with a chest protector and shin guards and use a glove on each hand. Outside of that Matt played a whale of a game.

Other stars of the game were Rolio Harris, with his 300 pounds of avoirdupois, who played first base until he caught a fast one with his bare hand and then relegated to the outfield. Jumbo James was another who performed brilliantly in the field and at first. Jumbo's base-running was a grotesque combination of high hurdling and broad jumping. Ed Blood played around second base but balls went through his hands like water through a sieve.

For the single men Risley and Boyens were the shining lights together with the pitching of "Buller" Pedace and Harris. "Dutch" Leonard pitched for the Married Men and was the real sensation of the game. The lineups:

Married Men—Riley c, Leonard p, R Harris 1b and rf, Blood 2b, Randall ss, Matt Delaney 3b, Cook lf, Lamphere cf, James rf and 1b.

Single Men—W. Pedace rf and 1b, Risley ss, Woodmansee 2b, Walz lf, Spaulding cf, J. Pedace p and lf, Baker 3b and c, D. Pedace rf, H. Harris p, Boyens c and 3b.

LAST AMERICAN ELIMINATED IN HENLEL REGATTA

Henley-on-Thames, July 5.—(By The A. P.)—The English tradition that the Henley regatta honors should be kept at home were lived up today when the last of the foreigners, including Russell Codman, Jr., Boston sculler was eliminated from the classic Thames carnival.

The Canadian champion, Hilton Belyea, however, perhaps because of his Dominion status, was allowed to remain in competition for the diamond sculls for another day at least in return for his assistance to England's cause today in ousting Dr. Rudolph Bosshard of the Grasshopper club, Zurich, Switzerland.

The United States also had a little share in making the regatta all-British, as the Oxonian W. P. Mellen who stroked the brave Brasenose college eight to victory over the French crew, hails from America.

CAROLINA LEGION SENDS TELEGRAM TO GIBBONS

Greeneville, S. C., July 5.—The south Carolina Department of the American Legion, in convention, voted unanimously today to send a telegram of congratulations to Tom Gibbons of St. Paul for his showing against Jack Dempsey in their heavyweight championship fight at Shelby, Mont.

GOLDIE RAPP IS RELEASED TO FORT WORTH CLUB

Philadelphia, July 5—Goldie Rapp, captain and third baseman of the Philadelphia National League team, was released today to the Forth Worth club of the Texas league. Manager Fletcher would make no comment other than that Rapp would be subject to recall at any time.

PROFESSIONAL MEN LOSE TO HARDIG TEAM

In a loose game at the Fairgrounds on Thursday evening the Professional Men lost to the Hardigs 11 to 4. Kirby pitched for the Profs but was given very poor support in the field. The Hardigs played a good game and also hit hard.

Bearcats Trim Troop 4.

The undefeated Bearcats of Taftville made it eight straight games Wednesday morning by defeating Troop 4, on the Providence Street grounds, by the score of 7 to 4. Dudeck, who pitched for the Bearcats, had the better of Peloquin of Troop 4. The Bearcats lineup is as follows: S. Franaski lf, F. J. Phalen 1b, P. Franaski 2b, C. Lamoreux c, Mish 2b, Lemeiux ss, Dudeck p, Benoit cf, and R. Yerrington rf.

DEMPSEY BREAKS CAMP AND RETURNS HOME

The champion expects to be in New York by August 1, ready to resume training for a title match with either Harry Wills, the negro heavyweight, or the winner of the Luis Firpo-Jess Willard fight. Dempsey understands that Jack Kearns, his manager, already has opened negotiation for these bouts.

Dempsey was in high spirits, joking with the big crowd that came down to the station to see him off. His right eye was only slightly discolored and the cut over his left eye was starting to heal nicely. The champion bore no other marks as a result of his fifteen round battle.

The training camp was deserted today. The 21-room old brick house resembled a deserted, haunted house. Bernard Dempsey, a brother of the champion, was the only occupant of the place. He shuffled from one room to another, picking up the odds and ends of training equipment.

TAFTVILLE A. A. CANCELS GAME WITH NORWICH TEAM

Owing to the loss of Morin to the Taftville A. A. the management of the club has called off the proposed game with the Norwich club for the time being at least Manager O'Leary tried to get the team to go through with the game for Sunday but the Taftville management couldn't see it and Manager O'Leary thinks it is a case of cold feet. However, the local management tried to get the Riverview club for Sunday but late last evening Manager Donovan informed the Bulletin that his team would not be able to play on Sunday.

Baltic A. A. Wants Saturday Game

The Baltic A. A. wants a game for Saturday afternoon either in Baltic or out of town. A game had been arranged with Hebron but the game was called off. Manager Collins would like to hear from the management of the New London team that offered him a game in New London on Sunday.

FULLER PITCHES GOOD BALL AGAINST WORCESTER

Waterbury, Conn., July 5.—Though struck in the head with a ball thrown by Shay and knocked unconscious after he had made a two base hit in the sixth inning, Wheeler Fuller continued to pitch brilliantly, allowing only five scattered singles and no earned runs. Waterbury hit "Swede" Lindstrom hard, making 16 hits and winning 11 to 1. Score by innings:

	R	H	E
Worcester	000 000 010	1	5
Waterbury	020 111 42x	11	16

Lindstrom and Cosmeau, Nagle; Fuller and Bailey.

Two base hits, Donahue 2, Bailey 2; Fuller, Kane, Three base hit, Clanton.

CANADIAN OFFER FOR A DEMPSEY-GIBBONS BOUT

Port Arthur, Ont., July 5.—The Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce will make a bid for the hold... in this city of a return heavyweight championship bout between champion Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons, the Chamber's president announced today.

Members of the Port Arthur Chamber, it was said, believe Port Arthur would be an ideal site for a championship bout, pointing out that it is served by three transcontinental railway lines and is connected with practically all the large centers of Canada, as well as the United States, by rail water or both.

HARTFORD BEATS HILLIES IN FINAL INNINGS

Pittsfield, Mass., July 5.—Hartford scored four runs in the last two innings and defeated Pittsfield 6 to 4 here today. Two doubles and two singles gave the visitors three runs in the eighth. Score by innings:

Pittsfield	1 1 0 0 2 0 0 0 0	4	10	1

Swaney, Canavan, Betts and Redman; Batchelder and M. Wilson.

Two base hits, Swaney, Hesse, Cosgrove, Batchelder.

GIBBONS RECEIVES OFFER FROM TOM O'ROURKE

Shelby, Mont., July 5.—Eddie Kane, Tom Gibbon's manager, said he had received tentative offers from Tom O'Rourke, matchmaker, for a bout for Gibbons in the Polo Grounds, New York, Aug. 2, against the first available opponent and for a return match with Chuck Wiggins, of Indianapolis, whom Gibbons knocked out recently.

Several vaudeville offers also have been received and Kane declared Gibbons probably would go on the stage for a short period.

BOYLE'S THIRTY ACRES IS NOT UNSAFE

Jersey City, N. J., July 5.—Boyles Thirty Acres is not unsafe and any minor repairs that may be necessary to put the fight arena in first class condition can be made before July 12, the date of the Luis Firpo-Jess Willard match.

This statement was made today by City Commissioner John Saul, contradicting previous reports that the arena was in dangerous condition.

Promoter Tex ... authorized any repairs that may be necessary.

BOB QUINN WILL BE PRESIDENT OF RED SOX

St. Louis, Mo., July 5.—Bob Quinn will become president of the Boston Americans if the transfer of the club from Harry Frazee to a Columbus, Ohio, syndicate is consummated, it was announced here this afternoon. Mr. Quinn expressed the belief the transfer would be made.

What About It, Mr. Collins?

Manager Harry Weisner of the Norwich A. A. wishes to know just how many games Manager Collins has scheduled for the Baltic team for Sunday. Mr. Weisner claims his club is slated to play in Baltic on Sunday and yet Manager Collins says that the Baltic team is to play in New London. What kind of a deal is Mr. Collins giving the Norwich team? asks Manager Weisner.

The sense of touch is dullest in the back.

CRIQUI TO RETURN TO FRANCE FOR BENEFIT BOUT

New York, July 5.—Eugene Criqui will return to France on August 2 regardless of the outcome of the battle on the night of July 26 at the polo grounds, where he will defend his world's featherweight title against Johnny Dundee of New York. In event of victory, however, Criqui has agreed to return to the United States within thirty days to box Jack Bernstein. Carl Tremaine, or any other featherweight challengers.

The Frenchman will return to Paris solely for the purpose of appearing in a benefit show for war veterans.

Criqui will begin active training for his match with Dundee tomorrow at Manhasset, Long Island.

Fight Pictures Flying East.

Bismarck, N. D., July 5.—Two aviators carrying fight pictures from Shelby to the East arrived in Bismarck this morning and hopped off for Minneapolis this afternoon.

Bird Population on Increase.

Counts made by the bureau of biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture, show that birds in the agricultural districts in the northeastern part of the country average slightly more than a pair to the acre, though in parts of the arid West and on the treeless plains this number dwindles to an average of half a pair, or less, to the acre.

Gold is mentioned in the eleventh verse of the second chapter of Genesis, 4004 years before Christ.

CELEBRATING THE FOURTH.

Burning barrels is an old custom in Norwich in connection with the observance of Thanksgiving day. Up in Peabody, Mass., it is made an interesting feature of the Fourth of July celebration with the day being ushered in by the burning of an immense pile of barrels at midnight of the third. Peabody may not assemble more barrels but it goes about it in an organized manner as a part of the city's celebration and stacks all the barrels in one great tower instead of burning them on poles at various points about the city.

Norwich can well appreciate what a spectacular feature is thus provided, in addition to its band concerts, athletic contest, fireworks, display and souvenir program, but whatever the form of the celebration Peabody has come to recognize the value from the publicity standpoint of a home celebration each year on the anniversary of the nation's birth.

The city that provides attractions on such an occasion gives tangible evidence of a keen public interest in home activities. It indicates a desire to provide proper entertainment for those who cannot and do not care to get away for the day. It displays an interest in the anniversary that might well be manifested in many more communities and it makes it apparent to former residents or those of other cities that such a city is a live and progressive municipality.

There is an advertising value attached thereto that goes far beyond the day's entertainment. Cities which display such an interest in matters of that kind can be expected to be constantly alert to all matters of public welfare. It discloses a public spirit that is not only highly commendable but most desirable. Peabody has unquestionably established a reputation for its efforts in this direction. It means work but anything that results in such cooperation as such celebrations require is a wonderful stimulant. Peabody sets an example that many others might follow with profitable results.

STUDYING IMMIGRATION.

Others have made a study of the conditions in Europe relative to the question of immigration. It is by no means a new idea and yet there is much that Secretary Davis of the department of labor, under whose department immigration is handled, may learn through getting in close touch with the problem from the other side.

In connection with immigration the aim must continue to be to get the desirables and to keep out the undesirables, and in making the selection, even under the existing restriction requirements, the importance of overcoming such injustices as exist from permitting those who would but cannot enter to come to our doors before being told that it is impossible cannot be overlooked.

Secretary Davis in speaking of the immigration question declares that the time has come for the formulation of a truly American immigration policy, not a foreign policy dictated by foreign steamship companies. He seeks a policy formulated by this government in the interest of the United States and declares "The time has come for use to say whom we shall take in, and the time has gone when they shall say whom they shall send to us."

No one expects that it is all going to be settled by a trip to Europe. If new light, or in fact any aid, can be gained from getting in touch with the conditions abroad it is of course desirable.

Immigration laws must be expected to change whenever it is found desirable to strengthen the American policy. New legislation was sought in the last session of congress and it is to be expected that similar efforts will be made when congress assembles again. Secretary Davis already has indicated his views in regard to such but if he can dig up facts in Europe that will serve to strengthen them or facts that will indicate that proposed steps would be unwise or impractical it is what is needed before any further action is taken. That he will get some valuable information from a personal study is to be expected.

ANTI-LYNCH FIGHTERS.

Information that comes to the effect that the proponents of the Dyer anti-lynching bill are preparing to wage a determined fight for the bill in the session of congress that opens in December will come as no surprise. That the bill was not passed at the last session of congress has not discouraged those who are convinced that there should be such legislation and they are planning to renew their effort with increased vigor.

There are those who believe that the reduction that has been experienced in the number of lynching cases thus far this year has been due in some degree at least to the agitation in behalf of the federal law against it. Whether that is the case or not, here is no getting away from the fact that there can be no condoning the fact that too much mob rule exists and in the interest of law and order it should be stopped.

Agitation always does much in an educational way. Perhaps the people in the states in which lynching doesn't experience as much opposition as it should have had their thoughts turned toward the subject more acutely and been called upon think a bit of the other side of the matter because of the Dyer bill. Possibly they have begun to realize more clearly why there are those who oppose such murder and lawlessness.

It is through keeping a movement alive and active that publicity is gained that results in a vast amount of unknown studying of the subject. There is no telling what will become of the Dyer bill before the next congress. It may be dealt with by filibusterers or it may be acted upon quickly and decisively one way or another. Those who believe the interests of the nation require such a law are still loyal to the cause when they decide to stand by their guns and ask for action. If such efforts can put an end to lynching the result is worth striving for.

WHICH IS BETTER?

There were those communities on Wednesday that observed the Fourth of July without giving much of any thought to protection of the individuals. Perhaps they regarded it as having a real old fashioned celebration of Independence day. Invariably it was in such communities that the day developed not a few cases of injuries from cannon explosions, fingers blown off, hands and faces filled with powder and in fact sufficient business for the doctors and the firemen to make it fully evident to more than those directly involved that it was a celebration of the olden type with all its deplorable features.

In contrast therewith there were plenty of instances where cities followed the safe and sane policy. There was no lack of celebration. There was plenty of noise, but there was lacking those distressing instances where children are mutilated for life and painfully injured if not disabled. In such places the day after was not a day of regrets. Those who are intact have nothing to grieve over. They had just as good a time as the others who were injured, and they have no penalty to pay for recklessness.

The difference in the trouble resulting from the Fourth in the respective communities displays the exact difference between the old time celebrations and the safe and sane policy that has gained such widespread approval. It is not hard to decide which is the better.

SHELBY'S EXPERIENCE.

Shelby, Montana, has had an experience. Shelby got the idea that it wanted a big fight, the kind staged in roped arenas. It gathered the idea that it would get a lot of favorable advertising out of it and it was prepared to make considerable sacrifice. It doubtless entertained the notice that it would also be able to make a lot of money from such a gathering as would be attracted, various estimates at many times the size of the town. The enthusiasm that was manifested over the idea caused some to dig deep. They got out their gold and they lost it. In the days after there is opportunity for sober reflection. It may be admitted that it was a great fight. Not all were satisfied, but from the standpoint of Shelby and the motive back of the plan to get the fight there, did it pay?

Shelby hoped to spring into everlasting prominence. There were some who had visions that it would become a boom town. There wasn't any thought of the possibility of not being able to meet requirements. Instead of everything moving along smoothly in accord with early dreams there were some embarrassments which did not bring the kind of advertising desired. The crowd and the fighters have come and gone. Shelby can now settle back into the rut of former days. Those who live there will never be able to get over talking about it. But it would be interesting to know just what Shelby itself thinks it has gained by its big effort, its sacrifice as a community and as individuals. Shelby, however, has had its experience. It can now settle back into that quietude that previously characterized it, and it in turn will be forgotten except as its experiences in connection with the big fight are referred to and then it will probably be Montana and not Shelby that will be referred to.

DISCOVERING FOLKS.

(The girl with the naturally glowing cheeks and bright eyes speaks over the telephone.)

"That you Daw'thy? 'Hello, funny! Sure, you are? You're a scream! How are you? That's fine.

"Just swell. Say, girlie, I got sumpin to tell you. Ain't it funny now sometimes you think you're reel well acquainted with folks and then you find out they're real kind of different? Say, kid, lookit. Where do you think me and Al was the other day?

"Oh, fade away, dearie. We ain't been to no dances I don't know when. Say, darling, listen. We was over to my sister's, her that lives, you know, kind of way out on the south side and got the couple of cute kids and everything.

"Say, you know I always had a reel kind of a funny feeling about Al—him being such a nifty dresser and such a swell dancer and everything. I felt kind of like he'd think we was just doing nothing, only playing with the kids and kind of kidding each other along. So I just never said nothing much about them living out there, nor the kids nor nothing.

"But, say, the other night when we was comin' out of the movies I guess I kind spoke something about the kids or something, and right off Al he says: 'Say,' he says, 'I didn't know you had no kids in your bunch,' he says. 'Gee,' he says, 'I'm crazy about kids,' he says. 'How about you steering me out there Sunday and me giving 'em the once over?'

"I says, 'Sure, if you want to take your Sunday afternoon off fussing around with a bunch of kids.' I says, 'it's your hard luck,' I says. 'But it's all right with me,' I says. 'I'll steer you ,' I says.

"He give me an awful funny look. And that's why I says ain't it funny how you don't reely know nothing about folks sometimes when you think you're reel well acquainted with them? Now, you take Al and me, see? I guess all the time he was thinking I wasn't nothing but a kinda crazy slinker and I thought he wasn't reel strong for nothing but jazz and movies and like that.

"Sunday afternoon we beat it out there all righty, and it sure did look grand. The house ain't no bigger'n a peanut and they ain't got no swell furniture nor not even no phonograph or nothing.

"Hazul, that's my sister, she had on one of these here, now kitchenette dresses and she looked reel cute and swell, and the kids was dressed in their rompers and their dad was down on the floor with 'em, see, kinda, you know, rough-housin' with 'em reel nice and gentle, and, say, it was cute's a bug's ear.

"Did Al fall for em? I'll say he did. And when supper time come and me and Hazul beat it out to the kitchen to get it and I dressed up in one of Hazul's aperns like I always do, and started to make the biscuits and he was sitting in the other room holding the little kid on his lap like it was the best thing he done, I seen him kinda give me the double O like he hadn't never seen me reel good before. Say, kid, it made me feel awful funny. I'll say it did.

"And, say, kid, lookit. When supper was ready and we all begun to sit down to the table and both the young ones asked couldn't they sit next to me and everything like they always do, he give me the once-over again.

"And after supper I beat it upstairs like I always do when I'm there and put the kids to bed and then I come down and we cleaned up, the whole four of us. And then we sat down and just kinds, you know, talked forth and back and had a swell time doing nothing like you do when there's just a bunch of folks that's reel congenial and all and then we beat it for home.

"And, say, kid, listen. Al he didn't say nothing much until we got off the elevated and started to walk home and then he says like I, you know, told you—about how you guess you know all about folks and then you find out they're reel kinds different to what you thought they was, and he says he hadn't never knew I was like he seen me acting that night.

"And, say, kid, listen. I guess by the time I got home I didn't know if I was laughing or crying. It seemed so kinda, you know, crazy, either of not knowing what each other reely fell for hard—and, say, kid, wouldn't it make you die?

"And Al he says if we hadn't of went out there like we done he sure would of put the soft pedal on asking me. But we ain't goin' to wait so awful long, see? Maybe June or May.

"And, say, kid, lookit. Ain't it, you know, funny how things happen sometimes? And swell? And, say, girlie, listen, Al, he thinks so, too. That's what I 'phoned to tell you."

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

"If at first you don't succeed, try try again," seems to be the motto of Robert Smillie, the British labor leader, who has just been elected to parliament after having been an unsuccessful candidate no fewer than seven times. Mr. Smillie who is a Scotsman is a veteran of the trade union movement. He entered the mines at an early age and has devoted most of his life since to a struggle on behalf of the miners. As head of the Miners' Federation, he represented Labor in the Mines Inquiry after the war and displayed such strength that many people said Labor would do well to have him for prime minister if the party came into power. Although now comfortably well off, Mr. Smillie continues to live on the same scale as when a manual laborer, in accordance with a resolution that he would not lead a life different from that of the people among whom he was born.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Lynching Record for the First Six Months, 1923.

Dear Mr. Editor: I send the following information concerning lynchings for the first six months of this year. I find according to the records compiled by Tuskegee Institute in the department of Records and Research, Monroe N. Work in charge, that in the first six months of 1923 there were 15 lynchings. This is 15 less than the number 30 for the first six months of 1922 and 21 less than the number 36 for the first six months of 1921.

Of those lynched, two were whites and thirteen were Negroes. One of the latter was a woman. One of those put to death was charged with the crime of rape. The other offenses charged were: murder, 2; killing officer of the law, 2; no charge reported, 2; assisting man charged with rape to escape, 1; trying to pass for white, 1; resisting posse searching for man charged with rape, 1; participating in depredations connected with railroad strike, 1; cattle stealing, 1; trying to act like white man and not knowing his place, 1.

The states in which lynchings occurred and the number in each state are as follows: Arkansas, 1; Florida, 1; Georgia, 2; Louisiana, 1; Mississippi, 2; Missouri, 1; and Texas, 1.

Yours very truly,
R. R. MOTON,

NINETY-NINE IN THE SHADE

O for a lodge in a garden of cucumbers!
O for an iceberg or two at control!
O for a vale which at mid-day the drew cumbers!
O for a pleasure trip up to the pole!

O for a little one-story thermometer,
With nothing but zeros all ranged in a row!
O for a big double-barreled hygrometer,
To measure this moisture that rolls from my brow!

O that this cold world were twenty times colder!
(That's irony red-hot it seemeth to me);
O for a turn of the dreaded cold shoulder!
O what a comfort an ague would be!

O for a grotto frost-lined and rill-riven,
Scooped in the rock under cataract vast!
O for a winter of discontent even!
O for wet blankets judiciously cast!

O for a soda-fount spouting up boldly
From every hot lamp-post against the hot sky!
O for proud maiden to look on me coldly,
Freezing my soul with a glance of her eye!

Then O for a draught from a cup of cold pizen,
And O for a resting-place in the cold grave!
With a bath in the Styx where the thick shadow lies on
And deepens the chill of its dark-running wave.

Wives of Famous Men

Many biographers of Felix Mendelssohn, great German composer, have been rather unkind to his wife. Some of them have gone to great pains to point out that she did not take advantage of the opportunity to spur her husband to even greater achievements.

These accusations are unjust. Cecile Charlotte Sophie Jeanrenaud was a woman of exquisite refinement, of high principles and of great tact. Had Mendelssohn been a man who needed inspiration, who could be spurred on, whose genius was lagging because of the lack of self-encouragement and ambition, Cecile would no doubt have risen to the necessity. But Mendelssohn worked intiringly until his health broke down under the strain and Cecile probably saved him to the world for a good many years by her restraining influence and her continuous cautioning not to expose his frail constitution to more hardships.

The two met at Frankfort in 1836 while Mendelssohn, who at that time, was a resident in Berlin, was conducting a symphony orchestra in that city, and in March of the following year they were married.

Mrs. Mendelssohn accompanied her husband on all the arduous tours which took him no less than eleven times to England and on many other occasions to more distant countries.

She nursed him faithfully during the illness which incapacitated him for months following the shock of his sister's death, again after his mother had passed on it became Cecile' duty to minister to the stricken composer during a period of invalidism which extended over several years.

Though a very sick man at that time Mendelssohn insisted upon keeping his concert engagements and contemporaries tell touching stories of the maternal care which the wife betsowed upon her suffering husband when in 1847 he insisted upon making another trip to Great Britain in order to conduct his "Elijah" while a score of physicians implored him not to take it.

Mendelssohn died in the same year and his wife, though a young woman, courted by many remained faithful to his memory and never wedded again.

Stories That Recall Others

A Salad Bed.

Felix is a lovable little chap of almost four whose parents bought him a Shetland pony. A few days ago Felix was watching the pony while it enjoyed the tender green grass in the back yard. But soon the pony was attracted by a fine lettuce bed in the neighbor's garden nearby, and he started for it. Felix tugged at the reins and coaxed, but to no avail. Dropping the rein, he rushed into the house calling: "Mother, come quick. Hurry! Hurry! The pony is in her salad bed."

If Cows Only Could

Some of the road working gang were accustomed to go to a farmhouse for milk. In telling about it the farmer said: "The foreigners were usually the ones to come after milk. One day two came over. They waited until we filled their order, and then one o fthem said, 'Let me have some from that cow that gives buttermilk.'"

At 61 Donnelly Can Turn a Hand Spring And Chin the Bar Twelve Times.

Charles H. Donnelly, 1358 Pleasant street, New Bedford, Mass., an all round athlete and holder of a number of long distance walking records, is another who invites personal inquiry regarding his experience with the Tanlac treatment. He says:

"For over two years I never had a well day, and stomach trouble and rheumatism hurt me so bad I finally got too weak to work and was just an old man, stiffened up with rheumatism and getting older mighty fast.

"But I've gained 15 pounds by taking Tanlac and feel like a king. I am now 62 years 'young,' not old, for I can turn a hand-spring, jump eight feet from a standing position or 'chin the bar' a dozen times. If anyone doubts what I say, I'll be glad to prove it to them if they'll just call at 1358 Pleasant Street."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

PRESTON COUPLE THROWN FROM AUTO WHEN NEW JERSEY CAR HITS THEM

Henry Spervock and his wife, residents of Preston, were thrown from their automobile Thursday night on Preston Plains, but only slightly hurt, when their machine was hit from the rear by a New Jersey car driven by H. R. Wheeler of 194 Ames avenue, Lima, N. J.

Spervock reported that he was traveling at about 18 or 20 miles an hour and was on the right of the road when the New Jersey car came along at a speed of about 40 miles an hour and ran into him, stopping about 200 or 300 feet beyond the point of collision. The Spervock car was badly damaged, but its two occupants got off with slight injuries, Mr. Spervock received scratched and bruised hands and his wife minor injuries to her feet.

Wheeler, who said he was insured, will settle the damages through the insurance company.

Ran Onto Sidewalk

Fred D'Atri of 33 North Main street was driving in an automobile along that street near Tenth street Thursday night about 8.30 when a machine ahead of him made a turn into Tenth street. To save a collision D'Atri also made the turn into Tenth street, going up onto the sidewalk. Three women there scattered and ran as they saw the car coming and ran fell, scratching her arm and knee. Dr. J. W. Callahan attended her injuries which were slight.

PASSENGER HITS CURB—WHEN AUTOMOBILE UPSETS

(Special to The Bulletin)

Jewett City, July 5.—Albert Duda driving, with John Burda on the seat beside him, were coming down Tracy avenue in the Jewett City bottling company's truck, shortly before 5 o'clock this afternoon. At the curve where Tracy avenue comes into Mathewson street and while moving at pretty good speed a blow-out occurred. Duda was unable to handle the machine, and after a series of erratic dives from curb to curb it overturned. Burda was thrown out and struck the curb. Dr. F. E. Rainville who was summoned, found the man covered with blood which came from two bad wounds on his head. Being unconscious, and in an evidently serious condition, the doctor had Burda taken to John Post's lawn nearby and telephoned to Norwich for the Backus hospital ambulance, which arrived in record time, and the man was removed to that institution. Dr. Rainville was unable to tell whether Burda would live or not. Adam Rojeski righted the machine, and it being in the Ford wonder class, it limped away under its own power.

Burda was treated at the hospital for severe lacerations and bruises of the face and head but his condition was not considered serious although he remained unconscious up to a late hour.

ARGUMENTS FOR TROLLEY EXTENSION TO MAPLEWOOD

A Norwich Chamber of Commerce committee conferred at noon Thursday at the Wauregan house with President L. S. Storrs of the Connecticut Street Railway company over the possibilities of an extension of the West Side trolley line to Maplewood cemetery.

Those who met Mr. Storrs were President H. M. Lerou, Secretary J. J. O'Rourke, H. H. Gallup, John McWilliams, G. S. Raymond and S. B. Palmer, the last three being officers of the Maplewood Cemetery association. Local Manager Samuel Anderson and Transportation Superintendent A. D. Blake of the trolley road also attended the conference.

On their part the local men enlarged upon the increasing travel through visitors to the cemetery which may be expected as interments increase. There are now 1,700 graves in the cemetery. The increase in new dwelling houses in this section of the town was also pointed out and the probability that trolley accommodations would mean more building.

President Storrs spoke of the expenditure of about $27,000 that the trolley company is making in the Laurel Hill avenue improvement and of the reluctance of the company to incur further financial expenditures. It was roughly estimated that the Maplewood cemetery extension might cost $10,000 to $12,000. A legal point that makes a question is the right of the trolley road to build an extension without permission from the legislature. This will be considered by the legal department of the Connecticut company and President Storrs will bring the whole matter before the next meeting of the directors of the company.

PARK CHURCH SCOUTS WIN FIELD DAY TROPHY

The competition between Troops No. 12 of the Park Congregational church and No. 20 of the Norwich Town Community troop, in the annual field day events of the Norwich Scouts, held on the morning of the Fourth at Chelsea parade, resulted in a close score and at first it was announced that Troop No. 20 had won the trophy for the troop whose scouts scored the most points.

A re-check of the figures showed that Troop 12 was the winner with 70 points scored. Troop 20 ran a close second with 69 points while Troop 5 came third with 24 points.

The judges in rendering a final decision made public the following announcement:

In view of the fact of the manly, sportsmanlike and keen competition of the participants of Troop No. 20 against Troop No. 12, an older and more experienced troop, it is the decision of the judges that a second trophy be awarded to the members of Troop No. 20 in recognition of their efforts.

Norwich Dahlias For Bridgeport Park.

Several weeks ago Major Lafayette E. Evans of Bridgeport, presented Beardsley Park in that city, two choice dahlia tubers, to be set out in honor of his brother, Dr. John H. Evans, for whom these tubers were originally given his full name.

The tubers grown from seedlings in the Fanning Park dahlia gardens on Oneco street, were presented to the Evans family, through the courtesy of Mrs. Roswell J. Brown. While yet in its infancy this Dr. John H. Evans dahlia which is a very dark red decorative, an immense beauty in any garden; is one of the many gorgeous specimens raised by Mrs. Brown.

Dr. Evans, assisted by his wife, is filling a two years' contract with the Near East Relief, having been stationed for several months at Erivan, though recent information disclosed that Dr. and Mrs. Evans were to be transferred to another location about July 1. The time expires for them to return to the United States, in the spring of 1924.

Punderson of New York. After the meeting adjournment was taken to the Hartford club, where luncheon was had, beginning with a toast to George Washington, the first president of the general society.

CHARGED WITH EVADING RESPONSIBILITY FOR DAMAGE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, July 5.—Captain of Police Charles A. Pinney late this afternoon apprehended Dr. S. Schaeffer of New York, but spending the summer at 69 Stuart avenue, Ocean Beach, charged with evading responsibility. Dr. Schaeffer will be given a hearing in the police court tomorrow morning. Schaeffer's arrest was the result of W. D. Nagle of 44 Washington street complaining to the police on Tuesday that the New York automobile struck his truck while the latter car was parked on Pequot avenue and that the driver of the colliding auto drove away without stopping to ascertain what damage had resulted. Nagle secured the registration of the colliding car and this afternoon Captain Pinney espied it on the street and caused Schaeffer's arrest.

Mrs. Terence O'Brien of 23 Colver street complained to the police this evening that while her automobile was parked on State street, between Green and Union streets, a car bearing registration 97-756collided with her auto and the driver of the colliding car evaded responsibility by not stopping to ascertain the extent of the damage he had occasioned.

A MULTITUDE OF WOMEN RECOMMEND IT

The strongest recommendation possible for any medicine to have is the sound testimony borne by the vast multitude of women who have used it. It has been proved that 98 out of every 100 women once ill with ailments that caused suffering and despair have been restored to the joys of health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This marvelous record shows its power over the ills of women, and the letters of recommendation we are continually publishing in this paper should induce every ailing woman to try it.

WARNING!

Solicitors for various magazines, appear during the summer season, some legitimate, others apparently so, result — many people with sympathetic purpose part with their money and after a few months realize that fakirs have worked them.

The Crowell Publishing Company publishers of American Magazine, Woman's Home Companion and Mentor, three of the best magazines in the country, offer through us, the safest service known. Their representatives are courteous and gentlemanly young men, who seek, not to appeal to your sympathies, but rather to present the value of the magazines and the service to you. Their plan is known as the HOME DELIVERY SERVICE.

You pay only on delivery, and your magazines are delivered each month by the local distributor—for Norwich, JOHN J. SHEA, Shea's News Bureau, the best known magazine store in Eastern Connecticut, which is a guarantee of reliability and service.

We can care for ALL your magazine wants, and can MEET OR BEAT, ANY LEGITIMATE OFFER made by others.

Our warning, therefore, is that you be wary, and that the only persons now in town entitled to our guarantee, are The Crowell Publication Representatives, and all orders given them will receive careful attention.

Remember the names, American Magazine, Woman's Home Companion Mentor.

For service and satisfaction, try our Home Delivery Service.

This Great Merchandising Event is looked forward to by thousands of people of Norwich and vicinity as the one time in the summer season, when they can select the choicest seasonable and staple merchandise at practically wholesale, and in many instances at below manufacturer's costs.

This Annual Factory End Sale is so comprehensive in character, of such magnitude and so replete with real economies that it has become a store institution. A Factory End Sale is just what its name implies—A sale of short lengths, full pieces and surplus stocks of manufacturers. Every manufacturer has these lots—but they are so desirable that it is hard to get them. It took several months to arrange for and select these Factory Ends, but we feel amply repaid for the time spent and labor expended.

Factory End Values will be greater than ever this season. Due to existing conditions, manufacturers have given us greater concessions than ever before—and we are making larger reductions on our regular stocks of merchandise. It is without question the greatest economy event of the entire season, for the people of Eastern Connecticut. This advertisement can't begin to cover the magnitude and scope of this value-giving. You must come to the store, and see and examine the goods themselves to thoroughly appreciate the values.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Indiscreet use of booze and gasoline, late on the night of the Fourth, furnished business for the town court on Thursday morning. In one case Edward Bodeau of Goodyear appeared before Judge W. Fenner Woodward to answer to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, and reckless driving. Bodeau wasn't prepared to admit the charge and pleaded not guilty, but evidence was introduced to establish his guilt and he was found guilty on both counts, the assessment against him amounting to $142.

Attention of the state police were attracted to Bodeau shortly after 10 o'clock on the night of the Fourth when the little closed car he was driving crashed into another machine—a closed Ford—owned by William E. Beaudry, of Jewett City. The crash was on a curve on the state highway between Danielson and Wauregan, near the point where a side road goes out, leading to Quinebaug lake. Beaudry gave Bodeau the whole width of the highway—which is generously wide at this particular point—and finally drove his car part way up the embankment at the side of the highway to escape being hit, but the Bodeau car plowed into his machine just the same and damaged it badly. Riding with Bodeau was John Cassidy of Voluntown. He also was in court on Thursday morning and was found guilty of being intoxicated and was fined $5 and costs a total of $17. He could not pay and went to jail.

Following Thursday's session of the town court Mr. Beaudry instituted a suit of $500 against Bodeau, a civil action, for damage to his car.

Another man who was fined a total of $142 for having driven recklessly while intoxicated was Wilfred Parr of Moosup, operator of a public service vehicle. Parr was breezing along at a speed in excess of the legal limit, late on the night of the Fourth, between Danville and Wildwood park, when officer Merrill Keith of the state police set out after him and placed him under arrest. In court Thursday morning he was represented by Attorney J. J. Desmond of Norwich. A demurrer was entered in behalf of Parr, but this was overruled and the accused failed to plead over.

In addition to the fines that were imposed against them, Bodeau and Parr will have their licenses suspended, on account of having been convicted of operating motor vehicles while under the influence of an intoxicant.

On account of the fact that he was the speaker at the commencement exercises of Killingly High school the past month, there will be widespread local interest in the publicity that Boston papers are giving to the fact that Rev. J. C. Massee, pastor of Tremont Temple is absent from the convention of the Baptist Young People of America. A Boston paper Thursday stated that it is understood that Dr. Massee has not been invited to attend the convention and it is hinted that the reason therefor is his tendency to discuss sex problems from the pulpit of his church. The convention is being held in Tremont Temple and is to continue through five days, delegates being in attendance from all parts of the country.

An article appearing in a Boston paper Thursday states that it is the first time a home pastor has been absent from a national convention since the organization was formed. Dr. Frederick E. Peterson, a member of the congregation of Tremont Temple, was quoted in news stories published in Boston Thursday as stating that many of the young people of the church were not favorable to Dr. Massee's frequent sermons on the sixth commandment and that many of the delegates would have liked to have the pastor present to deliver the welcoming address.

Dr. Peterson was further quoted in press article Thursday as saying: "It is recognized that a certain faction of the church is not in sympathy with Dr. Massee's propensity to speak on adultery. We have reason to believe he was a little cool at the convention coming to Boston and to Tremont Temple."

Leonard H. Rhoades, chairman of the executive committee of the church, was a staunch defender of Dr. Massee. He is quoted as saying: "I know of no dissatisfaction with Dr. Massee's preaching. Why, the whole church worships the man. We never have had more conversions or more men added to the church than since Dr. Massee came, and this is due to his powerful preaching."

Nearly 10,000 delegates are attending the convention. Dr. Massee, who is on his vacation, is said to be in Iowa.

Drivers of scores of cars have stopped on the steep hill near South Killingly, since the fatal accident occurred there on the afternoon of the Fourth, to inspect the location. And of the scores of other cars that came along soon after the accident occurred, occupants were shocked by the tragedy, many of the women breaking down and crying. The funeral of Miss Walsh, who was killed almost instantly, will be held in Providence today. In addition to her parents and her sister, Mary, who was driving the car, she leaves two brothers, James and John, the latter a divinity student at Ocean City, near Washington, where he will be ordained as a priest of the Dominican order next year.

Something that the police are going to try to impress on the minds of many drivers of motor cars is that the safety lanes painted across the street in the business section are to be respected and that they must not be crossed at excessive rates of speed. The lanes are there for the protection of pedestrians and should be respected. Incidentally, the lanes are no place across which to park a car, unless car owners who do this thing want to leave the doors of their machines open so that people can walk through them.

That there are many angles to every situation is again demonstrated by the story that a bootlegger's supply of booze was imperilled when the accident occurred near South Killingly on the afternoon of the Fourth. The particular car he was driving went "dead" for the time being when he was held up on Dark Lantern hill, while trying to evade traffic that was jamming the highway on account of the accident a mile beyond. At an opportune moment the cases of booze were unloaded and hidden in nearby woods and left there under guard, it is said, until the car was ready to run again and a favorable opportunity of re-loading presented itself.

The car in question had a Rhode Island registration.

Rev. E. A. Legg, formerly pastor of Danielson Methodist Episcopal church and now pastor at Stafford Springs, was a visitor in Danielson Thursday. Mrs. Legg accompanied him and they made a visit with the members of his former Sunday school who were at Wildwood park for their annual outing and then went on to the tri-county Y. M. C. A. camp at Black Pond in Woodstock, where some Staff of Springs boys are staying for two weeks.

PUTNAM

There will be a record breaking crowd at the Elks' fair this (Friday) evening to greet and listen to an address by Governor Templeton, for tonight is Governor's night. The governor will be a guest at dinner of the Putnam Rotary club, before he appears at the fair. While a little rain fell on the Fourth, it was not enough to collect rain insurance and in the evening there were five thousand people on the grounds. With good weather tonight and Saturday night the fair of 1923 will surpass in attendance and receipts that of a year ago.

There seems to be a little prospect of any new blocks going up in Putnam right away. Louis Wolf stated Thursday that he and S. Kaminsky had given up any idea of building on their property on Main street for the present on account of the high cost of building at this time. There are rumors that other blocks are to be started but nothing definite regarding this can be gathered from those directly interested in the properties bought for building purposes.

While the highway to Pomfret, now under process of construction, is passable, many automobile drivers prefer going a longer way round than taking the hazard of possibly having to drive out into the loose crushed stone with which the roadway is being stopped.

The family of Dr. Frederick T. Baldwin is encamped in a cottage on an island in Webster lake, the doctor going back and forth morning and night.

Richard Holmes of Worcester spent the holiday with his grandmother, Mrs. A. W. Macdonald of Oak Hill.

The mill of the H. K. H. Silk company is closed down for the week and will start up again Monday morning.

Peter A. Gardner acted as chef for a small gathering of friends on the shore of Keech's pond, the Fourth. A clambak was the chief feature of the outing. Among those in the party were Howard Brown and wife, Mr. Brown's son and wife, Charles Nichols and Walter D. Torrey.

A largely attended wedding of two Putnam young people was solemnized at St. Mary's church at nine o'clock, Wednesday morning, when Miss Rose Faille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Narcisse Faille, became the bride of Arthur LaRose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Damas LaRose.

As the wedding march was played by Miss Elizabeth Byrne, organist, the bridal party entered the church, the bride walking with her father preceded by an escort of members of the Children of Mary of which organization the bride is a member. The bridegroom was also accompanied by his father. The bridesmaid was Miss Blanche Mouir and the best man Alfeas Martin. The nuptial ceremony was performed inside the altar rail by Rev. Charles Bedard who also sang the nuptial mass.

The bride wore a white dress and the white veil of the Children of Mary and carried a large bouquet of bride roses. The bridesmaid wore Copenhagen blue with hat to match. There was special singing by a quartette, Miss Louise Mahew, Miss Bertha Pigeon, Joseph Belair and Henry Trudeau. Following the mass a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents after which Mr. and Mrs. LaRose left for a wedding trip following which they will reside in Putnam, where both are well known and popular at the north end of the city.

Newly elected officers of Israel Putnam Lodge of Odd Fellows are: Noble grand, Kenneth C. Sharpe; vice grand, James W. Gifford; recording secretary, Herbert A. Johnson; financial secretary, Lucius H. Fuller; treasurer, Leon T. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bennett and family of Mansfield, Ohio, are guests of Mr. Bennett's mother, Mrs. Frank Bennett, Bellevue street.

A couple from out of the state came to Putnam the Fourth with intentions of getting married but found a serious situation awaiting them. The town clerk was out of the city but even had he been in town the couple could not have accomplished their purpose as they had not given the required five days' notice. Last seen of them they were hivvering back across the Connecticut line.

Dr. Harold A. Foster of New York, a former Putnam boy and a summer resident here, is to hold his annual clinic for the removal of adnoids for tonsils at the Day Kimball hospital for six days beginning August 6th. Every year Dr. Foster operate on a large number of children. He is a recognized authority on the subject and was among the first to perform such operations with the fingers and without the use of instruments.

Mrs. Francis Mignault, 74, for many years a resident of Putnam, died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mignault was born in Canada her, Mrs. N. G. Gobeille, Woonsocket, and was but three years old when her parents removed to Putnam where she has lived ever since. Mr. Mignault died last February. Beside her daughter she leaves a son, Eugene of Putnam and four grandchildren.

The alumni of Woodstock Academy have elected the following officers: President, William C. Child; vice presidents, Ethel Upham, Helen Bewley, Emma Allen, Edmund Atherton, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. William Gallup; executive committee, Principal Maurice F. Child, ex-officio, Rilla Child, Albert Williams, Edwin Wilcox; editor Woodstock Academy Gleaner, Mrs. William Gallup.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Anderson and son Kenneth have taken a cottage at Hampton beach for the summer.

Lucius P. Merriam, past exalted ruler and delegate to the Elks' national convention left Thursday night for Atlanta, Ga., where the convention is held this year.

Nearly a thousand dollars was added to the Nurses' Home fund of the Day Kimball hospital for the week ending Wednesday night. Many affairs of various kinds held during the week made up this grand total. The booth at the Elks' fair is expected to net a substantial sum. The clerks in a Main street store subscribed fifty dollars to make one pay.

After an all day holiday Wednesday, the clerk had another half holiday Thursday—and it did not rain. This is two out of three in the clerks favor so far this season.

The interior of the Arcanum club house on South Main street, recently remodeled, is practically completed. Hard wood floors throughout, the tearing out of partitions to make a large billiard room, a cosey reading room with a fireplace, are among the things accomplished in the past few weeks.

Lace Curtains Washed Like New With Half The Work

New Discovery Makes It Easy No Matter How Grimy They Are.

Housewives will welcome the new discovery, NACO, especially at this time of the year. Just a little of this marvelous liquid added to the wash water and your lace curtains turn out fresh and dazzling white as when new, with half the usual trouble.

This is the preparation now used by textile manufacturers to give their white linen and cotton goods that brilliant, lustrous white sheen you so admire in new materials. You can now bring it back every wash-day with the aid of NACO.

NACO is especially effective in removing stains and spots from table linens and from linen and cotton garments of every description. Fruit stains, coffee stains, perspiration stains, even ink stains, all disappear as though by magic with its use. And not only does it itself attack and loosen the grime and grease, but by softening the water it greatly increases the cleansing power of the soap. In this way by eliminating the necessity of hard rubbing, it adds considerably to the length of wear of the clothes.

In the scrub bucket NACO is almost as useful as in the washtub. The grease and grime on floors and walls and woodwork, as well as in washbowl, bathtub and sink yield much more quickly when NACO is present to aid. You can get NACO at your grocer's—15 cents per bottle.—Adv.

JEWETT CITY

Some time during Tuesday night a burglar entered the Jewett City Creamery on East Main street.

A stick was placed against a rear window, the man was barefooted, and after gaining a hold of the window sill, climbed in, as was evidenced by the prints of his muddy feet on the clapboards.

Whoever did the job knew the lay of the land, and also something else, for the combination lock of the safe was manipulated in so skillful a manner that the tumbler discs were lined up, and the bolts thrown, with no damage to the lock itself. Further facts pointing to prove that the burglar was not a stranger there were seen, when it became known that less than $ of buttermilk and cream money, kept in a tin spice box on a shelf in the main room, was taken, together with a little more than $100 from the safe.

Officers are inclined to believe that the job was pulled off by the same party that entered the Jewett City greenhouses last week. It is thought that the man who got away with this small stuff is not the sort that tackles a bank vault.

Mrs. Annie Rayno, her son, Wilfred, and daughter, Dorothy, and Miss Lena Velt, of Plainfield, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ashley, Mrs. Emma Potter and Charles Campbell of Jewett City spent the Fourth at Newport.

Miss Grace Henderson of Auburn, Mass., is visiting Mrs. G. H. Prior.

There will be an open meeting near the post office this (Friday) evening at 7:30, conducted by Salvation Army members of Norwich. The officer in charge, Captain Carpenter, will introduce the new assistant, Lieutenant Olive Coe, recently commissioned from the Salvation Army training college of New York city by Commissioner Thomas Estebb, commanding the eastern territory.

Several marksmen from the local rifle club and the Voluntown Rifle club participated in the shoot of Taftville Germania Schutzen Verin at Taftville, July Fourth. Despite the bad weather some remarkable scores were made over the 100 yard range. The visiting marksmen were highly pleased with the courtesy and hospitality shown them by the Taftville club and a good time was had by all.

Following are the scores of the local shooters:

Honor target, open for club members only, 3 shots, 100 yards, offhand, prize to winner gold medal and valuable cash prize: Fred Stebbins, 69; John Kaufman 65; won by Fred Stebbins with the highest score ever shot on this target on the Taftville range.

General prize target, 100 yards, offhand, re-entry match, two highest scores counting. Prizes, valuable merchandise. Charles B. Palmer 144, Dona Ballou 141, Fred Stebbins 141, John Kaufmann 141, John Hall 132.

Charles Palmer was the winner on this target equaling the range record on a single ticket and received an imported china tea service as first prize. Dona Ballou, John Kaufmann, Fred Stebbins were tied with a score of 141 each but received their places in order on their highest single highest tickets. Each received handsome merchandise prizes.

Women's general prize target, 100 yard muzzle rest, prizes merchandise. Mrs. Fred Stebbins 146, Mrs. Charles B. Palmer 140.

Mrs. Stebbins won first place with a high score of 146, getting the remarkable score of 74 out of a possible 75 on one ticket.

Mrs. Palmer was second with a score of 140.

Each received a remarkable merchandise prize.

Sam Littlefield has a brother whose home is in Blue Hill, Maine. His name is Dr. Otis Littlefield. They are the only two boys of the families and strangely enough, the brothers have not met for 20 years. Thursday, Sam was coming up the street when a man, to all appearances a stranger, accosted him, and inquired the way to a nearby farm. The requested directions being given, the stranger accused Sam of not recognizing old acquaintances. It was Sam's long lost brother, but he had no idea who he was.

ARE YOU FARMING THE BEST YOU KNOW HOW?

(Written Specially for The Bulletin.)

We have heard, from earliest boyhood, that "a man is not to blame for what he doesn't know."

The grammatical form in which this aphorism is put is unfortunate since it permits too easily a double meaning.

It might, for instance, be taken to mean that a man is not to be blamed for not knowing things which he ought to know and can know. This meaning is absurd and unmoral. The man who has the opportunity and the ability to learn to read, for example, but who neglects to do so because he is too lazy, most assuredly is to be blamed and rightfully, too, for his illiteracy. We can't suppose that our wise forefathers, who made up the saying, meant to excuse or palliate such dereliction.

The proverb, however, is capable of another meaning, i. e., that a man is not blameworthy for not knowing the things he has never had the time or chance to find out.

That, we'll assume, is what the saying really means. A man born in this country of schools is most emphatically to be blamed if he hasn't taken advantage of his opportunities to learn that A and B spell "ab" and that two and two equal four. But the man who has had to begin work even during his childhood and has had to put in the years of high school and college age earning his living is surely not to be blamed if he doesn't know how to extract a cube root or how to survey with a theodolite.

To put it compactly, a man is to be blamed for ignorance of what he can know, but is not to be blamed for what he can't know.

Anyway, let's leave it that way for the sake of the argument and to give me a text.

Another old saying is that there are always two sides to a question. Certainly, there are two sides to this matter. If we are not to be blamed for ignorance we can't help, then, just as certainly, we are to be blamed for not using the knowledge we have. What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. If one side of the proposition is accepted, the other mustn't be ignored.

Granted that we are not blameworthy for mistakes of pardonable ignorance, it follows that we are and must be blameworthy where we make mistakes against our own knowledge.

A man may not be blamed for barking his nose against an unseen post in a dark cellar. But there's no excuse for his plumping his proboscis into an elm tree in the middle of a field in broad daylight.

In the former case he doesn't know where he is nor where he is going nor what is in the way. In the latter case he knows exactly where he is and exactly what is before him. In the one case he mistakes because of the darkness; in the other case he blunders in the face of light.

Perhaps this all seems a little academic. It may strike some of you as being "highbrow stuff," with no direct application to our daily problems as farmers. Well, let's get down to brass tacks.

They tell the story of an old farmer out west who was approached by a glib book agent who wanted to sell him an encyclopedia. The agent expatiated at length upon the vast array of information contained in the book, especially those items which related to farming. He pointed out how all the farm wisdom which the generations had been accumulating was gathered together and summarized in this one book. "It tells you everything that can be known about farming," said he. "Can you afford to be without it?"

The old farmer looked up with a slow smile. "I raythur thunk I kin," he said. "You see, I don't farm anywhere near as well as I know how, now. I guess I'll wait till I catch up with what I do know before I start gallivanting 'cross-lots after more book knowledge."

I repeat the tale as it has been told to me. Don't hold me responsible, please, for all that old farmer said.

But there is one sentence in his answer which has set me thinking. Perhaps it will you, too. "I don't farm anywhere near as well as I know how, now."

Do you?

Do you, every season and every day, make fullest use of the farming knowledge which you possess?

It has come to you in various ways; through your own experience; through observation of your neighbors; through reading; through your own musings and ruminations over the cantankerousnesses of your critters and the puzzling self-contradictions of your soil. Do you use it, all of it, all the time, and in all possible ways?

Or do you sort o' muddle along in about the same old way, year after year? Do you make the same mistake a second time? Do you neglect this year to take fullest advantage of the lessons you learned last year? Do you really live up to the limits of your actual knowledge, no matter how narrow those limits may seem? Do you always make the most of your own brains as well as take the most out of your own sinews?

Are you really farming just as well as you know how, right now? It's more of a question than you might think at first. It probes rather deeply into your farm plans and methods. It tends to provoke some more or less painful soul-searchings. It may have the tendency to reduce somewhat your bump of self-conceit. It may even make you a trifle less dogmatic in your laying down of the law to others.

As a matter of fact, I personally can't imagine any farmer knowing too much either for his own good or for his farm's welfare. There is hardly an item in the world's accumulated store of knowledge which may not come in handy some time on the farm. It isn't that old farmer's refusal to seek out wider knowledge which I am indorsing, but his modest and humble confession that he wasn't using even the lesser supply he already had.

I very much fear I should have bought the encyclopedia—if I hadn't already owned one.

In the old days farmers were necessarily restricted in their opportunities for learning how to farm. They had the dirt and the seeds and a certain set of tools. What they might learn about farming they had to dig out for themselves. That they succeeded as well as they did shows that they made the most, or very nearly the most, of their limited opportunities. But our modern opportunities are vastly wider. Why should we refuse to enter the now open door, merely because our fathers found it closed and locked in their time?

A whole big department of the national government is now and has been for two generations gathering from the remotest corners of the universe knowledge which it transmits to us, for the asking, as soon as fast presses can print it. Every state has at least one agricultural college and experiment station, where young would-be farmers are trained at least in the best theories of farming, and where countless professors are constantly experimenting with new ideas or new phases of old ideas. The professedly farm papers pour out every week a veritable flood, much of it muddy and unwholesome, I'll grant you, but capable of having some sensible things strained out of it.

No, no; don't anybody get the idea that he already knows enough. I don't care how wise you are; you might be wiser yet if you knew more. The human mind is like the famous omnibus of olden times, it always has room for one more idea, at least. And no one knows beforehand what idea may suddenly prove to have in it the germ of a practical use.

We farmers are, as a rule, intensely practical chaps. "What's it good for?" is our first question when offered a new tool or a new seed or a new idea. The kind of knowledge which impresses us is that which we can apply to our dirt. And so there are many of us yet who look askance at all "book-farmin'," as we sneeringly call it. We are generally old men, too, who have acquired fixed habits of thought and can't easily be either converted or perverted. It is these whom my text applies to and it is to them my sermon is mainly addressed.

They don't want more knowledge. They are sure of what they have and are willing to stand by it.

Very well; let it go at that, then. But to just such farmers I come back with the question "Are you farming anywhere near as well as you know how?" Never mind the imported and outside knowledge you wave aside; we'll stop all consideration of it for the time being. But—are you using in full what you have? Are you making the most of what is at your hands? Are you living up to limit of your capacity? Are you farming the best you know how?

If you're not, then why not?

When the Great Examiner-in-Chief goes over your records, you feel sure that he won't blame you for what you didn't know. Good, so far. But what will he say of your refusal to make utmost use of what you did know?

A pint pot may be just as useful as a gallon measure, even though it doesn't hold as much. But it has to be full to serve its purpose. One man's limited practical knowledge may, indeed, be as necessary as another man's wider and more theoretical science. But the Law of Service requires that both be used to their full capacity.

I wonder just what would happen to some rural towns I wot of, if every farmer in them should from now on farm his own holdings—not necessarily as well as they might be farmed, but as well as he knows how?

Not as well as someone else claims to know, but as well as he knows himself?

THE FARMER.

An automobile, operated by Mrs. George Hancock of Uncasville and a car, owned and operated by J. R. Johnson of No. 62 Fair Harbor place, were in collision last night at the corner of Ocean and Glenwood avenues. Both machines were damaged.

An automobile, owned and operated by John C. Townsend of Pelham Manor, N. Y., while being driven through Bank street this morning, struck and felled Alice Scripps, three years old. The little girl was taken to the office of a physician, where it was determined that she had received only trivial injuries, bruises and contusions. The child had been standing on the edge of the sidewalk, but just as the machine was about to pass started for the opposite side of the street. Before Townsend could bring the car to a stop the child was directly in his path and was run down.

The F. H. & A. H. Chappell company has sold a building lot on School street to Joanna S. Quinn.

The deed transferring a dwelling on Montauk avenue from Stephen J. McMahon to John Perry, was received for record at the office of the city clerk today.

The Eagle Realty Company has sold three building lots on Bayonet street extension to Guiseppe Dinal.

D. Palmer Carroll has sold a building lot on Carroll court to Luther F. Creswell.

Mary E. Jones has sold a parcel of land on Friendship street to Mary L. Kent.

There were only two automobile law violation cases before the police court today as the result of driving on the 4th, a good record. One of the offenders is George Fink of Astoria, L. I., who came to town without a license that was of any value, for the paper he had that gave him permission to operate a car expired with June, so it was invalid. Fink put up a story that the rush for licenses in New York was so great that all who applied could not be accommodated at once and the commissioners extended the time during which the old licenses should be valid from ten to thirty days. That story "went" for judgment was suspended in the case. Sol Lewine, ordered to court for reckless driving, gave a bond when arrested that he would be in court to answer today. He was not there so his bond was forfeited to the state. The bond was only for $10.

Four boys were taken into custody yesterday for having pistols in their possession and for discharging them. Judge Prince read them a lesson in obedience to law and then dismissed the complaints against them, holding that the youths may have become more than ordinarily patriotic on the Fourth of July. The youths are not of the sort apt to be lawless and told frankly of what happened so that it was obvious there was no intention to defy law.

Auto thieves have had rich picking in Pearl street and its vicinity of late. Tires have been stolen from the rear of autos and articles have been taken from the seats of the machines when they have been found without an attendant.

Ralph Torgerson, residing on Willetts avenue was at the engine house of the Niagara company the night of the 4th when the firemen were celebrating. Torgerson had loaded a cannon and had set it aside awaiting the explosion of the contents of the barrel. The explosion was so slow that Torgerson ventured to look into the barrel when the crash came and his face was filled with powder. One eye was slightly damaged. He was taken to Lawrence hospital and later to his home where further treatment will be administered.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller have returned home, having spent the holiday in Providence and Narragansett Pier.

Charles C. Perkins who removed from New London to Monticello, N. Y., several months ago, has returned here and will make New London his permanent home. Mr. Perkins has acquired the Gorton house on Hempstead street and will soon take possession of the property.

The officers of Harwegh lodge, Sons of Hermann, were installed Tuesday night at the hall on Main street by Charles Doerfler of Groton, district deputy. The officers were seated as follows: President, H. H. Appledorn; vice president, George Walther; recording secretary, Herman F. Staab; financial secretary, Paul Pandler; treasurer, Gustav Neumann; trustee for 18 months, Fritz Vogt.

It is planned to have Home Memorial hospital ready for occupancy the middle of next month or early in September. The work of remodeling the structure, which was formerly the home of Mrs. A. C. Tyler and known as The Elms, is progressing rapidly. Among the alterations being made is a new roof, an operating room and obstetrical room and an elevator.

The funeral of Rev. Dominic Brown was held this morning at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's Star of the Sea church and was attended by an immense throng of mourners. The solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rt. Rev. John G. Murray of Hartford, auxiliary bishop of the diocese with many members of the clergy of the Catholic church attending several of whom were of the faculty of Mount St. Mary's where Father Brown had been an instructor in Latin and philosophy a quarter of a century. Bishop Murray was assisted by Monsignor F. S. Duggan of Hartford, vicar general of the diocese; Rev. D. S. O'Connell of Waterville, as deacon; Rev. Francis E. May of Mount Carmel, sub deacon and Rev. Father Flynn of Hartford, chancellor of the diocese, as master of ceremonies. Other priests present were Rev. M. F. McAuliffe, president of St. Thomas' seminary, Hartford; Rev. Father Tenan and Rev. Father Fox, also of St. Thomas seminary; Rev. Father Keane of Westerly, Rev. Father Crowley, rector of the church, read the final prayers. During the service the Gregorian mass was sung and Edward Murray sang a tenor solo, Domine Jesu and James N. Kelley sang Rock of Ages. The honorary bearers were Rt. Rev. John J. Murray of Hartford, Rev. Maurice McAuliffe, Rev. Fenton Tehan, Rev. James Burke, Rev. Michael H. May, Rev. Francis E. May, Rev. Daniel O'Donnell, Rev. James E. O'Brien, Rev. Alexander Wollschlager, Rev. Timothy M. Crowley, Rev. William C. Fitzsimons and Rev. Paul McAlerney. The active bearers were Mayor John F. Murray, Fire Chief John Stanners, James R. May, John M. Callahan, William F. May, Jr., and Walter T. May, the last two being nephews of the dead priest. At the committal service in St. Mary's cemetery, Rev. McAuliffe officiated.

The Groton police headed by Capt. Andrew McCarthy raided the home of Peter Casputis at No. 3 Warner street, Groton park, Groton last night and the raiding force was rewarded in their efforts for two stills were seized and about 100 quarters of unconsinhe whiskey in various parts of the house. This afternoon Casputis was arraigned in the Groton town court for maintaining a still and keeping liquor with intent to sell. He entered a demurrer, which was overruled and a fine of $200 and costs was imposed together with a sentence in jail of thirty days, but with the execution of the jail sentence suspended.

Miss Diana Marsh, the little daughter of Mr and Mrs. Daniel S. Marsh, Jr., of Bellevue place, was injured in her celebration of the Fourth when a blank cartridge exploded close to her hand, inflicting painful burns to that member. The wound was dressed by a physician and no serious results of blood poisoning are anticipated.

George Starkey of Deep River, owner of the automobile which overturned on Durfee Hill, Waterford yesterday, resulting in the almost instant death of Roswell Cone, one of the occupants, and also a resident of Deep River, has not sustained internal injuries as was feared yesterday, for an X-ray picture taken today at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital did not reveal such injuries. Mr. Starkey returned to his home this afternoon, although suffering considerable pain from the many contusions and bruises he sustained by being pinned beneath the overturned machine.

Mrs. Hadlai A. Hull of Vauxhall street, wife of State's Attorney Hull, visited in Hartford today, making the trip by automobile.

The only serious mishap to celebrators of the Fourth fell to Ralph Torgerson, of No. 245 Willetts avenue, a machinist in the employ of the Babcock Printing Press Manufacturing company. Torgerson, who is a member of the Niagara Engine company, when in front of the company's quarters yesterday morning discharging an old fashioned cannon, it exploded prematurely, burning Torgerson about the face and eyes, one optic being badly burned, but not sufficiently so as to impair the sight. Torgerson is now confined to his home under the care of a physician.

The first real fight with sailors as the cause of the trouble since the war, occurred last night and in order to preserve order and subdue the belligerent bluejacket from the submarine base, a member of the navy patrol was forced to club the sailor into submission. For some time sailors have congregated at a State street restaurant late at night. Last night there was the usual gathering at the place when one of the gang, much the worse for liquor, went to the street and there accosted women, grabbing them and using vile language to them. A brief petty officer on patrol came along and placed the sailor under arrest, but the bluejacket resisted with real vigor. The patrol officer endeavored to land his prisoner at the municipal wharf by diplomatic methods, but when these failed and other bluejackets failed to assist him, the officer used his club to good advantage, wielding his club over the sailor's head. He finally landed the sailor at the wharf and ordered him taken to the base. At the base, the sailor attacked his superior officers with vile language and with his wounds dressed, was placed under restraint. He will be given a court martial within a few days.

William Z. White, the accountant, has purchased the Gardner property at the head of Niles Hill road on Ocean avenue, and will take up his residence there. Mr. White has been a resident of this city but a few years but he has become one of its most active citizens for the improvement of the place and for an advancement of its interests.

Joseph F. Little, a former alderman of this city, is dead at the age of 51 years. He was born in Middletown, N. Y., and came to New London a good many years ago, securing employment in the hardware business. From that occupation he went with the Chappell Coal company and served that corporation faithfully 17 years, being in the retail department of the house. He was a member of the Masonic order, affiliated with Dobbs Ferry lodge, and a member of Konomoc Hose company of which he was for a long time a member of the executive committee. Mr. Little served during two terms as alderman. The bearers at the funeral will be his former associates in the office of the Chappell company.

The Guthrie place at the lower end of what is known as the Pequot section is to be sold at auction this month. Mrs. Guthrie, widow of the Standard Oil magnate of that name, had set a price upon the property and her figures were met by a Hebrew who had in view the establishment of a hotel in the splendid house that occupies the land at the corner of Pequot avenue and Parkway. The house is of French design and about three stories in height. It is one of the most noticeable properties on the avenues upon which it has its location. The grounds are ample and the display of plants and flowers is most attractive. The hotel was to be but part of the scheme of the prospective owner who also had in mind the building of a number of cottages adjoining the hotel. After the would-be buyer announced his intention of paying the price that was mentioned for the property it is understood that Mrs. Guthrie realized that she could get a much better price for the land and buildings thereon than she had supposed so she decided to dispose of the place by auction. The house was designed, it is understood and decorated in the interior by Mrs. Guthrie after her own ideas, for she is an artist in decorating and had pursued that vocation prior to her marriage to Mr. Guthrie. She had been married when Mr. Guthrie met her, it is understood, and Mr. Guthrie was also a widower.

The value of the property will run well into the six figure value so no one of moderate means will buy it. It is of greater value than any property yet sold in that section.

Daniel M. Cronin, deputy exalted ruler of the Elks in Connecticut, is to start for Atlanta, Ga., Saturday to meet with the other deputies and the active heads of that order to confer on a future policy for the Elks. He will be absent some fortnight or more. These meetings are of the greatest benefit to the order for they permit of an exchange of opinions and they keep the officials in touch with every section of the country and the activities of the order everywhere.

Residents of Blinman street are complaining of a stench there that smells to heaven. They are of the opinion that the sickening odor that permeates the air after every heavy rain comes from the sewer and if that opinion is correct they fear an outbreak of diphtheria.

A large public garage is being erected on Darrow street that will be an improvement to that section of the street which has long been neglected. The building will be of artificial stone and will cover the lot next west of the corner of Montauk avenue. It is being erected by Barnett Lubove, an enterprising merchant in the hardware business. The street is soon to have sidewalks and the highway has been graded so that finally its appearance will be decidedly improved.

Moore avenue is now to have side-walks, something it has not known about to the present time. The grading of the street has begun and when walks and a proper grade are established the highway will present a very different appearance than it has ever offered to prospective builders or residents on the street. There is a ledge at the Shaw street end of the avenue and when the laying of sidewalks was proposed the city had in mind the assessment of all the property on the street to pay a proportionate part of the expense of removing the ledge. That did not strike the residents at the other end of the street as a "fair shake" and they protested. The city held that the walks would be an advantage to all the property. Then the residents at the other end of the street asked if the removal at the Pequot avenue end of Montauk avenue would be of benefit to property at the Bank street end of that same thoroughfare? That was a poser which the wise men of the city could not answer as they would to fortify the position the city had taken as to Moore avenue. They simply had to back away from their position and admit that the city should bear the burden of expense of removing the ledge as it did in removing ledge from Shaw street when that highway was improved.

Mechanics and helpers in the shops of the New Haven railroad announced this afternoon that they were to be given an advance of 10 per cent in wages retroactive from the first of May. That is generosity indeed when the road is staggering under debts that it cannot in any way pay, when the assessments of the stock of the company is likely, and when the bonds of the company are in jeopardy as to the payment of interest, and the government is to be asked to reduce the interest of its debt from 6 to 4 per cent. Advancing of pay to men who are satisfied with the wages they now receive when the road cannot pay its debt, and when the stock of the company has depreciated from 293 to 11 is something new in the conduct of railroads.

WILL BE ORDAINED AS PRIEST AT LOUVAIN

Alfred J. Driscoll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Driscoll of 215 North Main street, is one of those in a class of students at the College of Louvain, Belgium, who will be ordained to the Catholic priesthood on Sunday. The ordaining prelate will be Cardinal Desire Mercier, primate of Belgium, who was a well known and heroic figure in the World war. Mr. Driscoll is a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy and has been studying abroad for four years.

Following his ordination, Mr. Driscoll is to return home and it is expected that he will be here in time to offer his first solemn high mass on Sunday, July 29, in St. Mary's Memorial church, his home parish.

Rev. W. A. Keefe, pastor of the church, was ordained in Louvain cathedral, twenty years ago on July 12 and he will observe the anniversary date at the church.

Members of the Connecticut Alumni of the College of Louvain have received notifications of the silver jubilee of Mons. De Becker as president of the college. Mons. De Becker was a visitor in this city a few months ago after touring the country and has arrived safely back in his homeland.

TOWN OFFICIALS RE-ENGAGE SCHOOL ENUMERATORS

In a recent published repor[t] the state board of education hav[ing] do with the enumeration of chil[dren] from the ages of 4 to 16 residing in the town of Norwich, it was stated that the work of the Norwich enumerators, Tyler D. Guy and Cornelius J. Downs was not correct as returned by them last fall. This state report was made up from a canvass of the school registers whereas the Norwich enumerators made a house to house canvass. It is impossible to make this canvass without more or less errors on account of the various ways names are given.

The officials of the town who have the authority to secure this information each year are thoroughly satisfied with the work performed by Messrs. Guy and Cornelius J. Downes in past years and have engaged them for this same work this fall.

How to Lose Your Tan, Freckles or Redness

A day's motoring, an afternoon on the tennis court or golf links, a sunbath on the beach or exposure on a water trip often brings on a deep tan or vivid crimson or, more perplexing still, a vigorous crop of freckles. A very necessary thing then is mercolized wax, which removes tan, redness or freckles quite easily. It literally peels off the affected skin—just a little at a time, so there's no hurt or inconvenience. As the skin comes off in almost invisible flaky particles, no trace of the treatment is known. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's and use this nightly as you would cold cream, washing it off mornings. Soon you will have an entirely new skin, beautifully clear, transparent and of a delicate whiteness.

Freckle-Face

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength — from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength Othine as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

PRICES SLUMP BADLY.

New York, July 5.—Prices slumped badly in today's early trading on the stock market and then rallied briskly, closing prices generally showing slight gains on the day. The volume of sales was relatively small, which was to be expected after a holiday.

The increase in the Bank of England discount rate from 3 to 4 per cent, the apparent Franco-British impasse over the Ruhr problem and further cuts in Gulf Coast crude oil and lead prices accounted, in part, for the pessimistic sentiment at the opening. Bear traders offered the usual leaders freely and succeeded in forcing three more stocks to new low levels for the year, including United States Steel Common at 89 1-4, Baldwin at 114 1-3, Union Pacific at 125 3-4 and Northern Pacific at 63 3-4.

These shares were not long in coming back, however, U. S. Steel touching 91 and closing at 117 3-8, up 1; Union Pacific closing 1 higher at 128 1-2 and Northern Pacific closing 5-8 higher at 65 1-2.

Selling of some of the high priced rails during the morning was reported to be for the account of European interests; Jersey Central broke 8 points and Delaware & Hudson, 4, the latter recovering its loss and closing at a slight fractional gain. New Haven sold as low as 2 5-8, an extreme low for all time, and then rallied to 10.

Some of the conspicuous heavy spots were Brown Shoe common and preferred, General Electric, New Orleans, Texas & Mexico, Laclede Gas, Western Union, Woolworth, American Zinc Preferred and Chicago & Eastern Illinois, off 2 to 5 points. Dupont was one of the few strong spots.

Foreign exchanges were weak because of the disturbing political developments abroad. Demand sterling established a new low for the year at 4.53 1-16 and French francs dropped 5 points to 5.86 1-4 cents. Italian lire also touched a new low at 4.31 1-2 cents, off 2 1-2. German marks were quoted at .0005 1-8 cents, or nearly 200,000 to the American dollar.

Call money opened at 4 1-2 per cent but advanced to 5 before the close. Time money business was quiet with 5 bid and 5 1-4 asked, a few loans being reported at the higher figure. Out-of-town banks are still the principal takers of commercial paper, prime names ruling at 5 per cent.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, July 5—Grain underwent a material decline in price today, owing more or less to the increasing movement of the new wheat crop and as a result of favorable conditions for the growth of corn and oats December corn and all deliveries of oats touched a new low price record for the season. Wheat closed heavy, 3-4 to 1 1-4c net lower, with July and September both $1.02 1-4 to 1.02 3-8 and December 1.05 1-4 to 1.05 3-8. Corn finished at 1 1-4c decline to a shade advance, and oats 1 3-8 a 1 1-2 to 1 1-2 a 1 5-8c off in provisions, the outcome was 10 a 12c to 27c advance.

PREPARING CAMP DEVENS FOR CITIZENS' TRAINING

An air of brisk activity pervades the citizens' military training camps area at Camp Devens, where Colonel Frank G. Bolles, camp commander, and his staff of twenty officers are now established making extensive preparations for the reception and comfort of the 3,000 candidates who will assemble there on August 1st from all points in New England, for the month's training.

Already the barracks are furnished with cots and other equipment. In the long mess halls, tables, benches and agate ware dishes are in peace, ready to serve three times a day, an abundance of the best food procurable to help build the sinew, muscle and brawn of these young Americans who will be the guests of Uncle Sam for 30 days. While at the 1923 camp the cafeteria system was employed in feeding the students, this year it is Colonel Bolles' intention to have the students served by regularly appointed army waiters and student waiters. Officers and noncommissioned officers will, at all times be stationed in the mess rooms to see that strict order is maintained.

Many inovations will be introduced by Colonel Bolles, both in the schedule of training, and the conduct of the camp. Athletics and ball games will be in full swing, and there will be twilight ball games.

Recreation hall is now full and attractively furnished. In addition to three pool tables, a number of card tables, writing desks well-stocked library and a piano, a powerful radio set has been installed and there will be nightly radio concerts for the entertainment of the students. It is Colonel Bollsc' plan to provide as much music as possible for this purpose. Three regular army bands will be utilized to furnish daily band concerts.

Colonel Bolles' attention is directed at present to the preparation of the two swimming ponds—Hell pond and Robert pond—both of which are ideally and picturesquely located a short distance from the training area. Under the direction of Captain George C. Davis in charge of athletics in the two previous camps, and also to be in charge of the athletics for the 1923 camp. These ponds are being prepared to care for all grades of swimmers. Pontoons will designate the areas for beginners, more advanced swimmers and full fledged swimmers. Suitable prizes will be given for proweess in this feature of the training. There will be facilities, instructors, and checkers for three hundred students at a time in each of the ponds. The students will be transported from their barracks in army trucks, and the swimming periods will be so arranged as to care for from three to four relays during the afternoon.

There will be an allday, overnight hike for all students of the White and Blue course. In addition to their own instruction, the students will [illegible] troops composed of the students of the basic and advanced courses.

It is Colonel Bolles' intention to maintain two visitors houses, one for the visitors of the basic red course students, the other for the visitors of the advanced course students. A restaurant will be located in the visitors' house, where tea, coffee and sandwiches, ices and other summer refreshments may be purchased by the visitors at a very low price.

Students desiring to report at camp a day or two before the official opening will receive a welcome from the officers and find everything in readiness for their comfort and convenience. But one month remains in which to enroll for the 1923 citizens' military training camp.

The gold and bronze state civilian aide medals are now ready. The bronze medals, one for each state. The gold civilian aide medal will be awarded to the student holding the best record among the students from his respective state. The gold civilian aide medal will be awarded to the student holding the highest record among six state medal winners. The medals are hung on a blue and white ribbon which was especially hand woven, and which represents the Corp area colors. The medals are being given by the military training camp association, and will be presented by General Brewster on the day of the final review. It is expected that keen competition will prevail among the students for the winning of these state medals.

Those desiring to attend are urged to lose no time in procuring and filing application blanks. Full information may be obtained from the headquarters of the First Corps area, Boston, Mass., the headquarters of the Military Training Camps Association, Room 316, 84 State St., Boston, Mass., or from any of the following state civilian aides of their local chairmen: Sabine W. Wood, Bangor, Maine; Dr. Robert O. Blood, Concord, N. H.; Linn D Taylor, Brattleboro, Vermont; J. W. Farley, Boston, Mass.; Royal C. Taft, Providence, R. I.; Honorable John L. Gilson, New Haven, Connecticut.

NO SURTAX EXEMPTIONS ARE OPERATIVE NOW

Surtax exemptions on Liberty bonds expired July 2 on more than 65 per cent of the amount heretofore held entirely tax free. Wall street investment houses, through their income tax departments, are calling attention to the fact with the object of saving the individual holders of these securities the annoyance and possible loss incident to solving what is admittedly a problem for most of them.

The problem arises when the holders of Liberty loan 4 1-4s and 4s in amounts which bring them under the surtax exemption privilege expiring July 2 begin to figure their present years income tax. Unless the bonds now held are sold and replaced by other treasury issues which remain tax exempt, the holder, it is said, may find himself in much the same category as the shareholder of an enterprise unable to pay further dividends, or who finds no return for his original investment in that the return has ceased because the tax imposed offsets the interest received.

While it was pointed out that a majority of the purchasers of the Liberty loan 4s and 4 1-4s were undoubtedly familiar with the terms of their purchases, an official in charge of the income tax department of a large stock exchange house said yesterday that experience had proved many such holders were ignorant of what steps to take to prevent loss on a security that has ceased to be tax exempt as interest. It was explained that while the interest did not cease, the expiration of the surtax exemption would more than offset the return with a resultant loss to the holder.

The terms under which these bonds were sold by the government specify that they are entitled to limited exemptions from federal income surtaxes and profits taxes until July 2, 1923, as follows: $30,000 of First-Second 4 1-4s and $125,000 in the aggregate of First 4s, First 4 1-4s, First-Second 4 1-4s, Second 4s, Second 4 1-4s, Third 4 1-4s and Fourth 4 1-4s.

The exemptions which expire July 2 apply on $105,000 par value of the bonds mentioned, and while a comparatively small item to the government, are held of much importance to the holder.

A circular typical of those issued by investment houses for the benefit of their customers reads:

"It is no longer necessary to be the original subscriber to the Victory notes on the Fourth Liberty Loan or any other issue in order to obtain the maximum tax exemption of $160,000 on Liberty Loan 4s and 4 1-4s.

"In view of the above it is now possible for one who is not a holder of any Liberty bond, to go into the open market and buy a total of $160,000 par value of Liberty bonds, the income from which will be free of all income taxes for the following period of time: $5,000 free for the life of the bonds, $75,000 free until July 2, 1923, $50,000 free until July 2, 1926, $30,000 of First-Second 4 1-4s (1947) free until July 2, 1922. Total $160,000."

The idea, it was said, was to call attention to the fact that the tax exemption features would change on July 2 and to assist bondholders in rearranging their securities so that they still might remain tax exempt. Corporations holding such bonds are not affected by the date of expiration, as under the present law they may hold any amount of Liberty bonds free of taxes. Only individuals who hold more than $55,000 par value of the Liberty loan 4s and 4 1-4s are affected.

Asked if the expiration of the surtax exemption would not have the effect of causing some of the holders to convert their bonds into strictly commercial bonds or into municipal securities which are tax exempt for life, bond, experts said that would be the natural thing to do, but that the patriotic motives which led to the purchase of the bonds would serve as an incentive for their replacement by other government bonds which remain tax exempt.

NORWICH BOYS ENJOYING LIFE AT CAMP HAZEN

General Secretary Hill received a message from the Y. M. C. A. state camp, known as Camp Hazen, which clearly indicates that all theboys there are greatly enjoying camp life under fine Christian leadership. Robert Otis, Robert Bullard, Robert Montgomery, Robert Storms, Orrin Talbot, James Sweezey, James Graham and John Mac Corquodale are the Norwich boys who are at the camp at the present time, having gone there about a week ago in company with Emery Davis, the boys secretary of the Norwich association, who is physical director of the camp for the first period.

Mr. Davis writes that "every Norwich boy is enjoying himself to the limit" and this is true of the 110 boys in camp at present. For the second period the capacity of the camp will be fully taxed, as applications now in hand will make the number at camp over two hundred.

Parents are realizing more and more the great opportunity at Camp Hazen where their boys can be safely sent with the assurance that everything possible will be done for the pleasure and safety of the campers, and at the same time the influence will be of the best, the management insisting that the leadership shall not only be trained by Christian as well. Camps like "Hazen" are solving the great problem of the summer with boys, giving them as it does, a real outing and at the same time a training that is bound to contribute much of good to the future of the boys' life. Friends and parents of the boys are welcome as visitors at any time and a visit to the camp will be greatly enjoyed.

Several other boys from Norwich will go to camp during the summer.

The funeral of Edwin Nolan, who died this week in Lawrence, Mass., following an operation for appendicitis, was held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Nolan on the Canterbury Turnpike at 8.15, Thursday morning with a large attendance of relatives from Lawrence, Mass., New York, Providence, Plainfield and Norwich.

A requiem high mass was celebrated at Sacred Heart Church at 9 a. m., by Rev. Henri F. Chagnon. The church was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives and the wealth of floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the young man was held in the neighborhood. A delegation of the Norwich Brick Layers and Plasterers' Union of which the deceased was a member also attended the service.

The bearers were John, James, William, Charles, and Frank Nolan, five brothers of the deceased, and James Nolan, an uncle. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery where Rev. Father Chagnon read the committal service.

G. G. Grant was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

The first group of priests will be at the island from August 20th to the 26th, and will be followed by the second contingent, who will remain from August 17th to September 1st. The preacher of the retreat will be Rev. James L. J. Corrigan, S. J., of Boston College.

NORWICH PLAYGROUNDS OPEN WITH 489 REGISTERING ON THE FIRST DAY

Thursday afternoon, the official opening was made of the municipal playground and recreation commission with the grounds opening at 1 o'clock at each play center for registration of all boys and girls from 2 to 16 years old.

Representatives of the commission, headed by Mayor Milo R. Waters, inspected each playground during the afternoon where appropriate exercises of a patriotic nature were conducted by the teachers in charge and photographs taken of the groups that had registered for the first day's play.

Both Chairman William Fitzgerald and Secretary Richard Lewis of the commission were unable to accompany the party of inspection on account of business calls, but John M. Lee, Mrs. Alex Pasnik, Mrs. Joseph Drew of the commission and Superintendent Harold Anson Bruce made the trip. Mayor Waters was extremely enthusiastic over the playground outlook for the coming season which registered 489 children, not a bad beginning for the first season of organized instruction.

Superintendent Bruce announced at all playgrounds the hours for play were one to five and six-thirty to eight-thirty p. m., daily, except Saturdays and Sundays. The work on all grounds Thursday was in the nature of registration. The first week's program being scheduled to start on Monday.

The regular morning conferences of the teaching force was continued on Thursday morning at the local Y. M. C. A., where Supt. Bruce continued his final instructions on the organization of the work. He announced among other things, the requirement that the women teachers were expected to wear knickerbockers during their work at the play centers. It was also announced that the superintendent had taken up his office at Norwich Commercial School where he can be found. Telephone No. 1481. Miss Irene Wholey, who was last week appointed by the commission as secretary and stenographer for the superintendent, can be found at the office between the hours of 9 to 5 daily.

The nine weeks' season will be carried out on the playgrounds on Central avenue, Lake street, Laurel Hill, Elizabeth street school, Hobart avenue school, Falls school, and West Thames street section.

The teachers assigned are the Misses Mary Kelly, Augusta Sherekmevsky, Elsahor Byrnes, Catherine Dodd, Justine Morrison, Patricia Cassidy and Katherine Farrell.

REPORTS TO ROTARIANS INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

At the weekly noonday luncheon of the Norwich Rotary club on Thursday at the Wauregan hotel a very interesting report of the international convention at St. Louis was given by Secretary J Nelson Weymouth who was the local delegate to the convention. Mr. Weymouth's report was brief but covered all the important features of the convention.

In his report he stated that the convention was by far the largest ever held during the 14 years of International Rotary, there being well over 6,000 registered delegates representing nineteen nations of the world. He also touched on many of the most interesting addresses by men nationally prominent in business life, bringing out some of the outstanding facts regarding the relation of Rotary to business and business to the community. Mr. Weymouth also complimented St. Louis on the accommodations and the welcome that the city gave the visiting Rotarians. He also spoke well of the system of handling the delegates and providing for their entertainment during their stay in the city. Mr. Weymouth will give a further report of his trip at a later meeting.

At the business session President Charles A. Saxton presided and Bert Adams was the energetic song leader. Among the principal musical features was a delightful and novel selection by Joseph C. Worth, "Yes, We Have No Bananas." There was a very peppy chorus selection by the members of the baseball team, demonstrating clearly that as ball players they are talented vocalists.

Between forty and fifty, including the women, intend to be present at the Rotary field day at Storrs Thursday, July 12th. The members of the local club will go by automobile, leaving Norwich in a body about 9.30 o'clock, daylight time. The general committee in charge, of which Dick Dodge of Willimantic is chairman, has planned many features for the entertainment of the Rotarians from Eastern Connecticut.

Secretary Weymouth read a communication from the New Haven club inviting the Norwich club to compete in the Rotary golf tourney at New Haven later in the month. William G. Park was appointed chairman of the committee to arrange a golf match between the Norwich club and the New London club and later in the season Putnam and Willimantic clubs will be played.

The meeting closed with the singing of The Star Spangled Banner.

MEASLES SHOW PREVALENCE IN EASTERN CONNECTICUT

According to the report of the state department of health for the week ending June 30th, the following cases of communicable diseases were reported from Eastern Connecticut: Diphtheria, Colchester, 2; New London, 1; Norwich (C), 6; Preston, 1; Stafford, 4; Ashford, 1; scarlet fever, Groton, (T), 1; Danielson, 2; Pomfret, 1; Windham, 3; whooping cough, Groton, (B), 3; Groton (T), 3; Old Lyme, 3; measles, Griswold, 1; Montville, 3; New London, 4; Stonington, 12; Canterbury, 7; Plainfield, 9; Pomfret, 1; typhoid fever, Preston, 2.

The totals for the state as compared with those in the week previous are as follows: Diphtheria, 40 to 32; scarlet fever, 33 to 64; whooping couch, 69 to 46; measles, 137 to 99; typhoid fever, 5 to 0; smallpox, 2 to 0.

Thirty-six cases of chicken pox were reported for the week in the state, one case of influenza, and ten cases of pneumonia.

National President to Visit.

The national president of the American Legion, Women's Auxiliary, Dr. Kate Banett of Virginia, is to be the guest of the State Department at Hartford on Tuesday next, July 10th. Exercises are to be held at Center Church House at 2:30, Daylight Saving time.

Attendance of Legionaires and auxiliary members from all parts of the state is expected.

GIVES STATE'S HEALTH RECORD FOR 6 MONTHS

The Connecticut department of health gives the following record of diseases in this state for the first six months of the year:

Diphtheria: Since January, diphtheria has been on the decline without any marked outbreak in any section of the state. The total number of cases for June this year was the lowest for the corresponding month during the past four years.

Measles: Measles, which was epidemic during the winter months, reaching the high total of 2,066 cases in January, rapidly decreased so the 556 cases during June was a smaller number than the corresponding month in 1920 and 1922. June, 1921, was the record low month in recent years when there were only 289 cases reported in the whole state.

Lobar Pneumonia: Lobar pneumonia cases, while less than last year, for the first six months, are higher in number than during 1921 because of the influenza outbreak during the first quarter of the present year.

Scarlet Fever: Scarlet fever cases number 230 for June. This figure, while not imposing, was higher than the total for 1921 or 1922. The cases for the first six months of the year are slightly above the cases reported last year.

Pulmonary Tuberculosis: Pulmonary tuberculosis appears to be on a slight increase and while the cases for the six months' period are about the same as in 1922, the general trend of the cases reported point to an increase this year in cases over last year.

Typhoid Fever: Typhoid fever, with nine cases in June, making a total of 49 for the six months' period this year, is a record for Connecticut and speaks well for the efforts of physicians and local health officers in wiping out this needless disease. Increased efforts along the line of securing the unknown typhoid germ carrier will reduce this further. The efforts of the local health officers, milk inspectors, the state dairy and food commissioner, and the milk regulation board, in improving the methods by which milk is handled throughout the state, working towards the end of a pure milk, are undoubtedly largely responsible for this showing.

Whooping Cough: Whooping cough, one of the so-called children's diseases, is much more prevalent than last year with 1668 cases reported compared with 856 for 1922. Incidentally, this disease should receive more attention than it has by parents, for during the period of five months, January-May, this year, there have been 77 deaths compared with 46 deaths for the same period in 1922.

THURSDAY CLOSING PLAN WILL BEGIN NEXT WEEK

At an adjourned meeting of the Retail Merchants Bureau held Thursday morning in the chamber of commerce rooms the greater part of the stores of the city agreed on the summer closing plan on Thursday afternoons during the months of July and August.

The movement was started several weeks ago and the merchants were canvassed to find out how they stood on the subject and by Thursday a sufficient number had been canvassed to take a vote and the success of the movement was made certain.

The few stores that had not agreed to close on Thursday afternoons are expected to follow the lead of the larger stores of the city.

The Thursday afternoon closing will begin on Thursday, July 12th, and the merchants are to close their stores at 1 o'clock every Thursday during July and August. News of the vote of the bureau was received with pleasure by the clerks who will be able to enjoy a half holiday each week during the hot summer months.

Withdrawn From Superior Court.

The suit of Elsie M. McLure, individually and as executrix, against B. Frank Wood has been withdrawn from the superior court.

The suit was brought for an accounting of her husbands share in the partnership of Wood & McLure, a former Mystic boat building firm.

LEGHORNS TOOK LEAD IN WEEK AT STORRS

Hens are not concerned with 4th of July celebrations, Labor Day parades, week ends at the shore and all that sort of thing. They do, however, respond to extra care during the summer season by more nearly filling the egg basket at a time when egg production all over the country is declining. The birds in the laying contest at Storrs actually exceeded the previous weeks performance by nearly 100 eggs. The market for hen fruit is firmer. The price of eggs has turned upward and will climb more or less steadily until the first of next November. Thus it behooves poultrymen during this period of rising prices to get all the eggs they can. Even though the range looks fair enough an extra morsel of green food such as swiss charde, rape or clover will be relished by the hens in about the same fashion as a kid getting a meal away from home.

Leghorns literarry had everything their own way last week. Hollywood Farm's pen from Hollywood, Washington, beat all the others with a score of 57 eggs. Two other pens of Leghorns owned by F. M. Johnson of Waldoboro, Maine, and Meadowedge Farm from Cedarhurst, L. I., tied for second place with 54 eggs each. Pussy Willow Egg Farms pen of the same breed from East Moriches, L. I., finished in third place with a lay of 53 eggs. Two more pens of Leghorns entered by Andrew L. Ohr of Wallingford, Conn., and M. J. Quackenbush of Utitley, New Jersey, tied for fourth place with 51 eggs each. The total production for all pens was 3774 eggs or a yield of 54 per cent.

May Be Minnesota's Next Senator

State Senator Magnus Johnson, of Kimball, Minn., candidate of the Farmer-Labor Party for United States Senator. During the next few weeks Minnesota will be a most important political battle ground with conservatism engaged in a desperate fight against a militant and resourceful radical element. The result will determine in large measure whether the Republican Party of that State is to survive or is to be swallowed up, as has been the Democratic Party, by the Nonpartisan League movement. Governor J. A. O. Preus has been nominated by the Republicans.

MANSFIELD CENTRE

There will be a Fourth of July celebration here beginning shortly after noon on the lawn of the First Congregational Church. A musical program has been arranged which will include vocal and orchestral music. Games and sports will be directed by A. W. Greer. The affair will be given under the auspices of the Mansfield Library.

G. C. Jenner of the Optical Works of Rochester, N. Y., is spending a few days with his family.

Willis Homer of Johnson City, N. Y., arrived Sunday for a short visit at the home of Mr and Mrs. G. H. Wyman. Mrs. Homer and their little son will return with him to their new home.

Ray Davoll has been spending a few days with his parents before beginning his new work in New Jersey.

Mrs. Edward Bradley of Branford has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Anna Clark.

Miss Myra Johnson, who has been visiting at the home of her brother, R. M. Johnson also at the home of Mrs. E. H. Marsh, returned Sunday to her home in Willimantic.

Rev. E. P. Ayer was in town Sunday evening and was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Stearns.

Mrs. Randall Norton of Guilford visited in town Sunday. Mrs. Norton was formerly Miss Mildred Larkham.

Dr. W. D. MacCormick of Kansas City, Mo., was in town last week. Dr. MacCormick will succeed the late Dr. S. H. March and with Mrs. MacCormick will reside at the March homestead, arriving early this week. Dr. MacCormick was an army surgeon, serving with the commission of captains in the British Army for four years during the World War.

SOUTH WINDHAM

The annual meeting of the Good Will Circle was held Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors. Members responded to the roll call with current events from the religious world. Devotional exercises were conducted by the president, Mrs. Joseph F. Cobb. The annual reports of the secretary, Mrs. Carl Johnson, and the treasurer, Mrs. Prescott Chamberlain showed that the circle had been active during the year, contributing over $200 for local church work and for missions.

Officers are elected as follows: President, Mrs. Joseph F. Cobb; vice presidents, Mrs. H. E. Scribner, Mrs. Otis C. Southerlin; secretary, Mrs. Carl Sundell; treasurer, Mrs. Prescott Chamberlain.

Lemonade, cake and wafers were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Southerlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Manning and son, Noyes, of Providence, R. I., guests of Mr. Manning's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Manning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Cobb of Norwich and Hugh Laird of Barre, Vt., called at Lee Bickford's and Rev. J. F. Cobb Sunday last.

Mrs. H. B. Scribner and Ralph H. Scribner are visiting relatives in Maine.

Miss Avis Cobb is attending the summer normal school at Yale.

Jay Babcock who has been ill is much better.

Miss Pauline Perry is spending some time at her home, recovering from illness.

Mrs. Walter Abbe, Jr., and sons Robert and Walter are at Groton Long Point for the summer. Mr. Abbe spent the week-end with his family.

The Girl Scouts are planning a dance for the benefits of their camping fund.

Confidence In Government

Brussels, July 5.—(By the A. P.)—The chamber of deputies today voted confidence in the government after discussion of the newly organized cabinet's declaration of policy.

The Truth About Eczema and Piles

Thousands and thousands of people, says Peterson of Buffalo, "are learning every week that one 35-cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money.

"I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the agony. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson, for the cure is great." Miss Mary Hill, 420 Third Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me, besides the piles seem to have gone." A. B. Ruger, 1127 Washington Ave., Racine, Wis.

Use Peterson's Ointment for old sores, salt rheum, chafing and all skin diseases. Druggists recommend it.

Otto Stahl's Ready-to-Eat Meats

Norwich Market Growers' Association

We are not, this issue, emphasizing any particular item, but repeating statements previously made, that vegetables are valuable for their mineral contents, for their medicinal qualities, for their bulk and for the necessary vitamins, which they furnish; that vegetables, as a class of food are healthful and should be used freely, especially in hot weather.

Probably no city in the state is supplied regularly with a better grade of vegetables than Norwich. Buy locally grown goods and you'll get as good as grows.

FRESH VEGETABLES FOR HOT WEATHER

TO THE PUBLIC!

In reply to the open letters signed by the Management of the Broadway and Strand Theatres, we wish to state that the following condition exist at these theatres. UNION MEN HAVE BEEN DISCHARGED FROM THESE THEATRES and THEIR PLACES HAVE BEEN FILLED AS FAR AS POSSIBLE BY NON-UNION PEOPLE. THERE ARE AT PRESENT NO UNION MUSICIANS, STAGE HANDS OR PICTURE OPERATORS EMPLOYED IN EITHER THE BROADWAY OR STRAND THEATRES. This Fact alone will convince any union man that THERE IS LABOR TROUBLE AT THESE THEATRES.

The management of these theatres HAS NOT always employed UNION PEOPLE for on one other occasion the STRAND THEATRE HIRED NON-UNION PEOPLE.

Under the present management the STRAND THEATRE HAS HAD ELEVEN DIFFERENT ORCHESTRAS, and TWENTY-SIX MEN have been brought here from other cities to fill engagements at this theatre. These men came from New York, Boston, Providence, Pawtucket, New London, Greenfield and Worcester. At times the treatment these men received was unbearable and several times they were forced to seek police protection to enable them to get their instruments from the theatre when terminating their engagement.

The laws of the Musicians' Union are the same the world over and transfer cards are accepted under proper conditions and only under these conditions.

This local does not have to inform the New Jersey locals that this management is a defaulter to the amount of $363 for the purpose of preventing him from ever hiring any Union men for the very fact that these two theatres are now employing non-union people will serve the same purpose. IT IS A FACT, HOWEVER, THAT THE MANAGEMENT OF THESE TWO THEATRES DID OWE MUSICIANS $21.00 FOR OVER A YEAR. THIS AMOUNT WAS PAID LAST MONDAY.

Musicians have been discharged from the Strand Theatre for being incapable. These same men are now filling engagements in such places as the Scenic Theatre, Pawtucket, Capitol Theatre, New London, Grand Theatre, Worcester, Griswold Hotel, Eastern Point, Rhodes, Providence, Hunts Mills, Providence, Crown Theatre, New London, and many other places and are giving satisfaction. This should be enough to prove beyond any reasonable doubt that the management of the Broadway and Strand Theatres IS IMPOSSIBLE.

Other managers have always considered us fair and reasonable. All we ask is employment for our members at a living wage and under living conditions.

WILL YOU, THE PUBLIC, HELP US GET IT?

BELGIAN GOVERNMENT THREATENS TO SUSPEND RELATIONS WITH GERMANY

Berlin Government Informed by Belgian Diplomatic Agent That Relations Will be Severed Unless Reich Repudiates Crimes in Ruhr Section—Similar Notice Given by the French Ambassador—Chamber of Deputies Votes Confidence in Premier Poincare After Discussion of Pope's Letter on Ruhr Occupation—Pope Has No Authority in Temporal Matters, Says Poincare—Appeal of Seven Germans Against Death Penalty Has Been Rejected.

Brussels, July 6.—(By the A. P.)—The Belgian diplomatic agent at Berlin has informed the German government that diplomatic relations will be suspended if the reich does not repudiate unequivocally the Ruhr crimes. The French ambassador has given similar notice.

FRENCH CHAMBER VOTES CONFIDENCE IN POINCARE

Paris, July 6.—(By the A. P.)—The chamber of deputies today after a discussion of Pope Pius' recent letter on the subject of reparations and the Ruhr occupation, voted confidence in Premier Poincare. The vote was 388 to 190.

The French government never will admit interference by the Pope in either its domestic or foreign policies, the premier said in answer to critics who demanded discontinuance of the appropriation to main the French embassy at the Vatican. The critics asserted that the embassy proved its uselessness when it failed in its duty in not preventing publication of the Pope's recent letter on reparations, or at least advising the French government in advance of its being made public.

The Pope, Premier Poincare asserted, has no authority in temporal matters.

"No doubt," he continued, "the Pope's views bear certain resemblance to those of certain of our allies. We don't see that they are any more offensive coming from the Pope than from our allies."

The pope's letter, to which French critics took exception, should have no political effect, the premier added, and the French Catholics, however fervent, will liberty in forming their own opinions. Consequently M. Poincare could see no reason for suppressing the embassy at the Vatican.

"We don't suppress our embassies to the governments of our allies or those of neutrals when they ask that Germany's capacity to pay be examined by a so-called impartial commission," he said. "The maintenance of an embassy is not a reward to a country which agrees to what we want. If so we might economize by suppressing them all and the foreign office as well."

The pope, concluded the premier, while the chamber applauded, has no power in the world to deprive France of its rights under the treaty of Versailles. "Today," he went on, "France appears to certain people, who did not have part of their territory devastated in the war and who did not advance a hundred billion in benalf of Germany, as a hindrance to financiers who are in a hurry to form trusts.

FRENCH OPTIMISTIC OVER BRITISH QUESTIONNAIRE

Paris, July 6.—(By the A. P.)—For the first time since the delivery of England's questionnaire on the Ruhr and reparation problem there appeared today in French political circles a distinct feeling of optimism over the outcome of the conversations between the two countries.

In addition to the London conversations, Lord Crew, the British ambassador, called on Premier Poincare this afternoon for a long conversation on the general reparations situation, and it is understood their interview was conducted in a spirit of cordiality.

In government circles it is indicated that while France has repeatedly announced that her troops remains intact, there are definite signs of a more conciliatory attitude and a sincere desire to find a basis acceptable to England for cooperative application.

It is the details concerning modified application of the French program that is occupying the diplomatic representatives of England and France at this time to authoritative quarters.

APPEAL OF DOOMED GERMANS IS REJECTED

Duesseldorf, July 6.—(By the A. P.)—The appeal of seven Germans against the death penalty imposed on them last week by a French courtmartial at Mayence has been rejected by the court of appeal. The men were charged with sabotage.

THREE GERMANS SHOT BY BELGIAN PATROL

Duisburg, July 6.—(By the A. P.)—Because posters announcing the penalties inflicted on this town after last weeks bomb explosion have been mutilated in a certain part of the town, all traffic has been prohibited in that section until further notice.

It is reported today that three Germans were shot and wounded last night by a Belgian patrol for being out after the curfew hour. It was reported also that in the town of Schwerte a German was killed by a French patrol. According to the German account he was in unoccupied territory; the French say he was caught sniping.

Much sniping activity is going on along the dividing line between the occupied and unoccupied sections.

NEW RULING ON SHIP LIQUOR STORES

Washington, July 6.—Liquor allowances to foreign ships in American waters under a decision today by the treasury, will be based hereafter on the requirements of laws of the country in whose trade the vessels are operating, regardless of the nationality of the owners.

By this addition to the ship liquor regulations, a British owned ship engaged exclusively in Italian trade will receive allowances of intoxicants sufficient to comply with the laws of Italy. If a vessel's passenger list and cargo come from several countries, each of which has laws requiring liquor stores, the general medical supply will be granted and specific provisions of the several laws will be met in addition.

The decision resulted from representations made by the owners of the Cunard liner Tuscania and the White Star liner Arabic through the British embassy. Each ship came in conflict with the laws of Italy requiring wine stores for steerage passengers and their owners appealed to this government for relief.

Public health service doctors in passing on the liquor applications of the two vessels, apparently has determined to allow only the quantities prescribed for medicinal uses by British law inasmuch as both were flying the British flag. The Italians among the steerage passengers demanded the wine which the laws of their home and said they should have, and the decision of the treasury today makes it possible for them to have it in the future.

GOVERNMENT COUNSEL DEFENDS MORSE INDICTMENTS

Washington July 6.—The Morse trial will go down in history as the greatest case of legal oppression," Attorney Nash Rockwood of defense counsel declared today in closing the arguments on motions, filed yesterday, for directed verdicts of acquittal for the eight defendants charged with conspiracy to defraud the government. Officers of the emergency fleet corporation, he asserted, should be on trial instead of Charles W. Morse, his three sons, and four others indicted with them.

Validity of the indictments was defended by government counsel who declared that the evidence introduced by the prosecution, which rested its case yesterday, warranted submission of the case to the jury. On the other hand, the defense contended, that before October 23, 1918, it was not a crime by specific statute to defraud the emergency fleet corporation. The indictments, the defense contended, charge that the conspiracy is alleged to have continued until, February, 1922, when the grand jury returned the indictments.

There will be no session of court tomorrow. Justice Stafford indicated he would rule on the motions early next week. In the event he overrules the motions the defense will begin submission of testimony with the prospect that the case may go to the jury before time in August.

TELEPHONE SERVICE IS STEADILY IMPROVING

Springfield, Mass., July 6.—Despite an official order from chief of Police William J. Quilty that striking telephone operators could not, under penalty of arrest, intimidate working operators in any part of the city, a dozen strikers late today pursued three operators for several blocks in the downtown district, shouted, "Scab!" and "Yellow!" after them and finally drove them to seek refuge in a building in Main street. No arrests were made.

To prevent the pickets from molesting operators entering or leaving the exchange, police have strung ropes across the sidewalks, giving room for two cars to load and unload in front of one entrance now kept open. Other traffic is diverted from this street. Pickets are forced to walk across the street from the exchange.

Service is returning to normal steadily, according to company officials and who reported tonight that Springfield has 420 operators on duty the normal force being 482. Northampton now has forty-five operators working, whole the normally force is 49. Greenfield, Holyoke and Pittsfield have their normal forces on duty.

FIVE KILLED DURING PITTSBURGH THUNDERSTORM

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 6.—Five persons were killed during a thunderstorm which broke over the city late today. A man and a woman were killed by coming in contact with electric wires struck by lightning, another man was struck by lightning while standing on the porch of his residence and two women met death when their automobiles skidded on a slippery road while they were hurrying to shelter from the downpour.

A number of buildings were struck by lightning and a high wind caused extensive damage.

TO SEND PRESIDENT'S MAIL OVER AIR ROUTE

Washington, July 6.—Two special pouches will be sent from Seattle to Vancouver, B. C., by hydroplane to deliver mail to President Harding and the members of his party when the transport Henderson docks there on July 26.

Postmaster General New notified cabinet officers today that the service will be available for important communications to the president. The pouches will leave here July 22 and 23 and will travel over the regular domestic air mail lines to the Pacific coast.

12,000 IMMIGRANTS PASS THROUGH ELLIS ISLAND

New York, July 6.—Twelve thousand and twenty-six immigrants, representing more than forty countries have passed through Ellis Island since the new immigration quotas went into effect Sunday, Commissioner Henry H. Curran announced today. He said conditions at the Island were again normal. In contrast to unusual congestion, forcing many aliens to wait aboard their ships, beds were provided for all comers last night.

Anthracite Miners Demand Wage Raise

Operators Expected to Refuse Demand and to Ask Appointment of Sub-Committee to Reach Agreement.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 6.—The demands of the anthracite mine workers for increased wages adopted in vention at Scranton, Pa., last week to form the basis of a new wage contract to replace the present agreement when it expires August 31, were formally presented to the coal operators at a joint meeting here today. After the operators had listened for three hours to the mine workers representatives, the mine owners asked for a recess until tomorrow morning.

The operators tonight would not disclose what reply they would make to the 155,000 hard coal miners of Pennsylvania, but the general opinion among those watching the negotiations was that the employers will refuse the demands and ask for the appointment of a sub-committee to reac han agreement.

John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, presided at the joint session at which there were about one hundred representatives of the operators and miners present. Mr. Lewis was nominated as chairman by Samuel D. Warriner, Philadelphia, president of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company and chief spokesman for the mine owners.

The meeting was unusual, in that newspapermen were permitted to listen to the speeches of the mine workers. Only upon very rare occasions had such a privilege been accorded the news gatherers.

President Lewis was the chief spokesman for the men. He read the demands and then made a long speech in which he explained them in general terms.

The demands provide for a twenty per cent increase in the wage contract, a two dollar a day increase for men paid by the day or month, an eight-hour day, recognition of the union, a two-year contract, and a number of others of a technical character.

President Lewis said there could be no material compromise in any of the cardinal points, such as wages, hours of employment and recognition of the union. He said the demand for the 20 per cent increase was warranted under present industrial conditions and that the men in the anthracite fields were not receiving wages commensurate with the work they perform, nor were the present wage rates commensurate with the hazards of mining and the hours of work. Two-thirds of the men employed in the hard coal mines, Mr. Lewis stated, were paid by the day or month and their compensation did not measure up with men employed in other industries. The men, he added, received a minimum of $4.20 a day and a maximum of $5.80. Their annual earnings were insufficient to meet their proper needs, he added.

POLICE STILL SEARCH FOR GIRL'S MURDERER

Scarsdale, July 6.—After the release late today of James Clary, a negro arrested on suspicion of being the murderer of Dorothy Kauffman, the young governess in the home of Mayor Gruder Craighead, who was brutally slain Wednesday night, police again turned their attention to searching for a negro said to have hopped a Buffalo freight passing through the yards here.

Although numerous reports were current that the man was known, and would soon be apprehended, officials refused to make any statement to that effect, though they claimed to have "a good clue." Whether this was to the man's identity, his whereabouts, or what, they declined to say.

Finger prints have been made from the handle of the knife with which the young girl was stabbed to death while alone in the Craighead house, and from a cracker box said to have been dropped by the negro in vaulting a fence.

SAW BRILLIANT METEOR OFF ATLANTIC COAST

Washington, July 6.—The prize—if there was one—for the outstanding contribution to marine phenomena reported during the current week to the naval hydrographic office, would go to Captain R. D. Robbins, master of the British ship Manaqui. An immense meteor "of brilliant blue color with a wake of what appeared to be red fire" was observed during a recent trip down the Atlantic coast, the skipper said, his ship being at that time about opposite Savannah, Ga. The glare was so intense, the report continued that the Manaqui and the surrounding sea for a considerable distance was vividly illuminated in purple for several minutes.

LISTEN TO REASON

With the wisdom of a sage, Poor Richard said: "If you will not hear Reason, she will rap your knuckles."

The advertising you find in The Bulletin is 100 per cent. reason. Ignore its message and you neglect opportunity; overlook vital information and put yourself in a way to get your knuckles severely rapped. Heed them, and you cannot fail to profit.

Sometimes, the advertisements keep you from making an unwise purchase by pointing out the reasons why one article suits you better than another.

And always they identify for you goods of unquestioned value. When a store or manufacturing concern puts its name on goods and tells you about them, you may be sure they are worth considering. It does not pay to advertise merchandise that is not good.

It's worth while to heed the voice of reason. Read the advertisements in The Bulletin.

Navy Balloon is Reported Missing

All Other Starters in National Elimination Race Have Landed—No Word Received From Naval Airman.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 6.—(By the A. P.)—All track of Lieutenant L. J. Roth, navy airman and only starter in the national elimination balloon race who has not been heard from, has been lost, according to announcement made late this afternoon by the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, sponsor for the race. Lieutenant T. B. Hull, accompanied Lieutenant Roth as aide. The men came here from the naval training station at Lakehurst, N. J., for the contest.

The missing balloonists, as usual, were well supplied with card-bearing streamers, with instructions to drop them overboard as the craft drifted over cities and towns. Not a word, however, has been received here from the ship, known as the U. S. Navy No. A-6698. Officials at the chamber of commerce said they were at a loss as to what locality he might land in.

An official check, compiled at the chamber of commerce, gave Lieutenant Robert S. Olmstead, army balloonist, the lead in distance travelled over the eleven other pilots who have reported, bringing their balloons to the ground. Lieutenant Olmstead descended at Manilla, N. Y. The distance between Indianapolis and Manilla on an air line is approximately 500 miles.

According to the check, H. E. Honeywell, St. Louis, piloting the "St. Louis," traveled the next farthest distance—about 450 miles. He brought his balloon to the ground at Brocton, N. Y. Honeywell was the last pilot to report. Three other bags, piloted by Lieutenant J. B. Lawrence, Washington naval officer; C. E. McCullough, Baltimore, and Lieutenant L. T. Miller, army man located at Scott field, Belleville, Ill., came to ground about 400 miles from Indianapolis, it was said.

Honeywell and his aide, P. J. McCullough, had a harrowing experience while they were in the air, according to a telegram received from them by The Associated Press. At the mercy of storms, the craft was driven into Canada, then back into the United States and again toward Lake Erie. Short of ballast, Honeywell determined to land and brought the ship down on a cliff, 150 feet high and close to the edge of the water. The landing was effected in darkness; the time being 9.15 o'clock last night, according to the telegram.

Belief was expressed by Honeywell that he had traveled about 500 miles and had won a place on the three-balloon team which will represent the United States in the international contest in Belgium in September. He said both McCullough and he were badly sunburned and tired.

CAN'T REGULATE LIQUOR PRESCRIBED BY DOCTORS

Helena, Mont., July 6.—(By The A. P.)—Congress once having said that alcohol can be used for medicinal purposes cannot now dictate to the physician as to the number of whiskey prescriptions he shall write or the quantity he shall prescribe, Federal Judge George M. Bourquin held today. In his decision, which said part of the prohibition act was unconstitutional, Judge Bourquin invalidated the prosecution of Dr. J. B. Freund, of Butte, who, it was charged, issued more than 100 prescriptions within a 90 day period and prescribed more than half pint of alcohol to one patient in ten days.

The decision in substance, held that congress cannot substitute its judgment for that of the physician, ruling similarly to Federal Judge Knox of New York, who on May 9 last granted an order restraining prohibition authorities from interfering with the pactic of Dr. Samuel W. Lambert with respect to the amount of whiskey which might be prescribed to one patient. Judge Bourquin's ruling, however, goes further and holds that the portion of the Volstead act which seeks to limit the number of prescriptions is invalid, as well as that portion limiting the quantity prescribed.

TURKISH TORPEDO BOAT SINKS GREEK SHIP

Sofia, July 6.—(By The A. P.)—A press report received tonight from Constantinople says that the Greeks attempted to land a regiment at Kara-Burun, near the Dardanelles, and that the Turks repulsed them after severe fighting. There were many casualties on both sides, the report says.

In the fighting a Turkish torpedo boat sank a Greek ship, according to the Constantinople report, and many were drowned.

HUNDREDS FLEE AS FLAMES SWEEP NEVADA GOLD CAMP

Town of Goldfield Reduced to Ashes by Fire Believed to Have Been Set as Part of Bootleggers Feud—Residents Fled to Mountainside With Belongings to Escape Rush of Flames—One Man Dead, Woman Believed To Have Perished, and Several People Injured as Result of Conflagration—All Food Supplies in Town Were Destroyed—Poor Water Pressure Hampered Fire Department.

Tonopah, Nev., July 6.—The town of Goldfield with the exception of six buildings, was burned to the ground today. One man is dead from causes attributed to the fire, a woman is missing and is believed to have perished and several persons were treated for burns as the result of the conflagration now believed to have been of incendiary origin, started as part of a bootlegger's feud.

Fire Chief L. N. Galliac, of Goldfield, declared that he believed an enemy of a known bootlegger started the blaze in a building in the rear of a garage.

Van D. McArthur, after carrying furniture from his burning home died of heart trouble. John Salisbury and Ben Gill were cut about the face and hands by flying glass resulting from the dynamiting operations. The name of the missing woman has not been learned.

Residents were returning tonight from the mountainside where they fled with their belongings, and telephone connections have been restored. Food has reached there from Tonopah, all of the local supplies having been destroyed.

A group of miners' shacks on the outskirts of the town are being rehabilitated under the direction of a relief committee and the Elks club.

The main buildings surviving the fire are the hospital, railroad station, Old John S. Cook bank building, Goldfield hotel, post office and Elks' club.

Tonopah has raised $3,745 for the relief of the sufferers and caravans of automobiles and trucks laden with food have been dispatched. Refugees are arriving in Tonopah and a special train is scheduled to leave Goldfield for Tonopah tonight.

Fire Chief Galliac asserted that the fire had too big a start and that the poor water pressure hampered operations.

The alarm was turned in at 6.15 a. m. Nine hours later the town had been destroyed.

Goldfield, which was swept by fire today, is one of the last of the gold boom towns of the west and has a history as stirring as that of any of its predecessors. Situated in the low Nevada desert, in the sink of the Malapai, credited with being the crater of an extinct volcano, it has seen its population swell overnight to more than 20,000 and then fall away to a few dwindling hundreds as the boom died down.

Goldfield had its first start on Columbia, known as "Grandma," a shack town to the immediate west and head of a few fairly promising gold tailings. Later, a group of young engineers came out of the east and established the engineers claim on the barren, rock-ribbed hills of the Malapai, the Indian name for "Bad Land". They struck it rich and the boom was on.

BOLTING FARMER-LABORITES JOIN FEDERATED PARTY

Chicago, July 6 (By the A. P.)—The federated farmer-labor party and the farmer-labor party of the United States, with individual platforms and candidates are announced as entries in the 1924 political field.

The majority of the farmer-labor party today refused to affiliate with the federated organization, a group born in the farmer-labor convention, and decided upon a platform and ticket of its own. A minority went over to the federated party, splitting the farmer-labor organization.

The national executive committee of the federated party accepted five of the bolting farmer-laborites as members of its executive committee and proceeded to the selection of an executive council and an intensive program of activity. Headquarters of the federated party probably will be here, C. E. Ruthenberg of Cleveland, convicted in Michigan of communistic tendencies, and a leader in the new party, announced.

The farmer-labor convention was adjourned after a day of oratory over a motion of M. Toscan Bennett, members of the party's national executive committee, which would have placed five of its members on the federated group's executive committee with reservations, after its defeat, Bennett announced he would abide by the decision by the minority faction filed out.

Non-participation by the farmer-labor party with the federated organization which Bennett characterized as "threatening the suicide of the farmer-labor party," was not shared by the solid Illinois unit, which is credited by its speakers with having established "a clean break with the extreme radicals; is unshackled of a possible red menace and is on its feet stronger than ever in the pursuit of independent political satisfaction."

John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, who declined the chairmanship of today's meeting in favor of Robert M. Buck, Chicago labor leader and editor, sounded the keynote of non-participation on the part of the farmer-labor party and it stuck throughout a siege by the minority.

"We want political betterment for the workers and farmers but we want control through the ballot in our own ranks and not from a dictatorship in Russia," Fitzpatrick asserted. "Union men and women will not subscribe to the tinted platform of the federated party—its leadership of Ruthenberg, William Z. Foster and Joseph Manley being sufficient to describe its communistic principles."

The repudiation of the federated party came shortly after the reading of a communication from President Brophy of District No. 2, United Mine Workers of Pennsylvania, which said his organization could not deal with the federated party "because it has a philosophy contrary to the principles we are fighting for."

How much strength the farmer-labor party lost in its membership by the minority bolt could not be definitely learned, although John C. Kennedy, secretary of the Washington state farmer-labor branch, claimed those units in his state, Ohio, Minnesota, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Montana, Idaho and California. The claim was denied by Jay G. Brown, national secretary.

The five former farmer-labor delegates elected to the federated executive committee are C. J. Stevens of Kentucky; Mrs. Mary D. Bright, Cincinnati; John C. Kennedy, Washington state; Richard Swift, Illinois; J. M. Rammller, Wisconsin.

William Bouck, of California, chairman of the conference in which the federated party was created, was elected national chairman of the party. Joseph Manley, of New York, structural iron workers, national secretary, and W. H. Green of Nebraska, progressive party, vice chairman.

Ruthenberg announced that the committee would draft an invitation to the Cleveland conference to unite with the federated party.

The party's constitution calls for a nominating convention to be held in December or next January.

THREE KILLED IN TRAIN-AUTO CRASH

Chicago, July 6.—Three persons were reported killed and three injured when an automobile was struck by the Manhattan Limited on the Pennsylvania railroad near Wheeler, Ind., this afternoon.

WILL SOON ABOLISH TWELVE HOUR DAY

New York, July 6.—(By The A. P.)—Influx into northern industrial centers of negroes from the south and laborers from Mexico, the Philippines and Canada and few European countries, soon will make possible the abolishment of the 12-hour day in the steel industry, Elbert H. Gary chairman of the Board of the United States Steel corporation, announced today.

Mr. Gary declared he could not say when his corporation or any other company would get rid of the 12-hour day entirely but he asserted he could publicly state that they would commence to act in that direction very soon and would be very diligent in their efforts.

His announcement followed action of President Harding in making public yesterday before sailing from Tacoma for Alaska, of correspondence between himself and directors of the American Iron and Steel Institute, in which they pledged themselves to abolish the long day when a sufficient labor supply was assured.

He estimated that the change would require 60,000 additional laborers and would increase the cost of finished steel products by 15 per cent.

Mr. Gary predicted that good progress towards abolishment of the 12-hour day would soon result and that success would be reached in a comparatively short time provided that the increase in the number of available workmen which is now apparent continued to be present.

The decision of the leaders of the industry to do away with the long day, Mr. Gary said, was made in recognition of the growing public sentiment in favor of such a step and in recognition of the president's attitude. He pointed out, however, that he also had always been opposed to the 12-hour day and that its reduction retention had been dictated by circumstances.

AUSTRALIAN COMMISSIONER TO UNITED STATES

New York, July 6.—Great Britain with her dominions, and the United States could form an English-speaking anti-war entente strong enough to enforce peace over all the earth, Donald MacKinnon, Australia's new commissioner to this country, asserted on taking office here today.

Mr. MacKinnon re-establishes the bureau of Australian commissioner to the United States which was opened in 1918 and closed after the war. He is the third person to represent the island here! is a native of Sydney and a cheesemaker by trade.

Although he is authorized to report to his government on the advisability of Australia establishing a minister at Washington to represent her directly, as Canada proposes to do, Mr. MacKinnon announced his chief duties would be to stimulate trade between the island dominion and the United States.

"My mission is to foster the trade relationship between the two countries," he said; "to make Australia better known; to bring our people your people and all Great Britain into harmony with regard to world affairs; and to establish good will among English-speaking countries."

MADE HONORARY CITIZEN OF PORT OF PIRAEUS

New York, July 6.—Colonel William N. Haskell, head of the American Red Cross in Greece, was made an honorary citizen of the Port of Piraeus at a ceremony attended by the Greek cabinet today, according to a cablegram received at Red Cross headquarters here.

Colonel Haskell complimented the Greek government for the way in which it is handling the refugee problem. Following the ceremony the colonel, who is also director of the American relief administration in Russia, left for Russia to wind up affairs of the relief organization.

HELD FOR PASSING AS "DRY" AGENT

New York, July 6.—John Agrilla, giving a Brooklyn address, was arrested today by federal agents at the request of Boston authorities, who charge him with having falsely impersonated a federal prohibition agent to defraud persons in various parts of New England.

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
21 Church Street Telephone 1080

Slow progress is being made in the campaign for funds being staged in Willimantic by the local corps of the Salvation Army. The proceeds are for the erection of a new citadel on Walnut street. With the quota set at $7,000 only $3,000 in subscriptions and pledges has so far been received at the campaign headquarters, in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Only a small number of the captains have as yet turned in any reports and the workers are still engaged in a house-to-house canvass in this city. Several of the canvassers have asked to be allowed to continue the work next week. The collections which are being taken up in the various manufacturing plants will come to a close at the end of this week. Friday the employes of the American Thread company plant were given an opportunity to show their interest as a collection was taken in that plant.

Today (Saturday) will be the big Tag Day and assisting Salvation Army lassies will arrive here early in the forenoon from Providence, Springfield, and South Manchester. They will be stationed along Main street and other thoroughfares. An appeal to the public's generosity is being sent out today by the Salvation Army and the committee of local men are standing back of the local organization.

Services will be held at Crystal Lake Sunday, by members of the First Congregational church of this city. Morning worship will be conducted at 11.30 o'clock at the camp on the lake shore in Eastford. Transportation will be in automobiles furnished by the members.

Basket lunches will be carried by the individuals and coffee will be served on the premises by a committee under the direction of Mrs. George F. Taylor. Church services will be at 11.30 and luncheon will be about 1.30 o'clock.

Joseph Genns died Friday morning at the Mansfield State Training School and Hospital after a week's illness. The deceased was the son of Antonio and Philomena Sevilla Genns. The body was removed from the Mansfield institution Friday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock and sent to the parents' home in Waterbury by Killeeney Brothers.

Mrs. Estella Abell, 62, wife of Otis Abel, who died Thursday morning at her home in Mystic, was widely known here. She was born November 9, 1860, a daughter of James and Fannie Bemus Gallup. She leaves her husband and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth MacDougall of Mystic and a brother, Frank H. Gallup of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Howlett, Jr., and children, Edgar M., and Evelyn M., of Fiskdale, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Howlett, of Warrenville. Mr. Howlett, Jr., was a former Warrenville correspondent of the Norwich Bulletin and is now connected with a newspaper in Worcester, Mass.

Over one hundred have already registered for the Y. M. C. A. free swimming campaign for boys and girls. Physical Director A. F. Brown is in charge. There are about the same number of girls as boys and to date fifteen of the number have learned to swim. The total registration last year was 141.

In St. Mary's parish free swimming lessons are given the boys of St. Mary's Parochial school between the ages of 12 and 16. The youngsters are in charge of Jean B. Paulhus, Wilfred Chartier and Norman Boyer, as instructors. The boys are given the private use of a section of the river bank along the Natchaug, just above Horseshoe Bridge, on lower Main street and instructions are given every Thursday afternoon. Various aquatic sport devices have been purchased and are a great source of enjoyment during the swim.

John Adams, of South Windham, who sustained severe injuries in an automobile collision at Windham Center a few days ago is recovering at St. Joseph's hospital. The deep gashes which he received on his arm and knee when thrown through the windshield, are rapidly healing and it is thought that he will leave the institution in four or five days.

Purinton Temple, No. 2, Pythian Sisters, held a well attended meeting Friday evening at the rooms on Main street.

Elmer Charron, who lost his home on the South Coventry road Fourth of July night when it was destroyed by fire and his wife and four little children had a narrow escape from death, estimates his loss at $2,000 on which there is an insurance of about $1,500 carried through a local agency.

The mysterious disappearance of an elderly resident of Windham Center was being investigated Friday by County Investigator William E. Jackson and Acting Chief Allan MacArthur, after neighbors had informed the local police department that the man had been missing for a few days. The man lived as a recluse in a lonely house on the back road, leading to Heward Valley. His nearest neighbors had seen nothing of him Thursday and Friday morning a visit to the house disclosed that it was unoccupied. Notes were found on the table addressed to relatives in which he bade them good bye forever. Various conclusions were arrived at as to the man's intentions. He was traced to this city where it was learned he had taken a jitney to Hartford. The man was later located there and it was generaly supposed that he will return to his home. It was rumored that dissatisfaction over family affairs was the cause of his leaving.

Miss Florence G. Woodward left Friday to visit her sister at Groton Long Point. She will then go to Stonington.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dupre of Main street, Southbridge, Mass., have returned after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nield, of this city.

"TAIT BROS CITY"
~in the Service of those who dine well

Here are the modern creameries, milk and ice cream plants of Tait Bros grouped together. A city built in thirty years. In the past nine years facilities have been doubled in size five times, and more than four million quarts of Venetian and Guest Ice Creams will be produced in 1923.

If you were to fully explore every part of this city, you would gain a new appreciation of the methods essential to the control and maintenance of Tait Bros standard of quality, sanitation and service. You would first learn of the drastic dairy inspections which enjoy the full approval and co-operation of State and City Health Departments and which eliminate all but the very best dairies.

You would be shown the Testing and Research Laboratories in every creamery and plant and the experts in charge would demonstrate how they guard, check and control quality every minute. Equipment of the most modern design and of latest scientific development would next be explained to you, and before leaving you would be introduced to the chefs whose skill contributes to the pleasures of those who dine well.

MOTION PICTURES OF ACTUAL FIGHTING IN DEMPSEY-GIBBONS BOUT BARRED

Washington, July 6—Moving pictures of the Dempsey-Gibbons prize fight will not be shown outside of Montana if the department of justice can prevent it.

Assistant Attorney General Crim, in charge of criminal prosecution, said today that in anticipation of an effort to market the fight films he had given emphatic orders some time ago to frustrate any such attempt. William J. Burns, chief of the bureau of investigation, and his agents were directed to watch closely for any move to violate the federal statutes by the marketing of the films and the assistant attorney general said that prosecutions certainly would follow any attempt to transport them in interstate commerce.

Two criminal charges will be faced by those involved in an effort to violate the prize fight film law, Mr. Crim added. Proceedings under the general conspiracy statutes as well as the prize fight film law, he said, will be resorted to if necessary.

The prize fight film law prohibits transportation of prize fight moving picture films across a state line, but congress neglected to provide a penalty for the exhibition of such films and exhibitors will be free to present them if they are not involved in their transportation. The general conspiracy statute would apply in Mr. Crim's opinion, to all those, including promoters of the fight, implicated in the act of interstate transportation of the films.

PROS AND AMATEURS IN TUNING-UP MATCHES TODAY

Inwood, N. Y., July 6—(By the A. P.)—Teams of twelve of the nation's leading golfers, two amateurs and ten professionals representing the west and a like number the east, will compete tomorrow in a series of six matches, an interesting "tuning up" preliminary to the qualifying rounds of the national open championship, starting Monday.

Robert Jones and Francis Ouimet will be the eastern amateurs, the professional list including Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen, Jim Barnes, John Farrell, Leo Diegel, Fred McLeod, Cyril Walker, Clarence Hackney, Bob Cruikshank and Willie Ogg.

The western representatives will be Rudolph Knepper and Chick Evans amateurs and William Melhorn, Jack Burke, Mike Brady, McDonald Smith, Bob McDonald, Emmett French, Jock Hutchison, John Black, Laurie Ayton and Harry Hampton.

The first match between the amateurs, will be started at 1 o'clock.

TRIALS AND TRIBULATIONS OF A WOULD-BE GOLFER

What is so mean and dispicable as a man reputed to be entirely honest, a perfect soul of integrity, well thought of by his many friends, who will deliberately cheat in that grand and glorious, fat-reducing game of golf? It is hard to believe that a man can sink to such a low strata of action but such is the case with a local man if the stories of his most intimate friends can be believed. It is known that golf, like fish, make brains and breakfasts through its dissipating effects on the morals of the human race.

As the story goes three young men, all connected with the cigar industry. One a partner in a Franklin square emporium, the other employed in said emporium and the third a salesman for a brand of cigars with a very historical name, went to the Norwich Golf club with the firm determination of breaking the course record. They did break the record in a way—they lost fifteen balls between the three of them and each did the nine holes in 78, 93 and 102 respectively. The scores tell nothing at all according to reports.

It seems that the first two young men got away to a fairly good start but the third made every mistake according to the rules of the Royal and Ancient and was soon trailing along the course by his lonely. The first two after tearing their way through the rough and digging up generous clods of turf from the fairway were soon out of sight. The third member of the party kept hammering away at the elusive little white ball with a patience born of the true golfing spirit. But even the most rugged will make breaks under such trying circumstances, as trying to hit a ball that refuses to be hit, that seems to jump from spot to spot just as the club descends. At last the will of the golfer broke under the strain. He scanned the fairway and the course and no one could be seen. He stooped quickly smothered the little white ball with a perspiring palm and tossed the offending sphere on the fairway. From then on with the exception of a few lost balls the golfer went merrily and happily on his way without a qualm of conscience. Soon he caught up to his two companions who were struggling along with their game.

When asked how many he took on the last hole there was no hesitation in the answer of the third member of the trio when he replied, "six". There was a threatening calm as before a thunder storm and then the floodgates of golfing vernacular broke loose, and some of the floor was not of the polite kind. It seems that while the two who were leading the party were apparently out of sight of the third member they had a clear vision of him. They were first aware of his proximity by hearing a loud "swish" as a club cleaved the atmosphere ending in a dull thud followed by the skyrocketing of a great clod of turf. This continued for a time until it seemed as if a trench large enough to lay a 12-inch water main had been dug. They investigated and their convictions were confirmed.

When accused of this gross breach of golfing etiquette the third member by saying that he was killing a snake.

Moral—Never let your opponents get out of your sight if you would win a golf match.

FIRPO GOES THROUGH A STIFF WORKOUT

New York, July 6—While Jess Willard, at his Yonkers gymnasium, today eased up in his training program, Luis Angel Firpo, the South American who battles the former champion at Boyle's Thirty Acres next Thursday night, went through one of the stiffest workouts he has had in his ocean-front quarters at Long Branch, N. J.

Firpo, because of a barnstorming trip to Cuba and Mexico, was later than Willard in starting his conditioning for next week's bout and as a result the giant from the Argentine plans active work up until a day or so before the match. Willard has reached what he believes to be the top of his form and the rest of his work will be aimed at keeping him on edge.

Despite a terrific downpour a crowd of several hundred gathered to watch Firpo go through his training paces today. The South American, under the watchful eye of his tutor, Jimmy De Forrest shadow-boxed two rounds and then stepped four each with Jack McAuliffe II, of Detroit, who meets Floyd Johnson in the semi-final next week, and Bill Tate, negro heavyweight.

McAuliffe showed vast improvement in form over his work against Firpoint the milk fund show two months ago, when he was knocked out in the third round, but even so, he was an easy target for Firpo's left jabs and hooks. This type of blow is something new in the South American's repertoire but he has developed a skillful use of his left hand. Seldom did he employ the powerful right swings that laid Bill Brennan and McAuliffe low.

Tate gave Firpo a brisk boxing lesson in their brief setto, the negro, wary of his opponent's punches, staying on the defensive for practically the whole workout. Both he and McAuliffe were careful to avoid reopening the gash which the former inflicted over Firpo's right eye several days ago.

Willard cut his ringwork from about a dozen to only eight rounds this afternoon, shadow-boxed two rounds with each of his three sparring partners, Buddy Jackson, Joe White and Chief Metoqua. His manager, Ray Archer, said he would gradually cut down his exercise until next Tuesday, when he will end his active program until the fight.

PUTNAM TEAM PLAYS AT RIVERVIEW TODAY

The Riverview Club of the Norwich State Hospital will have the strong Nightingale-Morse baseball club of Putnam as their opponents this (Saturday) afternoon on the Hospital field.

The Riverview club has been playing fast ball this season, defeating such teams as the Corbin Red Sox of New Britain who are considered as one of the State's fastest road teams; also the Aetna A. A. of Southbridge, Mass., who are now touring Canada. Other clubs in this section of the state have offered little opposition. The New London Independents winners of last season's Eastern Conn. League pennant were handed a 10-0 set back. The Baltic Rivals were unable to score, being trounced 15-0 in seven innings of laughter from the loyal rooters in the new grandstand.

Tony (Bullet) West, the lanky south paw of the Riverview club has been the Nemsis to the visiting clubs. He has held them to three and four hits per game with an average of seventeen strikeouts to his credit. This boy's pitching, together with the heavy hitting of "Tommy" Sullivan and "Harry" Mills makes a very uncomfortable afternoon for the visiting teams. The Riverview Club will play the Taftville A. A. Aug. 14th on the Hospital field and then will prepare for an attack on the Submarine Base.

DEMPSEY ARRIVES HOME BEARING MARKS OF BATTLE

Salt Lake City, July 6—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion boxer, reached here today from Shelby, Montana, where he fought Tommy Gibbons Dempsey told reporters, "but I found him a pretty tough boxer."

"I don't know what I will do next," Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager is making arrangements for a bout in the east possibly with Harry Wills, in New York.

Dempsey looked tired. His left eye was black and his face showed the signs of pummelling. "Are you hurt anywhere?" he was asked. "Not an injury," he replied. "I didn't get hit real hard after the first two or three rounds."

"What seemed to be the matter, Jack?" he was asked, "why did all your blows fall short—the kind you usually deliver with telling results?"

"I did miss quite a few of them I guess, but he was a clever little boxer, one of the hardest that I have gone against," he answered.

Dempsey will spend a few days visiting his mother.

FEDERALS OF HARTFORD AT MARTIN FIELD ON SUNDAY

The J. B. Martin team plays two games this week end, going to Lebanon on Saturday afternoon and playing the Federal B. B. club of Hartford at the J. B. Martin park on Sunday afternoon. The Hartford team is playing on a win or lose basis so that there is little doubt but this team will be as strong an aggregation as has played on the local field this season. For this game the Velvetmen have made some change in their outfield. Bill Gley taking his old place in left and Seidel going to center while St. Germain and Joubert will play in right. The team has had a stiff week of practice and Lemieux is in tip-top condition to pitch the coming game. Pilling or Eccleston will do the catching.

HOME RUNS GIVE ALBANY EASY GAME

Albany, N. Y., July 6—Home runs by Kenna and Shanley and a double by Schinkel accounted for Albany's 6 to 3 victory over Waterbury here today. Leary, in left field for Albany, had ten putouts, five in succession. Kinley pitched well for the home team. Score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Waterbury	2 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—3	5	1
Albany	2 1 0 0 0 3 0 0 x—6	8	2

Anderson and Schauffel; Kirley and Kenna.

Two base hits, Clanton, Schinkel, Esmond.

Home runs, Kenna, Shanley, Kane.

Baltic A. A. at New London

The Baltic A. A. plays at New London on Sunday against the Tabs of the city. The game will be played at Mercer park.

SARAZEN WINS TWO VICTORIES AT BROOKLAWN

Bridgeport, July 6.—Gene Sarazen, American open golf champion, scored a double victory on the Brooklawn Country club links here today. In the morning match paired with J. T. L. Hubbard, a Brooklawn golfer, he defeated W. P. Seeley, state amateur champion and George Sparling, Brooklawn professional, 1 up.

Jock Hutchison paired with Sarazen scored over Sparling and Walsh, assistant pro at Brooklawn, three up in the afternoon. Hutchison made 71, par for the course while Sarazen shot both eighteen holes in 73.

Gene was formerly a caddie at the Brooklawn club and credits Sparling with teaching him the rudiments of golf.

KID MILLER TO TRAIN AT BETHLEHEM CAMP

Fred (Kid) Miller, local bantamweight leaves this morning for Bethlehem, N. H., where he will be located during the summer in a training camp conducted by Johnny Martin. Miller has been assured of a number of bouts during the summer at the various mountain resorts and expects to return to Norwich in the fall in excellent condition.

Miller has been training faithfully during the past season and although young, has given promise of becoming a fast stepper in his class. Miller was very green during his first few bouts in this city, but has improved wonderfully during the past few months. After spending a summer in a real camp he should come back to Norwich a seasoned product.

Sailors eat less fish than any other class because there are few of the finny tribe found far from land.

SUZANNE LENGLEN RETAINS TITLE AS WORLD'S BEST WOMAN TENNIS PLAYER

Wimbledon, July 6—(By the A. P.)—Suzanne Lenglen still is supreme among all the women tennis players of the world. With ease and certainty the French star defeated Miss Kathleen McKane, the best of Britain's tennis playing women, this afternoon by the score of 6-2, 6-2, and so won the fifth successive season the title of world's champion. It was the fifth meeting between this pair of stars, and, with one exception, it was the worst beating Suzanne has administered to the lively British girl.

She took the first five games, then dropped two and then finished the set on her own service.

The remainder of the day's program produced little that was exciting. For one thing, the weather, with the thermometer passing the hundred mark in the sun, was took hot for the European players whose game lacked the usual dash. Still it wasn't too hot to keep L. S. D. Dean and Mrs. Shepherd-Barron from beating the American pair, Vincent Richards and Mrs. Molla Mallory, who played a loose game. The score was 8-7, 6-3, 6-4.

Tomorrow the tournament, which daily for a fortnight has drawn huge crowds to the courts, will come to an end. The chief event will be the tussle for the men's title between William M. Johnston, of California, and Francis T. Hunter, of New Rochelle, N. Y. The other matches will be for the various doubles championships.

In the men's doubles Edouard Flaquer and Count de Gomar, of Spain, will play Randolph Lycett and L. A. Godfree, of England; in the women's doubles Mlle. Lenglen and Miss Elizabeth Ryan will meet the Misses Austin and Colyer; in the mixed doubles Lycett and Miss Ryan will play dean and Mrs. Shepherd-Barron.

OFFICER DELANEY RECEIVES MUCH DESERVED PRAISE

Matt Delaney, star third sacker of the East Side Married Men, is nursing a sore right arm. No, don't get the impression that the sore arm is a direct result of his ball playing for it is not. It is rather, an indirect result of the stellar game that he put up Thursday evening for all day Friday Matt did little else but shake hands with his admirers and listen to sweet words of praise. Matt, like all great stars, denied any claim to greatness but his friends forced their admiration upon him with the result that his stalwart right arm is very sore from the constant hand shaking, although his friend Billy Moore says that probably it's from waving his arms at traffic on Broadway corner.

Among the first to congratulate Matt on Friday morning were his brother officers, Myron Morgan and Barney Kenean. Indeed the whole police department is justly proud of their brother and plan to turn out en masse next Tuesday evening when Matt plays again.

YANKEES HIT SHOCKER HARD AND BEAT BROWNS

St. Louis, July 6—New York pounded Shocker for 13 hits, and won the opening game of the series with St. Louis today, 5 to 2. Witt got a double and a triple and scored twice. Wards double in the eighth scored Pipp and Meusel.

TRIPLE PLAY TURNS PIRATES AND PHILLIES WIN

Philadelphia, July 6—A triple play by the Phillies in the fifth inning which turned back the Pittsburgh Pirates when they threatened, enabled the locals to win the opening game of the series today, 5 to 2.

Cooper who opened the fifth for the Pirates, beat him out an infield hit to Parkinson and took second when Parkinson threw wild. Maranville singled to right, Cooper taking third. Carey flied to Mokan, whose throw to Henline caught Cooper at the plate. Maranville was nipped, Henline to Sand, when he attempted to take second on the throw-in. The score:

Norwich A. A. at Hallvills

The Norwich A. A. will play at Hallville on Sunday afternoon in the first game of a series between the local team and the Hallville Clovers. The Clovers is a team that has won every game so far this season and as the Norwich A. A. is equally as good a real game can be expected.

FIELD OF 135 GOLFERS TO QUALIFY ON MONDAY

New London, Conn., July 6.—A field of 135 golfers, the pick of the clubs in the Connecticut Golf association, will make the start in the qualifying round of the annual tournament for the state championship on the Shennecossett County club course on Monday. The pairings for the round were completed tonight. The first pair will drive off at 7.45 a. m., daylight saving time, and should every entrant appear the last players will start at 1.15 in the afternoon.

The Norwich and Shenecossett players are paired as follows:

At 8.40, L. T. Sheffield, Shenecossett and D. S. Marsh, Jr., Shenecossett; 10.50, J. P. T. Armstrong, Shenecossett and G. W. Carroll, Jr., Shenecossett; 12.30, Preston L. Sutphen, Shenecossett and Frank Sedgwick, Shenecossett; 12.30, Dr. Tracy Farnam, Shenecossett and Joseph E. Sheffield, Shenecossett; 12.25, L. M. Young, Norwich and W. G. Mitchell, Norwich and T. D. Sayles, Norwich.

PEARL BENBOE SETS NEW RECORD AT NORTH RANDALL

North Randall, Cleveland, Ohio, July 6.—(By the A. P.)—Fred Egan, the former western reinsman, of Memphis drove Pearl Benboe to victory and a new record in the Tavern "Steak," feature of today's grand circuit harness racing program at North Randall. The card contained three stakes, the others being the Fasig sweepstakes for three year old trotters, won by Ethelinda and the experiment for three year old pacers, which went to Anna Bradford Girl.

Pearl Benboe stepped the first heat in the Tavern event in 2.05 1-5, which lowers the record for the stake of 2.05 3-4, established last year by the Great Rose. Eighth was the best the mare could do in the second mile, little else but shake hands with his admirers and listen to sweet words of praise. Matt, like all great stars, denied any claim to greatness but his friends forced their admiration upon him with the result that his stalwart right arm is very sore from the constant hand shaking, although his friend Billy Moore says that probably it's from waving his arms at traffic on Broadway corner.

DAMAGING THE LEVIATHAN.

Nothing that can add to the success of the Leviathan as a reconditioned passenger ship seems likely to come from the discussion that has been opened concerning the sabotage that was practiced on it by the German crew previous to its seizure during the early days of the war. Perhaps nothing would have been thought about it now but for the statement which had been printed and circulated in pamphlet form relative thereto. The appearance of that booklet has brought forth contradictions and explanations. Some experts take the view that the conditions as found were not intentionally created but were the result of accidents.

There doesn't appear to be any disagreement upon the fact that there was damage. That was to be expected. The Germans were required to make the vessels seized unfit for use that they might not be turned to the advantage of the enemy. Perhaps they might have done more damage than they did. It may also be possible for some conditions to be looked upon as the result of accidents and wear. Statements that were made at the time of the seizure and Secretary Daniels' book supported the intentional damage theory.

Possibly the whole matter hinges upon the light in which the conditions were viewed, whether it was the excitement of the discovery or the careful looking over of the big vessel after feeling had subsided a bit. The state of mind may have had something to do with the differing claims, and yet it will be difficult for many to believe that it was other than sabotage.

Except for accuracy as a matter of history it makes little difference. There are those among the officers and crew of the Vaterland who could tell if they would. Just now, however, interest is centered in the performance of the vessel as a transatlantic liner. Whatever the damage, whether intentional or accidental, it has been overcome by American mechanics and engineers and the big ship has been made better than it ever was before. The country is now concerned with its success as a transportation aid between this country and Europe, and it doesn't plan to be disappointed.

BIG STAKES IN PUGILISM.

Because of conditions which developed in connection with the fight at Shelby, Montana, the question has arisen as to whether the heavyweight champion can fix the prize at $300,000, or in fact any such enormous sum of money, at which he will meet a challenger. There is no getting away from the fact that he is a power unto himself, that he has a right to say what it will cost to see him perform or for someone to try to take his title away from him. He has a right to get as much as the traffic will stand, and if he can get $300,000 or $500,000 for a one or a fifteen-round fight it is perhaps no one's business, as long as there is a legitimate match, except those who are depended upon to provide the money.

Pugilism under the Dempsey demands is a get rich quick proposition in comparison with the days of Sullivan. There are those who have fought because of their liking for the sport, because they attached something more than a money value to the title, but that isn't disclosed in the case of Dempsey. He probably feels, and he will of course be held to be entirely justified, that he is entitled to get all that he can. He has a right to feel that he stands in a similar position to the movie stars and there is no limit on what they can ask or get for the entertainment of the people.

The whole thing comes right back to the self evident fact that it all rests with the people themselves. If they give their approval to it and are willing to pay the price that is demanded, because big sums are at stake and must be raised, they have no right to object to the way in which the revenue is divided. It is a question with them of getting their money's worth. They may be satisfied or they may not, but until the time comes that they balk over the admission prices the stakes will continue high and go higher. The attendance at Shelby, except for the indications that the fight might be cancelled, indicates that there is such a thing as trying to bleed the public for too much.

JAPAN'S PLAN.

It is not difficult to understand the desire of Japan to bring about an early enforcement of the Washington naval treaty. Japan was not only favorably disposed to the pact but it took steps soon after the agreement had been reached which evidenced its desire to put into effect the benefits thereunder. Japan took steps to curtail its naval expenditures and to shape its construction programme in keeping with requirements. It was an early manifestation that impressed. It displayed confidence in the other nations and was in accord with the spirit and letter of the agreement. Japan has gone further than the example which this country undertook to set.

In view of such an attitude it is quite natural that it should be desirous of getting the agreement into operation, which is now held up because France has failed to take action concerning ratification. Instead of waiting for that country to act on a matter which has been delayed a sufficient time already, Japan is anxious to get the agreement enforced, and with that desire in view it is sounding the sentiment of this country and Great Britain.

That its aim is all right and that it is desirous of avoiding any further delay is made clear. The objection to such a course lies in the fact that it is liable to decrease the interest of France in the agreement and instead of hastening its action concerning the agreement cause it to take the view that it doesn't want to enter and by not being a party thereto proceed to indulge in naval construction in a manner that would make the others manifest more or less suspicion and help to undermine the agreement itself.

Whether or not the suggestion by Japan will serve to hasten in any way the action of France is problematical, but it is clear that the others are not inclined to do anything that would serve to check it. If the recently declared efforts for ratification by France materialize it will overcome the necessity if any such move as Japan favors. Early enforcement of the pact would overcome that degree of uncertainty that exists now.

AUTO THIEVES.

None too severe was the sentence when a Massachusetts judge sentenced a resident of Waltham to a year in the house of correction for the theft of an automobile. Not only was the man who stole it successful in getting away with the machine but he was thoroughly informed upon the method of camouflaging it so that detection would be difficult. Fortunately for the owner he came upon the man who stole his car while the latter was at work putting a new body upon the chassis. Had there been a short delay in making a search for the car it would probably never have been located. The changing of the parts of two cars would have made identification next to impossible.

The scheme is one that is being practiced quite generally. That the accused in this case believed that he could accomplish his object was evident and had his scheme been carried out at some point outside of the city detection would never have been accomplished. He used the plan of those more clever than himself in defying detection and the judge took the right view in reaching the conclusion that it was time to make an example of automobile thieves.

Huge sums of money are lost each year through the theft of automobiles. It is a profession in itself. Those who go about it do so deliberately in the belief that they can escape both detection and the penalty. Such disrespect for the law should get a heavy penalty that inclinations of the kind may be discouraged and examples made of such cases for the benefit of others.

EXAMINING DOCTORS.

The suggestion has been recently advanced in a convention in New York that all doctors and surgeons should be required to undergo an examination every five years for the purpose of determining whether they have kept up to date with the advancements in their profession. It is to be supposed that the maker of this suggestion would have it applied to all schools.

Possibly the idea has been advanced before but there is nevertheless much that can be said in its behalf. It can hardly be inferred by the presentation of the suggestion that doctors do not study after they leave college. The fact is that most of them at least are constantly studying. They are desirous of getting the best results and to keep in touch with all developments in their profession and that can only be done by study. They know what is developing as the result of labratory researches, what new discoveries are made and how they affect the practice of medicine, what new ideas are advanced and they have the opportunity of seeing how they can be applied in their daily practice as they study the various cases that come under their observation.

Keeping up to date is considered desirable in most pursuits and there are excellent reasons why it should be expected of those who treat the sick, whether they use medicine or not. The idea should appeal to all except those who are so strongly in favor of the old fashioned practitioner and remedies that they scoff at being up to date. It would perhaps be surprising, however, if it were known what such an examination as recommended would reveal.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Vacations are a long time coming but they show greater speed in disappearing.

Immigrants rush to this country as if they were confident they were making no mistake.

This is the season of the year when many harsh things are said of those hall teams that gravitate to the bottom.

With the immigrants it is not necessary to tell them to apply early. They create a rush by their eagerness to get in.

The man on the corner says: If the Fourth of July spirit should prevail the year around what a glorious time there would be.

The killing of nine Belgian soldiers in the Ruhr by a time bomb is not going to win Belgium to the German view concerning that district.

Those professors who have resigned from Amherst because of the Meiklejohn resignation are at least going to give Amherst a chance to overcome the friction that has existed in the faculty.

There was something about the ousting of the radicals from the miners' convention that indicated the sentiment of the gathering, and it must have appealed to most people who read about it.

THE MAN WHO TALKS

It is perfectly natural that July 4, 1776, should quite overshadow July 4, 1754. It is likewise natural that it should overshadow any other July 4. No event in the whole range of a nation's history can be more illustrious than its birth hour, especially if its coming into the world was illustrious and heroic. The signing of the Declaration of Independence will never take a back seat to any other event in our history. Yet July 4, 1754, is worthy of our recognition as it paved the way for the more important Fourth. On this earlier date Washington overcame the French at Great Meadows in a battle that had its influence on the issue of the old French and Indian war. At this battle Jumonville, the brave young French commander, was killed. The chief event, however, was the influence of Washington in keeping the Indians from scalping the French prisoners. His command over the red men was absolute.

The day on which Washington took command of the American forces in the Revolutionary war was so near to July 4 that it might pass for the same. In reality it was July 3. The battle of Bunker Hill had been fought. It was technically a defeat for the Americans, but virtually a victory in that the British had been severely punished in securing a barren honor. They had suffered a loss of one thousand men in two days to the Americans' four hundred. They had despised and sneered at the yeomanry of Massachusetts and Connecticut, but opened their eyes to the fact that they were facing men worthy of their steel. Washington was in Philadelphia when this first real battle of the war was fought. Having received from the Continental congress his commission as commander-in-chief of the American army, he hastened to Cambridge, where, under the historic elm, he formally assumed command July 3, 1775.

In an entirely different department of activity is the date July 4 associated that in itself is worthy of immortality. It marks one of the greatest events of peace, as the earlier one does of war. On July 4, 1828, the first edition of Webster's Dictionary of the English Language was given to the world. If its value is to be measured by its use it is, next to the Bible, the most important work ever issued from the American press. This work with its various editions is the greatest authority in the use of the English language. This work with the Spelling Book that was issued a little later has reached the enormous sale of 80,000,000 copies. So then if July 4, 1776, is to be remembered as a great day in the political life of our people, and a great day it certainly is, then July 4, 1828, is also worth remembering in the great world of education, for freedom without education is as dangerous as despotism.

The city of Washington is gaining a well-deserved reputation for the beauty of its buildings and monuments. In this respect it is now second to no other city in the world; this is the consensus of the opinions of all intelligent foreigners themselves. Its impressive capitol is a center from which radiate, like the spokes of a wheel, a number of splendid avenues which make a great impression from an architectural standpoint. The famous capitol itself, as is well known, was commenced in 1792. Before its completion it was burned by the British in the war of 1814. According to the original design it was completed, or rebuilt, in 1825. Even then with its majestic dome it was a noteworthy building. But being too small for legislative purposes, two spacious and exceedingly beautiful wings were added, the dedication exercises being attended with great pomp in 1851 with an address by President Fillmore on July 4.

It is not easy, and not always fair, to make comparisons between the city and the country. With the very best of intentions they are apt to be odious. Still the trend of the life of the one is unlike that of the other, a fact that all will admit. Therefore it is perfectly legitimate to state some of these differences if it is done fairly. One of the marked differences between city life and country life is seen in the production of leaders. For some reason or other country life is not conducive to leadership. This does not presume any superiority of urban life over rural. It simply means that rural atmosphere is not the best for the nurture of leaders. The opportunities for exercising leadership in the country are limited; the soil is not adapted to that sort of a crop. It has been shown by statistics "that while 1,000,000 country people produce 100 leaders, the same number of city people furnish nearly 250 leaders."

Of all vagaries to which the human mind is susceptible, the religious are the worst, because they pervert serious things, and are apt to be utterly unreasonable. What I have in mind is the humiliating revelations of the so-called House of David, recently come to light at Benton Harbor, Mich. The strangest thing about it is that such crazy doctrines should find any adherents anywhere. The head of this cult, having been accused of moral irregularities, is now a fugitive from justice. Such a man can play the part of a petty tyrant—for a while—over gullible, simple-minded people. One of their peculiar tenets is the salvation of the body. They are absolved from physical death. They are to have in the future the same bodies as now with the exception of blood. Sin resides in the blood of the human race, hence they must try to dry up the blood to get rid of sin. Then these emptied veins and arteries will be filled with the spirit of God.

A knotty problem is before the country at this time, and that is of the relation between the shortage of labor and the restriction of immigration. The secretary of labor in President Harding's cabinet is insistent in his claim that the shortage of labor has absolutely nothing to do with the labor problem in any of its phases. If there were a proper distribution of labor there would be no shortage. Take the building trades as an example; now the building trades unions for a long time have pursued the policy of restricting apprenticeships. The fewer the skilled workmen to be had, the greater will be the price demanded. Another cause of shortage is the disinclination of the native born American boy to take up the trade of carpenter, brick layer or stone mason. At present he is more inclined to some form of motor mechanics. And thus the shortage of labor is quite apart from the immigration question.

One may not always agree with Prof. Nixon, the able Harvard professor of political economy. He says many things that to many of us seem daring. He certainly has strong convictions and a courage to match. He is, however, very clear on the relation between a low standard of living and a high birth rate. He does not put supreme emphasis on immigration from Europe and Asia as the cause of over-supply of unskilled labor. In his opinion the large source of cheap labor comes from the unreasonably high birth rate among the ignorant and unskilled. The ignorant and undesirables marry because they are willing to submit to the lower standards of living. As like produces like, thus the ranks of cheap labor are kept full. People of a higher grade refuse to marry until they can live on a higher and more respectable scale. By postponing marriage they limit the period for rearing children, and thus they are out-populated by the undesirables. In this Prof. Nixon thinks clearly.

SUNDAY MORNING TALK

God's Care.

Casting all your care upon Him, for He careth for you. 1 Peter 5:7.

No words need be more explicit than these, "He," that is, God, "careth for you." This is adduced as a motive for casting all your care upon Him.

God has made man capable of knowing and loving Him, in the visitations of the Divine Providence he can recognize the Heavenly Father, and through the channel of benevolent communications made to him he can look up to the source of all his blessings. And man needs the most effective expressions of the Divine attention. Standing as it were on the brink of eternity, and yet ignorant of the next hour; capable of celestial enjoyments, but placed in circumstances unfriendly to their attainment, surrounded with enemies and exposed constantly to a thousand unseen calamities—miserable and hopeless indeed were our lot if left to struggle alone with our difficulties.

The Bible in one view is simply a history of God's special providence, raising up a nation to bless the world through them! Turn to the history of the New Testament and you will find the same teaching continued. Our Lord's words on this subject cannot be either mistaken or perverted. In His very first sermon He lifts into high prominence the blessed doctrine of special providence. The Book of Acts affords numerous illustrations. What was the conversion of Saul of Tarsus but a special providence? Consider the history of the church. It is crowded with illustrations.

It may not be necessary even to appeal to Scripture or history. Are none of us instances of this case? Many of us could witness to the truth of this care.

We shall miss the great lesson after all unless in conclusion, we find ourselves standing under the cross. For what is the cross but the greatest of all special providences, the most marked manifestation of His particular care, the best evidence of His anxious solicitude as to our well being. All supernatural here at the cross. The same God who preserved Joseph in Egypt, who sent the ravens to feed Elijah by the brook Cherith, who delivered Peter from prison and arrested Saul of Tarsus on the Damascus highway, sent forth His only begotten and well beloved Son to suffer for us. He dies yonder because He cared for us, loving us before we ever loved Him. He dies that we might live forever.

Here is the miracle of all miracles, here is the special providence to which all other special providences direct us. This is the message the cross brings us. There is a God and He careth for you. He hath put all nature under contribution, all earth and heaven, too in His behalf. He hath made His mighty arm to save us. Wherefore, no goodness on His part is incredible; for if He spared not His only begotten Son, how shall He not with Him freely give us all things?

"REPORTING" HURRICANES SAFEGUARD TO MARINERS.

The season of the year is at hand when that particular variety of the tropical cyclone commonly known as the West Indian hurricane is likely to develop. In fact, many vessels plying the Caribbean Sea, the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean off our southeastern coast are already sending twice-daily reports of the barometer, the direction and force of the wind and the state of the weather by radio to land stations, by which in turn they are telegraphed to the weather bureau at Washington, writes C. L. Mitchell, meteorologist of the United States weather bureau.

In addition, reports are received twice a day from numerous stations distributed throughout the West Indies, the Bahamas, Central America and Panama and once a day from a number of stations in Mexico.

Severe hurricanes in the West Indies have been recorded almost from the time of the discovery of America by Columbus.

It is of considerable interest, therefore, to know that much of the veil of mystery that has surrounded the birthplaces and the meteorological conditions existing before and during the genesis of these destructive tropical storms has been cleared away, chiefly by an exhaustive study made during the last year at the Weather Bureau in Washington.

The tropical cyclones for each of the socalled hurricane months, June to November, inclusive, were charted separately, and were classified, in respect to intensity, into three groups, namely: 1, those of known hurricane intensity; 2, those whose intensity was in doubt, because of lack of reports and 3, those of less than hurricane intensity.

In all, the paths of 235 tropical cyclones that occurred in these regions during this thirty-six year period were plotted. In June there were 16, July, 17; August 38; September 74; October 70; and in November 15. In addition, one May and two December storms were found. When the cyclones were arranged in the three groups referred to above the following rather remarkable results were obtained: Group 1, 113, or 50 per cent; Group 2, 58, or 25 per cent; and Group 3, 59, also 25 per cent of the total number.

The June disturbances of tropical origin developed either in the western third of the Caribbean sea or in the Gulf of Mexico, and few were of hurricane strength. In July fewer developed in these western regions, but now an occasional hurricane moved into the Caribbean from the region to the eastward. August and the first half of September showed by far the greatest frequency of true hurricanes, this period of six weeks marking the height of the hurricane season. It was found that there were seven chances in nine of any tropical disturbance that formed during this time developing hurricane strength. Furthermore, many of them originated in the vicinity of the Cape Verde Islands (located a short distance west of Cape Verde, the most westerly point of Africa), instead of in the Caribbean Sea and a short distance east thereof, as heretofore has been supposed. Some of these hurricanes from the Eastern Atlantic moved westward, entered the Caribbean Sea and passed south of the islands of it and Cuba; others turned more to the northwest before reaching the Lesser Antilles and passed north of Haiti and Cuba, either striking our South Atlantic coast or recurving toward the northeast before reaching the coast; and the others moved northwestward from the region of the Cape Verde Islands and recurved in latitude 25° to 30 degrees north and between longitude 50 and 70 degrees west. The tracks for the latter half of September and the first half of October were quite different from those just described. During this period fewer cyclones developed near the Cape Verde Islands and a greater number originated over the western third of the Caribbean Sea or over the Gulf of Mexico. It was also noted that a smaller percentage were true hurricanes. After the middle of October few of the storms became severe, and only on rare occasions did storms of hurricane intensity enter the Gulf of Mexico. The hurricane of late October, 1921, which recurved and passed north of Tampa, Fla., was a notable exception.

The investigation in connection with the replotting of these tracks of tropical storms revealed the fact that no hurricane originated in the eastern two thirds of the Caribbean sea, or roughly to the east of the longitude of the western portion of the island of Jamaica, and that there were two principal breedign places, namely 1, the region immediately south or southwest of Cape Verde Islands and 2, the western third of the Caribbean. These facts having been established, the reason for them was sought, and it is believed a satisfactory solution has been found. Briefly, it is as follows: Tropical cyclones originate in the doldrums, which is the region near the equator between the northeast trade winds that cross the equator When the belt of doldrums shifts far enough northward these southeast trades after crossing the equator become southwest winds, due to the deflective force of the earth's rotation, and there is a strong probability of the development of a disturbance which after its development progresses sufficiently, is carried in a general westerly direction by the prevailing drift of the atmosphere within the tropics. This highly favorable condition is found, as a rule, only in the vicinity of the Cape Verde Islands, principally during the months of August and September, and occasionally in any hurricane month, except possibly July, in the western third of the Caribbean, especially immediately north of the Isthmus of Panama.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

One of the most interesting members of the new British government is Sir Leming Worthington-Evans, who fills the position of postmaster-general. A Londoner by birth, he became a solicitor as a young man, and had then resolved to retire at forty with a fortune and enter politics. He achieved his ambitions "according to plan." Before entering parliament in 1910, he was called to serve upon the board of trade committee for the reform of the company law, and, after winning the seat, proved one of the most expert and helpful critics of Lloyd George's national insurance bill during its passage through the house of commons in 1911. On the outbreak of the war, Mr. Worthington Evans, as he then was, became inspector of the administrative services with the rank of temporary major in the army. Later he became secretary to the ministry of munitions and in July, 1918, was called upon to succeed Lord Robert Cecil as minister of blockade.

Wives of Famous Men

Suzanne Curchod, Wife of Jacques Necker

Endowed with the unusual combination of feminine beauty and masculine intellect, Suzanne Curchod, daughter of a Parisian minister, was adequately to be the life companion of so brilliant a man as Jacques Necker, famous Swiss-French writer, soldier and statesman.

Early in her childhood Suzanne exhibited remarkable mental faculties—had she lived today she would no doubt have been listed as an infant prodigy. Disappointed at her birth because she was not a son, her father undertook to develop her mind along the lines he would have taken had she been a boy. The education she received at his hands was the sort not usually bestowed upon a French girl; her Latin and Euclid and science were shared more than equally with the music and painting which her mother, looking after the feminine side of her nature, insisted upon. So between them they turned out a highly interesting product, who could argue politics convincingly, play the violin and harpsichord pleasantly and solve a problem in calculus with considerable ease.

In addition to all of her attainments Suzanne was a remarkably pretty girl, and was eagerly sought after by numerous suitors, in spite of her father's comparative poverty.

Her parents died when she was little more than a child, and shortly thereafter she met and married Necker, who was attracted from the first by her appealing beauty.

Stories That Recall Others

GLADYS MAY

A housewife chided her colored maid for coming to work late one morning, and the maid's excuse was that she had to see the new baby that had arrived at her niece's house the day before.

"I can't tell you how smart my niece is," she said. "Why she's so smart you know, she named that baby Gladys May. So glad to have her and she came in May."

USED CAP AS HEAT BARRIER

It was hot, scorching hot, and the crowd of pedestrians whose feet sank in the softened asphalt and the surge of autoists who breathed hot air, fully understod it. It was noon, the perspiring traffic cop, laboring frantically to direct the crowds safely also knew. Then in the midst of the crowd caught in the stream of the traffic going both ways appeared a barefooted newsboy. It was hot, too hot, in fact for those toughened feet. The boy danced rapidly from one foot to the other on the blistering stone or cement. But traffic was slow. Finally he took off his cap and threw it down on the pavement, planted himself safely on it and with his arms akimbo awaited his turn to move.

HOME MEMORIAL HOSPITAL TO HOLD BIG BAZAAR

A unique feature of the Home Memorial hospital bazaar on the grounds of the old Pequot house, New London, July 11, will be an auction sale of gifts donated by notable people including Governor Charles A. Templeton, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Gen. C. R. Edwards of the Yankee division, A. E. F. Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, William Jennings Bryan, Chauncey Depew, Eugene O'Neil, Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the national democratic committee, Thomas Meighan, Frank Munsey and William Wrigley.

General Edwards has contributed an autographed picture of himself; Mary Pickford a hand embroidered handkerchief; Chauncey Depew a volume of his well known Reminiscences; William J. Bryan one of his own books with an autographed cover and from Douglas Fairbanks, a man's handkerchief with his initils in the corner embroidered by Mary Pickford.

The gifts will be auctioned off every half hour beginning at 3 p. m. and continuing until 9.30 p. m.

Through the courtesy of Col. R. S. Abernathy, U. S. A., commander of the Coast Artillery companies at the island forts in Long Island sound, music will be furnished during the afternoon and evening of the bazaar by the Fort H. G. Wright post band.

There will be 18 booths lining the three avenues of "midways" and in the evening these will be illuminated by electric light bulbs and fire lights.

NEW TWO-TON TRUCK FOR STREET DEPARTMENT

A new $3,600 motor truck for the public works department was delivered Friday to Street Commissioner A. E. Cruthers and will be at once put to work as a valuable addition to the equipment of the department.

The truck is a new model two-ton G. M. C. truck, with a three cubic yard body. It has double acting tailgate with underbody hoist for dumping. A feature is its extra high power, with seven speeds forwards and two reverse, and the motor has removable walls. P. E. Flynn, who is Eastern Connecticut representative, demonstrated the power in the truck by driving it up the steep John street hill.

The truck is painted gray with black stripes and has a closed in window cab.

A truck of the same type has just been delivered to the Norwich state hospital.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

CHARGE MACKENZIE WITH EMPLOYING SPOILS SYSTEM

Appointments made by Harry E. MacKenzie, new commissioner of labor, are severely criticized in a special bulletin issued Tuesday by the Connecticut Civil Service association. The dismissals from his office, after long years of faithful and efficient service, of Miss Julia C. Corcoran of Norwich, deputy factory inspector; Miss Grace W. Stanley and Thomas H. Faughnan, the superintendent of the Free Employment bureau, are the positions which have come under fire and the new commissioner is accused of giving way to political influence and employing the spoils system method in the bulleting of the civil service association. Miss Corcoran has been in the state's service for 15 years.

OBITUARY.

Miss Sarah L. Huntington.

Following an illness covering a period of many years, the death of Miss Sarah Lanman Huntington, a life-long resident of Norwich, occurred at her home, 157 Broadway, Friday morning. Miss Huntington was one of the older residents of Norwich and throughout her life she had been "a friend" to many who will long carry her memory and her sweet manner. In her death many friends will lose a true friend, all of whom have held her in the very highest esteem.

Sarah Lanman Huntington was born in Norwich, April 23, 1835, the daughter of Jedediah and Rebecca (Snow) Huntington. She was a great granddaughter of General Jedediah Huntington who commanded the Connecticut contingent of the Continental army throughout the whole period of the Revolutionary war. She was also a great-great-granddaughter of Jonathan Trumbull, governor of Connecticut from 1769 to 1783, and of Samuel Colt, who was lieutenant colonel of the Second regiment of Connecticut militia (Nathan Whiting's) raised in 1758 for service against the French and was with it through the Lake George campaign at Ticonderoga, etc. She was also a descendant, in the eighth generation of John Alden of the Mayflower.

Miss Huntington's entire life was passed in Norwich and all her interests centered here. She was a member of the old Second church and afterwards from the time of its organization of the Park Congregation church, in all the activities of which she was prominent as long as health and strength permitted.

Miss Huntington was superintendent of the primary department of Park church Sunday school from its beginning up to the time her health forced her to give up. She was then made honorary superintendent, which position she held at the time of her death. There are many children of Norwich to whom she endeared herself during the activities in the Sunday school and who have since counted her as one close and dear to them. She was a woman of true Christian spirit and her many kindly deeds extended not only to those in whom she was especially interested but to many by whom she was hardly known.

Mrs. Zoel Russell.

After an illness of about four weeks during which she was tenderly cared for by her family, the death of Rose Generous, wife of Zoel Russell, occurred Friday morning at her home at 45 Washington street.

Mrs. Russell was a native of Canada but had made her home in this city for the past fourteen years and had many friends here. Besides her husband she is survived by three daughters, May and Eva Russell and Mrs. Minnie Stevens and one son, Henry Russell of this city; a brother, Peter Generous of Occum, and two sisters, Mrs. Blanchette of New Bedford and Mrs. Mary Lambert of Willimantic.

News of the death of Mrs. Russell was received with sorrow by her many friends here, and in her passing away they have lost a valued friend, and her family a loved one whose place can never be filled.

James Hyde Fitch.
(Contributed.)

James Hyde Fitch, 82, a lifelong resident of Preston City, died Thursday morning, June 28, at 3.15 o'clock, following an illness of some duration due to his advanced years.

Mr. Fitch was born in Ledyard on March 24, 1821, the son of Russell and Julia Phillips Fitch. When quite a small boy his people moved to Preston. He used to work as a carpenter, carried on a grocery store and was postmaster for a number of years at Preston City.

In December 26, 1852, he married Miss Mary Ellen Guile, who died Jan. 21, 1908. Six children were born to them, three of them surviving him: James Henry Fitch of Long Society, Preston; Frank W. Fitch and Mrs. Fannie F. Parker of Preston. There are ten grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren living. One sister, Mrs. Leonard Bartlett of East Killingly, who is 83 years of age, was unable to attend the funeral.

He was faithful to the last detail in his work and was devoted to his home and home life. He was a staunch democrat. He represented Preston at the legislature in 1878 and he never failed his party at the polls until he became blind and was unable to get there. He went to the last town meeting in 1922.

The funeral last Saturday was conducted by Rev. Frank S. Robbins, assisted by Rev. W. D. Hetherington, pastor of the Baptist church, of which Mr. Fitch was a member. A prayer service at the house at 1.30 p. m. was followed by services at the Baptist church at 2 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Everett P. Barnes sang two songs, We'll Never Say Good Bye in Heaven, and Shall We Meet Beyond the River? There was a large attendance of relatives and friends and many beautiful flowers. The bearers were the five grandsons, George A. Willett, Charles R. Willett, Frank E. Fitch, Fred W. Fitch, Louis A. Cook and Isaac H. Cook, a son-in-law. Burial was in Preston City cemetery where Rev. Mr. Hetherington read a committal service.

Baby's Birthday Party.

Marjorie, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Skelly, of San Domingo, who are spending a vacation at Mr. Skellys home on West Thames street, was a year old Friday, and the anniversary was celebrated by a party for relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Skelly have also been visiting the latter's parents in Providence. They will sail for their home in San Domingo July 14th.

YANTIC BRIDGE CRAP SHOOTERS SCATTERED BY POLICE ARRIVAL

Half a dozen youths engaged in a crap shooting game and over a score of men and boys looking on made a wild scramble for safety early Friday evening when the police arrived, succeeding in capturing two out of the crowd. The police booty also included 58 cents that was left on the floor of the bridge, but some of the crowd made off with the dice.

Constable Lucius Fenton of Norwich Town had a telephone complaint Friday evening that the game on the bridge was in progress. He secured help from Norwich police headquarters when Capt. D. J. Twomey assigned Officer P. Murphy to go with him to Yantic. They drove to Yantic in the constable's car, with an assistant, and carried out a strategic plan to surround the crowd on the bridge. As the constable would be well known to the crowd, he dropped off the machine and approached the bridge on foot, while Officer Murphy and the other man drove across the bridge, past the game, where the officer jumped out and rushed back at the same time as the constable was coming from the opposite direction.

Caught between two fires, the crowd on the bridge dashed out at both ends and made flying leaps over both sides, but each officer had his hands on a man after the excitement was all over.

The two arrested were John Erie, 24, and Ralph Simonds, 20, both giving their address as Stafford Springs. They were brought to police headquarters, where each man secured $50 bail for appearance in police court in the morning.

WILL POUR CEMENT ON LAUREL HILL AVENUE

News that the pouring of cement on Laurel Hill avenue will begin on Monday will be received with pleasure by people living in the section of the city who have been disappointed during the past few weeks by the slowness of the work.

The announcement was made by Street Commissioner Albert E. Cruthers who states that much of the avenue is ready for the cement. The work has been hard along the avenue and it has taken considerable time to allow the Connecticut company to string new poles along the line and lay new tracks in the center of the avenue. Another thing that held up the work was the laying of pipes and lowering of pipes by the gas and electric department.

Commissioner Cruthers states that when the cement pouring begins the work will not take as long as the preparatory work and as soon as the cement hardens one side of the avenue will be opened to public travel.

ELMWOOD AVENUE WORK IS PROGRESSING WELL

The work of laying the new road on Elmwood avenue is progressing rapidly and the stone has all been laid, everything now being ready for the tar to bind the stones. It is expected that this work can be commenced by the first of next week.

Work on West Main street and Central avenue has not yet begun because the gas and electric department will have to change the pipes of these streets lowering them to some extent before the work of putting down the new tar bound macadam can be started.

Street Commissioner A. E. Cruthers asks that the people be patient for a while and the work will be pushed ahead as fast as possible and when finished will meet with their satisfaction.

DR. MYRON R. JACKSON APPOINTED TO BELLEVUE

Myron Robinson Jackson of this city, who graduated this June from the Cornell medical school in New York city, has been honored with an appointment as interne at Bellevue hospital.

Dr. Jackson has been visiting at his home here since his graduation, but has returned to New York to take up his work at Bellevue. The appointment is for two years. He graduated from the Norwich Free Academy in 1914 and from Trinity college in 1920.

GAVE SURPRISE PARTY TO MRS. RICHARD THOMA

Mrs. Richard Thoma was tendered a surprise party by the Ladies' Elite club Friday evening at her home in Lisbon in honor of her birthday. Mrs. Thoma was the recipient of a purse of money and a bouquet of flowers. Light refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Those present were Mrs. George Heibel, Mrs. John Wieland, Mrs. John Heibel, Mrs. Gustave Kampf, Mrs. Bernard Krauss, Mrs. John Puchita, Mrs. Henry Erlbeck, Mrs. Charles Volkman and Mrs. George J. Meyer.

Fourth of July Picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fields and family of Fitchville entertained about 50 invited guests at their home in Fitchville over the Fourth. A chowder and clambake headed the program, followed by games and rowing. Prizes were awarded the winners of the different sports. A general good time was enjoyed in the open of the spacious grounds as long as the weather permitted, and then all gathered in the barn for a dance, music being furnished by two Victrolas. Miss Annie Brand also entertained on the ukelele. Guests were present from Providence, New London, Norwich, Colchester, Versailles, Taftville, Fitchville and other places, and included Mrs. Margaret McNamara and daughters, Annie, Mary, Elizabeth, Teresa and Margaret, John McManus and son John, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McManus, Mr. and Mrs. William McManus, Mr. and Mrs. Burns and family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brand and family, James Barry, John Donovan, Hattie and Nellie Williamson, Jennie Toomey, Mary and Josephine Drew, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy, Burdick, Elizabeth Coleman, Thomas Fields, Henry McManus, Mary Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Buckley and family and William Lincoln.

Boots, said to have been the invention of Carlage, were mentioned by James in 907 B. C.

MONTVILLE MAN IN STATE POLICE FORCE

Hartford, July 6.—Announcement of the appointment of ten additional state policemen was made today by Supt. Robert T. Hurley. They are Thomas J. Henry, 31, toolmaker, Bridgeport; Louis J. Cuneo, 36, hatter, Norwalk; Hugh Ellsworth Meade, 25, lineman, Canaan; Walter J. Attwood, 33, stationary fireman, Montville; Walter Hardisty, 27, gardener, Salisbury; Theodore P. Woodin, 23, carpenter, Salisbury; Walter T. Bahr, 22, mechanic, Fairfield; John F. Gondek, 21, automobile salesman, South Glastonbury; Edward Keating, 28, hatter, Danbury.

With ten recruits appointed in June, the selections now announced make a total of twenty appointed of the thirty additional men authorized by the recent session of the legislature. The new men will be ordered to report for instruction at once, beginning their training at the Groton barracks of the department. Appointment of the remaining ten men will be made during the present month. The department will number eighty-one men, including the superintendent, when all have been appointed, and will be nearly six times as large as the state police department which was merged with the inspection division of the motor vehicle department two years ago as the nucleus of a reorganized department.

Six additional sergeants authorized by the legislature will not be appointed until the ranks have been filled. There are now two sergeants in the department and an inspector-instructor with rank as sergeant.

With nearly thirty thousand more Connecticut automobiles on the highways this year than last summer, one of the most important phases of the state police department's work at this season is traffic regulation.

MASONIC MEMORIAL FOR THE LATE A. H. BREWER

The following Masonic memorial upon the death of A. H. Brewer of this city has been issued by the grand lodge of Connecticut, with the signature of Arthur M. Brown, grand master of Masons in Connecticut:

It becomes my sad duty to announce the passing on of a zealous and faithful craftsman.

Brother Arthur H. Brewer, past grand senior warden, died at his home in Norwich, June 19, 1923, after a short illness.

He was born in Norwich, May 17, 1848, and was educated in the public schools of Norwich and Boston, Mass. At the age of 20, he entered the employ of Edward Chappell, who conducted the largest coal and lumber business in Norwich. In 1873, he was admitted into partnership in the same. After death of the other partners, the business was incorporated under the name of the Edward Chappell Company, Brother Brewer becoming president. About ten years ago, he retired from business and devoted his time to his other interests. He was a director in numerous manufacturing and financial corporations and, at the time of his death, was president of the Thames National Bank and of the Norwich Savings Society.

In politics he was a staunch republican and as such rendered yeoman service to the party, although he steadfastly declined public office. He was a member of Christ Episcopal church and for several years served as vestryman, treasurer, etc.

He was raised in Somerset Lodge, No. 34, December 27, 1869, and served as its master in 1878. He was also a member and past high priest of Franklin Chapter, No. 4, member and past thrice illustrious master of Franklin Council, No. 3, member of Columbian Commandery, No. 4, and of all of the Scottish Rite bodies. In 1886, he was created a 33d degree, honorary, of the supreme council.

In the grand lodge, after several years of official service, he was in 1889 installed as grand senior warden. The following year, to the intense regret of all, and especially of the members of the two Norwich lodges, his manifold business requirements compelled him to positively decline further advancement. This however by no means diminished his interest in Masonic matters. He was the moving spirit in organizing the Norwich Masonic Temple corporation, serving as its president until his death. Under his general and watchful supervision, the beautiful temple was built, and of late he was busily planning for its enlargement and improvement.

In the industrial and commercial life of his city, he was at all times an active and public spirited citizen, ever ready to put his shoulder to the wheel in all efforts for the growth and improvement of the city.

The foregoing by no means covers the scope of his Masonic and public activities.

Three daughters and eight grandchildren survive him. To them, we tender our sincere condolence and sympathy.

As a tribute of respect, it is hereby ordered that this announcement be read in open lodge at the first communication after its receipt, and that the altar be draped in mourning for the period of thirty days.

MANCHESTER UNITY LODGE HAS OFFICERS INSTALLED

Loyal Hugh H. Osgood lodge, No. 6930, I. O. O. F., M. U. held its regular meeting Friday evening in Steiner hall with District Deputy Charles Barnes of Baltic presiding. The auditor's report was read which showed the lodge to be in a good financial standing.

Following the business session the newly elected officers were installed by District Deputy Charle Barnes as follows: Noble grand, William Ellal; vice grand, Harold Tarbox; elected secretary, George Hollingsworth; warden, Edward Crooks, Sr., secretary, William J. Partridge; treasurer, Thomas Addison, auditors, John Wood and Albert Turner.

A communication was read from District Grand Mater Charles W. Bretton of Bridgeport stating that he will visit the Norwich lodge on July 20. He is well known to the Norwich Odd Fellows who will no doubt, be pleased to meet him as grand master of the district.

After the installation cake and ice cream were served with cigars.

WEDDINGS.

Driscoll-Sullivan

The wedding of Mrs. Nora Desmond Sullivan, a widow, and Dennis G. Driscoll took place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Patrick's church, Rev. Myles P. Galvin officiating. The couple was attended by Miss Catherine V. Desmond as bridesmaid and Peter Flynn was best man.

The bride wore a brown suit with hat to match and her maid wore a suit of gray with hat to match. Following the wedding the couple left on their wedding trip and upon their return are to reside on High street.

The groom is the son of Timothy and Eliza Swanton Driscoll and lives at 55 North Cliff street. He is now employed by the city. The bride is the daughter of Patrick and Catherine Gallivan Desmond and has resided at 55 High street.

Eastwood-Gagnon

Miss Albertine Gagnon and William H. Eastwood were united in marriage Monday at Occum by Rev. Frederick R. H. Dessureault. The groom was born in Holyoke and is employed as a mill fireman. He is the son of Henry and Margaret Burtine Eastwood.

The bride is the daughter of Wilfred Gagnon and Harriet LaPoint Gagnon and was born in Saginaw, Michigan. She has resided in Holyoke for some years and has been engaged in dressmaking.

NORWICH ODD FELLOWS GOING TO INSTALLATION

Members of the local lodges of Odd Fellows are planning to go to Jewett City on Monday, July 9th when a public installation of officers of the lodge in that place is to take place. The Jewett City brothers have planned a royal welcome for the visiting brothers and a good time is looked for by Norwich men.

POLICE FIND MOONSHINE IN WILLIMANTIC GROCERY

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Willimantic, July 6.—The local police raided a grocery store conducted on Union street by Mrs. Calla Chasse about 6 o'clock Friday afternoon and were rewarded by finding several quarts of moonshine. Mrs. Chasse, who has been under suspicion for some time, will be charged with violation of the liquor law at the session of the police court, this (Saturday) morning.

George Burnham will be arraigned before the local police court this (Saturday) morning on a charge of non-support instituted by his wife. Acting Chief MacArthur made the arrest about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. Mr. Burnham was given his freedom under bonds.

A new Buick sport touring car driven by Wallace Ellison of Baltic and owned by Miss Edna Burgess of this city, was badly wrecked late Friday night when the machine struck the highway fence at South Chaplin. The occupants escaped without injury. The entire right side of the car was demolished and the machine was hauled to a local garage for repairs. It could not be determined just what was the cause of the accident.

TIED BIG ASH CAN TO NORWICH MAN'S MACHINE

A local business man started out from Franklin Square Friday evening with everything that goes to make a wedding tour a success except one important feature, the bride. This man had the automobile and a happy smile, also the usual can tied to the rear of his car and when he left the curb a group of people who had framed the joke enjoyed a good laugh. The can was not the usual small one but was an ash can of regular dimensions and the noise it made in bounding over the pavement was loud enough to cause many people to turn around and look for trouble.

The driver soon discovered he had been made the butt of a joke and good naturedly returned the ash can to its proper abiding place and after a few remarks to the perpetrators of the amusing incident fed the gas to his hungry Studebaker and disappeared in haste.

JAMES W. WARD DIES WITH SUDDEN ILLNESS

James W. Ward, 65, died suddenly about 11 oclock Friday morning at Fisher's Island. Mr. Ward was a resident of this city for many years but for the past two weeks had been employed as a night watchman at the Mononotto Inn on the island.

News that Mr. Ward was very ill reached this city early Friday morning, according to friends and John Ward, his brother, who lives on Thames street, left immediately for the island. Although information about the death of Mr. Ward could not be verified it was stated that he had suffered from ptomaine poisoning, although first reports were that death was due to heart trouble.

Besides his brother John, who is a painter, Mr. Ward leaves several nephews and nieces in this city.

REV. JAMES J. SMITH REPORTED SERIOUSLY ILL

Friends of Rev. James J. Smith of New Haven received word Friday that he is very ill at St. Raphael's hospital in that city. Father Smith for fourteen years was rector of St. Mary's church in this city and while here endeared himself to the members of the parish.

He is evidently endearing himself to the parishioners of his church in New Haven for only recently he was presented a purse of $2,000, the gift of the parish.

Although the news of the illness of Rev. Father Smith was that his condition was serious his friends were somewhat pleased to learn that his condition was somewhat improved on Friday afternoon. News of his recovery and return to health is eagerly looked for in this city, and news to that effect from New Haven is hoped for by hundreds in Norwich.

ROBERT CHURCH RESIGNS AS PROHIBITION OFFICER

Robert Church of 175 Laurel Hill avenue, who has been federal prohibition officer under the state department since March 6, 1922, resigned on Friday, driving to Hartford in his car, where he handed his resignation to State Director Frank T. Gurney.

Officer Church has had an active term of service all over this county, generally working with Officer Joseph Fitzpatrick of New London or with the local police, and their activity has resulted in many arrests and convictions for liquor law violations.

In one of their duty assignments Officers Church and Fitzpatrick became patients for a few days in the Allingtown hospital near New Haven where the authorities wanted to find out who was carrying whiskey to the soldiers who were patients in the hospital. The officers located an orderly and a grocery clerk who were the route by which the contraband article was smuggled in to the soldier patients.

TRIAL BY JURY IN JUSTICE PETTIS COURT

Justice of the Peace H. H. Pettis had before him Friday a trial by jury in a summary process case brought by Bessie Weinstein against Reuben and William Hyman for possession of the premises, 234 Mt. Pleasant street.

With the testimony of half a dozen witnesses, the arguments by Attorney C. L. Stewart for the plaintiff and Thomas M. Shields for the defendant and the charge by the court, the trial occupied all day from about 10 in the morning to 5.15 in the afternoon when the jury returned a verdict for the defendants.

The plaintiff's attorney gave notice of a motion to set aside the verdict which is to be argued at a date to be set.

The jury of six comprised Charles W. Dow, foreman, Charles D. Greenman, Frank A. Bill, James H. Maloney, Myron B. Prentice and Charles Ellis.

ROCKVILLE LIQUOR CASE BEFORE COMMISSIONER HERE

Louis Gordon, who conducts a meat market in Rockville, was before U. S. Commissioner Earl Mathewson here on Friday afternoon on charges of violation of the federal prohibition law. Gordon's market on Brooklyn street was raided a week ago by state police and federal officers who found a gallon of "moonshine" there.

The accused man waived examination and was bound over to the U. S. district court, with bonds placed at $500, which he furnished.

OCCUM YOUNG MAN RECOVERING FROM BURNS

Theodore Generous, 19, son of Peter Generous of Occum, is recovering from extensive powder burns over his face and chest from a Fourth of July accident, but fortunately will not lose the sight of either eye, although that had been feared at one time.

The elder man had been firing a small cannon on the Fourth but towards the close of the day gave over the sport to his son to use up what was left of the powder. As young Generous loaded the cannon for the last charge he lifted it to a new position and as he did so the powder flashed back through the vent, enveloping his head in a sheet of flame.

Blinded by the burns, he was taken into the house where he was attended by Dr. David Sussler, who said Friday night that there is no danger that the young man will lose his sight.

VACATION SCHEDULE FOR POST OFFICE CLERKS

Motorcycle Hit Truck.

While a motor truck driven by John Muckenstrum of seven Oak street was turning into that street at the corner of Boswell avenue about six-thirty Friday evening, it was struck in the right rear wheel by a motorcycle. The motorcyclist had his face scratched and the machine was slightly damaged

MOTORCYCLE PROPERTIES SOLD TO BOSTON BANKERS

Detroit, Mich., July 6—Sale of the properties of C. H. Wills and Company, motorcar manufacturers at Marysville, Mich., to Kidder, Peabody and company, Boston bankers, for the nominal price of $750,000 was confirmed today by Judge Charles Simons in federal court here.

It was announced when the Boston interests bid in the properties at a receivers' sale, that the company would be organized with a capital of $15,000,000.

Eighteen schooners and large sloops made up the fleet of the Eastern Yacht club which started from Marblehead on its annual cruise, with Bar Harbor as the objective point.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

A Sufield Chautauqua engagement was disrupted over a lecture delivered there Thursday evening of this week by Prof. Charles Zueblin, who talked at a Chautauqua meeting here a few days ago, and on the same subject—Europe—Coming and Going.

State Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn arose in the midst of the lecture and charged Prof. Zueblin with being a German propagandist, and the outcome of the incident was, according to press reports published in a Hartford paper Friday, that Sufield will not support a Chautauqua next year.

State's Attorney Alcorn, a guarantor of the Chautauqua this year, who interrupted the Zueblin lecture to protest against the un-American sentiments being uttered and to acquse the speaker of being a German propagandist, has said that he will not support the organization another year, and it is said that the majority of the present guarantors take the same stand. Many of the audience at the Zueblin lecture left the tent before he had finished his lecture.

The Chautauqua circuit superintendent called on State's Attorney Alcorn Thursday night and assured him that Professor Zueblin would be dropped from the Chautauqua speakers' list. He also told the state's attorney that the lecturer had been warned against his address and told to omit some parts of it which evoked ire at Sufield.

Professor Zueblin's lecture was tinged with statements which favored Germany. He explained that his wife was now in that country and that he was soon to join her there. Then he made the announcement that the American troops were victorious at Chateau Thierry only because the German troops opposing them were "tried and tired."

This was too much for the state's attorney, who rose and interrupted the lecture with the announcement that he could not tolerate such a reflection on the American doughboy and followed this with a point blank accusation that the speaker was a German propagandist.

Dr. Zueblin did not directly deny this accusation. He countered with the statement that the newspapers did not tell the truth and then asked the state's attorney if he had ever been to Europe. State's Attorney Alcorn, who specialized on German propaganda for some time when he was working as a special attorney of the United States department of justice, in charge of the prosecution of the celebrated Evening Mail case in New York, replied that he had spent last summer in Europe and had made a close study of the situation.

Dr. Zueblin said in his lecture that the people born in the United States were not real Americans, only those coming from other countries being entitled to that designation. He did not explain this remark, but he did urge the young men of America to marry German girls and said he approved of the intermarriage of the troops on the Rhine with the Germans. He attacked the Versailles treaty, England, America, Italy, Belgium and France for their attitude toward Germany and said that French occupation of the Ruhr was iniquitous and criminal.

Professor Zueblin delivered this same lecture in Danielson a few days ago, but no adverse comments were heard relative to it in this town.

Following are the officers of the Ladies' Reading circle for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. M. V. Woodworth; vice president, Miss Carrie Fellows; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Leonard James; assistant secretary, Mrs. A. C. Greene; reading committee, Mrs. F. H. Sprague, Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. E. B. Wilbur.

Award of the contract to build an addition to the public school at Goodyear has been made to Damase Boulais, contractor, who happens to be a member of the town school committee, but who also happens to have bid $100 under the next lowest bidder for the work to be done. Mr. Boulais' bid was $5,585, while that of his nearest competitor was $5,685. The work will be done during the summer vacation period and when the addition is complete will afford sufficient accommodations for the children of school age in the village of Goodyear.

Incident to Goodyear, a census of its population recently has been taken there at the instance of the Goodyear Mills, Inc., and this census shows roundly that Goodyear's population is approaching 1,000, and likely soon will reach that figure. Nine nationalities are represented in the village, where there is much industrial activity and unbounded prosperity at the present time.

Eighty guarantors have been obtained for the 1924 Chautauqua in Danielson. This is a larger number of persons than were willing to pledge themselves to support the fine series of entertainment last year. It is anticipated that the number of guarantors will reach 100 before the signing period has closed.

Danielson members of Putnam lodge of Elks made a fine showing when they went to Putnam in a body Thursday evening to attend the Elks' fair. The party traveled in a special trolley car, brought along the Wauregan band, a fine organization, to escort them and in Putnam participated with Elks from Southbridge and from Plainfield in the parade of the evening. The Danielson aggregation wore pure white felt hats—oh, girls!—with purple bands with the inscription Danielson on the hat bands—and please do not get the impression that the Danielson Elks are ladies other than in their good manners, for they are regular fellers. But they wore the white hats, just the same—and looked well, too.

Among the fine strings of bass that have been brought in from Alexander's lake since the season for fishing opened there last Tuesday was one of seven displayed by Donald Stone. Mr. Stone had seven bass. Of the set two weighed in the vicinity of two pounds and were plump and fightin' looking enough to induce almost anyone with any interest in the sport of angling to go out and do likewise—if they happen to know how to turn the trick, for catching bass is some stunt, especially if they happen to be real ones.

Many owners of motor cars and those who made up their parties drove over to Putnam Friday evening to attend the Elks' fair in order to hear the address by Governor Templeton, who was the special guest of the Elks, and to see the fireworks, the second display of the week coming on Friday evening. The fair is to close tonight.

Mrs. Harry W. Clarke had the members of the Roundabout club at her home for a meeting Friday afternoon.

Henry C. Bennett of Attleboro was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lewis are to spend the summer at Lord's Point. Mr. Lewis returning here each week to give attention to his business interests.

Miss Myrtis E. Burroughs of East Orange, N. J., where she has taught for a number of years, is spending the summer in Danielson with her mother, Mrs. Ellen Burroughs.

Miss Florence Moran and Miss Beatrice Lindner are at the mission school at Northfield to represent Danielson Baptist church at a Junior World-Wide conference being held for a few days.

Miss Marion Read is at Poland, Me., to attend the summer session.

PUTNAM

Daniel Chase, 84, clerk at the Putnam Inn for a number of years, died Friday morning from pneumonia at the Day Kimball hospital. He had been ill about ten days. Although he had been known to the local public—very well known for a number of years—occupying the semi-public position he did, it was strange when he came to die that no one in the city knew anything about his personal affairs, not even sufficient without special effort to locate his relatives or anyone who knew anything about him.

To the traveling public that he met here for years as well as the guests of local or sub-local derivation, Mr. Chase was always a courteous and efficient hotel man. It was strange to those who felt they knew him so well that he died so unexpectedly to develop the fact that so little about his own personal affairs was known by anyone in Putnam, even those so closely associated with him.

Governor Templeton came to Putnam early Friday evening to be feted by Putnam lodge of Elks, whose special guest he was at their annual fair, and to be dined by the Putnam Rotarians, at a dinner given in honor of State Highway Commissioner John Macdonald, son of Senator and Mrs. Archibald Macdonald of this city. Before his arrival in this city Governor Templeton was the guest at Pomfret of Editor J. J. Whitehead, of The Patriot. A reception for him was held at the Putnam Inn in this city on his arrival here, and he greeted many friends from this section of the state.

Following the banquet which he attended Governor Templeton attended the Elks' fair and made an address. He was heard by several thousand people. Vaudeville and all the other attractions of the fair rounded out a fine afternoon and evening for the chief executive as well as for all the others who were in attendance.

Cash receipts of $2,280.29 were reported by the treasurer, Miss Harriet H. Brown, at the annual meeting of the Woman's Board of the Day Kimball hospital, held Friday afternoon in the chamber of commerce rooms. This sum was secured during the past year and represents part of the excellent work done by the board in behalf of the hospital. Membership fees, amounting to $855, the Thanksgiving cash offering of $456.96, and receipts from entertainments amounting to $922.33, were the three chief sources of revenue. Miss Brown reported a cash balance at the close of the fiscal year, June 29, of $850.07.

Officers and directors of the board for the ensuing year were elected during the meeting, as follows:

President, Mrs. J. B. Kent; first vice president, Mrs. W. F. Rafferty; second vice president, Miss Elinor Mathewson; recording secretary, Mrs. George Twigg; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Arthur Tourtellotte; treasurer, Miss Harriet H. Brown.

Directors—Putnam, Mrs. E. C. Morse, Miss Ellen Wheelock, Mrs. E. H. Burt, Mrs. Byron Morse, Mrs. Jacob Alpert, Mrs. Clifford T. Mongeon, Mrs. Andrew V. Frost, Mrs. N. B. Burton, Mrs. Victor Chapdelaine; Pomfret, Mrs. Fred Ash, Mrs. L. L. Lorillard, Mrs. S. B. Overlock; Pomfret Center, Miss Clara Averill; Pomfret Landing, Miss Margaret White; Danielson, Mrs. George M. Burroughs, Mrs. F. P. Todd, Miss Emma Pilling; Dayville, Mrs. N. L. Greig, Mrs. John J. O'Neil; Abington, Miss Eunetta Grosvenor; Thompson, Mrs. E. S. Backus, Miss Mary L. Marot, Mrs. Louis M. Ream; Woodstock, Mrs. George Sampson, Mrs. H. W. Bowen; South Woodstock, Mrs. George Young; North Woodstock, Mrs. Wendell Witter; East Woodstock, Mrs. Chester May; West Woodstock, Mrs. Arthur Morse; Woodstock Valley, Mrs. Oliver A. Hiscox; Eastford, Mrs. J. M. Tatem; Elliott, Mrs. Andrew Sharpe; Brooklyn, Mrs. S. W. Bard, Mrs. A. S. Field; Wauregan, Miss Helen Attwood, Mrs. Arthur Mott; East Thompson, Mrs. George Bixby; Quinebaug, Mrs. Paul Gifford.

When members of the chambers of commerce of Northeastern Connecticut are entertained on Thursday, Aug. 16, at Connecticut Agricultural College, Storrs, there will be a delegation present representing the Putnam Chamber of Commerce. At Monday's meeting of the directors it was voted to participate in the event, and President Newton A. Vaughn was authorized to appoint a committee of three to cooperate in making arrangements for the outing, in which Willimantic, Rockville, Putnam and Norwich will join forces.

A visit to Storrs is always a pleasant event, and a number of local men who have never seen the college grounds and buildings, are keenly anticipating participation in the chamber of commerce gathering at Connecticut's splendid agricultural institution.

At Monday's meeting President Vaughn announced his appointments to committees of the chamber, as follows: Entertainment, Ralph C. Jenkins, chairman, Thomas H. deCoudres and Omer J. Milot; merchants, Warren S. Ames, chairman, Ralph X. Bugbee, William St. Onge, Samuel Diamond, Alvin Leclair, F. O. Marion, Miss Katherine Byrne, Edward W. Mullan and George Brousseau.

The president announced that he had appointed a committee on advertising. This committee will consider all requests from individuals or organizations wishing to solicit advertising. The names of the committee members have not been announced by the president and will not be, as this is a secret committee. The entertainment committee will prepare for a series of monthly meetings for next fall and winter.

The directors gave consideration to a communication from a concern seeking a location for a manufacturing concern. Full and proper action was taken by the directors, and a concerted effort will be made to interest the concern in Putnam as the future home for its manufacturing business.

Plans for the annual picnic of the Congregational church are completed and the affair is to be held at Roseland park July 12. Sports and other events will be the order of the day and after a lunch has been served other events scheduled indulged in.

About Sept. 1st the First National Bank will be able to take up permanent quarters in its building on Main street, now undergoing remodeling and renovating operations. The work on the structure has been watched with interest by the people of Putnam and vicinity, and now that the exterior is finished and exposed to view, the opinion is unanimous that the building is more than attractive to look upon, and a most valuable asset to the general attractiveness of the central part of Putnam's downtown.

The entire interior of the structure has been remodelled, and when all the work planned is finished, will be one of the most attractive and beautiful in any city the size of Putnam in this section of the country. The interior finish will be of marble and mahogany. There will be five tellers' windows, consulting rooms for the officers and clients of the bank, and other conveniences for customers. The bookkeeping department will be on the second floor, arranged around the mezzanine floor.

The old vault, now equipped with burglar alarm and thoroughly overhauled, stands in the spot where it was before the reconstruction of the building started. At the rear of this vault, a new one has been built. This is of burglar and fireproof design and the door affixed to it weighs only 10 tons. This will be a safe deposit vault, exclusively. The vault also has been equipped with burglar alarm.

WESTERLY

At an enthusiastic mass meeting of citizens of Westerly held in the Wilcox Memorial and public library Monday evening, June 20, 1921, called by John O. Mills, chairman of the hospital committee of the Westerly Kboard of trade, a temporary organization was effected with Thomas McKenzie, chairman of the meeting. At that meeting sufficient interest was shown so that a hospital project was formally inaugurated. Later a Westerly hospital association was incorporated and the officers were: President, Charles Perry; secretary, Edgar P. Maxson; treasurer, John O. Mills; trustees, Arthur M. Cottrell, A. R. Stillman, Thomas McKenzie, Charles Perry, James M. Pendleton, William D. Hoxie, Thomas Hope, Edward E. Bradley, and Charles J. Butler.

Now preliminary plans are being made to launch a drive for the $260,000 necessary to erect the first unit of the hospital, to contain 50 beds. Headquarters for the campaign to be conducted in August are to be established in the High school building on Broad street. The campaign is to be conducted along the lines of a direct personal interview and similar to one which was so successful in raising funds for the Homeopathic hospital in Providence. The need for such a hospital to care for the district about Westerly is apparent. Cases at present have to be taken to New London or Providence and much valuable time is consequently lost. An available site for the proposed hospital is off Beach street, on the William D. Wells farm, extension of Wells street.

At the victory celebration of Harold Merrill post, No. 16, American Legion, at Pleasant View, Capt. Jack Valley's Submarine Girls, featuring Miss Anna Valley, "the girl that lives under water" will be an aquatic event of interest to the people at the shore. Capt. Jack Valley taught Firpo the use of the punching bag when the pugilist began his ring career.

Westerly Furniture Co., Ferguson, vs Annie McCormack, Ledwidge. Continued two weeks. Completed the call of the civil docket in the regular Friday morning session of the Third district by Clerk M. Walter Flynn.

The case of Thomas E. Brown(chief of police, complainant vs Kenneth Palmer, of Hopkinton, was called, in which the defendant was charged on July 1st, holding operator's license No. 70456, with driving a Ford car past a standing trolley car, near the River Bend cemetery gate, discharging and taking on passengers. Traffic Officer George Matteson stated that Palmer did not even blow his horn. The defendant pleaded guilt, adding that he had nothing especially to say. He was fined $10 and costs.

In the case of the state vs Nunciata Reuna, charging a violation of the state enforcement law. Thomas E. Brown stated that on the premises were found eight 1 gal jugs of wine, 1 gal. sour wine and liquor in bottles. Through interpreter Reuna "left it to the court." He was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs totalling $52.80.

Twenty-five gallons of cider found on the premises of Arthur Gabriel, on the west side of Pierce street were declared forfeited to the state.

One gallon jug partly full of wine, found on the premises of Joseph Armone were also declared forfeited to the state.

Four bottles of beer, 327 bottles of beer and one barrel of wine to a less value than $500 found on the premises of Luigi Guilliano, alias were claimed through Attorney John J. Dunn, appearing for Guilliano, who requested the case passed for a week. A plea of not guilty was entered and trial set down for July 13th, Friday next. Bail of $200 was furnished by Carmino Sputo of Pond street.

Following a lengthy recess, William M. Champlin a former agent of the Prudential Insurance Co. was presented charged with the embezzlement of funds of the company. The books of the company showed a shortage of $147.23. After numerous witnesses were heard the defendant was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs. An appeal will probably be taken. Court again recessed at 1.10 p. m.

"SAFETY LAST" OPENS AT THE BROADWAY THEATRE STARTING SUNDAY

No one will be able to question the fact that Harold Lloyd performs his own "thrill stunts" in the seven-reel, hair-raising Pathe Comedy, "Safety Last," which comes to the Broadway Theatre Sunday, for in practically every scene in the picture Lloyd's face shows on the screen.

Thrills with frills and chills are promised with the spectacled comedian performing the difficult task of climbing the side of a twelve story building and reaching the roof after overcoming the most hilarious and fearful hazards. And, although suffering part of the time from a disjointed shoulder, Harold declined to use a "double" at any stage of the production. Indeed, it will not require a close inspection to disclose this fact.

This story has been heard so many times about a picture star that it is now old stuff, but this time it is an actual fact. Even the closest observers of picture productions will not find a single double-exposure, or uncover one scene in the entire seven reels of "Safety Last" that would tend to question the reality of the thrill stuff.

"Safety Last", however, is not all thrills. The first part contains the most wholesome and amusing comedy moments and incidents that Harold Lloyd has ever put on the screen. In his role of a department store clerk, the spectacled comedian is absolutely at his best. He is the rollicking youth of "A Sailor Made Man"—just Harold Lloyd, "himself".

The short subjects include a Hyman Lover's Hodge Podge story and a wilderness tale.

First German Lutheran Church

Young man, we missed you in church last Sunday! We know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees, or by a running brook, or in a man's own house, but we also know as a matter of cold fact, that the average man does not thus worship. Therefore go to church.

The meetings last week of the Bible Class and the Y. P. S. were well attended. We hope for many more to come next time.

The quarterly meeting of the congregation will take place Monday evening July 9th in the basement of the church beginning at 8 o'clock sharp. All members are cordially invited to attend.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid society will take place next Wednesday, July 11th in the basement of the church at 2 o'clock in the afternoon will deliver an address. After the meeting coffee and cake will be served.

Meeting of the male chorus every Tuesday night.

Choir rehearsal and Bible class next Thursday, July 12th.

DR. NACHMAN HELLER TO SPEAK IN SYNAGOGUE

Dr. Nachman Heller, one of the pillars of the Orthodox Rabbinate of the United States and the Dominion of Canada, is a visitor in Norwich, the guest of M. J. Goldblatt, 97 Mechanic street, and is scheduled for a series of addresses to be delivered at the local synagogues and Hebrew schools, the first of which will be given this (Saturday) morning, at 9.30, in the course of the Sabbatic services, dealing with sacrifices, the offering of which makes part and parcel of the day's religious functions in the chanting from the Mosaic Book of Numbers. Sacrifices, the rabbi maintains, were some sort of compromises for the brute in man, as a substitute for the shedding of human blood. In the long run and the course of time, as enlightenment spread and civilization extended, the prophets of Israel discarded the offering of sacrifices, instituting prayer and worship instead people nowadays, however, do not believe in prayers but go back to sacrifices of human beings of their own flesh and blood, taking pity on the animals, nevertheless, so as to pass as humanitarians without humane feelings.

DR. NACHMAN HELLER.

Dr. Nachman Heller is a noted educator, prominent scholar, eloquent speaker, prolific writer, journalist and celebrated author, writing and publishing continuously books and volumes in Hebrew and English. His recently published book, entitled Facts and Fiction, is instructive and inspiring, and he will have soon issued a Psalmodic Paraphrase, containing the entire book of Psalms in a modified version of rhyme and rhythm. Rabbi Heller has been connected, for the last six months, with the educational work of the neighboring New London, but he is looking for wider fields and pastures now, where he may extend and enlarge his doings and activities. He comes highly recommended, carrying letters by former Presidents Taft and Wilson, Justice Brandeis, Nathan Straus, Dr. Wise and many other men of fame and distinction. Dr. Heller is no stranger in Norwich, having visited here, years ago, and spoken on several occasions, and shall be glad to meet and see his former friends.

DORT SIX MAKES AMAZING RUN OVER MOUNTAIN

What is said to be the most remarkable and breath-taking performance ever made by an automobile was accomplished June 13 and 14 by Floyd Clymer, at Golden, Colo, driving a Dort Six.

With radiator cap sealed and no water added during entire trip and sealed in high gear this Dort made thirty-four continuous and complete round trips over the famous Lookout Mountains, a distance of 437 miles, carrying a total of 187 passengers in twenty-four hours. Each trip five or more passengers were carried and on the last trip seven passengers, including officials and newspaper men went over the top.

Through Thick Traffic.

This record, over the steepest and most irregular road in the country, which has a number of hairpin curves, was made under thick traffic was going in both directions. To anyone who has traveled over this road the feat of the Dort Six seems almost unbelievable. Few, if any, of the higher priced cars have ever been able to make this ascent without changing from high into second or first. The large majority of cars steam and boil over at the top of the mountain. Clymer did sixty miles per hour at the start of the trip.

Thousands of people witnessed the performance and the car has become the talk of the country. Moving pictures of the trip were taken for weekly news reels. Columns of space were given over to the story by Denver papers and other western papers.

Record to Shoot At

It is the opinion of motoring experts this record is likely to stand for some time. Before the attempt the trip was given wide publicity and many held that it could never be accomplished by any car. The fact that the Dort Six made it successfully has won thousands of warm friends for the Dort in the Rocky Mountain region.

In going over Lookout Mountain thirty-four times with 187 passengers the Dort Six has added the biggest record to its long list of remarkable achievements this year.

From Manger to Cross in Pictures.

At 4 o'clock tomorrow at the Norwich Y. M. C. A. the second part of the impressive production in moving pictures, "From the Manger to the Cross," will be shown to which the public is invited.

These pictures will include the choosing of the Disciples, the marriage in Cana, Jesus in the house of Simon the Pharisee, the healing of the palsied man, the raising of Lazarus, Jesus walking on the water, the events in the last week of Jesus' life, the triumphal entry, the purging of the temple, and the last supper. These pictures were taken with great care, the aim being to make them true to the life of "The Master," and they are said to be very impressive. Hugh Kinder will furnish appropriate music during the showing of the pictures and also render vocal solos between the reels.

COMING TO THE BREED

Those critics of the screen who have maintained that the ending of most motion pictures is so obvious that much of the interest is lost would do well to come to this theatre on Monday and Tuesday when "Find the Woman", featuring Alma Rubens, will be presented.

This Cosmopolitan Production is undoubtedly the most baffling mystery picture ever produced because up to almost the last foot of film the real murderer, who has been sought for weeks by the police, is not known to the spectators. Thrill succeeds thrill as the finger of suspicion is pointed now at this girl, now at that. You will grip the sides of your seat through the fast moving drama that Arthur Somers Roche wrote.

Not only are there startling adventures, daring escapes and extraordinary complications in "Find the Woman," but the picture also presents two delightful love stories.

It's a Paramount picture.

Other pictures on the bill include Stan Laurel in "The Pest" and the Pathe News.

AT THE BREED SUNDAY

A feature picture unique in its power to make creepy sensations of horror and fascination run up and down one's spine is scheduled for appearance at the Breed Theatre, Sunday evening. It is a new Goldwyn melodrama, "A Blind Bargain," founded upon a story by Barry Pain called "The Octave of Claudius," a pseudo-scientific story of a half-mad surgeon who believed he could prove the truth of evolution by transforming man back into his early simian characteristics through transferring into his body the glands of monkeys. He induces a struggling young author whose mother faces death for want of proper medical attention, to agree to submit himself to be experimented upon by the doctor in return for the money and care that shall restore his mother to health.

Unable to buy his release from his bargain, after falling in love and becoming engaged to the daughter of the publisher who accepted his book, the writer is seized by the surgeon and bound to the operating table. As the surgeon enters his private dungeon to get a monkey, he is crushed to death by one of the human wrecks, results of previous experiments, imprisoned there and the writer is released by the surgeon's wife and the hunchback who was also one of the doctor's victims.

There is a magnificent spectacle in the ballroom scene of the melodrama in which beautiful girls dance amid clouds of soap bubbles. Wallace Worsley directed the picture. The roles of the doctor and of the hunchback are acted by Lon Chaney, the "actor with a thousand faces." Both characterizations are said to be marvelously finished and differentiated from eac other. In the case are Jacqueline Logan, former "Follies" beauty; Raymond McKee, Virginia True Broadman, Fontaine LaRue, Aggie Herring and Verginia Madison.

Other pictures on the bill include LuPino Lane in "The Pirate" and Topics of the Day".

Today's bill consists of Dustin Farnum in "While Justice Waits"—Pearl White in "Plunder" the Pathe News and a Sunshine Comely.

STRAND THEATRE

"The Exciters" Packed With Highly Dramatic Incidents

"Come down to earth!"

An expression especially applicable in the case of Ronnie Rand, played by Bebe Daniels, co-starred with Antonio Moreno in the Paramount picture, "The Exciters", which is due for a run of three days at the Strand theatre Monday.

Miss Daniels, as Ronnie Rand, a typical example of the modern girl, seems to take great delight in leaving mother earth as far behind as possible. To accomplish this, Ronnie, to the annoyance of her parents, forces into service a number of power boats and airplanes, either from her own collection or those loaned by admiring friends.

But into the life of this carefree girl comes a certain Pierre Martel, a supposed crook, who is in reality a secret service agent, thus employed for the same reason that Ronnie employs speed wagons—for excitement.

Antonio Moreno plays this role to perfection. It is at the first meeting of this pair, that the love interest of the story is brought to light. Their marriage in dramatic circumstances follows and then comes an unexpected climax. The picture is delightfully entertaining and is said to have exceptional heart appeal.

Buster Keaton's latest comedy riot "Day Dreams" and a News Weekly will be the short subjects.

Sale of Farm at Moosup

Burdick & McNicol, real estate brokers, have sold for Alfred and Clara Hill their property known as the Green Hollow farm located on the Green Hollow road leading from Moosup to Danielson.

The property consists of one hundred acres of excellent land, a large farm house with modern improvements, including electric lights, steam heat, bath and running water, two large barns, and numerous other buildings.

The sale also includes twenty-one head of live stock, three horses and all farm machinery and equipment.

The sale was made to Clemans Ozel, of Biddeford, Maine who took immediate possession of the property and is to be congratulated in having secured one of the best dairy farms in Windham county.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill have taken up their residence in Central Village, having purchased a fine residence property.

SOCIAL CORNER POETRY

COURAGE

It doesn't pay to murmur, and it doesn't pay to fret,
And it never does a bit of good to whine.
The more you wail and worry, the less you're like to get;
It's unprofitable business to repine.
The bright and cheerful worker is the one who wins success.
The man who takes an optimistic view,
Who works, instead of waiting, and always does his best,
Thus pointing out a rule of life for you.

It doesn't help a bit to get the many things you want
To sit down with folded hands and wish;
It may be pleasant loafing on the bank beside a stream,
But the loafer never catches any fish.
You must work to be successful with a good stiff upper lip,
Never stopping your misfortunes to bewail;
The man who wins is cheerful, always hoping for the best,
And the doleful chap is pretty sure to fail.

GROWING OLD

A little more tired at the close of day,
A little less anxious to have our way;
A little more rest for the days of old,
A little less care for bonds of gold,
A little less anxious to scold and blame,
A little more care for a brother's name:
Where time and eternity meet and blend.

A broader view and a saner mind,
And a little more love for all mankind,
And so we are faring down the way
That leads to the gates of a Better Day.

A little more love for the friends of youth;
A little more zeal for established truth;
A little more charity in our views,
A little less thirst for the daily news:
And so we are folding our tents away
And passing in silence at close of day.

A little more leisure to sit and dream,
A little more real the things unseen;
A little nearer to those ahead,
With visions of those long loved and dead;
And so we are going where all must go—
To the place the living may never know,

A little more laughter, a few more tears,
And we shall have told our increasing years;
The book is closed, and the prayers are said,
And we part of the countless dead,
Thrice happy, then, if some sane can say,
"I live because He has passed away."

MAKING OVER CLOTHES

Friends of the Social Corner: Today, July 4, is my birthday and I will do what I have been intending to do for a long time—write to the Corner. There have not been many letters of late, but perhaps most of the sisters are having or getting ready for vacations. I am having a short one which I am spending at home and enjoying every moment of the day. I read, write letters, sew when I feel inclined and just rest all I can. I shall spend one day in Norwich and wonder how many Social Corner sisters I will meet. I enjoyed reading the letter from the sister who about making over clothes. That's the sort of work I like. I always did like to mend and make over—make something from left-overs, etc. Have been making over some out of date things and am satisfied with the result. Had a long white petticoat the style of ten or fifteen years ago. Yards of cloth in it and two ruffles of cambric, lace and insertion. I made two petticoats and a camisole from the old fashioned skirt, ripped off the upper flounce and cut out more than a yard of it, which made the camisole. That flounce was sewed to a new top which made one petticoat than the part which had been the foundation of the old one, was petticoat number two. To make the camisole I used the part with lace and insertion for top, faced fronts for buttons and button holes, made shoulder straps of lace and insertion run hem in lower edge for draw string. I had a gingham dress made in skirt and blouse style. The skirt and blouse were both fastened on side front, and I sewed skirt on blouse at waist line, left one side of front loose of skirt and blouse and in that side fastened skirt to blouse with snaps, the collar and vestee of blouse were O. K., but I cut off the cuffs on sleeves, hemmed edges, and then I had the loose sleeves that are worn now. Have been using the dye pot again and colored some portieres which were green and brown, but they had faded and were horrid. I dipped them in green dye and they look fine. At the same time I dipped a cream colored Tussale dress and pink silk scarf, which were very good looking when finished. Last of all I dipped a blue foulard which did not take as good color as the other dress, but I shall wear it though I do not care much for the shade. Every time I use the dye I get my finger nails stained. I do not like that—but I never remember to get rubber gloves when I am in it.

MRS. SUZE.

IN DAYS WHEN I WAS YOUNG.

Dear Social Corner Sisters: I wonder if among the many fine recipes which have been sent in by the Corner sisters anyone has sent in the recipe for regimental training gingerbread, which was made by our grandmothers and sold from stands or baskets to the people who gathered in the old days to witness the training day festivities and sometimes on other occasions.

I can just remember of going down from Yantic one Fourth of July with a number of other children to see a parade of horribles, one of which represented Uncle Sam and was dressed up with an old high crown white beaver hat, a goatee, red and white striped pants and blue continental coat with big brass buttons about the size of guinea hens' eggs and under his left arm he carried a long card of training gingerbread which reached out behind him a foot or more and in front far enough so that he could whittle it with a big jackknife which he held in his right hand, and to the youngsters who followed close to him he gave mouthfuls as he whittled it from the number plates, a unique system will be big loaf, or card as it was called.

On what was then called the "Norridge big plain" was held the regimental training, which was a yearly event in those days and with the field marshals on foot equipped and high-stepping horses, and drums and fifes to the music of which the regiments kept perfect time and step, it was well worth going miles to see, and hear, as was evidenced by the thousands who came from far and near.

Then there were one-horse buggies from Mohegan with beautiful baskets and beadwork, gingerbread venders, peanuts and lemonade galore. Ah, those were the days when we went gipsying a long time ago. Who shall tell us where are they all now. But I started out to tell you how to make

Regimental Training Gingerbread: One cup of brown sugar, two cups of molasses, one cup of melted shortening, one cup of boiling water, two teaspoons of saleratus and two teaspoons of ginger and one of salt, and pastry flour to roll as soft as can be conveniently handled. Cut in four-inch squares and mark with parallel lines with back of knife and bake in a quick oven, not too hot.

This recipe makes a large quantity and it will keep a long time. I once made a full recipe and when cold I put them into a large tin pail in my summer cottage in camp, and the next summer as I was putting things in order I found a few which had been left over and they were as good as ever and with a cup of coffee I made a nice lunch of them.

Ordinarily I kept them in a stone crock, but if I wanted to see how long I could keep them I would prefer a tin pail as not so liable to gather moisture.

I look every week for the Corner letters. Where are Little Sister and Little Spinster and if I am not mistaken in the name I met Calla Lily at the home of a mutual friend in East Hampton last summer. I only saw her for a few minutes but would like to meet her again. Wish she would call and see me. I wonder if she found her Social Corner book. I have had some experiences in that line myself and it means a good deal to me to lose a good book. And when it's one that cannot be replaced it is indeed a loss.

I have not written as often as I might have done as my letters seem to me of so little consequence that I have thought best to give the room to the brighter lights, and as I am more or less lame I do not get to the meetings.

Trusting that this will not use up too much valuable space, I will close with kindest regards and best wishes to the editor and all the sisters.

THE GOOD AND EVIL OF MONEY

Dear Editor and Social Corner Sisters. What a cool Fourth of July! But the rain has helped the gardens.

Pices: Yes, I belong to No. 4, but I have been staying away from my place part of the time caring for my mother.

Primrose: Did you see the parade? I had a chance to see it. One of my friends was going so they invited me. I got my box ready and then I went. Wasn't it dark in the afternoon with that shower. I stayed with my neighbor who was alone.

In reference to money, of course we all have to have money, but a bad woman or a bad man with money makes a lot of unhappiness in homes. How much a woman will put up with from a husband that is bad, and a woman that was bad has even shortened the life of her husband.

Honey had done lots of good when given as charity where needed. I really think that some people have needed money and the lack of it has shortened life. Some are too proud to beg.

I have seen money handled in all sorts of ways. Some ways have been disgraceful and in other ways it was put to good use. Money shouldn't be the root of all evil. But how are we to live. I have always said I wanted to get an honest living. It doesn't make any difference what comes, honesty is the best policy.

HAT TRIMMING AT HOME.

Dear Social Cornerites: For the last two or three weeks I have noticed how few letters there were and decided it was time I did my bit as a Social Corner member. I presume some of the sisters are at the beach, while others are probably entertaining guests. I am sure each one has some good excuse for not writing more often. I know Loan always find enough to do, and I only have two in the family and six rooms to care for and wish I had strength to do all that I want to. But I am thankful to be able to get out of doors once again. Am better than I have been for nearly two years and can get out and work in the flower beds, which I could not do last summer, and I did some of the cleaning this spring. Must tell you how I cleaned the bathroom walls, which are covered with "Sanitas" and can be cleaned like paint. Well, I could not climb up and down from the step ladder this spring as I used to do, so I washed the walls with the window brush, using warm water and soap powder. Then I wrapped the broom in a large soft cloth and wiped walls dry, and the walls looked as well as they did when I washed them by hand, and my knees felt better. I had help about cleaning windows and paint and my daughter-in-law brought her electric cleaner here and cleaned all my floor coverings, which was a wonderful help to me. I could not have had clean rugs if she had not helped me, for where I live one cannot hire such work done, as there is nobody to do it, and I cannot do it myself, of course. Housecleaning is done this time, but in three months it will be time to do it all over again.

I was interested in the letter last Saturday about making over clothes and so forth, and must tell you about my hat trimming. As I was not able to go where I could get such things, I sent to a mail order house for a wreath for my last summer's hat. I sent the order in April so as to give them plenty of time. I wanted to wear the hat May 30. Two weeks later I heard from the company: "Wreath was not in stock but would send it soon." Well, I waited but wreath didn't come, and one day I got out my box of discarded hat trimmings and I made a wreath of odds and ends and sewed on my hat, and like it as well as one directly from the store. It so happened I had saved parts of wreaths and sprays which looked good and they all combined well. There were grapes, berries, tiny buds and green leaves which made a good looking wreath for my hat.

A few days after Memorial day I received a credit slip for my money from the mail order company and used it for another order, which came promptly. On Memorial day I enjoyed a long auto ride and have been out twice since then. As I can't walk any distance at all, I do not go any place, unless I am invited for a ride, and I enjoy every moment I spend in an auto and do not tire easily on long rides.

Best wishes to all.

A CRUMB PIE.

Dear Corner Sisters: A crumb pie is something of a novelty: Cook together for five minutes one cup of bread crumbs, on ecup sugar, one-half cup shredded cocoanut and two egg yolks. Flavor with one cup of orange juice, cool and place in a previously baked crust.

Make a meringue of the whites.

A teaspoon of gelatin dissolved in one-half cup of milk added to every two quarts of cream will make ice cream stand up like manufactured product. I make ice cream twice a week and begin to make up my mind that this gelatine is a great help.

RURAL DELIVERY'S TRIP TO THE PACIFIC

Dear Social Corner Friend: At the request of Sister Primrose, will give you a little outline of my trip to California. I made the trip in a Pullman car by the southern sunset route and returned by the northern route and traveled 8,000 miles. While the trip was very interesting all along the line it was somewhat tiresome on my return trip as it required five days and five nights from San Francisco to Worcester, Mass. It would be impossible for me to picture the wonderful state of California with all its ripe oranges and lemons we saw on either side of the train as far as the eye could look. The trees were also in full bloom at the same time for another crop in winter, and the scent from the blossoms would come into the car windows which would remind one of a wedding with plenty of orange blossoms. The people in New England little knows of the west until they visit there. The people there have the pep and say the east is 100 years behind the times. Making the trip from Providence, R. I., to New Orleans, then to Tucson, Arizona, we passed through 21 tunnels, some being one miles long. We found Tucson a wonderful city where snow is never seen and the birds sing in the trees at Christmas time. The climate is about the same in winter as summer. The people there told me they could be beat on a town but not on a climate. We visited all the large cities. Los Angeles is a very large city and expects some day to be as large as New York. For pleasure, beauty, flowers and parks and everything one could ask for, we found Pasadena almost a heaven on earth. Our train arriving at American California, the High Sierras at American station of the western slope of the Sierra Nevadas, an observation tower has been constructed overlooking the gorge of the Great American river which whirls and foams 2,000 feet below. Through Southern Pacific trains stop at American for five minutes to enable passengers to alight and enjoy the magnificent scene. It required two powerful engines to take the train of twelve cars up through the mountains to the point of 4,966 feet above sea level. One could look below from this point and see where the miners are still digging for gold and the scared hillsides still show where the rush was made for gold in '49. There is plenty of gold left in those mountains. The snow sheds of the Southern Pacific road were a sight in the Sierra Nevada mountains. Miles and miles of these sheds cover the track where snow is often 30 feet deep. At the foot of the mountains the land is level and smooth. Crossing the Great Salt lake of 33 miles in Utah was a sight. Five pounds of water from this lake will produce one pound of salt. Nothing can live in this lake. The sea gulls were hungry and followed the train miles looking for food. The lake is 90 miles long and 40 miles wide.

The ferry boat Contra Casta took our train of twelve cars and three engines between Port Casta and Benica crossing the Quarquines straits, a distance of one miles. This is the largest ferry boar in the world, being 413 feet long. We passed through the oil section where hundreds of pumps are filling tanks which hold 50,000 barrels. Many poor people have become rich since oil was discovered in Los Angeles and 1,500 are coming to the city daily looking for oil.

Primrose: We did not go to Coroama the circle city where you friends have gone to reside. I was in Riverside several days but did not get a chance to visit Circle City. My daughter and husband often drove there with their car from Riverside where they spent one winter. At this writing they are on the way to Riverside, having left here the 23rd of June. They expect to reside there for a while as Riverside is a fine city and has one of the best and most noted hotels in the United States. The mountain scenery there is fine and they have the best of drinking water.

This is only an outline of many beautiful sights we saw on our trip having left here in March with the snow a foot deep and in five days and nights I was where flowers of all kinds were in bloom and the mocking birds singing in the palm trees.

For fear the editor will use the blue pencil I must stop at this point with the best of wishes to the corner family.

I remain the same

RURAL DELIVERY.

HOME CANNED GOODS.

Dear Members of the Social Corner: Canning season is on us once again and I wonder how many of the sisters face the problem I solved some time ago. I hadn't been married long at the time but had all my plans made to have shelves of good things when I was taken sick.

Fruit was so very cheap last year that it seemed a shame not to do something about it. Strength was coming back slowly, only it was impossible to stand for hours over a stove. Husband said, "We will just do without and buy canned goods."

Then I thought why not do two or three quarts at a time right after the breakfast dishes are done. In the morning, one is not tired and the kitchen is cooler. I paid a little more by buying in small quantities, but it was cents not dollars, and, with not much effort, my fruit shelves were filled.

Last winter a dessert of real cherry pie made a tremendous hit in our house, and I never got stuck when company came unexpectedly. One more hint—sit down to prepare fruits, vegetables, to mix up a cake or cookies by saving the minutes off your feet when young, you will not have to worry about veins or tired feet when you are old.

Best wishes to the Corner and all its members.

DORIS.

THE ANNUAL PICNIC.

Dear Sisters of the Social Corner: As I attempt to write a few lines about our annual picnic, held at Versailles, June 21st, I think I am justified in saying we all had a delightful time. Although it was a very warm day the sisters came from various directions and the little church was found for our meeting place. Different modes of travel, and varying hours, all resulted in the assembly. I did not learn the exact number, but think at least one hundred, including the little folks, which always adds pleasure to these occasions, and makes them happy, too. I think everybody brought their smiles and good spirits along with them that day, for it seemed evident that each and all tried to make it pleasant for the other.

The location of the little church is an ideal spot of quietude amid nature's beauty. The little white edifice, stands just off the main road, with many large beautiful trees in front of it, much like a small grove, on a good elevation. From the sloping bank, the sparkling waters of a peaceful river, adds to the picture of harmony and restfulness, on a summer day. Our dinner tables were set in the vestry room, all daintily decorated with golden crepe paper, our Social Corner color. Having taken our places, and while standing, we sang together the Doxology. As our voices uttered the words: "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Glow," it appealed to me as moments of deep thoughtfulness and gratitude, for the many pleasures that are ours. The bountiful dinner of which we partook, was all our appetites could desire. Digestion is always aided by good fellowship. Our sister, Student, and her assistants, did much for our pleasure and sincere thanks are due to them from all the picnic party. The entertainment program was carried out in the open air beneath the wide shading branches of the trees where plenty of settees were provided forcomfort. I regret to be unable to give the sisters' names, who furnished the interesting and amusing recitations, except Amy, and sister Tucker, the latters penname unknown to me. All the topics of speeches were fine and the delivery caused much enjoyment. We had the privilege of buying ice cream from Sunday school members of the church which sale I think was well patronized. A five-cent collection was taken up from our sisters, with which to pay the expenses for cleaning up the vestry room, and leaving it as good as we found it. A surplus was combined with the proceeds from the sales of remaining foodstuffs and the contribution was given to the Ladies' Aid society of the church, which was heartily endorsed by vote of the Social Corner. I believe all will agree that Versailles, will be easily found on the map another time, for it will be a pleasant place long to be remembered. Personally, I congratulate the committee for their plans at this annual picnic, the central location, and the successful results. I think everybody was really and truly happy and we should like the opportunity of gathering there again as a family of Social Corner sisters.

JENNIE.

BARGAINS

Dear Corner Friends: If you haven't said it you have heard others declare that the world is always looking for bargains. It's deep-seated trait of human nature—the desire to get just a little more than we think the proper value for our money. Merchants cater to our weakness, and who blames them? If cutting slow selling goods into remnants and marking it a little above the usual selling price "for this day only" will make women fight for it until the last bit is gone, why not do it? Many a harassed store proprietor has escaped bankruptcy by just such methods.

Not that there are not legitimate bargains, employers as well employes, find the bargains of stores or of life we have to have knowledge and alertness. We have to know what we want and how to go after it. We have to ignore many fascinations by the way and hold to our original purpose. We have to have personal knowledge of values so that we can distinguish between the real and the imitation. In fact, if we gain bargains we pay for them only in other terms than those of cash.

The world is always looking for bargains. Employers as well as employes. The best way to always be assured of a good position is to be a bargain. If we're willing to be obliging and industrious, if we endow ourselves with that elusive quality, initiative, if we're not afraid to do all that we are paid for, at all times and a little more than we are paid for when occasion demands then we are bargains in our way.

We can be bargains in our family life, in our friendships, in our social or club circles. We can attract, or we can repel. If we choose not to be attractive who but ourselves is at fault?

GOOD RECIPES.

Dear Corner Members: One of the sisters recently asked for recipes for gooseberries. I am sending one that I think will please.

Gooseberry Delight: Boil in preserving kettle one and one-half pounds of gooseberries from which the stem and blossom ends have been removed, and one and one-half pounds of sugar until the berries are soft. Press all through a colander. Line a plain circular mold with split lady fingers or slices of sponge cake, or line it with flaky pie crust and bake. Pour in the chilled cooked fruit, cover with lady fingers, a circular piece of sponge cake or a cover of baked pastry. The pastry cover should be well pressed down over the fruit. Set aside in a cold place until the whole becomes thoroughly chilled. At serving time invert on a chilled platter and pour over the whole two cups of soft custard or foamy strawberry sauce, made by crushing together one cup of fresh strawberries and one-half cup of sugar; drop in the white of one fresh egg and beat briskly until foamy, thick and of a light pink color. This is a delicious hot-weather dessert.

Those fond of chicken souffle will like the following:

Chicken Souffle: Finely chop cold cooked chicken (there should be two cups); finely chop cold boiled ham (there should be one-fourth cup). Melt three tablespoons of butter in a frying pan; add the chopped meat and stir over a low fire until the butter is absorbed. Make a sauce of two tablespoons of butter, two tablespoons of flour cooked together; then add one-half cup of hot cream and three-fourths cup of hot chicken stock. Pound the meat in a mortar while adding the sauce. Then press the whole through a sieve; add one-fourth cup of chopped pistachio nut meats or blanched and chopped almonds; season with one-half teaspoon of salt and one-half teaspoon paprika; add the well-beaten yolks of four eggs, mix thoroughly and fold in the whites of four eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Bake in a buttered dish until firm in the center. Serve in the dish in which it was baked with bechamel, mushroom or tomato sauce.

Nubonnett: Tried your gingerbread and it is fine. Am planning to try the johnny cake some day.

KEEPING THE HOUSE COOL IN SUMMER.

Dear Social Corner: What a beautiful rain we have had today! I appreciated it very much for I transplanted some cosmos the night before and it has been just what they wanted. I enjoy the summer cosmos very much. Had a very pretty row across the garden last year, which was covered with blossoms until the heavy frosts. I had the late cosmos one year, and had only one blossom before the frost killed them. I guess you get the most beauty for the least work with cosmos, for they need very little care. It has been so hot I could not do much with my flowers.

We try to keep the house as cool as possible. I open all doors and windows early in the morning and leave them until the sun gets up higher and shines in. Then I keep watch and as it shines in a window, and the air comes in hot, I close the window and put the curtain down. I follow the sun around the house that way all day, and it keeps the house nice and cool. Some people think if the breeze comes in it makes it cool no matter how hot the breeze is. Sometimes I hang a cloth wet in cold water over an open window and that cools the air, too.

Co Bar: I tried your way of making coffee and like it very much. I hope there will be more letters this week, but I know it is sometimes hard to get them there on a certain day.

WEEK ENDING IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Editor of the Social Corner: Having a chance to go to New Hampshire on week-end trips I thought the sisters of the Social Corner might like to hear of my trips which are very beneficial and very pleasant to think of as the days go by after returning home. Leaving Melrose, Friday, June 15, at 5.45 p. m. in the rain, for going in search of pleasure one does not mind how hard it rains. Before reaching our cottage, it rained very hard. The wheels of the auto were up to the hubs in water. We were then ten miles from our cottage but reached there at 9.30 p. m. We soon had a fire in the fireplace, which was very cheery, and a late dinner. We were very hungry and felt the need of our dinner. We passed through Reading, Wakefield, Lowell. We saw some of the mills in Lowell. I think some of them were idle. After leaving Groton, Mass., we pass through small towns. Plenty of good food can be bought on the way and you meet very nice people on the road. We stopped at the stores looking for fresh eggs. In one store we could buy one egg but for a party of five we thought we must have one for each so hastened on. The drive is beautiful through woods with the water rushing over the rocks and the wild flowers by the roadside add much to the scenery.

Our cottage is a few feet from the lake where there is fishing and boating for anyone who cares for the sport. After the schools close the cottages will be filled with the merry laughter of the children. Our cottage is named Mayflower and we are in a beautiful pine grove with birds, butterflies and flowers including the bunch berry, a flower not seen in Connecticut, but I have picked it in Maine. Some of the party saw a red fox on our way home. A wild goose flying over the lake to my mind would have looked better in the oven but we had no right to shoot. On our way home we saw many gathering the mountain laurel the state flower of Connecticut, and to my mind the most beautiful. On our trip home we passed twelve auto trucks with the 5th infantry, headed for Charlestown for the Bunker Hill celebration June 17 but celebrated June 13 which was a holiday in some places in Massachusetts.

SATURDAY EVE.

MAKE BEST USE OF TIME.

Dear Editor and Corner Sisters: I will send the answers to questions in my last letter. I was busy and didn't write last week. No. 1: Gen. 31: 19, Rachel. No. 2: Abraham. Deut. 34: 7. No. 3. Jonathan and Ahismaz. 2 Sam. 17: 17. No. 4, Augur. Proverbs 30:8. What was the language of Eli when sore afflicted? 5. Which of the prophets was a herdsman? What was the early Bible name for Prophet? 6. How many were the songs of Solomon? 5. What is the shortest song in the Bible?

I will send a Scripture enigma.

Five hundred begins it; five hundred ends it;
And five in the middle is seen;
The first of all letters, the first of all numbers,
Have taken their stations between;
And if you correctly this medly can spell,
The name of an ancient king then it will tell.

Hope all the sisters will enjoy the glorious summer time and all who have been sick are all recovered. How refreshing today after the storm of yesterday. It is now July and who are all the July birthdayers? The Fourth gave all the youngsters their glad time celebrating.

I suppose many are getting ready to put up fruit for the winter. Some don't have time to write letters, but it is well to write to the sick and those who cannot get out. Some one said "we have all the time there is; it all depends on how we use it." When we think we have not time for some things. I often feel that way myself, but will try to do the most important for that will be the best use of the time given me and will help make my life count most for what it was intended for. Lives are too precious to be wasted and many minutes make up a life time.

Best wishes to all.

SAUSAGE ROLLS AND MEAT PATTIES.

Dear Sisters. At this time of year I find it quite nice to make sausage rolls for picnics or to have in the home in the way of a cold dish.

Make a short pastry, take some sausage, remove skin (I make one large sausage do for two rolls), roll in flour, and roll in pastry take care to have the pastry not too thick or you will have more pastry than sausage, bake in oven for about twenty-five minutes. I wash mine over with a beaten egg to give them that nicy glossy appearance before baking.

Another, for persons who do not care for pork, is what we call meat patties. Pastry same as rolls, beef or mutton, put through the machine, well seasoned, and with onion to flavor, cut pastry into rounds, line pattie pans, fill with the meat, not forgetting a little gravy, then cover with another round of pastry, bake in a quick oven.

Marks and spots on the walls can often be cleaned with an ink-eraser. If the spots are grease, make a paste of pipe-clay and water; lay on and leave for a day, then brush carefully off.

ORIGINAL IDEAS WORTH COPYING.

Dear Sisters: When ironing board is not in use I make a bag out of ticking (you can also use blue percale) to slip over the end resting on the floor. I make it long enough to fold over the top.

Did you ever try cooking turnip by paring them, then slice, and cut in dice? Soak in salt and water one hour then boil in a little water until tended. Season with salt, pepper, sugar, then pour over them a cream sauce made of butter.

When it is impossible for your family to eat a whole cake (layer) when it is fresh, try this plan. Ice only half the cake, wrapping the other half in waxed paper and putting in air-tight container. When this first half is gone, ice the other with an entirely different icing and the family will greet it with enthusiasm as a new cake.

ETHELYN.

STORY OF A SUMMER OUTING.

Dear Cornerites: I was very sorry not to meet with the gathering of The Corner clans on June 21st, but as I had accepted an invitation to visit my granddaughter in Yonkers, N. Y., and planned to leave on the 20th, it was impossible to do both. I missed the picnic but I hear it was a very enoyable affair. On June 20th I left South Coventry on the trolley at 8.46 a. m. My son went to Willimantic with me and purchased a ticket to Yonkers, N. Y., and at 9.47 a. m. saw me aboard the Danbury express for New York city, seeing that I had a good seat, and then left me. I hung up my coat and in a short time I also put my hat on the rack and made myself comfortable as possible. After leaving Hartford my feet were so warm and uncomfortable that I took off my shoes and put on some slippers that I had in my handbag, which proved a great relief. I managed to keep my seat to myself as the train did not get overcrowded. I did not put on my shoes

POETRY

MIDSUMMER.

Around this lovely valley rise
The purple hills of paradise.

O, softly on yon banks of haze,
Her rosy face the summer lays!

Becalmed along the azure sky,
The argosies of cloudland lie,
Whose shores, with many a shining rift,
Far off their pearl-white peaks uplift.

Through all the long midsummer day
The meadow sides are sweet with hay.
I seek the coolest sheltered seat,
Just where the field and forest meet—
Where grow the pine trees tall and bland
The ancient oaks austere and grand,
And fringy roots and pebbles fret
The ripples of the rivulet.

I watch the mowers, as they go
Through the tall grass, a white-sleeved row,
With even stroke their scythes they swing,
In tune their merry whetstones ring.
Behind the nimble youngsters run,
And toss the thick swaths in the sun.
The cattle graze, while, warm and still,
Slopes the broad pasture, banks the hill,
And bright, where summer breezes break,
The green wheat crinkles like a lake.

The butterfly and bumblebee
Come to the pleasant woods with me;
Quickly before me runs the quail,
Her chickens skulk behind the rail;
High up the lone wood pigeon sits,
And the woodpecker pecks and flits.
Sweet woodland music sinks and swells,
The brooklet hings its tinkling bells.
The swarming insects drone and hum.
The partridge beats its throbbing drum.
The squirrel leaps among the boughs,
And chatters in his leafy house,
The oriole flashes by; and look!
Into the mirror of the brook,
Where the vain bluebird trims his coat
Two tiny feathers fall and float.

As silently, as tenderly,
The down of peace descends on me.
O, this is peace! I have no need
Of friends to talk, of books to read;
A dear companion here abides;
Close to my thrilling heart he hides;
The holy silence is his voice;
I lie and listen, and rejoice.
—John Townsend Trowbridge.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

The head of the firm had caught the office boy telling lies. "Boy," he said, "do you know what they do with boys who tell lies?"

"Yes, sir," was the reply. "When they are old enough the firm sends them out as salesmen."—St. Louis Star.

A doctor was questioning his patient's wife: "Does your husband grind his teeth in his sleep?"

"Goodness me, no," was the reply. "I never allow him to wear them in bed, doctor."—Washington Post.

A guest stopping overnight at a ram-shackle country hotel was shown to his room by a bellhop.

"I'm glad there's a fire escape," he said in some relief. "But what's the big idea in putting a prayer book in such a conspicuous place?"

"That's in case the fire gets too fur a head start," replied the youth.—American Legion Weekly.

"I believe," said the girl who was trying on a new pair of shoes, "I really believe one of my feet is larger than the other."

The assistant was nothing if not tactful.

"Oh, no, miss," she said, "smaller, if anything; I assure you."—Exchange.

The mistress was interviewing the new charwoman. "Have you been married, Susan?" she inquired.

"Twice, mum," Susan told her.

"Have you any children."

"Yes, mum. I've three. One by th' third wife uv me second husband, an' two by th' second wife uv me first."—Argonaut.

Mrs. Maltby—You say you cured husband of dropping ashes on the floor? How did you do it?

Mrs. Roberts—I had him give up smoking.—Life.

Visitor (admiringly)—What a picture of innocence your little one is.

Mother—I hadn't noticed it. Dorothy, what have you been doing? —New Haven Register.

NEW LONDON COURT GIVES STIFF FINE TO SOLDIER WINDOW-PEEPER

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, July 6.—Frank Grumby, of Providence, R. I., who is now a prisoner at the New London county jail awaiting trial for diamond theft, will probably be there a long time, for when Grumby finishes the sentence that will be imposed upon him at the next term of the criminal superior court he will be rearrested upon a warrant issued by the New York authorities charging him with larceny. The warrant was received by the New London police today from Chief Inspector William Lahey. It is also possible that Grumby will be taken into custody by authorities of another municipality when he finishes his New York sentence. Grumby stole a diamond ring from the jewelry store of N. M. Huddy last August when he visited the store under the pretense of purchasing a ring. While the attention of Manager Cornelius C. Costello was directed to another part of the store, Grumby secreted one of the gems on his person and left the place, stating that he would consider the purchase and return later. When Grumby left the stone was missed and the police were notified, but no trace of Grumby could be found. Later Grumby was arrested for larceny in Pittsburgh and with the completion of his sentence there was brought back to New London for trial. Grumby has admitted his guilt and stated that he would throw himself upon the mercy of the court.

The New London police today received information from the police of Indianapolis that the authorities of the latter place have in their possession a Dodge roadster believed to have been stolen from Robert Phillips, formerly a resident at No. 42 Meridian street, New London, and at that time a sailor stationed at the submarine base. Inquiry by the New London police revealed that Grumby was in New London last summer and purchased the car from R. P. Smith, a Bank street dealer. A partial payment was made, but Phillips departed from New London owing Smith $241. Smith will make an endeavor to recover the car. It is believed that after leaving New London the car was stolen from Phillips and recovered by the Indianapolis authorities when found abandoned.

The funeral of Joseph E. Little was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at his residence, No. 442 Williams street, and was attended by many mourners, including a delegation of employes of the Chappell company and Kosomoc Hose company, Mr. Little having been a member and officer of the latter organization many years. The services were conducted by Rev. J. Beveridge Lee, pastor of the Second Congregational church. The bearers were Henry C. and Robert B. Chappell, A. Sterling King, Martin M. Dray, David P. Condon and Edward E. Saunders, former associate employes of Mr. Little. Burial was in Cedar Grove cemetery.

Funeral services for Edwin Cheeseman were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home, No. 54 Sixteenth street, being attended by a large assemblage. Rev. Myron E. Genter, the pastor of the Methodist church, officiated. Members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen acted as bearers. Burial was in Jordan cemetery.

An automobile, owned by Nicholas Selegna of Blackhall street and operated by Enrico Ferro of No. 8 Chelsea street, struck and felled an unknown four-year-old youth on West Colt street last night. The child sustained bruises, as was revealed when he was attended by a physician.

Mary Perry, 18, daughter of Mrs. Mary Perry, of Waterford, is missing from her home and it is believed that the girl left home yesterday forenoon with a girl acquaintance. Mrs. Perry has requested the police to assist her in finding her daughter, who is described as being five feet, two inches in height, dark complexion and when she left home wore a black dress and muddy blouse.

Walter Radicioni of Mystic, Mrs. Charles F. Martin and infant son of Ocean avenue and Ralph Andrea of Pequot avenue, patients at Lawrence hospital, were discharged today.

Mrs. Margaret H. Buzzell has sold the residence, No. 560 Montauk avenue to George H. Bathgate of East Lyme. Mr. Bathgate will occupy the place shortly. The price paid was $15,000.

Meyer H. Freeman today sold the dwelling at the corner of Blackhall street and Clark lane to Jacob Lazarow. A few days ago Freeman purchased the house from the estate of William Clark, the sale being negotiated by Ricardo R. Morgan, acting as a committee of the superior court.

City Clerk Julian D. Moran and Mrs. Moran and Mr. and Mrs. James Fowler of Ocean avenue have returned after several days visit in Great Falls, N. Y. The trip was made by automobile.

Friday James F. Kelley of Batavia, N. Y., was ordered into the police court tomorrow by Patrolman Edward Daniels for violation of the city ordinance prohibiting the parking of automobiles on State street for a period longer than thirty minutes.

The New London police this afternoon were requested by the Norwich police to maintain a watch for Jennie Tubbs, 12, who ran away from her home this forenoon. When the girl disappeared she wore a pink dress and had black shoes, but no stockings.

An automobile, owned and operated by Max Walinsky of East Lyme, was damaged this afternoon when in collision with a machine, bearing Conn. registration, 172-695, at the entrance to Lawrence hospital.

Gilbert Grenier, of No. 116 Howard street stationed at the United States Coast Guard Academy, and Mrs. Nan L. Hodges, also of No. 116 Howard street, were married yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. Romeyn Danforth, pastor of the First Church of Christ.

Dr. Samuel Schaeffer, of New York, was in the police court Friday, charged with the reckless operation of his automobile on Pequot avenue. The commercial car of W. D. Nagle was parked in front of the Pequot casino and the doctor's car crashed into it, but the driver did not stop to ascertain what damage was occasioned. That made Mr. Nagle mad, so when he saw the registration number of the offending car he determined to ascertain who the owner was. He did that, and Dr. Schaeffer was brought into court in this city. The doctor was inclined to regard the matter as trifling, but he changed his mind as to that. When informed this forenoon that he must appear at a later date because Mr. Nagle could not be found immediately after the doctor was apprehended the New Yorker was inclined to let his business interfere with his appearance in court. "I don't know that I will be here," said the doctor to the request of the prosecutor. "I know," said the official of the court, and a bond of $50 was insisted upon and furnished by the doctor to insure his presence next Wednesday at 9.30.

W. M. Hickey of Hartford, a drummer who travels by automobile, was in New London yesterday operating his car without registration or license. Officer Babcock ordered him to appear in court. Hickey explained that he wore a rubber coat yesterday at New York and that he had left both the necessary papers in the garment when he came away. That did not render Mr. Hickey immune from penalty for his carelessness. He was fined $3 for each offense, which he paid.

The death at Scituate, R. I., yester-day of W. C. Langford, 50, well known oil salesman traveling for the Valvoline company, was announced today. Mr. Langford had a wide acquaintance in Connecticut for he has travelled this territory for a score of years. He leaves his wife and several children. He was an authority on lubricating oils.

Arthur Redmond, a soldier at Fort Wright, in the 103d company, was in the police court today charged with being a trespasser in the premises of Samuel Bremer at 18 Pearl street last night. Bremer and his wife had the notion that Redmond was trying to peep into windows and they seem to have been right in that idea. Bremer and Sidney Shuman identified Redmond as the man they saw in the yard and told the court of the circumstances attending the visit. They also said that Redmond was there a week ago last Saturday. Bremers wife called his attention to the fact that someone was in the back hall of the house and when Mr. Bremer investigated he saw Redmond run away. He followed him and secured Policeman Clifford to enter the chase. They found and arrested Redmond. The latter explained that he was forced to go into the yard, and later admitted that he drank Westerly hooch, which, he said, would turn a man's head so that he was liable to do almost anything. Judge Prince put a fine on Redmond that made his bill something more than $20. This he paid without a murmur and thought he got off easy.

Stephen Jockowski, residing with his parents on Potter street, was attacked by an ugly bulldog this afternoon when at play, the dog fastening its teeth in two places on the child's cheek, on the jaw and just below the eye. So great was the force of the dog's leap at the child that the youngster's two eyes were nearly closed. The child was playing at the corner of Atlantic and Potter streets with other children when the dog, a bridle, came along and without the children annoying it, the brute leaped at the child. Pedestrians hastened to the childs rescue, but the dog ran away before captured. A physician nearby conveyed the child to his office where the wounds were dressed. It was reported that the dog is owned by a man named Fulford.

Raymond O'Brien of 32 State street, Newburyport, Mass., was picked up on Main street this evening by Patrolman John Foley, being suspected of being a runaway. At the police station O'Brien stated that he left home yesterday with the knowledge of his mother to go to New York to visit a relative. The boy had but 25 cents when he reached here and made the greater part of the trip by by soliciting rides in automobiles. He was turned over to Probation Officer Richard W. Mansfield.

Hardly a day passes but the local authorities receive information that at least one and some times as many as three cars have been stolen in New Haven and might appear in New London. Two requests were received today for cars stolen during the day.

Mrs. Bryan F. Mahan, wife of Post-master Mahan, who sustained a fractured hip by falling on the stairs of her home on Broad street several weeks ago, is now able to be out of doors.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Taylor and Robert and Lorena Taylor have returned after a motor trip to Boston.

Morris B. Payne and family are at Crescent Beach for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Edgcomb and children of New York, are visiting Mrs. Edgcomb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac S. Browne.

The summer hotels including those at Ocean Beach and the Hotel Griswold, are experiencing their worst season this year. At the Griswold the patronage is exceptionally poor.

Ernest E. Rogers of New London has sold his property at Patchogue, Long Island, to the Texas company. The sale includes warehouses and spur tracks that were used in the conduct of the grain business of which Mr. Rogers was the proprietor several years.

Mrs. Belle Stewart has sold a cottage at Ocean Beach to Morris Greenberg of Hartford.

Henry Brandt of Groton and Mrs. Robert Hanson and infant of Belden street, were patients dismissed at Home hospital today.

Albert Robertson, who received a fractured rib by being struck by an automobile, owned and operated by Nathan Weisner of Uncasville on Main street, last Sunday, has so far improved that the child will probably be sent to his home soon.

Richard W. Mansfield, superintend-ent of the Learned Mission took the children to the Easter farm at Waterford on the 4th. He advertised in the papers asking the loan of automobiles to convey the children, but he got only one response to that advertising. The reply was from an ex-saloon keeper who tendered the use of his car to the little folks. Mr. Mansfield got other conveyances, but he obtained them through personal solicitation.

A gang of boys that had rich pick-ings when they raided the land adjoining the Coast Guard Academy at Fort Trumbull to get junk that they might sell to obtain money for the 4th of July were brought to account today. They were presented in the juvenile court and made to return the plunder they had obtained or go to the State School for Boys for a long stay. The boys were not wholly at fault for their plundering for the metal they obtained was outside the marked boundary of the academy and among a lot of blueberry and whortleberry bushes.

Malcolm Mollon, formerly a reporter in New London, is now holding down a desk position of a Boston paper. Mrs. Mollon continues to make her home in New London.

Max Walinsky of East Lyme, who figured in an automobile accident at the Montauk avenue entrance to Lawrence hospital this afternoon, figured in another tonight. At the Ocean avenue entrance to the hospital, his machine and a car, owned and operated by William H. Hull of Farmington avenue, came together. Both cars were damaged.

Two youths were taken into custody tonight by Patrolman William Babcock, following complaint made to the police that damage was being done to the unoccupied house of Nathan Solomon, No. 14 Federal street. The boys, who were turned over to Probation Officer Richard W. Mansfield, entered the place after breaking windows and flooded the lower floor by turning on several faucets. The youths will be given a hearing in juvenile court.

NO OPERATION FOR HER

She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Escaped the Operation Doctor Advised

Louisville, Ky.—"I wish to thank you for what your medicine has done for me. I was in bed for eight or nine days every month and had a great deal of pain. The doctor said my only relief was an operation. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines and tried the Vegetable Compound and the Sanative Wash, and they surely did wonders for me. I feel fine all the time now, also am picking up in weight. I will tell any one that your medicines are wonderful, and you may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. ED. ROSENLEIN, 1180 Ash St., Louisville, Ky.

Backache, nervousness, painful times, irregularity, tired and rundown feelings, are symptoms of female troubles. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken whenever there is reason to fear such troubles. It contains nothing that can injure, and tends to tone up and strengthen the organs concerned, so that they may work in a healthy, normal manner. Let it help you as it has thousands of others. It is now selling almost all over the world.

SOCIAL CORNER

again until we were nearing New York city. The train arrived there about 3 p. m. I asked a train official to bring a porter to take my suitcase and lead me to where my friend would meet me, which he did. She soon saw me and in a few minutes we were on the steam cars to Yonkers. We arrived at her friend's home where I was to be a guest about 6 p. m., daylight time. As we had never met before, they were wondering what they would call me, so I said to call me Grandma, which they did while I was there. After a bath and getting on a gingham dress we had supper and then sat around and tried to be comfortable, as the weather was so hot. Doris stayed with me that night, also the following night, but attended to her business duties through the day. Thursday proved to be so exceedingly hot that we remained in the house and only did what was absolutely neuessary. Friday wasn't much better but in the evening Doris and her friend and myself went to the theatre and saw the midgets. They are small people, some not taller than a 2 year old child, and others perhaps as large as 6 or 7 year old children. Still they were adults and finely trained performers. They had three trained elephants and played at being fairies and coming out of a cave which was represented by a man's face. They came out of the mouth and had military manoeuvers, and a boxing match by two of them. It certainly was a fine entertainment. Saturday the five of us went on an excursion up the Hudson river as far as Newburgh. We did not land, as there wasn't time, but we had a fine view of the Palisades, saw Sing Sing prison, West Point, Bera mountain and many very beautiful residences.

We arrived at home about 9 o'clock, somewhat tired but glad we had been on the excursion. Sunday after dinner her friend took Doris and me to New York city. We had planned to go on a sightseeing bus but we found they did not run on Sunday. Being there and finding buses running to Coney Island, we concluded to go there. We were fortunate to get in with a fair looking load but we saw a number of loads in which the people did not look as well. We passed over Queens borough bridge, from which we could see the Brooklyn bridge. We remained at Coney Island less than an hour and had seen as much as we cared for, and each had a glass of orangeade which was fine. We saw a few women that were dressed as if they had some common sense and modesty left but they were probably called old fogies. On the way back we stopped at Washington square and saw the memorial arch. Here we took one of the rubberneck buses and on one of the highest seats we rode through Fifth avenue and Riverside Drive, which is a very wide street, with houses on one side and the river on the other side and seats on both sides and in the middle, which were well filled as the day was very hot. We had a fine view of the river and saw the Soldiers' monument, the Country club house and Grant's tomb. Then we turned into Broadway and rode to 168th street, where we alighted. We then took the subway and were soon in Yonkers, arriving home about 9 p. m. We were tired but had enjoyed the day very much.

Monday was too hot to do anything that was not absolutely necessary so we stayed at home and rested. Tuesday wasn't much better but in the afternoon my hostess and I took a trip to the center and saw some of the stores and her husband's office, which is on the public square from which we saw Washington's manor house. Then we went to thee newspaper office where Doris has a position, and from there to the Y. W. C. A., where she has a room on the third floor fronting the street. We got there in the nick of time, for we just saved ourselves from being out in a thunder shower. We had supper in the cafeteria connected with the Y. W. C. A. I had the honor of meeting the officers of the institution, also some of the roomers on the floor where Doris rooms, and was introduced to them as Grandma. I told them about the Social Corner and that I would write up about my trip, and they thought it must be a fine society and wanted to see what I wrote. I presume they will if the editor consents to print it. I also went up on the roof, where we could see miles up and down the river and saw a rainbow. It was much cooler after the showers, and Wednesday proved to be an ideal day to travel. We left Yonkers about 12 noon and New York Central station at 1 p. m. I took a parlor car seat on the Danbury express coming home, which was more comfortable. After leaving the city on both sides of the railroad the banks were just covered with pink roses in full bloom, and it was beautiful for miles and miles. The train arrived in Willimantic on time, 5.45 p. m. I was in time to get the car for South Coventry, Conn., having had a very pleasant week's outing and having returned in safety.

Yours for the good of The Corner, from SISTER WRINKLE.

LISBON

Between forty and fifty young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Kanahan last week Friday evening, to help celebrate the birthdays of Miss Mabel Kanahan and Byron P. Kinnie, of Glasgo.

Games were entered into with zest on the lawn which was lighted by Mr. Kanahan's Delco light. There was a croquet ground on the side lawn which never lacked players. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kanahan assisted by Misses Esther Kanahan, Maud Kanahan, Margaret Torrey and Mabel Kanahan, also Byron Kinnie. TAFTVILLE

The village was visited by a terrific electric storm Friday morning. The lightning struck the electric light transformer near the house of John Yurewisez of Lisbon, and hurled it from the pole. It also struck the electric light pole near the home of George Heibel, also of Lisbon, and put all the edectric lights on that circuit out of commission. Another bolt struck the wires that lead into the Putnamah mills, and burned out the motor in the mule spinning deparment, causing that room to close for the day. A cowapour of rain accompanied the storm, and most of the gutter pipes were again clogged by leaves and gravel which the water washed into the pipes. At the corner of North Second avenue and North A street, the sand was spread over the road, completely hiding the gutters from view.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strumpfler of Lisbon are spending a few days in New York.

Miss McCoy of Providence, R. I., has returned to her home there after spend a few days with Miss Mary Martin of South Fourth avenue.

Kellner, Mrs. Ralph Hayman of Norwich, and Mrs. Harold E. Linderson of Putnam.

The Independent Order of Foresters held their regular monthly meeting at Louis hall, Wednesday evening.

At a recent meeting of the picnic committee of the Taftville Congregational Sunday school, it was decided to charter three cars for the annual picnic to be held at Ocean Beach, the date to be announced later. The committee will meet again Tuesday evening to arrange for the tickets, and the tickets for the scholars of the kindergarten, primary and junior departments will be distributed at the church next Friday evening. Oscar Mathewson and Allan Bogle were appointed as the sports committee to arrange for the games at the beach.

NORWICH GOLFERS GOING TO STATE TOURNAMENT

The Norwich Golf club will send a delegation of players to Eastern Point on Monday to compete in the state golf tournament which opens on that day at the Shenecomsett links. Those who are to go from the local club are Willis Austin, Archibald Mitchell 4th, David Morton, Dr. F. S. Wilcox, A. H. Chase, F. P. Welch, L. M. Young, E. Howard Baker, Jr., William Park, Lucius Briggs, Thomas Sayles and Russell Clapp, Jr.

The play opens in the championship division with a thirty-six hole elimination contest, the thirty-two low cards continuing in the tournament. Other divisions qualify at 18 holes. All indications are that the tournament will be a large one as golfers from all sections of the state have enrolled.

Hand Broken in Ball Game.

While playing ball Thursday night in the Married Men vs Single Men game at the Battlegrounds, James Pedace had his left hand broken in two places. Mr. Pedace continued to play ball and it was thought that the injury was slight. When it was discovered that the hand had been broken the wound was treated by a physician and the member encased in a plaster cast.

IN NORWICH FIFTY YEARS AGO

The grand and glorious fourth in 1873 was celebrated to a wide extent by local people. The trip on the Granite State was a failure however and hundreds were disappointed when the boat was held up by a revenue cutter at New London.

Events for the week in part are taken from the files of the Bulletin as follows:

Monday, June 30, 1873—Among the recipients of old Yale's honors last Thursday, our Free Academy was well represented. Messrs. Leonard B. Almy, Edward E. Gaylord, Gardner Greene, Jr., John B. Mills, Frank Palmer, Samuel O. Prentice and Robert Williams graduated as Bachelors of Arts. The degree of Master of Arts was conferred upon Frank F. Jewett of '70, who has spent the past year in the Analytical Laboratory of the Scientific school. Charles R. Lanman, of '71, who has resided at New Haven as a university student for the last two years, was made a Doctor of Philosophy.

There was a large attendance at the city gardens last evening the crowd enjoying ice cream and soft drinks in their endeavor to cool off somewhat. Music was furnished during the evening by Tubb's Cornet band. The garden is to be opened again on the Fourth and Mr. Page will be glad to serve the guests.

The Preston authorities have been on the look out for fast drivers over the bridge during the past few days and from all accounts their business has been a profitable one.

Officer Benton has completed 862 days of continuous service without being late once, quite some record for steady application to business.

Tuesday, July 1, 1873—Private Smith after routing the forces of the Hartford Chess club, Captain Farrell included has been accused of asking assistance from other members of the local club. This statement by the Hartford press is a grave injustice to Private Smith and Captain Farrell or the other five players of the Hartford club who played against the Springfield club have been challenged to three games. Norwich has all the confidence in the world that Private Smith will give the fire men as bad a beating as he gave Farrell.

A few days ago it was reported that Mr. Fuller has discovered the wreck of the Metis but this has proven to be a false account. Mr. Fuller has been in touch with the Providence officials and expects to find the wreck in about 180 feet of water within a few weeks.

Messrs. Brown and Sterry have received an order from an American house in London, England for a gross of their patent wrenches. Another local house has also received an order from the English house, this being for a gross of the Boardman wrenches.

Wednesday, July 2, 1873—Considerable business of importance was done at the legislature yesterday. The house passed the bill establishing the fifth voting district in Norwich, at Taftville, and resolutions were passed to ask congress for an appropriation for the New London Navy Yard.

Charles D. Hine of Lebanon for the past two years superintendent of the schools at Saginaw, Michigan, of the class of '71 at Yale, has been appointed a tuter in that institution.

The first case brought before the police court at the commencement of the new year was that of a woman charged with breach of the peace. Judgment was suspended for 30 days.

Thursday, July 3, 1873—One of the hardest contested games of the season was played yesterday at Williams park between the Arctics and the Academy boys. The play started fast and furious but the Academy boys were out to win, and win they did by a score of 17 to 7 thereby becoming the possessors of the junior champion bat held for the past two years by the Arctics.

Tomorrow will be the Fourth of July—the Glorious Fourth—when every true American is expected to exert himself to the utmost in observing it in a genuine streak of patriotism. In the city there will be parades in the morning by the Peck Hollow Rangers and the Modocs. Members of the Catholic parish are to celebrate in the rear of their church and a big platform has been erected for those wishing to dance.

Aquatic sports and pleasures will be numerous. There is the sail to Block Island on the City of Lawrence with plenty of music and a fine chowder, got up in Jim Lawless' best style. Then there is the Newport trip on the steamer Granite, and the trip with the Ella to Watch Hill. There will also be the regatta on the river with a prize offered of $50 open for all double scull working boats. Norwich people with fireworks and other attractions can indeed celebrate the day in true fashion this year.

The mayors of the cities of Norwich and New London are to go on the Newport excursion where they will meet the officials of the little state at Newport and witness the great celebration to come off there tomorrow.

Friday, July 4, 1873—The closing exercises of Broadway school took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the rooms of the senior department. The exercises were opened by Mr. Whitemore, the principal and prayers was offered by Rev. Mr. Dana. At the close of the exercises the graduating class took the platform and were briefly addressed by James Greenwood, chairman of the board of education. The class, twenty five in number, presented to the school a frame containing a picture of each member handsomely arranged by Mr. Jennings, a member of the board of education.

Among those present to witness the exercises were James Greenwood, M. M. G. Dana, Costello Lippitt and Major B. P. Learned of the board and the Revs. J. J. Twiss and A. F. Spaulding.

Norwich friends of Ralph Lincoln of North Windham have learned that he has resigned his position as postmaster at North Windham his position being taken by his son F. M. Lincoln. Mr. Lincoln was first appointed postmaster in 1838 by President Van Buren and has held office steadily since that time quite a record for faithfulness to duty.

Copies of the Memorial volume are beginning to arrive in the city and there are few protests at the raise of 50 cents in the cost of each copy.

This is good weather for green apples, cherries, lobsters and milk but on good advice let us say it is not best to take them all together.

Campbell's minstrels and band and the Fish family are added to the attractions locally for the fourth. They will be at Breed hall to amuse those who are not leaving town for the day.

Saturday, July 5, 1873—The fourth of July for the year 1873 has passed away, and the majority of the people who meander through the difficult and toilsome paths of life are again left to pursue the even tenor of their ways, unmolested by the festive cracker and pistol and the melodious notes of the fish horn; and the words of the palmist can now be quoted with impunity, "Let peace be within thy walls."

In this city the day was ushered in by the ringing of the bell by Captain Thurber at early morn. The Captain with their pale face allies, the Peck Hollow Rangers paraded the streets and their appearance brought out all the smiles in the town. The picnic at the Catholic church attracted many people and thousands left town on the many excursion trips or to visit with friends or relatives.

There were few accidents from powder but Chief Engineer Carrier had a hard fight with a fire on Laurel Hill over 1750 feet of hose being laid in a line to reach from Uncas bank hydrant to the blaze. Laurel Hill bridge was also set on fire by boys but this was discovered and quickly extinguished. There were no arrests for violation of the law.

The excursion to Newport on the Granite State of Hartford was a failure as government officials stopped the boat at New London and held the owners under bonds for violation of the laws. Permission was granted for the carrying of 344 passengers but company officials wrote leaders in this city that 1,200 could be carried and nearly that many had purchased tickets here and in New London. It was unforeseen by local people arranging the outing and damages are to be sought through the courts.

The regatta in the Thames failed to come off but Murphy brothers rowed the course and took the two cups offered. Another win and they become permanent owners of the prizes.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

Alex Marelli of Springfield, and Byron Lawrence were before the borough court Friday charged with violating the rules of the road. Marelli was fined $5 and costs amounting in all to $19 and the case against Lawrence was nolled on payment of costs.

On the night before the Fourth, when Lawrence was driving his machine down West Main street it was struck by an automobile operated by Morelli, near the junction of West Main and Church street. Morelli was on the wrong side of the road when the collision occurred. Both cars were proceeding at a moderate rate of speed and both were slightly damaged.

At the same session of court Howard Weeks was fined $1 and costs, a total of $10.90 for breach of the peace.

John Connery, a former resident, now of Holyoke, has been visiting friends in the borough.

Miss Edith Tonon of Andover, Mass., is in town for the summer vacation.

Miss Mildred Potter of Norwich has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Fred T. Lane.

Miss Grace Connors is visiting friends in Plymouth.

Miss Jane McCarthy is spending several days with relatives in Dorchester, Mass.

Mrs. J. Allen Mix is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Walter Pease, in Naugatuck.

Miss Ivy Easton, physical director of the Springfield Y. W. C. A., is at her home on High street for the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Hulett of Staffordville are visiting relatives in Brookfield, Mass.

Mrs. E. W. Smith of East Main street has gone to Jamestown, R. I., for the summer.

JEWETT CITY

It has remained for a lad from Jewett City to not only bring to the notice of United States army officers, his machine gun attachment for a rifle but he has received the Government assistance, and now the perfected appliance has been formally registered and accepted by the department of war. John C. Gerard, formerly a resident of Griswold, worked here in the Slater Mills, as a "doffer" boy in the spinning department. In spare times he was accustomed to visit the machine shop, where Josephia Bonne, master mechanic, noting the boy's interest in the various mechanical devices, gave him opportunity to understand and learn about them. After leaving the Slater mills, he went to the Brown & Sharpe shops in Providence and later to New York. It was there that he was able to bring his machine gun attachment to tangible shape that the government called him to Washington. Following this visit, the department furnished him men and material also mechanical aid in the armory, at Springfield, Mass.

To waive the long line of study, and the detail of bring his ideas further before the government officials, it is now to be said that his patent makes a machine gun of the ordinary Springfield rifle, which is one of the most effective arms known in modern warfare.

Report from the government proving grounds at Aberdeen, Md. are authority for these statements.

The Springfield rifle with the common bolt action, with the necessity of reloading for every shot fired has a maximum rate of 25 shots a minute. Young Gerard's magazine scheme applied to the regulation Springfield rifle developed a speed of 60 shots a minute in an exhaustive tests by ordinance experts.

The test reports say that the gun was fired with great success, its outstanding merit is the possibility it affords for sustained rapid and accurate fire from the shoulder. It is light to handle and can be carried on long marches with minimum fatigue. It is in fact, a semi-automatic shoulder rifle, after it is brought to further perfection, it may result in great improvement in infantry equipment, and it is obvious that there will be radical changes in battle tactics when the new gun, with young Gerard's mechanical rapid fire equipment is issued.

John Gerard's father, J. B. Gerard and three brothers Noel, Peter and Clemencq live in Griswold. Peter has gained considerable prominence as a bee raiser, and at the Pachaug grange fair last fall, gave a number of interesting demonstrations.

Deputy Sheriff Dolan has located the thieves who entered the Jewett City Creamery and opened the safe stealing $157, Tuesday night. They are two boys eight and eleven years of age, and the combination of the safe was given by another boy who had watched Supt. Bliss open the safe on several occasions. Felix Ziebrenska (better known as Zemba) 8 years old, confessed that he had climbing up a pipe or stick to a window, and then let Henry Yost, 11 years of age, into the creamery, He manipulated the safe tumblers by the figures which he had written down and succeeded in opening it.

Sheriff Dolan got $147 from Ziebrenska and ten dollars from Yost. Both claimed no knowledge of the Jewett City Greenhouse theft, Sheriff Dolan put the boys in the custody of their mothers and reported to Prosecuting Attorney Burnham.

LITTLE JACK RABBIT

By DAVID CORY

At Peppermintville.

Well, it's mighty lucky that the two little rabbits got a gallon of gasoline from the porcupine in the last story, for without it the Luckymobile wouldn't go and if that wonderful automobile doesn't go, I might as well stop writing these stories.

Now if you remember, the Yellow Tramp Dog and the long-legged grasshopper were riding with Uncle Lucky and Little Jack Rabbit, but where they were all going, none of them knew. They were just out for a good time and pretty soon the Grasshopper began to play on his fiddle and, as the music sounded very sweet, they all began to sing:

"Let me help You, Mr. Lucky Lefthindfoot"

Pack your troubles in your dress suit case.
Go to the country and get freckles on your face.
Get up with the roosters but go to bed at ten,
Help to feed the turkeys and the pigs in the pen,
Milk the cows at evening and in the morning, too,
Then come back to the city when your vacation's through."

By and by, they came to a little town called Peppermintville and the old gentleman rabbit hopped out at a little store to buy some white peppermint hearts on which were printed in red letters pretty little verses.

On the first one he picked out was written:

"I love a little rabbit
Who has the ice cream habit."

"Ha, ha," laughed Uncle Lucky. This will do for my small bunny nephew.

On the next was printed:

"I love the merry world to roam,
And the leafy forest is my home."

"Ha, ha!" laughed Uncle Lucky, "This will suit the Yellow Dog Tramp," but after that, it took the old gentleman rabbit a long time to find the right kind of a verse for the grasshopper.

"Oh dear me!" sighed tired Uncle Lucky as Litti Jack Rabbit shouted from the Luckymobile, "Oh, please hurry!"

Just then, the kind salesLady, a little guinea pig, said, "Let me help you, Mr. Lucky Lefthindfoot," and would you believe it, in less than five hundred short seconds she handed him a little candy with this verse printed on it.

"The grasshopper plays a lovely tune
To the big round peppermint candy moon."

"Ha, ha!" laughed Uncle Lucky for the third time, "That's fine!" and each candy in a separate bag he hopped into the Luckymobile and after a mile or three, the litti grasshopper was so tickled that he began to tell Uncle Lucky about a clover patch where the clover tops were pink and white and nobody came when the moon was bright.

And in the next story I'll tell you how the old gentleman rabbit and his little bunny nephew went to that clover patch one night and were nearly caught by Robber Hawk.

LEGAL NOTICE

JAMES NOBLE VS. ISABELLE E. Noble. Supplemental Order of Notice.

State of Connecticut, County of New London, ss., June 28th, 1923.

Upon the complaint of the said James Noble, claiming, for the reasons therein set forth, a divorce, now pending before this Court, having been returned thereto on the first Tuesday of April, 1923.

It appearing to and being found by this Court that Isabelle E. Noble, the said defendant, is absent from this State and gone to parts unknown, and that notice of the pendency of the complaint was given as required by order of notice heretofore issued, and now the plaintiff asks for a further order of notice in the premises.

Therefore, Ordered, That notice of the pendency of said complaint be given by publishing this order in The Norwich Bulletin, a newspaper printed in Norwich, Conn., once a week for two weeks, successively, commencing on or before the 7th day of July, 1923.

By order of Court.

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

The weather map of Friday night showed high pressure over the Atlantic ocean, also over the region north of the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence valley.

Showers and thunder storms have been rather general in the last 24 hours over the northern states east of the Rocky mountains. In some cases the thunder showers were attended by winds of gale force.

The temperature has fallen over the New England states. Elsewhere no changes of importance have occurred.

The outlook is for generally partly cloudy weather Saturday and Sunday in the Atlantic states. With the exception of somewhat higher temperatures over the northern portion of the north Atlantic states, no changes of importance are indicated during the next 48 hours.

Winds.

North of Sandy Hook: Gentle to moderate, mostly northerly; partly cloudy Saturday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Gentle to moderate variable, partly cloudy, showery weather Saturday.

Forecast.

For Southern New England: Partly cloudy, showery weather Saturday and probably Sunday; somewhat warmer on the coast.

Observations in Norwich.

The Bulletin's observations show the following temperature changes and changes in barometer Friday:

H. L. YERRINGTON ORGANIST FOR 50 YEARS IN NORWICH TOWN CHURCH

HERBERT L. YERRINGTON

Referring to the recent festivities in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of Herbert L. Yerrington, as organist of the First Congregational church, a loyal member and personal friend of Mr. Yerrington writes as follows:

The First Congregational church of Norwich, Conn., has just celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the services of its organist and choir leader, Herbert L. Yerrington. Mr. Yerrington was born on Plain Hill in the Northern part of the town, and began his musical career by taking lessons on the melodion when but a boy. From the melodion he progressed to the reed organ, and piano, and pipe organ. When he was 18 years of age, the regular organist being ill, Herbert was pressed into the service as a substitute. So well did he please the church committee that he has been kept on the job ever since. For several years through summer heat and winter ice and snow the young man drove old Dobbin the four mile course every Sunday morning, the family coming early to the meeting house in order that Herbert might be in his place on time for the opening voluntary on the organ. Later, the family moved nearer the church, and in due time the organist married one of the deacon's daughters and provided himself a beautiful home a few rods from the church where they are now living in ideal domestic happiness.

It is not often that a young man in these days remains in his home town and fills a position for half a century. He has not only officiated at the organ but has presided at the piano for the Sunday school sessions and also for the mid-week services. For more than thirty-five years he has filled the office of church clerk with marked fidelity and efficiency.

For the last 43 years Mr. Yerrington has given an organ recital at the annual church meeting on New Year's day. Some of these recital programs have been published in musical magazines and given honorable mention.

The week beginning May 20th, was devoted by the church to a recognition of the fiftieth anniversary of the organist's services. On Sunday morning a special programme of worship included a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey, on the "Value of Music in Worship." At the evening hour Mr. Yerrington gave a splendid recital programme to a large and appreciative audience.

On Wednesday evening a reception to Mr. and Mrs. Yerrington was held in the chapel parlors. The rooms were profusely decorated with palms and vines and orchard blossoms. The pastor and deacons with their wives were in the receiving line, and the men of the choir were the ushers. The musical programme was given by former members of the choir now living in Hartford and Springfield. Near the close of the programme a purse of $140 in gold was presented to Mr. Yerrington, and a basket of flowers was given to his wife.

On May 27th, the organist began his second half century with his characteristic agility, fidelity and efficiency of former years. The secret of his success as an organist is due first of all to his truly Christian character as a man, and after that to the keen appreciation that church music to be helpful must emphasize the element of worship. Mr. Yerrington has kept abreast of the progress of thought in church music, and his work day drills upon the organ are as regular as the sunrise, and his work is carefully prepared as though it were the beginning of the first half century of service rather than at its close.

MAJOR JAMES MOODY, JR. TAKING NEW POSITION

Major James B. Moody, Jr., who spent the early years of his life in Greeneville, has just resigned as superintendent of agents in Connecticut for the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co., and is to go to Boston on Aug. 1, where he will become the superintendent of agencies for the United States of the Columbian National Life Insurance Company of Massachusetts. Though his headquarters will be in Boston and his duties in his new office will take him all over the country, Mr. Moody announced Thursday that, for the present he intends to maintain his residence at No. 135 Milton street, West Hartford, and for a year, at least, does not expect to move his family to Boston. He has been with the New England Mutual for eleven years.

Major Moody is well known in Hartford as a former newspaperman, is 36 years old and was born in Norwich. He started his career as a newspaper reporter in Springfield, later going to Hartford, where he was a reporter on two newspapers. In 1910 he entered the insurance business in the employ of the Travelers Insurance company, spending six months in the training school of the company and then being sent to Des Moines, Ia. He returned to Hartford to enter the employ of the New England Mutual Life, under Lee C. Roberts, general agent. He was made a special agent after a short time and later promoted to superintendent of agencies of the state.

He has been associated with the Connecticut Life Underwriters Association for most of the time he has been in the insurance business and for the past eight years has been the secretary and treasurer of that organization. His resignation has been submitted.

Mr. and Mrs. Desire Charon, Jr., and family have gone to Sorel, Canada, for a visit.

DENIES REPORTED PURCHASE OF HOCKANUM MILLS

Concerning reports of contemplated mill purchases by the American Woolen company, President William M. Wood says:

"It is monotonous to be refuting the various continual rumors that arise surprisingly. For instance, the rumor of our purchasing the Hockanum Mills is certainly premature. We have not up to this time even negotiated for them. Personally I have not seen the properties. What the future has in store time will tell but we have not purchased the Hockanum Mills and may never acquire them. Nor have the Peace Dale Mills been even offered to us; nor do I think that they will be or that they can be bought by anyone."

NORWICH TOWN

Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doyle of West Town street, a large company of children was entertained in observance of the eighth birthday of their daughter, Arline Anna Doyle, although the correct date fell on Friday, July 6. Those present were Elinor Phaneuf, Eunice Whiteside, Mildred Carter, Mildred Combie, Ruth Miller, Helen Rudd, Norine Doyle, Doris Seagraves, Betty Browning, Gertrude Johnson and Thomas Henry Doyle, Herbert Kendall, John Bunnell, William Phaneuf, Charles Browning, Raymond Gilman, Buddie Phaneuf, Herbert Bunnell, John Browning and Bobbie Johnson. The party was held in the yard and besides several out of door games the children enjoyed music. A number of the mothers were present. Mrs. Phaneuf, Mrs. Bunnell and Mrs. Gilman assisted Mrs. Doyle in serving sandwiches, cake, cookies, fruit, lemonade, and ice cream. The birthday cake with eight lighted candles was an interesting feature for the children, seated about the yard while the refreshments were served. Little Miss Doyle received many choice birthday gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Whiteman of Norwich Town had as guests Thursday on a delightful motor trip to Forest park, Springfield, Mass., Mrs. Carrie Harbeck and daughter, Miss Unabell Harbeck, and Miss Maria Briggs. Tony Whiteman was also included in the party. The route was by way of Longmeadow, returning through East Longmeadow. The party had a tempting luncheon upon arriving at Thompsonville.

Little Miss Gertrude Johnson and her younger brother, Bobbie Johnson, are spending two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doyle of West Town street.

Mrs. Victor Phaneuf of West Town street entertained on an afternoon recently for her little daughter, Eleanor Phaneuf, on her sixth birthday, from 2 to 6. The 14 children played various out of door games, also enjoyed a fine spread consisting of salad, pickles, cold ham, rolls, cake, fruit and punch. There was a birthday cake, with six lighted candles. Mrs. Phaneuf was assisted by her three sisters, Misses Margaret, Helen and Teresa Sullivan, who with their mother, Mrs. Dennis Sullivan, all of Baltic, were among the guests, who also included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Potter of Willimantic, Mrs. Thomas Doyle and Joseph Connor of Norwich. The children were Ruth Miller, Arline Anna Doyle, Betty Browning, Gertrude Johnson and William Phaneuf, Donald Potter, Edward Meyers, John Sullivan, Buddie Phaneuf, Thomas Henry Doyle, Edward Sullivan, Bobbie Johnson and Charles Browning. The little hostess was remembered with many gifts.

The skins of animals were the earliest forms of money.

ECHOES FROM THE LODGE ROOMS

AMERICAN LEGION

Robert G. Fletcher Post, No. 4, with other legion posts throughout the country has joined in the movement to educate the public to the proper use of, and respect for the American flag.

Following is a group of "Don'ts which if followed out will result in a more general understanding of how the flag should be used and some thing that should not be allowed in the use of the flag of the nation.

1. Do not dip the flag to any person or any thing. The regimental colors, state flag, organization or institutional flag will render this honor.

2. Do not display the flag with the union down except as a signal of distress.

3 Do not place any other flag or pennant above or to the right of the flag of the United States.

4. Do not let the flag touch the ground or trail in the water.

5. Do not place any object or emblem of any kind on or above the flag.

6. Do not use the flag as a drapery; use bunting.

7. Do not fasten the flag in such manner as will permit it to be easily torn

8 Do not drape the flag over the hood, top or sides of a vehicle or of a railroad train or boat. On a motor car the staff should be affixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the radiator cap.

9 Do not use the flag to cover a speaker's desk or to drape over front of a platform or over chairs or benches.

10. Do not display the flag on a float in a parade except on a staff.

11. Do not use the flag as a ceiling covering.

12. Do not use the flag as a portion of a costume or of an athletic uniform. Do not embroider it upon cushions or handkerchiefs or print it on paper napkins or boxes.

13. Do not put lettering upon the flag.

14. Do not use the flag in any form of advertising nor fasten an advertising sign to a flag pole.

15. Do not display, use or store the flag in such manner as will permit to be easily soiled or damaged.

GROTTO

Nemrod Grotton members are planning to attend the fifth annual convention and field day of New England Inter-Grotto association which is to be held at Bridgeport, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 24 and 25. Nemrod Grotto members will be urged to make the trip in a grand hegira from this city to Bridgeport, making an impressive demonstration of the Grotto activity.

The entertainment committee of Nemrod has arranged for next Wednesday night to be exclusively Grotto night at Hill Top casino, for a midsummer dance that will be a gala night for the Prophets and their privileged friends.

OWLS.

Norwich Nest, No. 1396, met in regular session Tuesday evening in the rooms on Main street with President John A. Walz in the chair. There was an average attendance at the meeting and routine business was transacted.

As the meeting night fell on the night of the Fourth, the programme was cut short but several remained after the meeting and enjoyed a social good time.

DEGREE OF POCAHONTAS

Sebequanash Council, No. 11, D. of P. met at 58 Broadway, on Wednesday evening with a goodly number of members present. The regular business of the order was transacted, following which a report of the Great Sun Council reunion was read. Several members of Sebequanash Council trailed to the hunting grounds of Hiawatha Council, No. 15, of New London on the 20th of June to help celebrate the reunion. Although it was an exceedingly hot day everyone had an enjoyable time.

After a bountiful repast had been served in Odd Fellows Hall at noon the members were conveyed by automobile to Riverside Park, where the business of the day was transacted in the pavilion. After the officers had been elected for the ensuing year, a vote was taken for the meeting place in 1924 and Winsted was the choice over Savin Rock.

The business of the day being completed adjournment was to the park where the athletic sports were run off and prizes were awarded to the winners. Upon the return to Odd Fellows Hall a luncheon was served after which a fine entertainment was given by Hiawatha Council.

It was certainly a jolly crowd that attended the reunion of Hiawatha Council did the thing up in great shape as they always do, much of the credit for the success of the reunion being due to the untiring efforts of the committee.

ODD LADIES, M. U.

The regular meeting of Victory lodge was held Thursday evening at Steiner's hall, with Noble Grand Anna Addison in the chair. The usual business was transacted. The lodge noted with sorrow the loss of several members living in Baltic, as a new lodge is soon to be instituted in that village. Victory lodge although sorry to lose several of its members wishes the sister lodge every success.

After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed during which time refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the refreshment committee, comprising Anna Addison, Elizabeth Houstan, Ellen Unsworth, Dorothy Heibel, Florence Hafner and Susie Hafner.

The new officers of the lodge are as follows: P. N. G., Anna Addison; N. G., Gertrude Alquist; P. S. N. G., Annie S. Wolley; L. S. N. G., Nellie Unsworth; V. G., Grace Shaw; R. S. V. G., Ellen Unsworth; L. S. V. G., Elizabeth Houstan; elective secretary, Dorothea McNeely; permanent secretary, Minnie Armitage; treasurer, Anna McNeely; chaplain, Margaret Hastings; warden, Ethel Teft; I. G., Elizabeth Houstan, Jr.; conductor, Mary Greenhalgh.

The officers of the lodge were installed by Deputy Annie Partridge assisted by Pro. Grand Lady Annie S. Wooley.

ODD FELLOWS

Shetucket Lodge, No. 2, held its biennial installation of officers Tuesday night at Odd Fellows hall on Main street, the work being done by Deputy Grand Master John F. Amburn and staff. The officers installed were: N. G., Harry N. Howard; V. G., Walter Kelly; secretary, A. A. Guile; treasurer, Edward F. Kinney. The following appointive officers were named: Warden, Louis Waters; chaplain, Paul Collins; conductor, Brother Frohmander; R. S. N. G., John J. Parsons; L. S. N. G. Lester Corey; R. S. S., Walter Kelly; L. S. S., John Anderson; I. G., Frank Q. Smith; O. G., John Curran. The financial committee was named as follows: Milton Osborn and Walter Kelly.

The meeting previous to the installation of officers was in charge of Noble Grand Edward Smith who resigned his chair after the installation to the newly elected noble grand, Harry N. Howard. The lodge will not hold any degree work during the summer months, the first work to be done during September.

Following the meeting a social time was enjoyed and light refreshments were served.

At the next meetings of Uncas lodge and Palmyra encampment the officers are to be installed. Uncas lodge will install its officers next Monday night, after which a banquet will be served. Palmyra encampment has announced that it is planning for many new features for the Royal Purple degree to be worked in the fall. All installations will be by Deputy Grand Master John F. Armburn and staff.

The officers of Uncas lodge and Palmyra Encampment to be installed during the current month are as follows:

Uncas Lodge—Noble grand, Leslie W. Fowler; vice grand, Herbert Spencer; secretary, John F. Amburn; treasurer, Frank M. Green.

Palmyra Encampment—Chief Patriarch, Walter Kelly; high priest, William Hicq; senior warden, William Frohmander; junior warden, William Hopkins; scribe, John F. Amburn; treasurer, Edward F. Kinney.

Suspicion sometimes makes a square meal on jealousy—and finds there is nothing left for dessert.

COAL MINES SHOULD CONTINUE UNDER PRIVATE OWNERSHIP

Federal Coal Commission Contends Wage Contracts Should be Enforced by Penalties Against Infraction From Either Side—Official Scrutiny and Open Publicity as to Costs and Prices Urged by Commission in 27,000 Word Report—Since 1913 Labor Cost Has Increased from $1.56 to $4.12 a Ton—Average Worker's Income Between $1,500 and $2,000.

Washington, July 8.—The federal coal commission in a report made public today, contended the anthracite mining industry should continue in operation under private ownership but under official scrutiny and open publicity as to costs and prices; wage contracts between operators and mine workers should be made enforceable by penalties against infraction from either side; and power should be vested in the federal government to take over and operate the mines in any emergency resulting in cessation of operations. Concluding an eight month investigation of the industry, and summing up its findings in a 27,000 word report, the commission declared anthracite to be a limited natural monopoly, one-third exhausted and affected by a public interest which makes it a subject for especial governmental treatment.

Without interpreting the facts developed by the inquiry, the commission found that of each dollar paid for anthracite coal by consumers, half went to cost of coal at the mines; one-fourth for freight, and a quarter to the retailer. Operators and retailers, it was declared, divide 11 or 12 cents out of each dollar in profits while labor cost per ton, $1.56 in 1913, has advanced to $4.12 per ton. The average worker get "as income for a family of five," the report said, between $1,500 and $2,000 a year.

A summary prepared by the commission outlining the principal points in its report follows:

"Anthracite coal, is a limited natural monopoly, one-third of the deposits of which have already been exhausted. As it has long been the fuel of the northeastern states, it is affected by a public interest. The dissolution of the railroads and the coal mines is so recent that it is yet impossible to say whether the natural monopoly will be in restraint of trade. The commission opposes government ownership but for the purpose of determining the effects of this natural monopoly upon the consumer recommends publicity through annual reports made to some governmental agency in forms prescribed thereby. The increasing cost of mining and distributing coal is traced so that the consumer may know the facts upon which wholesale and retail prices have doubled in ten years. It does not differ from other commodities save that the soaring price did not drop in 1920. The consumer's dollar is analyzed showing that roughly half of it pays for the coal at the mine, a quarter pays the freight, and a quarter goes to the retailer. Of this same dollar 11 or 12 cents are divided as profits between the mine operator and the retailer, the railroad profit not being determined.

The item of freight charge is so large that it urges upon the interstate commerce commission a re-examination of anthracite rates. It discloses that nearly three-quarters of the coal mined is by nine large companies which have a circuit price ranging from $3 to $3.35, running through the year, while the remainder comes from independent companies varying in normal times fro $9 to $10 a ton, and in period of stress obtaining anything the market will bear. It calls attention to the royalties paid and the large increase of such royalties during the last ten years. When it comes to the actual mining of coal it shows that labor cost per ton has advanced since 1913 from $1.56 to $4.12, retaining practically the same relation to total cost, while the cost of supplies has doubled and general expenses nearly trebled. The total cost of a gross ton of all sizes was $5.75 for the railroad mines and $6.32 for certain large independents. In 1913 the relative cost was $3.23 and $3.50 respectively. These averages include steam sizes that sell below cost, as well as the household sizes on which the profit is made. The average cost must be compared with average sales realization on all sizes, not with the market price of domestic sizes. This average in 1913 was $2.63, and in 1923, $6.71. The margin between what it costs to mine the average ton of coal and what it gold for at the mine is the approximate measure of what the operator received for his services.

The commission fixes no basis for investment, that being a judicial function, but will later state the figures, with relative theories, as to how the investment is to be determined. Throughout the report it insists upon full and continuous publicity through some governmental authority with power to require financial reports, to prescribe uniform methods of cost accounting, and to determine the conditions under which the coal may be shipped interstate commerce. An extensive study was made of the living conditions of the miners' families, and the wages, earnings, and labor conditions of the mine workers form a large part of its report. Earnings are not stated by averages but by classes, the amount earned by these classes and the days worked to earn the same. Of those who avail themselves of the opportunity to work the year round, the income for a family of five ranges in general from $1300 to $2,000. Some exceed this; many fall below this.

The anthracite output has not kept up with the increas in population, nor, unless additions miners' helpers enter the industry, is there hope of increasing the output. The are now making a record in the way of production, but even year are not using the mine and breaker to full capacity. If the labor can be found double shifts in the low-cost mines would help to relieve the situation. Improved practices in the use of anthracite are urged, and recommendation made to reduce the number of market sizes, for better inspection of coal so as to create a demand for substitutes or capital and the consequent rising prices.

It also decomends that the congress shall give the president authority, in the event of the cessation of operations, to declare an emergency, take charge of the mines, fix wages and the compensation to be paid the owner, subject to review by the courts and to distribute the product as he deems wise and just.

DRAFT CAPITAL AND RESOURCES WITH MEN

New York, July 8.—Representative F. H. La Guardia today wrote George R. Morris, chairman of the republican state committee, asking him to submit a plank in the platform which would put the party on record "as approving legislation by congress that in the event of war, whenever it is necessary to draft the young manhood of the country, that capital and resources shall be drafted in the same manner and at the same time."

"Surely, we want to stand back of the president," he wrote, referring to President Harding's recent address at Helena, Mont., in which he said that "if war should come again we must draft all of the nation in carrying it on."

The president proposes to take the profits out of war in order to make war less probable, Mr. La Guardia said, adding "who dare disagree with him on that?"

Mr. La Guardia explained that he was prompted to write the chairman because of press reports that the republican party in this state would not present a platform in the coming fall election.

"I cannot believe that such is the case," he wrote. "Failing to present a platform presenting the principles and policies of the party would mean the bucketing of collective thought, wishes and needs of the party membership. I need not remind you that bucketing is in great popular disfavor at this time."

FRANCE TO CONTINUE HER COERCIVE POLICY

Clermont Ferrand, July 8 (By the A. P.).—France will not change her coercive policy toward Germany, was the declaration made today by President Millerand at the celebration of the centenary of the birth of Blaise Pascal, the French geometrician, philosopher and writer. The president said the country must remain united behind the government, but, he added, "let us not hide the truth from ourselves that this policy is one of a long, hard pull."

Just as the army had held out against the Germans to the end, M. Millerand continued, so must France now "be resolved to hold out to the end—that is to say, a quarter of an hour longer than our adversary."

After recalling the vain efforts that had been put forth by France to make Germany pay France her due, M. Millerand told of France's long-heralded entrance into the Ruhr and the adoption of a policy which "demands primarily a quality without which all others will be vain."

"This quality is perseverence," declared M. Millerand. "France has taken a resolution; she applies it, and she has said why she has marched her goal. Nothing will make her abandon either her method or her objective."

BOSTON TELEPHONE PICKETS DESERT THEIR POSTS

Boston, July 8.—A temporary truce existed today between striking and non-striking telephone operators in Greater Boston pending the conferance scheduled for tomorrow evening between leaders of the warring factions. Meanwhile service here was maintained at almost normal and most of the pickets, who have been on duty at the various exchanges since the walkout on June 26, when the call to strike for a seven-hour day and higher wages was issued, had deserted their posts.

Although conferences of various descriptions were in order for this week, labor leaders attached most importance to the conference of tomorrow, when it is expected Annie Molloy, president of Local 1-A, the non-striking organization, and Julia S. O'Connor, president of the telephone operators' department, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the leader of the strike, would discuss their differences. Whether the conference was expected to result in a general walkout here or in the calling off of the strike was uncertain.

Next in importance was the conference of mayors of several New England cities scheduled for Wednesday, which was called by Mayor Peter F. Sullivan of Worcester. Among the first to accept the invitation were the mayors of Providence and Lawrence. These three centers have been among the hardest hit by the strike. In the latter city service has been almost at a standstill.

DECREASE IN NEW YORK AUTO FATALITIES

New York, July 8.—Although vehicular accidents throughout New York state show an increase, there has been a decrease in Greater New York for the first six months of this year, Barron Collier, special deputy police commissioner, announced tonight.

During the first half of 1923, 458 persons were killed by motor vehicles in this city, while the number for the corresponding period this year is 454.

There has been a great reduction in the number of accidents to children, due largely to the safety campaign being waged by the police. In the first half of 1923, 242 children under 16 years of age were killed and 5,623 injured by motor cars. This year the death list is 200 and the injured 4,801.

GREENWICH MAN FOUND DEAD IN CELLAR

Greenwich, Conn., July 8.—Andrew Revollaa, 42, was found dead in the cellar of his home at East Portchester tonight. Apparently the man had fallen against a tin pail and was strangled to death, in the opinion of Medical Examiner Clarke. The body was discovered by a neighbor.

Searching Lake Erie For Missing Airmen

Cutter, Airplanes and Motor Boats Join Search to Determine Fate of Navy Balloon's Crew—Jagged Rents Found in Recovered Bag.

Port Stanley, Ont., July 8.—(By the A. P.)—Motor boats that joined airplanes from Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, Mich., the revenue cutter Morril from Detroit and the flying boat Nina, from Cleveland, in the search for the basket of the balloon U. S. navy number A-6698, returned to Port here today empty-handed. The motorboats made only a brief search when it became apparent the airplanes, the cutter and the flying boat were making a comprehensive survey of the lake in an effort to determine the fate of Lieucenants L. J. Roth and T. B. Null, who occupied the balloon when it left Indianapolis last Wednesday.

The flying boat Nina returned to Cleveland after scanning both the Canadian and American shores for hours today. The airplanes from selfridge field were in the air zig-zagging aoout the lake late this afternoon while the revenue cutter Moril was understood to be patrolling along the shores. The flying boat Buckeye, from Detroit, also entered the search late today, according to word received here.

The slender hope that the missing airmen may have been picked up by a passing vessel, unequipped with wireless, virtually was abandoned tonight as more than 36 hours have elapsed since the recovered bag was first sighted off this port by the steamer Colonial from Cleveland.

The big bag of the A-6698 today was under lock and key in a shed at the waterfront here, in charge of D. H. Jackson, reeve of Port Stanley. Mr. Jackson took it in charge, together with other equipment of the missing balloonists at the request of the United States navy department at Washington. The bag, the basket of which appeared to have been either cut away or torn loose, was brought into port here last night by the tug Frank H. Stanley, which picked it up 25 miles from this place. Also in charge of Mr. Jackson is the clothing of the two navy airmen, a small clock and Lieutenant Roth's watch, all of which were found in the rigging.

Under guard of a policeman, the deflated bag was left across the stern of the tugboat overnight, but with daybreak souvenir hunters made their appearance and threatened to strip it entirely. Mr. Jackson immediately ordered it placed under lock and key.

Further inspection of the bag made when it was removed to the shed today, disclosed a number of jagged rents near its upper surface. Whether these were made when it was dragged across the stern of the Stanley or resulted from the action of the waves as it was buffeted about, could not be determined. The latter theory was advanced to support a belief that the balloon had fallen into the lake sometime before it was sighted early yesterday morning by the steamer Colonial.

SUB CHASER TO AID IN THE SEARCH

Milwaukee, Wis., July 8.—Seven men from the sub-chaser, 432, under command of Commander E. A. Lichtenstein, left Milwaukee at two o'clock this afternoon for Cleveland in response to a rush order for men to man sub chaser 432 which is to be used in a search for the missing army balloonists thought to be lost in Lake Erie.

N. Y. POLICE INQUIRY TAKES SENSATIONAL TURN

New York, July 8.—The Cuvillier-Hylan-Enright battle of words around the police inquiry being conducted by Judge Crain took a sensational turn today when Assemblyman Cuvillier declared that "police officials who have fought for the division of the spoils" would give evidence of bootlegging graft.

"I can assure the police commissioner," the statement said, "that before the investigation of police corruption, bribery and perjury pending before Judge Thomas C. T. Crain, under the Mullan-Gage law, evidence will be brought not only by citizens but by police officials who have fought for the division of the spoils, others who have been transferred because they would not stand for police officials selling booze in their precincts, and others who would not cover up and protect corrupt policemen who, at the behest of their superior officers, were protecting bootleggers."

YOUTH HELD FOR SCARSDALE MURDER

Scarsdale, N. Y., July 8.—After severe cross-examination, during which he stoutly protested his innocence of the murder of Miss Dorothy Kauffman, Mennonite governess, who was stabbed at the home of Magruder Craighead at Greenburg last Tuesday, Tony Amundsensen, a vagrant youth and suspect in the case, was locked up tonight at the county penitentiary at White Plains.

Amundensen, one of four men questioned by authorities, said he had slept in a tree near the Craighead estate the night of the murder. He was said to have been formerly an inmate of an insane asylum. He was arrested in Dobbs Ferry by Sheriff Werner after he was heard mumbling that he "had cut up a state trooper."

Alienists examined the youth to determine whether he was suffering from any brain disease which might give him a tendency toward homicide.

PERSONNEL OF NEW ONTARIO CABINET

Toronto, Ont., July 8.—Personnel of the new conservative cabinet of Ontario, the only government of that party in Canada, was announced tonight by George Howard Ferguson, newly elected premier. The ministry received the approval of the lieutenant governor of the province today, and E. C. Drury, the present farmer-labor premier, announced he would retire from office one week from tomorrow.

The ministry follows: Attorney general, W. F. Nickle; public works and highways, George S. Henry; treasurer, W. H. Price; mines, Charles McCrea; public health and labor, Dr. Forbes Godfrey; agriculture, John S. Martin; secretary, Lincoln Goldie; lands and forests, James W. M. Lyons; without portfolio, Sir Adam Beck, Thomas Crawford, Dr. Leming Carr and J. R. Cooke; speaker, Joe Thompson.

CUTTER FIRES ON FLEEING RUM RUNNER

Highlands, N. J., July 8.—(By The A. P.)—Fifteen solid shots were fired from a coast guard cutter at a speedy rum runner tonight after her crew had been aboard a French ship on rum row, enjoying a social Sunday afternoon chat with the skipper. The runner escaped, as did another that had taken on a cargo of liquor for the shore. Captain of the rum smuggling craft paid no heed to a shot fired across his bow and managed to outdistance the government cutter, although shells dropped near enough to his boat to send spray over her deck. The first runner eluded the cutter before any shots had been fired at her.

So close was the cutter to the rum boat at one time that the former's crew could hear the curses of the bootlegging captain as he defined their shells and ordered full speed ahead. The runner disepeared after reaching the shore near Highlands.

The thrilling chase after the rum runner started after the first boat had eluded the coast guard cutter. Crews of both had been aboard the French schooner Gerberville, one of seven ships now lying along the ten mile stretch that composes rum row. Both boats had loaded their cargoes and were enjoying a glass and a chat before starting their dash to the shore.

PERSHING TO TOUR SUMMER MILITARY CAMPS

Washington, July 8.—General Pershing will make a tour of summer military camps over the country beginning with an inspection of the New York national guard camp at Peekskill July 10.

Four Hurt When Airplane Overturns

Machine Struck Stone Wall and Turned Completely Over After Plunging Into Gully While Taking Off at Naugatuck Aviation Field.

Naugatuck, Conn., July 8.—Four prominent residents, passengers in an airplane of the Bee Line, Inc., of this borough, were injured, one seriously, it is believed in a crash at the Naugatuck aviation field at Bethany late today. More than 500 people who were witnessing the flights of the Bee Line, Inc., planes, were thrown into a panic when the monoplane of the Fokker type struck a stone wall while taking off and turned completely over after plunging into a gully. The injured are: Frederick F. Schaffer, president of the Goodyear India Rubber Glove and Goodyear Metallic Rubber Shoe company of Naugatuck, subsidiaries of the United States Rubber company; George T. Wigmore, treasurer of the Risdon Manufacturing company, of Naugatuck; Mrs. George T. Wigmore and Miss Winibel Schaffer, a daughter of Mr. Schaffer, Pilot Bert Acosta and Lloyd L. Anderson, the latter an official of the aviation firm and secretary of the Naugatuck Chamber of Commerce, escaped injury.

A local physician who was at the field dressed the injured after they were removed from the plane. It was with difficulty that the doors of the cabin were opened, as the craft was damaged considerably when it struck the stone wall and crashed into the deep gully.

Mr. Schaffer's injuries consisted of cuts and bruises about the face and head. He is said to have complained of body pains and shock. He was removed immediately to the Waterbury hospital. His daughter and Mrs. Wigmore were also taken to the hospital. Mrs. Wigmore's injuries were more severe than Miss Schaffer's and late tonight, she was released. Mr. Wigmore's injuries consisted chiefly of cuts and bruises on the face and body. He accompanied his wife to the hospital but was not treated there.

Pilot Acosta stated that the accident was caused by tall grass and ruts on the field. These slowed up the plane when it was taking off. Acosta said that he traveled the entire distance of the field and was about to rise when the plane struck the stone wall. It bounded more than 10 feet into the air, struck another wall and turned over as it plunged into the precipice. The machine was badly damaged but not beyond repair.

ONCE POPULAR WRITER GOES TO POORHOUSE

Casstown, O., July 8 (By the A. P.).—Before a pitifully small collection of worldly goods stood a village auctioneer in strident voice importuning a handful of country people to part with their dollars—thus starting the last chapter in the life of Tom C. Harbaugh, as fantastic an ending, probably, as he ever dreamed of when he was penning vivid fiction half a century ago.

Not very valuable looking were these real possessions of Harbaugh—they brought but $1,000—but they were rich in famous names and associations of years ago.

Harbaugh, whose name was on the lips of readers of the American penny "dreadfuls" when they rods high in popularity, was on his way to the Miami county infirmary today—the poorhouse as most people call it—with the $1,000 which he expects will keep him there as a paying inmate for the rest of his life.

CHARGE CONTRACTOR WITH FIRST DEGREE MURDER

Columbia, Mo., July 8.—(By The A. P.)—George Barkwell, a local contractor, will go on trial here tomorrow charged with first degree murder, in connection with the lynching here early Sunday morning, April 29, of James Scott, a negro.

Barkwell, with four other men, was indicted by a grand jury five days after the lynching. The others are all charged with obstructing an officer.

More than 1,500 persons are said to have been in the crowd that stormed the jail and took the negro from the cell. Scott, a janitor at the University of Missouri here, was accused of attempting to attack the 14 year old daughter of a university professor and had been identified by the girl.

MOSCOW DOESN'S WORRY ABOUT HUNGER IN COUNTRY

Berlin, July 8.—(By The A. P.)—Exportation of grain by Soviet Russia is possible only because the Moscow givernment does not worry about hunger in the country, declared Professor August Bernard Wiedenfeld, former German charge de' affairs at Moscow, at a dinner given last night by Dr. Hans Luther, minister of food. The affair was largely attended by parliamentary and government officials, and Professor Wiedenfeld, who was German trade representative in Russia from May to September, 1921, later becoming charge d' affaires, was heartily applauded as he launched severe criticisms against the soviet's taxation, agricultural and transportation policies.

BERNSTEIN BRINGS SUIT AGAINST HENRY FORD

New York, July 8.—Samuel Untermyer has been retained to prosecute a suit for libel against Henry Ford by Herman Bernstein, editor of the Jewish Tribune, it became known today, when a letter from Mr. Bernstein to the manufacturer was made public. The suit was based on alleged attacks against Mr. Bernstein in connection with a series of articles on the Jews published in Mr. Ford's Dearborn Independent.

Mr. Bernstein declared in the letter that he was represented by Mr. Ford "as a sort of spy in your mythical combination of international Jewish bankers."

MAN DROWNED IN ONE FOOT OF WATER

New Milford, Conn., July 8.—Fred Peterson, 30, employed as a farmhand here, was drowned in the Housatonic river today. He was fishing from the bank when he was suddenly taken ill and fell in, being drowned in one foot of water. His home was in Brookfield.

The average woman will jump at sight of a mouse almost as quickly as she will at an offer of marriage.

TURKS AND ALLIES TO SIGN PEACE WITHIN WEEK

Draft of Protocol Concerning Concessions Has Been Modified to Meet American Views on Principles Involved—All Foreign Troops to be Withdrawn Within Six Weeks After Ratification of Treaty by Angora—Warships, Arms and Munitions Belonging to Ottoman Government Now in Hands of Allied Forces to be Restored to Turkey.

Lausanne, July 8.—(By The A. P.)—An accord has been reached between the Turks and the allies and peace probably will be signed within a week.

Thus far the Near East conference, which has been in continuous session for more than three months past has had a successful outcome. Fog a considerble period the settlement hung in the balance of the question of the Ottoman debt, concessions and the evacuation of Constantinople and other Turkish territory by foreign troops. Both sides were forced to give way in a measure at the end, and it was applied at the first session today that a termination of the discussions was close at hand.

It was after several hours' discussion tonight that the allies and Turks reached their accord on all outstanding problems, which have long been threatening to wreck the conference and, baring unexpected difficulties over minor points, peace should be signed at Lausanne almost immediately.

The allied plenipotentiaries informed The Associated Press correspondent that the draft of the protocol concerning concessions had been modified and made more precise to meet the American views on the principles involved.

The United States objected to the confirmation in the treaty of contracts entered into before the war, which had not received all necessary formalities; it was argued that these were too general and too vague and the principles were liable to be applied to all sorts of unknown contracts.

The allies and Turks agreed upon an amended clause, specifying the concessions they wished to refer to, including the Vickers-Armstrong and Turkish Petroleum Company concessions and the French railroad concessions in Anatolia. Whether these modifications entirely meet the views of the United States remains to be seen.

At all events, the Turkish Petroleum Company and French railroad concessions are likely to be the subject of discussion by the various interests involved.

An official communique issued after the session declared that private meetings had succeeded in establishing an accord in principle on the three debt, concessions and evacuation. An agreement was arranged in the morning whereby all foreign troops will be withdrawn within six weeks after ratification of the treaty by Angora, and the warships, arms and munitions belonging to the Ottoman government, now in the hands of the allied forces will be restored to Turkey.

As to the Ottoman debt, the allies are agreed with the Turks that all reference to the debt should be removed from the treaty. This is a great victory for the Turks, because it means they do not go on official record as confirming the obligations of the debt. The allies, however, will make a declaration before the conference that the debt contracts cannot be modified except by mutual agreement between Turkey and the bondholders. Turkey must try to negotiate with the bondholders some kind of moratorium for payment of interest, which she is bound to pay in sterling, but wishes to pay in French francs.

An invitation will be immediately dispatched to the Russian government to send representatives to Lausanne to sign the straits convention. Considerable in terest is manifest in Lausanne as to whether Moscow will accept or refuse.

The members of the delegations, jubilant, but exhausted, sought their couches happy in the thought that their labors of many months had been finally crowned with success and confident that results are now safe even from the proverbial slip between the cup and the lip.

PRESIDENTIAL PARTY IS NEARING ALASKA

On Board U. S. S. Henderson, With President Harding, July 7. (By the A. P.)—The army transport Henderson bearing President Harding on the first trip made by an American president to Alaska, was steaming tonight through the lower port of Queen Charlotte sound, off the shore of British Columbia.

The president will first set foot on Alaska soil at Metlakahtla, at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. Decision to stop at this Indian village of five hundred population was reached today while the Henderson still escorted by the destroyers Hull and Conry, as the steaming steadily northward in the inside passage.

The president plans to stay two hours at Metlakahtla and then proceed to Ketchikan, arriving there about noon and staying several hours.

Some of the most beautiful scenery of the trip was seen today, as the ship passed between islands and the mainland of British Columbia, with timbered slopes reaching almost to the water. The passage was almost as smooth as the Hudson river.

Life aboard the Henderson is much the same as in a metropolitan hotel, with games and with concerts three times a day by the United States navy band. The Washington members of the party are familiar with this organization, which is under the leadership of Charles Benter.

Motion picture shows have been given each night in the dining room since leaving Tacoma Thursday. President and Mrs. Harding attended the motion picture show tonight.

Both the president and his wife decided that they had enjoyed the water trip to the utmost. Mr. Harding spent today strolling about the ship and getting acquainted with the personnel. He asked numerous questions about scientific points of Admiral Hugh Rodman and other officers. He had informal conferences with Secretaries Hoover and Wallace, but transacted no business.

Mrs. Harding sat on the deck a long while today viewing the scenery.

Physicians said that she had stood the transcontinental trip splendidly, and was well fortified for a tour of Alaska. The Henderson passed through Seymour Narrows at noon.

SENATOR KING SAYS PRES. HARDING "INSINCERE"

Salt Lake City, July 8.—Declaring that President Harding "is insincere" in advocating adhesion of the United States to the world court and classing the disarmament conference called by the president as "a delusion and a snare," United Sattes Senator William H. King, democrat, of Utah, last night launched an attack upon the republican administration.

Senator King, speaking before the Young Men's Democratic club of Utah, also declared the "cards are stacked so far as the republican nomination for president in 1924 is concerned and no power on earth can defeat Harding for the nomination." He asserted President Harding's nomination is already settled, in the same manner that it was settled prior to the 1920 convention.

"The policy of the republican administration was one determined by the plutocratic forces of that party and not by the masses of the party," he continued.

"President Harding has deceived the people by honeyed words and shriveled nationalism," the senator said. "He came to the senate and told us we must join the world court. I didn't believe him sincere but called his bluff and introduced a resolution calling for a vote on the treaties as they were presented by the court."

ELKS CHOOSE BOSTON AS CONVENTION CITY

Atlanta, Ga., July 8.—Boston, has been chosen for the convention city next year by the Elks who are gathering here for the 59th grand lodge convention and reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, according to a story which will appear tomorrow in the Atlanta Constitution.

RAIL EARNINGS IN MAY AMOUNTED TO $89,990,000

Washington, July 8.—Net earnings of Class 1 railroads, which operate 90 per cent. of the country's rail mileage, amounted to $89,999,600 during May, according to estimates made public today by the bureau of railway economics. The total, indicating an earning rate of 6.33 per cent. on the value of capital invested in railroads, was the second consecutive monthly return rate above 6 per cent.

In the five months of 1923, including May, net incomes of Class 1 railroads was $356,966,900, which the bureau said equalled a 5.69 per cent. return rate on the value of railroad property as tentatively estimated by the interstate commerce commission. Railroad rate levels, under present policies of the commission, are aimed at producing 5.75 per cent. for operating lines.

There was a marked disparity between railroad earning power in different sections of the country during May. In the east the income of carriers amounted to 7.42 per cent. on the value of railroad property, while in the west the return was 4.43 per cent. and in the south 6.72 per cent.

The increased earnings were a direct reflection, the bureau said, of enhanced traffic volume during May. Total receipts from traffic during the month amounted to $547,282,500, or 21.8 per cent. more than those of May, 1922. Expenses were $420,656,000, an increase to 18.4 per cent. over May last year.

Rentals, taxes and other charges are subtracted from total revenues in addition to operating expenditures before net income is estimated in railroad accounting.
